TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

FIFTY-FOUR LOST.

Wreck of an Australian-Chinese Liner.

WENT DOWN IN THE DARKNESS.

The Catterthun Struck on a Rock During a Gale and Sank in 90 Minutes—Lifeboats Washed Away and Only Four Europeans Were Saved.

London, Aug. 9.—A despatch to Lloyd's, from Sydney, N.S.W., states that the British steamship Catterthun, bound from Sydney to Hong Kong, ran on the Seal Rocks, which lies between Sydney and Brisbane, and became a total wreck. The despatch adds that some of the passengers and crew were saved, but that a number of persons are missing.

A Central News despatch from Melbourne says that the vessel struck at 2 o'clock in the morning. It was soon seen that there was no possible chance to save the vessel and orders were given to abandon the ship. All hands took to the small boats and laid their course for the mainland. One of the boats reached Forster this morning, but the others have not been heard from, and it is feared they have been lost. There were a large number of Australian and English passengers on the steamer.

A later despatch from Melbourne states that the Catterthun struck at 2.45 o'clock in the morning and sank 20 minutes later.

The names of those who are supposed to have been lost are Nell Shannon, the captain, Mr. Finney, the first officer, third officer Lefler, Chief Engineer Harper, Second Engineer Adams, Third Engineer Wilson, Fourth Engineer Wolstenholme, Chief Steward Manning, and Surgeon Anderson Phipps, 30 Chinese and 18 Lascars. The passengers who are supposed to be lost are Mesdames Mathias, Loring and Smith, Miss Loring, Mr. Robert Fraser and 15 Chinese steerage passengers.

At the time the vessel struck a heavy southwest gale was prevailing. When the vessel hit there was a severe shock that could be felt in every part of her. The passengers were greatly alarmed and there was much confusion. The captain reassured them, stating that there was no danger. He thought that the steamer had only been struck by a heavy sea. The ship continued on her way, but before many moments had elapsed it was found that she had a hole in her bottom and was making water rapidly. She began to settle down and took on a list to starboard. The fires under her boilers were soon extinguished and the vessel was then helpless. She broached to and the seas swept over her fore and aft.

Every effort made to lower the boats was baffled by the seas which swept them in-board after they had been swung out on the davits. The port life-boat was lost entirely, it being swung out on the davits and swept away.

Notwithstanding the dangerous position of the steamer, which it was now seen was doomed, excellent discipline was maintained.

During an attempt to lower the starboard cutter, a tremendous sea broke aboard the steamer and carried away the cutter. It also swept from the bridge the captain and chief and second officers and Captain Fawkes. The last-named having been unable to reach his cabin to obtain a life-belt, had borrowed the captain's knife, and was in the act of cutting the lashings of a small table on the bridge when he was swept off into the sea. A few minutes later, after a very great effort, the starboard life-boat was lowered and it picked up Captain Fawkes who was clinging to some floating wreckage. Only three other Europeans were rescued; these were Second Mate Tanfear, Dr. Copeman, and a passenger named Crane, belonging to Melbourne.

A despatch from Melbourne, just received, says that divers have left there for the scene of the wreck for the purpose of attempting to recover the 11,000 sovereigns in specie, on board the steamer. The despatch further states that it is now known that the total number of lives lost in the disaster is 54, many of the Chinese passengers and crew being saved. Of the Europeans on board only four, previously mentioned, survived.

Later despatches say that the Seal Rocks are 110 miles north of Sydney. The Catterthun, in addition to her general cargo, had on board 11,000 sovereigns.

Mrs. Matthias, wife of the captain of the steamer Cam, trading between London and Japanese ports, had been at Sydney visiting friends. When the Catterthun cast off her lines at the wharf yesterday, Mrs. Matthias' niece was on the wharf crying bitterly. She said to her aunt: "Oh, auntie, you'll be drowned; I will never see you again."

The Catterthun belonged to the Eastern and Australian Steamship Company of London. She was built at Sunderland in 1881 by W. Doxford and Sons. Her length was 302 feet 3 inches, beam 35 feet 5 inches, and depth of hold 23 feet 7 inches. She was schooner-rigged and of 2179 gross and 1406 net tons burthen. Her engines were of the compound type of 250 horse power. The officers of the Catterthun were English and the crew were Chinese.

ANOTHER ANTI-CHRISTIAN RIOT.

Threats of the Agitators to Destroy All Missions and Drive Missionaries to the Treaty Ports.

London, Aug. 8.—A despatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Shanghai says that the Europeans there ridicule the idea of a Chinese escort accompanying the British Consul at Foo-Chow to Kucheng, where he goes to investigate the massacre of British missionaries. When the Viceroy's troops were despatched to the scene of the massacre, they immediately looted the mission houses. The despatch adds that owing to the unsettled state of the province it has been decided to send 200 British Indian Sikh troops from Hong Kong to escort the Consul to Kucheng.

A despatch from Hong-Kong states that a large mob of infuriated Chinese attacked the British and American missions at Fatshan, near Canton, at noon yesterday. Some of the missionaries fled to Shameen for safety, but the others remained at Fatshan. A Chinese gunboat has been sent to quell the rioting. It is reported that the anti-foreign agitators intend to soon destroy all the missions in the Kwang-Tung province and to drive the missionaries into the treaty ports.

The Chinese sect known as the Vegetarians, who are at the bottom of the outrages, now number 12,000 men. They are organized and well armed and are able to withstand the Chinese trops.

A despatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Shanghai says it is stated in that city that further fanatical outbreaks against Christians have occurred at Ching-Chow, Taping, Hupeh and Anhui. It is stated that all the foreigners escaped without injury. No confirmation of this report has been received.

Hong Kong, Aug. 8.—A great indignation meeting was held here last night to protest against the massacre of Christians by Chinese. Among the resolutions adopted was one expressing disgust at the apathy and indifference of the British Government in failing to recognize the gravity of the situation and for not taking adequate measures to protect British subjects.

Foo-Choo, China, Aug. 8.—Dr. Gregory, an American missionary who escaped from Kucheng, gives the following account of the massacre there: "At 12.30 p.m., on Thursday, Aug. 1, a native Christian rushed into my study saying several foreign ladies at Hwasang, a mountain resort about twelve miles from the city of Kucheng, had been killed that morning, and that two houses had been burned. Fifteen minutes later a note from Mr. Phillips confirmed this. He wrote that five ladies were dead, the Stewarts were missing and four persons were seriously wounded. I immediately went into the yamen, where hundreds of excited natives had already gathered and requested the district magistrate, Wong, to send some soldiers at once to Hwasang to protect those living. In half an hour the magistrate went to Hwasang under an escort of about 60 soldiers.

Lord Salisbury and the Chinese Ambassador had a lengthy interview at the Foreign Office this afternoon. It is supposed that the conference between the Prime Minister and the Chinese representative was in relation to the massacre of missionaries and the steps to be taken to prevent a recurrence of the outrages.

Sued For Land They Had No Claim To.

Duluth, Minn., Aug 9.—The suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crowley of Nova Scotia, against the Nelson Lumber Company, to regain possession of a tract of land on the Mesaba iron range, valued at over $1,000,000, and embracing the Audburn mine, has been decided by Judge Lewis in favor of the lumber company. The Crowleys claim that they did not know the value of the property and were induced to part with the same by fraud and misrepresentation on the part of the company. Judge Lewis finds that the Crowleys never had a valid claim to the land.

$6000 Blaze at Eganville.

Eganville, Ont., Aug. 8.—This evening fire broke out in the McIntyre-Pilatskie planing mill and spread rapidly, taking the Bridge block, owned by John Bridge of Renfrew, and occupied by J. Renick, as bakery and confectionery store, also store and residence of John Casey. The buildings were totally destroyed. Loss between $6000 and $8000; nearly covered by insurance.

Two Sisters Brutally Killed in New York.

STABBED WITH A STILLETTO.

An Italian Shoemaker Buries an Eight Inch Stilletto in One Victim's Breast, and Cut Down Her Sister When She Screamed For Help.

New York, Aug. 9.—A double tragedy was enacted on the sidewalk in front of No. 325 East 33th-street, at five minutes before 12 o'clock, when an Italian stabbed two women repeatedly with a stiletto, inflicting wounds from which both will die.

The assassin is Filippo Giampata, 47 years old, a shoemaker. His victims are Kate Weill, 18, and her sister Rosa, 27. The sisters were walking down East 33th-street, on the way to their home, while Giampata stood in hiding in the vestibule of No. 325, awaiting them. In his hand he held a stiletto, 8 inches in length, made from a piece of quarter-inch steel, sharpened to a needle point and placed in an awl handle.

As the two women reached the stoop of the house Giampata sprang from his hiding place with a shout and a curse, and seising Kate by the throat plunged the stiletto into her left breast, near the heart. The wounded woman screamed in agony, and her sister shrieked for help. Withdrawing the stiletto, which had sunk to the hilt in the woman's breast, the assassin plunged it again and again into his victim, accompanying each stroke with a curse.

Giampata then turned to Rosa, who stood paralysed with fear, and seising her by the throat drove the stiletto into her body over and over again. When he had completed his murderous work he started to run away.

Before he reached the corner he was taken into custody by Policeman Lidel. An ambulance was called and both girls were taken to the Presbyterian Hospital. There it was stated that Kate, who had seven stab wounds one near the heart, and the others in the arms, back and breast, could not possibly survive. Rosa, who had received nine wounds, the most serious being one in the back, near the spine, might recover.

About two years ago Kate Weill, then but 16 years old, met Giampata and fell in love with him, although he had a wife living. Giampata made her presents and spent much of his time with her and finally betrayed her. The intimacy was maintained until some time last May, when they quarrelled and separated.

He pursued her with his attentions, following her on the street and loitering about her home until on July 2 she procured a warrant for his arrest. He was taken into custody, but Magistrate Crane discharged him on his promise not to annoy the young woman any more.

He still persisted in annoying her, and yesterday she again caused his arrest. When arraigned before Magistrate Mott, this morning, Kate complained that he annoyed her when he met her on the street and that he persisted in asking her to return to him. The Magistrate held him in $500 bail to keep the peace, and paroled him in custody of his lawyer until this afternoon, to produce bail. Less than an hour later he committed the crime.

TIM HEALY HITS MR. BLAKE.

Healy Has No Use For the Canadian After the Shady Transaction in North Tyrone.

London, Aug. 9.—Telegram Special—In his reply to the manifesto of Justin McCarthy published yesterday, Tim Healy denounces the member for South Longford, Hon. Edward Blake, in no measured terms, and seems to have taken as great an antipathy to the Canadian as to others of the party with whom he had differed. He says: "The pledge we take is to act with the Irish party and not with individuals like Blake. I owe no loyalty to Blake, and I can never yield him any after making him the emissary of the party in that shady transaction in North Tyrone. The effect on the party of the breakdown of his attempt is insignificant and deplorable."

The charges Healy made at Omagh, he says, he is ready to maintain, and especially those which refer to Hon. Edward Blake's connection with the alleged sale of constituencies.

The communication is two columns in length and is extremely bitter.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 58 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

DOESN'T LOOK MUCH LIKE "PREFERENTIAL TRADE."

The delusion that Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary of the new British Administration, may be more inclined than his predecessors in office to daily with the preferential trade fad, is hugged by the Conservative journals.

If Mr. Chamberlain is a protectionist, and no one but a protectionist would give a moment's consideration to the project, he has been marvellously successful in hiding his change of opinion. In his speech on the French Treaty in 1881, Mr. Chamberlain had very decided views on Free Trade, which he expressed in the following words:

"I can conceive it just possible, although it is very improbable, that under the sting of great suffering and deceived by misrepresentations, the working classes might be willing to try strange remedies, and might be foolish enough to submit for a time to a proposal to tax the food of the country; but one thing I am certain of, if this course is ever taken and if the depression were to continue or recur, it would be the signal for a state of things more dangerous and more disastrous than anything which has been seen in this country since the repeal of the Corn Laws. With the growth of intelligence on the part of the working classes, and with the knowledge they now possess of their own power, the reaction against such a policy would be attended by consequences so serious that I do not like to contemplate them. A tax on food would mean a decline in wages. It would certainly involve a reduction in their productive value; the same amount of money would have a smaller purchasing power. It would mean more than this, for it would raise the price of every article produced in the United Kingdom, and it would indubitably bring about the loss of that gigantic export trade, which the industry and energy of the country, working under conditions of absolute freedom, has been able to create."

In the New York World appears a letter signed "Maple Leaf" urging the formation of a Canadian Social Club by those "among the seventy-five thousand Canadians of the city." They ought to form a regiment and shoot some of the blatant New York Monroe doctrine editors.

Rumor has it that several important changes will be made in the official staff of the Dominion government at Winnipeg. These are said to include the transfer of Commissioner H. H. Smith, of the Dominion lands, to be Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa. Mr. W. B. Scarth will succeed Mr. Smith, A. W. Ross, M.P., will be given a position, and Sir John Schultz, it is said, is to run in Selkirk for the Commons.

A Conservative contemporary points to the elevation of Mr. Josiah Wood to the Senate as a remarkable contradiction of the contention that the government fears to open a constituency. As Mr. Wood's majority at the last election was only 2,148 it may reasonably be concluded that a Conservative is safe. At the same time the Liberals should make a strong fight in order to show how they can reduce this majority. As to the fear of the government to open any constituency, that may be doubtful, our contemporary had better ask—What about Cardwell?

Rev. Dr. H. Pereira Mendes declares in the current number of the North American Review that "never is American patriotism more spurious than when it is called forth against that very England to which she owes so much that is glorious in her fibre, her sentiments, her literature, her institutions, her liberties, and most important of all, her very religion! Never is it more spurious and more regrettable than when it impedes the natural destiny of Anglo-Saxonism—ultimate union to the real advantage of each of its constituent nations." True, oh, man, but the spurious article seems to be very wide spread.

Le Monde gives the Conservative party some fatherly advice and tells it that a convention is absolutely necessary for its well being. Certainly there is an utter want of unity in the party ranks which is reflected in glaring colours in the disintegrated ministry. But it is more than doubtful whether a convention would serve the purpose suggested by Le Monde and unify the discordant elements. Probably it would make bad worse. "What a contrast there is," says the Ottawa Free Press, "between the solid phalanx of the Liberal party, working with a will and as one man, under its distinguished leader, and the shivering and discordant band of self-seekers who form the so-called Liberal Conservative faction."

In its report of the race meeting at Detroit, the Free Press of that very picturesque city says:—"Canadians do not bet their money as a rule unless they have a reasonably good thing, and when certain they are in the right will go about it with more system, create less excitement, and stand ready to win more money than any speculators ever seen around here." Proficiency in this direction is not altogether creditable, and it is perhaps a matter for regret rather than gratification that investments of the kind in question have proved so highly profitable. The fact that they are profitable, however, indicates that even in this branch of industry Canadians can, if they like, finish ahead of all competitors.

Sir A. P. Caron on the C.P.R. Subvention.

THE TOBIQUE RAILWAY SCANDAL

Sir C. H. Tupper to Speak on the Status of the School Question—Proposed Thousand Island Park The Deptford Pleure Cases Thought To Be an Old Matter Revamped

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Sir C. H. Tupper left this afternoon for Nova Scotia. He will speak next Tuesday at a Roman Catholic church picnic at Little Bras d'Or, Cape Breton, and in all probability will make reference to the status of the Manitoba school question. Sir Charles' views in regard to the obligation of the Government in the matter of Remedial Legislation, are perhaps more pronounced than those of any other English-speaking member of the Cabinet, and it would not surprise his friends here were the Minister of Justice to deliver himself somewhat strongly upon Hon. N. C. Wallace's position, in view of his utterances on this question before the Grand Lodge in Halifax.

Ex-President John E. Stewart is preparing to make it hot for the directors of the Tobique Valley Railway Company over what he claims to be the forgery of his signature to the return of expenditure on the road for 1891. According to Stewart's story, he had a quarrel with the directors because the statement of expenditure for that year contained about $10,000 more than had actually been dispersed upon work. He refused to sign the statement and resigned. When he was in Ottawa two weeks ago he found the return for 1891, made to the Department of Railways by the company, contained this over-statement of expenditure duly sworn to before an Ottawa magistrate, and signed "John E. Stewart." It was upon that return that the official report of the Department showing the expenditure on the road was based. Stewart claims the signature, purporting to be his, is forgery. In support of that statement he has forwarded from his home in Andover, N.B., to the Minister of Railways a formal affidavit, in which he says: "I did not at any time sign or make oath to any return of work performed, or money expended, on the Tobique Valley Railway, for the fiscal year 1891."

Mr. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine, returned to-day from the meeting of the Anglers' Association at Clayton, N.Y. The proposal was made to approach the Dominion Government with a scheme to convert all unsold islands in the Thousand Island group on both sides of the St. Lawrence into an international pleasure resort. Many Senators and State Legislators of New York belong to the association and declare they can put through the necessary legislation at Albany if Canada consents. A deputation will be here next week to see the Government about it.

This afternoon Sir A. P. Caron was shown The World's editorial of yesterday in criticism of the C.P.R. mail subsidy arrangement. The Postmaster-General does not seem to be over sensitive as to the mischief such methods may do the Conservative party throughout the country. He would have it that there was nothing unusual about the deal, and sheltered himself behind the procedure outlined in an official statement which he had prepared for the press generally. This is about the gist of it: "The Postmaster-General has power to require every railway to carry the mails on such terms and conditions and under such regulations as are made by the Governor-in-Council, and there is no instance on record in which any arrangement of this kind has been discussed in Parliament until Parliament was asked to vote the money required to carry out this arrangement; the action of the Postmaster-General has been in strict accordance with the law, and when Parliament is asked to provide the money required the Postmaster-General will be in a position to defend his action. When Sir Richard Cartwright, during the discussion on the estimates, asked how much was paid for the railway mail service, the information was given at once, and the Postmaster-General was quite correct in stating on the 12th of July, last, that there was no increase in the amount for which he was then asking."

Not long ago alarming reports were being received from the Orient as to an outbreak of cholera in Japan, and our liability to an invasion of the plague, by means of direct steamship traffic. The Department of Agriculture wrote to Dr. McNaughton Jones of Victoria, B.C., for his opinion on the subject. The doctor's reply has just been received at the department. It is most reassuring. He writes: "So far, recent outbreaks of cholera have been confined to certain parts of China and to the north of Japan, to neither of which places do our steamships go, nor do they come in contact with inhabitants of those districts. Bills of health, carried by each steamship arriving at Victoria, declare, under the British Consul's certificate, that no dangerous or contagious disease exists in the port from which they sail or in the neighborhood. The idea had got abroad that the disbanded Japanese army carried cholera to almost every part of the Japanese empire. This is entirely incorrect, as the army has not been disbanded, and those soldiers who have been discharged were segregated as carefully as possible. Although cholera is never absent from certain parts of the Orient, Europeans are very seldom affected by it, the native population apparently suffering most. Every precaution ordered by the Department of Agriculture is being taken at our Pacific ports, and danger of cholera entering through them is entirely minimized."

The inland revenue accrued during July amounted to $607,428, a slight increase over the return for the corresponding month of last year.

The Department of Agriculture has, up to this evening, received no official information from London as to the alleged discovery of pleura-pneumonia among Canadian cattle slaughtered at Deptford last month. Secretary Smith said that the cable in today's papers was the first intimation he had on the subject. It is the opinion of departmental officers that the case is an old one re-vamped to do duty with the new Administration in England, by way of an offset to Canada's urgent appeals for a removal of embargo.

Dr. Dawson, Director of the Geological Survey, will leave Ottawa on the 19th for the scene of the petroleum borings at Athabaska, in the Northwest. The latest report from Fraser, the expert in charge of the work, is that the well has been sunk to a depth of 1200 feet.

HAD HIMSELF TIED AND GAGGED.

Toronto Boys' Scheme to Secure Funds to Play Poker.

New York, Aug. 9.—Herbert McConnel, the young Brooklyn drug clerk who was found bound and gagged yesterday morning in J. F. Windolph's apothecary store, at State-stret and Flatbush-avenue, Brooklyn, and who claimed that robbers had beaten him into unconsciousness and then robbed the cash drawer of over a hundred dollars, confessed to the police this morning that he was the thief. He was, he claimed, a victim of poker, and wanted the money to pay gambling debts. He admitted that the injuries on his face and body were inflicted by a friend named Charles E. Louthwood, who struck him and then bound and gagged him.

Louthwood acknowledged he was in the deal. He is a stenographer and telegraph operator. Both men are charged with conspiracy and grand larceny.

They belonged to a poker club, made up of Toronto boys. McConnell's father is said to be a veterinary surgeon in Toronto.

Both pleaded guilty when arraigned, and were held.

MRS. P. T. BARNUM MARRIED.

Her New Husband a Greek—Will Dispute of Her American Property.

New York, Aug. 9.—Mrs. P. T. Barnum was married yesterday to Demetre Carlias Bey, at the Greek Church on 53rd-street.

A civil service was first performed at 3 p.m., and property deeds on both sides were executed. The religious ceremony occurred at 5 p.m. and was conducted by the Greek priest of the 53rd-street Church.

The bride was attired in a Worth gown of dark blue silk. Immediately after the ceremony there was a breakfast at Delmonico's. Mr. and Mrs. Demetre Bey are to pass a couple of days at Bridgeport before sailing Saturday for Paris.

After a stop in Paris they will make their home in Greece.

There is a coloring of romance in the original meeting between Mrs. Barnum and her Bey. According to report she was climbing the great Pyramid with the assistance of Arab helpers when one of the men slipped and fell. Mrs. Barnum reeled backward and toppled over to what seemed certain death, but a stranger toiling up the Pyramid ten yards below caught the endangered lady in his arms. It was the Bey.

Under Mr. Barnum's will his widow inherited, besides Marina, which cost $300,000, an annuity of $40,000 and $1,000,000. She will sell the estate Marina.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810.

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

The Late Kate Armstrong.

Miss Kate Armstrong, daughter of the late Robert Armstrong of Cavan south, the Millbrook Reporter says, passed away on Monday at the Nicholls' hospital, Peterborough. The deceased with her mother and sister had lately moved to town from near Bailliebore, and was taken sick a couple of weeks ago. In order to undergo an operation which was considered necessary by her medical adviser, she was taken to the hospital, and though she came through the ordeal quite well, a fatal termination resulted on Monday evening. The funeral to the Front church burying ground on Wednesday was largely attended. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved mother and family.

PRESENTED WITH A CLOCK.

Lieut. Geo. Matthews Remembered by His Brother Officers Last Evening.

Last evening a number of the officers of the 57th Battalion, including Lt.-Col. Bell, gathered at the residence of Lieut. Geo. It has been the custom in past years among the officers of the battalion to remember their brothers-in-arms on such occasions, and last night's presentation was another added to the list.

Capt. E. F. Mason, Adjutant, in a few well chosen remarks, made the presentation, which was fittingly acknowledged by Mr. Matthews.

Speeches were also made by Lieut.-Col. Bell and the other officers present, after which a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent.

The following description is given of the animal: Bay mare, four years old, left hip higher than right, shoes on feet, light mane and tail, scar near its ears. It weighs about 900 pounds, and is in good working order. A suitable reward is offered for the capture of man and beast.

The Emeralds in Session.

The conventian of the Grand Branch of the R. B. A. was brought to a close in Toronto yesterday. A provision has been made to allow the lady circles of the order to take out insurance policies. The next place of meeting was fixed at Ottawa, after which the following officers were elected :—D. A. Carey, Toronto, Grand President (fifth term); P. Brakin, Ottawa, Vice-President; W. Lane, Toronto, Secretary-Treasurer.

Last Night's Garden Party.

The lawn social held last evening under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., of St. Andrew's church, on Mr. Geo. Edmison's beautiful lawn, was not as well patronised as it might otherwise have been had more of the young people been in town, but just at present the majority of those who patronize these entertainments are away holidaying. A most pleasant evening was spent, however, and the society netted quite a few dollars. The Fire Brigade band gave their services free and their music was greatly appreciated during the evening. The lawn was prettily decorated for the occasion with Chinese lanterns and looked most attractive. The young ladies in charge of the refreshment tables were Miss Heubeck, Miss Fowler and Miss Gladman. They were assisted by a number of young gentlemen in the discharge of their duties and in decorating the lawn.

An Exciting Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Harry Butcher, of Heap's brickyard, had a narrow escape from serious bodily injury. He was engaged unloading brick at the corner of Charlotte and Bethune streets, when his horses became frightened at a passing train and started on the run. In their efforts to escape Mr. Butcher was thrown between the horses, fortunately landing on the pole of the waggon, at the same time keeping the lines in his grasp. The team ran up Bethune street as far as Sheriff Hall's residence, where they took to the sidewalk, clearing it again and continuing their run as far as Carew's Hotel, on Hunter street, where they were stopped by a number of men engaged in digging a trench. Mr. Butcher was released from his perilous position, and beyond a few scratches and bruises, escaped uninjured.

THREE BURGLARS IN THE TOILS.

Two of Them Seen Entering the Convent.

SUSPECTED OF BEING THE SAFE BLOWERS.

Three Tramps, McCrea, Somers and McDermott Identified as the Convent Burglars—Two of Them Noticed by a Lady Entering the Window—They are Sent up for Trial at the Assizes—Other Tramps Arrested.

The genus tramp will probably give Peterborough and vicinity a wide berth in future, as the local police force spread terror into their ranks yesterday, and captured at least three who will stand their trial at the assizes on a charge of stealing a silver watch and a sum of money from Gideon Mercier yesterday.

Besides, the police are of the opinion that the trio are and burglary at Meldrum & McAllister's warehouse last Thursday night, as the three characters were known to be in town at the time, and that they disappeared a short time afterwards has also been ascertained.

When the Chief was notified that these men were noticed near the Cathedral, he immediately ordered Officers Stewart and McGinty into civilians clothes and placed them on the lookout. P. C. McGinty was not long in locating the trio at Rountree's hotel, and he immediately notified the Chief, who was quickly on the scene. Both officers collared their men and marched them to the police station.

Shortly after four o'clock a lady from the Convent, who had noticed three suspicious looking individuals near the Convent, arrived at the station and the three men arrested, as the individuals she had seen.

Later on in the evening, Mrs. W. Fredenburg, who resides at the corner of Charlotte and Downie streets, and who had noticed tramps loitering around the Convent, visited the police headquarters and identified Somers and McCrea as the two men she had seen enter the window of Mercier's apartment.

It might be stated here that Somers was at one time employed in town by a local dealer in ashes, and is supposed to know the town pretty thoroughly. He is not, however, the notorious Somers who has figured in local police court circles.

This morning McDermott, Somers and McCrea appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble to answer to the charge of stealing the sum of $25 and a silver watch from Gideon Mercier. The three and will face the assize court on September 25th. Evidence on the case, however, will be heard on Monday morning next.

Besides these three suspects, Police Magistrate Dumble had before him three other knights of the road who occupied cells last evening at the police station.

Thos. Duvany was charged with being a vagrant, but this he indignantly denied, stating that he had come to Peterborough on business, and that his occupation was that of a commercial traveller for a Montreal dry goods firm. When asked for references he gave the firm of Dixon, O'Brien & Co., Notre Dame street, Montreal. He was remanded until Tuesday morning.

William Tierney and John O'Neil were both charged with the same offence. Tierney pleaded guilty, but O'Neil stated that he had come to town to work on the Trent Valley Canal, that he had heard so much about.

The chief stated that he had arrested them on suspicion, in connection with the late robbery, but he believed they were telling the truth.

The magistrate advised them to leave town at once, or the doors of the Central Prison would be open for them.

THE POLICE AND THEIR WORK.

Great credit is due the police force for their prompt action yesterday, especially P. C. McGinty, whose eagle eye detected the men at Rountree's hotel. Complaints have frequently been made in reference to the tramp nuisance, and the police were often criticized by those who failed to notify them when any depredations were committed. However, the police have been on the outlook for some time past, and scoured the outskirts of the town when the citizens would be in their beds. Tramps will be scarce, however, around Peterborough in the future.

THE COUNTY OFFICER'S WORK.

Yesterday, all day, and in fact for the past few days, county police constable Archie Moore was out in search of suspicious characters in Ashburnham and vicinity, and about 3:30 yesterday afternoon he bagged five of them at Burnham's Point. They were brought before County Police Magistrate Edmison for hearing.

Mr. Dineen, of the Queen's, identified one who had been a boarder in good standing at his hotel for the past week, and in consequence the magistrate allowed him to go. The other four were remanded until this evening.

LAWN TENNIS.

Millbrook Broke Even With Peterborough Yesterday Afternoon.

The representatives of the Millbrook Lawn Tennis Club, who came up yesterday to try their skill against the local players, had the satisfaction of "breaking even," as though they lost on one court they won on the other.

Their best doubles, Messrs. Lefroy and W. M. Wood, were pitted against Messrs. F. W. Taylor and W. J. Montgomery, and the match was replete with brilliant play and hard volleying. The local pair won three out of the five sets by the following score :—6-1, 4-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Messrs. Parker and Rogers were not so fortunate on their court, for although they made a most plucky fight their oppponents, Messrs. Wood and Dean, by winning the first two sets were in a position to play somewhat easier and husband their strength for the final set. They had to work hard for their victory, however, as they only won by the appended close score: 6—4, 6—4, 2—6, 4—6, 6—4.

It was so late when play commenced that there was no opportunity of playing any matches in the single courts.

It is expected that a large number of enthusiasts will go over to Lindsay to-morrow to witness the tournament between the racquet wielders of that town and those of Peterborough. Those who will play will be the Misses Dennistoun, Miss Hatton, Miss Edwards, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Taylor, Mr. D. Rogers and Mr. Hampden Burnham.

STONY LAKE.

"Falls View," Stony Lake.

Just a line to the girls who cannot go to Stony Lake—not a fish line, but a breezy line of thoughts from the beautiful island called "Falls View." Oh! girls, if you haven't been to Stony Lake come at once. As I opened the cottage door this morning and stepped out on the broad verandah, breathing in the pure, clear air, such a panorama met my gaze. A wide expanse of water rippling on the way, glittering brightly in the morning sun. Just beyond the green islands dotted here and there, relieving the monotony and resting the eyes. As I listened the soft dip, dip of a paddle arrested my attention, and looking to see whence it came and whither it went my eye caught here and there a buoy, rearing aloft its painted crest, seeming to say "steer clear of the rocks" Danger! Danger I cried in this beautiful place. Aye! danger. Though every prospect pleases, we must be on the watch for the danger signals and keep clear of the pitfalls that lie in our pathway. But should the storm come, girls, and the winds of adversity blow us upon those rocks till the storm is over and then steer your bark into port with colours flying and hear the well earned plaudit well done.

How much sweeter the praise than if we had drifted aimlessly in with folded hands. Battling with the waves make heroes, not resting on our oars.

Oh, girls, I'm off the track again. You know I never could steer straight, though you would always have me at the rudder. I'll not preach any more, I promise you.

We have a jolly company here at our camp—skiffs, punts, canoes fishing tackle—everything complete.

At first we had only one young man, but he did not seem to mind it, and regaled us whenever we wished with sweet music, from his accordion. It was particularly acceptable on the water in the gloaming. Everyone liked Billy and appreciated his kindness.

We had a boat race coming home from Burleigh, one evening. Olive and Mabel won, but they had been in training for weeks, and Maud and Teenie were just from town. We challenge them at the end of the week.

I was over to Juniper Island, calling on the way to see Mrs. T———, wife of one of our popular dry goods merchants, who prefers to dwell in tents and does not come to his cottage often. The Island store should be called "Multum in Parvo"—it is little, but, oh my, so complete.

Several young men are stopping near our cottage. When they approach, the water gets riley, and we can almost hear the "lion" roar as David, son, perhaps, of the giant killer, proclaims himself the "victor," holding up a

THIRTY-ONE POUND 'LUNGE.

Telling fish stories, girls, reminds me of the fish I didn't catch. I had lots of bites (dear flies and mosquitoes), but the fish never came back. Some of the gentlemen left for home early Monday morning, and I overheard a good Methodist say: "Boys, I'm going to take home the fish I caught Saturday night." As he came on the midnight boat, I pondered.

A bonfire is the order of the day on Saturday night. I don't think Capt. Scollard likes it for it blinds him, steering into the wharf, but he is so good natured he says nothing. Please, Captain, don't slide our bread down on a board again. We have fish bones in our throat, and don't want slivers.

Maggie caught a big 'lunge, and in pulling it in it slapped her on the side of the face. She rose in silent disgust and sat on that fish until she reached the shore.

Oh, girls, we eat out here, and how we sleep! One of the ladies remarked this morning that she "hadn't had such a sleep for months."

The evenings pass very pleasantly in boating in the gloaming, then some music and a pleasant chat on the broad verandah, then sometimes after that into the boats and off to serenade some of the neighbors with horns, tin pans, dinner bell, etc.

On Saturday I stepped on board the "Mary Ellen" for home, and, oh, what a delightful sail! On board were two inspectors, not of nature or of corduroy walks. I found one of them a most pleasant travelling companion, he having been back and fourth for thirty-five years. He told me of recently picking thirteen quarts of raspberries, and seeing on a certain island. I liked the raspberry part, but couldn't "bear" to hear the rest. On weat the boat, steaming up to an island where the "rays" of the setting sun brightened the wharf, and, strange to say, as we steamed away those "Rays" followed us all the way home. Hallos! we are signalled from a distant island, and a sweet-voiced girl comes down to the boat and a sweet voice says, "Bread if you please, arge loaf and bring more to-night." Off we sail to another island, where two old men come slowly down to the wharf. Having much merriment at their expense, I go forward with in-born Yankee curiosity say "What is it?" The captain replies, "they want to know what day of the week it is." Surely we can say at Stony Lake, "how noiselessly falls the foot of time that only treads on flowers."

Off again, not to Lundy's Lane, but to see a sight that hasn't met our eyes for a long time, vegetables growing and sunflowers, and a pumpkin vine rearing aloft its stately head in a superannuated canoe.

Well! I like pumpkin pie and I'll always speak well of the pumpkin if you do laugh. "Any mail, Capt., any letters for us? Oh, hurry! we are dying to know," and toot, toot, off we go, not to the hall of Adam, but to his island home, where a merry crowd are at the wharf to welcome friends. A canoe is slid off the boat and "Oh! good, good another canoe—and auntie "did you bring this? Well, I'm your friend. Off again and home?" I say to the captain and he answers "yes." For the first time in my life I could not echo the sentiment "be it ever so humble there's no place like home." Our next stopping place is Young's Point, where on the right is the bustle of loading wood, chatting with some acquaintance on board, some getting on, some getting off and on the left, the bank, the grass plot, and then the little homes nestling so quietly there. An aged couple sit upon the verandah with folded hands resting after the toil of the day. Away we go on to Lakefield, see to our baggage, pass along the lane to the station, our train comes in and the crowd steps off.

Merchants, lawyers (would there were "more" of them), tradesmen, away from the dusty city to their quiet island homes, husbands going to their wives and children. I turned sadly away and stepped upon the home bound train. After the quiet swanlike movement of the "Mary Ellen" the jouncing of that train was something startling. It seemed like a wild beast let loose. I soon adapted myself to the circumstances and accepted the situation as gracefully as possible, and as we rushed into the station I realized that "life is real, life is earnest," and if we can not always dwell in fairy land, let us be thankful that we can tarry there for a season. "Let us then be up and doing, with a heart for any fate. Upward, onward, still pursuing, learn to labour and to wait."

Good bye, girls, there comes the Mary Ellen around hurricane point, I heard her whistle. Don't forget to see Fairy Lake, and take your canoe along and have a sail on its placid waters. Such pretty grottoes, Oh! I'm sure the fairies dwell therein.

O! girls, do go to Stony Lake, don't die without going there.

YACHTING.

American yachtsmen are very funny. While they held on to the centreboard they declared it was an American invention and amounted to an "institution." Since they dropped the centreboard they have disocvered that it was an English invention and was imported. The fixed centreboard is now the American institution, though it is not easy to distinguish between it and the keel on which the British have all along relied. On Friday, the breaking of a hollow gaff lost the Defender the race for the Goelet cup. On Saturday, hollow spars were also an invention of the enemy, that is of the British, and are not to be relied upon, even when improved by the Herreshoffs. It appears that American yachts, both hull and rigging, are British inventions, and have always been. If the Defender is beaten it will be because she is a keel boat, rigged with hollow spars and fitted with sails after British fashions, and American yachtsmen will sigh for the days of American clippers and schooner yachts. If the Defender wins she will be American all right enough. 'Tis a way they have.

'Twas a Radical Departure.

But the enormous success attending it justified its trial. Only the few in this country could place wine on their tables. It was a luxury. It was very costly. It was beyond the reach of the poor man. The Bordeaux Claret Co. has placed a good, wholesome, healthful wine, which aids in the assimilation and digestion of food, upon the tables of the whole people. $3 and $4 per dozen quarts, this is a bagatelle. Yet the wine is good. It has its age. It has its body. It is as good as that which other dealers ask $8 a dozen. The best judges have approved. And the orders cannot be filled quick enough which are received from all parts of the country. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

WESTWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Quite an interesting and exciting game of football was played here last Saturday evening between Otonabee Union and Westwood football teams, and, although the score, 4 goals to 0, in favour of Westwood, would show a one sided game, the playing was by no means so. Otonabee Union had a strong team on the field and put up a good game, but lack of combination play is where they were wanting; their defence being strong, but their forwards lacked dash, and failed to pass as they should. Their goal was continually attacked; Westwood goal throughout the whole match never being directly assailed. Westwood boys put up a grand match throughout, and although a great many of them never played in a match before, they played like veterans, each and every one of them filling their positions well. The very best good humour prevailed throughout the match and not a single accident occurred. There was a large crowd of spectators present.

The teams lined up as follows:

Westwood.		Otonabee Union
Bert Lancaster	goal	Wm Brackenridge
Jas Brackenridge	backs	T Brackenridge
H Brackenridge	backs	Wm Foster
G A L Humphries	half	F Evans

ONTARIO GOV'T GIVES UP A BUSINESS.

The Province to Lease Out the Binder Twine Factory.

Officials Say It is Profitable But Undesirable.

(Toronto Star.)

The Ontario Government has decided to make a radical change in its relations to the binder twine factory at the Central Prison, which it controls.

Heretofore a direct supervision has been held and Government officials superintended the work of the manufacture and the sale of goods.

The plant and labour will be rented now and contractors have been asked to tender for the lease and the entire control of the work, except that a limit put on the selling price of the goods will be given to the best bidder.

WHAT THE INSPECTOR SAYS.

"It was not because we were unsuccessful," said Mr. James Noxon, the inspector of prisons and superintendent of the factory to-day. The factory paid all right and as well as it will perhaps under the new system, but it is almost impossible for a Government to run a business like this.

"The manufacture is all right; but to make a success of selling we would have to secure travellers and enter into active competition, which is very difficult. The object of the Government is not to engage in business; it is to keep prisoners employed."

REASON OF THE DELAY.

"Why wasn't the new system adopted before?" I asked.

"Contractors were suspicious of prison labour," he answered. "They thought that the prisoners couldn't make good twine. We have now organized the business and shown that first rate twine can be produced.

"There is another reason, too,' said he. "You know our system is to limit a prisoner's day's work, and if anything more is done, we pay him for his extra work. It was quite impossible to do this under the old arrangement.

FEATURES OF THE CONTRACT.

"The contractors will be well restricted by the contract which we will sign with them. They pay us so much for so much twine put out. We supply the plant and labour, so you see they can't abuse or overdrive the the prisoners. We will put a limit on the price of selling, too.

"The broom factory is worked on the same principle now, and so was the wooden factory till it broke down and we had to take it up.

"The tenders will be in by August 22, and the change will be made as soon as we can make arrangements with the contractors."

A QUESTION OF MORALS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Is the liberty attained by bicycle riding going to benefit the minds and morals of our young people? In these days when bicycles are in the height of popularity, so that even the children appear to have "wheels in their heads," we sometimes ask, "Is this new liberty going to prove a benefit to the morals of young boys and girls? The question whether a wheel is a benefit to health is still an unsettled one, the yeas and nays being about equally divided. There is no question about their enjoyment of riding and the liberty it engenders, and doubtless the yeas will be in the ascendant until time and a new crop of hip diseases, spinal complaints and kindred ailments may possibly prove the nays right after all. But what of the morals in the meantime? This does not touch the question of the right or wrong of riding on Sundays, which has been agitated somewhat. It may have been proved beyond a doubt that our Canadian young men and women are sufficient unto themselves, though no one thinks less of a young girl for being accompanied by a chaperone, but that is not saying that our little girls and boys will be benefitted by allowing them to ride off miles from home with no older persons with them, and I for one, question whether it will be any advantage to them.

Only a few evenings ago as twilight was falling I was startled by a childish voice calling back to her companions, who were boys and girls no older than herself, "I am going to raise Cain all the way home. I'm going to holler at everyone I meet and call them all the names I can think of." Yet those were apparently the children of well-to-do people, as their clothing and wheels testified, and I shuddered to thing of what the outcome of such liberty and neglect of easy going parents, might be. I wondered if they would not have many anxious hours later, and I wondered if a reminder of what might follow would be of any use now? For although those parents may excuse themselves as to being their brother's keepers, they may not find the world so ready to accept excuses in regard to the care of their little children. The sins of the father may be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generations, yet there can be nothing harder for parents to bear than the burden of their children's sins, knowing in their secret hearts that however heavy that burden may be, it is of their own making.

Summer Comes

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her nicest to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the stinging, aching corns will remove every semblance or comfort, make sad the songs of the birds, and evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine cannot dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in twenty-four hours.

WOOD AND ROUGH STONE.

These Are the Materials Used for Making an Artistic and Serviceable Stable.

The accompanying design of a wood and rough stone stable, furnished to the Country Gentleman by Webb Donnell, is especially adapted for a place where considerable room is desired for the storage of fodder, leaving, however, the lower floor free for stalls and carriages. The hip-roof, pleasing to the eye, gives also a great deal of room in the second storey. There are few country places where rough stones, or rounded cobbles, are not abundant. With the walls of the first storey laid up in such stone and the second storey of wood, stained to harmonize with the rockwork, the effect is agreeable, especially if vines are allowed to clamber up, as suggested in the illustration.

The special feature of the floor plan of this stable is convenience. On driving in, the horse is removed from the carriage near the harness-room, the carrage wheels are "cramped," and it is run back on the carriage floor, where it is in the right position for harnessing and driving out when next used The main floor has a "well" above it, protected by a high railing and a grating, through which fodder is raised to the second floor.

If one's land will admit a cellar under the stable, the manure may be placed there. If there can be no cellar, a manure-room can be built on the first floor adjacent to the stalls, with ventilator through the roof and a cement floor, where the manure can be placed each day and covered with plaster and litter, with a calf or colt running on it to keep it well packed. If neither of these plans is used, the manure should be wheeled away from the stable every day. Manure thrown out in piles under a stable window, as is seen in the case of half the stables of the country, is an unmitigated nuisance.

Feeding Slops to Cows.

The Connecticut Experiment Station Bulletin says that there is a prevalent opinion that feeding cows on watery food gives a milk containing less solids or more water than will be produced from very concentrated foods. Cows fed by one of our stations were given freely warm slop feed.

On ordinary rations the yield of milk from eight cows for two weeks was 3,062 pounds, containing 3.96 per cent. of fat. For the next two weeks when they were given slop feed once a day the yield was 3,157 pounds of milk, containing 3.82 per cent. of fat. For the next two weeks they were given slop feed twice a day and yielded 2,940 pounds of milk containing 3.86 per cent. of fat. The experimenter says:

"In 1893 we said in the report on slopping cows: 'This experiment would indicate that slopping is an expensive way to feed cows.' We would say again that there does not appear to be any advantage in feeding cows wet mea', nor is there evidence to prove that this method of feeding will make the milk poorer in fat to any extent."

Few dairymen will readily accept this view of the effect of giving slop feed to cows, yet it is in accord with the statement of experimenters who have tested the influence of food on the composition of milk.

If this view is found correct it will be seen that the attempt to produce diluted or thin milk by cheap, though really expensive foods, is not only a mistake of morals but of mind. Fortunately the interests of buyers and sellers in the production of milk are one.

Druggists say that their sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla exceed those of all others. There is no substitute for Hood's.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Buffalo, Aug. 8.—For the third time this year Joe Patchen defeated Robert J. To-day the game son of Patchen Wilkes convincingly demonstrated his superiority over the little knee-sprung pacer, and as a result of the struggle Hamlin's champion will be retired from the track until he regains his old form. It was truly a battle royal, but one in which Jack Curry had all the best of the argument. In the two fastest heats he sat in the sulky as immovable as a statue when the horses were fighting it out in the home stretch, while Geers worked like a demon, and lashed Robert with the whip time and again. The track was in the finest possible condition, and only a moderate wnd was blowing against the horses on the home stretch.

Village Farm money made Robert J. a favorite at odds of 3 to 5 before the first heat, while Patchen sold at 4 to 6. In the toss for the pole Patchen won. On the second score the two went away neck and neck. Like a double team they paced to the three-quarters, when Geers pulled out. But Curry called upon Patchen, and the great stallion responded promptly. Into the home stretch they came with Patchen a half length ahead. Geers took to the whip, but it was of no avail, but Patchen was going well within his speed. Time 2.04 1-2.

The second heat was simply a repetition of the first, but in the third heat Patchen fell back at the three-quarter pole. Robert gained a lead of two lengths going round the last turn, but Patchen came up on the outside and finished in a dead heat, though the judges, oneo f whom was Hamilton Busbey, a personal and particular friend of the Hamlins, gave the heat to Robert.

In the fourth both horses broke at the first furlong pole. Patchen recovered first, and took a good lead down the back stretch. Robert came on even terms at the lower distance stand, but fell back and broke into a run at which gait he finished the mile all out.

Athanlo won the deciding heat in the unfinished 2.16 trot, and Falkland finally did the same in the 2.23 class. The other races, save the 3-year-old trot, in which Splan with Geddes was not out for the money were sharply contested. Attendance 10,000.

Wednesday's card was that which was scheduled to be run Tuesday, and only one of the races was finished. Warren P. ruled favorite in the 2.26 trot, and he captured the first heat rather easily. In the second he broke in the home stretch and was outfooted by Ella Belmont. After that, however, the game son of William H. Allen, put two more heats to his credit and finished the contest. BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Sick Headache

CURED PERMANENTLY

BY TAKING

Ayer's Pills

'I was troubled a long time with sick headache. It was usually accompanied with severe pains in the temples, a sense of fullness and tenderness in one eye, a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, hands and feet cold, and sickness at the stomach. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I that I received anything like permanent benefit. A single box of these pills did the work for me, and I am now free from headaches, and a well man."—C. H. HUTCHINGS, Esq., Auburn, Me

SHIRTWAIST COMFORT.

THE INVENTOR OF THIS GARMENT SHOULD BE SAINTED.

Cheerful and Inexpensive—Three Pretty Models and How They are Made—There Can be no Summer Comfort Without Them.

Blessed be the inventor of the shirt waist, and let us, Oh my sisters in comfort, duly show our gratitude for this invaluable member of our dress world by ever cheerfully welcoming it in our midst! Let us confess the truth that the shirt waist is the boon and salvation of the woman of moderate means, who shares with her rich sisters, the desire to be always well and appropriately gowned.

Let us, too, be grateful to the enterprising manufacturers who have made our summer joyous by giving to us wonderfully novel and dainty designs in these accessories at beautifully low prices. Think for a moment, and tell me, I pray, what would we do without our linen and chambray bodices, our madras and percale blouses? Can you imagine a comfortable summer season without these?

Could anything be daintier or more becoming, for instance, than the shirt waist of pale blue percale with tiny dark blue rings, shown in the first cut? With its box-plaited front it is altogether up-to-date in matter of style, and because of its pointed yoke back easy fitting and conducive to a fine effect as to figure. Its full sleeves and deep cuffs give the desirable broad and tapering effect, and the prettily-cut collar all the coolness one could wish for.

FOR AFTERNOON WEAR.

Around the waist one wears a belt of dark blue or bright red gros grain ribbon, with a gilt or silver buckle. This waist, as well as that in the second cut, can be worn with propriety in the afternoon and evening, for both are dressy. At summer entertainments, even at the grand opera, one sees numbers of fair women, noted for an invariable display of good taste, garbed in cotton waists and odd skirts. Such a waist as the second cut illustrates was recently worn at the summer opera. It was developed in fine linen, watermelon pink, the surface being covered with tiny black dots. From under the high, turn-down collar and over the deep yoke in front came a strip of the material to simulate a box-plait. The full bishop sleeves were joined at the wrist to very narrow cuffs. Collar, cuffs, yoke and box-plait were piped with black, and the latter was finished off with two diamond-shaped black enameled studs. The bow at the neck and the belt were of black velvet.

A charming design for morning wear is shown in cut No. 3, portraying a shirt-waist of checked blue and white madras, made with sloping yoke and full blouse effect and gigot sleeves, large and full to the elbows, then close fitting to the wrists. This waist has a high collar and is cut off short at the waist line. The pattern can be effectively developed in any of the new and pretty checked or plain cottons, the most stylish combination being that of white with apple green, olive with navy, bright red with cream, or black with blue.

Feeding Dairy Cows.

A series of observations of the winter feeding practices of Connecticut dairymen has led the Storrs station to the conclusion that in general there was the largest yield of milk and the largest butter production with narrow rations rich in protein. Wide rations low in protein did not favor large milk or butter production. In the three tests when it was possible to study the financial side of the feeding narrow rations rich in protein were decidedly the more economical. Bearing in mind that there is such a thing as a "best ration," and that all attempts to express in terms of protein and energy the needs of a dairy cow are only approximations, the following ration is tentatively suggested as a basis for feeding dairy cows:

Organic matter, 25 pounds; digestible protein, 2.5 pounds and enough digestible fat and carbohydrates to bring the fuel value up to about 31,000 calories.

The subject of cattle feeding and handling is a large one, and only general principles can be laid down. No hard and fast rules for feeding are now known, and doubtless none ever will be known. It is nevertheless true that the man who exercises the largest amount of good judgment, based upon all that the most advanced science can bring to him, and who tries to put into practice the knowledge thus acquired, will be much surer of success than one who works blindly. There may be no "best" ration, and no "best" way of handling dairy stock, but there are poor cows, uneconomical rations and bad ways of handling, and the man who learns to avoid the bad and choose the better is well on the road towards the best.

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co:

SIRS,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Assurance Co'y of Canada.

Explanation of the Company's System of Profit Distribution.

The method of profit distribution of most companies is to give a bonus or profit on the sum assured, irrespective of the premiums paid. The Sun Life of Canada allots its profits to policies in proportion to the premiums paid, which is considered to be the more equitable system. This accounts for the variations in the percentages of the accompanying results. The lower rates given below are, in most cases, on young lives. The examples are taken from the Company's claim register as at the end of 1894, for the first 5 years.

THE LEADER'S SPEECH.

THE LIBERAL LEADER AT SOREL YESTERDAY.

A Great Demonstration—He Discusses the School Question—The Government's Position.

Sorel, Aug. 8.—The little City of Sorel never saw such a policical gathering as that which assembled here to-day to do honour to Mr. Laurier and his confreres. That the hon. leader was popular in this district was long known, but now the most sanguine hoped for such manifestations as those which were made from the moment he landed uhtil the hour of his departure. At every station between here and Montreal, delegates boarded the train, there being seven cars filled to overflowing when Sorel was reached.

At 12.30 o'clock the crowds began to gather around the open-air platform, and when, at 1.30 o'clock, the speakers appeared, there were, it is readily admitted, eight thousand people present. Mayor Morasse, of Sorel, was moved to the chair, and before calling upon any speakers, read an address of welcome to the leader.

Mr. Laurier was then called upon, and Mr. Joseph Doupinais, President of the Liberal Association of Sorel, presented him with another address of welcome.

When the leader arose he stood for some minutes unable to utter a word, the applause was so hearty. When he was allowed to proceed he expressed his gratitude to the Liberal Club for the kindly sentiments which they had embodied in their address. The assemblage which he had the honor to address was undoubtedly one of the most important that he ever addressed. (Cheers). He was glad to meet on that platform, besides the young, brave and energetic member for Richelieu, Mr. Bruneau, such men as Mr. Beausoleil, who ably elucidated every question of which he treated. Hon. Mr. Marchand, Dr. Mignault of Yamaska, F. Langelier, and last, but not least, Mr. Tarte. (Applause). He was glad to meet that large gathering of farmers, merchants, mechanics and laborers. What was the reason that that crowd had assembled? Because their minds were troubled with unrest and anxiety, caused by the indecision, weakness and tergiversation of the Federal Government in regard to a very important question. (Loud Applause). A session of Parliament had just been held for a reason which neither the Government nor the friends of the Government dared to explain. A general election ought to have been decided upon; but a session had been convoked instead. The calling of that session had been lightly, even joyfully, commented upon by Ministers, Deputy Ministers and the Conservative press at the time it was called.

The session finished amid sadness, disappointment, recrimination and accusations on the part of the Government's friends that their solemn promise was a false one. (Cheers.) Why had the Government broken its promise? The false gods who constitute the Government at Ottawa only knew. One thing was certain, and that was that the two Ministers who went back after their three days' strike had gone back to pick up the crumbs that fell from the Government table, but the presence of those ministers in the cabinet, and any action that they might take would make not the slightest difference in the question, the present Government would never settle the question. It had never intended to settle it. (Applause.) They had sowed joys and reaped tears. (Laughter and cheers.) The reason the session had been called was in order that legislative force should be given to the remedial order, that justice should be accorded to the Catholics of Manitoba. During the Vercheres election the bold Col. Ouimet spoke very strong language and made a dire threat, as became a soldier. (Laughter.) He called religion to his aid and declared before high heaven and the Supreme Being that if executive effect were not given to the remedial order by Parliament at the session high was then coming on he would cut off his head—he would cease to be a member of the Cabinet. Heaven had witnessed lots of queer things, but not many queerer things than the conduct of Mr. Ouimet in this respect. Heaven had seen Mr. Ouimet leave the ministry, and Heaven had seen him go back to it after three days had expired. (Applause and laughter.)

CONFEDERATION ALL RIGHT.

To talk seriously, it was a fact that the session which had recently closed had been called for the purpose, as the Government had solemnly assured the public at the outset of giving legal force to the remedial order. The situation constituted, he was sorry to say, a crisis in the history of Confederation. That was a circumstance of solemn moment. He had always been, and would always be, a friend of Confederation. He had the fullest faith in the institutions of our country if they were honestly administered. (Applause.) If anxiety and distrust prevailed to-day it was not the fault of Confederation, but of the men who were now administering the affairs of the country. (Applause.) Those men were the incarnation of hesitancy, tergiversation and vacillation. It seemed as though their virility had been buried in the grave with Sir Joan Thompson. Was any further proof necessary than the fact that a session was called to settle the school question, and that no attempt at all at settling it was made during the session. Had not Mr. Ouimet, when in Vercheres, called on God to witness the declaration he made that it would be settled? And had not that declaration been proved to be false?

Turning to the repeated statements of the Conservative press, especially of the sanctimonious portion of it, such as the holy Minerve, that he had been silent on the school question, the Liberal leader indulged in a little banter, which was greatly enjoyed by the large crowd who listened to him. He knew those Conservative papers well, he said. They would be delighted, it would seem, if he said a word about the school question. In Quebec these pious Conservative newspapers were Catholics; in Ontario they were Protestants. In Quebec the saintly Minerve, Sir Adolphe Caron, Mr. Ouimet and the Ultramontanes were listening to him with clubs in their hands ready to down him if he said a single word about the school question, and in Ontario Mr. Clarke Wallace, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and the Tory and Orange organs were watching him with another club, ready to strike him if he dared say a word on the same question. (Laughter.) Now, he expressed his views on the school question on many occasions and in many parts of the Dominion. He had said over and over again that it was a question of fact and that the Federal Government had a right to interfere, but it had never yet interfered. It had shuffled and dallied with the question all along. Why had it not interfered? He would tell them why, and in doing so he was speaking with a sense of his responsibilities as a public man speaking to his countrymen. It was because in this country Catholics and Protestants had each their own ideas on the subject of education, and that the ideas of each were different. He was of the same faith and race as those whom he was addressing. Catholics were in the minority in Canada, and also, of course, in Parliament. This school question could not be settled by an appeal to Catholics or by an appeal to Protestants—by an appeal to Catholic prejudices or by an appeal to Protestant prejudices—it could only be settled by a statesman who had the courage to discuss the question in the same terms before both Catholics and Protestants. (Loud applause.)

He had used the same language in dealing with this question in Montreal, in Toronto, in Winnipeg, in every place, east and west, which he then was using in Sorel. Our constitution guaranteed to our people every right to which they could lay claim; to every minority, every right to which it could legitimately and fairly lay claim. (Applause.) Every reform that had been accomplished in Canada had been accomplished by Liberals, the Liberal Catholics of Quebec and the Liberal Protestants of Ontario. (Applause.) In support of this statement Mr. Laurier appealed to the patriotic memories of men whose names are enshrined in Canadian history—Nelson, Brown and Blake, the father of Hon. Edward Blake, and others. That race of Canadian Protestant and Catholic Liberals had by no means died out. The school question could only be settled by an appeal to the sentiments of justice which existed in the hearts of both Protestants and Catholics. (Applause.)

ANGERS OUT, WALLACE IN.

It was a significant fact that Mr. Angers had stepped out of the Cabinet while Mr. Clarke Wallace remained in it. Mr. Angers was in favour of Separate Schools, while Mr. Clarke Wallace was opposed to them. Yet why had Mr. Angers left the Government when it had stated that it would restore Separate Schools in Manitoba? Because he felt and he knew that the Government did not mean what it said. (Cheers.) He (Mr. Laurier) had been accused by the holy Minerve and others who proclaimed their ardent love of religion, when it paid them to do so, that he was a man of no religion. He did not boast of being very religious, but he could conscienciously claim that he was as religious as Mr. Ouimet, or Sir Adolphe Caron, or the present editor of La Minerve at election times. (Applause.) The statement that Liberals had no religion was a low trick resorted for political purposes. Other Canadian public men had been reviled as he had been reviled by the Conservative press in the same fashion. Telesphore Fournier, who was an honour to his race and country, had been so reviled by the self-styled religious Conservative press. To-day he (Mr. Laurier) was denounced by the Conservative press as being a man devoid of religion, the day might come when justice would be meted out to him as well as it had been to Fournier: (Cheers.) There was one thing which he would never do. For no reason whatever would he do or help to do anything of which his conscience as an honest man, did not approve. Applause.)

Mr. Laurier quoted amid derisive cheers an article in the Montreal Gazette of July 29th, stating that the Government of Canada had opened negotiations with the Government of Manitoba with a view to repairing the error that had been made in issuing the order-in-Council. That was a strange admission to make. Having contrasted the action of the Attorney-General of Ontario, Sir Oliver Mowat, with the Attorney-General of Quebec, Mr. Casgrain, in their conduct in bringing to justice men like McGreevy, Connolly and St. Louis, and spoken of the evils of protection, Mr. Laurier concluded by stating that when the Liberals got into power they would see that such a tariff was levied as would benefit the masses of the people."

MOST INVALUABLE.

The New Specific Remedy is Being Extensively Used at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 29.—The marvellous recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, from Bright's disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is still fresh in the memories of Ottawa people, and the remedy is being freely recommended both by druggists and private citizens. The similar wonderful cures of Dr. A. G. McCormick, of Richmond, Quebec, and Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, Manitoba, to say nothing of many others, are generally quoted in favour of the assertion that no remedy of modern times has gone so successfully through a severe trial, and been so efficacious in all cases of kidney trouble. It is also proving itself invaluable in the milder forms of sickness which appear during the summer.

TO RUN 90 MILES AN HOUR.

An Electric Locomotive Being Built to Attain This Speed.

New York, Aug. 9.—Recorder Spratt, from Philadelphia, says: The Baldwin-Westinghouse alliance is causing much talk among railway men and in financial circles here. The first work to be done jointly by the two companies is the building of a standard gauge electric locomotive in order to demonstrate the capabilities and powers of the new engine for passenger and freight service. Speaking yesterday of the probable rate of speed of the proposed locomotives, Mr. Hensey, of the Baldwin firm, said: "This talk of making 150 miles an hour is pure folly. The best time which will likely be made, consistent with safety, is 90 miles an hour at most." Mr. Hensey explained that for a long haul the steam locomotive was preferable and cheaper, and for that reason, he said, the electric locomotive would be used principally for short runs and suburban service.

Collapse of an Eight Story Building.

New York, Aug. 8.—The northeast corner of West Broadway and Third-streets was the scene of a fatal building collapse to-day. The extent of the disaster will not be positively determined until to-morrow, when the ruins will have been completely overhauled and the loss of life learned. It was the middle section of an eight-story unfinished structure that collapsed and down with the falling floors and roof were carried a number of workmen some of whom were crushed to death in the ruins. There was a loud rumble and a cloud of dust as the building caved in, and then from the ruins of mortar, masonry and girders came the cries of injured workmen. There was a crowd of rescuers on hand in less than three minutes, and two minutes later one of the buried workmen was carried out dead. He proved to be a laborer named John Burke. Close beside him in the ruins was found Charles Smith, an electrician. He was badly mangled, and died in an ambulance on the way to St. Vincent's Hospital.

Countess Cowley Sued For Slander.

London, Aug. 8.—An action for damages for slander, which commenced before Justice Hawkins in the High Court of Justice this morning, is exciting comment in society circles. Mrs. Jacoby, wife of the brother of Mr. J. A. Jacoby, M.P. for the Middle District of Derbyshire, asks the court to award her damages against Countess Cowley, wife of the Earl of Cowley, who is alleged to have charged that Mrs. Jacoby was the writer of a letter that was circulated in 1893 in the Badminton District, the best known hunting district in the west of England.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. The Rev. C. Sydney, Goodman, M.A. C., Rector in charge of West Mono, Orangeville, Ont., says of Professor Chamberlain:—

Some three years ago, when in Manitoba, Prof. Chamberlain, the Eye Specialist, arranged a very nice pair of eye-glasses for me, which gave and continue, to give every satisfaction. Personally, I know that his skill was in great demand during his visits to the Northwest and brought comfort and relief to many. The sufferer from any weakness, failure or obliqueness of vision should without fail go and see him. He has made the eye his special study and is without doubt, a gifted EYE SPECIALIST.

His glasses are excellent, his courtesy unfailing and his prices moderate. I wish him every success and patronage.

CHINESE ATROCITIES.

Story of an Eye-Witness of the Fanatics' Attack.

ALL FOREIGNERS ARE IN DANGER

Mabel Hartford's Description of the Looting and Murder—Her Own Life Saved By a Servant—The Attack on the Canadian Methodist Mission.

New York, Aug. 10.—Rev. A.B. Leonard, D.D., corresponding secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Church Missionary Society, said this afternoon regarding the recent Chinese outrages:

"The cablegrams which I have received during the last few days fully confirm the published reports of mob violence in China. From them I judge that the Americans there think our Government is lax in demanding protection for our citizens in China from that nation.

"I notice that the English citizens in Hong Kong held an indignation meeting at which severe things were said concerning England's apparent unconcern. It seems to me England and America must do something more than simply demand indemnity for property destroyed. That policy has been pursued ever since missions were established there. People have been killed, property has been destroyed, time and again, yet China has gotten off by paying indemnities and without giving any guarantee for the security of life.

"If the Chinese Government is not able to protect foreigners it is time it is known and understood and then foreign governments themselves should take a hand in the matter of protection.

"We have treaty relations with China, and in the treaty a guarantee of protection. Our missionaries go to China with the assurance that they will not be left to the mercy of the mobs, and the failure of our Government to make good the pledge of protection simply lures our people to death. If the officials at Washington do not intend to enforce the requirements of the treaty it should be abrogated and notice given that whoever goes to China goes at his own peril.

"Personally I think it would be greatly to the advantage of the civilization of the East if the Chinese Empire fell to pieces. That would admit of a reorganization under foreign influences that would open up the country as nothing else could. China must have not only the gospel, but all that belongs to gospel civilization, including public schools, railroads and all modern implements of agriculture."

Rev. F. F. Ellinwood, D.D., secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, said to a reporter this afternoon: "When any of our missionaries have been killed by a mob we are sure to be notified by cable at the earliest possible moment. Since none have arrived we feel assured no such disaster has befollen our missionaries. It seems to us that our Government, as well as Great Britain, should take hold of this in earnest and secure treaty stipulations which should be carried out in earnest. Our only security lies in the punishment, not only of the actual murderers, but of the officials also who have connived at the outbreaks and are in reality more responsible."

Acting Secretary Adee has received from United States Consul-General Jernigan at Shanghai a despatch dated July 12, enclosing four letters received by him from missionaries giving in great detail accounts of events in China leading up to the riots against the missionaries at Cheng Tu, in the province of Szechuen. One of these, from Spencer Lenir, very comprehensive in scope, dated Chung King, China, says that the West China mission of the Methodist Episcopa Church is the only American Mission represented at Cheng Tu. The Americans there were the Rev. Olin Cody and wife, H. L. Cartwright, M.D., and wife and two children and Rev. J. A. Peat and wife and two children. This mission owned but one piece of property in Cheng Tu on which was a Chinese building fitted for the residence of two families, a Chinese building used as a chapel, a dispensary and minor structures. Mr. Lenir says that substantially all these are gone, even the paving stones being carried out of the courts. The total loss, exclusive of personal losses, is about 6000 taels.

Mr. Lenir describes the various attacks made on the premises of the Canadian Methodist Mission. The two physicians in charge of the hospital and chapel, which were afterwards looted and burned, kept the mob at bay, but the officials would give no assistance, although several of them were quite near.

Late that evening, May 23, the members of the American Methodist Mission sought refuge in the district magistrate's yemen, but were refused and told they would be protected if they returned home. Relying upon this promise they were entirely unprepared for the mob, which soon visited them, and had barely time to escape. Operations were renewed by the mob at daybreak ntxe day, and before noon the attack was general on all the Catholic and Protestant mission places.

The American Methodists, from their hiding places in an attic only six feet away, watched the mob for twelve hours plundering their houses.

Some of the 10,000 soldiers of the province assisted in the looting and dug up a number of bones which they took to the district magistrate's yamen, representing them to be the bones of babies which the foreigners had eaten. Lenir makes serious charges against the Viceroy, Cheo Tacti, claiming that as he had been degraded and was soon to be recalled, he was bent on giving a parting hit, both at the foreigners, whom he hated, and the Government. When the flames burst forth from the Roman Catholic Bishop's residence, scarcely a stone's throw from the Viceroy's yamen, the Viceroy remarked, according to Mr. Lenir, "that this was a matter for his successor to attend to," and he states that only after everything was quietly destroyed did the Viceroy make efforts to restore order, in the meantime having sent out telegrams that a mutilated child had been found at a foreigner's place, with a result that nearly all the natives believed the story.

Mr. Lenir demands the punishment of hostile officials. He encloses copies of the inflammatory placards that were posted everywhere, charging that the foreigners were kidnapping children and using oil from their bodies.

MABEL HARTFORD'S STATEMENT.

A Chinese Assassin Attacked Her With a Spear, But a Loyal Servant Saved Her.

Foochow, China, Aug. 9.—Miss Mabel C. Hartford, the only American at Hwasang at the time of the massacre, makes the following statement:

"Aug. 1, at 7.30 a.m., I heard shouts. They were the yells of servants, who rushed in shouting to me to get up, for the Vegetarians were coming, tearing down the houses on the hill belonging to the English Mission.

"A few minutes later a teacher came to my door and told me to run.

"I put on my clothes and rushed to the door.

"I was met by a man with a trident spear, who yelled:

"'Here is a foreign woman.'

"He pointed the spear at my chest. I twisted it to one side and it just grazed my ear and head.

"He threw me to the ground and beat me with the wooden end of the spear.

"A servant came and wrenched the spear away, then told me to run.

"I jumped down the embankment and ran along the road. A servant came and pulled me along until I got up on the side of the hill. I then lay down to get more breath.

"After resting twice I reached a secluded spot and lay there.

"All this time the yells went on and two houses were burning to the ground.

"After a while the yells stopped. I supposed the Vegetarians had gone away. A servant went to see how matters were. He returned in half an hour, telling me to come home, that five ladies of the English Mission had been killed and some had been wounded, but that my house—a rented native house—had not been troubled at all.

"I went home to find Miss Codrington much cut about the head and beaten all over; Mildred Stewart, 12 years old, with knee cut and bleeding very hard; Herbert Stewart, 6 years old, cut on the head and almost dead; Baby Stewart, with one eye black and swollen; the second Stewart girl, 11 years old, with the second boy, Evan, 3 years old, were beaten and pierced with a spear, but not seriously injured. The boy vomited all day, but we thought it was from fright.

"Mr. Phillips of the English Mission, who lived in a native house, some distance away, escaped all injury, only arriving in time to see the bodies of the dead and hear the Vegetarians say:

"'We have killed all the foreigners.'

"At first we heard that some foreigners had escaped and were in hiding, but Mr. Stewart did not come, and we feared the worst.

"Mr. Phillips went to the ruins and found eight bodies; five not burned, and three burned so as not to be recognizable.

"Dr. Gregory arrived at dark and dressed the wounds of the patients.

"Coffins were made and the bodies were put in them. The bones of the burned were put in boxes.

"Another burned body was found, making nine grown people massacred—R. J. Stewart and his wife, a nurse from Ireland, called Lena, Nellie Saunders, Topsy Saunders of Australia, who lived in the upper house, called the Stewart house; Hessie Newcombe, of Ireland; Elsie Marshall and Lucy Stewart of England, and Annie Gordon of Australia.

"The first four were burned beyond recognition.

"Topsy ran out of the house and was killed outside.

"Hessie was thrown down the embankment with her head nearly severed from her shoulders.

"Annie Gordon's head also was nearly cut off.

"The bodies were put in coffins and we left Hwasang for Suikow about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, Aug. 2.

"Herbert died about three hours later, just below Colong. We took the body in a chair and had a coffin made for it at Suikow.

"We reached Suikow about 8 a.m., Saturday, and telegraphed to Foochow for a steam launch. We left Suikow in native boats at 3 p.m. and on Sunday morning we met a steam launch going toward Suikow taking soldiers. We engaged it to tow us to Foochow.

"Soon afterwards we met the rescuing party in a launch.

"The party consisted of the United States Marshal and two English missionaries bringing full supplies for the sufferers.

"When I was thrown down my teacher's wife called on some Hwasang men around to save me. There were four men there to only one Vegetarian, but they would not help me. She came and tried to pull me away, as he was beating me. The Vegetarian kicked her.

"When the Vegetarian who beat me started down the hill to come to our house three others were with him, but these ran off after some Chinamen, so I escaped with only one persecutor.

"There were about 50 Vegetarians, but I only saw one, the man who attacked me, who shouted:

"'Here is a foreign woman.'

"He had a trident spear. Some had swords.

"There was at least one gun, for I heard it fired off. The natives say there were more.

"Uong, the Kucheng magistrate, came to Hwasang Friday afternoon, Aug. 2, with 100 soldiers. He viewed the bodies, saw the injured, inquired the names of all, the places of the injuries and made out an account. He did what he could to help us get off to Suikow."

Weak, Tired, Nervous

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

PRISON LABOUR.

Every now and then in this country an outcry is raised by the workingmen against having to compete in the markets against prison-made goods. The same outcry is often heard in the States, and in England just now the same question is agitating those interested in the matter. The problem is a difficult one to solve. In the interests of the physical and moral welfare of the prisoners themselves it is necessary that they should be made work. It is also only right that they should be made to contribute by their labour to the expense entailed in their keep. To maintain them in their idleness or in unproductive labour, such as picking oakum or in the tread-mill, would have a demoralising effect on the prisoners, and leave the whole expense of their keep to fall upon the community. Of course, under certain circumstances, they might be employed in making colonisation roads, reclaiming swamp lands, etc., but even then they would be working in competition with unskilled labour, the most crowded kind of labour in the market. As the Belleville Sun points out, it is only right that those serving sentences in our jails and penitentiaries should help maintain themselves. But some go farther even than that, and maintain that not only should they do so, but that part of their earnings should go to keep those who were depending upon them for sustenance previous to their confinement. Cases occur every day where men are sentenced to months' or years' imprisonment for some wrong-doing and no provision is made for the care or support of their wives and families during their incarceration, the innocent thus often suffering more severely than the guilty. Were these men put to some remunerative labour and a portion of their earnings handed over weekly to their wives or other dependents we would hear less of this cry about prison labour competition. Were this done the prisoners would have an incentive to work, not only so, but the matter could be regulated so as to put the prisoners on their good behaviour. Infractions of prison rules could be punished by a portion of their earning being kept from their families in addition to the present punishment meted out to them. Then, if this plan were adopted, what a relief it would be to the men's wives and families. Want and starvation that often stare such in the face would be avoided and much suffering and misery alleviated. This question is worth the earnest consideration of our prison reform friends.

It is said that as a result of the recent examinations 2,600 teachers have been qualified for service and are looking for appointments. The profession is being overcrowded and with the usual consequence.

As a result of a quarrel among the coal producers it is said coal will be presently selling at $2 a ton. Hallelujah! When it is remembered that these coal barons have for years, by rings and combines and monopolies, made the people pay $2 per ton too much for their fuel, anything, even a war among them, will be hailed as a blessing in disguise.

THE latest globe-circling enterprise is that of a cripple who is trying to wheel himself around in a chair. There are infinite possibilities in the idea. Next some one will try to hop around the world on one foot, to crawl around on all fours, to wriggle around snake-fashion, to walk around on his hands. Circling the globe nowadays is too easy without artificial hindrances.

THE Dominion Government could only appropriate $80,000 for the purpose of drilling the volunteer militia, this year, but they could grant $100,000 per year as an additional subsidy to the C.P.R. mail service. The officers of the battalion may have to float their notes to defray the expenses of the Picton trip, on account of the reduction in the appropriation, but what cares the Government. The course pursued by the Government in connection with the volunteers is anything but creditable. Our volunteers deserve better treatment at the hands of the country, and they will get it after the next election.

THE recent action of the Dominion Government in making a grant to the C. P. R. is the way of additional "mail subsidy," is being condemned all over the country. Even the Mail and Empire, in whose eyes the Government can do no wrong, denounces the action in the following terms: "It would be well if the details of all proposed contracts and changes were laid before Parliament in future in advance of their ratification, that the House might determine whether in its opinion, we are having too many mail trains, and are paying too high for the service." When the party organ feels compelled to sound a note of warning, things in Governmental circles must be coming to a pretty pass indeed, and the abuse of their prerogative may cost the Cabinet dear.

THE Globe says: There are ten vacancies in the Senate, one of which occurred nearly six years ago, others in 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894, and the most recent in January, 1895. The Premier told Mr. McNeill, M.P., that these had "long since been promised," and it is well known that several members of Parliament were among the chosen. But none of them had big enough majorities to satisfy this prudent administration. Another vacancy occurred only a few days ago by the death of Senator Burns, and though this was not one of the "long promised," it was considered that at last the golden opportunity for a bye-election had occurred. The position could be given to Mr. Josiah Wood, M. P., who had absolutely the largest majority obtained by any candidate in the last general election, 2,148. The writs are issued with a promptness that will put heart into the Conservative party from one end of the Dominion to the other. With a majority of 2,148 to begin with, the Government think they have a fighting chance, and if they win there they may pluck up courage to fill some of the "long promised" vacancies in the Senate.

THE discoverers of the new element of the air, argon, have been rewarded in a substantial way by the Smithsonian Institution at Washington. The first grand Hodgkins prize of the value of $10,000 has been awarded to Lord Rayleigh and Prof. Ramsey of London. The fund from which this prize comes was given in 1891 by Thos. G. Hodgkins of Setauket. The donor specified that part of the income should be devoted to the diffusion of knowledge in regard to the properties of the air. Lord Rayleigh was engaged for many years in experiments before he was certain that he had discovered a new substance. The circumstance that most strongly suggested one to him was that nitrogen isolated from the air was always heavier than that obtained from chemical combination. Prof. Ramsey made the discovery at about the same time and independently of Lord Rayleigh. This coincidence was similar to the simultaneous discoveries of Darwin and Alfred R. Wallace in regard to the origin of species.

CITIZEN writes to our evening contemporary complaining that the EXAMINER published a clipping from the Brantford Expositor in connection with the Trent Valley Canal without expressing an opinion upon it. "Citizen" should remember that the EXAMINER is a newspaper not afraid to publish its own opinions upon general subjects (as he is fully aware) nor to give publicity to the views of others. As with most Conservatives a very tender spot is touched when the course of the Government in connection with the T. V. C. is referred to. The policy of the Government in connection with this work, as with all other public works undertaken by them in latter years, is disgraceful to Canada. Time will tell the "great" advantage to Peterborough this work will be after the money spent in building has been exhausted. Citizen being apparently so anxious about the canal should use his influence with the Government to commence the work before they change their mind. If work does not very soon start in earnest the officials will again gobble the whole of the appropriations. There are a good many people in Peterborough who are enjoying the benefits of the expenditures from time to time that are not over anxious about the actual work being undertaken. Their snap might cease. If the policy of the party is to build the canal, why do they not do it? once completed it will tell its own tale.

"Mamma, was that a sugar-plum you just gave me?" asked little Mabie. "No, dear, it was one of Dr. Ayer's Pills." "Please may I have another?" "Not now dear; one of those nice pills is all you need at present, because every dose is effective."

Mr. and Mrs H. R. Patterson, of Campbellford, spent a few days in the village last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Chilcott, of Brockwayville, Pa., were in the village last week visiting friends.

Mr. Lumsden, of Lindsay, is visiting friends here.

Mr. F. W. Tanner, of the Globe staff, Toronto, is spending his holidays in the village visiting his mother.

Mr. Charles, of Clarin, is in the village, called here owing to the death of his mother.

Mr. S. Nelson has returned from his trip to Montreal.

Miss Kate Wade, of Peterborough, is visiting friends here.

Miss McArthur and Miss Braden, of Rochester, N.Y., who have been spending their holidays at "Viamedi," Mt. Julian, returned home last week.

Mr. Wilson Fenton, wife and child, and Mr. J. H. Domell, wife and three children, of Toronto, passed through Lakefield on Saturday to "Viamedi" cottage, where they will spend their vacation.

The high standing that has been obtained at the Lakefield public schools at the recent Entrance and Public School Leaving Examinations held here, reflects great credit on the efficient staff of teachers. Out of 37 writing at the examinations 36 passed, which is a very high standing.

The annual excursion of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be held at Sandy Point on Tuesday, Aug. 20th, per steamer Golden City. All are invited.

R. Graham & Son are offering extra inducements during August in order to clear out the balance of their summer stock. Campers supplies carefully put up. They keep only a clean stock of the best groceries, canned goods, etc.

The Golden City, the popular passenger steamer, is doing a large carrying trade of passengers, although the wet and cold weather of last week kept back the traffic to a certain extent. The large traffic usually comes in August for which they are fully prepared, and passengers taking the Stony lake route by way of the Golden City will find it all that could be desired the capt and crew doing all they can for the comfort and convenience of their passengers.

A special meeting of the council was held on Monday evening to take into consideration the advisability of memorializing the government, or sending a deputation down to Ottawa to have the present route of the canal changed from the west side of the river to the mill race. All the councillors were present, Reeve Casement in the chair. A large number of ratepayers were present, and from the applause which followed the remarks of the speakers, showed that the majority of those present were in favour of adhering to the present proposed route on the west side of the river.

Reeve Casement opened the meeting by stating the reason of its being called, and invited discussion on the matter. Messrs. Lebister, Graham, Montgomery and others expressed themselves as opposed to the chang of route for a number of reasons. First, that not being practical engineers they were were not capable of forming a judgment as to the best route. The engineers had made three or four surveys and the Government considered the rate chosen the most feasible, and how could we, without having the data before us, say that it was not the best route. Another reason was the going down the mill race would take down all the mills and factories on the raceway, and instead of doing away with our industries, no matter how small, we should encourage more to come and hold on to what we had, for a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush. They thought the council should look more closely after the interests of Lakefield and the working men, for if the mill property were bought it would mean that so much less money would be spent on construction here to the detriment of the workingman and that any money paid for the mill property would go to Peterborough, while the money spent on the right of way on the other side of the river would be spent in rebuilding and would give work to our mechanics, as well as the labouring men. Messrs. Lillicrap, Griffin, Kidd, Strickland and Hibbard advocated the mill race, as it would give better water power than we have at present. Mr. Galvin and others advocated the present route. After a two hour's discussion to test the feelings of the meeting, it was moved by Mr. T. D. Bell and Mr. R. C. Strickland, that we memoralize the Government to change the route to the mill race. On being put, it was declared lost. The council then decided to have the reeve make enquiries from the Minister of Railways and Canals as to how it would effect the mills and factories along the raceway. If they would be taken down when would they be rebuilt? The Government might have the power, but who would put up the buildings. Better keep what buildings we have and have the canal if it is going on, go through as at present, without destroying the most valuable of our industries.

THE BRESLAU MURDER CASE.

Scratches on the Prisoner's Face Examined by Physicians—Provincial Detective Greer Working Up the Evidence.

Berlin, Ont., ug. 9.—Detective Greer of Toronto arrived in Berlin Thursday evening to prosecute the inquiry into the Breslau murder mystery. With Detective Klippert he set out to-day for the scene of the tragedy, and it is expected will spend several weeks in that locality on the case. The prisoner has retained a Guelph lawyer, Mr. J. Mowat, for his defence. Mr. Mowat worked up the defence in the Reinhardt stabbing case at New Hamburg some years ago.

The County Crown Attorney received the following communication Thursday:

Guelph, Ont., Aug. 8th, 1895.

Dear Sir,—Would you kindly allow Dr. Minchin to see the prisoner for the purpose of examining the scratches on his face. This request is on behalf of the prisoner, as his counsel. Yours truly,

J. A. MOWAT.

Crown Attorney Bowlby gave an order to the jailer to admit six physicians to examine the prisoner. At 10 o'clock this morning the following physicians examined the prisoner, viz., Dr D. D. Bowlby, Dr. Lackner, Dr. Webb, Dr. Clemes and Dr. G. H. Bowlby, on behalf of the Crown, and Dr. Minchin on the prisoner's behalf.

Mr. A. Jeanneret of Elmira, a brother of the victim, arrived in Berlin Thursday morning and proceeded to Mr. Hagey's to hear from the family's lips the story of the crime. He went over the ground, visiting the spot where his brother's remains were found.

Mr. Jeanneret and his deceased brother came to Canada from Switzerland some 17 years ago. The murdered man was 16 years his elder, and would have been 50 years old in December. Speaking of his brother he said he was of a kind disposition and the last man in the world to seek a quarrel.

There are five sisters and a brother in the Old Country, both parents being dead, and there were bue the two brothers in America.

ROTTEN EGGED THE AUDIENCE

Serious Riots in Slavonia Owing to an Objectionable Performance.

Vienna, Aug. 10.—Serious riots have occurred during the past few days at Esseg, the chief town of Slavonia, the Slav inhabitants of the town wishing to stop the performances of a company of Hungarian actors. Last evening a mob attacked the audience as the latter were leaving the theatre and pelted them with rotten eggs and fruit. The authorities then called on the militia for assistance in restoring order, the police being unequal to the task. The troops were promptly sent to the scene of the rioting and orders were given for the mob to disperse. No attention was paid to the orders, and the military then charged the rioters with fixed bayonets. Several of the mob were wounded. Some of the ringleaders were arrested.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-known Peterborough Lady.

Peterborough, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

No Other Remedy.

No other remedy cures summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, etc., so promptly and quiets pain so quickly as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a pocket doctor for tourists, travellers etc.

Relief in Six Hours.

Distressing Kidney and Bladder disease relieved in six hours by the "GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN KIDNEY CURE." This new remedy is a great surprise on account of its exceeding promptness in relieving pain in the bladder, kidneys and back. If you want quick relief and cure this is your remedy. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Scott's Sarsaparilla

A CURE Inflammatory Rheumatism is produced by an excess of uric acid in the blood. Paralysis is usually a dead clot—a thrombus produced by impure and impoverished blood. So-called neuralgia of the thigh is sciatic rheumatism; scrofulous rheumatism is hereditary; syphilitic results from syphilis; gout is caused by high living; sluggish circulation affects the heart.

"THE KIND THAT CURES"

Thus the whole line of rheumatic diseases owe their being to an affected circulation of impure blood. No person can suffer a rheumatic pain that has a free and equal circulation of pure blood, and this accounts for Scott's Sarsaparilla curing the supposed incurable cases. It eradicates all rheumatic poisons and acids from the blood and equalizes the circulation.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810.

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

A Suggestion to the Band.

The Fire Brigade Band, having no engagement on Civic Holiday, it would be indeed a treat to those of our citizens who remain in town if they could be induced to give an open air concert in Court House Park on the afternoon of that day.

On Wednesday evening next, the Fire Brigade Band will give an open air concert to the public on Little Lake, on board the Rob Roy. The concert given a few evenings ago was thoroughly enjoyed by those who were fortunate in being on or near the lake at the time, and no doubt a large gathering will be present on Wednesday evening.

Two Handsome Tents.

J. J. Turner & Sons have just manufactured two very fine tents, which are erected on the lots south of the Custom House for inspection. One tent is made for a gentleman in town, and is to be used as a dining tent, size 12x22, high walls. The other is 50 feet in diameter with 8 foot walls, for a gentleman in Guelph, where it will be shipped on Monday. These tents are a fine specimen of the work turned out by this firm and are worthy of inspection.

Those Seats in Inverlea Park.

Last evening during the progress of the band concert a number of the benches in Inverlea Park were occupied by young men, who allowed the ladies present to stand in groups around the grounds. In connection with this it might be stated for the benefit of those who attend the park, especially young men, that the ladies should be allowed to occupy the seats. Last night several young men were hustled off a bench by Officer McGinty, and several ladies, who stood directly in front of them for some time, were directed to the seat.

Wise Old Fellow.

A good tea at any price suited him. He always shut his eyes to the price. He was wiser than some people who imagine if they do not pay a big figure they cannot get good goods. There are exceptions to all rules. The exception at the present time is a regular forty cent tea for the low price of twenty-five cents. Osh-k-osh is the name. Big sales and steady sales tell it is a good tea. Remember we are selling this 40c. tea for twenty-five cents. 370 George street, Peterborough. Stroud Bros., direct importers. Pete's Popularity.

Pete Simons, tailor, has evidently acquired a continental reputation in turning out first-class work in his tailoring establishment. He has received several large orders from Beavermouth, B.C., Keewatin, N. W.T., and Wahnapitae, and nearly all have been filled. Beside these, the advance agents of Sells Brothers' Circus, who evidently know a good thing when they see it, gave the firm a large order for several first-class suits and overcoats. Pete's work can be seen in all parts of the continent, and is giving good satisfaction as well, and he will not be satisfied until he gets an order to clothe the nation, and he will be able to do it.

Get on the Right Track.

Be sure you take the C.P.R. for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, on the Foresters Civic Holiday excursion. Start evening previous if you like. Your ticket gives you a luxurious ride on the C. P. R. to Toronto and back ; takes you twice across Lake Ontario to Niagara Falls or Lewiston ; twice over the open electric cars, which carries you through the grandest scenery in the world ; and enables you to witness the two last days of the great Buffalo races.

LAST NIGHT'S BAND CONCERT.

An Enjoyable Evening Spent at Inverlea Park.

Last evening Inverlea Park was crowded with citizens to listen to the excellent programme provided by Bandmaster Miller, and also to witness the stereopticon views exhibited by Mr. Roy in the interests of Court Little John, C.O.F. excursion on Civic Holiday. The programme, as rendered by the band, was a choice one, and included two of Sousa's popular marches, which seem to catch the public taste.

Mr. Roy's views were thrown on a huge canvas from the band stand, and included excellent views of places of interest in and about Toronto and Niagara Falls, as well as several humorous views. The large gathering present seemed to appreciate the varied programme.

HOLBROOK IS INSANE

And is Committed to the County Gaol for Safe Keeping.

County Police Magistrate Edmison and R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, were in Havelock yesterday, when old man Holdbrook was tried for assault. Mr. Edmison arranged with Mr. Wood and the local magistrates to deal with the matter. The case was abandoned, and Mr. Woods found on the evidence submitted that the unfortunate old man was insane, and he was therefore committed to gaol as a dangerous lunatic.

Summer Comes

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her nicest to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the stinging, aching corns will remove every semblance or comfort, make sad the songs of the birds, and evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine cannot dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in twenty-four hours.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

XXV.

"THINK ON THESE THINGS."

I heard of, and became interested in, "Merrie England" through this column, and like others who have read the book, I am full of admiration for its keen wit and logical force, its wealth of illustration, and its noble fire and pathos. The author's style makes every chapter lively reading even for those not especially interested in economic questions. "Economic questions" sounds very musty and severely learned; but readers, learned and unlearned, will find treated in "Merrie England" matters which deeply concern them—with which they are in daily touch, and in relation to which they must hourly act. Therefore, this is a book for all men and women, who are not wholly self-absorbed.

Personally I was surprised to find myself in familiar fields; for Blatchford, both in respect of ideas and style, has plainly been very largely inspired by Carlyle and Ruskin. We can have some conception of the advance socialist ideas have made, even during the last thirty years, and of with our present system, when we remember that in 1864 Ruskin's economic articles (now collected in "Unto this Last") in Cornhill magazine had to be withdrawn by the friendly Thackeray, the then editor; so bitter was the outcry. Now it is a text book of the new Gospel of Industry.

We in Peterborough cannot, unless by the strongest effort of the sympathetic imagination, form any idea of the appalling and heartrending crime and misery induced in the great industrial centres of Great Britain by the unrestrained operation of "competition" and the fierce and merciless struggle of the moneyed classes for wealth. Here is the language of one who has spent his life for the people, of one who saw with his own eyes the wreckage of society: "The peace which I am in at present is only as if I had buried myself in a tuft of grass in a battle field wet with blood, for the cry of the earth about me is in my ears continually, if I do not lay my head to the very ground." Blatchford, who, unlike this writer, himself endured in his childhood

THE EXTREMES OF POVERTY.

(he has picked bottles off ashpits to buy a penny-worth of coal) speaks with the strong convincing language, and the righteous indignation, of one who sees and knows the miseries he describes.

For a long time economic teaching and practical business life have been such that even men kind and generous at heart will bury from their sight the grossest acts of injustice and selfishness under the thought, "it is a matter of business." Men, who would not wilfully hurt the feelings of a child, help to destroy hundreds of children "by way of business." And when they occasionally realize what "the way of business" is doing for their fellow creatures, they quiet conscience by regarding all the wretchedness as the inevitable outcome of the laws that of necessity govern commercial life. All praise then to those men of our century, who have spent themselves in preaching a higher gospel, and who are gradually convincing us that what we have been impiously calling the laws of God are in part sheer lawlessness and in part a code framed together by generations of men filled with unholy greed and cruel contempt of human rights. The main evil is not the actual law, but that we have stood aside and allowed all freedom to work their will in society. We are beginning to believe now that we can and ought to govern and restrain, and that the individual must be subordinated to society.

"What can we do," you ask. We certainly cannot conform to the ideal standard of social life, things being as they are. And we cannot harshly blame individuals; a merchant must in many ways conform to prevailing methods or go. But we must have large-souled men, men ready to suffer. The better state of things can be ushered in only, as it were, by the "blood of martyrs." And the cause of social reform has had its martyrs, men who have endured the scorn of their generation when they might have had wealth and honour. Indeed, the evils are becoming so gigantic and so threatening, and the remedy is becoming so definite and so well-approved, that it is now almost a matter of character which side we take. It is a question between a pagan view of life and a Christian view of life; a question whether Christ shall be in the market place or only in our cathedral windows.

We are not outside of all this. These evils are as our population and industrial activity increase. It is not the part of brave and patriotic men and women to enclose themselves in their little walled gardens of peace, forgetful that "outside . . the wild grass to the horizon is torn up by the agony of men, and beaten level by the drift of their life blood." The human race is one, a body of which we severally are the members. Hawthorne somewhere says that it is contrary to the etiquette of the Universe to sit down to luxuries at the same table with those who are denied a share. While there is any want or misery within the reach of our aid, it is contrary to all Christian etiquette to indulge in luxuries, which are not an outgoing benefit to others. For the present, I affirm boldly, no Christian man has any business with luxury. He at least dare not deny that his table is the table of mankind.

There are two things that every man and woman can easily do to help on a better state of society, and as a witness and a protest against commercial greed and tyranny. These are: (1) Refuse to buy those unnecessary articles which in their production put men to disgusting, monotonous or dangerous labour, and buy in preference all articles which give men pleasant, healthful and safe labour. Some work is necessarily degrading to men; some is too dangerous to be asked. Few ladies will now trim their hats with dead birds; let them apply like principles to all their purchases. King David, parched with thirst, spilled the water brought at the risk of life by his followers, and shall we, after eighteen centuries of Christianity, be less humane? (2) Refuse to buy articles that are "so cheap." Do you know what that cheapness means? A lady friend wrote me some time ago: "I am in a state of indignation at something I heard of Y's starvation wages to women who sew there. I was told by someone who applied to him for work that he pays 75c. for ladies' blouses and $1, a dozen for shirts. The blouses are made complete for that, button-holes and everything else; but the finishing touches to the shirts are extra. If I employed a dress-maker to make me such a waist, I should think a dollar a reasonable charge * * * * These girls are paid between six and seven cents. Think of it! * * * * To exist they at least a day, and no one could possibly make that number properly." That is what cheapness means—and much worse than that. There is a just price for everything independent of the competition price. Of course, we cannot live up to this ideal under present circumstances; but we need not rush after every rogue who cries "bargains." There is a tremendous amount of adulteration, and other roguery, and a vast army of half-paid men and women, just because we won't pay a just price for our merchandise.

All these things are discussed (and much else), and all difficulties met and questions answered with unusual clearness and brilliancy in "Merrie England." Of course, without mature consideration, we cannot form opinions in detail with regard to what the author propounds. But most of us will, I think, be carried along with this enthusiastic socialist, as he depicts "darkest England," and shows us his way out.

Let religious consolers say what they will, hunger, nakedness, and houselessness are, after all, the chief miseries of mankind, and the chief sources of immorality and crime. For no affection, religion or mental life or any kind of pleasure is possible to those whose existence is a deadly struggle with the wolf at the door. At the same time, granted a competence, it is well to remember

"How small of all that human hearts endure
That part which laws or Kings can cause or cure."

Vacation Time

Is at hand and is gladly welcomed by all, especially those whose duties in life have caused them to greatly run down their system to meet the requirements, physical and mental, forced upon them. With these and others, it is important, whether at home, at the seashore or in the country, that some thought be given to diet, and as further assistance to nature, a good building-up medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla had best be resorted to. If the digestion is poor, liver deranged and frequent headaches seem to be the rule, Hood's will change all this and enable everyone to return to their home and business in a refreshed state of mind and bodily health.

LACROSSE.

A scratch team of the Athletics and about 250 of their friends left on the City of Peterborough yesterday morning for Cobourg. The trip down was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the town of Cobourg was reached in good time.

About 600 people gathered in Dundurn Park in the afternoon to witness the game, and when the Peterborough team, composed almost entirely of juniors, appeared on the field they noticed that the Ontarios of Port Hope, who play the part of "everybody's dog," had been imported for the game. Crowhurst, J. and L. White, Burt, Richardson, Coleman and Sullivan had gone down for the game, and they surely felt small when they learned that they had only to play a junior team from Peterborough.

But it cuts no ice with Port Hope, McNamara, a Peterborough boy now employed in Cobourg, played with Cobourg, and the other four men, Duncan, York, Percy and Bredin, belonged to Cobourg. However, the home boys fought a good fight and held the aggregation down pretty well. They did not go to Cobourg to win, having received a hint that that town intended importing ringers for the occasion, but at the same time they put up a splendid exhibition of the game.

Peterborough was very weak on her home, but her defence showed up well and during the first game honours were evenly divided, and it took Cobourg just 38 minutes to score.

The second game was somewhat the same as the first, but the Athletics were playing in hard luck and failed to make an impression on the Cobourg goals. Finally Cobourg scored.

The third game was a surprise for the Cobourgs. It was taken by McMahon for the Athletics in less than a minute.

Cobourg then captured the fourth and last game, and the teams left the field.

The absence of the senior players on the Athletics yesterday is to be regretted. Peterborough can easily defeat Cobourg's aggregation, and if a return match is played the tables will be turned in good order.

As regards the Port Hope ringers it is needless to say anything. They will play whenever hired, even for a boot-leg of lager or the applause of the grand stand.

The following were the teams:

Cobourg.		Athletics.
Crowhurst	goal	Wasson
White	point	Boland
York	cover point	Lynch
Richardson	1st defence	A Brown
Duncan	2nd "	J McDonough
MacNamara	3rd "	Green
Burts	centre	T McDonough
Coleman	3rd home	Rubidge
Sullivan	2nd "	Borland
Pearcey	1st "	Glover
Bredin	outside home	J McDonough
	inside home	McMahon

T Mission, Referee.

Mr. P. J. Doris, late wine clerk in the Pullman House, has accepted a similar position in Eastern Ontario. He will leave Peterborough on Monday, Aug. 19th, to assume his new duties. Mr. Doris was an enthusiastic backer of the Athletic lacrosse club, filling the position of field captain, and his services will be greatly missed. His friends will wish him success in his new home.

The Port Hope Guide in its account of the game between the Peterborough III team and the Port Hope Juniors, says: "In the Athletic Grounds yesterday the Granites, of Peterborough, was defeated by the Beavers a "purely junior" team. The game was a good one, the playing qualities of the two teams being about the same. The first goal was scored after fifty-five minutes hard play, and then when blood was smelt the other three were quickly added. No quarrels marred the good feeling prevailing between the combatants."

The "purely junior" statement is rich and the Port Hopers who witnessed the match and saw Tutton, Crowhurst, Nattrass and Sullivan playing will realize the smallness of a club which will put on such men as these to play against a lot of boys. If the Peterborough Juniors had gone down instead of the Peterborough III most likely they would have been playing against the whole senior team of Port Hope.

BASEBALL.

Auburn baseball club visited Lindsay on Thursday, and succeeded in defeating the team of that town in a scientific game of baseball by a score of 17 to 15. At the beginning of the game the local nine played ragged ball, but after the second innings settled down to work, and some clever individual play was witnessed. The following are the teams and score:—

Peterborough.		Lindsay.
Tighe	2nd base	Andrews
McAuliffe	left field	Burke
McCabe	pitcher	Hamilton
O'Brien	catcher	Clar Andrews
Welsh	1st base	Robinson
Parnell	short stop	Walters
Thompson	right field	Stalker
Kemp	third base	Reeves
Arsenault	centre field	Sinclair

Score by innings—
Auburn.....1 3 0 2 0 0 0 6 5—17
Lindsay.....6 3 0 0 0 0 0 4 2—15

THE WHEEL.

The training at the bicycle track is carried on every evening and the men are getting into fine shape. Peterborough will have a team in all probability in the big road race run off by the Toronto Clubs. Amongst those taking part will be Lord, Evans, Walker, Lush, Ewing, and one or two others. Milt Walker is getting into fine shape for the races on the 15th. The other day he rode a half, unpaced, in 1.10. There is generally a dozen or so riders, at the Driving Park every evening and the track is now in great shape.

CRICKET.

Peterborough cricketers were billited, the Gazette says, to play in Campbellford last Tuesday, but for the second time this year the local club were fooled. On Monday evening word was sent that Peterborough was unable to send a team, and the match had to be cancelled. We think it a little extraordinary that teams should wait until but a few hours before the match to let us know that they cannot come. It would be in better taste to give our team earlier notice.

To this is added the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda, which aid in the digestion of the Oil and increase materially the potency of both. It is a remarkable flesh-producer. STARTLING STORY FROM MONTREAL

Views of a Manitoban on the Course of Events Should Greenway Refuse to Take Action—Activity in the Nova Scotia Coal Mining District.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 10.—A Manitoban now here says that the report of Hon. J. C. Patterson's taking the Manitoba Governorship would not alter in the least the method of solving the school question which is being urged by western Conservatives upon the Federal authorities. "Sir John Schultz or Mr. Patterson," said he, "must both follow the same course. They represent Federal authority. The Privy Council's judgment clearly imposes action of some sort, and no Manitoba Governor can accept a blank refusal to act at all from the Provincial Ministers. He would have to find other advisers. These advisers would maintain the public school system, but make enough concessions to satisfy the minority. The Manitoba Legislature does not meet till next year, but a Conservative Provincial Ministry, with Hugh John Macdonald or some other good man as leader, would be justified in appealing to the people upon their policy. At the same time the Dominion Government would be absolved by the action of the new Manitoba Ministers from holding another session of this Parliament. They could appeal to the country on the day the Manitoba local elections were held. With a reasonable measure of school reform and the support of the Canadian Pacific, both Governments could carry the Prairie Province. This, or something like it, is the only solution of the school question."

Mr. Alex. Budden, vice-president Intercolonial Coal Company, returned to town to-day from a trip to the mines in Westville. He says that, although the total output for the year would probably be below that for 1894, yet just now things were fairly active. The company employs 500 hands, and the amount coming to the workmen alone for the month of July reached $21,000, and the miners are getting nice houses built, live in comparative comfort and are a much better class of men than those engaged in the Pennsylvania and other American mining regions. The wages in the Nova Scotia mines are, it appears, about 14 cents per ton higher than in the coal districts on the other side of the line. Mr. Budden adds that the coal mining industry of the United States is just now in a deplorable condition.

The examination of Jenkins, the alleged firebug, was continued to-day, and he declared that he and the other prisoner Haynes were to get 10 per cent. of the insurance on Boyd, Gillies & Co.'s fire. Haynes had in fact given him a while after the fire $100, the proceeds of a cheque drawn by Mr. Boyd, the absent member of the firm.

STOLE THE JAIL TEAM.

Thieves Break Into a Prison and Steal Pair of Horses.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 10.—This morning two thieves broke into the yard at the State Prison at Wethersfield, by climbing the high fence, and then broke the lock of the stable, 100 yards from where they entered. They took a span of black horses, harnessed them to a surrey wagon and drove around inside the prison walls. They then cut a wire fence, drove across a field of cabbage and out to the main road, running to Middleton and Hartford. Then all trace of them was lost. The team belongs to the State and is worth $600. The theft was committed without being observed by the watchman stationed in a tower on the inside wall of the prison.

Deadly Cancer Cured By B. B. B.

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co:

SIRS,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement, and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and I am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B.B.B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced saved my life. Gratefully yours,

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $30,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. It was usually accompanied with severe pains in the temples, a sense of fullness and tenderness in one eye, a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, hands and feet cold, and sickness at the stomach. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

ITS DISCOVERY KEPT VERY QUIET

Sir Charles Tupper Has No Knowledge of Its Discovery at Deptford—Arrangements For Cold Storage Shipments of Fruit to England.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—The fame of Canada's agricultural advancement has gone abroad. In Jamaica they have started an agricultural association, and the first move of the promoters was to write to friends in the Dominion for pointers as to procedure, scope and utility of such society. A letter from Charles A. Ducet of Kingston, Jamaica, is now in the Department of Trade and Commerce. Secretary Ducet wrote to Mr. Adam Brown, Hamilton, adressing him, as "a friend of Jamaica," to ask what he could do in the way of inducing manufacturers of light agricultural implements, such as would be suitable for Jamaica use to send samples of their machinery to the society, the latter undertaking to give them a fair trial and take orders for the supply of those that should be found suited to the country. The president of the association is the Governor of Jamaica, Sir Henry A. Blake.

The recent stranding of the steamer Mexico in the Strait of Belle Isle, involving the entire loss of ship and cargo, has moved the Underwriters Association of the Montreal Board of Trade to memorialise the Department of Marine on the subject of improved fog signals and telegraphic communication. The association points out that connection might be established with the Island of Belle Isle, which lies at the mouth of the strait, by means of a cable extension of the Signal Service system, which at present terminates at Esquimaux Point. The Department is already aware of the defective nature of the fog signals at Belle Isle, and has directed that steps be taken to improve them. The matter of an extension of the Signal Service is one for future consideration, as there are several routes to choose from.

F. M. Carpenter, M.P., and President M. Pettit of the Fruit Growers' Association were here to-day to see the officials of the Agricultural Department in reference to the plan of cold storage shipments of fruit to England. Mr. Pettit, who belongs to Winona, Ont., is one of the most extensive fruit growers of that district, and promises to have a large consignment ready for forwarding to England by the first steamer fitted with cold storage accommodation.

A cable was received to-day from the High Commissioner in London, in reply to Government enquiries as to the alleged discovery of pleuro-pneumonia among Canadian cattle slaughtered at Deptford, Eng. Sir Charles says that he has no information to communicate beyond the fact that the steamer Huronia landed a cargo of cattle there on July 10. The only information as to the alleged discovery of disease is that contained in newspaper reports. Meantime the department here is making every endeavor to discover whence the cattle weres shipped and the parties from whom they were purchased in this country. The supposition is, however, that the disease in question is not pleuro-pneumonia at all, but the common cattle ailment known as corn stalk disease.

Whatever may be the report of the Provincial Commission upon the state of the Separate scools in this city, the Christian Brothers who have been their teachers, are not standing upon the order of their going. Following their dismissal from St. Patrick's School, comes the information that the staff of the only other English Separate school in the city, St. Bridget's, are to leave also. There was a meeting of the Separate School Board tonight, at which a leter was read from Bro. Edward of Toronto, visitor of the Order in this province, notifying the trustees that the Christian Brothers of St. Bridget's are going to withdraw. The reason given is about the dismissal of the Brothers from St. Patrick's and, "above all the offensive reasons, inefficiency and incompetency," given therefor by prominent members of the school board.

USED REVOLVERS RESISTING ARREST.

Lively Time at Gananoque Capturing Two Suspected Burglars.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 10.—The Gananoque police, suspecting three persons as implicated in the Taylor robbery, decided to secure them. One was being cornered, when he drew a revolver and sent a bullet through William Toner's hat, a second one was sent after Alex. Ormiston, but Mr. Ormiston collared the youth and handed him over. The other two escaped. The man arrested, when brought before the Magistrate, refused to tell his name or answer questions. He was remanded.

Five Heats to Decide the Match Race at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Aug. 9.—Sensational racing was the order of the day at the Grand Circuit trotting meeting at the Buffalo Driving Park this afternoon, and seldom, if ever, has such fast time been averaged as was on the contests decided. In every race of to-day at least one starter reduced his or her previous records, all the way from 1 to 3 seconds, and in two events the winners thereof twice lowered the marks set opposite their names before the contests just mentioned. Thes two were Sulphite, the unlauded coming champion 2-year-old, and Benzetta. Summaries:

POINTS THE WAY TO PERFECT HEALTH

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE

The Great Health Restorer of the Century.

Sickness Cannot Cope With It—Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record—Cures at the Nerve Centers, and Thus Cures Permanently—A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility—Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but by scientific methods he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health, only when the nerve centers are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centers. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centers, from which comes these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and thus builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centers are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

NEAR THE DARK VALLEY.

A YOUNG GIRL RESCUED FROM AN EARLY GRAVE.

Pale, Listless and Weak, the Victim of a Hacking Cough. She Was Apparently Going Into a Rapid Decline—A Case of Deep Interest to Every Mother in the Land.

From the Cornwall Standard.

It is now a common thing in this locality to hear people acknowledge the wonderful benefit they have derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and it is not to be wondered at that the druggists find the sale of this remarkable medicine so large and yet constantly increasing. We could give any number of instances of splendid results following the use of Pink Pills, but so many of these are well known to many of our readers as to not need recapitulation. However, now and again a case of more than usual interest arises, and we will give the particulars of one of these for the benefit of the public at large. Some years ago a young girl of 14, a daughter of Mr. Leon Dore, a well known and respected resident of Cornwall, began to show serious symptoms, and caused her mother great anxiety. She was just at the critical period of her life, and medical aid was called in and everything done to help her. But it appeared to be useless, and week after week she continued to grow worse, until it was evident she was fast going into decline. A hacking cough set in, and the poor girl, who was formerly plump and healthy looking, with bright rosy cheeks, began to waste away, and in a few months was merely a shadow of her former self. Her mother had lost about all hope of saving the young girl's life, the doctors being apparently unable to do anything to check the ravages of the mysterious disease. At length the mother's attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she decided to give them a trial. A box was taken, and, as the girl did not show any signs of improvement, her mother was on the point of discontinuing the medicine, when a neighbour persuaded her that a single box was not a fair trial, and induced her to continue the Pills. By the time a second box was completed there was some improvement noticeable and there was joy in that small household, and no more persuasion was needed to continue the treatment. The use of the Pink Pills was then continued for some months, by which time the young girl had completely recovered her health and strength. To-day she is the very picture of health, and the colour in her cheeks is as bright as it was before her illness commenced. To those who saw her during the days of her illness and suffering, her recovery is little short of a miracle. Mrs. Dore freely gave the Standard reporter permission to publish an account of her daughter's illness and recovery. She said she could not find words strong enough to express the gratitude for the miraculous cure this great life-saving medicine had effected in her daughter's case, and she hoped her testimony might be the means of leading others similiarly afflicted to give them a trial.

After writing the above, the reporter again called on Mrs. Dore and read it to her, asking her if it was entirely correct. She replied that she would like to give even stronger expression to her appreciation of this wonderful medicine. She had been suffering from the effect of an attack of la grippe, and the Pink Pills had restored her to health. Her daughter also expressed her gratitude for the extraordinary change this medicine had wrought in her health.

In the case of young girls who are pale or sallow, listless, troubled with a fluttering or palpitation of the heart, weak and easily tired, no time should be lost in taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which will speedily enrich the blood, and bring a glow of rosy health to the cheeks. These pills are a positive cure for all troubles arising from a vitiated condition of the blood or a shattered nervous condition. They are a specific for troubles peculiar to females, correcting suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness.

Manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50. May be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company at either address.

The New Specific Remedy is Being Extensively Used at Ottawa.

Ottawa, July 29.—The marvellous recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, from Bright's disease by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills is still fresh in the memories of Ottawa people, and the remedy is being freely recommended both by druggists and private citizens. The similar wonderful cures of Dr. A. G. McCormick, of Richmond, Quebec, and Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, Manitoba, to say nothing of many others, are generally quoted in favour of the assertion that no remedy of modern times has gone so successfully through a severe trial, and been so efficacious in all cases of kidney trouble. It is also proving itself invaluable in the milder forms of sickness which appear during the summer.

Church Quarrel Leads to Murder.

Buffalo, Aug. 9.—There is a split in the Polish congregation of St. Adalbert's Church, the bulk of the congregation desiring the dismissal of the priest and radical changes in church management. The dispute has been in the nature of a rebellion and there has been intense feeling between those who adhere to the priest and those who are rebelling. This feeling found expression last night, when three of the rebellious members pitched into Martin Janeszewski, an adherent of the priest. Two of them held him while the third, Anthony Wichak, stabbed him several times, and the wounded man now lies at the hospital without possibility of recovery. Wichak and one of his accomplices are under arrest.

QUEEN'S SPEECH PREPARED

Everything in Readiness for Opening of Parliament on Monday.

London, Aug. 9.—Lord Salisbury presided to-day at a meeting at the Foreign Office of all the members of his Cabinet. The Council approved Lord Salisbury's intentions respecting China, which he explained to the Ministers. The Cowley Scandal Case Settled.

London, Aug. 10.—Justice Hawkins, in the High Court of Justice to-day, in the action for slander brought by Mrs. Jacoby against Countess Cowley, strongly advised a settlement of the case. He said that they had started a great scandal. Mrs. Jacoby, he added, had cleared her character by going into the witness box and swearing that she did not write the letters which formed the basis of the suit, and that she did not know their origin. Countess Cowley thereupon stated that she did not write the letters and did not know who did. The case was thereupon settled, but the terms of settlement were not stated.

Twas a Radical Departure.

But the enormous success attending it justified its trial. Only the few in this country could place wine on their tables. It was a luxury. It was very costly. It was beyond the reach of the poor man. The Bordeaux Claret Co. has placed a good, wholesome, healthful wine, which aids in the assimilation and digestion of food, upon the tables of the whole people. $3 and $4 per dozen quarts, this is a bagatelle. Yet the wine is good. It has its age. It has its body. It is as good as that which other dealers ask $8 a dozen. The best judges have approved. And the orders cannot be filled quick enough which are received from all parts of the country. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

NOT HIGH PRICED BUT FAIR PRICED

We're at the end of the first half of our year's business. Its been good, we know it. Buyers know it. The good feeling that comes from a successful trade is the best incentive to a merchant to do better by his customers.

That's the way we feel about it. Our goods are never high priced. Always Fair priced. Frequently low priced. We couldn't live and succeed if all our prices were low. Our prices are always what others call low, but a real low cut down price with us means selling without a profit—except the profit we have in clearing our shelves. The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

THE BRESLAU MURDER

Body of the Victim To Be Exhumed To-Day.

THE FINGER NAILS TO BE SCRAPED

The Object is To See Whether the Scratch on the Prisoner's Face Were Made By Deceased—A Strong Chain of Evidence.

Toronto, Aug. 12. — Government Detective Greer will return to Breslau, County of Waterloo, today, to continue his investigation of the circumstances connected with the murder of the Swiss farm hand Jaenerette near Breslau. The officer is satisfied that the prisoner Kurschinski is the murderer. While the evidence against him is at present weak, there are certain points which tell strongly against him. Two witnesses have been discovered who saw the prisoner going to and returning from the swamp on the afternoon of the murder. Kurschinski denies that he was in the vicinity of the swamp at all on the day in question. Four surgeons who made an examination of the scratches on the prisoner's face are positive that the wounds were inflicted by a man's finger nails. To-day the body of the deceased will be exhumed and the finger nails examined and scraped in the hope that portions of the flesh torn from the murderer's face by the deceased in his struggle for life will be found embedded beneath the nails of the dead man.

Waterloo has never yet witnessed a conviction for murder, let alone a hanging, though there have been many capital crimes committed. Many years ago a Jew pedlar disappeared from a house where he had slept in Waterloo, the belief being that he was murdered and his body disposed of. The family suspected were never placed on trial.

On the 5th of November, 1835, a young man by the name of Ravennes, working for Mr. Weaver, farmer, near Strasburg, who had been away for a short time, returned for his clothes, intending to get work elsewhere. Mr. Weaver was not at home, the only male person about the property being a young lad by the name of Iertz. This boy was in the barn, and whether when Ravennes went to that building, there was any quarrelling or not between the boys was never ascertained, but certain it is Ravennes took a heavy club, which was subsequently found, and smashed Iertz on the right side of the head so heavily that the skull for many inches was in fragments, killing the boy almost instantly. The murderer tried to hide the body of his victim in a heap of chaff in the corner of the floor of the barn, but the bloodstains soon led to its detection. Ravennes attempted to escape, and had made his way down to Harrisburg, but was arrested and brought back, partly admitted to Galt Chief of Police, who had him in charge, the crime. However, he was placed on trial at the Spring Assizes in Berlin, before a Waterloo jury, and though everything was proved except the fact of seeing the blow struck, the jury brought him in "not guilty" and he was released from custody and somewhat "lionized" in the county town, only to leave there to be heard of within a short time from a place in the States, where he had committed further grave crimes, and receiving the punishment they merited.

Again, on the 19th December, 1891, Martin Reinhardt stabbed Michael Haus to the heart at Little Germany. Reinhardt was an old man, had been greatly provoked and something could be said in extenuation of his crime, but the jury before whim he was tried chose to ignore the evidence and the positive facts and declared him "Not guilty."

Chief Justice Armour, who tried the case, was dumfounded when the verdict was returned. "What, not even manslaughter?" he exclaimed, and looked the disgust he felt.

BURGLARS IN NEWMARKET.

Chased By Constables They Jumped Through a Window to Liberty.

Newmarket, Aug. 12.—The H. E. Maddock store was entered by two burglars Friday night by prying up a window in a lower story. They were seen by Mrs. Little, who aroused her husband. Constable Savage was called up, who, after placing men to guard the outside, entered the building. The burglars retreated upstairs, followed by Savage. Finding the officer close on them they rushed to a rear window and leaped to the ground, a distance of about 14 feet, and escaped in the darkness.

SAFE BLOWERS AT BLAIR.

The Burglars Also Held Up the Owner of the Mill

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 11.—At midnight Friday burglars blew open the safe of Dillborn's flour mill at Blair Village.

At the same hour Joseph Hilborn, a son, returned from a drive, saw the mill door open, drove up to it, and was at once covered with revolvers. The robbers got $10 from the young man and $35 from the safe.

Shot For Refusing to Marry.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 11.—While C. McNorton, a mulatto coachman, and Sadie Johnson were standing before a minister in a church Friday night, about to be married, the woman refused to have the ceremony performed. McNorton exclaiming: "Death or marriage," shot the prospective bride in the back as she turned to escape. Her injuries are fatal. McNorton is in jail.

A Twelve-Year-Old Firebug

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—A young boy named Freddie Allan, was arrested at Manotick, County of Carleton, on a charge of incendiarism. He is only 12 years old. The lad last Friday set fire to a barn on the farm he was working on, and 12 tons of hay were destroyed

TO RUIN OUR FARMERS

And Make Them Pay For Their Own Undoing.

INTERCOLONIAL COMPETITION.

The Government Subsidizes Steamships to Bring Agricultural Products From Other Colonies in Competition With the Tax-Burdened Canadian Farmer.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The thirty-nine Conservative members from Ontario who threatened to "kick" on the Dominion Government until an extra session was promised them have much to be responsible for. In 1893 the Government represented to Parliament that Australasia furnished a profitable market for the surplus manufactures of Canada, and got an Act passed enabling them to pay $125,000 yearly for a monthly line of steamers from British Columbia to Australia, nominally to supply cheap rates to Australia for Canadian manufacturers, not a word being said about return cargoes of farm products.

First, then, what is this scheme? We quote from the official report of the Colonial Conference held at Ottawa last summer on Sir Mackenzie Bowell's invitation. The scheme is to secure "a Customs arrangement between Great Britain and her colonies by which trade within the Empire may be placed on a more favorable footing than that which is carried on with foreign countries," and that until England comes into this arrangement the colonies may be empowered "to place each other's products, in whole or in part, on a more favored Customs basis than is accorded to the like products of foreign countries"; and in order to interchange products, "a first-class mail and passenger service with all the modern appliances for the storage and carrying of perishable goods be established on the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans connecting Australasia and Great Britain across Canada, and that immediate steps be taken to provide telegraphic communication between Canada and Australia."

The estimated cost of one single cable is about $10,000,000. Two or more will of course have to be laid to provide for interruption by accidents. If England joins in the arrangement, Canada is to pay one-third of the cost; if she will not Canada is to pay one-half, or about $10,000,000, for two cables, the lowest number that can be managed with. The length of the cable will be over 7000 miles, with no intermediate points where it can get business. There are already cables from England to Australia, via Europe, and which are supported largely by European business; and Sir John Pender, probably the highest authority on cable matters, estimates that, above all earnings, nearly a million dollars a year will be required to be contributed by the Governments (Canada included) towards keeping the Canadian cable in condition.

As to the steamship lines, the Canadian Government is now paying $125,000 a year for a monthly steamer to Australia, and last year got an act passed authorizing them to pay $750,000 a year for a fast Atlantic service to England.

At the Colonial Conference the subject of a fast Atlantic and Pacific service was considered, and Mr. Huddart stated that a yearly subsidy of $1,500,000 would be required to maintain a weekly line on the Atlantic and a fortnightly one on the Pacific, and the Canadian Government, through Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Sir Adolphe Caron ano Mr. Foster, their representatives at the conference, expressed their approval of Canada contributing $375,000 a year as their proportion. "If the cable communication and the steamship communication," Mr. Foster said "shall be carried out within the next three or four years, I venture to say that no single action that has taken place will do more for the British Empire as regards the unity and the cohesion of those distant parts than this very same line of action we have recommended. We cannot hasten too fast."

Now, what is there in this scheme for the farmers of Canada or Canada itself? This involves an examination of the resources of Australia, for the return cargoes to Canada and Great Britain will be composed of the surplus products of Australia. Sir Mackenzie Bowell, on his return from Australia, reports as follows: "Frozen mutton ranks next to wool and gold among the exports of Australia. This industry which was only begun by New Zealand in 1882, has now reached enormous proportions, and is shared in by nearly all the colonies. The exprots for 1891, the last year for which complete figures are available, were as follows:

	Cwt.
New South Wales	106,810
Victoria	110
Queensland	106,367
South Australia	980
New Zealand	996,277
	1,212,444

"The annual surplus of sheep in the above colonies reaches 4,500,000, and the exportation of frozen mutton has to some extent solved the problem of disposal. The number of sheep in the colonies in the year just referred to was:

New South Wales	61,830,416
Victoria	12,928,148
Queensland	20,289,633
South Australia	7,745,541
Western Australia	1,962,212
Tasmania	1,662,801
	124,547,936

Speaking at the Ottawa Conference last June, Hon. Mr. Fraser, one of the Australian delegates, said: "Cheap freight is the great consideration for our frozen mutton, and even now they are making immense strides in that respect, and in Victoria we are just commencing to erect large frozen meat houses, and I predict that in a very short time indeed the trade will be immense. We have in four colonies 106,000,000 sheep, and we could easily increase them if we saw a profitable outlet for the surplus produce We

THE LATEST CONTEMPT OF PARLIAMENT.

The country has now been favoured with explanations by the Government in the matter of the increased mail subsidy. The gist of the statement is in the following extract from it:

"The Postmaster-General has the power to require every railway to carry the mails on such terms and conditions and under such regulations as are made by the Governor-in-council, and there is no instance on record in which any arrangement of the kind has been discussed in Parliament until Parliament was asked to vote the money required to carry it out. The action of the Postmaster-General has been in strict accordance with the law, and when Parliament is asked to provide the money required the Postmaster-General will be in a position to defend his action in the matter."

In connection with this the Montreal Herald argues that it can safely be left to the common sense of the public to determine how far it goes towards justifying the Government in adding a couple of hundred thousand dollars to the expenditure of the Postoffice Department for this year without informing Parliament of its intentions. It is true that to legalise the expenditure Parliament must vote the money at the next session; but the arrangement having been formally entered into between the Government and the railway company, and the additional service rendered by the latter, Parliament will be in honour bound to authorise the payment. If Sir Adolphe had submitted the estimate of increased cost to the House as he should have done, it could have exercised its functions properly, and could have amended, approved or rejected the proposition as appeared to it proper.

The Government can make no explanation that will relieve it from the imputation of having deceived the House by statements which, if not in a technical sense false, were yet falsehoods by implication. The facts are plain. Parliament was asked to vote mail subsidies for the year 1895-6 to the extent of $2,125,000; the head of the department in response to direct questions stated not once but repeatedly that there was no provision for any increase in the cost of this service, and that the estimates for the department as a whole showed a decrease of $19,000; and under these assurances the estimates were passed. Yet at this moment the Government were committed to an arrangement already in existence, by which the amount of these small subsidies would be increased during the year by a sum which the Postmaster-General now admits will approximate two hundred thousand dollars. The excuse is now made that as the money for for this additional service will not be voted until the close of the year in place of at the beginning, as were the other subsidies, Sir Adolphe Caron was correct in saying that he was not asking the House for an increased grant. The natural inference from his words, which he evidently expected the Opposition to draw, as they did, was that the cost of the service would not be increased. Sir Adolphe Caron's equivocation is to our mind more reprehensible than a blunt lie would have been.

In 1891 the grant to the Canadian Pacific Railway for mail subsidies was increased by $143,000; and the Postmaster-General of that day, Mr. Haggart, put this sum into the estimates, gave the reasons for the increased amount, and had it passed in the regular way. That was the course which should have been followed on the present occasion; and in refusing to take it the Government added one more exhibition of cowardice and incapacity to its rapidly extending record of like achievements.

A MODERN CRUSADE.

The determined attitude of Bishop Watterson, of Columbus, in connection with the liquor traffic is being continued by the American Catholic Total Abstinence Society, which has been formally opened, though in existence some time. Its object is to wage war upon drunkenness. Its contention is that excessive drinking is not only the cause of dependence and poverty, but it far outstrips all other misfortunes, and this is a doctrine unhappily too much in daily evidence to be contradicted. The society announces that its operations will not be exclusively confined to battling with drunkenness, but will make a determined attempt in the direction of "correcting the foolish drinking customs of society, to make practices of total abstinence popular, and to brand with odium indefensible and dangerous social customs that are a stumbling block to the weak and a temptation to all." Here is a noble and good work, one which, if successfully carried out must, sooner or later, result in the gradual destruction of a cause which is productive of most devastating effects. It is one of the best methods of ultimately accomplishing the great social reformation the society is aiming at. Another plank in the platform of the society is to wage war upon the saloon. In this it appears to be assuming a ground which may be productive of some injustice. Thus the Rev. Father Cleary, in delivering the report of the society in New York in the presence of thousands of delegates, seemed to go even beyond the stern determination of Bishop Watterson, who forbade all Catholic societies to allow saloon keepers to hold office. The Rev. Father in the report went even further than this, and laid it down as a principle that a "man cannot be a good Catholic, a faithful and docile child of the church, and continue in the unbecoming business of conducting a liquor saloon." This is somewhat sweeping and verges closely upon the uncharitable. There are many good men keeping saloons who try to conduct the business on lines of propriety and respectability, who never neglect their own religious duties, and see that their children are properly educated and brought up. Their business is their misfortune, but it is their business, and like Lawrence Stern's starling they "can't get out" without being ruined. Such people deserve some consideration. Though general principles render the liquor traffic a most destructive and fatal one it exists, and it will be better destroyed by a hand wearing a glove of velvet, and by the practice of such methods as have been declared by the society to be its intention to put it into practice, than by the rough and rude methods of general denunciation of individuals. The battle may be without quarter, but it can be fought fairly. There can be no doubt of the result.

EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE.

Scotch Breeders Want Its Removal—A Joint Meeting of the Glasgow and Aberdeen Authorities.

London, Aug. 12.—A determined effort is to be made by the Scotch breeders to obtain the removal of the Canadian cattle embargo.

A joint meeting of the Glasgow, Dundee and Aberdeen authorities is being held, with a view to approach the new President of the Board of Agriculture to urge that as Belgium is removing its embargo, the British Government should do the same, at all events till Christmas, as a test. Importance is attached to the reported new cases of pleuro-pneumonia among the Huronas cattle.

It is felt impossible that the disease exists in Canada without showing itself before now.

SIR JULIAN PAUNCEFOTE COMING.

He Will Visit Ottawa to Confer With the Government Re Sealers' Claims.

Washington, Aug. 11.—If Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador to the United States, shall, as is anticipated, visit Canada before his return to Washington, it is not likely that the Canadian Minister of Marine will later in the season meet Sir Julian here as was expected, when the latter sailed for Europe last June. It was then the purpose that the Canadian Minister of Marine should have a conference with Sir Julian in this city, presumably in October, with reference to the new treaty which will be negotiated between the British Ambassador and Secretary Olney, looking to the settlement of the claims of certain Canadian seal fishermen in Behring Sea, against the United States under the terms of the Paris award. While the Canadian Government as such, will have no hand in the preparation of the treaty, it is intended that their wishes shall be learned and respected so far as circumstances will permit. Sir Julian said several months ago that a personal conference with the Canadian Minister of Marine of even 48 hours would greatly facilitate the work of drafting the treaty.

BUILDING UP A GREATER ONTARIO

Algoma's Ex M.P., Speaks Most Enthusiastically—Montreal Police Superintendent Victimized by a Forger—Canadian Cattle Shipments Heavy This Season

Montreal, Aug. 11.—Mr. S. J. Dawson, ex-M.P. for Algoma, arrived in the city to-day, and being seen by your correspondent talked in quite enthusiastic terms of the progress now being made in the development of Greater Ontario. There are many promising signs to be noticed, began Mr. Dawson, in the opening up of that great region to agriculture, lumbering and other industries, but the most marked feature at the present time is the wonderful impetus which gold mining has lately received in the Seine River region. A great deal of the quartz in this part of the country, Mr. Dawson reports, is of the richest kind, and it is more than probable that these means will be of a nature to revolutionize that section of the country known as northwestern Ontario.

"Has the prospecting been only of recent occurrence?"

"No, there has always been a number of people up there who had confidence in the gold-producing qualities of the country, but it is only lately that mining has been carried on in a systematic manner or by modern appliances. I am sorry to say," continued the ex-member for Algoma, "that our own people have not manifested sufficient faith in the mineral resources of Algoma, and up to the present time the capital invested in the mines referred to has been drawn from the American side of the line. However, Ontario is getting the benefit, and I suppose we should not complain. A large quantity of new mining machinery is being brought in and the crushing already done gives great promise of a splendid mining future for the Province of Ontario."

"How do you reach the mines?"

"Well, they have found gold within 40 miles of Port Arthur, but if one takes the canoe route to the centre of the mining region, the distance is about 150 miles, and if you go round by Rat Portage there is a good road, but the distance is much greater."

"Business in Port Arthur," concluded Mr. Dawson, "is pretty good. The splendid climate renders that northern country the paradise of tourists and a great many people from Chicago, Detroit and other cities flock up there to pass the heated term."

In spite of a good deal of talk from the pessimists at the beginning of the season, the returns up to date show that about a thousand more head of cattle and 1500 sheep have been shipped up to date than in the same time last year.

"Is there any money being made this year?" was asked of a leading shipper yesterday afternoon.

"Yes," was the reply, "the shippers have done very well during the last two or three weeks, and I hope it will continue, for I am free to say that the farmers and steamship companies made all the money during the first part of the season."

The following are the figures for the past week of horses, cattle and sheep exported:

Sir A. P. Caron was in the city yesterday, leaving by the night train for the Ancient Capital. It is learned that an exceedingly influential deputation will wait on the Postmaster-General from the County of Charlevoix, praying the hon. gentleman to accept the Government candidature in the county. It is also learned that Mr. Simard, M.P., will willingly give up his claims in favor of Sir Adolphe, but that the latter has not yet decided as to the future. The Postmaster-General has likewise received an invitatino to stand for Levis, but as Rimouski is safe he may stick to his old friends down there.

Lieut.-Col. Hughes, Superintendent of the mounted police force, received a visit some time ago from a man named Alexander Thurber, who asked the chief to endorse a note for three months, purporting to be made by Mr. Dansereau, postmaster, for $220. The superintendent did as requested, but soon found out that the postmaster's signature was a forgery. Thurber was arrested and will appear before Judge Desnoyers, to-morrow morning.

The Citizens' League, through its secretary, Mr. Henry Timmins, has written a very spirited leter to Mayor Villeneuve, asking that the police put a stop to the numerous boxing encounters now taking place in this city.

Hon. Mr. Colby, who has been in Europe for over a year, is expected to return to Canada by Sept. 1.

It has been fully decided that Hon. Mr. Angers will open a law office in this city towards the end of the present month.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-known Peterborough Lady.

Peterborough, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810.

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Spotted a Deer.

Two gentlemen, the Bobcaygeon Independent says, returning from Kinmount on Wednesday evening, were rather surprised on this side of Silver Lake. On reaching the top of an up grade, the gentleman driving was just going to touch the horse with the whip, when his companion motioned him to stop, and there about thirty yards from them was a three or four year old stag quietly grazing on the bank of the road. When they stopped, the deer looked up, spread out his ears, and took a few sniffs. Deer are very acute smellers, and at thirty yards can tell in an instant whether a person is a strict tetotaller or has been to see a man about a dog. On this occasion the deer, after sniffing, wheeled around on his hind legs broadside on, then looked again at the intruders, blinked his left eye, waggled his ear, as much as to say, "I know you," and then bounded into the bush. He was a fine large animal and in good condition.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

The Three Tramps, McDermott, McCrea and Somers Sent up for Trial.

This morning the three tramps, Somers, McDermott and McCrea were examined before Police Magistrate Edmison.

The charge against them was that of entering the Convent on Thursday last and stealing one silver watch and the sum of $23. They elected to be tried by jury, after which the evidence against them was heard.

Wm. Fredenburg, who resides at the corner of Charlotte and Downie streets, gave evidence to the effect that he saw the prisoners in the vicinity of the Convent on Thursday morning. McDermott was sitting down near the northwest corner of the Convent, and McCrea was standing near a tree.

Gideon Mercier, the hired man at the Convent, was next called on. He described the contents of his trunk, which besides clothing contained two watches and the missing money. One of the watches was taken, as well as the sum of money, $23 and a few cents. He did not miss the articles until the chief showed him his trunk, which he described to the court. The burglars had cut away the lock as well as the hinges.

Mrs. W. Fredenburg was the most important witness. She stated she first saw the prisoners near the Water Company's office, after which they went up Hunter street, passed the church and crossed to the convent. On their way up Hunter street she heard one of the prisoners say, "If you want us to stay with you, you do as we tell you and go in." When they reached the church, they looked around and McCrea went to the window in the rear of the convent, and crawled through, the other prisoners standing at the corner. Somers then went to the window and spoke to McCrea, after which he returned to where McDermott was standing, only to return again and enter the window. Both entered head first. When Somers entered McCrea came out.

Carrie Strain, who is employed at Mr. Stone's, testified to seeing the three prisoners lurking around the convent.

Miss O'Brien, an inmate of the convent, saw the three men sometime between 10 and 11 o'clock, Tuesday morning, near the convent. She saw Somers go by the convent shed, while the other two stood at the corner. Mr. Mercier's room is situated at the coal room. There is a window in it facing on Reid street, but the door to this apartment is opened from the convent yard. There is a door opening on Reid street from the wood shed.

Mr. S. B. Ewing, in his evidence, stated that he was employed in Meldrum & McAllister's office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. He was informed by a lady of the presence of three suspicious characters near the Roman Catholic church. He mounted his wheel and went up in that vicinity, where he noticed the three men. McCrea asked him the time of day. He rode his wheel for a block and then returned and told him it was a quarter to 11 o'clock. He next saw the three coming down Hunter street.

Arthur Rountree, of the Royal Oak, saw the three prisoners at his hotel on Wednesday for the first time, before dinner. They had dinner at his place on that day as well as on Thursday. About nine o'clock Thursday morning they were there. They seemed to have money on Wednesday and spent $2 or $3 on the two days. Somers bought a drink on Thursday as well as McCrea. They spent a good deal on that day. He did not miss them from the hotel Thursday morning, and he doubted if they left the hotel that morning. The all went out, however, when Somers went to get his hair cut. Up to that time they had spent a couple of dollars. When he (the witness) went out to get shaved, he supposed they spent a couple of dollars. Somers changed a five dollar bill and paid for their dinners, but they all paid for their lunch on Wednesday. Had been told that the three men were labourers. He first saw Somers last July.

Two other witnesses, Mr. Gould, of the Royal Oak, and David Doig, also gave evidence. They had been at the hotel during Thursday morning, while the prisoners were there, and were also of the same opinion as Mr. Rountree as regards the movements of the prisoners during the morning.

The magistrate on the evidence presented, committed the prisoners for trial at the fall assizes.

'PRENTICE BOYS ATTEND WORSHIP.

REV. J. J. RAE DELIVERS THE ANNUAL SERMON.

Unfavourable Weather Prevents a Larger Turn-out of the Members of the Orange Order—An Eloquent and Scholarly Address.

Yesterday afternoon the members of Jubilee Lodge, No. 7, Prentice Boys, with a sprinkling of members from the different Orange and True Blue lodges of the town, attended divine worship in Charlotte street church, the occasion being the annual sermon to the 'Prentice Boys Association. Owing to the unfavourable weather the attendance was not as large as it otherwise would have been. The procession was headed by the Sons of England Band.

The pastor of the church welcomed the brethren to the service, and stated that their organization stood allied to the greatest of all institutions, the church of the living God.

The reverend gentleman chose for his text, Revelations, 3rd chap. 11th verse.

"Behold, I come quickly; hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown."

These words, the preacher said, were sent to the early church in Philadelphia during its early struggles, out of which it had come victorious, weakened, yet triumphant, lessened in numbers yet strengthened in faith.

One such struggle, the reverend gentleman said, was that which gave rise to the 'Prentice Boys Association. It would be useless, he continued to narrate that memorable struggle in the North of Ireland, when the Papal power almost captured the British crown under the Stuarts. He referred in eloquent terms to the siege of the egg-shaped town of Derry, when the inhabitants were asked to surrender to the King, and how the 'Prentice Boys, fired by a determined purpose, insisted that the town should not surrender. He further described how the effort to betray the city was defeated by the 'Prentice Boys. How the inhabitants held out for one hundred and five days, men women and children giving up their lives, their army of 7,000 men reduced to one half that number, declaring they would hold their own until the arrival of the British fleet broke the boom, and the siege of Derry was raised to the cry of "No Surrender."

These men, the preacher contended, fought for Protestantism, and the victory was one for the Bible and the freedom to worship God.

Rev. Mr. Rae then directed his hearers to look upon life as it is to-day, and to take these words—"No Surrender"—and ask what they mean. Every man has a right to worship God, and if you take away this liberty you make him a base slave.

The speaker then asked how much man had paid for that freedom and he directed them to turn to Derry and then to England, and see how our race had been emancipated from Papal tyranny. This liberty, he argued, makes man the greater man.

Continuing he urged his hearers to say "no surrender" for the freedom to worship as British subjects—freedom to our children in our schools and also in the state.

There is no telling, he remarked, what this struggle may mean in the days that are to come, and the men who stand to their liberty—in which the right shall reign, the God of Host will be with them.

The reverend gentleman next directed his hearers to some salient points of the Bible. To the first one, God is our Father, he urged them to hold fast, and not allow no other father to come in between the living God. This point must never be broken into or minimized.

Another truth of the Bible was the declaration it provides a man as a sinner. They were further urged to hold fast to this teaching, allowing no interference, and making no surrender of the sacred right of coming to God for forgiveness.

Another Biblical truth, he said, was that we ought to make life a victory. This life, the preacher stated, was a march of triumph to the soundings of the drums that beat to victory in the future, and his hearers were exhorted to hold fast to this truth and allow no man to take the crown prepared for us by our Saviour.

He further drew their attention to the truth that God has given us a work to do, and in this connection we should receive our commission from God. We should take the Bible, place it in a proper place in the home and in the state.

We should hold fast to personal religion. It is easy to say, "I am ready to die," but it would be far better if we could say we were ready to live, according to the Bible. God expects the world to be saved, through the efforts of His servants, and He further expects us to know the value of religion. Men are often found ready to fight for the Bible who know nothing of it.

Hold fast, the speaker urged, to the ideas of manhood. No man is a live man unless liberated by God's word. The world to-day wants better men, and the different societies and organizations would be improved by making man better.

There comes a time in every man's life when he must say No to wrong and Yes to right. It is not enough to say: "I will link my life to this principle," but when God says: "Give me your heart this day," we should say "Yes."

In concluding his sermon, the preacher in eloquent terms urged his hearers to stand fast to the truth, and to prepare themselves to face the world and its many temptations, to resist evil and to stand firm in the faith of Jesus Christ.

The discourse was an eloquent and scholarly one, punctuated at times by fervid bursts of oratory, and it is to be regretted that a larger number was not in attendance at the service.

At the conclusion of the service the Sons of England Band rendered God Save the Queen.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this imporant matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are procative of feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly, and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Corn Extractor.

A SUNDAY MORNING FIRE.

Springville Again Visited by the Destroying Element.

Early Sunday morning, between three and four o'clock, the old Capt. Dundas residence, near the Springville church, owned and occupied by Mr. F. E. Wilson, was discovered to be on fire and before the flames could be checked they attained such headway as to render powerless any attempts to fight them and the building was entirely consumed.

There seems to be no doubt but that the fire was of incendiary origin, as only a year ago the outbuildings in connection with the place were mysteriously burned to the ground.

So large a number of fires have occurred in this locality of late that it is with difficulty that risks can be placed with the insurance companies. About two years ago Mr. Tully's store and dwelling was consumed, then Mr. Wilson's outbuildings went up in smoke and in May last the hotel, post office, store, drill shed and Mr. McCammon's residence were all burnt to the ground.

CAUGHT IN A PULLEY.

Mr. Charles Milliken's Miraculous Escape.

Chas. Milliken, of Ashburnham, a turner employed by the Peterborough Canoe Company, had a narrow escape from death on Saturday morning.

He was engaged in working at the lathe, when his clothes caught in the revolving belt and gradually wound around the pulley.

The young man, with great presence of mind, planted his feet against the shaft and thereby saved himself, although his trousers were almost torn off. He received a flesh wound near the calf of one of his limbs, which was attended to by Dr. Clarke. He is progressing favourably to-day, and was able to resume work.

LACROSSE.

The Port Hope Guide contains the following:

At a meeting of the Beaver Lacrosse Club, the Captain was instructed to write the following communication, in answer to the description of the Granite-Beaver match, in the Peterborough papers, which consist of, as usual, insulting defamations:—

Mr. T. Lannin, Sec., Granites:

No doubt you are willing to back up what the Peterborough papers published about our game of Wednesday, August 7th, 1895. If so, we would like you to put up a deposit of ten dollars ($10.00) within thirty days of August 7th, with the sporting editor of any paper outside of Peterborough, say the S. E. of the Mail and Empire or Toronto World, and our treasurer will cover it. If what the papers say about our game is not true, you forfeit the deposit; if it is true you take the money. All arguments to be decided by the referee, L. White. If you fail to do this it plainly shows what the papers say is nothing but wind, with no truth in it. We had a friendly game here and used the Granites like gentlemen and in return get abuse. What else could we expect. Signed on behalf of the Beaver Lacrosse Club.

D. C. RAYMOND,
Captain.

The charge laid against the local press is without foundation. Reference was made to the unsportsmanlike actions of the Port Hope team in the selection of their players. It was evidently correct and to the point. Port Hope can't stand criticism, and when the truth is stated they send up a dismal howl through their local papers. As to the $10 deposit—well, it is only a bluff, and of course Port Hope will only flunk. They always do. Better take the $10 and go under treatment for a severe attack of swelled head from which they are evidently suffering.

The Millbrook Reporter in its last issue makes the following outcry concerning the game of lacrosse which its team tried to play in Peterborough last week:

The Millbrook lacrosse team went to Peterborough on Friday last to play the Athletics of that town, but owing to the brutality indulged in by certain members of the latter team and their backers, they were compelled to leave the field before the match was finished. Two weeks ago at the Millbrook grounds the Athletics were defeated by a score of two goals to one. This was the return match and much enthusiasm was displayed, as it was known that the Peterboroughs would make a desperate effort to redeem themselves. To accomplish this, little did Millbrook think that the Athletics would stoop so low as to introduce pugilism and savagery into the game of the noble red man and thus disgrace and degrade not only themselves but also their town and our national game. True it is that in such an exciting match as Friday's, accidents of a more or less serious nature will happen and as such are excusable, but for a lacrosse player to drop his stick, make a savage plunge at his opponent and repeatedly pummel him on the face until stopped in his murderous assault by some of the spectators, is rarely witnessed by civilized man. Such, however, was witnessed last Friday and ever will the visions of that match remain fresh in the memories of the Millbrook lacrosse boys and their little band of backers who went down to cheer them on to victory. When our boys arrived at the Peterborough station no one met them. When they got to the grounds an admittance fee was demanded from the umpire. A certain member of our team was a few minutes late in arriving at the grounds, and he, too, though in full lacrosse attire, was refused admittance till he'd pay. A crowd of about 600 was at the grounds and apparently sanctioned the Athletics in their bull-dosing. Play was kept up for about one hour, when Millbrook, finding their lives in danger, left the field. The Athletics were not satisfied with the treatment they had given Millbrook on the field, but capped the climax by not giving a cent of their guarantee (only $10), an act unparalleled in the history of lacrosse. When the Athletics played here two weeks ago the match was not definitely arranged until the day before, thus giving no time to advertise, and consequently the gate receipts did not amount to one-half the guarantee, but rather than break their promise our boys went down in their pockets and made up the amount, while the Peterborough gate amounted to four times the guarantee. To-day members of the Millbrook lacrosse team can be seen with their arms in slings, limbs distorted and disfigured, one with his head swollen to nearly twice its nominal size, and one with his face disfigured with a broken nose. This was all received at the hands of the Athletic Lacrosse Club of Peterborough.

It will be seen that Millbrook had a weak team. Tom McMahon, their point player, and F. Coombe, the clever stick handler on the home, being absent, while the Athletics had the strongest team they could possibly rake together. For about ten minutes play was decidedly in Millbrook's favor, and no particular roughness was exhibited. Galley secured the sphere and scored for Peterborough. The second game started out in Millbrook's favor, but the Athletics fearing another defeat, resorted to their brutal tactics, tripping being the first step in the line. Nothing serious happened so far, and in twenty minutes Galley scored for Peterborough. The third game started with honors even, but the Athletics couldn't hold themselves, they must carry out their threat to "lay Millbrook out." Alex. Irwin is struck on the beak of the head, which nearly stuns him. Billy Strain is hammered unmercifully on the shoulder and arm, but Millbrook plays on. Duncan is hit savagely on the forhead. Jack Richards is pounded all over the body. In a scrimmage near "Stonewall's" flags the umpire's hand goes up, and now Millbrook makes its first kick. The ball went 15 inches above the posts, and finally the Athletics were disallowed the goal. Play was resumed, and thus matters went until one of the McDonough's made a savage attack on George Carveth. With clenched fists and blood in his eye he dealt Millbrook's inside home player several brutish blows on the face until Georgie's nose was broken. Finding their lives in danger Millbrook left the field, followed by a dirty, nasty Peterborough mob, all the time throwing stones and missles and using all kinds of foul, vulgar and insulting epithets. The mob followed Millbrook to the street cars and even there fired stones at them until they were a convenient distance down George street—when a sigh of relief went up. With one or two exceptions the Athletics should be ostracized from civilization, and all gentlemen lacrosse clubs should have nothing to do with the Peterborough rowdies. The Millbrook team arrived home on the 2.38, sick, tired and disgusted. It is useless to try to particularize the play of our boys, as every one played an excellent game under the circumstances. The result of this match leaves the two clubs a tie, each having won a game, but although Millbrook has $30 to wager on the tie, we're afraid it'll never be played off. Not in Peterborough, anyway.

The EXAMINER makes it a point never to roast a visiting team, but as the Millbrook Reporter has thrown down the gauntlet it must perforce be taken up, and a word said in behalf of the Peterborough players.

On the occasion of their visit to Millbrook they were treated with the scantest courtesy possible on the field, and the game was so rough on the Athletics that it was with difficulty they were gotten into shape again in time to go to Port Hope.

This is not the first time Millbrook has played rough, as in their visit to Port Hope they managed to so seriously injure some of the Ontarios as to lay them off the team for an indefinite period. Some of them in fact are not even playing again yet.

When the Athletics were in Millbrook it was their "day off" and in consequence they were beaten. The boys knew they didn't do their best, and in reply to Millbrook's crowing told them that when they came up to Peterborough they wouldn't be able to score a game. Consequently when Millbrook saw that they were outplayed on every part of the field they resorted to the hardest kind of checking, and the Athletics wear the marks of their handiwork yet.

Neither Port Hope, Madoc, Orillia or Cobourg will accuse the Peterboroughs of playing too roughly on the field. Where, then, does the complaint of such a one-horse village as Millbrook come in? Simply nowhere. Other lacrosse towns are making a butt of the team for acting in such a babified manner as to cry because they were beaten.

In regard to the statement that any of Millbrook men in uniform were charged an admission fee it is simply an unqualified falsehood. When the team refused to finish the game they knew perfectly well that they forfeited their guarrantee according to the rules governing all such contests, and to mention such a matter goes far to show just what kind of a sporting town Millbrook is. It can only be excused on the ground of extreme ignorance.

THE WHEEL.

The local club are working hard to make the meet on Civic Holiday a success. Every one of the Canadian champions have entered, and two tandems will be put in to pace the riders in the 10 mile class B championship which will undoubtedly establish a new Canadian record for the distance. It will be a glorious fight from start to finish between T. B. McCarthy, Marshall Wells, W. McIntosh, Angus McLeod, and Sam Gibbons, with the possibility of a dark horse turning up in the persons of Frank Radway and "Billy" Carman.

The track is in splendid condition, thanks to the veteran sport, Sam Ray, who has had charge of the work.

The local club hope to have some wins to their credit, as Walker, Lord, Evans, King and Lush are all riding in good form. Lord will be a hard man to beat in the novice race, and Walker will require some beating in the District Championship.

The entries are larger than last year, and all events will be hotly contested.

Mr. H. Thompson has charge of the score cards and every one taking in the races should have one, as without one you cannot find who the men are in the different races. The riders go by numbers, and the riders name will be opposite the number on the score card.

The officials for the day are:
Refare—Geo. H. Orr, Toronto.
Starter—W. E. Lech, Peterborough.
Timers—E. W. Gaudrie, Campbellford; Hope McGinnis, Belleville; C. L. Owens, Campbellford; Geo. Horkins, Peterborough.
Judges—W. McGee, Toronto; A. H. Stratton, Peterborough; Geo. Benor, Campbellford; C. LeBrun, Peterborough.
Scorers—Alf. Tarrill and W. A. Buchanan, Peterborough.
Umpires—D. Milne, Stirling; F. Carscallen, Marmora; Gus Gough, Peterborough; Robt. Fair, Peterborough.
Clerk of the course—S. B. Ewing, Petersorough.

Two Frenchmen of Rheims have recently completed an invention which they claim will in a measure revolutionize the present pneumatic tire. They build their wheels by substituting an outer pneumatic tube made of leather for the rubber tubes now in use. Their invention has been taken up by the ministry of war, who are now perfecting the idea with a view to supply the military cycles with tires that will not give out easily.

The resistence of leather is considerably greater than that of rubber, and it will better stand the pressure from within and the exterior agents of destruction, such as nails, hoops, roots, or sharp pebbles. It is not absolutely imperforable, but it is at least as good as the fine steel band which was experimentally placed between the outer and inner tubes, and which was pierced by needles, and tacks. Leather offers the greatest impenetrability in relation to its thickness without impairing the necessary elasticity. It is further improved by a preparation which renders it impermeable to water. The leather tire is easily repaired in case of perforation—any cobbler can sew it up—and this is permanent and not likely to get out of order.

Other advantages claimed for the leather tire are:—Greater lightness; it will not get out of shape as does rubber, and it will not slip on asphalt pavement or wet roads. The new material for the tire seems to meet with great encouragement on the part of the military authorities in France—La Nature.

Mr. George Evans has been replaced in class A.

LAWN TENNIS.

An Interesting Tournament in Which Peterborough Wins From Lindsay.

A party of thirteen members of the Peterborough Lawn Tennis Club went over to Lindsay at noon, Saturday, and those who played in the tournament in the afternoon covered themselves with glory, as though nine matches were played off Peterborough only lost in one instance.

The party was met at the station at Lindsay and treated with the utmost courtesy and kindness, being most hospitality entertained by Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Barron and Mrs. Spiers, who placed their residences at the disposal of the guests.

The tournament took place during the afternoon, and the representatives of the Peterborough club did exceptionally well. Some of the Lindsay ladies also played in excellent form, noticeably Miss Barron and Miss Knowlson. Messrs. Gamon and Keyes put up a good game for Lindsay, but were not strong enough for Peterborough's best players.

The results of the different sets played were as follows:—

Peterborough.		Lindsay.
LADIES' DOUBLES.
Miss Dennistoun and Miss A Dennistoun.	won from 6—4.	Miss Barron and Miss Knowlson.
Miss Edwards and Miss Hatton.	lost to 6—4, 2—6, 7—5.	Miss Deacon and Miss Dunsford.
MIXED DOUBLES.
Miss A Dennistoun and Mr Rogers.	won from 6—0, 6—2.	Miss Barron and Mr Keyes.
Miss G Edwards and Mr Montgomery.	won from 6—3, 6—0.	Miss Knowlson and Mr Gamon.
Miss Dennistoun and Mr Burnham.	won from 6—1, 6—1.	Miss Dunsford and Mr Cruso.
Miss Effie Edwards and Mr Taylor.	won from 6—1, 6—2.	Miss Deacon and Mr Richardson.

Mr Taylor and Mr Burnham.	won from 6—1, 6—2.	Mr Gamon and Mr Richardson.
Mr Montgomery and Mr Rogers.	won from 8—6, 6—3.	Mr Keyes and Mr Cruso.

There were many splendid plays made in the different matches which were all replete with interest, and the members of the local club who played are indeed to be congratulated on their splendid showing in Lindsay on Saturday. The return matches will probably be played in the course of a week or two on the Park street courts, when an endeavour will be made to make some return to the Lindsay players for the many kindnesses shown the members of the Peterborough club on Saturday.

Have you seen the latest stylish kind of Photographs Sproule is taking now!
"Yes, I've had some taken, and I think they're just lovely," so natural, with such exquisite tone and finish to them. He calls them the PLATINO process."
"I know—I had several specimens from England, but did not know Mr. Sproule had introduced them here. He seems to keep in touch with the best artists, don't he? My husband and I sit for PLATINOS to-morrow. You shall have one."

HANDSOMEST WOMAN IN LONDON.

Lady Helen Vincent's Charms—She Comes From a Handsome Race.

It is now ten years since the beautiful Lady Helen Venitia Duncombe made her bow to London society under the chaperonage of her sister, the Duchess of Leinster. Her grace's death leaves Lady Helen Vincent as she has now become, the most beautiful woman of London society. She is of slender figure, with a perfect bust, full arms, and a face exquisitely chiseled and denoting intelligence of a high order, Her skin is white with the whiteness of snow, her eyes are a light blue. Her husband, Sir Edgar Vincent, not so many years ago was voted the handsomest man in the household troops, to which he belonged in the capacity of captain in the Coldstream Guards. At present he occupies the lucrative position of financial adviser to the khedive and director-general of the Ottoman bank.

Lady Helen comes from a stock that has given England many beauties. Her great-grandmother on her mother's side was known as "the beautiful Miss Linley" and became the wife of Richard Brinsley Sheridan, author of "The Rivals," himself a very good-looking man. Other descendants of Sheridan noted for their beauty were Lady Seymour, afterwards Duchess of Somerset, at one time England's crowned "Queen of Beauty," and the mother of the present Marquis of Dufferin. And all these women not only inherited the good looks for which their brilliant ancestors were noted, but also some, at least, of the wit that made his fortune.

Lady Helen Vincent was the brightest of the Duncombe sisters and did not make the mistake of marrying for love and position alone, like her late sister, the Duchess of Leinster. Her grace, while in the flesh, was always hard pressed for money, and was very glad of the several hundred pounds per year which the enormous sales of her photographs yielded her. Sir Edgar is a millionaire, and is growing richer every day.—Munsey's Magazine.

The Girl of Thirteen.

The girl of 13 is the future woman and a very important piece of humanity. She is a child and just growing into womanhood, and this translation which, to grown-ups, means only a sudden shooting up beyond all bounds and a tendency to stoop shoulders, is much more to the girl who leaves childhood behind and is not yet a young lady. Fast growing is a very great drain on any child's strength, and as at 13 she usually has considerable work at school, both mind and body are called upon to do double work. That is why she needs care.

Good food, rest and congenial company are some of the things necessary for the girl of 13. She should not have too much excitement or books to read which tax her thoughts too much, as her mind develops only too quickly at this age, and everyday life and lessons are enough to occupy her. She should go to bed early and sleep ten hours. For breakfast she should eat strengthening, bone-making food, oatmeal, oranges, brown bread, eggs and milk. For her midday meal she should have something more sustaining than a bread and butter lunch, if she is to grow up into a strong woman. Hot soup and a chop and a baked potato every day for three months will make her stand up straighter than braces will.

She should have a walk in the open air every day; if she does not get this she will grow nervous and sleepless, have fantastic notions about an early grave and running away from home, or, worse still, grow sentimental and write morbid little verses and weep over the poor. These are all true symptoms of the girl of 13. She begins to think she is very old as soon as she gets into her teens, and the responsibilities affect her sensitive mind to an appalling degree—if she is given the time to think of them—Philadelphia Times.

The Wheel is Unromantic.

If the virtuous lady who fears that bicycling is demoralizing to young couples knew how hard it is to converse even with one's companion on a bicycle, to say nothing of gazing into his eyes, and if she were aware that one squeeze of the hand might result in a dangerous somersault over a rearing bicycle and that only experts can ride near enough together to be very confidential, and then only when both wheels are geared exactly alike, and that the attention of both tete-a-teters is even then concentrated on keeping the pedals from clashing, she would realize that a bicycle trip discounts walking, driving, horseback riding or even sitting in a room, for difficulties in the way of spooning. The only way to indulge in a desperate flirtation when bicycling is to get off your wheel, and even a lady of great religious ferocity, combined with suspicious intelligence, does not have to be told that it is not necessary to buy a bicycle nor, indeed, hire one for the sake of sitting on a bench by the lake with a loved one or wandering through secluded paths of the park. It is a great deal easier to flirt at tennis or badminton or golf or croquet. And far easier to keep one's temper.

One Woman's Heart.

A shameful story, a story that ought to be incredible, is printed for truth in Kate Field's Washington: "A well-dressed young woman recently went to one of the taxidermists of the Smithsonian institution, carrying with her in a cage a bright canary bird. "I have hunted all over the city for a bird of just this color," she explained, "because I want him to match a gown I am having made." She wished the taxidermist to kill it and set it up, that she might wear it as an ornament! Thousands of women wear birds on their hats, the more is the pity; but probably no civilized woman ever before bought a live bird and killed it, or had it killed, for such a purpose.

Important Information.

A professor in the medical department of the Columbia College asked one of the more advanced students: "What is the name of the teeth that a human being gets last?"

"False teeth, of course."

A Hen's Canine Brood.

A hen with a family of pups is a sight rarely witnessed. Such a sight, however, can be seen any day at the farm of John Lewda, Marion township, a few miles east of New Brighton, Pa., says the Star of that place.

Three weeks ago a Scotch collie belonging to Mr. Lewda gave birth to a litter of seven pups. During the day the dog left the barn and her family and went to the house for something to eat. In the barn near the pups was an old hen on a nest full of eggs. During the absence of the mother dog the pups began to whine. Straightway the old hen left her nest, went to the pups and began gathering them under her ample wings as well as she was able, and soon clucked them to sleep.

When collie returned she made no objections to the arrangement, but lay down with them, and from that day to this the old hen has had charge of the little animals. She leads them out into the barn yard, clucks and scratches for them, and when danger threatens or the dogs are tired, she gathers them under her wings. They have now grown so large that she can get but two under her, yet the others cuddle close to her, with the forepaws and their little heads resting on her motherly back, until they almost smother her.

Advice to the Poor.

A practical method of teaching the poor to help themselves has been hit upon by the committee on charities of the Washington Board of Trade. It is in the way of suggestion. The committee has had 5,000 cards printed with a plain statement of the need of saving something each week from the unusually good wages of the summer to meet the heavier expenses of the winter season. Advice is cheap, but the suggestions that something should be saved ahead, and instructions as to the best manner of saving, may come, it is thought, into the hands of some who will profit by the counsel, and who will be better prepared to care for themselves without help through the cold weather on account of the foresight of a wise committee. The cards, which are to be distributed among the poorer classes, read as follows: "The committee of charities of this board call the attention of all persons of small means to the fact that we have in this city several saving institutions, managed by some of our most reliable business men, which are ready to receive as small amounts on deposit as ten cents, and will allow interest on all sums of $5 or more. There are still twenty-six weeks left in this year a little self-denial now will enable most everyone to deposit fifty cents per week, amounting to over $13 (with accrued interest) by January 1 next, which will in most cases pay for the fuel next winter."—New York Evening Post.

Related.

The traveler shaded his eyes with his hand and looked anxiously about him.

"Is there a man in the village," he asked, "who can shoe a horse?"

"Yes, sir," said a boy in the crowd, "but he's busy mendin' a horseless carriage, and there's six broken bicycles ahead o' you besides. You'd better go to the next town, mister."—Chicago Tribune.

Deadly Cancer Cured By B. B. B

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co:

SIRS,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement, and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and I am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B.B.B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced saved my life. Gratefully yours,

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Sick Headache CURED PERMANENTLY BY TAKING Ayer's Pills

"I was troubled a long time with sick headache. It was usually accompanied with severe pains in the temples, a sense of fullness and tenderness in one eye, a bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated, hands and feet cold, and sickness at the stomach. I tried a good many remedies recommended for this complaint; but it was not until I

Began Taking Ayer's Pills

that I received anything like permanent benefit. A single box of these pills did the work for me, and I am now free from headaches, and a well man."—C. H. HUTCHINGS, Esq., Auburn, Me

SAGE TO YOUNG MEN.

THE GREAT FINANCIER TELLS HOW TO GET AHEAD IN THE WORLD.

Hard, Steady Work Wins—Right Doing Always Pays—The Great Gold Accumulators of the Age Have Worn Themselves Out in Work as Public Benefactors.

There is so much advice given to the young man about to start out in business that one feels as though the scriptural admonition of the evil of "too many counselors" were dangerously near being his portion. But in all this great bulk of advice there is, singularly enough, little or no mention at all of the greatest element to be found in any life, business or otherwise—the element of Providence itself.

When a young man starts out in business he has a stout heart, a little capital, good wishes and the world before him. The other possessions that belong to him, but which he does not always claim, are honesty, industry and real worth. With these three factors united to those that he had before, his chances for success are a thousand fold greater.

To be more explicit. Suppose a young man starts out in business for himself. Everybody wants to give him a helping hand. No one offers him charity, but if he is in trade people drop in to see him, willing to leave their dollars with him in return for something good, and business men smile upon him more indulgently at first and offer him more privileges than they would accord those longer in business.

The young men, then, has a fair start. Now comes the most critical part of his career. If he gives people as good as he says he is giving them, if he pays fair and square for what he buys, if he tells the exact truth about his wares, giving poor ones to those who cannot afford any better, and reserving the high-priced for those with money, then people pay him another visit, assured of his honesty, and he continues upon his prosperous path. He is a regular business man now, with success just as surely ahead of him as though a ticket for it was in his hand.

This is Providence! The Lord plans matters in such a way that those who walk uprightly find all the "plums" of the earth, and those who walk the wrong paths pick up stones and thorns. Occasionally something good will appear to fall to the lot of those who are dishonest, but mark my words—the words of a man who has fought the world and walked in the world the best part of a century—his success is as ephemeral as the brightness of the spring leaves, or the coldness of the snowball. All will fade away before another season has visited it!

It is commonly supposed that to make money in this world a man must be one of two things. Either he must be a genius or a dishonest man. He must make his money by sparkling brilliancy that few can imitate, or he must steal it so slyly that none can see him. An examination of the great fortunes that have been made will show this to be absolutely false. Was the first Rothschild to carve his name upon the world of finance, a genius? Did he "coin" money in his laboratory or flash it forth by electricity or cause the wheels of newly discovered patents to grind it out?

No! He was a hard, steady worker. A man to whom, after you had intrusted $100 you would go again with another hundred. And again! And again! He kept his friends in finance. He gave them a good return for their money, and if by hard study he discovered and planned ways for investing that money, so that his percentage as a caretaker was worth his while, why so much the better for him, and the whole world, too.

To particularize. Suppose you take, for example, some struggling Western city. Nothing moves in it except the people. They are working early and late for a pittance. Their horses are drawn to the bone and their animals are thin from poor food and weather hardships. It is walk, walk, walk! work, work, work! drive, drive, drive!

In that city lives one man, a real man! He says to himself: "We should have steam power here! We should have cars that run themselves! We should have mills to grind our corn! We should have power for little factories to keep our girls and women busy. Their money now goes away from us when they want dresses. It is pay out and pay out! Nobody buys anything of us! Oh, Providence, show me a way"

With all his saved capital—not very much—with all the money he can borrow—and oh, what interest they ask him!—he gets a few thousands together. He builds a little railroad. He puts up a small factory. He starts numberless little home industries. The hum of the wheel is heard in the town and there are people going quickly and cheerily from one place to another there is business in this town.

But the man who planned it all! He has worked and worried. He has seen the sun rise over the hills many a night before he has sought sleep. He has seen himself beggared and dishonored a thousand times. But now success is his. His little investment are paying him money. He has paid back what he owed. He has drawn others in the business with him. He has made capitalists of men who never thought to own a dollar unhampered by thoughts of the morrow. He is the rich man of the town! Now who, who of all those who have watched him, will begrudge him one iota of his rest? But back of all this the man himself sees a Providence He sees Providence as certainly as he sees the fruit of his works. Without having had the Providence to guide him he would have floundered at some point in the race. The temptation to step aside from the right path, when dollars in plenty lay to the left of it, would have been too great for him without Providence. This, then, is Providence in business.

If I had to take my choice of beginning life over again with a million dollars or with Providence, I should choose Providence. The million would last not much longer than a 10-cent piece, but with Providence to look out for me and suggest ways and means, I should soon be able to look a roll of money squarely in the face.

Honesty is a business coin not often in great demand among those who are starting out. "I'll get success by hook or crook" is the too frequent remark, but when it comes by crook it goes by magic—the same crook magic that brought it.

With all this honesty there must go wonderful sagacity. Many an honest man looks for employment to-day. He contents himself with walking the street and saying to his friends: "I never stole a dollar in my life," instead of sitting himself down upon a park bench to do five minutes of the hardest thinking he ever did in his life. Then a year of the hardest work he ever did in his life. Honesty isn't worth much without something back of it. It is the cannon-ball of trade and business of all kinds, but it must be sent forth with might and precision. Without these it is a great useless hulk.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR WOOD.

Planks Made of Cork Will be Used in the New Ships.

Several months ago the Board of Inspection and Survey of the Navy Department was directed to make an investigation with a view of obtaining some practical substitute for wood in fitting out naval vessels. The desire for a substitute was the fact that a lighter material was wanted if possible, one that would not splinter. It was also desirable to have a non-combustible substance.

The board has made a report to the Secretary of the Navy, and some of its recommendations have been adopted by him, and it is probable that some of the new ships will be fitted with the new material as a substitute for wood.

One of the best materials which has been found by the board is a wood substitute composed of waste cork, or any cork. This is subjected to 40 degrees of heat, and it is then pressed into blocks of any required size. It can be sawed into thin strips or handled very much as wood is handled. Cork has a gum that great heat melts and glues its particles together in a compact mass. After being pressed it sticks together as tightly as if it had grown that way. The cork boards may be made heavy or light, as wanted. Some of the lighter kinds are used in the walls of refrigerators. It is a non-conductor, and can scarcely be made to burn. This material is used in the place of wood in German vessels. Commander Bradford, who made the search and examinations of this particular substitute, found that the Germans were using it under a patent taken out by John Smith of New York, and that companies in the United States had obtained rights for its manufacture here.—Washington Post.

Explanation of the Company's System of Profit Distribution.

The method of profit distribution of most companies is to give a bonus or profit on the sum assured, irrespective of the premiums paid. The Sun Life of Canada allots its profits to policies in proportion to the premiums paid, which is considered to be the more equitable system. This accounts for the variations in the percentages of the accompanying results. The lower rates given below are, in most cases, on young lives. TO RUIN OUR FARMERS.

can multiply our frozen mutton produce immensely if we can see our way to dispose of it. In some cases we really have had to boil down large numbers of sheep because we had no market. In one property I am connected with in New South Wales you would be surprised to learn that we have had to boil down for tallow about 45,000 ewes simply because we had no market and no place to freeze them to advantage. Now all that would be quickly changed, and you can easily see that it is only a drop in the ocean compared with what we can do. Millions and millions of sheep have been boiled down in Queensland and New South Wales for their tallow. The boiling down establishments have risen like magic all over New South Wales and Queensland ,but it will not continue long when we make arrangements for cheap freight and we get ships built carrying 30,000 carcasses of mutton." Then Mr. Fraser goes on to state that the lowest rate of freight to be about three farthings a pound.

Hon. Mr. Sutton of New South Wales then said: "Our great staple industry in Australia is wool, and it is a mere question of bringing about a closer relationship between these two dependencies (Canada and Australia) to establish what will ultimately be a large trade in that commodity. You (that is, Canada) have only about 2,500,000 sheep. In the Australian colonies we have now about 125,000,000 sheep, and you can easily see that we have an enormous amount of wool at our disposal for export. * * * I have no doubt a large trade can be built up in this direction. * * * * and we may ask whether we might not establish a trade in butter for your winter months."

Mr. Lee Smith of New Zealand then stated that New Zealand could supply Canada with woollen goods, tweeds and sheepskins, frozen mutton; and Mr. Bowell said: "A slight study has convinced me that Australian mutton can be carried as far east as Chicago at a profit, and pay the American duty." The same thing can be done in Canada. Hon. Mr. Fitzgerald, Victoria, then added: "Last year the value of the exports (from Victoria) amounted to nearly one million pounds sterling in butter, and the trade is growing largely." Hon. Mr. Fraser of Australia said: "We can send you tinned meats," and speaking at the public banquet at Ottawa, given to the Australian delegates, Hon. Mr. Thynne of Queensland stated that they had an annual surplus of over 600,000 cattle, and when this scheme was carried out they would be able to deliver beef in Canada at one-fifth the present price in Canada, mutton at two cents a pound, and other agricultural products at proportionately reduced prices."

Now, we ask any fair-minded person whether Canada should use the public money of her people to pay for running vessels from Australia to Canada and England to carry Australian products to compete with our own farm products and thus ruin Canadian farming? By bad management the Government caused England to prohibit the importation of Canadian cattle into England, and now they are using Canadian money largely collected from the farmers to enable the Australians to undersell Canadian farmers in England, and even in Canada, in beef, mutton, wool, tallow, hides, pork, apples, canned meats, cheese, butter, etc. When this scheme is completed, we ask, in serious earnestness, what is to become of the Canadian farmer?

In 1887 Australasia contained 1,437,904 horses; in 1891 the number had increased to 1,771,546. In the same period the number of horned cattle increased from 8,886,796 to 11,540,634, and the number of sheep from 97,233,478 to 124,187,189: that is, in the five years in question the number of sheep alone increased by over twenty-six millions, being ten times more than all the sheep in Canada. Let it be remembered that not a sixth of the Australasian agricultural lands are yet taken up and it at once becomes apparent that the Australian farmer threatens to become the most dangerous rival in the world to the Canadian farmer

In 1892 Australasia raised 41,000,000 bushels of wheat, 16,000,000 bushels of oats and 7,370,000 bushels of corn. Recently, with the development of dairying, Australasia has begun raising pigs, and in a very brief period the number has risen to nearly a million, and already she is exporting pork.

The Australian year book for 1894 shows that Australia and Tasmania alone, not including New Zealand, exported in 1892 farm products of the following value, namely:

	Value, stg.
Butter and cheese	£ 473,810
Meats	751,609
Flour and biscuits	1,154,048
Wheat	1,100,585
Potatoes	100,981
Wool	24,032,450
Tallow	874,835
Leather	589,010
Hides	1,599,593
Timber	340,274
Live stock	2,282,794
Making	£33,202,780

or a total of over $161,000,000. Add to these figures the value of the export from New Zealand and other Australasian colonies, and one may form a slight idea of the formidable rival in the Pacific which our Government proposes to develop at the expense of the Canadian farmer.

In 1893, Victoria (in Australia) exported butter to the value of nearly $5,000,000, and speaking of the dairy prospects of New Zealand, Mr. S. Lowe is reported in the great English trade journal, the London Commerce, of a recent issue, as saying: "New Zealand has the best pastures and climate of any country in the world, and I am confident will ultimately excel all the other colonies..... .. ..The Victoria Government established a system of bounties which wrought their colony to the front. They gave money or advanced it on easy terms for the erection of factories and the putting up of machinery. The state always took the milk from the farms to the creameries free..... These aids developed the industry at a tremendously rapid rate," etc. A liberal bounty is also given on cheese exported and Mr. Lowe added: "It probably costs less to send a cargo of butter from New Zealand to London than it would from London to Manchester. New Zealand butter comes 12,000 miles for less than one penny a pound."

Frozen mutton, tallow, tinned meats and butter from Australia are now being delivered by the Canadian Government subsidized line of steamers in British Columbia, and are finding their way east to Ontario. For example,the following advertisement of a Sudbury firm of merchants tppeared in the issue of The Sudbury Times of May 2, 1894: "From Australia, ex SS. Warrimoo to Vancouver, thence by the C.P.R. transcontinental line to Sudbury direct: We herald the arrival of invoices of creamery butter from the celebrated Rosebud Creamery of Newcastle, New South Wales, also tinned meats, the products of the country. This is a sample trip, and all things commercially satisfactory, we look forward to having closer trade relations with our sister colony. It will facilitate matters greatly to know that we shall have swift transportation over the road. On the way hither: Ten cases Australian butter, four cases tinned Australian meat, one case Australian honey, one case Australian wool.'"

These are the first fruits of the new policy of the Canadian Government for developing trade with the Australian colonies, with two steamers, with a monthly service at a cost to the Canadian people for bounties of $125,000 a year. What is it likely to be five or ten years hence, with lines of steamers on the Atlantic and Pacific sustained by yearly grants o. $1,500,000 to provide cheap carriage for beef, mutton, pork, tallow, lard, wol, cheese, butter, apples, breadstuffs and other agricultural products from Australia and New Zealand to Canada and Great Britain?

The total exports of Canadian farm products to Australasia even with all the proposed expenditure amount to less than forty dollars a year.

HORSES AND HORSE-RACING.

Interpretation of a Much-Vexed Clause —Elements that shall Enter into the Judgment of Horses at Provincial Shows—Speed not to be the Sole Merit.

The following circular has been issued by the Department of Agriculture.

Several applications having been made to this department by various agricultural societies for an interpretation of section 29 of the Agricultural and Arts Act, 1895, the following decision is given to the officers and directors for their guidance as being the evident intention of the Legislature when passing the Act:—

By section 9 of the said Act, the object of such societies as relating to live stock, is confined to two things: (a) the purchase or importation of valuable animals; and (b) awarding premiums for excellence in the raising of stock, etc. Sub-section 3 of this section declares that none of the funds shall be expended for any purpose inconsistent with the above.

The opinion of the Legislature, as expressed in section 29, was that horse racing as ordinarily conducted, is inconsistent with the objects above set forth. It is presumed, therefore, in awarding premiums for light horses of any class that form, soundness and style shall always be considered as well as speed, and that no horse shall be placed first for speed alone. If in the judgment of the officers or judges it is deemed desirable to test the speed of the contesting horses, it is competent under this clause to do so, but the prizes must in every case be awarded on general excellence, as possessing the above characteristics. Neither is it intended that purses shall be prepared of offerings from owners of contesting horses, but that premiums shall be offered in the ordinary way.

It is hoped that the operation of this clause will do away with the professional race horse at our agricultural shows, and tend to promote the development and encourage the breeding of sound, stylish, right-stepping horses, so much in demand in the great horse markets of the world.

Minister of Agriculture.

EXPERIMENTING IN WHEAT SAMPLES.

Satisfactory Results Obtained by Robt. Benwick, of Harvey.

Mr. Robert Renwick, Harvey, who has been experimenting in samples of winter wheat, secured from the Experimental Farm, Guelph, called at the EXAMINER on Saturday. Last fall the officials sent him two sets of wheat, five of each variety, and he took first choice. The following is a list of the report of the yield: Jone's Winter Fife made a yield of 18 lbs.; American Bronze, 15 lbs.; Early Red Clossen, 20 lbs.; Surprise, 17 lbs.; Dawson Golden Chaff, 17 lbs. Total, 96 lbs. from three pounds planted.

Mr. Renwick states that the different samples got a fair start and no more. The land grew a flax crop the year before and the soil was a sandy loam. He has prepared a report and forwarded it to Guelph. It is, he states, a very fair yield for this year.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

LIVE NEWS FROM MONTREAL.

Double Drowning at L'Orignal—A Row in the Montreal Synagogue — Poor Crops and Stagnation in Trade Reported in Britain.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—There is considerable of a rumpus here just now in one of the Jewish congregations, the same being presided over by Rabbi Friedlander. The last-named has been administering to the congregation for 13 years, but it appears the worshippers can dispense with the services of their rabbi by giving sufficient notice. This has been done, although there is a minority in the church in question that will not hear of Rabbi Friedlander's departure, and hence the present difficulty. It is believed, however, that the Jewish minister will resign in a week or so. The chief complaint is that Rabbi Friedlander does not visit enough, and that his wife does not pay sufficient attention to the congregation.

Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, has returned from a short trip to England. Mr. Clouston informs your correspondent that the latest reports indicated a poor crop in the United Kingdom, and that business, especially the iron trade, is pretty dull.

"How is money?" asked the correspondent.

"It is a drug," replied the general manager, "yet they want the very best security before parting with it."

The African gold fever being referred to, Mr. Clouston said that some of the people seem to have gone crazy over these mines, and allege them to be of the greatest value, although the banker added that, as far as he was concerned, he could not enthuse much over them.

Mr. Clouston says that the business men of London believe Lord Salisbury has been able to form one of the strongest administrations England has had for many years. He also said that the great influx of Americans to London has brought joy to the hearts of the West End shopkeepers, who claim to be doing a better business than for a long time past.

The new Merryweather fire engine which the city of Toronto purchased in London, Eng., through Mr. Walter Wonham of this city, has reached Montreal and will be tested on the Champ de Mars Wednesday afternoon. Those who have seen the engine which is destined for the Queen City say that it is a superior one in every respect. Col. Stevenson, chairman of the Fire Committee, and Mr. Benoit, chief of the Montreal fire department, and a number of other gentlemen, including insurance men, will be on hand to witness the first test of Toronto's beautiful engine on Canadian soil.

The monthly meeting of the Canadian Pacific directors took place today, Sir W. Van Horne, T. G. Shaughnessy, Hon. George Kirkpatrick, R. B. Angus, E. B. Osler, S. B. Harris and W. D. Matthews being present.

Hon. Senator Landry, the leading writer in Hon. Mr. Angers' organ, Le Moniteur de Levis, continues to treat the French-Canadian Ministers, Caron and Ouimet, and all others who do not see eye to eye with the ex-Minister of Agriculture, as traitors and renegades.

Two young men named Gauthier and Larose were drowned at L'Orignal yesterday afternoon.

Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, the new president of the Grand Trunk, is expected here in a few days.

Buffalo Policy Players Establish Headquarters in Canadian Towns

Buffalo, Aug. 13.—An evening newspaper (Enquirer) announces a new policy game operating with headquarters in Canada. The policy sharks who infested Buffalo for so many years were to a great extent broken up this year by police persecution, as the sharks termed it. Then one of the big firms established a headquarters at Fort Erie, Ont., and conducted their drawings there, but sold most of the slips in Buffalo and adjoining towns. This invasion of the Queen's domain worked so well that another policy firm has been established, and drawings are conducted daily at Niagara Falls, Ont., which, by the way, is the headquarters of the Ontario police, and the official residence of the stipendiary magistrate of the Niagara district. The name of this new policy game is "Ontario and Quebec." Two rows of figures are drawn each morning and afternoon, one column being named Ontario and the other Quebec, each column being headed by the abbreviations of those names. Tickets for these drawings are being sold openly in this city and the promoters contend that the operation is perfectly legal.

TEN YEARS IN FLIGHT

Price Saw a Detective in Every Stranger He Met.

RETURNING HOME TO A PRISON CELL

After Forging Notes He Had Wandered All Over Canada and the Western States in Fear — Conscience Stricken He Returns to Take His Punishment

Middletown, Aug. 13.—George Sandford Price fled from Goshen, this county, in 1885, to escape arrest for forgery. He returned Friday night, broken down and worried almost into insanity, and gave himself up to the authorities.

In 1885, Price, who comes of one of the first families of Orange County, was a temperance lecturer of note. He had married a Miss Seeley of Chester, a belle of the county, and the two were living happily together. In an evil hour Price forged two notes, one for $200 on his friend Charles A. Reeves, and one for $500 on James Mapes and Charles M. Thompson, both dead. The First National Bank of this city cashed them and had to make them good.

Price fled, and at the end of the September term of court was indicted for forgery in the third degree. His wife and children went to her parents at Chester.

On Friday at 11 p.m. Sheriff Beakes was awakened by violent ringing at his door bell, but found no one outside. Half an hour later Constable Landy was summoned to the Union House to meet a man anxious to see him. It was Price, and he broke into tears as he informed the constable that he had returned to give himself up. The constable had no warrant for him, but told him to go to bed. On Saturday the constable procured a bench warrant from District Attorney Hirschbergh, and on it the willing prisoner was locked up. He secured ex-Congressman Bacon for counsel, and will be tried at the September term of the Supreme Court.

Price informed the sheriff that he had gone directly to Canada on leaving here, and being closely followed by detectives had moved all over the Dominion and down through the western states to Mexico, spending some time at Los Angeles, Cal. For five years he lived on a ranch in Nebraska, and fled from there one night on the arrival of a stranger. He eluded detectives, he says, at every turn, until he was bordering on insanity. He once came as far east as Pennsylvania to give himself up, but was too much ashamed to do so and went west again.

Reeves, whose name he forged, called on him last night, and after he had gone Price said he could get bail, but didn't want it.

Self-Confessed Forger Discharged.

London, Aug. 13.—Charles Augustus Grady, a private in the Lincolnshire Regiment, who was recently arrested on his own confession that he had forged the name of his former employer, Edgar Madock, of No. 44 Sixth-street, Philadelphia, to cheques on the Commercial National Bank for $900, was brought up on remand in the Bow-street Extradition Court to-day and discharged from custody. The American Embassy made no application for his extradition.

HAYHURST'S TRIUMPHAL TOUR.

Montreal Reads Him a Congratulatory Address and Escorts Him to the Station With a Band.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 12.—The reception to Private Hayhurst to-night was a splendid affair. A band of music escorted the hero of the day with many friends to the Drill Hall, where elaborate preparations had been made to receive and honor the winner of the Queen's prize. Cheers greeted Mr. Hayhurst's arrival, and Col. Starke immediately read an address which dwelt upon the fact that the great prize had come to Canada this year for the first time, and that Private Hayhurst, of the 13th, was the winner.

The marksman's reply was short, yet it was to the point, and elicited hearty cheers.

Speeches were also made by Hon. Judge Davidson, Col. Starke, Col. Stevenson, Col. Hood and others, and all of them dwelt upon the fact that the Canadian marksmen must be provided with long ranges, and that Snider rifles must be replaced by a more modern arm.

Cheers for the Queen and Private Hayhurst concluded the proceedings, and the Hamilton party were driven to the Bonaventure depot, where they took the 10.30 train for Toronto.

BOWELL AND LAURIER "PUPPETS."

They Bob Up and Down as Quebec Pulls the String, Says Rev Mr Clendenning Ottawa Notes.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—The church parade of Orangemen and Young Britons to-day was largely attended. Rev. Mr. Clendenning preached the anniversary sermon in Bell-street Methodist church. Speaking of the Manitoba school question, he said partyism had defiled politics and corrupted the electorate. Messrs. Bowell and Laurier, he said, are both puppets who bob up and down as Quebec pulls the strings. He hoped the school question might not lead to bloodshed, but prayed that Manitoba would never yield.

Nearly two thousand people witnessed the baseball match in Hull to-day between the local team and a nine from Montreal. There was a brass band and all other accessories of holiday enjoyments.

A burglar entered Lapointe's hotel in the suburbs Saturday night. He was a clumsy fellow, and while working at the till upset a coal oil lamp and set fire to the place. Then, being severely burned, he yelled for help, was caught and jailed. The fire was extinguished without much damage.

Winnipeg, Aug. 11.—The Provincial Cabinet met Saturday, but no action was taken on the school question.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT

Opening of the First Session Yesterday.

WAITED HOURS TO CHOOSE SEATS

Speaker Gully Unanimously Re-Elected—Hearty Receptions Accorded to the Leaders of the Parties—Mr. Chamberlain Greeted With Groans by the Irish

London, Aug. 13.—The fourteenth Parliament of Queen Victoria opened yesterday with customary ceremonies.

Prior to the formal opening of the House there were the usual contests among the members for the seats they will occupy during the session. Mr. Hatch was the first of the members to arrive. He reached the House at 5 o'clock in the morning and sat at the door for an hour before it was opened. He was followed at 6.30 by Mr. Ashcroft. Before 9.30 30 seats had been reserved on the Government benches by members placing their hats in them, the custom that is always followed. The Opposition did not display great eagerness to obtain seats, as at 9.30 they had secured only six.

The House was crowded with an animated throng of members when at 2 o'clock the yeoman usher of the Black Rod requested the attendance of the House of Commons in the House of Lords to hear the reading of the Royal Commission and the proclamation opening the session of Parliament. Many members of the House of Commons went to hear the reading. After their return to their own House the senior clerk arose and pointed to Sir J. Mowbray, who had been selected to move the re-election of Mr. William Court Gully as Speaker of the House.

At that moment the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, and the Right Hon. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer in the last Administration, arrived together and took their seats, Mr. Balfour on a front Government bench, and Sir William on a front bench on the opposite side of the House. As they entered they were greeted with cheers by their respective followers. Immediately thereafter the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, the leader of the Liberal-Unionists, entered, and was loudly cheered by the Government supporters, while groans ascended from members occupying the Irish benches.

The scene was a brilliant one. The sun streamed through the windows of the House, changing its usual dull aspect into one of light and warmth. The diplomats', strangers' and ladies' galleries were crowded with distinguished visitors, who watched the proceedings with close attention.

Sir John Mowbray, in moving the re-election of Speaker Gully, said that he rejoiced that Mr. Gully would be re-elected without a dissenting voice. Sir John Mowbray extolled Mr. Gully's impartiality, vigilance and promptitude, and his courtesy to every member of the House. He asked the House to elect Mr. Gully, who was an able and conscientious man, irrespective of party considerations.

Mr. John E. Ellis, Liberal-Unionist, seconded the motion, and Mr. Gully was then formally re-elected without opposition.

Mr. Gully thanked the House for the honor it had conferred upon him, and especially in being proposed by both the Government parties and the Opposition. Continuing, he said that to be impartial was the least difficult though the most important duty of the Speaker. He looked, in his general conduct in the chair, to that spirit of justice and good sense which always distinguished the House in its relations with the chair.

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Gully's remarks, Mr. Balfour, in the name of the House, congratulated him upon his re-election.

The commission appointed to read the Royal Proclamation consisted of Lord Halsbury, the Lord Chancellor, and Lords Coventry, Limerick, Cross and Balfour of Burleigh. They were all attired in scarlet and ermine robes and were seated in front of the Throne when the yeoman usher of the Black Rod led in the House of Commons to the bar, where the proclamation was read. Lord Chancellor Halsbury said that when the legislators were sworn in Her Majesty would declare why Parliament had been summoned.

The Lord Chancellor appointed noon to-morrow as the time for the Speaker of the House of Commons to present himself at the bar of the House of Lords to receive the Royal approval of his re-election.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt also congratulated Mr. Gully, after which, at 3.20 o'clock the House adjourned. The House of Lords adjourned after several of its members had inscribed their names on the roll of the new Parliament.

Supplementary Estimates.

London, Aug. 12.—The Government has intimated to the Opposition leaders their intention to submit to Parliament at an early date a supplementary estimate for small arm ammunition, in accordance with the opinion the expression of which by a vote in the House of Commons was the means of overthrowing the late Government. The Times to-morrow will say that inquiries made since the formation of the Unionist Government show that the criticisms of William St. John Broderick, who made the motion upon which the Government was defeated, were fully justified. The Ministers, the paper will further say, have facts and figures to prove the impregnability of their position.

The Daily News says that it learns that the Government will propose an addition of sixty thousand pounds to the army estimates, for the purchase of cordite, and that a lively debate on the subject is expected.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. THE HEAD OF OUR MILITIA.

Major-General Herbert has resigned, has been highly honoured by his Sovereign, and a new man is about to reign in his stead, and we will all hope that he will achieve success. But there is no disguising the fact that the officers who have been sent over here lately to command our militia have not had a nice time of it. For the main part they seem to have failed to understand the political side of our militia problem. Sometimes, too, they have mistaken the character of the militia itself. But where they have principally missed it is in neglecting to reckon in the party politician. The "Canadian Military Gazette," in discussing this problem, proposes a scheme whereby the G.O.C. would get a chance to become familiar with our military conditions before assuming the responsibility of that high office. "Let the General Officer Commanding, the Adjutant-General, the Quartermaster-General, be army of officers, holding each appointment in succession for five years," it says. "First let an officer be appointed Quartermaster-General for five years, then promote him to be Adjutant-General for another five years, then G.O.C. for a third five years, and so on in succession." By this means the G.O.C. would not come into his command until he had had ten years' experience, at least, in the Canadian militia.

The "Military Gazette" adds that "there are now a number of Canadians, graduates of the Royal Military College, Kingston, in the army, who have passed through the staff college, and are eligible for the appointment of Q.M.G., it would be but a very few years, were this system adopted, before all of these officers—Q.O.C., A.G., and Q.M.G.—might be Canadians." It would certainly be a good thing if we could combine a native knowledge of local conditions with a thorough training in the Imperial Army. In the meantime, the new commander, Major-General Gascoigne, is coming to us with a good reputation, and all Canadians will wish him well.

GREAT BRITAIN, we are told, is stated by the Investors' Journal to be insolvent. This pleases the Tory press and doubtless Sir Charles Tupper. The Montreal Gazette rejoices over the statement because England is a free trade country. But it also vouchsafes the information that there is a healthy tone about the latest British Board of Trade returns. The July imports show an increase of £3,290,000 and the exports one of £2,160,000 compared with July, 1894. This does not look as though insolvency was a necessary companion of free trade. What a contrast with Canada and her precious protection!

THERE is much dissatisfaction expressed in the Province of Quebec at the vacancy in the Cabinet caused by the resignation of Mr. Angers. It is claimed that the French Canadians are entitled to a third representative in the Cabinet, and Le Monde fears that Sir Mackenzie Bowell may keep the office vacant until January, the alleged date of the next session. Le Monde expresses the opinion that a law should be passed to prevent this kind of thing. It would not be desirable to govern the condition and formation of the Cabinet by act of Parliament. And an act like this would be valueless with such an unscrupulous administration as exists at present. It has defied the Constitutional Act and disregards alike the law and every point of political honour. It would not not be influenced by any such law as Le Monde suggests.

To see the three great traditional enemies in Europe joining their forces and laying aside mutual antipathies for the purpose of partitioning China would, perhaps, not be altogether an edifying sight. Yet they might be worse employed. China is a "question" which has to be settled, and the three powers alone are capable of settling it, and a calm European statesman has lately said that it is highly possible that the present outbreak in China may pave the way to political adventures in Asia upon a mammoth scale, and European powers break down the feeble government of an outworn civilization and force each for itself a roadway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, always open and available. For Great Britain such a programme naturally has a strong fascination for it would actually complete her girdle around the Northern Hemisphere. Civilization would in no way suffer from such a course.

AN American named Stern got himself into trouble in Germany the other day. He refused to conform with the rules of a dance hall into which he had introduced his young son. These rules forbade the presence of young men under a certain age. To most men of respectability such a regulation would be as good as a sign board in the way of warning them to keep off the premises. The American abroad, however, is a peculiar creature. He claims a latitude not even allowed him in his own country. It is sufficient for him that he is a citizen of the great and glorious Republic, and any objection to his walking all over the customs and habits of a foreign country is met with the defiant assertion, "I am an American citizen." That a man is an American citizen does not entitle him to make himself offensive abroad is a matter frequently overlooked by Americans of a certain class. In the particular case referred to Mr. Stern became abusive and obnoxious, the result being that he was sentenced to a fine and two weeks' imprisonment. He complained to the American Consul, who, probably thoroughly ashamed of his countryman, declined to interfere, so Mr. Stern will pay the penalty for his impertinence and insolent conduct, and most people will agree that it serves him right.

CANOEISTS AT LAKE CHAMPLAIN.

The Big A. C. A. Meet Will Most Likely Come North Next Year.

Friday canoeists assembled from all parts of the United States and Canada at Bluff Point, a magnificent camping ground on Lake Champlain, about four miles south of Plattsburg. This site had been kindly offered the Association by the management of the Hotel Champlain, which is about three-quarters of a mile to the north of the camp, upon the summit of Bluff Point. The location is a charming one, and possesses many advantages in its immediate surroundings, magnificent scenery, arrangements for general mess, transportation facilities, sailing and paddling water.

Tents were pitched on a gently sloping plateau, about eight feet above the lake, in the edge of the woods, extending back half a mile from the shore. These woods are really one of the features of the camp.

The meet of the American Canoe Association is the event of the year. It is simply a good camping out time. The gathering of from 150 to 200 jolly fellows, and a score of ladies, makes things lively while it lasts. Every night the canoe men gather round the camp fire, and that is the time and place to get "points" about the sport.

A brief description of the surroundings of the A.C.A. camp will be of interest. The St. Lawrence Basin is a network of lakes and waterways. In the common atlases, which do not contain any large scale maps of the United States or Canada, only the giants of the great chain, like Michigan and Ontario, are entered in any detail. Mere ponds of 100 miles long, like Lake Champlain, are just indicated by a shapeless mass of blue. When one actually visits the St. Lawrence Valley he finds that its lakes may literally be numbered not by hundreds only, but by thousands. It is this tangled interlocking of land and water that gives the St. Lawrence half its charm and beauty. For the most part it is a flat basin, but here the nature of the ground is very different. This is the one bit of the St. Lawrence region that may fairly be called hilly or mountainous. On the side of the New York State the green tops of the Adirondacks rise to a vast height. On the other side, in Vermong, the Green Mountains attain even a greater elevation. Between these two parallel chains lies a deep cleft or hollow, and in the centre of that hollow the water supplied by the torrents that scar the shoulders of the mountains on either side gathers together in a great sheet that bears the name of Champlain.

The location this year is particularly well adapted for canoeing purposes, and especially convenient for Canadians and the men of the Eastern division, which includes all of New England. Last year the Eastern Division men were sadly conspicuous by their absence, but this season Paul Butler, of the Vesper Canoe Club, Lowell, Mass., has had a return of his old-time enthusiasm and is in for canoeing this season for all he is worth, and in the sailing trophy race he will meet his old rival, Charles E. Archbald, the plucky Canadian, whom he defeated in the races for the New York Canoe Club's International Challenge Cup. This event ought to be one of the most interesting features of the meet.

In all likelihood the meet next year will be held at either Chemong, Stony Lake, or Rice Lake and in consequence Canadians are taking even a greater interest this year than usual in the proceedings and are attending camp in large numbers.

It speaks well for an article when the longer it is used the better it is liked. Such is the case with Ayer's Hair Vigor. People who have been using it for years, could not be induced to try any other dressing for the hair.

INSURED FOR $60 AND MURDERED

A 10-Year-Old Boy Killed for the Small Insurance on His Life.

Washington, Aug. 12.—This afternoon Charles Hammond, 27 years old, and Rose Hammond, aged 28, both colored, were arrested on suspicion of having murdered Campbell Hall, a 10-year-old step-brother of Hammond's. The boy was insured in the Metropolitan Insurance Company for $60 and in two other insurance associations for small sums. An autopsy this evening developed the fact that his death was not due to natural causes. An inquest will be held to-morrow.

It is said by the police that some months since another boy who lived with the couple died suddenly and under mysterious circumstances. It is believed his life was insured for $200.

PAID INSURANCE ON A LIVING MAN.

The Companies Had to Pay Though They Believed the Man Not Dead.

Kansas City, Aug. 12.—The long fight between the insurance companies which carried policies on the life of Dr. W. G. Fraker and the beneficiaries, was terminated to-day, when the last of Fraker's insurance was paid, amounting, with interest, to $32,474.94.

Fraker disappeared two years ago, but the officers of the insurance companies do not believe he is dead. The United States Courts have decided that he is and that the companies can do nothing but obey the order of the court.

DRAIN ON THE GOLD RESERVE.

The Question of Maintaining the $100,000,000 Limit Again to the Fore.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The drain upon the gold reserve of the Treasury seemed to have begun in earnest to-day, when the officials were advised of the withdrawal of $1,650,000 from the Sub-Treasury at New York for exports. This condition of affairs has occasioned much speculation as to the means that the Administration will employ to maintain the gold reserve or replenish it should the probable withdrawals reduce it below the amount which it is deemed necessary for the Government to hold. It may be stated almost authoritatively that as between another issue of bonds and the calling of an extra session of Congress the former will be resorted to.

To-day's withdrawals were the largest on any one day since the contract with the Belmont-Morgan syndicate went into effect last February. They reduce the gold in the United States Treasury to $101,302,363, or a loss of more than $6,000,000 from the highest point it reached after the syndicate had made its final payment last month.

A TORONTO WOMAN'S STORY.

Mrs. Hartwell, One of the Victims, Tells of the Chengtu Riots.

New York, Aug. 12.—A Victoria, B.C., special, says: Mrs. Hartwell of Toronto, one of the victims of the Chengtu riots in May, arrived from China yesterday on her way home. She says: "Chinese authorities are now over-anxious to make money reparation for the injuries inflicted, although the attacks upon the missions were deliberately planned by the Governor of Sechuen Province, and carried out under directions of his officials.

"Rev. Dr. Hart, the head of the Canadian Methodist party, is now at Pekin strengthening the hands of the British Minister in pushing claims. The French have intimated that they will not be satisfied with a mere bill of damages. The tombs of two missionaries were violated during the riots and this cannot be lightly forgiven. The members of the Go Low Whey were the actual perpetrators. The Go Low Whey is a society throughout China that is silently working for the exclusion of foreigners and the undermining of the present dynasty. The Vegetarians, responsible for the Hwasang massacre, are a branch.

"There was no preventing the Chengtu riots. The very day before the people of the four missions walked about the city freely and did not hear a word to alarm them. The feast of the fifth month was made the excuse for the assembling of the rioters, and during the festivities the walls were placarded that Dr. Stevenson, the head of the Mision Hospital work, had been killing Chinese children for the laboratory experiments. Then came the attack upon mission homes, their looting and destruction by fire, inmates escaping with their lives, to be thrown into prison for inciting the disturbance of which they were the innocent victims.

"The British Consul has displayed exceptional vigor in prosecuting the demand for reparation, and Minister Denby acted wisely in placing the American interests also in his hands."

Cyclone in Pennsylvania.

Norristown, Pa., Aug. 13.—A terrible windstorm struck Conshohocken at 2 o'clock this morning, doing considerable damage. Twenty houses had their roofs blown off. In West Conshohocken the cyclone played havoc, demolishing everything it came in contact with.

"Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?" asks Macbeth. Certainly, my lord; the condition of the mind depends largely, if not solely, on the condition of the stomach, liver and bowels, for all of which complaints Ayer's Pills are "the sovereignest thing on earth."

SUICIDE OF A CHILD.

A 9-Year-Old Boy Deliberately Takes Rough-on-Rats.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 13.—Leroy Cardiff, aged 9, committed suicide last night by taking a heavy dose of "Rough on Rats." His mother recently obtained a divorce from her husband upon sensational grounds, and the little boy left a note saying that he could no longer stand the taunts of his playmates about it. Ex-Mayor Maxwell G. Cardiff, the boy's father, is a prominent attorney of this city, and has served three years in the State Legislature.

Stabbed His Brother to the Heart.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—Last Saturday night Patrick and Dennis Morgan, brothers, employed in the Laurel Hill mines, became involved in a quarrel. Dennis stabbed his brother in the heart, causing instant death. Dennis is in a critical condition from stabs inflicted by Patrick and may die of his injuries.

Shot Wife and Self.

Wilmot, S.D., Aug. 13.—Dr. J. H. Whitford, a prominent physician of this city, while temporarily insane, yesterday shot and killed his wife and then ended his own life.

Fed His Daughter Ground Glass.

Stratford, Ont., Aug. 12.—Christian Erb was arrested yesterday and this morning was given a preliminary hearing at the Police Court, charged with administering deleterious food, in the shape of ground glass to members of his family. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded. Erb's daughter is still seriously ill, supposed to be from the above cause.

Shot Dead by Texas Whitecaps.

Paris, Texas, Aug. 12.—William Stevens, a negro farmer near Pacio, Delta County, who received a whitecap notice to leave and failed to obey, was called to his door last night and shot dead.

Brutal Murder by a Hired Man.

Shelby, Ia., Aug. 12.—Mrs. Wilhelm Kruger, wife of a prosperous farmer near here, was shot and beaten to death last night by her nephew, Herman Kohaupt, 18 years of age, who had been working as hired man for the Krugers. The murderer then cut his throat with a razor, inflicting a wound which must have resulted in almost instant death.

COUNTERFEITERS AT LINDSAY.

A Mint in Manvers Township Raided—Four of the Principals Under Arrest.

Lindsay, Aug. 13.—Four members of a family named Murphy were arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by the County Police Magistrate. They are charged with uttering and having in their possession counterfeit coin and the plan for manufacturing the same. Warrants were sworn out by the Dominion police officials last week, and a search of the premises situate on the 14th concession of Manvers Township resulted in the finding of tools, dies and a quantity of counterfeit money. Warrants are out for two other members of the family.

The prisoners were remanded in order to allow the Crown to secure further evidence.

Began Bills in Quebec.

Quebec, Aug. 13.—Forty-six counterfeit five-dollar bills of La Banque du Peuple and of the Quebec Bank have fallen into the hands of city detectives. A man named Gilbert has been arrested charged with circulating the bills, and more arrests are expected shortly. The bills are designed with pen and ink and are passable as to workmanship.

PLEASE LET US SEE IT

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Just now, nothing seems impossible in the line of economy. But the TRUTH about low values is hard to comprehend. Anything less than ALL the facts concerning OUR goods and their values would be unjust to the public.

You cannot always buy so many kinds of goods at and below cost as we offer you now. Your best economy is to invest your money in wisely selected goods at present prices at this store. Listen :—

Action should be taken immediately in regard to the condition of George street. Leaving it in the condition in which it now is should result in the hauling of those in charge over the coals. ROWDYISM AT BRIDGENORTH.

A Crowd of Roughs Attempt to Raise a Disturbance—A Disgraceful Attempt to Spoil the Day's Demonstration.

The Derry Day demonstration at Bridgenorth yesterday under the auspices of the Loyal True Blues of that village passed off very successfully during the day, but a disgraceful occurrence in the evening brought the day's festivities to an unpleasant ending.

During the afternoon a gang of rowdies, who evidently were bent on mischief, arrived at Kelly's grove and began to make things rather unpleasant for the committee having the demonstration in hand. As the afternoon wore on they became more boisterous, and being pretty well under the influence of liquor their actions, to say the least, bordered on the disgraceful.

Towards evening they gathered near the opening to Chemong Park, in close proximity to the hotel, and began using abusive and insulting language towards those about the house, causing considerable annoyance to the proprietor, as well as the guests and park residents.

Finally a free fight began, and how it started is a mystery. A number of the roughs with blood in their eyes endeavoured to create a disturbance on the hotel verandah, and Mr. Scott, bus driver, who attempted to quiet the noisy ones, was pounced upon by a number of the cowards and pretty badly beaten about the face.

During the struggle Mr. Scott was kicked in the face by an Indian, who afterwards took to his heels and escaped from the park.

Mr. Will Fobert was also roughly used in his attempt to restore order, his face bearing a few marks as the result of the struggle.

To the credit of the gentlemen in charge of the day's demonstration, be it said that they were in no way to blame for this disgraceful affair. The participants came to the village with the intention of raising a disturbance, and were not members of any visiting lodge, nor were they connected in any way with the organizations present.

The affair will likely be ventilated in the courts, as the Park authorities and those connected with the hotel are bound to have the matter investigated, and the individuals who raised the disturbance summarily dealt with.

BEAVER, the old reliable gentleman's chew, can now be had in thin plugs. Refuse cheap imitations. dlm

A New Door Lock.

Mr. J. C. Craig, of Kinmount, has been here for the past ten days arranging with the Peterborough Lock Company for the manufacture of a new line of door locks, with three different movements patented in July, 1895. The Peterborough Lock Company has entered into an agreement which was signed to-day to pay a royalty on each lock for an exclusive right to manufacture in Canada. The patents are granted for 17 years and the royalty exists for that time. The movements of these locks are the finest that ever went into a lock case and the decision of professional locksmiths is that they are the finest piece of mechanism ever know in the history of locks and the inventor appears to have wiped out all hope of any future improvements ever being made by mortal man. The inventor has no hesitation in saying that these locks are so perfect and so rapid a movement that their intrinsic merit will warrant him in saying they are the finest ever placed on the market and in a very short time they will be known from one end of the Dominion to the other. The gates of patterns are under way to produce the goods and the latest style of engraving is to be used in illustrating the lock for the company's catalogue.

DERRY DAY AT LINDSAY.

A Successful Demonstration at Lindsay Yesterday.

Yesterday being the anniversary of the closing of the Gates of Derry, was becomingly celebrated by the loyal brethren of Lindsay and surrounding country. The weather was all that could be desired, and the town was crowded. The line of march was through the principal streets, thence to the spacious skating rink, where addresses were delivered by prominent members of the order. At the close of the speaking in the skating rink, the brethern marched to the market square, where a drill contest took place for a $20 gold piece. The day passed off very quietly, not a single person being observed under the influence of liquor.

The members of the local 'Prentice Boys Lodge, as well as the lodges of True Blues and Col. Sanderson's Ulster Heroes L. O. L., took in the demonstration and report it a grand success.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are procative of feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly, and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Corn Extractor.

MR. GRAHAM WEIR EXPLAINS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I was very much surprised to read in this week's EXAMINER your attack upon Mr. C. W. Sawers, under cover of a resolution passed at the June semi-annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge, held at Lakefield. Had I been present at that meeting I feel sure I could have explained the matter to the satisfaction of not only the wounded officers, but of all present.

Kindly allow me the use of your columns to correct the statement made by you respecting Bro. Sawers. Last November the members of L. O. L. No. 321 decided to have their new hall, at Downer's Corners, dedicated, and the managing committee of which I was a member, invited Grand Master Wallace to perform the ceremony and Bro. Sawers to give an address. Bro. Wallace, shortly before the day appointed, wrote that it would be impossible for him to come. The lodge, thereupon, held a meeting and unanimously decided to ask Bro. Sawers to perform the ceremony, and at the lodge's request the Grand Master issued a dispensation to him for that purpose. This is one of the officious acts complained of.

Last May L.O.L. No 419 of North Smith, advertised the dedication of their new hall for the 24th, and that lodge also invited and expected the Grand Master to officiate, but he was unable to attend. The dedicating committee came to town on the Saturday before the 24th to arrange for the ceremony. They told me of their disappointment in not having a Grand Lodge official to officiate, and after talking the matter over they decided to ask Bro. Sawers (who was to be one of the speakers) which they did, and another dispensation was obtained at their request for him from the Grand Master, and which is the other matter complained of.

Mr. Editor, upon reading the above explanation, you will see that you have made a great big mountain out of a very small mole hill. For his devotion to the Orange Order Bro. Sawers deserves the thanks of his brethren in this county.

Yours very truly,
J. GRAHAM WEIR,
P. C. Master.

Otonabee, Aug. 10, 1895.

[Mr. Weir's explanations are doubtless most satisfactory to both Mr. Sawers and himself, but there are those who will be unkind enough to wish to know why, if the statements made are correct, that they were not made to the County Lodge instead of to the EXAMINER. The resolution was passed by the County Lodge, and to it the explanation is due. The censure reads as follows :

"Whereas duties appertaining to the office of a County or Past County Master have recently been performed by Bro. C. W. Sawers, and, whereas, said Bro. Sawers has never filled the honourable position of County Master; and whereas such a course is calculated to reflect on the ability and integrity of those Brothers who have worthily and acceptably filled those offices. Be it therefore resolved that this County Lodge respectfully inform the Grand Master that we have good, efficient and worthy brothers who have filled or are now filling the various offices of the County and District, and to suggest to him that it would conduce to the peace, prosperity and harmony of the Order here to have all such duties assigned to the proper officers in future."—Carried.

The County Lodge is in all probability fully as well acquainted with the facts of the case as is Mr. J. Graham Weir, and if the members do not see fit to rescind what is practically a vote of censure, the EXAMINER naturally will stand by what it has said regarding the officiousness of Mr. Sawers in the matter. As long as the resolution stands on the books, it is an existing testimony as to the opinion in which Mr. Sawers is held by his Orange brethren and the opinion is not one of which to be proud.]

SOME CORRESPONDENCE.

A NUMBER OF LETTERS FROM THE CITIZENS.

A Trip to Niagara Falls and Another to Parry Sound—The Band and the Bicyclists.

MR. EDITOR,—Having just returned from a delightful trip I thought an account of it might interest your readers. Our party was at Niagara.

Threading its way in the shadow of the great cliffs which confine the current of the mighty Niagara, close enough to the water's edge to be almost in the spray of the frolicsome rapids, and passing through the scenes of events which have become famous in history, the new electric railroad (claimed to be the best built and safest in the world), just finished for the Niagara Falls & Lewiston Railroad Company, adds the greatest of all attractions, perhaps, to the gorge of the Niagara River and its world-famous sights.

The Niagara Falls and Lewiston Railroad connects closely at the Falls with all the great American and Canadian trunk lines, the steam and electric roads and boats to Buffalo, and the Niagara Navigation Company's fine steamers to Niagara-on-the-lake, and Toronto. It begins at the great observation tower and hotel opposite Prospect Park in Niagara Falls, from which a magnificent view of the entire Falls region is obtained. The tower is 300 feet high, and stands but a short distance from the Upper Rapids and the American Falls. Within the range of vision from this view point lie the Horse Shoe, or Canadian Falls, the American Falls, Prospect Park, Victoria Park on the Canadian side, Goat Island, the Three Sisters Island, Lundy's Lane, the great suspension bridges over Niagara's gorge, Brock's monument, Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, Buffalo, Grand Island, St. Catharines and Toronto. The view is incomparable. Nature has crowded more into this area of the wealth of her attractions than can be found elsewhere on this planet, and to view the Falls region properly one should first observe the surroundings from the tower. Then with the picture in one's mind, (the ride down into the gorge along the precipitous side of the rocky cliff, through the spray of the dashing rapids, close to the brink of the sullen whirlpool and on through unsurpassed scenery to picturesque Lewiston, the beholder gets an impression of the grandeur and the glories of Niagara that is unobtainable elsewhere.

The ride beside that rushing torrent of leaping waters is a thrilling experience. On one side the great rapids are lashing against huge submerged rocks and dashing 20 or 30 feet in the air; on the other side is a frowning wall of solid rock, 200 or 300 feet high. On the one side noise and tumult and frolic; on the other sublimity and grandeur. The Whirlpool Rapids are somewhat more than a mile long and pour into the Whirlpool with a long sweep as if to take breath for the final rush through the gorge below, into the wide and tranquil river. It was in the Whirlpool Rapids that Capt. Webb lost his life in a foolish attempt to swim them; and the first steamer to navigate the stream below the Falls was hidden from view completely when she made her famous run through the Rapids and along the outer edge of the whirlpool to Lake Ontario many years ago.

The Whirlpool, as seen from the Niagara Falls & Lewiston Railroad, puts on a new aspect. Seen from the cliffs high above it, the turbulent maelstrom loses half of its picturesqueness, half of its evidences of relentless force. Only 20 feet above the level of the pool, the visitor by this route gets the only correct impression of this great natural phenomenon.

Brock's monument is silhouetted against the sky, and the long swinging cables and old gray stone towers of the first suspension bridge that ever spanned the Niagara gorge, add to the interesting surroundings. Of greater moment than all these, however, is the Devil's Hole, where on September 14, 1763, occurred a famous massacre. At the top of the cliff an English provision train guarded by a small detachment of soldiers, was ambuscaded by a horde of Indians. Out of about 90 men all but three were either butchered or driven over the precipice. Horses, wagons and all ran pell mell over the cliff. One drummer boy named Matthews escaped death by falling into a tree and being caught in the branches by the strap of his drum. One of the others who escaped was a soldier named Stedman, who fled on a fleet horse. The cavern contains many interesting features among them the great Council Rock, the mysterious cave, and the bed of Bloody Run Creek, so named from its running red with the blood of that atrocious massacre. Relics of this massacre were found quite plentifully during the construction of the new railroad—bayonets, buttons, and portions of the British uniform and equipments.

Along the route from the Whirlpool to Lewiston they are many unexplored caves, and the whole section is rich in historic incident. The remains of old Fort Gray crown the summit of the high bluff opposite Queenston Heights, and back of the towers of the ruined Suspension Bridge was the camping ground of the New York State militia who took part in the battle of Queenston Heights, October, 1812.

Around the little village of Lewiston cluster many stories of bloody battles in which the British, French and Indians were engaged. The old Frontier House remains, where Daniel Webster as an attorney more than once pleaded in court; and there also are the old burying grounds, where lie the soldier dead of the battle of Queenston Heights, the grave of Pilot Asahel Sage, who led the American army across the river on that fatal night; and of many other heroes in history. One of Fenimore Cooper's novels was partly written in this old town.

It is a romantic spot, and is the appropriate end to a ride that has no counterpart on this continent. The village has other charms besides those mentioned, as it is the headquarters of some of the finest black-bass fishing in the State. The Lower Niagara teams with fish, and the sport is excellent there at all times.

Trip to Parry Sound.

MR. EDITOR,—A friend and myself have just returned from a most pleasant trip up north from Peterborough. We arrived at Midland city on time and met W. J. Chapman, agent for the North Shore Navigation Co., and all took passage on board the "City of Toronto," an 800 ton boat which was built last winter for the inside channel, which will easily accomodate 800 passengers as a day boat, with state room accomodation for 175. Capt. Cameron was in charge, with D. McQuade, purser, and J. McGuire, steward, and eighteen of a crew, did everything in their power to make the trip pleasant for every passenger. The scenery through 26,000 islands for the space of 60 miles must be seen to be appreciated. Islands of all sizes and shapes, rough and smooth, with every here and there a summer resort appearing or small fishing huts, tents, etc., many of which have the stars and stripes floating over them as well as Union Jacks. Sometimes we seemed to be hemmed in by land-locked lakes and had only a very narrow channel to pass through. The Devil's Elbow, about seven miles from Parry Sound, is just at the narrowest channel, there being only room for the boat to pass, while high rocks are on both sides. There is still another very narrow point still further north. All of the passengers were delighted and many of them expressed themselves to the effect that the famous Thousand Islands were not "in it."

The town of Parry Sound has a population of nearly 2,000, situated on a body of water of the same name, and was reached at 7 o'clock. We were met and shown the sights by Messrs. Lee and Gladman, who are always pleased to meet any of the boys of Peterborough, and never tire to do all in their power, and spare neither time nor expense, to make your stay a pleasant one and one that you will not forget in a hurry. The stores are first-class, with modern improvements. Hotels are far above the average. The Belvidere hotel occupies a beautiful and commanding position on a height of land overlooking the waters and numerous islands and channels of Parry Sound. The air is pure and the scenery beautiful. The numerous islands and channels are very picturesque and afford excellent opportunities for boating, excellent opportunities for boating, camping and fishing. The Rose Point Hotel, just completed, contains all modern improvements. It is charmingly situated one and a half miles from Parry Sound on a point of the main land which reaches out among the numerous islands, whose variegated foliage and rugged beauty cannot be surpassed on the American continent.

The Parry Sound Lumber Co.'s mills and the Conger & Co. lumber mills do a tremendous business, as does also Peters, of Michigan, who runs day and night, his mills being lit up at night by electric light.

The Band and the Bicyclists.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—My attention has been called to an article in a local paper the purport of which is evidently to lead the public to believe that there is friction between the management of the Bicycle Club and the Fire Brigade Band.

The statements there made are entirely misleading, and why Mr. Horkins should have inspired such an article passes my comprehension. The differences are purely of a business nature, and in a nutshell may be simply stated: The band asked their usual price—$60 for the day—and for the sake of conciliation even went so far as to offer to play in the evening as well, for the same figure. On the other hand, the bicycle people said they could not afford to pay the price asked by the band, and here the matter dropped, without the slightest particle of friction so far as the band is concerned.

Further no proposition of any kind in reference to an engagement has been made to myself or any officer of the band by the bicycle club or their officials.

Yours truly,
F. W. MILLER,
Bandmaster.

THE R. Q. T. ROAD RACE.

Although six weeks will elapse before the R.Q.T. road race at Toronto will be a thing of the past, yet nearly all the arrangements are completed. Entry blanks and posters of a beautiful design will be sent out to flood the Dominion this week. It is a purely national affair, as the design on the poster denotes—a large maple leaf with a rider in the centre. Every precaution is being taken to ensure the R.Q.T. a success and to make it an annual Canadian event. No such an event has ever before been attempted in Canada. Have you ever considered what R.Q.T. means? The "R" stands for Royal Canadians, "Q" for Queen City, and "T" stands for Tourists. These clubs are over 400 strong and can handle anything from a wheel to a road race. It is now two years since a road race was held in Toronto, and while the entries were at that time considered large, the entries for the coming one should reach near the half thousand mark.

The prize list is not yet complete, but upwards of 100 place prizes will be given, beside a record race, a fat man's prize (fat limit 188 pounds avoirdupois), a married man's prize of a bicycle for his wife, and a team prize of a billiard table.

The Toronto city council have granted the use of their new Aveiling and Porter steam 16-ton road roller to prepare a path for the race. This roller should prepare a splendid course, especially if it should rain a day or two before, and the Carman record should be lowered considerably.

Some dark horses are training on supposed unknown tracks and roads, but won't they be surprised when the handicapping committee gets through with them.

Get an entry blank which contains complete information and a view and sketch of the course. Any information can be had from Secretary Walton, 718 Queen street east, or at the club rooms of the Royal's, Queen and Broadview; Queen City's, Queen street west near Dovercourt or Tourists, No. 64, Isabella street. C. C.

This is the race for which the Peterborough team is getting into shape. Ten riders may enter from a club but five only may finish.

THE WHEEL.

Mr. Geo. J. Horkins received a telegram yesterday requesting that the names of O. P. Bernhard and F. B. Rigley, of Chicago, be entered in all the Class "B" events taking place in the bicycle races at the Driving Park on the Civic Holiday.

TURF.

Nettie Wood, owned by F. E. Jones, of town, won the half mile running race at Napanee, yesterday.

LACROSSE.

Campbellford, the Toronto News says, fell an easy victim last Saturday, the imported stars from Perth, Almonte and Ottawa being pie for the clever Madocers. The Madoc twelve includes such great players as "Bunny" Burns, the Irish lad, Cross, late of the Torontos, Synde, the 'Varsity Crack, Tim and Jim Kirk, two of the county's finest, and F. Sutton, an excellent all-round man with a promising future. The Tecumsehs play Peterborough on the 19th, and Madoc on Tuesday the 20th.

Campbellford was defeated by Madoc six straight games on Saturday.

The secretary of the Athletics is endeavouring to arrange a match with the celebrated Vancouver, B.C., team, which is now making a tour of the country. The twelve consists of some pretty fast stick handlers, and it is to be hoped a game will be arranged.

In reference to the communication published in yesterday's issue from the Beaver lacrosse club of Port Hope, Mr. T. Lannin, secretary of the Granites, stated to-day that he is at a loss to know what Port Hope objects to. If they deny the charge that they played seniors on their junior team, the Granites will make a deposit of $10 and prove that senior men played. Mr. Lannin further states that the Granites will play any junior team in Port Hope for the sum of $10. Millbrook juniors may also take up this challenge.

THE BAND BICYCLIST CONTROVERSY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Re. article in this morning's Times regarding friction between Race Committee and the Fire Brigade Band. When I saw the article I supposed it to be inspired by the leader of the band, but after talking with Mr. Harper I was led to believe such was not the case. I saw Mr. Miller at about half-past three and found out that he had written a letter to the Review and the EXAMINER, and in which he blamed me for instigating the article. I told him I had nothing to do with it and asked him to come to the Times office and find out who had put in the article. This he distinctly refused to do. I am sorry the Times published the article. No member of the committee made any offer to the band, good, bad or indifferent. Mr. Miller said his price was $60 and would not guarantee any more than 20 players. This was too much for us to pay and we supposed the matter ended until this morning's Times appeared containing a pretty direct threat that if we brought in an outside band they would run a counter attraction in the Park. I would ask that the Times tell where they got this information and thus get at the instigator of the article referred to. I will guarantee that it did not come from any member of the committee, and hope the band will be able to show the same on their part.

We are willing to give the band their regular figure for a half day's engagement, namely, thirty dollars.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,
G. J. HORKINS.

SELLS BROTHERS' STUPENDOUS SHOWS.

The Largest, Oldest and Richest Show on Earth—The Only Big Circus and Menagerie Coming to Peterborough This Season.

This is the only great show in America that has had a continuous successful career of twenty-four years under the same name and management, and the only one that has enjoyed a trans-Pacific tour to Australia. Everybody knows the wonderful power of money in business, and Messrs. Sells Brothers have the distinction of being the wealthiest showmen in the world, the commercial agencies accrediting them with several millions. This being the first to visit this section, they have made the price of admission the same as usual, and no higher. The free street parade will be grander than a half dozen such shows as those sometimes travelling under the name of circuses. Sells Bros. will visit the leading Canadian cities this season, and invite the discriminating consideration of the intelligent public. That they will receive liberal patronage is firmly believed, and that they will win good opinion there is no reason to doubt. Wait and see their magnificent street parade at 10 a. m. exhibition day. See the vast city of tents (the largest in the world) and the prodigal profusion of princely paraphernalia, then decide whether or not you want to see the largest and grandest and best exhibition ever exhibited in Peterborough.

Sells Bros. are truely the pioneer showmen of America, and promoters of all up-to-date amusement ideas, the absolute and sole owners of all the stock, railroad cars, animals, cages, chariots and tents, renting no privileges. Free from any and all objectionable features; no games of chance; no humbugs, which so frequently accompany circuses for the purpose of fleecing a guileless public. No exaggeration, everything exactly as advertised; coming on their own special train of railway cars, 12 mammoth tents, 1000 people, 500 horses and ponies, three ring circuses, fifty cage menagerie, Roman hippodrome races, elevated theatre stages, Australian aviary, Arabian caravan, and don't miss seeing the spectacular street pageant at 10 a.m. on exhibition day. Special grand holiday excursions will run on railroads and steamboat lines at reduced rates on Saturday, Aug. 24th.

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

BLAKE MAY LEAD THE IRISH PARTY.

His Name Discussed as Successor to Justin McCarthy—Longford's M.P. Going to New Zealand.

Dublin, Aug. 13.—The Freeman's Journal states that the Hon. Edward Blake, formerly Prime Minister of Ontario, who represents the South Division of Longford in the House of Commons, will start almost immediately for his home in Toronto.

After spending a short time in Toronto he will proceed to New Zealand, where he will act as umpire in an arbitration case between the Government and the Midland Railway. Mr. Blake expects to return to London in time to attend the opening of the Parliamentary session next year.

A Telegram special says: The bitter and unyielding animosity displayed by Timothy Healy towards Edward Blake, so far from weakening the influence wielded by the Canadian statesman, has lifted him several notches in the esteem of his party and of the people of Ireland. There is no doubt whatever but that Mr. Blake's position has been immensely strengthened within the past few days; so much so that his name is freely discussed for the chairmanship of the party. It is said that even Justin McCarthy would be willing to give place to the member for South Longford, but the leader has not given utterance to that effect as yet. Certain it is, however, that if Mr. Blake is put forward he will receive a very strong support.

Mr. Blake expects to leave for Toronto in a few days, and after a brief rest will start for New Zealand, where he has been retained to arbitrate in a dispute between the Government of that colony and the Midland Railway. He will return in time for the opening of the session of Parliament early next year.

Their audience consisted of two dozen mountain climbers, who ascended the mountain with them.

Cyclone at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Aug. 12.—A windstorm of cyclonic proportions, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain, visited this city this afternoon. Houses were unroofed, trees uprooted, windows smashed and trolley wires broken and other damage done within a few minutes that will require weeks to repair. The most serious damage was the demolition of a Catholic church. No fatalities have been reported. The losses so far reported will amount to upwards of $30,000. Just before the rain began the mercury at the Weather Observatory made a drop of nine degrees in one minute. The highest temperature during the day was 95 degrees.

OUR TWO LANGUAGES.

One That We Use in Conversation, the Other in Written English.

A writer in the current number of the Educational Review prefaces an extremely interesting article on English literature in the college by the declaration, "It is now, I think, generally admitted that the first principle of rhetoric is, write as you speak. The pedanetic, declamatory, Latinized diction that prevailed in literary circles a hundred years ago is no longer the standard King's English. In order to write well it is necessary first to speak well—that is, to speak naturally, correctly and strongly."

This is a clever and cunning, as well as complete begging of the whole question. The assumption that we, English and Americans, speak as we write, and that the ordinary rules of grammar and rhetoric run through and underlie oral, as well as written language, is an assumption which cannot be verified by evidence. He who says "don't" and "can't" and "isn't" and who talks about "him and me," when he means "he and I," or who says "done" for "did," or "seen" for "saw," can take his pen or pencil in hand and write English which is unexceptionable from the standpoint of person, mood or tense, the fact being that written language is a refinement, and, possibly, an improvement on spoken language, but at the same time as different from it as the dialect of Yorkshire from that of Cornwall, or the talk of Yankeeland from the patois of the uplands of North Carolina or the lowlands of Louisiana.

The writer of the article in question has fallen into the rhetorical error of as the vernacular has it, putting the cart before the horse. Every written language, protected and fenced in as it may be by rhetorical fences and hedges, each of which is bristling with rules and safe-guarded by exceptions to those rules, is only a development from a spoken language, and whether it be an improvement or not is an open question. At all events it must be apparent to every student of language or philology that we have, at least in English, two separate and distinct languages, and that if we should attempt to follow the dictum of the writer in the Educational Review, and write as we speak, our contributions to current literature would be speedily side-tracked into the editor's waste paper basket. It might be better for the genius of the English language, and for the preservation of its integrity, that we should speak as we write, but to adopt the converse proposition and write as we speak seems the very climax of absurdity to those who know and appreciate the distinction between English "as she is wrote" and "as she is spoke."—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Tire Better Than the Pneumatic.

A bicycle rider was slowly wending his way out Arch street toward Broad a few days ago when he was hailed by a man of about 60 years, who said he wanted to ask his (the wheelman's) opinion of a bicycle tire which he had recently invented. "The tire is solid, but it has just as much elasticity as this one, if not more," explained the man, as he pressed the pneumatic tire. "You can put it on the wheel in an incredibly short time, and when it is once on need never be taken off, as it will never wear out. I have spoken to several bicycle dealers in regard to it, and they all assure me that it will be a success." "Your fortune is made," said the rider, "if it is as elastic as the pneumatic tire." When asked of what material it was composed, the man only shook his head and declared that it was a better tire than the pneumatic. It is certain that such a tire as this would be hailed with delight by cyclers, as they would not then be in constant danger of a puncture, and would not have to pump air into it every few days.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Peterborough, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

Explanation of the Company's System of Profit Distribution.

The method of profit distribution of most companies is to give a bonus or profit on the sum assured, irrespective of the premiums paid. The Sun Life of Canada allots its profits to policies in proportion to the premiums paid, which is considered to be the more equitable system. This accounts for the variations in the percentages of the accompanying results. The lower rates given below are, in most cases, on young lives. The examples are taken from the Company's claim register as at the end of 1894, for the first 5 years.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

NOTES FROM OTTAWA.

Hon. J. C. Patterson Purchases Governor's Residence at Rideau Hall.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 13.—The report that Hon. J. C. Patterson has purchased for $6,000 the house and grounds in this city known as the McNaughton property caused no little surprise, in view of the general understanding that Mr. Patterson has been designated for the Lieutenant-Governorship of Manitoba. There is no doubt that the place has been bought by Mr. Patterson, although his reply to inquiries was that he would say nothing about it, it was his own private business. From other sources, however, it was learned by your correspondent that the place is intended for Dr. Montague's occupation. It is near Rideau Hall and one of the stateliest dwellings on the river bank.

Major James Sutherland, the Liberal whip, had Sir Adolphe Caron and several of the leading departmental officers view a test in the Patent Office of acetylene gas, the new illuminant which is being manufactured for experimental purposes in this province. It is the product of the remarkable research of T. L. Wilson of Woodstock, Mr. Sutherland's home. The test was made with a small improvised gasholder and a couple of reduced gas burners. Giving a steady, intense white light of 250 candles, it burned at the rate of 5 cubic feet per hour, or 12 1-2 times more light than the equivalent of ordinary illuminating gas. The process of making this gas was fully patented to-day, and it is probable that Mr. Wilson will look up a site for its manufacture in this district. His object is to get a suitable water power for cheap production of electricity, as fusion is only possible in electric heat. He claims he will thus be able to manufacture acetylene for $50 a ton, or 50 cents per thousand feet for gas. The new material has created quite a sensation here.

Word was received at Inland Revenue Department to-day of the death of Jas. Wood of Brockville, father of Controller John F. Wood. The Controller is somewhere in the Lake St. John district, but to-night the officials had not been able to communicate to him the news of his father's death. The late Mr. Wood, for many years a well-known railway contractor, had latterly been confined to his home by paralysis. He was 86 years of age. Mrs. Wood still enjoys good health in her 84th year.

Speaking yesterday of the progress of the work on the Cornwall Canal improvements, Collingwood Schreiber, Chief Engineer of Canals, who had just returned with the Minister from inspecting Davis' contract, said that the lower Sheiks' Island dam is now completed with the exception of placing about one foot of quarry waste on top of it. Work on the upper dam will be finished as soon as the contractors have completed topping-up for about four feet. The stone for the waste weir is all on hand and ready cut for use. All the other works on the canal are drawing to a close, and it is expected that the improvements will be ready for use next season. Mr. Schreiber appeared to be thoroughly satisfied of the substantial character of the work which Messrs. Davis are doing at Cornwall.

The steamer Warrimoo of the Canadian Australian Line grounded at Carman Point at the entrance to the harbor of Victoria, B.C., when bound inward on Friday night. The expectation that the steamer would be released at the next high tide was, according to the information received at the Marine Department to-day, fully realized, the vessel being got off without damage. The captain of the Warrimoo has asked for an enquiry into the casualty, and the Department has ordered its agent at Victoria to hold a preliminary investigation into the causes of the steamer's stranding.

Deputy Minister Smith of the Department of Marine and Fisheries leaves Friday for Brockville to meet the Fish and Forest Committee of the State Senate at Albany, N.Y., who are coming to Ottawa to confer with the department in matters of international fishing regulations and privileges in the St. Lawrence at Thousand Islands. Dr. Wakeham is expected to return from British Columbia in time to participate in this conference, having concluded his labors on the International Fishery Commission investigating the salmon fisheries along the coast boundary line.

Nominated to Succeed Mr. Wood.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 12.—H. A. Powell, a member of the New Brunswick House of Assembly, was to-day nominated as the Government candidate for Westmoreland, in the House of Commons, for the seat vacated by the appointment of Mr. Wood to the Senate.

An American Woman With Many Aliases Under Arrest.

London, Aug. 13.—A tall, dak and stylishly-dressed American woman, about 30 years of age, known as Mabel Stanley, alias McLean, alias Millet, alias Vaughan, was remanded in the Bow-street Police Court this morning charged with stealing jewelry valued at £587 from Mrs. Gibbons, who resides in London, and with whom the prisoner has lodged for a month. The accused was arrested on the steamer Etruria at Liverpool on Saturday as she was about to sail for New York. The detective who made the arrest testified that when he read the warrant to the prisoner she admitted that she had taken some of the jewelry out of revenge. All the jewels were recovered.

A LADY OF WATERFORD COMPLETELY CURED.

Suffered for Two Years from Indigestion and General Debility.

Unable at Times to Attend to Her Household Duties.

Treated by Nearly All the Doctors in the Town Without Relief

"Six Bottles of South American Nervine Cured Me," Says Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., Over Her Own Signature.

MRS. D. A. GRAY, OF WATERFORD, ONT.

Certain dates are epoch making. They mark transitions in the individual life that are never forgotten. Their impress may be pleasant or sad, or both. As Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., an estimable and highly respected resident of that community, goes back in memory to the year 1893, her recollections are not of the most roseate character. Can there be anything rosy to one who is a victim of indigestion? All is sombre and sadness. But there was a silver lining to the cloud, as we shall see. Previous to 1893 Mrs. Gray tells us she had been troubled very much with indigestion and general debility for a period of nearly two years. Hers was no ordinary case. At times she was prevented altogether from attending to her household duties. Waterford has a number of skilled physicians in its midst and their services were called in, but in her own language, "I cannot say that they relieved me in any way." An era of joy was ushered in when her mother read the story of a cure by South American Nervine in a case where the symptoms, as Mrs. Gray says, "seemed to be exactly like her own. I bought a bottle and found much relief. After taking six bottles I was cured." The date was an epoch making date in this lady's life.

What the symptoms of Indigestion are, too many know. What the trouble is in its worst forms thousands know. People lament the spread of insanity in the present day. How far removed from loss of reason is a case of aggravated indigestion? The world to every such victim is blue enough, black enough, so uninviting and depressing that no wonder they are beside themselves. And yet the remedy is within the reach of all. That great discovery, Nervine, will cure the most desperate case of indigestion, debility or nervousness. You ask for evidence. A cloud of witnesses in the Dominion of Canada are saying, amen, and amen, to the testimony of Mrs. Gray. Why suffer, fellow-citizens, friends and brethren?

TAILORING A Specialty!

With us it is not a side line. We give all our attention to our fit and finish.

Every garment made at the Water St. Tailor Shop makes a man smile with satisfaction instead of kicking them around the house.

And better still our garments show their fit and finish until threadbare, even if worn ten years.

We buy for cash so can sell for cash, as cheap as any other store.

We are not having a sale. Our goods are all the latest style and new. None faded or worn. Try our cut and be convinced, Interesting and Instructive Reading for its Policy Holders.

The following is taken from the Monetary Times of August 9th, and speaks for itself:

Under date of August 1st, the newly elected president of the above society sends out a circular—bearing the fac-simile signature of the late president, E. B. Harper, deceased—making a most unwelcome announcement to all members who joined prior to January 1st, 1890. Every such member's age is to be raised half way up from what it was at entry to what it was on January 1, 1895. For instance, a person whose certificate is dated January 1, 1881, his age then being 40, now finds himself rated at 47 in call No. 81. We have heard of single individuals getting such a shock, or passing through such unlooked for affliction, as to turn their hair white in a night, or in a year, and make them look seven years older than before. But here's a wholesale age-ing of about 50,000 people. And not only are they rated at being older on August 1st, by from one to seven years, but a greatly increased burden is laid upon their aged shoulders, and they must bear it, and whack up, or step down and out. Every man of them who has become uninsurable, by reason of age, or infirmity, or consumptive development in the family history, or intemperance, or hazardous occupation, will probably hold on, even if he has to ask help from friends or neighbors. He can afford to. But no doubt many thousands of the best lives, tired enough of the previous double assessments, and higher expense fees, and general uncertainty, will retire and leave the crazy-quilt institution to its fate. This is not the first time, nor likely to be the last, that it has belied the promises of its earlier years, as to furnishing life insurance at less than half the price of reliable companies. It began with $4 for entry fee and "expense of management limited to $2 a year on each $1,000." Very soon the first was doubled, and the annual dues raised to $3. Instead of twenty-one, only fifteen calls were made during the first 3½ years. So early as 1885 it began to make double assessments, and in 1887 every member's rate was suddenly raised from the short-lived minimum to the severe maximum. Instead of $1.44 per call, at age 40, $2.20 was demanded bi-monthly. Sometimes nine in place of six assessments were made per annum. Next, in 1890, still higher rates were adopted, called "The Ten Years' Distribution Deposit Plan," and the original low rates practically abolished. At age 40 the bi-monthly rate is now $2.70, and the annual dues $3, and admission fee $8 per $1,000. Thus the institution has proved a complete failure in the matter of fulfilling the bright promise of its earlier career. Up till a recent date many of those ante-1890 members were flattering themselves that they would only have to pay their late lamented cheap rates to the end of fifteen years. Then their certificates would get such a big slice out of the "emergency" fund, or "mortuary" fund, or "expense" fund, or "mutual reserve" fund, or some other fund, as to practically free them from further ugly calls—in fact to render the certificate almost entirely self-sustaining. But the expected "bonds" yielding interest, seem to be now yielding very aggravating dissolving views. We hear no more of them, even though the N. Y. Superintendent referred to them as a liability that should be recognized instead of kept out of sight. Twenty-five per cent. of all assessments were to be deposited with a separate Trust Company, to accumulate for fifteen years, the interest thereon to be used, after ten years, in reducing a member's bi-monthly assessments, and his share of the principal to almost, if not quite, extinguish them after the fifteenth year. The fifteen years are now about up, as to the first members, but this rating up of seven years in his age—from paying $1.43 at first, to $2.20, and now to age 47, and pay $2.67—is the serpent he gets when he expected a good-sized fish.

In 1888, we notice that our worthy mayor, Warring Kennedy, made a speech at the annual meeting, in which "he and the gentlemen around him felt almost intoxicated with pleasure in listening to the glowing reports which had been presented from the various departments, based upon incontrovertible data." He also said: "If the principles of the Mutual Reserve be unsound, then it must fall and be crushed under its own weight." Toronto's mayor is surely a prophet, for this Call 81 will no doubt prove a crusher to the hopes of many. The principles seem to be getting a pretty heavy strain under all the changes they have already undergone.

In the circular sent out on the 1st inst. with Call 81, it is stated that the New York superintendent has called attention in his report to the fact that those earlier members "are not paying their equitable cost in proportion to the benefits received," and that "this inequity should be remedied at the earliest opportunity." And Mr. Harper goes on to say, under date of June 12th, that "a death rate such as has prevailed the past three years, and still prevails, requires that there be collected a somewhat increased revenue." He comforts the afflicted, however, with the assurance that "while increasing the direct current payments, this re-apportionment does not increase the ultimate cost of the insurance, since all death claims must be paid." A very good foundation this for another rating up, a few years hence, if these heavy losses continue to afflict the society in such an aggravating manner. It is a little peculiar that we have not heard of this unusual mortality wave visiting any of the companies which are conducted upon an admittedly sound basis. They do not furnish the special inducements to good lives, which an extra assessment does, to drop out and leave the society loaded up with poor timber. The healthiest and longest-living members are encouraged to continue by the sure provision the regular companies make, not only for prompt payment of claims, but for lightening the payments as the member grows older. It is impossible in the very nature of things, that any association conducted on the assessment principle, should have as light death losses upon the whole, as a well-conducted regular company. The wholesale selection against the company caused by every increased assessment, is something the regular company is almost entirely free from. It is about the same thing, in effect, as if, for that particular month or year, new members were admitted without medical examination. In such case with many good lives, there would come an undue number of persons whom any doctor would exclude. What healthy man would want to join a wide-open society, and put up his well-filled purse to be drawn upon for its abnormal death losses? But that is precisely what every healthy man does who goes into an assessment society, be it called Mutual Reserve Fund or any other name, which collects too little in the earlier years—as all such societies do—and is compelled to assess the survivors more and more heavily to fill the gap thus created.

The new president of the Mutual Reserve Fund, Mr. F. A. Burnham, also sends a circular with Call 81, rallying the whole membership to undying co-operation in rendering the society a conspicuou success.

ELECTRIC RAILWAY SCHEME.

Proposal to Operate a Road Between Port Hope and Rice Lake—Will Connect with the C.P.R.

The Port Hope Times contains the following:—

"It is proposed to organize a company to operate a system of electric railways between Port Hope and Rice Lake and also to connect with the C.P.R. at Pontypool. It is also the intention to run a spur line to Orono. The enterprise is one that will recommend itself to all public-spirited and progressive business men. Port Hope will derive benefit from a connection with the C.P.R., as this town will become the actual distributing point and headquarters for a large business. It is proposed to afford a combined freight and passenger service by means of cars running at a high rate of speed, at frequent intervals. The promoters, who are prominent business men, are undertaking the enterprise with a determination too make it a success, and as the railway will run through a prosperous country which greatly needs railway accommodation, we are confident it will fill a long felt want and that it will receive a paying support.

We understand that the funds for the construction of this system railways will be raised by stock, subscriptions, sale of bonds, and from grants from the Government and municipalities.

The profits would be derived from passenger traffic, express and freight service, and will receive an impetus in the summer months by the crowds who will avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting Rice Lake. Although it is impossible to do more than roughly estimate the financial prospects of the enterprise, still a very good idea of the amount of business to be done can be gathered by considering that the Electric Railway will minister to the needs of about two hundred square miles of well populated country. The amount of import and export traffic to be expected from this 128,000 acres can be closely estimated by calculating the average amount of farm and dairy produce, every bushel and every pound of which will, the promoters estimate, be carried on its cars; without taking into consideration the large quantities of household and personal supplies; farming implements and other things that are daily teamed from distant stations by the people themselves.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults, Dr. Low's Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.

IT STANDS UNRIVALLED.
The Toronto Industrial Exhibition, which begins on the 2nd of September next, will be the greatest fair ever held in Canada. The number of entries of live stock and manufactures, and in fact in all the leading departments, is unprecedented. Increased facilities have been provided in the buildings and grounds, and the exhibits, in addition to being considerably larger in volume than those of any previous year, will be choicer and better arranged. The general features of the show need not be recapitulated in detail. It is sufficient to say that it presents a complete epitome of the progress and attainments of the Dominion in industry, mechanical invention, art and science. A brilliant programme of special attractions has been provided, a prominent feature of which is the great Water Fete and Aquatic Exhibition to be given every afternoon and evening on a spacious artificial lake in front of the grand stand, with beautiful tableaux and a great variety of aquatic performances, accompanied by vocal and instrumental music of the highest order. In addition to this, the splendid military, dramatic and pyrotechnic pageant, "The Relief of Lucknow," concluding with a magnificent fireworks display, will be put on each evening. Cheap fares and special excursions on all railways during the fair.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

THE HERO OF BISLEY.

Feted in Two Cities in One Day.

HAYHURST'S WARM WECOME HOME

Toronto Gives Him an Address and a Luncheon—Hamilton Turns Out En Masse to Cheer the Winner of the Queen's Prize.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 14.—Hearty and not lacking in enthusiasm was the reception the city of Toronto yesterday gave to Private Hayhurst, winner of the Queen's Prize at Bisley.

Military men met him at the Union Station at 7.15 in the morning and escorted him to the Queen's Hotel, where during the forenoon he held an informal levee.

At noon the City Council met and proceeded in carriages to the Queen's, where President Shaw introduced the party to the Bisley hero. Thence he was accompanied by the city fathers and representatives of all Her Majesty's forces to the Armouries, where the civic address was presented.

A luncheon followed, and this was succeeded by a drive round the city. There was a great demonstration at the wharf when at 5.45 Private Hayhurst left for Hamilton.

President Shaw in fine oratorical style gave the civic welcome at the Armouries.

There was a great burst of cheering when Private Hayhurst bowed to the crowd below and made his reply. He said: I desire to thank you very heartily for the way in which you have received me and referred to my success. I assure you that I feel the warmth of your reception very much indeed; in fact I cannot find words to express my thanks. I hope you will take the will for the deed. I am very proud, indeed, that a representative of a Canadian regiment has this year won the Queen's Prize at Bisley. (Cheers.) I shall treasure it as beyond all price for the rest of my life. I hope in future years the representatives of Canadian regiments may come out on top.

Hon. Mr. Kirkpatrick, in the name of the people of Ontario, tendered heartily congratulations to Private Hayhurst. "We are all proud of him; proud to come here and greet the conquering hero."

His honor said for years past, whilst connection with the Ontario Rifle Association, he had indulged the fond hope that the great prize, to win which is the ambition of marksmen the world over, might come to Canada. When the regulation was adopted that prizes won by members of the Canadian team should be divided, I was instrumental, said His Honor, in getting inserted the words, "save and except the Queen's Prize and the Prince of Wales' Prize, which shall be the property of the individual winners." (Cheers.)

The members of the council shrugged their shoulders as doubtful if ever the Queen's Prize would come to Canada. Now it has come. (Renewed cheers.)

Continuing, His Honor said: Some people would like to belittle the honor to Canada, by claiming that Private Hayhurst is an Englishman. Well, we are all Englishmen.

Canada is proud of the victory he has won; Canada shares with him that honor, and hopes that Private Hayhurst's triumph may incite emulation amongst many Canadian marksmen to so distinguish themselves. (Cheers.)

His Honor then recited the good shooting of other members of the 13th Battalion, mentioning and congratulating Sergeant Evans, the winner of the Daily Graphic Cup, to obtain which he had to shoot off no less than 10 ties. Color-Sergeant Skedden also came in for congratulation.

GREAT RECEPTION AT HAMILTON.

Twenty Thousand People Gather in Dundurn Park.

Hamilton, Aug. 14.—It was nearly 8 o'clock when the bonfires on the Beach were discerned from the Modjeska. Soon from steam yachts and piers were seen pyrotechnic welcomes. A large crowd of visitors and residents at Burlington cheered to their hearts' content. The scene here, and especially at the yacht club, was pretty. Bunting, Chinese lanterns and fireworks were much in vogue. Passing into the bay, the bonfires on the mountain answered the reverse object of those ancient days—they bade welcome to a peaceful hero in lieu of being the index of countryside alarm.

Several thousands were at the steamboat pier, and the scene on the Modjeska entering the dock was one of remarkable enthusiasm. The band of the 13th Batt. played "The Conquering Hero," the people cheered till they were hoarse, the men whom they had come to honor were hoisted, and their thanks were drowned in excited fuzzas.

The procession was three-quarters of a mile in length. The 13th Regiment, of course, made by far the biggest show, though the Toronto boys in Green, with their bugle band and about 100 rank and file, were not to be despised. The Royal Grenadiers were smaller numerically, and passed muster in the eyes of many, as belonged the scarlet-coated Hamilton regiment, with whom they marched.

Army and Navy Veterans, many wearing their well-worn medals, made a goodly show, and met with their meed of applause. The Sons of England, with their gay badges, seemed to march more proudly than ever at the remembrance that an Englishman had brought to Canada the world-coveted prize for marksmanship.

The front of the City Hall was fine with gas illuminants, and the life-sized portraits and transparencies of the men Hamilton delighted to honor. The Gore was very prettily and effectively illuminated throughout its circuit, the colored lights, with crown and maple leaf variations, producing a pleasng effect.

"Canada For Ever," was the great device over the main entrance to the grounds, and with similar designs more or less pretentions were the streets on the three miles and a half of procession bedecked. No portion of the route but was thronged, and there was ne'er a one to grumble and everyone did cheer.

Twenty thousand was the estimate when at 9.30 the speaking, commendably brief, commenced at Dundurn Park. A capacious platform fronted 2000 fair women of the Ambitious City, and massed around the dais were old nd young "soldier boys."

Hon. Mr. Gibson was justifiably exultant. The perspiring, if not blushing, heroes said little more than "Thank you," and said it several times. The civic address was taken as read. Alex. McKay, M.P., said much compliment in few words; Major Moore did ditto; Hamilton's own Adam Brown praised the Queen, and the people sang the National Anthem.

Then the company dispersed, the majority to refreshment booths, the elect and select to a banquet at the Drill Hall.

FINED FOR WORKING ON SUNDAY.

The Exemption of Farmers From Prosecution Held Not to Apply to the Hired Man.

Ridgetown, Ont., Aug. 14.—A few miles out of town a band of 7th Day Adventists have pitched their tents, and have by their preaching won over a number of the farmers in the neighborhood of Selton. Prominent among these is one Robert Watts, who not long since was charged with violating the Lord's Day Act by following his usual occupation. The case was tried before Squire Forhan in Chatham and it was held, following a case decided, that a farmer was not amenable. To-day John Matthews, a farm laborer in Watts' employ, was brought up on a charge of having worked on the 7th of July and 4th of August. Matthews pleaded not guilty when the information was read over to him, but in evidence he admitted working on the days mentioned, but contended it was not the Lord's Day, and that he was exempt as a farmer. Messrs. Watson and McKinlay, before whom the case was tried, held that the defendant was guilty of violating the act, and fined him $5 and costs or 30 days. Walter Mills conducted the case for the prosecution; Mr. Watts and Rev. Burrill conducted the case for defendant, and they threaten to appeal from the magistrate's finding.

BOTH FEET CUT OFF.

A C.P.R. Yardman Killed While at His Work

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 14.—Edward Bird, employed in the Parkdale yards of the Canadian Pacific, was run over by a freight train yesterday morning and both of his legs were cut off. Dr. Lynd was summoned and attended the man's injuries, after which he was removed to the General Hospital, where he died shortly after his arrival. Bird was adjusting a coupling link on a car, when another car, which was being shunted, came in contact with it. He was knocked down and two empty cars passed over his legs. Deceased lived at 101 Gladstone-avenue, and leaves a wife and one child.

Fifteen Victims of the Collapsed Building

New York, Aug. 11.—Three more bodies of workmen who perished in the collapse of the building at South Fifth-avenue and Third-street last Thursday have been recovered from the ruins. They were all in such a mutilated and decomposed state as to be unrecognizable. Two men are still missing. These will make 15 victims in all.

Deprecated Currency Engenders Revolution.

New York, Aug. 13.—A passenger on the Pacific mail steamer Newport, which arrived from Colon to-day, says that he spent some time in Guatemala and that the country is on the verge of a revolution, owing to the depreciation of the currency.

WEDDED FIFTY YEARS

Sir Charles Tupper to Celebrate His Golden Wedding

AT AMHERST, N.S., IN OCTOBER

The High Commissioner and Lady Tupper Will Renew Their Vows Before the Same Altar as 50 Years Ago—The Question of the Confessional in Shortis' Case.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 14.—Fifty years ago next October, Dr. Charles Tupper and Miss Morse were married in Amherst, Cumberland County, Nova Scotia, and when the anniversary comes round the Canadian High Commissioner and Lady Tupper will celebrate their golden wedding in that same flourishing town, and perhaps the religious ceremonies will take place in the same church and before the same altar that saw the great Nova Scotian and his bride-elect made one a half century ago. A gentleman from Halifax told your correspondent to-day that the gathering would be a very important one, and is looked forward to with more than a little interest by the families directly interested, and hosts of friends besides.

A very important theological question has been submitted to the learned priests of this city, one of the clergyman in question being a Jesuit, and the other a member of the Archbishop's household. It was stated in the press the other day that a priest had been admitted to Gauthier, the murderer's cell, and had spent an hour with the wretched assassin. People began to ask if Gauthier was confessing his sins to the priest, for if the culprit was insane this would be impossible, for the rules of the church forbid a Catholic priest from hearing the confession of a man who is out of his mind.

Now, Mr. E. A. St. Jean, who has entered a plea of insanity in Gauthier's case, went to the reverand gentleman, who had seen his client, and asked in what state he appeared to be. The priest replied that this was a secret of the confessional and could not be revealed. "I do not want to know what he said," replied the learned counsel, "I merely ask you if you heard his confession." "I canot tell you," the priest replied. "But Mr. St. Jean thinks that this is defective theology, and as the correspondent ha salready said, he submits the question to the consideration of two learned divines, who will report in due time. There can be no doubt if the priest heard Gauthier's confession, the priest is of the opinion that his penitent was sane. It may be said that Mr. St. Jean will apply in a few days for a medical commission to examine into the question of Gauthier's mental state.

Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, will not be here for some time yet. He will proceed to Portland from New York.

It was stated here to-day that Mr. N. W. White, M.P. for Shelburne, N.S., would soon be called to the Senate.

A NEW SCHOOL OF PEDAGOGY.

Will Be Located in Hamilton Under an Arrangement With the Government

Toronto, Aug. 14.—The teaching profession has been anxious for a long time to have a practice school in connection with the School of Pedagogy in the city of Toronto. The Government could not provide this without the erection of expensive buildings, somewhat similar to the Normal School buildings, and without the appointment of a staff, both for the purpose of the School of Pedagogy and for the Practice School, which would be necessary in connection with it. An easy way out of this large expenditure of money has been found by the action of the Board of Education of the city of Hamilton. For many years the Board of Education has been contemplating the erection of a new Collegiate Institute. The old building was condemned some years ago by the Educational Department, and further delay in the erection of a new building was impossible. It is now proposed to erect a building at a probable cost of $75,000, and the Board of Education offer to provide quarters for the School of Pedagogy in the city of Hamilton and to place at the disposal of the Educational Department their staff of 16 teachers for such work as the Educational Department may require, and to allow their school, with an attendance of 600 pupils, to be used for a Model School for the training of High school teachers. The Department will pay for this accommodation the sum of $2500 per annum and will have a voice in the selection of the staff, in the approval of the plans for the building and in all the details to make the school more effective than any former arrangement for High school purposes has been. This arrangement cannot come into operation before the autumn of 1896, and is subject to the approval of Parliament. In working out this scheme the Department is following some of the modern methods adopted in England, and the practice for many years has been found to work so successful for training purposes in connection with German gymnasium, which corresponds with the Ontario High schools.

MURDERED WIFE AND CHILD.

The Fiendish Crime of an Educated Englishman Is Avenged

York, England, Aug. 14.—Robert Hudson, a young and highly educated man, who had run through his own and his wife's fortune, was executed by hanging here to-day, for the murder of his wife and child on Helmsley Moor, Yorkshire, in June last. He decoyed his victims to the moor, cut their throats, shot them with a revolver, and buried them on the moor. Before he killed his wife Hudson advertised for another wife under the name of Hunter. The crime was accidentally discovered by a man who noticed the freshly turned earth on the moor, investigated the matter and dug up the bodies. After being tracked for five days Hudson was captured and his trial and condemnation to death followed. He died calmly.

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. A PLEASANT TRIP OVER TO ENGLAND.

A CORRESPONDENT DESCRIBES THE TRANSATLANTIC TRIP,

A Delayed Start the Gulf Stream—A Hot Spell—Sunday Services—Games and Jolity—Oronhyatekha a Singer as Well as a Leader—A Mock Trial—A Period of Rest—The Ship's Company and What They Eat—Brief Notes of Happenings.

On Board Steamer "Kensington," LIVERPOOL, England, July 30th, 1895.

Having been elected a delegate to the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, which will meet at London, England, on the 1st of next month, after consulting my travelled neighbours as to what I would need, I packed up such a portion of my belongings as I could carry. f I had brought everything they advised me to bring I would not have left anything at home but my house and let. Nearly all of them told me to bring good warm winter clothing, as it would be cold on the Atlantic, but when I reached Philadelphia, where we were to embark on the American liner "Kensington," it struck me that my travelled neighbours had no idea as to where I was going. Philadelphia is the hottest place I ever saw or felt, at least it was on Friday, 19th inst., when the narrow old-fashioned streets of the Quaker city were blistering. Nor did we find it any cooler when on Sunday morning we went aboard the immense steamer (10,000 tons), which had lain at the wharf until every pound of iron, every bolt, rod, and partition was as hot as an oven. The cabins (which Ijam told are as large as those of any other first-class ship) rather surprised me by being so small, and as there are about two hundred and seventy-five of us, including the ladies and youngsters who have been brought along for pleasure, the rooms are pretty densely populated, as, in fact, they are on all the ocean steamers this year, where there to be had, so the shipping agents tell us.

The steamer was delayed by a few stragglers—and there would have been stragglers if the ship had not gone out for a week—and the delay proved quite a misfortune. It was a magnificent sight as she steamed down the Delaware, the cities and the fields beautiful in the distance—when I say steamed down, I do not merely refer to the ship, but to each one individually, for the heat was simply intolerable. We had not gone more than 43 miles before it was found that the tide was too low for us to get over the bar, and we lay to—this is said to be a nautical term, and we are all becoming very sailorlike in our expressions. At 7:30 p.m. we got away, and in the night passed Cape Henlopen, and entered the Gulf Stream. I have always had a very indefinite idea of what the Gulf Stream was like, and occasionally wondered if it had any well defined banks like a creek or river, now I know that it has a streak of hot water that does not perceptibly cool off until it gets near Newfoundland. We had three days of Gulf Stream and continuous heat. The flies got into the ship at Philadelphia and made it appear quite homelike, and bit and buzzed as industriously as our home flies always do in the warm weather. It was a blessed change when the weather cooled off, for there had been scarcely a breeze, and it had been almost impossible to sleep at night anywhere but on deck. For one thing we all gave thanks, the water was almost as and nobody got sick.

Our party is composed of 61 ladies and 163 of the sterner sex, and a pleasanter and more congenial company I never saw. I was proud of the Independent Order of Foresters when I saw the magnificent delegation that was going to England to represent the Order there at the Supreme Court. Enclosed is a list of the officers and delegates which, if you have space, I would be glad to see in the columns of the paepr when I return home. It shows that 17 states of the Union and every province but one of Canada is being represented by some of the most prominent citizens.

With one accord the ladies and gentlemen of the party, bound by the fraternal tie of the Society, are endeavoring to make it pleasant for one another, and although this is my first sea voyage those who have crossed the sea before say that without some such connecting link as the Foresters possess, the trip is almost over before anybody becomes acquainted with anybody else.

Sunday being our first day at sea a religious service was held in the dining saloon, and an excellent sermon was preached by Rev. Geo. Scott. The singing was exceedingly good. A coloured Baptist preacher held forth in the steerage in the afternoon, and Episcopal service was again held in the dining saloon in the evening. On Monday the games and jollity started in earnest. A concert was held on Tuesday night, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the Seamen's Homes, Liverpool and New York. The singing and recitations were quite up to the average concert on land, inasmuch as in so large a party plenty of talent was obtainable.

To the surprise of almost everybody, Dr. Oronhyatekha, the able and energetic head of the Order, distinguished himself as a magnificent singer. As everybody knows he is a of great size and splendid physique, and his voice corresponds in volume with his physical proportions. He has demonstrated himself to be one of the ablest men in America; full of strategy and executive force, and quite competent at any time to wrestle with the old line insurance companies, as the recent victory of the Independent Order of Foresters in the Banking and Commerce Committee of the Canadian Parliament demonstrates. His first achievement was the reform of the Mohawk Indian school where he was sent as a boy; and his youthful promise attracted the attention of the Prince of Wales, when he was on a visit to Canada, to such an extent that he took young Oronhyatekha home with him to England and educated him at Oxford under the tuteiage of Sir Henry Acland. We have found on board ship that he is a leader to be liked as well as feared, though he is a man of almost unbending dignity.

On Wednesday evening we had a mock trial of the suit of Bang vs. Bangs, held in the Court of the High Seas, Col. Caldwell, of Syracuse, N.Y., (founder of the order) presided as Chief Justice, with Col. T. J. Legg, of Logansport, Ind., and Hon. W. S. Linton, of Saginaw, Mich., as Associate Justices. The trial lasted two nights, and following is a copy of the statement of claim and defence, from both of which good suggestions may be found for winter entertainments:

IN THE HIGH COURT OF THE HIGH SEAS.

Between Allover Bangs, (Joseph Hughes) plaintiff, and Mrs. Husbandbeater Bangs, (W. C. G. Wright) defendant

Now comes Allover Bangs, by Edward S. Grece and J. D. Clark of counsel in his behalf, and informs the court that the said defendant, in utter disregard of her marriage vows and her solemn duties to her husband, has since her marriage been guilty of the following unlawful and disreputable acts:

1. She has been guilty of extreme cruelty to her husband.
2. She has been in attendance in extermination of men's clubs.
3. Of neglecting her home and husband.
4. Of wearing bloomers.
5. Politics.
6. Riding bicycles.
7. Cold feet.
8. Of flirting indiscriminately on board the ship with different members of the passengers and crew.

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE OF AND COUNTER-CLAIM.

1. The defendant disputes the allegations of the plaintiff, and puts the allegator to the proof thereof.
2. The defendant disputes the jurisdiction as follows:—That the presiding justice is non compos mentis, having lost his mental balance in his efforts to assume the bench, and, further, that his associates being avowed lovers of darkness rather than light are not in a position to judge of matters that occurred between sunrise and sunset, and are wholly incompetent singly and individually to deal with the matters now before them.
3. By way of counterclaim the defendant alleges that the plaintiff is a bigamous Mormon, having one real and three sealed wives, and deceived the defendant into marrying by not informing her that he had two living and three dead children, none of whom he supported.
4. He represented and thereby deceived the deft. prior to marriage by informing her that he owned the American S.S. Line and Ireland, whereas he was in debt for board and lodging, and had borrowed on the morning of his marriage $4 from a blind woman.
5. That the deft. is woozey.
6. Since marriage he has made love to the defendant's mother and has eaten onions, Switzer cheese, and tried to sleep with his boots on, and carried the keyhole with him when he went out at night.
7. That he had frequently, if not oftener, violated and broken into small pieces, the Ten Commandments.
8. That there were twelve notorious falsifiers in the the town the deft comes from—Pete Jones is one and th[illegible] is the other eleven.

Defended by Messrs. Shinn, M[illegible]ray, and Blackhouse as Counsel. Verdict: The Court guilty of bigamy.

Perhaps it would be interesting to those who have never made an ocean voyage to know something of the routine of our daily life. The first gong sounds at 7.30 a.m., notifying those who sit at the first table to rise and dress; half an hour later breakfast is ready, and the bill of fare is about what one would expect in a good hotel. The forenoon and afternoon for that matter, is spent by the majority, loafing in easy steamer chairs, reading and loitering about. There is generally some one at the piano playing some popular air or singing some familiar strain. In the smoking room they play cards, and on deck there are games of sea quoits, shuffle board, etc. It is very interesting to see the decks covered with be-rugged and overcoated people, dosing through the bright hours with absolutely nothing to do. It is as near dolce far niente as one can imagine. No newspapers, no letters, no telegrams, no possibility of getting off and taking the next train back, no newcomers to get on and spoil the arrangements, or disturb the harmony. It is rest, sweet, sweet, sleep rest. People from our side of the water are criticised for spending so much of their money on Atlantic voyages and in Europe. It seems almost the only way to escape the worries of life, and it has been demonstrated to us, all the pale cheeks can be made to bloom with health and tired appetites sharpened by the breeze of the sea. It is really marvellous how the spirits of those who have made this delightful trip with us have risen. Moreover, it is worthy of notice that there can be nothing in the business of the I.O.F.

TO BE CONCEALED,

or the officers of the association would not dare to have the delegates from our side of the Atlantic practically in Executive session for ten days, as they have been on this steamer. Very much good must result from this prolonged and exhaustive exchange of opinions and experiences. Indeed there can be little with which to be dissatisfied in regard to the management of the order, for ever since its reorganization in A.D. 1887, when Dr. Oronhyatekha became S.C.R., its progress has been upwards and onwards. At the time mentioned it had only a paying membership of 369, now it has over 30,000 members, with a surplus of over a million and a half dollars.

The ship itself has demonstrated the good judgment of its selection, as in any roughish weather we have had old travellers have declared it the steadiest in which they ever crossed the Atlantic. The purser tells us that the staple stores provided for the use of the cabin passengers consist of the following provisions:

Butter, 350 lbs; eggs, 3,000 lbs; fish, 2,000 lbs; beef, 9,000 lbs; mutton, 1,200 lbs; lamb, 800 lbs; veal, 700 lbs; pork, 700 lbs; corned beef, 800 lbs; hams, 300 lbs; bacon, 370 lbs; turkeys, 30; ducks, 210; fowls, 380; apples, 10 barrels; oranges, 26 boxes; pears, 18 boxes; berries and bananas, 14 boxes; sausage, liver, tripe, 650 lbs; new potatoes, 60 barrels; green corn, squash, vegetables and groceries innumerable, and 500,000 gallons of fresh water. In the steerage there are 312 passengers, and the crew consists of 140 men. The average consumption of coal is 120 tons per day.

Some of the funniest performances on the voyage into which more amusement has been crowded than the passengers have ever had in the same length of time, consisted of boxing matches, games of bear, blind man's bluff, my best friend, &c., among the stokers and sailors when off duty. The fun was really uproarious, and nothing I ever saw on the stage was as comical as the burlesque prize fight, in which one of the stokers held the top of a yeast can for a watch, and the combatants were sponged off with oil rags. In the steerage, too, singing, dancing and horse play of all kinds, afford innocent amusement—in fact, not an hour of daylight is passed without fun of some kind, and every evening an enjoyable entertainment has been given in the saloon.

Hoping that I have not already trespassed too much on your valuable time and space, I shall send you another letter descriptive of our experiences in the Old Country.

Yours, etc.,

BLAMING THE GRAND TRUNK

Rival Roads Too Ready to Accuse it of Things Other Lines do.

Dow, Jones & Co's. New York daily market letter of August 3rd says:

It has been frequently charged that the Grand Trunk was the direct cause of the disagreement of the Trunk line Presidents at their meeting last week, which resulted in an adjournment to August 18th. It was claimed that the Grand Trunk could not act without authority of its President. We learn from a reliable source the fact that as regards this agreement it was understood by all roads what the managers did would be next submitted to the solicitors in view of ascertaining how far what was regarded as expedient could be made legal. Nothing appears to have been said about the negative vote of the New York Central, but the fact is that the two objecting parties were the New York Central and the Grand Trunk. The course proposed in the draft agreement was considered of so drastic a character that these companies thought the committee should have allowed the different companies more time to consider the changes proposed and not to have attempted to force a decision then and there, especially as nothing could be done until the return of Messrs. Depew and Roberts. The point of it all is that someone has been trying to throw the entire blame upon the Grand Trunk, when other companies, especially the N. Y. Central, took the same position as the Grand Trunk. It has been a habit for a long time on the part of some of the trunk lines to make the Grand Trunk a scapegoat for various troubles they got into. The Grand Trunk has so far made no effort to contradict these statements. It should be stated that these meetings resulted in a great deal of good, as the westbound rates from New York are now being better maintained than previously.

The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

BULGARIAN ATROCITIES.

A Town Looted and Fired—Twenty-Five Mussulmen Killed.

Constantinople, Aug. 14.—The Vali of Adrianople has telegraphed to the Porte that, according to advices received by him, a strong Bulgarian band, many of whom are on horseback, attacked Janakli, a town in the Kirdjali district, inhabited by Mussulmen. The Bulgarians burned 300 houses and killed many of the villagers. The Vali adds that news emanates from the villagers and may be exaggerated. The Vali of Salonica confirms the report of the attack and says that it occured on Aug. 9. He adds that the band numbered 1000 men, and that 290 houses were destroyed by fire. He places the number of the killed at 25.

The knot was tied, however.

Dead on the Roadside.

Hamilton, Aug. 13.—Yesterday morning the lifeless body of George Salmon, a young farmer of Binbrook, was found on the roadside near that place. There were many bruises on the body and three deep gashes on the right temple.

Another Victory for the Prince

Ryde, Isle of Wight, Aug. 13.—The Royal Victoria Yacht Club had most disagreeable weather for the opening day of its regatta, which will last four days. The start was made at these times: Allsa, 10.00.05; Namara, 10.00.09; Isolde, 10.00.12; Caress, 10.00.18; Britannia, 10.01.05. The first round was finished at the times appended: Allsa, 12.08.18; Britannia, 12.10.11; Isolde, 12.31.20; Namara, 12.32.40; Caress, 12.35.35. The Namara gave up at the end of the first round. The boats finished as follows: Allsa, 2.53.27; Britannia, 2.53.55. The Britannia, therefore, won on time allowance. The Isolde finished at 3.37.45 and the Caress at 3.43.36. The Isolde, which took part in this race, is a 40-rater, not the 20 rater of that name.

A match has been arranged between Mr Roderick Wills' schooner Amphitrite, and the American schooner Vampa, owned by Mr. R. S. Palmer of New York, for 100 sovereigns. The agreement for the race provides that each boat may carry as large a crew as she pleases. The race will be over the course of the Royal Yacht squadron.

Nothing Less Excellent, Please.

The public, having proved the superior properties of Wilson's Invalid's Port wine certainly do not want anything inferior to that unique article. One does not willingly go back to coal oil from electric light. Wilson's Invalids' Port has made thousands of happy patrons by merit alone. Invalids need a something to stimulate and nourish, something that will make them hopeful, and buoyant, making them feel that they are gaining strength, and that they have a lease of happy life still before them. This is exactly what Wilson's Invalids' Port does. It is a fine old wine and extremely pleasant to taste, but while one tastes it, it does more than produce a stimulating effect. It is a blood maker. It is a renewer of strength. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Address Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

A Warning to Smokers.

For some time past certain dealers have been selling inferior brands of tobacco when "T & B" is asked for, thus not only trading on the reputation of the manufacturers but also injuring the sale of the article. The Geo. E. Tuckett & Son Co., of Hamilton, have taken the matter in hand and intend prosecuting the offenders. Smokers should be careful to see the "T & B" stamp on each plug as, to gain extra profit, unscrupulous dealers tear the tag off other brands and say it is "T & B" and "just as good."

Rev. C. B. Kenrick Evidently at Work.

Rev. C. B. Kenrick, formerly of St. John's church, but who is now rector of St. Mark's in Port Hope, is evidently giving his new parishioners a proof of his great energy in church work, as the Port Hope Times says :—"We understand that it has been decided by the authorities of St. Mark's to undertake the renovation of their church. Rev. C. B. Kenrick announced Sunday that the matter had been so enthusiastically taken up by the few to whom he had been able to speak during the preceding week that an effort would at once be made to raise the necessary sum. He was sure that they would all rally round the old church and make it worthy to take its place with the other handsome buildings which the town contained. On the first Sunday in September those who wished to help would be given an opportunity to contribute towards the expense. In the meantime subscriptions would be personally solicited from members of the congregation. We need scarcely remind our readers that St. Mark's is the oldest church building in the town and any effort to restore the edifice to its former beauty and stability will meet with the sympathy of many who do not make it their place of worship. We are informed that the improvements at present in contemplation, which have reference merely to the exterior, will cost about $300. The object of the repairs will be not merely to improve the appearance of the building, but to make it weather proof."

Shoppers are reminded that this store is at their service. Grafton & Co.

STREET CAR AND WAGGON COLLIDE.

Mr. Jos. Levasseur's Narrow Escape From Serious Injury.

Last evening, about six o'clock, a collision took place between the delivery waggon of Mr. Peter Connal's grocery and a trolley.

It appears that Mr. Joseph Levasseur, driver for Mr. Peter Connal, was driving down Dalhousie street after delivering parcels at the residence of Mr. R. S. Davidson, when nearing the corner of George and Dalhousie streets, he failed to see a street car approaching, owing to the high board fence at this point.

In attempting to take his side of the road, he, of course, was forced to cross the track, and in doing so the rear portion of the waggon was struck by the car.

Mr. Levasseur was thrown out with terrible force and was lying in an unconscious position until picked up by Mr. T. Cavanaugh, who happened to be near at the time. He was conveyed to his home on Bethune street.

Dr. Halliday was summoned, and upon examination it was found he had sustained severe bruises about the head and shoulders. The left side of his face is considerably disfigured, and his nose is also badly cut, as well as his tongue. He further complains of an injury to his left side. His escape from more serious injuries is indeed miraculous.

He is able to be out this morning, but it will be some weeks before he is able to resume duties. The delivery wagon is a complete wreck.

At this point, owing to the high board fence, it is impossible for the motorman to see a vehicle approaching from Dalhousie street, and no blame can be attached to those in charge of the trolley for last night's accident.

AN UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.

Two Ladies Sustain Injuries in a Runaway Accident.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Raymond and her daughter, Miss M. Raymond drove out to Chemong with a horse and buggy, in order to spend a few pleasant hours at the pretty resort.

Shortly before dusk they started on the trip homeward, when their horse, frightened at some lumber on the roadside, became unmanageable and ran away, throwing the ladies out on the road.

A conveyance was secured and they were conveyed to their apartments in the Grand Central Hotel.

Drs. Scott and Fife were summoned, and it was found that Miss Raymond, beyond a severe shaking up, happily escaped uninjured, but Mrs. Raymond, it is feared, is seriously injured, and the doctors in attendance are unable to tell the extent of her injuries, although it is thought that some of her ribs may be broken. A report was current last evening that Mrs. Raymond had her hip broken, but such is not the case, though internal injuries are feared.

There is no change in the unfortunate lady's condition this afternoon.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

To-morrow is not a statutory holiday, upon which it is the invariable custom of evening newspapers to forego the printing of an edition. It is, however, a holiday so very largely availed of by the citizens, and particularly by the working men of the community, that the publisher of the EXAMINER, himself a very considerable employer of labour, has decided to give the entire staff of the establishment a "day off," and thus do his share towards making the occasion one of general cessation from the ordinary toil of the week. To stop one day's publication is no light matter these times of incessant demand upon, and keen competition among the newspapers; and the publisher of the EXAMINER fully realises the responsibility he accepts in making the announcement that the paper will not be issued to-morrow. But, nevertheless, he is prepared to shoulder it, believing that his action will be appreciated by the forty odd employees to whom it will give an outing, and trusting that patrons and the general public will not see fit to condemn it—more particularly as the EXAMINER will, so far as possible, make up for the issue dropped, special pains being taken to provide for an unusually complete report of the Civic Holiday doings

"Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?" asks Macbeth. Certainly, my lord; the condition of the mind depends largely, if not solely, on the condition of the stomach, liver and bowels, for all of which complaints Ayer's Pills are "the sovereignest thing on earth."

Our Mid-Summer Special Sale inspires confidence. There are so many big plums in every department that they are easy to pick. We can only mention four to-day

We would like to call attention to our All Woo Dress Goods which we are letting go at "clear-up" prices. But we particularly want to find buyers for the above 4 specials while there is an ample wearing time ahead. You'll have to be a very poor economist to resist buying now.

The London Graphic Describes Hayhurst's Great Shooting.

As Private Hayhurst passed through, yesterday, on his way to Toronto, he handed a reporter the following clipping from the London Graphic, concerning his recent victory in England:

After luncheon the last ranges for the big prize of the meeting were commenced in a storm of wind and rain, which blew the scoring boards down repeatedly, and necessitated an allowance at 800 yards of some 20 feet. The weather had, for a wonder, no appreciable effect on the attendance of spectators, and there were probably more people behind the firing points to see the last shots than there has been for some years. Shooting was carried on under difficulties, and many of the hundred who had come up with big scores went to pieces at the first of the final ranges. Leading man when firing at 800 yds closed was Wattleworth of Liverpool, with a total of 246; Sergeant Hogg, the silver medallist, was next, a point behind, and Private Robinson and Armorer-Sergeant Fraser each had 244. The next range, 900 yards, produced more misses than have been made for the Queen's for some years, and there was hardly a board which did not record two or more misses or ricochets for the first shots. The crowd on these occasions always seem to know at which board the winner is to be found, and this afternoon the majority of the people clustered round the extreme left of the firing point, where on one board were Hogg and Hayhurst, and on the other Private Boyd, 3rd Lanark. The three men were almost neck and neck, and when each had fired 8 out of the 10 shots they stood respectively 273, 271 and 272. The first named missed his next shot and so lost his chance of winning the gold medal, as well as the silver, and, finishing with a bullseye, brought his total up to 278. Hayhurst made a bullseye with his ninth shot, and with one more to go was two points behind Hogg, while Boyd only made a magpie, and so had 275.

A TIE.

The crowd behind the last two men hardly breathed as the competitors lay down to shoot, and when at last Hayhurst's shot went an audible sigh of relief was heard. The dummy signalled a magpie, and so the Canadian's total was 279. Now was a time of great excitement among the Scotchmen, who had seen their hopes dashed to the ground as Hogg's score was beaten, but who now were again elated as a bullseye would make Boyd the winner. Taking little time, apparently, to get off his shot, the Lanark man was greeted with an outburst of cheering when it was seen that he had made an inner, and so tied for first place. Before firing the three tie shots, the two men shook hands and were photographed; then, amid a profound silence, fired the first shots on which so much depended. Hayhurst, starting with an outer, put on two inners, and so finished with 10 points. Boyd made an inner, then missed his second shot, and finishing with a bull was one point behind Hayhurst, who thus won the gold medal, gold badge and £230. A rush was immediately made for the fortunate winner, and amid a surging crowd of admirers, who shouted and cheered as loud as they could, he was carried to the chair, and then, escorted by a band playing the "Conquering hero," taken to the Council offices, where, after being photographed and having the trigger of his rifle tested, the badge was pinned on his arm by Lady Wantage. The usual march around camp followed, and then the prizes were presented by Lady Wantage in the Umbrella Tent, Hayhurst and the Canadians receiving an ovation when they appeared. The gold medalist of this year had only been in Canada a short time, and before leaving England was a well-known figure at Wimbledon and Bisley meetings. He is only 27, and admits to a liking for tobacco and his glass of beer.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

DOMINION UNION.

The Endeavour movement has made two advance steps in its history at the late Boston convention.

(1st) The formation of a World's Union C. E. (2nd) The representatives from Canada formed a Dominion Union—a miniature confederation of the provinces for the purpose of drawing closer and strengthening the bonds of C. E. from ocean to ocean. To this end the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved,—

"That in the interests of Christian Endeavour work in Canada, it is desirable that a Dominion Executive Committee be founded, consisting of representatives from every Provincial Union."

"That the opinion of this committee of representatives, the year 1896 would be a suitable time, and Ottawa a suitable place, for the first Dominion Convention."

"That to prevent a multiplicity of conventions, it is recommended that in the year of the Dominion convention the various provincial gatherings, as far as possible, shall meet and transact the necessary provincial business at rallies, which will be arranged at the large convention."

"That provided this meeting approves of these recommendations, representatives be at once named by the members, which shall form a provincial committee and shall be charged with the duty of bringing the matter before the various provincial executives and provincial conventions for their consent and approval. Such committee to consist of the presidents of the Provincial Unions, with two others from each to be appointed by the president."

TOWN LOCAL UNION.

At the last meeting of the Executive it was decided to have the next union meeting in Charlotte street church on the second Monday in September. At this meeting the report of the Boston Convention will be given by the county delegate. It was also decided to abandon for this year the proposed union excursion, and in its place later on have a committee social. The meetings of the executive have greatly improved in interest under the new president.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY.

In the absence of the president, Mr. P. Kennedy occupied the chair, and conducted the meeting as a Bible study, bringing out points from which each present should receive benefit. Mr. Ward was present and spoke a few words of encouragement. The music committee intend giving a lawn social on Tuesday evening, Aug. 20th, to which all are invited.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A large number of campers are now enjoying themselves on Rice Lake.

Mr. Blakey and wife, of Toronto, are visiting friends here.

Moonlight excursion down the river Friday night.

Otonabee exhibition October 2nd and 3rd.

A large number of our citizens took in the curlers' excursion around the lakes, and came back very well pleased with their days outing.

Mr. T. Drain, of Norwood, was in the village last week.

A large number of young folks enjoyed a sail to Idyl Wyld per Outlet Queen on Wednesday last.

Mr. Jas. McNeil's house is nearly completed and presents a fine appearance.

Prince of Orange Lodge L.T.B., decked out with their new caps and badges, went to Lindsay on the 12th to celebrate the anniversary of the Relief of Derry. The lodge here is in a very flourishing condition, with about twenty-five members, and more coming.

Mr. Yokome, of THE EXAMINER staff, Peterborough is spending a few weeks in Keene.

The party of young people from Hastings, who were camping at Shearer's Point, have returned to their homes again after spending a pleasant time on the lake. I am sure Hastings missed the Professor and will be pleased to have him with them once more.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this imporant matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are procative of feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly, and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Corn Extractor.

Saturday the Last Day in the Dolan Store.

This week terminates Gough Bros. lease in the Dolan Store—positively. All goods remaining unsold after Saturday must be moved out. After that date Gough Bros. will have no farther interest in the corner store. A clothing blizzard—sweeping the counters and shelves at prices a quarter and third below original values—now rages. Hustle and catch the bargains as they fly. Saturday night the great sale closes. What remains in clothing and furnishings will be cleaned out en bloc. The stock of cloths and the tailoring department will be removed to the mammoth stores on George street. Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men, 377 and 379 George street. dw

My Wife

And I never have any altercations, and our neighbours marvel at our congeniality.

What's the reason for this blessed state of affairs? you ask.

Well, when first our two throbbing hearts were made one, we established a sort of set of rules, which both of us have adhered to very steadfastly. But, even then differences would arise. For instance, We want to take a trip on the Civic Holiday. She wants to go to Niagara Falls and Buffalo on the Foresters' excursion, while I favour another excursion. She wanted her way, and I wanted mine.

Have we quarreled? Not a bit of it—we effected a compromise. That's an agreeable way to settle disputes, you know.

Which trip are we going to take? H'm—well we are going the way my wife wanted—to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, via C.P.R.

AN UNWILLING BRIDEGROOM.

A Young Petrolia Man Claims He Was the Victim of a Forced Marriage.

Hamilton, Aug. 14.—An elderly woman named Mrs. McCormick of Petrolea arrived in the city to-day looking for her son, a young man of 19, who left that place on Sunday afternoon. She found him at the residence of a relative in the west end, but he refused to return home. She consulted a prominent law firm in regard to the matter, and got an affidavit sworn to by the young man setting forth the facts of a very peculiar case.

The young man, whose name is W. J. McCormick, says that on Friday evening last he met in the village a young woman named Sarah Savage, with whom he has been keeping company, and walked home with her towards the house of a man named Josh, by whom she had been employed. Near the house, according to his story, the girl's father, James Savage, and her brother came up with them, and accompanied the young couple to Josh's house, where he insisted he should marry the girl. He alleges that by threats on his life they forced him to consent.

They got a license and secured the presence of Rev. Mr. McRobbie, and had them married at Josh's house at 2 o'clock in the morning. The groom made no protest, and he claims that he was drugged, as he remembers no more until the next afternoon, when the effects of the "dope" wore off. He felt the disgrace so much that he left town that afternoon. "I wasn't going to stay there and face the disgrace," he said to a reporter.

The young man swore to the affidavit in acordance with his story, and the mother will leave for home this evening.

AN INDIAN SAINT.

A Petition to Add the Name of a Canadian Mohawk Girl to the Holy Calendar.

New York, Aug. 13.—A petition for the beatification of Koteri Lekakwitha, a Mohawk maiden, who died at Caughnawaga, in the year 1680, has been forwarded to the Holy See. The Iroquois girl was one of the original Christian missionaries to her own people. The scene of her labors was at Auriesville, N. Y.

The little village on the Mohawk River which witnessed the self-devotion of Father Isaac Jogues and of Rene Goupil, and was the scene of the labors of Kateri TekakWitha, the Lily of the Mohawk, to convert the members of her tribe, is now holy ground, and around the enclosure attached to the shrine have been erected crosses for the devotions of the stations, while a mound in the centre has been transformed into a Calvary, having three large crosses, bearing life-size figures ,to commemorate the death of the Saviour.

Auriesville is on the south bank of the Mohawk, in Montgomery County, and was the site of the Mission of Martyrs. Besides Goupil, a young scholastic of the Jesuits, who was martyred in 1642, and Father Jogues, whose life was sacrificed in 1646, many heroic men and women, both Indian and French, suffered on this sacred spot for their devotion to Christianity.

Kateri Tekakwitha was an Iroquois maiden, whose piety and devotion won many of her nation and of other tribes to the faith.

The month of August is specially set aside for those desiring to pay a visit to this holy spot, and each day during the month mass will be said by one of the Jesuit fathers on the spot hallowed by the martyr's blood. Many thousand pilgrims will visit the shrine during this month, and the present week, during which the feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin is considered by devout Catholics an especitily appropriate time to pay their devotion to Our Lady of Martyrs.

The pilgrims, who assemble in St. Francis Xavier's to-morrow, will proceed in a body to the shrine and will spend the whole of Thursday, the feast day, at the shrine, where they will be joined by a band of pilgrims from Amsterdam. Another body will leave this city on Saturday.

TO AVENGE THE MASSACRES.

Five Chinese Murderers Under Arrest—The Commission of Enquiry.

London, Aug. 14.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon publishes a despatch from Shanghai, stating that the commission appointed to inquire into the massacre of Christians will leave Foo-Chow this afternoon for Kucheng. The commission is composed of the British and American Consuls at Foo-Chow and several missionaries.

An official telegram has been received in the city stating that an imperial edict has been issued at Pekin at the instance of Mr. N. R. O'Connor, the British Minister, calling on the Governors of the provinces to take precautions that the people are not misled by rumors exciting them against the missionaries. The dispatch adds that five of the men concerned in the massacre of missionaries at Kucheng have already been arrested and will be tried immediately.

STUNNED, STABBED, THEN DROWNED

A French Marquis Charged With the Murder of His Natural Son—His Wife Also Suspected.

Bourgess, France, Aug. 14.—The Indictment Court here has committed the Marquis de Nayve for trial at the Cher Assizes on the charge of murdering the illegitimate son of his wife. The case is a sensational one.

The Marquis of Nayve has been imprisoned since the middle of July, 1894, awaiting trial for the murder of a son his wife had bore him before marriage. His arrest at the railway station at Guetin, as he was returning from a trip through Switzerland, to his chateau at Presles, on the bank of the Loire, caused a tremendous sensation throughout the district.

The Marquis was one of the leading personalities in the department, and was reputed to be a man of great benevolence, although it was known that in his younger days he had sown more than a fair share of wild oats, and dissipated a large patrimony before marrying the rich heiress whose illegitimate child he is charged with having murdered. He was born at Grenoble in 1849, and is now, therefore, in his 46th year.

The Marquis was accused of having thrown his wife's son into the Bay of Naples from the cliffs along the Sorrentero, after having stunned him with a heavy instrument. It was also said that the youth had been stabbed before being thrown from the cliffs into the bay, but this version was afterwards denied.

It transpired later on that the denial which caused the Marquis' arrest emanated from his own wife. Friends of the Marquis added that the boy had not been murdered, but was of a despondent nature and had committed suicide by jumping from a cliff during the tour through Italy, in which the Marquis had taken him in the hope of dispelling his gloominess.

The Marquis' partisans further stated that his wife had concocted the murder story in order to rid herself of the Marquis so that she might marry a priest who had lived with the Nayves ever since their marriage and had been the boy's tutor, if not his father.

The fact that Madame de Nayve about this time introduced a suit for divorce against the prisoner lent some color to this theory, and in the absence of anything but hearsay evidence and Madame de Nayve's denunciation, it was thought at one time that the prosecution would be abandoned.

The Procureur-General at Bourgess, M. Gourgeois, was removed to Douai, at this period of the case, and it was rumored that his displacement was due to his unwillingness to shelve the case.

Some weeks later, though, the Marquis was still under arrest, and it was announced that M. Albert Danet of Paris was retained as his counsel, and that the trial would take place in January, 1895.

Commissions to examine witnesses had meantime been collecting evidence in Italy, at Paris, Orleans, Havre and in the department of Cher. Voluminous, however, as this evidence was, it proved to be circumstantial and indecisive, and before the January session opened the authorities decided to postpone the trial till to-day in order to collect further evidence.

Murdered by Mistake.

San Jose, Cal., Aug. 13.—Dr. Henry Case, an old and respected physician, has been arrested on a charge of murder. He attended Elezer Frost, a local capitalist, during a recent illness. The man died, and a coroner's jury found the doctor had made a mistake in the medicine given; hence the arrest.

Killed One, Wounded Two With One Shot.

Middletown, N.Y., Aug. 13.—Three men with performing bears, who wanted to spend Monday night in Farmer McComb's barn, near Summitville, were ordered away by the farmer, but refused to go. McComb got a shot gun and fired into the gang, instantly killing one man and wounding the two others.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-known Peterborough Lady.

Peterborough, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

Deadly Cancer Cured By B. B. B.

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co:

SIRS,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement, and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and I am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B.B.B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced saved my life. Gratefully yours,

BRITISH VETERINARIES MISTAKEN

Hon. Mr. Dickey to Be Nominated to the University Senate Hon. Mr. Ives in Better Health—A Yellow Fever Ship Objects to Being Quarantined.

Otawa, Aug. 13.—The Minister of Militia, Hon. Mr. Dickey, will be nominated to the Senate of Toronto University, of which he is an M.A., to represent the graduates in arts of this district. Mr. Dickey will accept the nomination.

Owners of the ship Ellen S. Kenny of St. John to-day sent a protest, backed by the local members, against quarantining the vessel on account of an outbreak of yellow fever on her voyage from the West Indies. The department directed the officer at that port to use his own discretion.

Hon. Mr. Ives, who is now at Ostend, writes that he is improving in health and will sail from Liverpool for Canada, Sept. 17.

Chief Engineer Schreiber left to-night for the Soo, in consequence of advices that there is trouble there which may lead to delay in the opening of the canal.

Dairy Commissioner Robertson is in Montreal superintending the fitting up of the steamer with cold storage for butter and early fruit.

The Department of Agriculture has located the place of purchase of the cattle sent via the steamship Huronia to Deptford, where it is said pleuro-pneumonia was discovered after slaughter. An investigation of the herds is proceeding. Dr. McEachren, the chief veterinary inspector, reports that it was probably corn stalk disease, caused by exposure and hardship.

Inspector Dan O'Leary of the Dominion Police returned to day from Lindsay, where he was running down a gang of counterfeiters and will leave for Winnipeg to-morrow at noon. He goes to Winnipeg for the German embezzler, Albert Frank, alias Ott, who is wanted in Germany, and will convey the prisoner as far as Montreal.

Tuberculosis Not Hereditary.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 13.—The State Veterinary Department has conducted an exhaustive series of experiments to determine whether tuberculosis in cattle is hereditary. They conclude it is not.

McCARTHY STILL IRISH LEADER.

The Anti-Parnellites Hold an Amicable Meeting at Westminster.

London, Aug. 14.—When the House of Commons opened to-day, Speaker Gully announced that Her Majesty had approved of his re-election as the presiding officer of the House. He then proceeded, on behalf of the House, to make the customary claim for the ancient rights and privileges of the House of Commons, which are freedom of speech, freedom from arrest and free access to Her Majesty.

After this the members were sworn in in batches of five.

The House of Lords assembled at noon to-day, Lord Halsbury, the Lord Chancellor, and Lords Coventry, Limerick, Cross and Balfour of Burleigh, the commission appointed to read the Royal proclamation opening the session of Parliament, announced that the Queen had approved the re-election of Mr. William Court Gully as Speaker of the House of Commons. Mr. Gully stood at the bar of the House and read the Royal assent given to his re-election. Many of the members of the House of Lords affixed their signatures to the roll of the new Parliament.

The anti-Parnellite members of the House met in the afternoon, in committee room No. 15, to elect a sessional committee to control the policy of the party. It was expected that the meeting would be a stormy one, Justin McCarthy, the leader of the anti-Parnellites, intending to move a resolution of discipline.

A point of divergence between the supporters of Mr. John Dillon and Mr. Timothy Healy was, it was thought, also likely to cause trouble. It was believed that the Dillonites would seek to exclude Mr. Healy from membership on the sessional committee, and they are strong enough to do so, their number being 39, against the Healyites' 26. Two members of the party were doubtful.

The moderates, who sought to avoid further dissensions in the party, induced Mr. Sexton to mediate between the two factions.

The meeting re-elected Mr. Justin McCarthy chairman of the party. Mr. Healy was present at the meeting.

The anti-Parnellite meeting was chiefly occupied in discussing a motion presented by Arthur O'Connor in favor of abolishing the Consultative Committee.

The Times to-morrow will say that the motion was submitted to the meeting in behalf of the Healyite faction, the committee having become a Dillonite body, and that it was defeated by a vote of 34 to 26. The Times will also say that after the Queen's speech had been heard by Parliament the federationists will hold a meeting to determine whether to move an amendment to the speech.

J. W. Lowther Deputy Speaker

Nine Unfortunates Helped From Buffalo.

Buffalo, Aug. 13.—The superintendent of poor was called on to-day to assist nine persons out of the city. All were strangers, without money, and were picked up by the police. Mrs. Rebecca Wall and her 5-year-old child were sent to Port Colborne, Ont.; Mrs. Wall had been robbed of her satchel and her railway ticket, and her brother had got jagged and was arrested and sent to the penitentiary. Two squaws, Martha Burnham and her sister, were robbed of their hand-satchel, containing money and railroad tickets. They were billed to Hagersville, Ont.; Mrs. Catherine Phillips, with three children, who had been visiting in Uxbridge, Ont., lost her pocket-book, money and tickets and was forwarded by the superintendent to Bradford, Pa.

ELOPER CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Said to Have Killed the Man Whose Wife He Loved.

Toledo, O., Aug. 14.—Patrick Boyle, who eloped from Kalamazoo with Mrs. Frank Clancy, was arrested here this morning on suspicion of knowing something of the mysterious death of the woman's husband, who was picked up in the streets here last Monday in a dazed condition and sent to Ann Arbor, where he died the following day. When arrested Boyle told contradictory stories. He finally acknowledged that he and Mrs. Clancy came here about July 1, and have lived as man and wife at the Empire Hotel under the name of Dillon. Two weeks ago Mrs. Clancy became frightened and went to Windsor, Ont. Boyle was in that city a week ago and spent Sunday with the woman. Sheriff Judson of Ann Arbor, who is here, declared that Clancy was undoubtedly struck in the head with some blunt instrument. Boyle protests his innocence. Chief Reitz has wired to Detroit and Windsor to arrest Mrs. Clancy and her brother, John Stevens, who is with her in Windsor. Mrs. Clancy, in an interview at Windsor to-day, said that she had not seen her husband since leaving Kalamazoo. She went to Windsor from Toledo in company with her brother, John Stevens.

Protecting the Gold Reserve.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Evidence that the Belmont-Morgan bond syndicate intend to protect the gold reserve of the Treasury against raids upon it for export to Europe was received at the Treasury Department by Acting Secretary Curtis this afternoon. A telegram from Acting Assistant Treasurer Muhlman reached him, stating that J. P. Morgan & Co. had deposited $1,346,000 in gold coin at the New York sub-treasury in exchange for United States notes. A previous telegram to the department contained the information that $900,000 in gold coin had been withdrawn from the sub-treasury for export to-morrow. With the deposit of gold to-day by the syndicate their total deposits since gold exports have been resumed on a large scale amount to $3,346,000. It is estimated here that with exchange at 490 1-2 to 490 3-4, a net profit of $3000 on each $1,000,000 gold exported is made by the shippers. Treasury officials are much gratified at the action of the syndicate, as it is construed to mean that they will not permit the gold reserve to fall below $100,000,000. At the close of business to-day the reserve stood at $101,933,715.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are usetul as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. WALKER MURDERED.

Killed in Windsor—Dumped in the River at Amherstburg.

POST-MORTEM PROVES FOUL PLAY

Examination Showed That There Was No Water in the Lungs, That the Alleged Bullet Wound is an Old Scar, But That Death Resulted From a Blow.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 15.—A post-mortem examination on the body of Alfred Frederick Walker held at Amherstburg this morning left no doubt that Walker was killed and then thrown into the water. The body remained in the air long enough for animation to have been entirely suspended, and no water or traces of water were found in the lungs. Death was found to have occurred as the result of a blow on top of the head by which the skull was crushed in and the brain injured. The blow was given by some blunt instrument propelled with sufficient force to cut through the skull bone, probably struck from behind.

It is thought probable that Walker was killed in Windsor Monday night, and after death carried to Amherstburg in a small boat. So far as can be learned no fights occurred in Windsor or suburbs that evening in which anyone was injured.

Early Tuesday morning two strangers landed in Amhersburg from up the river. They abandoned the small boat which had carried them to the town, had breakfast at the American hotel, skipping out without paying for their meal and being caught later. The men failed to give a good account of themselves, but were released after being questioned. One claimed to be Ed. Collins, 3248 Monroe-street, Toledo, but when questioned showed considerable ignorance of the town he called his home.

Walker put up at the Crawford House in this city, Sunday night, and Alfred Taylor last Sunday night, and Alfred Taylor last saw him at 6 o'clock Monday night. Twenty-four hours later his body was found at Bar Point, 24 miles from Windsor. The wound on his head, which was thought to have been caused by a bullet, is an old one, the result of a fall. Mr. Taylor says that Walker was the last man to commit suicide, as he had brilliant chances ahead of him. He was of a temperament that nothing could discourage and Mr. Taylor thinks that he got into a row and was dumped into the river. All efforts to trace Walker after Monday night have failed.

George W. Walker, a brother of the dead man, arrived from Guelph this morning, and will take the body up on the steamer Wyandotte to-night, and thence to Guelph. The inquest was adjourned until to-night at Amherstburg.

Amherstburg, Ont., Aug. 15.—The coroner's jury in the case of A. F. Kalker, whose body was found in the river here Monday, returned a verdict to-night that he came to his death by being hit upon the head by some blunt instrument in the hands of an unknown person. It is generally believed here that he committed suicide, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury. A letter was left by him to the public to the effect that he was going to make away with himself and was found in his room at Detroit to-day.

Work on the Breslau Murder Case

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 15.—Detective Greer arrived back from Toronto this morning, and with Detective Klippert left this afternoon to resume work on the Breslau murder case. Not much weight is given here to the report that there was an accomplice in the murder. Messrs. Greene & Co. went out to the scene of the murder this afternoon to photo the spot where the dead man was found. Mr. Hagey's house and Kurschinski's home and surroundings. The ground will also be surveyed betwen the different points bearing on the case.

Corbett Married Again.

Asbury Park, N.J., Aug. 15.—This morning Champion James J. Corbett was married to Miss Jessie Taylor of Omaha, Neb. The bride is known by the name of Vera Stanwood. Corbett returned from Buffalo this morning and made up his mind to get married. Mr. Corbett invited only three of his Asbury Park friends, and kept the proposed marriage so quiet that even William A. Brady, his manager, knew nothing of it. Justice John A. Bordon of Asbury Park performed the ceremony.

A BELLIGERENT M.P.

Dr. Tanner, M.P., Creates a Scene in the Commons.

EXPELLED FROM THE HOUSE.

Duke of Marlborough's Speech in Moving the Address—Daly of Limerick Disqualified, Being a Convict and His Seat Will Be Declared Vacant.

London, Aug. 15.—The House of Commons met at 2 o'clock this afternoon and were at once summoned by the Usher of the Black Rod to the House of Lords, to hear the reading of the Queen's Speech, which was as follows:

My Lords and Gentlemen,—The communications which I receive from foreign powers assure me of the continuance of their good-will. I am happy to say that no complication has arisen in any quarter that is calculated to endanger the peace of Europe. The war between China and Japan, which was in progress at the opening of the last session, has been brought to a conclusion by a peace which, I trust, will be enduring. I have observed strict neutrality during the war, and have not taken any action in respect thereto, except such as appeared likely to be favorable to a termination of hostilities.

I deeply regret to say that most atrocious outrages upon a body of English missionaries have been reported in the Province of Fukien, China. In reply to an earnest representation addressed to the Chinese Government by my direction, active measures, which I trust will prove effective, are being taken to punish the murderers and all who were in any degree responsible for these crimes.

Internal troubles, which have broken out in the Armenian districts of Asiatic Turkey, have been attended with horrors which have moved the indignation of the Christian nations of Europe generally, and my people especially. My Ambassador and the Ambassadors of the Emperor of Russia and the President of the French Republic, acting together, have suggested to the Government of the Sultan the reforms which, in their opinion, are necessary to prevent the recurrence of constant disorder. These proposals are now being considered by the Sultan, and I am anxiously awaiting his decision. A resolution has been passed by both Houses of the Parliament of the Cape of Good Hope, proposing that the adjacent Crown Colony of Bechuanaland should be incorporated with Cape Colony. I signified that I was willing to consider favorably an act for that purpose, providing it contained proper safeguards to my interests and those of my native subjects, especially as regards their lands, the liquor traffic and the maintenance of their own system of justice. I received satisfactory assurances on the matter, and an act has been passed by the Cape Parliaments which I have every reason to expect will fulfil my requirements.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,—The estimates for the service years which were not voted by the last Parliament will be laid before you.

My Lords and Gentlemen,—At this season of the year it will probably be found more convenient to defer until another session the consideration of any important legislative matters, except those necessary to provide for the administrative charges of the year.

The commission to read the Queen's Speech consisted of Lord Halsbury, the Lord Chancellor, the Duke of Portland, the Earl of Lathom, Viscount Cross and Lord Balfour of Burleigh. All were attired in their scarlet and ermine robes of office. Lord Halsbury read the Speech, while Speaker Gully and the members of the House of Commons stood at the bar. When the reading was concluded, the Speaker and other members of the House of Commons retired to their own chamber.

A short recess was then taken, after which both Houses reassembled at 4 o'clock, when the debate on the address in reply to the Speech was opened. In the House of Lords the Duke of Marlborough moved and Lord Ampthill seconded the address. In the House of Commons the Hon. T. Wodehouse Leigh, Conservative, eldest son of Lord Newton, moved the address, and his motion was seconded by Mr. T. Herbert Robertson, the new Conservative member for Hackney.

The Speaker read the Queen's Speech in the Commons. Mr. Gavin Brown, Clark, Radical, raised an objection to the pasage referring to the outrages on English missionaries, who, he said, were really Scotch and Irish.

Speaker Gully overruled the objection.

Before debating the address in reply to the Queen's Speech, Sir Richard Webster, the Attorney-General, made a motion for the production of a copy of the conviction and judgment against John Daly, who is now serving a sentence for treason and felony, and who was returned as a member of Parliament by the City of Limerick in the last election. Sir Richard also asked for the production of a certificate from the Governor of Portland Prison that Daly is still undergoing sentence there.

Mr. John Redmond, Parnellite member of Waterford City, said he recognized this motion as being merely a formal one; nevertheless it was the first step in proceedings aiming to over-ride the unanimous election of the electors of Limerick. He would protest against it by calling for a division of the House.

The motion was carried by a vote of 314 to 77.

Daly was arrested when in possession of dynamite bombs. He was tried with J. F. Egan and others at the Warwick Assizes in 1884, convicted of treason and felony, and sentenced to penal servitude for life.

The pardon which was granted by the late Government to some men who were convicted of similar offences was not extended to Daly.

There is no chance of Daly ever serving in Parliament, for the reason that the act of 1870, which abolished attainder for felony, deal with the matter in express terms. It provides that no person thereafter convicted and sentenced for a term exceeding 12 months, unless he shall have received a free pardon within the 12 months of sentence, or shall have suffered the punishment, shall be capable of being elected or sitting or voting as a member of either House.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said he hoped the Armenian question would noe be allowed to sleep. He pressed the Government for information as to their intentions regarding the Irish question.

Right Hon. A. J. Balfour said the Government were doing their best to carry into effect the policy regarding Armenia that had been initiated by the preceeding Government, but they must guard against anything suggestive of a crusade in which Moslem would be arrayed against Christian. It did not appear to be a necessity Mr. Balfour declared, that any legislation upon the Irish land question should be had until the next session of Parliament.

Sir Charles W. Dilke reminded the House that the Chinese Government had always protested against the residence of missionaries in the Empire, and said that the missionaries certainly ought to conform, in every possible way tot the customs of the country, but, he added, he feared they did not always do so.

John Redmond then moved the amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's Speech, of which he had previously given notice, calling upon the Government to declare their policy in regard to Home Rule for Ireland, the reform of the land law, the compulsory purchase of land for evicted tenants, and the industrial condition of the country. The omendment was seconded by Joseph Kenny.

John Dillon, speaking in support of Mr. Redmond's amendment, contended that the Home Rulers had returned to Parliament stronger than ever, having won from the Unionists two seats in Ireland, where the nation's opinion had not been altered by the English political revolution. Mr. Dillon admitted that there was an ominous silence in America regarding the Irish question which he confessed he could not like. It was a sign, he said, that the mighty work effected by Parnell in leading the people there to believe that Ireland's cause would bewonby constitutional legislation in Parliament had been destroyed. He appealed to the Government to use their strength by showing justice.

Mr. Dillon proposed an amendment, demanding immediate legislation in relation to judicial rents.

Gerald W. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, thanked the Irish members who had spoken for the woderate language they had used. The Government's attitude toward Home Rule was, he said, and would continue, to be one of unflinching opposition. They could not introduce a land bill now, owing to its necessarily controversial character. He did not regard a temporary bill as desirable. The question regarding evicted tenants he declared, was not nearly so urgent as it was represented to be. Mr. Dillon had suggested that it was possible to frame a non-conecntious bill in relation to the matter, and the Government, Mr. Balfour said, was prepared to consider such a bill should one be submitted.

This statement of the Chief Secretary was greeted with cheers from the Irish benches.

Continuing, Mr. Balfour said, regarding the other matter mentioned, that the Government would fairly consider them and if they were able to promote the prosperity of Ireland by the adoption of the measures proposed they would do so. Their desire was to remedy every legitimate grievance regardless of creed or class, aiming not only at a just, but a generous promotion of the industrial and material development of the country by sowing the seeds of future prosperity.

The conclusion of the Chief Secretary's remarks evoked loud and prolonged cheering.

Timothy Harrington, in supporting the amendment, referring to the attitude of the Liberal party toward Home Rule during the last election, as unknown, when a member whose identity was not discovered, exclaimed, "They ran away from it."

At this Dr. Charles K. D. Tanner, anti-Parnellite, cried ont, "That's a lie."

Amid calls for order the Speaker directed Dr. Tanner to withdraw the expression he had made use of and to apologize for having used it.

To this that member replied: "I cannot hstand up when you are in your place."

Speaker Gully: "I shall be under the necessity of naming the honorable member."

Dr. Tanner: "I cannot withdraw what I believe to be the truth."

The Speaker then named Dr. Tanner for gross disobedience of the chair and for wilful disorder.

Dr. Tanner responded: "On the contrary, sir, anything that comes to me from the chair I am only too happy to do, but I cannot tell an untruth."

Joseph Chamberlain then moved that Dr. Tanner be suspended, and amid cheers the Speaker put the question. The responses were loud "Ayes" and a few "Noes."

The Speaker's announcement of the result of the vote was challenged, and the usual course was pursued. When the tellers were asked the result of the division by the Speaker Dr. Tanner exclaimed, "I'll tell myself."

The Speaker declared the motion carried and ord ered Dr. Tanner to withdraw, but the latter did not move. Thereupon the Speaker directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove him. Dr. Tanner at once rose from his seat bowed to the chair and marched down the gangway. Turning, he shouted: "I have greater pleasure in leaving than I ever had in entering this dirty House." He pointed at Mr. Chamberlain, at whom he also shook his fist and shouted "Judas." Four times before he reached the door, Dr. Tanner turned and repeated the epithet. The last words the members heard as the attendants ejected him were: "You won't try any nonsense with me."

Dr. Tanner's suspension is for a week, this being the first time he has been suspended.

Mr. Harrington having finished the debate, the House adjourned.

is weakening. You cannot afford to fall below your healthy weight. If you will take Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda when your friends first tell you you are getting thin, you will quickly restore your healthy weight and may thereby prevent serious illness.

Persons have been known to gain a pound a day by taking an ounce a day of Scott's Emulsion. This seems extraordinary; but it is absolutely true.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 16, 1895.

TALK UP THE TOWN.

The Belleville Sun is responsible for the following sensible advice:

"More towns die from lack of confidence on the part of business men and lack of spirit than from any other cause. When a man in search of a home or business location goes into a town and finds everything brimful of hope and enthusiasm over the prospects of the place, and all earnestly at work to build it up, he soon becomes imbued with the same spirit, and as a result he drives down his stakes and goes to work with the same interest. When, however, he goes to a town where everyone expresses doubt and apprehension of the future prosperity of the place, moping about and indulging in mournful complaints, he naturally feels that this is no place for him, and at once shakes the dust off his feet, while he pulls out with all possible speed for some other place. Consequently try to make a live, energetic town out of the one in which you live. When you are working for or saying a good thing for your town you are accomplishing it the more for self."

What is true of a city or town is true of a country, and is equally true of private businesses. Professional pessimists are a drag on the wheel everywhere; they do not pull themselves, and they discourage those who are trying to do so.

So far as our own town is concerned, loyalty to place is something of which we have abundance. There is no man, woman or child hereabout, with soul so dead, who has not to himself or herself said, "Peterborough is good enough for me."

Confidence in our town is abundantly justified. As a home town, Peterborough possesses probably a better average of private residence than is to be found elsewhere in Canada. Although we have many handsome streets, we have few costly mansions; but everywhere and on all sides evidences of a large measure of comfort are to be seen, in which all classes in the community join. Supplied by one of the best farmers markets in the country, and located in the bull's-eye of a very fertile agricultural district, the necessaries of life—and many of the luxuries of cities—may be had here at extremely low rates. For the up-bringing of families the advantages are offered of a place both physically and morally in the highest sanitary condition, while the educational facilities, for both sexes, are the best obtainable in the Dominion.

In addition to the above desiderata, we have an efficient electric street railway system, which affords rapidity of transportation to all parts of the town. We are also conveniently situated, to reach at moderate cost, not only most of the great summer resorts of the continent, but the great trade centres as well.

The back lakes are but a stone's throw from us and the means of reaching them are varied and pleasant.

In business matters we have the reputation of being the "solid" town, in this respect, of Canada. With very few exceptions, the men who do business here have been long in trade and have acquired ample means and gilt-edged credit. We are not dependent upon any one line of industry for support—agriculture and manufacturing being satisfactorily blended. Both are the best of the kind. Our farmers are the most intelligent and most progressive in the Province, while our manufacturers have not only a continental reputation for enterprise but for stability as well.

Furthermore, in a purely civic sense, we are citizens of no mean town. Peterborough has a civic "outfit" for a place two or three times its size. The streets are lighted by electricity, and are patrolled by an efficient and watchful police force. The city is rated well in insurance, and has a splendidly-equipped fire department, possessed of all the latest aids in fighting fires. The average yearly loss by fire for the past four years has been small indeed, probably less than any town on the continent. We have two splendid hospitals, water works, and public library, and there are more and prettier parks than in any city in Canada ten times our size.

The the soil hereabout has been productive of very clever people. To the councils of the nation; to literature and art; to science and invention; to high financial circles; to education we have contributed much more than our quota.

Finally, we progress. None of the smaller towns of Canada have kept pace with us, and we are steadily, but surely, making our way to a higher grade. True, we have had no "boom," but every municipal or Dominion census shows a gain, and we are sure of getting there.

More might be said along this line, but possibly we have stated all that good taste calls for. If we have over-stepped that mark in the opinion of some of our effete neighbours, we have nothing to apologies for. Better be a little over-zealous in talking about the place in which you live and do business, than not to say enough, or to be forever running it down.

Most of our citizens take a great interest in town affairs and do all in their power to try and promote everything that will be for the good of the town. Farmers and people living in the vicinity of the town should also take an interest in its well-being, for it is here they sell their products and buy most of their groceries, provisions, etc. How can these people further assist the town? If in no other way they can refuse to purchase goods from many pedlars who call at their homes. The goods these fellow handle are generally cheap trash, purchased in the large cash shops of Toronto and brought down here on the trains as baggage—thus saving express and freight charges. With these goods on their backs they start out to canvass the country, and even if you don't want the goods you will often buy them to get rid of the peddlars. There is no way of stopping them but to simply starve them out by not buying their goods. They pay no taxes to assist in keeping up the roads, public buildings, etc., and are generally a dirty lot of fellows and would be very little missed if put out of existence, as as they are of no use to any community or country. Now, let everyone refuse to deal with these hawkers and purchase your goods from established merchants, and thus help to build up the town. Keeping money in circulation in your own town is the best way to build it up.

FACTS FOR ELECTORS.

In the year 1891 J. F. Lister, M.P., asked for a Special Parliamentary Committee in order that he might establish the truth of the following allegations which he made:

That in 1879 and subsequently John C. Haggart, then a member of the House of Commons and afterwards a member of the Government, was financially interested in the contracting firm, nominally composed of Alexander Manning, Alexander Shields, J. J. Macdonald, Alexander McDonell, James Isbester and Peter McLaren, which had a contract with the Government of Canada for the construction of "Section B" of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and derived direct and substantial pecuniary benefits therefrom.

That during the progress of the works, and while John C. Haggart was so interested, members of the firm were called upon by members of the Government of Canada for large contributions for political purposes, and such contributions were paid out of the moneys of the firm, and with the knowledge and assent of Haggart were charged against the profits of the firm; and while these contributions were so demanded and paid, the firm were in various ways dependent upon the Government by reason of many matters being unsettled and in dispute in relation to the contract, which were at the time of such contributions or subsequently settled not unfavourably to the said contractors.

Though this was a charge that a man, then a member of the Administration, had been guilty of acts unfitting him to continue as a representative of the people, particularly in the high office he then held, Parliament refused to grant the committee their demands by a straight party vote.

THE Education Department of Ontario has decided to transfer to Hamilton the Provincial School of Pedagogy. The Hamilton authorities agree to build a new High School to cost $75,000 to accommodate 600 pupils—the Province to pay $2,500 per annum for ten years.

IT will now be in order for Mr. C. W. Sawers to write a letter to the press approving of the letter written and published in THE EXAMINER by Mr. John Graham Weir, picturing Mr. Weir as the greatest living and most emphatic champion of Protestantism that has yet been exhibited to the world. They are a fine pair of Protestants. Sells Brothers might advantageously place them under canvas, with the long-eared, four-footed curiosities. They are absolutely the best equipped and most stupendous pair the world has yet seen. They could double themselves inside out on the Protestant horse most successfully, and in such a manner as to do themselves credit. The feature would not be new to them, but it would be matchless and unique. While travelling from place to place they could form themselves into a mutual admiration society. Yet all this would not remove the stigma caused by the resolution passed by the County Orange Lodge.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are procative of feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly, and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Corn Extractor.

A MINISTERIAL PRESS

Each French Minister Now Owns a Paper.

MR. OUIMET PURCHASES LE MONDE

A Self-Confessed Accomplice of the Montreal Firebugs Under Arrest — A Lock of the Virgin's Hair in Possession of a Montreal Abbe

Montreal, Aug. 15.—It is stated here to-day that Hon. J. A. Ouimet has purchased a controlling interest in Le Monde newspaper, which, in matters political, has been all things at times and nothing long. Each of the French-Canadian Ministers now has an organ. Sir Adolphe Caron controls La Minerve, and with the Minister of Public Works, with Le Monde at his back, the Conservative party will be well looked after in this district. Some time ago Messrs. Beaucelell and Tarte, M.P.'s, took hold of Le Monde's editorial columns and made them red hot Liberal, but now a change will have to be made.

Frederick Clark, who during examination in the arson case yesterday, admitted that he had taken part in the firing of Boyd & Co.'s premises, was arrested this afternoon. An effort is to be made to bring back Andrew Boyd, formerly a prominent merchant here, on a charge of being connected with a fire on his premises. Boyd, it is said, attempted to commit suicide shortly before leaving Montreal.

Perhaps it is not generally known by wicked outsiders that Montreal possesses a piece of the Blessed Virgin's hair, or at least that such is the claim put forth by the Roman Catholic religious authorities of this city. This hair is at the little Bonsecours church and the chaplain, Rev. Mr. Lenoir, explains the presence of this interesting relic as follows: The tress in question, which is alleged to have been worn by the Virgin Mary, was formerly in possession of the Archbishop of Florence, Italy, who gave it to the Rev. Abbe Captier while the latter was traveling in the Old World. Rev. Abbe Lenoir states that he has all the necessary papers attesting to the authenticity of this precious relic.

LAURIER TO TOUR ONTARIO.

TRUNK LINE ASSOCIATION.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson Attends the Meeting in New York.

New York, Aug. 15.—The committee of 16 presidents appointed by the Trunk Line Association and the Central Traffic Association to consider the best means for maintaining east and west bound rates in joint committee territory, that is, the territory east of the Mississippi River, and north of the Ohio River, met this morning pursuant to the call of Chairman Ingalls, in the offices of the Trunk Line Commission in the Central Building, West and Liberty-streets. The meeting today is to pass upon the agreement provided for the meeting of the subcommittee last July, to the effect that a sort of governing commission be appointed under an agreement to be entered into by all the roads. The provisions are said to be cast iron, and severe penalties are to be inflicted for any violation thereon.

Contrary to general expectation and contrary to his original intention, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, the new president of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, attended the meeting of the committee to-day. He was accompanied by L. J. Seargeant, manager of that line, by whom he was introduced to J. F. Goddard, the chairman, and the members of the committee.

It speaks well for an article when the longer it is used the better it is liked. Such is the case with Ayer's Hair Vigor. People who have been using it for years, could not be induced to try any other dressing for the hair.

A DEFAULTER CAUGHT

Figliano, the Alleged G.T.R. Embezzler, Captured.

CHARGED WITH STEALING $16,000

Nabbed by Toronto Officers at His Own Home After Eluding Arrest Since October — Meeting of the I.O.O.F. Grand Lodge — Hamilton and the New School of Podagogy.

Hamilton, Aug. 15.—"You've got me at last, and I'm glad it's all over; I intended to give myself up," said Fred Figliano, the absconding Grand Trunk cashier, as five big officers bore down upon him and captured him at 3.30 this morning. Last October he startled his many friends in this city by his sudden disappearance, after which it was said he had got into the G.T.R. company to the extent of about $25,000.

Detectives traced Figliano to Cleveland, New York, and other cities, but owing to the expense extradition would entail the Grand Trunk authorities decided to wait quietly till he returned to Canada. A few days ago he returned and concealed himself at 256 McNab-street north, where his wife was residing. Last night Grand Trunk Detective Day came to the city, and after enlisting the services of four policemen went to Figliano's house about 3.30 a.m. to-day. Mrs. Figliano told the officers that her husband was not in the house, but they decided to search the place themselves and after looking in almost every room in the house the man could not be found. The officers finally tried to open a bedroom door, which was locked. An old lady inside protested against opening the door, but she finally did so, and when the officers pulled away a quantity of clothes from a closet, off the bedroom, Fred Figliano stood before them. They took him to No. 3 Police Station and this morning he was charged with stealing $915.86, $796.92 and $747.34 on September 14, 15 and 20, respectively, last year. Detective Day said the company would not be ready to go on with the case for eight days, and a remand was granted for that time. Other charges will be laid against the defaulting cashier. Figliano was a popular young man about town, and is a musician of no mean ability. He will fight the case.

The Grand Lodge of Ontario of the Independent Order of Oddfellows was opened in the county court room at 9.30 this morning. The chair was occupied by W. H. Hoyle of Cannington, Grand Master of the Order, and the grand officers present were: Deputy Grand Master Thomas Woodyatt, Brantford; Grand Warden Henry White, Port Hope; Grand Secretary, J. B. King, Toronto; Grand Treasurer William Badenach, Toronto; Grand Representatives P. E. Fitzpatrick, Hamilton, and John Donogh, Toronto; Grand Marshal W. B. Dack, Toronto; Grand Conductor H. J. Guppy, Ottawa; Grand Guardian J. H. Bustin, Uxbridge; Grand Herald R. Brockbank, Paris; Grand Chaplain Rev. F. W. Armstrong, Trenton; Junior Past Grand Master Joseph Oliver, Toronto.

Dr. Anderson, chairman of the reception committee, gave an address of welcome, and Ald. Reid, Woods, McAndrew, Raycrott, Fred and Morris, were introduced.

W. R. Webb, district deputy, extended a welcome on behalf of the city lodges. The report of Grand Secretary King showed that 12 lodges had been instituted during the year, and 2256 members initiated. On relief $79,555.44 was expended, and the total disbursements were $155,466.33. The receipts were $202,780.47. The assets are $919,991.28, and the liabilities $861,314.74.

This afternoon the visiting Oddfellows are holding a big demonstration at Dundurn Park.

General satisfaction is expressed in this city at the announcement made to-day that the Provincial Government had decided to transfer the School of Pedagogy from Toronto to Hamilton. The idea of the transfer originated with Hon. J. M. Gibson two years ago, but since that time a great deal of effective work has been done by Hugh Murray, an active member of the school board. The latter thinks Hamilton will be benefited by the change. This city will have the highest training college for teachers in the province. Residents of this city desirous of fitting themselves for public or high school teachers would have the advantage of living at home, and the city would be benefited by the presence of a large number of teachers in training in numerous ways. A meeting of the Board of Education will be held at an early date to consider the question. Opinion favors the changing of the name to the Ontario Normal College.

THE QUEEN'S SPEECH.

Will Be Read To-Day - No New Legislation This Session.

London, Aug. 15.—The House of Commons met at noon to-day, and the swearing in of the members, which commenced yesterday, was continued.

It is semi-officially announced that the Queen's Speech, that will be read to Parliament to-morrow, will refer to Her Majesty's simpathy for the victims in Armenia and China. It will announce the cession of Beehuanaland to Cape Colony and will also announce that the House of Commons has been summoned to consider and vote the estimate. It will intimate that the Government does not intend to submit further legislation at the present session.

John Redmond the Parnellite leader, has given notice of an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's Speech, calling upon the Government to declare their policy in regard to Home Rule for Ireland, the reform of the land law, the compulsory purchase of land by evicted tenants and the industrial condition of the country. John J. Clancy, Parnellite, has given notice of an amendment to the address in behalf of the prisoners now confined for connection with dynamite outrages.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

A Quiet Wedding.

A quiet wedding took place yesterday, at the residence of Mr. Waller, Charlotte street, when Rev. J. J. Rae united in marriage Miss Jennie Sargison and Mr. John Southard, both of North Monaghan. Miss Evelyn Sargison was the bridesmaid for the occasion, whilst the groom was assisted by his brother.

Little Lake Band Concert.

The public concert given on Little Lake Wednesday evening by the Fire Brigade band was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of people, who both lined the shore, and dotted the lake with their canoes. Mr. R. M. Roy's yacht, as well as that of the Canadian Canoe Company, was lighted up with Chinese lanterns and presented a very pretty appearance. At the conclusion of the concert, the band lined up at the wharf and rendered "For he's a Jolly Good Fellow," in appreciation of the kindness of the owners of the yachts.

A Man Overboard.

While the North Star was making her trip homeward last night, and when above Rosa's Bridge, a young man named English, while in the act of stepping from the scow to the boat, missed his footing and slipped into the water between the two craft. The alarm was immediately given and boats were lowered to rescue him from his perilous position. The young man, however, swam out into the open river and started for shore, but a boat reached him and he was safely landed on board the steamer, but beyond the ducking he escaped uninjured. The affair created considerable excitement for a time.

A Heartless Case.

Cobourg Sentinel-Star: The heartlessness of some people is amazing. An old woman named Mrs. Mary Magill of Millbrook, aged 84 years, who was sent to the county goal to be cared for and supported, died from natural causes on Wednesday morning. Her two married daughters, who live near Millbrook, and who, we are informed are in affluent circumstances, were communicated with by the goal authorities, but refused to claim the remains of their mother, which were therefore handed over to the inspector of anatomy for dissection purposes at some medical school. Coroner McNicholl empanelled a jury and held an inquest, which returned the verdict usual in such cases. The heartless conduct of the unnatural daughters, who for the sake of a few dollars allowed the remains of their mother to be devoted to such a purpose, cannot be too strongly condemned. Fortunately there are not many such heartless specimens of humanity outside of the lower regions. The names of these unnatural people should have been given, and published far and wide.

IS ANNIE CALENDAR DEAD?

Further Information Desired by the Authorities.

WHERE DID SHE RESIDE?

IS IT A CLUE?

Strange Discovery of a Written Confession of Murder—The Fate of Annie Calender, Who Has Been Missing Since Last August.

The following despatch has been received. Neither the County Crown Attorney nor the police seem to know anything about such a person :

Tweed, Ont., Aug. 14—(Special.)—Newspaper readers will remember the reports of the strange and sudden disappearance of Annie Callinder, a young English girl, living near Peterborough, and her brother, about the 16th of August of last year. This was the celebrated case which occupied the attention of the detectives for a long time, but, despite their most careful investigations, no trace of the parties could be found. By many the circumstances will have long been forgotten, but those more associated with the case will well remember the facts. Even now this strange and tragic disappearance is talked of in Peterborough. The authorities were not able to find even the slightest clue to their whereabouts. But, as is often the case, it only requires time for the solution of mysteries of this kind. Edward Dowdell, section foreman of Sheffield station, while going about his work on Thursday last had occasion to look under the timbers of a bridge a few miles east of Tweed, and there discovered a piece of planed board about thirteen inches square with writing on its face. Removing it, he found these words written legibly thereon with an indelible pencil. It was dated Sheffield, April 26th, 1895, and was addressed thus :—"To all the world, a greeting." The confession read as follows: —"This is to certify that I did, on the night of the 16th of August, '94, murder Annie Callinder, a young English girl, in the little cemetery at Peterborough ; and with a piece of rope and R. R. iron I sunk her dead body in the lake. I did it to hide crime. I feel that God will never forgive me for it. I cannot rest day or night. I would like her body was taken up and buried.

"(Signed) F. R., Streetsville, Ont."

The above confession is precisely in the same handwriting as that on the board, save the spelling, punctuation, etc. The writing was in a bold legible hand, but was evidently not done by a scholar. Mr. Dowdell sent the board to the News office, Tweed, where it has been on exhibition. The signature was precisely as above, but whether the writer meant that his initials were F. R., and he was a resident of Streetsville, Ont., or whether his name was F. R. Streetsville, and he lived somewhere in Ontario, cannot be ascertained from the writing. Ward has been sent to the authorities of Peterborough of the discovery, which some think solves the mystery of the sad disappearance of Annie Callinder.

An Ashburnham Fire.

The residence of Mr. Andrew Fawcett, market gardener, Stewart street, Ashburnham, was destroyed by fire this afternoon, through the roof of the summer kitchen becoming ignited in some way from the chimney. The Fire brigade were soon on the scene, but as water had to be obtained from the well across the street it was impossible to check the flames and the house was consequently destroyed together with a number of outbuildings. The contents were saved through the exertions of the firemen and neighbours. The house, contents and barns are insured through Mr. W. H. Hill in the Imperial Insurance Company for $900.

GEORGE EVANS THE DISTRICT CHAMPION.

Lionel King was also a Winner Yesterday.

PETERBOROUGH RIDERS SHOW UP WELL IN THE RACES.

In the Mile Novice for all Canada Three of the Local Men Cross the Tape Before any of the Outsiders—The Canadian Half Mile Record Broken by McCarthy in a Grand Exhibition of Speed.

Although the crowd which assembled at the Driving Park yesterday to witness the bicycle races was not as large as it should have been, still the enthusiasm displayed was more than enough for twice the number.

The heat was intense, but nevertheless as the racers came into the home stretch on the finish of each race, every spectator rose spontaneously and breathlessly watched the hard fought struggles over the tape.

A RECORD BREAKER.

That the track is one of the fastest in Canada, was proven without doubt yesterday when T. B. McCarthy of the A. C. C., Toronto, in an effort to break the Canadian record of 1.02 for half a mile succeeded in lowering the time to 59 2-5 seconds. His magnificent effort was probably watched with more interest than any other event. Paced by a tandem ridden by McIntosh and Hulse, he hustled the two riders to the quarter in 30 1-5. As the turn into the stretch was made he passed the tandem like a streak of lightning and with a truly wonderful burst of speed rode over the tape in 59 2-5 seconds. When Mr. George Orr announced the result of the trial McCarthy was cheered to the echo. The track was in prime condition, but a wind sprang up late in the afternoon, and in coming up the stretch McCarthy had to fight against it. He finished very strong, and when McIntosh, who was on the tandem, shouted to him that with faster pacing he could have done it in 55, McCarthy answered "Yes! less than that," and judging by his splendid finish, if the tandem had been fast enough to pace him, a world's record would have been broken, as well as the Canadian one. However, as it is, the fact of three seconds being lopped off the time is ample proof of the fact that with the exception, probably, of the new board track at Toronto Island, Peterborough has the fastest bicycle path in Canada, and this should prove a strong card indeed in bringing the big C. W. A. meet to us next year.

ANOTHER GOOD RACE.

The first race on the programme was the One Mile Novice Class "A" and, of course, a lot of interest was manifested in it as a number of Peterborough men were entered. Lord was considered to stand the best chance amongst the local men, but as three outsiders about whom little was known were entered the result was regarded as dubious. The riders were well bunched in the first lap with Smith, of Campbellford, making the pace and King slightly in the rear. Boakes of the A.C.C. Toronto, broke his chain and dropped out. As the third quarter was passed, Lord moved up to the front with Evans and King following close behind. In the stretch, the fight was all between these three Peterborough men and great was the surprise when Geo. Evans shot to the front and took first place in crossing the tape. Lord made a good second and King was only a couple of feet behind him. When the three Peterborough boys took first, second and third place in the race, the spectators were delighted beyond measure and cheer after cheer was accorded the trio, Evans being warmly congratulated on his magnificent burst of speed.

Fred Smith, of Campbellford, was awarded second prize for pacing.

The half mile open, class "B," was between five of the cracks including McIntosh, McLeod, Young, McCarthy and Mills. A time limit of 1:18 was set on the race, but each of the flyers waited for one of the others to set the pace, and when they crossed the tape, with McCarthy leading, the watches indicated that the time was 1.24, so they were sent off again, but, doing no better, the race was declared off. Referee George Orr, it might be observed just here, by placing these time limits on the races, made himself most popular with the spectators, as by so doing a good race was insured. His promptness in having the different events run off was also a matter of comment, as the trifling delays were so short as to be unnoticeable.

A GREAT CONTEST.

The two mile District Championship was thought to be a race which M. G. Walker would easily win, and a great deal of interest was manifested, as a number of local men were entered. The first mile was made in 2:47, Lord making the pace all the way. Walker moved up to the lead at the mile and a half, followed by Smith. The riders were well bunched as they turned into the stretch and the fight for victory down past the grand stand was magnificent. Evans pulled up up from the rear and in a great burst of speed passed Smith, and finally Walker, and won the championship by almost a wheel length. It was a great surprise, as Walker was thought to be almost invincible. Evans has been training most conscientiously and faithfully and he received his reward. He has in him the makings of a very fast rider and need be afraid of nothing in the district.

The race for the ten mile championship of Canada was rather uninteresting until the last half mile when a grand race was witnessed. McLeod, McCarthy and Marshall Wells each wanted the championship very badly, and the race up the stretch was worth going miles to see. McCarthy had a lead of fully three lengths as the trio swept into view, but McLeod and Wells closed up the gap and then came the struggle and the closest finish of the day was witnessed. McLeod succeeded in wresting the victory from McCarthy when it was almost within the latter's grasp, as he beat him out when only six inches from the tape. Wells was well up also as his wheel was lapping on McCarthy's at the finish.

The two mile local handicap was a race which brought all the spectators to their feet again, as the entries were all well-known men. Walker was placed on scratch. Lord got 50 yards, Evans 100 yards and King 150. King steadily gained from the start and gradually drawing away from the others won his race easily by almost an eighth of a mile. Lord caught Evans, who was riding a heavy road wheel in this race, and the pair were collared by Walker. The three made a pretty race in the stretch. Walker took second and Lord third. Lionel King's win was a most popular one and as the genial young athlete swept over the tape with such a creditable lead the grand stand rose as one man and he was given an ovation of which he may well be proud. Many of the racing men present, on witnessing the form in which he rode, expressed the opinion that on the 30th, the date of the next meet, that this young rider would be able to give many of the older heads a hot argument for a place in the novice, which will be run off on that date.

The following officials had charge of the track, and discharged their duties most satisfactorily :—

HALF MILE AGAINST CANADIAN RECORD OF 1.02.
T. B. McCarthy, A. C. C., Toronto. Time—59 2-5.

The enthusiasm displayed by those present is a most favourable augury for the success of the meet on the 30th, as all will doubtless be again in attendance and will also bring many of their friends with them. The success of yesterday's races will therefore, make a splendid advertisement for those which will be held week after next.

There was only one fall recorded on the track yesterday when Prof. Hebner and Jno. Wills collided in the two mile Class "A" handicap. Fortunately there were no bones broken.

The Peterborough "horse track" as it was termed by the Waterloo men, was proven yesterday to be far faster and a great deal safer than the track at Waterloo, where so many accidents occurred on July 1st.

HOW WE SPENT THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

MANY CITIZENS GO OUT OF TOWN FOR THE DAY.

It was an Ideal Day, Though a Trifle Warm, and Everyone Reports a Good Time, no Matter Where or How They Amused Themselves.

If the weather had been furnished to the order of the citizens, a bluer sky or brighter day could not have been wished for the celebration of the Civic Holiday.

Few of the citizens indeed spent the day in their homes, but, with hardly an exception, took their families and essayed forth to amuse themselves along the lines which were most congenial to themselves. Several thousands must have left town for the day and those remaining either swarmed out to our beautiful parks or else took in the bicycle races. Courts Langton and Peterborough C.O.F. ran an excursion to Idyl Wyld. Court Littlejohn C.O.F. held their annual trip to Toronto, the Falls and Buffalo; Courts Stanley and Marmion A.O.F. excurted to Sturgeon Point, and Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F. and their friends went to Rochester. All these trips were most liberally patronized indeed and as scores of canoes went down the river and many more of the citizens went to the back lakes for the day, it can be seen that there were not many left in town.

C. O. F. to Idyl Wyld.

Idyl Wyld was alive with visitors yesterday, who took in the excursion of Courts Peterborough and Langton, C.O.F. to that popular resort. The staunch steamer North Star with palace scow attached, left the Peterborough wharf in the morning, and both the boat and scow was literally crowded with people. Idyl Wyld was reached in good time, the trip down being thoroughly enjoyed. After dinner had been partaken of the excursionists began to enjoy themselves in true picnic fashion. Many of the young people patronized the dancing pavilion, where Butcher's orchestra supplied good music while others procured rod and line for a few hours fishing. A list of sports was run off during the day by an efficient committee. The day was most pleasantly enjoyed by all, and the committee in charge can congratulate themselves on the success of the outing. It is estimated that that over five hundred people took in this trip.

Oddfellows' Excursion to Rochester.

The excursion of Otonabee Lodge I.O.O.F. to Rochester attracted a large number of the citizens, who thoroughly enjoyed the sail on the North King across Lake Ontario, as well as the sights in and about Rochester. A number of the excursionists arrived home to-day, while others will visit in the city until to-morrow. The excursion was well managed by the committee, and the result was a grand success.

To Toronto, Buffalo and Niagara.

Court Little John C.O.F., in their excursion to Toronto, Niagara and Buffalo, scored a huge success. The excursion was largely patronized by pleasure-seekers. Quite a number went to Toronto, including many business men, but the great majority took in the beauties of Niagara and vicinity, while not a few crossed the line to the Bison City. This was one of the most successful outings of the day, and the annual excursion of Court Little John is becoming more popular every season.

A. O. F. to Sturgeon Point.

This popular resort was picked upon by Courts Stanley and Marmion, A.O.F., for their outing this year, and a more desirable point could not be secured. A heavily-laden train left the Grand Trunk station yesterday morning with a jolly party of pioneers on board, bound for Chemong, where the palatial steamer Columbian was boarded, and the beautiful trip through Chemong, Pigeon and Sturgeon Lakes made. Sturgeon Point was reached in good time, and the excursionists then proceeded to enjoy themselves. An excursion under the auspices of the Citizens' Band of Lindsay, visited the Point during the day, and the band furnished an excellent programme of music. After dinner a programme of sports was run off by an efficient committee, the different events being keenly contested. A splendid orchestra furnished music during the day. The excursionists left for home at an early hour and the trip through the lakes was quickly made to Chemong wharf, where the train was boarded for home.

Private Outings.

Besides these excursions, private parties journeyed to the different parks and spent the day, while others paddled down the river, and not a few journeyed to Chemong Park. In the afternoon the City of Peterborough ran to Victoria Park with a good crowd on board.

POLICE COURT.

A. Rountree Convicted of a Third Offence, and License Cancelled—Alex. O'Brien Guilty of a Second Offence, and Fined $40.

At this morning's session of the police court, Arthur Rountree was charged by Chief Roszel with a third infraction of the License Law. From the evidence it was learned that a boarder named Gould had obtained from Dr. Fife a bottle of medicine on the Friday previous to Sunday, Aug. 4th, and had left it on the back of the bar. On Sunday he obtained the key to obtain the medicine, and while the bar door was open, Wm. Robinson stepped in and Gould gave him a drink.

Mr. R. R. Hall, who appeared for Mr. Rountree, claimed that as Mr. Rountree had adhered strictly to the law, and as the liquor had been obtained without his knowledge or consent, he should not under the circumstances be convicted.

The Police Magistrate stated that the law made no distinction as to whether liquor was sold or given away. That Mr. Rountree was proprietor and was responsible for the proper conduct of his hotel. He, therefore, having been previously convicted February 28th, 1893, and May 8th, 1893, found him guilty of a third offence and fined him $80 and $4.35 costs, and cancelled his license.

Alex. O'Brien, of the American Hotel, was also charged by the chief with a second offence, having sold liquor on Sunday, the 11th August. He pleaded guilty and was fined $40.00 and $5.50 costs.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen —Aquatic and Field Sports.

BASEBALL.

At Sturgeon Point yesterday the A.O.F. juvenile lodge nine defeated the Lindsay Juniors by a score of 15 to 3. Both teams played good ball and the game was very interesting. The A.O.F. battery consisted of Bert Kindred, pitcher, and F. McKee, catcher.

Peterborough promises to put a first class nine into the field for Monday's match with the Classics, of Toronto, on the Riverside Park. "Pete" LePage, the old-timer, will play first base, while such men as Edmunds, Stacey, Cathcart and McGill will occupy positions on the team. A first-class game is promised.

LACROSSE.

The secretary of the Athletics received a message Wednesday afternoon, stating that Madoc would be unable to play here Thursday morning. Accordingly the boys made arrangements for a scratch game between the members of the club, and an excellent practice was indulged in by the players.

The match with the Tecumsehs on Monday at the Driving Park promises to be an interesting one, and the local team intends appearing on the field in good condition.

The II Athletics and II Elms, of Toronto will do battle on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Monday morning. The visitors play good fast lacrosse, but the local juniors know a thing or two about the game and are going in to win.

On Monday afternoon the Driving Park will be the scene of two lacrosse matches. At two o'clock the II Peterboroughs and II Elms, of Toronto, will cross sticks, and at 4 o'clock, the Athletics and Tecumsehs of Toronto, will do battle on the green. These two games will be well worth seeing and the admission fee of 25 cents entitles you to see both games.

A Little Girl Found Submerged and With Life Extinct.

(Special despatch to the Examiner.)

LAKEFIELD, August 16th, 1895.—While the family of Mr. Robert Little, of Pine Grove Cheese Factory, were at breakfast this morning, a little two-year-old daughter of Mr. Little's, who was playing in the yard of the factory, fell into a barrel of rainwater and was not discovered until life was extinct.

HIGH SCHOOL JUNIOUR AND SENIOR LEAVING.

How the Students in Peterborough and Vicinity Stood in Their Exams.

The following is the report of the joint board on the result of the High School junior and senior leaving, and matriculation, pass and honor, examinations of the students in this district.

The certificates of successful candidates will be sent to High School Principals and Public School Inspectors, as the case may be, without delay. In no case will the marks be reported direct by the department to the candidates. Candidates who desire to appeal are requested to wait until they have received their marks before making a protest.

The number of successful candidates at any centre of examination must not be regarded as the result of the work of any school, as in many instances candidates other than those prepared at the school have presented themselves for examination.

In order that candidates who have failed at the examination may be informed of their standing the marks will be sent with as little delay as possible to the Principal of the High School at which they were examined, and in other cases to the Public School Inspector. The certificates of successful candidates will be forwarded soon after.

In view of the changes in the High School course unsuccessful candidates at the primary examination may, on the recommendation of the Principal, without application to the department, write in 1896 or 1897 for a junior leaving certificate under the provisions of the previous regulations. It should be understood, however, that no candidate can obtain a primary certificate hereafter except in accordance with the provisions of the new regulations.

RELIGIOUS RECEPTION AND PROFESSION.

A Very Impressive Ceremony in the Mount St. Joseph Chapel of the Community.

Yesterday morning at 9 o'clock a very impressive ceremony took place in the chapel of the community at Mount St. Joseph. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor officiated, assisted by Vicar-General Laurent, of Lindsay, and Very Rev. P. W. Condon, Assistant Superior of the Congregation of the Holy Cross.

After the celebration of mass the following young ladies assumed the religious garb and were received into the novitiate, where they will spend two years in reflection and prayer, previous to making their religious profession: Miss Fary, of Cobourg, in religion, Sister Bernardine; Miss Walsh, of Asphodel, in religion Sister Fidelis, and Miss Behan of Warkworth, in religion Sister Mary Joseph.

At the conclusion of the reception ceremony, the following young ladies having completed the two years of their novitiate made their solemn religious profession, which consists in pronouncing for life the triple vow of poverty, chastity, obedience. Miss Fitzpatrick, of Norwood, in religion Sister Sloysia; Miss Corkery, of Lindsay, in religion Sister Dominic; Miss Dismer, of Bracebridge, in religion Sister of the Sacred Heart; Miss Duffy, of Cobourg, in religion Sister St. Charles, and Miss Jackson, of Port Arthur, in religion Sister Gertrude. The ceremony of profession was very touching and was witnessed by the immediate relatives of the young ladies. There were also present in the sanctuary Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood; Rev. P. J. McGuire, of Bracebridge; Rev. Father Lynch, of Niagara-on-the-Lake, and the Cathedral clergy.

"SUN" LIFE
Assurance Co'y of Canada,
Stands by itself and occupies a thoroughly enviable position in Life Assurance. It was never before so strong or so deserving of confidence as it is to-day and never had more of the public confidence than it has now.
Its non-forfeitable Endowments combine in one policy a profitable Investment and Assurance during the productive period of life at a mininum cost, and it offers plain Life Insurance, as a protection to the family, and tries to make it attractive simply by making it perfect and by keeping its cost down to the lowest possible point. It tries to realize the ideal results of a legitimate business; and it seeks to attract to its membership only those who wants such results. It is the one company that can truthfully assert that PROFIT RESULTS ARE MUCH HIGHER DURING THE PRESENT YEAR than they have ever before been, and that it has written more new business than any other Canadian company during the last three years.

BANQUE DU PEUPLE.

A Sample of the Solvency of Canadian Institutions.

RAPIDLY REDEEMING ITS NOTES.

$900,000 of Its $900,000 Circulation Already Redeemed and the Bank of Montreal's Loan Being Repaid—Pardon Asked for Convict Laframboise.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 15.—Hon. Mr. Laurier is a gentleman and as broad-minded as the general run of politicians, so it must be galling at times for the Liberal leader to realize that he has such a foolishly bigoted organ in this district. Speaking of Hon. Mr. Chapleau's inability to attend the Mayhurst reception here in the Drill Hall, La Patrie exclaims: "Really how far English Cockneyism can reach! To invite a Lieut.-Governor to attend a reception tendered a soldier who secured a prize at a shooting match! Really, it is too stupid! it is even more stupid than the touching articles on the exploits of Shortis, the assassin."

It now looks as if La Banque du Peuple will be able to resume business. Out of the total circulation of $900,000, over $700,000 has been redeemed up to a late hour this evening and to-day's redemption alone reached $100,000. In other words the bank has been able to do in 30 days what in reality the law gave them 60 days to do. This, however, is not all, for your correspondent gleaned considerable information at the office of the bank to-day. It will be remembered that the Bank of Montreal and several other banks loaned the Bank du Peuple the sum of $1,200,000, for which the cream of the last-named institution's discounts was given as security. So well, however, has the money come in that $500,000, or half of the amount borrowed, will be paid back to-morrow and the balance at an early day. To give an idea of the quality of the Bank du Peuple's customers, it is only necessary to say that two of them, who had, of course, placed their accounts elsewhere, paid in $70,000 in one day. Messrs. Chipman and Demartigny, the gentleman who have charge of the bank, are working night and day, and it is said that their statement will be ready to submit to the shareholders by the last of the week. It is also understood that two good offers have been made for the bank building, which was erected at a cost of about $300,000, and which will soon be paying a revenue of 5 per cent.

Some four years ago Damase Laframboise of this city was sentenced to the penitentiary for 10 years, theft being his crime. Shortly after the prisoner violently attacked one of the officers of the law, and got 15 years, four of which have been spent at St. Vincent De Paul. The other day it was learned that an old acquaintance had died in Holyoke, leaving Laframboise $25,000, and as he has conducted himself well and learned to be a good tinman his friends are going to see if they can induce Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper to pardon the convict, No. 2581.

Mrs. Cooperman, 746 Flushing-street, Brooklyn, was brought before the Police Court to-day, charged with attempting to take her own life by jumping from the Central Vermont train. The authorities ordered that the unfortunate lady be sent home.

PROFESSIONAL JURY FIXING.

A Woman Offers to Secure the Liberation of Murderer Durant.

San Francisco, Aug. 15.—Some idea of the corruption which is being practised in the case of young Durant, charged with the atrocious Emanuel Church murders, may be found in the fact that the mother of Durant was visited Monday by a woman who declared that for money she could get three of the present jurors to vote for the acquittal of her son, no matter what evidence might be submitted. The woman said that jury fixing was her business and she cited recent cases in which this work had saved the neck of criminals, notably the case of M. B. Curtis, the actor, who was tried twice for shooting Policeman Grant, and who spent a fortune to secure his release. She said that money could be put up, and she would make no claim on it till she had redeemed her promise. After over a fortnight only eight jurors have been secured to try Durant.

Americans and the Cuban Rebels.

Berlin, Aug. 15.—The semi-official North German Gazette, in an inspired leader, comments on the relations of the United States with the Cuban rebels. It says that whatever the official relations between Spain and the United States, the sympathies of the masses of the American people are with the Cubans, but if American politicians draw the conclusion that the victory of the rebels means a rich gain for the North Americans, they make a great mistake. The separation of Cuba from Spain can only result in Cuba becoming a small independent state like San Domingo. Madrid is not wrong in stating New York has become the Mecca of all the adventurers of the world, who look upon the Cuban rebellion as a business promising high profits.

"Odd-Looking Stamps," But Worth $5000.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 15. — Hubbard Bush and Theodore Dierson, court house janitors, have acquired sudden wealth. While destroying old papers Dierson noticed odd-looking blue stamps on some of the papers. He took them to a stamp collector and it was discovered they were what is known as St. Louis "bear" stamps, issued in 1845-7. They are now very rare. St. Louis and New York stamp-collecting firms bid for them and the former got them for $5000.

Ex-Queen Marie of Hanover Growing Blind.

Berlin, Aug. 14.—A despatch from Guenden states that fears are entertained that ex-Queen Marie of Hanover, the mother of the Duke of Cumberland, will become totally blind. Spots are forming on her right eye, and it is feared they will extend to the other. The ex-Queen is very popular and her danger excites much sympathy.

THE TIDE TURNS.

Great Improvement in the Health of a Well-known Peterborough Lady.

Peterborough, Aug. 5.—General satisfaction is expressed here at the greatly improved condition of health of Mrs. K. Stephens, the well known music teacher of this town. Her friends have been much exercised over her condition for a long time and a number of remedies have been tried during the ten years that she has been a martyr to a complication of complaints, which recently became very severe. She suffered frightfully with pains in the back, nervous prostration and swelling of the limbs. She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

Deadly Cancer Cured By B. B. B.

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co:

SIRS,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement, and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and I am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B.B.B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced saved my life. Gratefully yours,

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A MEDICINE

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

CROPS IN MANITOBA.

The Yield of Wheat is Totally Unprecedented.

FORMER HARVESTS DISCOUNTED.

The Total Wheat Crop is Estimated at 29,000,000 Bushels—Nearly 6000 Extra Laborers Required to Harvest the Grain in Time to Escape the Frost.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 15. — The Manitoba Government's official crop bulletin is issued this morning. The estimated average yield per acre of wheat for the province will be placed at 19.6 bushels, or a total estimated yield of 29,139,815 bushels.

In oats the estimated average yield per acre is 44.3 bushels; total estimated yield 21,887,416 bushels.

Barley—Estimated average yield per acre 36.3 bushels; total estimated yield 5,507,310 bushels.

Flax—Estimated total yield for the province 1,124,000 bushels.

Rye—Estimated total yield for the province 62,810 bushels.

Peas—Estimated total yield for the province 24,250 bushels.

The total grain yield for 1895 in Manitoba will be placed at 57,361,621 bushels.

The general reports from correspondents as to the condition of the crops are in keeping with the favorable advices, which have been given for the past two months, through the press. Making allowances for all drawbacks, the consensus of opinion is that the wheat crop of Manitoba for this year, as to quality and quantity, will surpass any previous season in the country's history.

Reports agree that a large number of laborers will be required for harvesting. Computed from the returns, nearly 5700 extra hands will be wanted if the crop is to be handled in time to escape frost.

Yield of All Crops.

The appended table shows the estimated average yield per acre for each district:

Districts	Wheat.	Oats.	Barley.	Peas.	Flax.	Rye
N.W.	23	47	34	27	10	23
S.W.	24.6	43.5	35.5	28.3	12.3	24.1
M.C.	25.7	46.5	35.5	30	14	—
S.C.	23.5	47.5	37	25.4	14.3	19.6
Eastern	24.7	43.3	34.8	25	16	21
Province	23.5	45.3	35.8	25	15	22

Of Wheat.

District.	Area under crop.	Yield per acre.	Total Yield.
N.W.	83,443	23	2,305,489
S.W.	485,850	24.6	11,453,736
N.C.	203,743	25.7	5,159,035
S.C.	204,554	23.5	5,076,898
E.	83,844	24.7	2,127,636

The reports of crop correspondents confirm the most sanguine expectations. Many of the correspondents state drawbacks, and that their reports are a conservative estimate. A number of correspondents from all parts of the province report heavy fields lodged, and in some cases swirled by the wind; much difficulty will be experienced in harvesting the same. If the weather continues the yield will exceed the estimates given. Although hail has partly injured the crops of individual farmers in several localities, it is safe to estimate that not 1 per cent. of the entire crop of the province has been so partly injured. Smut in wheat is reported in a few instances, while smut in oats is reported in a great many districts. These reports are all so favorable, it is necessary only to quote a few of the remarks which are applicable to the whole, as follows, by districts:

N.W.—"Have estimated wheat yield thirty. Should it come off free from rust it will be two crops in one." "Crops have had splendid rains; crops have not looked so well since 1887." "Grain too heavy; commencing to lie down." "Crops could not be better; best crop for many years." "What we want now is dry, hot weather and we will have a heavy harvest." "Shoal Lake can beat the world this year for crops of all kinds; the wheat crop is the finest I have ever seen." "The grandest" crop that I have seen for years; rather late in this district, but the weather is good and if it comes off all right, one can scarcely estimate the yield, which, especially in wheat, will be enormous."

S.W.—"Weather fine; dry and cool nights. If wheat fills well it will exceed the figure stated; if hot winds come it will not be above 20." Owing to small snow fall last winter sloughs are dryer than usual, and the hay crop short." "A very fine growing season, and no hot winds; prospects good." "Have placed estimate low to be safe; with favorable harvest weather yield will be much above figure given." "Slight frost in July, but no damage done; you cannot send in men too fast." "With favorable weather for two or three weeks there will be cut or ready to cut the finest crop in the history of the province."

N.C.—"Prospects of a good return for the farmers' labor; never were better." "All grain in splendid condition and ripening fast." "The yields I consider low. The desire to keep within the mark being in all cases evident." "All crops very rank; some wheat on summer fallow lodged." "Prospects of a bountiful harvest never better; wheat, oats, barley, in fact, everything, is a splendid crop." "Conditions favorable and crops ripening fast." "Crops never looked better; weather up to date all that can be desired; a good crop now assured if it can be gathered all right."

S.C.—"Manitoba has not seen such a year since 1879; this will be a record year if no misfortune comes before harvest." "Never saw a better prospect." "Everything looks bright enough to suit the farmers." "A bright prospect for good paying crop." "This year promises an abundant harvest, but weeds are bad." "The season has been all that could be desired; first-class prospects." "There has been plenty of rain throughout the season and the growth has been good." "Barring Jack Frost, this will prove the banner year in this locality." "Dry sunny weather and absence of frost from this date, Aug. 5, will ensure an abundant harvest." "Everybody hopeful; numerous inquiries for farm property." "The season so far has been remarkable for the rapid growth; we want hot, sunny days now to ripen the grain; oats and wheat somewhat smutty, except where bluestone was used; barley cut Aug. 2, wheat ready Aug. 15; prices good; farmers happy." "Some fields of wheat on summer fallow lodged, otherwise crops are magnificent; hay is not so plentiful as usual." "The cut worm destroyed some fields of oats and barley; one farm completely cleared off." "Fine weather for harvest; crops ripening fast."

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

A BELLIGERENT M. P.

When Lord Salisbury entered the House at a quarter past four o'clock he was greeted with cheers by the Government supporters. There was a large attendance of members and many visitors present.

The Duke of Marlborough, in speaking to his motion, said that Parliament had never assembled under more hopeful or interesting circumstances. He referred to the cessation of the Chinese-Japanese war, and also to the acts of barbarism that had been committed in China and Armenia. He then said:

"It is not to be supposed that, because Ireland is not mentioned in the Queen's Speech, that country is to be neglected. Antipathy against Home Rule does not mean that the Government will not seek the social and industrial welfare of Ireland."

Continuing, he said he was glad to know that the Ministers intended to introduce measures for the relief of agriculture.

The Duke concluded by saying that the country's answer to the policy of demolition of the constitution, beginning with the House of Lords, had been most emphatic.

The speech was greeted with cheers.

Lord Rosebery, the late Premier, congratulated the Duke of Marlborough and Lord Ampthill upon their speeches.

In regard to the outrages in China, he would like to know whether the missionaries had returned to their posts after being warned not to go by the British Minister. With reference to the Armenian outrages, he declared that recurrence of these horrors tended to shorten the life of the Sultan's government among civilized communities. Irish affairs, to be satisfactorily conducted, must be managed by the Irish themselves.

Prime Minister Salisbury said he thought the shortness of the speech was justified, in view of the short session that was to be held.

Continuing, Lord alisbury said: "We have a right to feel the deepest indignation over the outrages in China. The Emperor of China has caused his Minister in London to convey to the British Government an expression of the extreme horror and indignation with which he heard the news of the crimes and to announce his resolve to punish speedily and condignly every guilty person, and there is every reason at present to believe that the Chinese Government are in earnest. hould any different indications as to China's intentions become apparent, Lord Salisbury said it would be the duty of Her Majesty's Government to try to supply the defects resulting from the neglect and lukewarmness shown. At present they could only wait and watch.

The Premier strongly condemned the recent cruelties in Armenia and said that England wished to maintain the Ottoman Empire and the Sultan would be committing a calamitous mistake if he declined to listen to the earnest advice of the powers. The address in reply to the Queen's Speech was agreed to.

The selection of the young Duke of Marlborough and Lord Ampthill to move and second the address was in accordance with the custom which obtains of allowing members thus to make a sort of debut in the House. Lord Dudley, when 24 years old, moved the address during Lord Salisbury's last Government. The Duke of Marlborough, who will be 24 years old next November, is middle-sized, with a pale face and regular features. He is reputed to be clever, and was popular when he was a student at Cambridge University. Since that time he has devoted himself chiefly to coach driving. Lord Ampthill, who is about 26 years old, is tall and muscular and a noted oarsman. He is a Liberal-Unionist. The two peers represent the great Tory Churchill and Whig Russell families, and in moving and seconding the address symbolized the Conservative Liberal-Unionist alliance.

Nationalists Indignant

A series of metings of the Nationalist members of the House of Commons was held in the committee rooms to-day, at which the omission from the Queen's Speech of a pdomise of Irish land legislation was unanimously denounced.

The News says that Mr. Redmond's omnibus amendment shut out the one which it had been Mr. Justin McCarthy's intention to introduce, dealing with the land question in Ireland, and that this fact explains the course pursued by Dillon in amending Mr. Redmond's amendment.

SANE MAN SENT TO AN ASYLUM.

Thomas Wright of Norwich Enters Suit Against His Son and Two Doctors.

Woodstock, Aug. 16.—Thomas Wright, a farmer, who has hitherto resided on the 7th concession of South Norwich, was in town to-day consulting his solicitor, Crown Attorney Ball, with reference to his treatment by his son. The old gentleman is over 80, and rather eccentric. He has been living with his son Albert on the homestead, and a short time since conveyed his farm to this son, reserving a life interest. Subsequently Albert presented a release of his life interest to him, but he refused to sign. Albert then, about three weeks ago, had his father examined by Dr. Culver of Otterville and Haight of New Durham, who pronounced him insane and gave a certificate for his removal to the London Asylum. The medical men of the institution found him quite sane and ordered his friends to remove him immediately. Mr. Wright now proposes to sue the doctors and his son Albert for damages, and to eject his son from the property and cancel the conveyance. Dr. Culver has since written the old gentleman, saying that he was mistaken as to his insanity.

WANT A FREE SILVER PLANK.

The White Metal Wing of the Democratic Party Has So "Resolved"

Washington, Aug. 16.—The free silver element in the Democratic party, in National Convention assembled, have adopted a series of resolutions in effect that the National Convention of the Democrats should demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold into primary or redemption money at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the action or approval of any other nation.

Resolved, That it should declare its irrevocable opposition to the substitution for a metallic money of a panic-breeding, corporation-credit currency, based on a single metal, the supply of which is so limited that it can be cornered at any time by a few banking institutions in Europe and America.

Resolved, That it should declare its opposition to the policy and practice of surrendering to the holders of the obligations of the U.S. the option reserved by the law to the Government of redeeming such obligations in either silver coin or gold coin.

Resolved, That it should declare its opposition to the issuing of interest-bearing bonds of the U.S. in time of peace, and especially to placing the credit of the Government under the control of any syndicate of bankers, and the issuance of bonds to be sold by them at an enormous profit for the purpose of supplying the Federal Treasury with gold to maintain the policy of gold monometallism.

CHILDREN DIVORCED.

A Baltimore Youth Required to Pay $15,000 Alimony.

Baltimore, Aug. 16.—Arthur Denmead, aged 17, and Margaret M. Carey, aged 19, were married in this city on May 9, 1893. Separations and reconciliations, with occasional charges of desertion and cross-bills for divorce, have marked their marital career. Finally Mrs. Denmead has secured an absolute divorce and $15,000 alimony, besides two houses. Mr. Denmead is required also to pay $2500 to the counsel of Mrs. Denmead.

McCAFFERY'S MARVELOUS VITALITY.

Fell Six Stories, Struck His Head On a Plank But Will Recover He is a Toronto Man.

Buffalo, Aug. 16.—Last Sunday Thos. McCaffery fell from the sixth story of the Guaranty building. McCaffery stumbled from a scaffold and pitched headfirst downwards. Midway in his terrible descent he struck his head on a two-inch plank and ricocheted to the sidewalk, where he was picked up apparently lifeless by his fellow-workmen, who hastily sent for medical assistance.

Since his fall until yesterday afternoon he had been unconscious. Yesterday he was able to recognise his brother, who had come over from Toronto, and this afternoon the doctors, who consider the case a most remarkable one, say McCaffery will recover.

A 15-year-old boy named Peckley fell from the third story of the same building to-day with less fortunate results. He is dying.

George Casey, 10 years old, fell from the top of a freight car where he was playing, and 20 cars passed over his body, mutilating it in a shocking manner.

OLD SHOES AND RICE UNLUCKY.

Caused a Runaway and a Bride and Bridegroom Were Injured.

Norwich, Conn., Aug. 16.—Miss Annie Brown Young married Charles Grant, a wealthy farmer of Ledyard, to-day. Rev. Mr. Buck, brother of Dudley Buck, the composer, officiated. Old shoes and rice thrown at the bride struck and scared the horse, which ran away, throwing out the bride and the bridegroom and smashing the carriage. Mr. and Mrs. Grant were both injured internally and severely cut up. The tour was postponed.

HE STARVED TO DEATH

Owing to a Wheat Beard Lodged in His Throat While Threshing.

Lancaster, Pa., Aug. 16.—Henry McClain, a farmer of Washingtonboro, has just died a terrible death, caused by a wheat beard becoming lodged in his throat. A few days ago, while thrashing, he inhaled the beard. All efforts to remove it proved fruitless, and his throat finally festered. It swelled to such proportions that he was unable to swallow any nourishment, and he starved to death. McClain suffered terribly.

Nothing Less Excellent, Please.

The public, having proved the superior properties of Wilson's Invalid's Port wine certainly do not want anything inferior to that unique article. One does not willingly go back to coal oil from electric light. Wilson's Invalids' Port has made thousands of happy patrons by merit alone. Invalids need a something to stimulate and nourish, something that will make them hopeful, and buoyant, making them feel that they are gaining strength, and that they have a lease of happy life still before them. This is exactly what Wilson's Invalids' Port does. It is a fine old wine and extremely pleasant to taste, but while one tastes it, it does more than produce a stimulating effect. It is a blood maker. It is a renewer of strength. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Address Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are usetul as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. The Rev. C. Sydney Goodman, S. A. C., Rector in charge of West Mono, Orangeville, Ont., says of Professor Chamberlain:—

Some three years ago, when in Manitoba, Prof. Chamberlain the Eye Specialist, arranged a very nice pair of eye-glasses for me, which gave and continue, to give every satisfaction. Personally, I know that his skill was in great demand during his visits to the North west and brought comfort and relief to many. The sufferer from any weakness, failure or obliqueness of vision should without fail go and see him. He has made the eye his special study and is without doubt, a gifted EYE SPECIALIST.

His glasses are excellent, his courtesy unfailing and his prices moderate. I wish him every success and patronage.

AN ARMY OF NEW VOTERS.

Interesting Analysis of the Revised Dominion Lists.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—The last revised voters' lists contain the names of 1,353,735 persons eligible to vote at Federal elections. This is an increase of 221,498 over the number of names on the list of 1891. It means that of the total population of the Dominion 27.04 are entitled to vote. The percentage in 1891 was 23.43; in 1887 the proportion was 21.43.

The foregoing figures are taken from the proofs of a statement which the Dominion Statistician has compiled for the Year Book which he is just getting from the press.

Taking the table by provinces, it shows that Ontario has on the revised list 650,021, an increase of 31,222, or 4.23 per cent. over the number of voters in 1891. Of the total population of the province nearly 30 per cent. are entitled to vote, against 27 per cent. by the list of 1891 and 24 per cent. by the list of 1887.

Quebec has 351,076 voters on the new list, an increase of 49,481 over the previous list. Thirty per cent. of the population of the province are qualified to vote, against a little over 20 per cent., according to previous lists.

Nova Scotia has increased her percentage of voting population from 20 to 24 1-4. On the new lists Nova Scotia has 111,124, an increase of 21,079, or 23 per cent. over the number of names on the list on which the last general election was held.

In New Brunswick they have 91,697 voters, or 21,176 more than on the lists of 1891, equivalent to an increase of 30 per cent. Of the population of the province, 28 1-2 per cent. are entitled to vote.

Prince Edward Island has 24,065 names on the list of 1891. On the new list the Island has 25,245, an increase of 1180 voters. Twenty-three per cent. of the people are entitled to vote.

By the last revision Manitoba has increased her voting strength by 18,979, or over 40 per cent. the number of names on the new list being 65,648, against 46,669 in 1891. The percentage of voters to the total population of the province has also increased from 30 to 35.

The increase in the Territories by the last revision is shown to be 4834, the total number of votes being 2878. As might be expected from the fact that a considerable proportion of the population is composed of non-franchised residents, the percentage of voters to the total number of inhabitants is but 19, but still this is an increase of more than two per cent., as compared with the lists of previous revision.

British Columbia appears to have been the greatest gainer by the revision of last year. The list shows that she has 38,010 duly qualified voters, which is 23,610 more than there were according to the lists of 1891. This gives the enormous increase of 164 per cent. The gain in proportion of voters to total population is equally marked. In the year '91 the percentage was 15; at present over 31 per cent. of the people of the province enjoy Federal franchise.

The deposits in the Dominion Government Savings Bank during July amounted to $360,859, withdrawals $355,144, leaving $17,650,695 on deposit at the end of the month.

"No, I have not been at the Soo," said Mr. Schreiber, the Chief Engineer of Canals, when asked yesterday in regard to the rumor that he had been up west straightening out some alleged trouble at that work. Schreiber said in regard to these allegations, that he had nothing to add to his previous statement, to the effect that only the removal of some boulders from the upper channel prevented opening of the canal. Allen, of the firm of Allen & Fleming, contractors for this work, left last evening for the Soo to expedite its prosecution."

"What about the report that the canal is not to be opened this season?"

"So far as our intention and information go, there is certainly no basis for the report," said the Chief Engineer "As I have already told you, the canal proper is in complete readiness for use in the upper channel, and there are, however, numbers of boulders which were left there by the dredges, and these we must have removed before opening the canal to navigation. Their removal is not by any means a complicated undertaking, and we certainly expect it to be carried out before very long."

THE WEATHER MOST PROPITIOUS

An Encouraging Despatch From Pilot Mound—The Bye-Election in Westmoreland, N.B.—Two Railway Fatalities and a Poisoning Case in Montreal.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—A gentleman in this city received the following despatch to-day from Pilot Mound, Man., which speaks for itself: "The magnificent weather still prevails. Twenty-five per cent. of wheat crop will be cut to-morrow night and 75 per cent. the following Saturday. The farm laborers distributed throughout the country are being eagerly snapped up and, the wages average from $25 to $40 per month. The impresion is that the Provincial Government estimate of 25 bushels to the acre is below the mark and that the yield will at least be 28 bushels per acre."

The farm laborers mentioned in the above despatch were sent up to Manitoba and the Northwest by the Canadian Pacific to the number of 2845, who occupied five special trains and 49 cars. They were drawn from Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, some 80 per cent. being from the first-named province. In 1891, the year of the last big crop, a number of men went up to the Prairie Province, but not so many as this year. In reply to a question your correspondent was informed that of this little army 80 per cent. of them are real laborers, who have all found work, and the probabilities are that when the harvest is over many of them will settle down in Western Canada.

Despatches were received here to-day asking for French speakers to go down to Westmoreland County, N.B., where the nomination takes place to-morrow. La Patrie has already begun a campaign on race lines which will be continued among the French population of Westmoreland.

Mr. Tarte, M.P., writes that he thinks a lottery in aid of the Manitoba schools is a mistake and would create a serious misapprehension in many people's minds.

A sad case is reported from Montcalm-street. Three weeks ago Ludger Trudel, married Miss Lillie O'Brien, and the honeymoon seemed to be bright enough until last evening, when the brode, by some means or other, swallowed a dose of poison. It was thought that the woman's days were numbered, but she lived through the night, and although very weak, the doctors believe that they can save her life.

Two fatal railway accidents are reported. An unknown man who had been begging from door to door was struck by a train near Valois and killed instantly. This morning a man named La France, who was crossing the Grand Trunk at Strathmore, was also run over and killed. Both bodies were brought to the city.

Fred J. Clark, arrested yesterday in connection with the Haynes-Jenkins arson case, pleaded guilty to-day as being an accessory before the fact.

Mr. Tarte says, after himself, Chapleau and Angers left the Conservative party because intolerance and bigotry held all three by the throat.

The gathering of America's Caledonian Societies resulted in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., being selected as the next place of meeting. The officers elected are as follows: President, Peter Kinnear, Albany; first vice, William Simpson, Toronto; second vice, Nathan Ross, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; secretary, Peter Ross, New York; treasurer, Peter McKeown, Chicago; assistant secretary, John Picken, Milwaukee; managing committee, James Irvine, Philadelphia and William Heath, Montreal; chaplain, Rev. Dr. McLeod, Scranton, Pa.

NOMINATION OFFERED MR. BOWELL

Rumor That He Has Been Offered a Coast Constituency

Vancouver, Aug. 16.—There is a good deal of comment current here regarding a rumor from the east that Sir Mackenzie Bowell has been offered a nomination for a constituency in British Columbia. Burrard, the new constituency, is supposed to be the division that is referred to.

W. J. Bowser, the putative local Conservative candidate, is not popular with the wire-pullers, because he has so eagerly sought the nomination. He has a strong pull with the rank and file. The Liberals and labor men are supporting Rev. G. R. Maxwell, a Presbyterian Orange orator, who, it is said, would have a good chance even opposing Sir Mackenzie. Under these circumstances, it is hardly likely the Premier will become a representative of the Western Province.

Holmes to Be Tried in Chicago.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 16.—It has practically been decided that H. H. Holmes, the alleged murderer of Minnie and Nannie Williams, B. F. Pitezel and half a dozen others, will go to Chicago for trial for the murder of the Williams girls. This, it is said, was the outcome of a long conference held in this city last evening between Mr. W. A. Capps of Fort Worth, Texas, and District Attorney Graham. After the conference Lawyer Capps said that he had urged the district attorney to allow Holmes to go to Chicago, and that Mr. Graham could hardly refuse to grant his request.

Jailed and Fined for Selling Whisky.

New York, Aug. 16.—Recorder Goff to-day imposed a sentence of 30 days in the city prison and a fine of $250 upon Dennis Mullins, the saloonkeeper who was convicted for violating the excise law.

Predicts Cuban Autonomy

London., Aug. 16.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in an article on the situation in Cuba, says that though Captain-General

EMBARGO MUST STAY

Canadian Cattle Must Be Slaughtered on Landing.

NO STOCK CATTLE ALLOWED TO LAND

The Recent Case of Alleged Pleuro the Excuse for Maintaining the Ban—Two Divisions in the House Yesterday—No Compensation for Murdered Missionaries.

London, Aug. 17.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Walter Hume Long, President of the Board of Agriculture, in replying to a question asked by Mr. R. J. Price, said he was aware that many persons desired that the Government allow the importation of Canadian cattle, but the interests of farmers generally imperatively demanded that every safeguard be taken against the introduction of disease. He would therefore insist that Canadian cattle be slaughtered at the port at which they were landed. Mr. Long added that as recently as July 13 two animals that had been landed from Canada were found to be infected with pleuro-pneumonia.

Replying to questions asked on the subject in the House of Commons Mr. George Curzon, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said it would not be advisable to raise the question of money compensation for the murder of the missionaries in China until punishment had been meted out to the guilty persons, which was regarded as of primary importance.

The House then debated the address in reply to the Queen's amendment proposed by Mr. William Redmond, which was rejected by a vote of 257 to 122.

Mr. Redmond's amendment called upon the Government to declare their policy in regard to Home Rule for Ireland and also in regard to the reform of the Land Law, the compulsory purchase of land, the Evicted Tenants' and the industrial conditions of Ireland. Mr. Dillon's amendment demanded immediate legislation in relation to judicial rents.

John J. Clancy, Parnellite, moved an amendment to the address, providing amnesty for political prisoners.

Sir Matthew White Ridley, Secretary of State for Home Affairs, said the Government would make a thorough examination of the cases of the prisoners whose release was asked for, but he did not doubt that the decisions of his predecessor in office, Right Hon. H. H. Asquith, were entirely right.

John Redmond and Timothy Harrington, in a pleased manner, compared Home Secretary Ridley's kindly tone and Mr. Asquith's "non-possums," declaring that it could not be said now, as formerly, that the prison doors shut with a clang.

Gerald W. Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, deprecated the assumption that he would not continue the policy adopted by his predecessor. The same principles as regards grave offences against the law that had governed Mr. Morley, he said, would govern him.

THE METRIC SYSTEM.

A Parliamentary Committee Recommends Its Adoption in Britain.

London, Aug. 16.—The committee appointed by the Rosebery Government to consider and report on the subject issued a report to-day, recommending that the metric system of weights and measures be immediately legalized and that the use of the system be made compulsory after two years.

To Promote a Monetary Conference

London, Aug. 16.—A meeting of members of the House of Commons interested in the currency question, including the Marquis of Lorne and Sir William Houldsworth, was held to-day, and it was resolved to appoint a parliamentary committee to promote the holding of an international money conference, in accordance with the motion introduced by Robert L. Everett in the last House of Commons, urging the Government to co-operate with the other powers in the calling of such a conference.

A Protest From Glasgow

Glasgow, Aug. 16.—At a meeting in this city to-day of importers of Canadian cattle, from all parts of the country the decision of the Government that such cattle should be slaughtered at the port at which they were landed, was denounced, and it was urged that the animals be allowed to be forwarded to their destinations. It was also resolved to appeal to Mr. Walter Hume Long, President of the Board of Agriculture, on behalf of the importers.

DENMARK TO CANADA

Proposed New Steamship Line From Copenhagen to Montreal

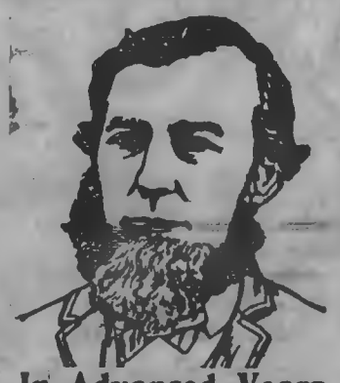
Copenhagen, Aug. 16.—The United Press representative here learns that the Thingvalla Line is considering a proposition to run a direct line of ships between Copenhagen and Montreal. It is general opinion that if the line be established, it will greatly develop Scandinavian immigration to Canada.

LEE-METFORDS COMING.

Fifty Thousand Dollars Worth Ordered for Canadian Riflemen.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 16.—At the close of the shooting of the Provincial Rifle Association yesterday, the Minister of Militia, Hon. Mr. Dickey, presented the prizes, and received a complimentary address. In replying to it, Mr. Dickey said he would do everything in his power to further the interests of the militia of Canada, and would see that they were provided with better accoutrements. He also stated that an order to the amount of $50,000 had been given in London for Lee-Metford rifles for the use of the Canadian militia.

Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds.



In Advanced Years

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." E. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Corahill, N. B.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 17, 1895.

THE Prime Minister and War Minister of Japan were each tendered the title of marquis, but refused because their colleagues in the Cabinet were not honoured in proportion to their positions. It is quite evident that Japan has yet a great deal to learn from Canadian civilization. Fancy Hon. J. Alderic Ouimet refusing a step up because his colleague, the Controller of Customs, had not been invited to come in off the door mat of the Privy Council Chamber.

THE demand for bacon is very large in Great Britain, and it is a branch of trade which Canada has not done as much as she might. When it is remembered that last year the United States exported to the United Kingdom 335,075,784 pounds of bacon, 66,750,506 pounds of ham, and 11,213,627 pounds of pork, or 415,039,917 pounds in all, the vastness of the opportunity afforded our people may readily be seen. In the same year Canada's exports to Great Britain were only 1,518,797 pounds of ham, 23,765,866 pounds of bacon, and 476,963 pounds of pork.

THE renewed activity in connection with the Lake Peterborough section of the Trent Valley Canal would lead one to believe that there was a good deal in Mr. Foster's remark at the close of Parliament when he stated that there was a possibility of the House not meeting in session again before a general election took place. The valuators are at present looking over the situation and making a great pretense of buying up the right of way immediately but strange to say the number of cheques received in payment for lands purchased are scarce—so scarce that no one knows of a property-holder who has been lucky enough to get one. The next statement in connection with the canal will be that the frost is in the ground and further proceedings will have to be stayed until spring.

ACCORDING to rumor, if we may believe a writer in London Truth, the Shahzada, who is at present visiting England, was much perturbed by the downfall of the Roseberry Government, and, with truly Eastern gallantry, at once offered the use of his Afghan escort to protect the Royal family. He is also supposed to have interceded for Lord Kimberley in consequence of the kind reception which the Minister for India prepared for him. The Shahzada is understood to hope that Lord Kimberley may be despatched at once, without having to submit to an elaborate and lingering death. He is, moreover, said to have signified his intention to be present at the execution of Lord Roseberry, in order to testify publicly his support of the reigning house.

THE Liberals have joined battle with the Conservatives in Westmoreland, despite the two thousand odd majority that Mr. Wood had over Mr. George in 1892. Mr. Killam, the Liberal candidate, and Mr. Powell, his opponent, are both members of the Legislature for Westmoreland; and at the elections two years ago Mr. Powell had the lowest vote of the three successful candidates. Mr. Killam polled 3,480 votes, and Mr. Powell's vote was 118 less. In the same constituency, and on a list that cannot vary much from the provincial one, Mr. Wood polled 4,395 votes in 1891. Of course, it is a very different thing—particularly in a New Brunswick constituency—running as a candidate supporting a Government as Mr. Killam was in 1892, and as an opponent to a Government in a by-election as he is in 1895; but though his candidature is something in the nature of a forlorn hope, it is safe to predict, says the Herald, that it will leave that two thousand majority of 1891 in a sadly battered condition.

A Lady Who Was Badly Deceived.

Unfortunately She is Unable to Obtain Redress.

A Warning to Thousands of Others.

When troubles gather thick and fast; when anxiety and alarm prevail in the home; when the faces of friends look sad; when death is even staring the victim in the face, it is cruel and heartless to deceive the helpless one.

Mrs. Charlotte M. Neary, of Port Williams, N.S., will ever remember her trials and tribulations with the vilest class of deceivers; and, had death claimed her, they would have been morally responsible. 'Tis indeed a pity that the law does not reach such cases of deception.

Mrs. Neary, however, has good cause to rejoice, notwithstanding the fact that her life was in peril. While lying helpless in the midst of danger, she found what she had been looking for—a medicine that would bring relief and cure. After her many failures with deceptive pills, preparations and prescriptions, she heard of Paine's Celery Compound; she used it, and is to-day a new woman.

Surely Mrs. Neary's experience is a strong and forcible warning to thousands who are now vainly trying to obtain health and new life from the various common medicines of our day.

Mrs. Neary's testimony regarding the powers and virtues of Paine's Celery Compound is strong and extremely encouraging for all sick and suffering men and women. Mrs. Neary writes as follows:—

"I have much pleasure in testifying to the beneficial effects of Paine's Celery Compound. I suffered for about five years with chronic dyspepsia and weakness of the heart. I had tried several different medicines, but all to no purpose. No relief came until I used Paine's Celery Compound, which helped me at once, in fact it saved my life.

"I cannot recommend Paine's Celery Compound too highly, for I believe it to be the very best medicine ever prepared."

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provative of feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly, and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Corn Extractor.

No Other Remedy.

No other remedy cures summer complaint, diarrhœa, dysentery, etc., so promptly and quiets pain so quickly as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It is a pocket doctor for tourists, travellers etc.

FATHER AND SON CURED.

THE VILLAGE OF WHITECHURCH DEVELOPS A SENSATION.

The Father Attacked With Rheumatism and the Son With St. Vitus Dance—A Story that Can be Vouched for by all the Neighbours.

From the Wingham Advance.

Mr. Joseph Nixon is the proprietor of the only hotel in the village of Whitechurch, and is known to the whole countryside as a man who thoroughly understands his business, and a jovial companion as well. It is well known in this part of Ontario that Mr. Nixon's hotel was destroyed by fire, but with that energy which is characteristic of him he quickly set to work to rebuild. His story, as told a reporter of the Wingham Advance, who recently had occasion to visit his hostelry, will prove of interest. "I was helping to dig out the cellar," he said, "and in the dampness and cold I contracted rheumatism which settled in my right hip. It got so bad that I couldn't sit in a chair without doubling my leg back at the side of the chair, and I couldn't ride in a buggy without letting the affected leg hang out. I suffered a great deal more from the trouble than anyone who has not been similarly affected can imagine. How I was cured is even more interesting. One day I saw a neighbor whom I knew had rheumatism very bad, running down the road. I called him and asked him what had cured his rheumatism. "Dr Williams' Pink Pills" he promptly replied, and that determined me to try the same remedy. Well the result is that Pink Pills cured me, and that is something that other remedies failed to do. I don't know what is in them, but I do know that Pink Pills is a wonderful medicine. And it is not only in my own case," continued Mr. Nixon, that I have reason to be grateful for what the medicine has done. My son Fred, about 12 years of age, was taken with an attack of cold. Inflammation of the lungs set in, and as he was recovering from this, other complications followed which developed into St. Vitus dance, which got so bad that he could not possibly stand still. We gave him Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, with the result that he is now thoroughly cured, and looks as though he never had a day's illness in his life, and if these facts, which are known to all the neighbours, will be of benefit to any one else, you are at liberty to publish them."

"I was helping dig out the cellar."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a specific for all diseases arising from an impoverished condition of the blood or a shattered condition of the nervous forces, such as St. Vitus dance, locomotor ataxia, rheumatism, paralysis, sciatica, the after effects of la grippe, loss of appetite, headache, dizziness, chronic erysipelas, scrofula, etc. They are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, correcting irregularities, suppressions and all forms of female weakness, building anew the blood, and restoring the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excess of any nature. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper (printed in red ink), and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y., at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson in New York

New York, Aug. 15.—Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, the new president of the G.T.R. line, arrived in New York on the Majestic this afternoon. His arrival has been looked forward to with considerable interest, not only by the Grand Trunk line, but by the railways in general, as he comes just in time to attend the meeting of the executive committee of the Trunk Line Association on Friday, Aug. 16.

New York, Aug. 14.—Sir Charles Wilson said in regard to the system's financial stability: "Its finances are all right, I think, and from what I know of the road it is bound to be a large dividend producer. It has experienced some financial misfortunes, but they are now remedied."

More Kind Words From Hamilton Regarding the Great Remedy Which Cures Rheumatism in One to Three Days.

Mrs. Phillips, sr., corner Hunter and Leath streets, Hamilton: "Several months ago I was afflicted with rheumatism, which completely crippled me. South American Rheumatic Cure being recommended to me, I procured a bottle and obtained perfect relief from the first few doses. It is without doubt the quickest relief for rheumatism I have ever seen, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers from this disease." Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

Sick Headache and Constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Saratoga, Aug. 16.—The attendance to-day was large, weather warm and the track fast. In the star event of the program—the Merchant Stakes, one mile and a furlong, purse $2500—Clifford met his Waterloo. Rey El Santa Anita not only beat him, but at the end was under a pull, while Griffin was whipping and spurring Clifford with his utmost energy. Rey El Santa Anita got away first, only to be passed at the stand by Clifford. At the quarter post, however, Clifford's opponent drew up abreast of him, and until the lower turn was reached the two ran neck and neck. Clifford was then let out, and ran a half length in advance of Rey El Santa Anita to the seven-eighth post, but here Perkins began to ride, and, despite severe punishment, Clifford could not maintain his lead. He was driven all through the last quarter, while Perkins did not hurry his mount a bit. Rey El Santa Anita won by half a length. The race was the prettiest one of the season. Summaries:

First race, 3-4 mile—Lady Desmond, 102, Perkins, 4 to 5, 1; Manchester, 105, Griffin, 4 to 5, 2; Fair Flora, 102 1-2, A. Clayton, 50 to 1, 3. Time 1.15 1-2. Runaway and Double Cross also ran.

Second race, 5 1-2 furlongs—Requital, 118, Griffin, 1 to 2, 1; Crescendo, 118, A. Clayton, 3 to 5, 2; Beau Ideal, 95, Hewitt, 40 to 1, 3. Time 1.08 1-4. Nimrod also ran.

Third race, Merchants' Stake, 1 1-8 miles—Rey El Santa Anita, 120, Perkins, 9 to 5, 1; Clifford, 126, Griffin, 2 to 5, 2. Time 1.55 1-2.

Galt and Guelph on Equal Footing

Hamilton, Aug. 16.—The Galt Baseball Club has entered a protest against the game played here on Wednesday, on the ground that John Player was not eligible to play with the Hamilton club, 30 days having not elapsed since he played with London. The protest will probably be sustained, as only 25 days have expired since he played with London, and this will put Guelph and Galt on an equal footing.

Galt and Guelph play at Guelph to-day. Reid of London and Lyndon of Toronto umpire.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Nothing Impossible.

Just now a mite of money is worth a mountain of stock.

Just now, nothing seems impossible in the line of economy. But the TRUTH about low values is hard to comprehend. Anything less than ALL the facts concerning OUR goods and their values would be unjust to the public.

You cannot always buy so many kinds of goods at and below cost as we offer you now. Your best economy is to invest your money in wisely selected goods at present prices at this store. Listen:—

DRESS GOODS.

Just to liven things up these hot days we offer all our Summer Dress Goods at about cost. This will help to clear out our stock and save carrying anything over to another season.

Wise Old Fellow.

A good tea at any price suited him. He always shut his eyes to the price. He was wiser than some people who imagine if they do not pay a big figure they cannot get good goods. There are exceptions to all rules. The exception at the present time is a regular forty cent tea for the low price of twenty-five cents. Oh-k-oah is the name. Big sales and steady sales tell it is a good tea. Remember we are selling this 40c. tea for twenty-five cents. 370 George street, Peterborough. Stroud Bros., direct importers. Burglars at Their Work.

During the past week the towns of Brighton, Colborne and Cobourg have been visited by burglars, and in each place they have succeeded in making a good haul—especially in Cobourg, where they succeeded in carrying off a couple of hundred dollars. Thursday night Port Hope was visited, no doubt by the same crooks, and Chalk's carriage shop and Barrett's mill entered. They succeeded in carrying off nearly $30 from the two places. From the movements of the burglars it will be seen they are working their way along the front in the direction of Peterborough, but if they are wise they will give Peterborough the go-by, as the local police are on the look out for such gentry.

Lawlessness in Ashburnham.

Last night between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock a gang of Ashburnham roughs gathered at the corner of Lake and Elizabeth streets in the village, and began tormenting an unfortunate old couple who reside there and who had been drinking heavily yesterday. Finding that shouts and warhoops would not induce the couple to make their appearance, the young men stoned the house with stones until the husband appeared. Then the air was filled with cast-iron oaths of the drunken man, and shouts of the crowd, who seem to take a delight in this practice. The residents in this portion of the village intend taking action, and as a number of names have been procured, the law will be invoked.

THE HOLBROOK CASE.

Mr. Holbrook Will Sue Justice of the Peace Mathieson for Maliciously Putting the Criminal Law in Operation Against Him.

To-day application was continued by by Messrs. Stratton & Hall before Judge Weller for the discharge of Mr. Jas. Holbrook from gaol on the ground that he is not insane and that his conviction was erroneous. After hearing medical evidence and the prisoner, the Judge discharged him.

Constable Moore then re-arrested Mr. Holbrook on the charge of attempt to murder Mrs. Henry Weese, of Belmont, and brought him before Mr. Police Magistrate Edmison. He was remanded into the custody of his solicitor, to appear at Havelock for trial on Monday next.

Mr. Holbrook has to-day issued a writ against Mr. Wm. Mathieson, of Havelock, a Justice of the Peace, for the recovery of $1,000 for damages for maliciously putting the criminal law in operation against him to accomplish private ends. He is going to test the question and find out whether a justice of the Peace has not to use some slight modicum of common sense in the performance of his duties.

Now bargains in abundance await the coming of seekers after stylish fans. We expect a big run on them during this month and next. The Transient Traders' Act.

Mr. J. J. Callaghan, of the firm of Callaghan & Dies, was charged at the police court this morning with a breach of the Transient Traders' Act. It appears that the firm have opened up business in the musical line in town, having rented a store on Water street. The case was enlarged until six weeks in order to learn if the business was bona fide and if the lease of the building was a permanent one.

Not on Your Merry-go-Round.

The local proprietors of the merry-go-round, which has been raking in the shekels throughout the district, have decided to dispose of the machine by auction. Yesterday they proceeded to erect it on the market square in rear of R. Neill's boot store. Several of the merchants around this portion of the square objected to this move on the grounds that it interferes with their business. Besides, it is stated that the insurance companies would cancel all insurance near where the engine stood. The merry-go-round people state they obtained the proper permission to erect the hurdy-gurdy, and intend to hold the ground. This afternoon a meeting of the Market Committee was held, and it is understood the merry-go-round was ordered to be removed. The proprietors are at a loss to know who will pay for their trouble.

Nothing Less Excellent, Please.

The public, having proved the superior properties of Wilson's Invalid's Port wine certainly do not want anything inferior to that unique article. One does not willingly go back to coal oil from electric light. Wilson's Invalids' Port has made thousands of happy patrons by merit alone. Invalids need a something to stimulate and nourish, something that will make them hopeful, and buoyant, making them feel that they are gaining strength, and that they have a lease of happy life still before them. This is exactly what Wilson's Invalids' Port does, It is a fine old wine and extremely pleasant to taste, but while one tastes it, it does more than produce a stimulating effect. It is a blood maker. It is a renewer of strength. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Address Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

A Delightful Trip.

The excursion of the season will take place over the route of the Trent Valley Canal, to Cameron Lake, under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the George street Methodist church, on Tuesday next, August 20th, per G.T.R. to Chemong, and steamer Columbian. Train leaves G.T.R. station at 8.40 a.m., connecting with Columbian at 9. This is positively the most delightful trip of the season. Steamer passes through Chemong, Buckhorn and Pigeon Lakes, thence up the picturesque Bobcaygeon river and through the locks to Sturgeon Lake, passing Sturgeon Point, with its scores of handsome summer residences, and thence into the magnificent Fenelon river, passing within full view of the miniature Niagara, on the left, and entering the largest and most expensive set of locks on the entire Trent Canal system. The lock is known as the double lift lock, having three enormous gates. After an hour's stay here for dinner (25c), and where the fine Howry saw mills is situated, the steamer will pass up the Fenelon river to Cameron Lake, one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the country. Returning Chemong will be reached at 8.30, and home at 9 p.m. Tickets, round trip, $1, for sale at Times Office, Peterborough, and at station.

LACROSSE.

The cup which Mr. H. Calcutt has offered for the Peterborough, Port Hope, Cobourg, Millbrook and Madoc lacrosse clubs to compete for is now on exhibition at the Pullman. It is a magnificent trophy, indeed, standing twenty-three inches high and being surmounted by a lacrosse player holding his stick in his hand ready for action. Around the base are clustered four silver lacrosse sticks suitably arranged, and altogether the cup is one of which any club might be proud of winning. Mr. Fairen will be pleased to show the trophy to any one desiring to see and examine it. The tournament will be played off at Jubilee as soon as the necessary preliminary arrangements can be made.

The two matches on Monday, between the Athletics and the Tecumsehs, of Toronto, and the II Elms and II Athletics, promise to draw a good crowd. Both games will be played in the afternoon, and all lovers of lacrosse should give the boys every encouragement and turn out and witness the game at the Driving Park.

Madoc was billed to play at Campbellford yesterday, but disappointed the latter team. Peterborough players organized a scratch team, composed of seniors, juniors and colts, and went to Campbellford, where they faced a strong aggregation, consisting of a number of outsiders. The local boys, of course, were defeated by four goals to nil, but they were given a good time by their opponents.

The following are the teams in the game on Monday afternoon, between II Athletics and II Elms, Toronto:

II Athletics.		II Elms.
Wasson	goal	Harvey
Brown	point	Shoemaker
Lynch	cover point	Soules
Green	1st defense	Creelman
Craig	2nd "	Wardrobe
Thompson	3rd "	Waghorn
Crossley	centre	Lennox
Glover	3rd home	Kylie
Borland	2nd home	White
Galley	1st home	Hallett
L Dobbin	outside home	Smith
J McCabe	inside home	Poole
Guy	field captain	J Lee

The following players will represent the Athletics in their match on Monday—game called at 2:30:—Wasson, goal; Bolin, point; Turnbull, cover point; Brown, 1st defence; Jos. McDonough, 2nd defence; McCabe, 3rd defence; T. McDonough, centre; Phelan, 3rd home; Rubidge, 2nd home; Lipsett, 1st home; Galley, outside home; J. McDonough, inside home; P. J. Doris, field captain.

BASEBALL.

The diamond on Riverside Park will be the scene of at least too good matches on Monday. The Classics, a first-class nine from Toronto, will play the local team in the morning, and the Crawfords, a Toronto junior team, will play the Park nine, a local team, on the same grounds.

Cobourg baseballists won from Hiawatha at Jubilee Point Wednesday by a score of 7-5.

Secretary Drain of the Brewery Baseball Club has sent in a challenge to the Hiawatha Indians for a game of ball, to be played on the ball grounds, Rice Lake. The brewery picnic will be held at the Point, and the boys are desirous of meeting the champions of Rice Lake. The game will be for a valuable trophy, presented by the president, Mr. Harry Calcutt. The date is not as yet settled. Particulars will appear later.

THE WHEEL.

Word has just been received that 25 or 30 of the famous Toronto Wanderers will arrive in town this evening per the C.P.R. at 7.40, and will spend a couple of days with the bicyclists of Peterborough. It is hoped that every wheelman will make an effort to meet the 7.40 train this evening, and wheel up town with the visitors. The programme of entertainment has not as yet been drawn up, but the local boys will be sure to give the visiting wheelmen a good time during the couple of days that they are here.

IT DOES BOTH.

South American Kidney Cure Not Only Relieves Kidney Disease Immediately. But it Also Heals and Removes the Trouble.

Those dragging pains in the loins that are a common symptom of kidney trouble are most distressing, but they are only the forerunner of more acute pain, and will develop rapidly if any effective remedy is not applied. No medicine acts on the kidneys with such speediness as South American Kidney Cure. It gives relief in the most distressing cases in a few hours. But it does not stop here. It is a great healer, and its continuous use for a short time completely banishes the disease. It is a cure for kidney trouble, and only it, but it never fails. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

The results of the Junior Matriculation scholarship examination of the University of Toronto appeared to-day in the Toronto daily papers. Mr. W. J. Spence and Miss B. Duff have won high honours for themselves, and have reflected great credit upon their Alma Mater the P. C. I.

Mr. Spence won the first scholarship in Moderns, having stood highest in that department in the Province. In the departments of Moderns and Mathematics combined he also won the first scholarship, his aggregate marks in these two departments being higher than those of any other student. Mr. Spence was successful in winning the 4th General Proficiency scholarship. As none can hold more than one scholarship, two of those won by him have been awarded by reversion to those ranking next in order of merit.

Miss B. Duff won the 8th General Proficiency scholarship.

The list of students in order of merit in the various subjects will appear in Monday's paper

Pearson, Austin McConkey and Henry McNaughton were each fined $5 and costs by the magistrate.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

XXVI.

[The Editor invites special attention to the last paragraph but one of this article, and will be glad to receive suggestions thereupon.—Box 194.]

It is quite possible that some of the readers of this column are of the opinion that we have already given too much space to such an outwardly insignificant little book as the green paper covered volume of 170 pages, entitled "Merrie England." But the truth is this book is a "sign of the times," as the mere fact stated by the writer of the opening letter, that within a few months a million copies had been sold, conclusively proves. The magnitude of the sale, can best be estimated by comparison. An ordinary edition of a book means a thousand copies. Very few books run through more than four or five editions in a year. Occasionally one will attain to twenty or thirty, but a million copies means a thousand editions! It is safe to conjecture that sale in an equal period of time on record. It is also the cheapest publication ever issued from the press. The English edition includes 170 pages, is bound in cloth and sold for one penny.

If then "Merrie England" is a sign of the times, what does it signify? Clearly this:—That social questions are of all others the most absorbingly interesting to the greatest number of people at the present time, and that anyone who has a message for the people, which he knows how to express, is sure of a hearing, that any contribution to the solution of the grave and pressing problems of to-day that can claim a measure of originality, freshness, knowledge, and above all sincerity, is sure

TO BE EAGERLY READ.

The man who writes out of a full head will be read, so will he who writes from a full heart. But Mr. Blatchford writes out of the fullness of both head and heart.

Why are there social questions? There are a good many answers to that. The poor man says, "because of the greed and avarice of the rich." When we consider many of the ways of not a few rich men, I feel sure we shall say there is a good deal of truth in that answer. But it is not all of the truth, and if we turn, as it is only right we should, to the rich man, and ask him the same question, it is altogether likely that with perfect sincerity he will reply, "because of the ignorance and shiftlessness of the poor"; and every one who honestly desires the truest welfare of rich and poor alike (for I, for my part, believe the rich man wants light on the path of true happiness as much as the poor man) will do well to weigh both answers. But I do not think we have got even yet. Let us take our question to the theologian. He is held in small esteem at the present day, but I am sure when he says there are social questions because of the awful fact of "original sin" (whatever be the precise definition he may be prepared to defend little Don Quixote against all comers) that he too has offered a valuable contribution to the whole mass of truth. Finally, let us go to the philosopher, and if we can understand his long words and pompous phrases, we shall find that his solution amounts to this,—that there are social questions because man is a social being in a state of evolution, that is, of progress, and that in the human machine, not yet very perfect, there is naturally and necessarily a good deal of friction and rattle in the parts, and now and then

THE WHOLE TRUTH

A COMPLETE BREAK-DOWN.

I read the other day in Mr. Shaw's book on municipal government in Great Britain, that in the city of Glasgow 25 per cent. of the whole population, or 120,000 people, belong to families who live in one room!

Health is impossible, virtue is impossible, recreation impossible, but sickness is inevitable and vice is compulsory in such circumstances. Further, the same authority states that 75 per cent. of the population (inclusive of the previous 25 per cent.) or 480,000 belong to families who reside in not more than two rooms. It seems incredible; but I believe the authority to be good; and if so, then there is a social question with a vengeance. I have no desire to be sensational, but I do sometimes wonder what Jesus Christ would say if he walked through that great city some fine Sunday morning, and then entered the pulpit of its largest and richest and

MOST FASHIONABLE CHURCH.

But what has this to do with us in Canada? Just this: It has a warning lesson for us; for Glasgow is not alone, Scotland is not alone, Great Britain is not alone in producing these results. And we are, too, living under the same system and order of society which is in operation there, and if it is full of danger for the old world, it is equally menacing to the new. If an engine driver saw some dangerous place in his locomotive, do you suppose he would wait until it exploded or collapsed before he put it under repairs? Just so, we in Canada have an excellent opportunity to take old Father Time by the forelock, and by anticipation prevent the catastrophe which threatens

SOME OLDER CIVILIZATIONS.

"But what can I do?" exclaim our readers. What can we of the town of Peterborough do? Alas! we cannot do much. An American summering in Canada, who occupies a position which entitles the statement to respect, says there are many rich Americans who are eager to put their hand to the plough of social reform, but they don't know how to handle it nor where to drive it. My own conviction is that the most practical thing we can do is to sympathetically study the social questions of the day, and by the formation of a reading club, open to all who wish to join it, wherein books not too lengthy and not too profound could be read and conversationally discussed, we should most successfully accomplish our end, and give a stimulus to the consideration of social questions by the whole community. If this suggestion should meet with the approval of any reader of this column, to undertake the attempt to organize such a club, I willingly promise him or her my best assistance.

WHO WOULD BE PREPARED

"Another Member" in his contribution on this subject has the following striking sentence: "Christianity alone offers the world a code of ethics on such a basis (i.e., national self-sacrifice) and the modern socialist has not so far found Christianity greatly to his taste." Unfortunately there is much truth in the latter part of the sentence; yet it is not with the code of ethics, so much as the code of doctrines, that the socialist quarrels. Indeed, socialists pretty generally claim as theirs the Christian code of ethics. But my object in making this quotation is to point out that Christianity is primarally, not

A CODE OF ETHICS

(which of course "another member" does not say it is) nor even a code of doctrines. A code of ethics and a code of doctrines may be compiled from the teaching of Jesus; but primarily, according to the Evangelists, Christianity is the announcement of the good news of the kingdom of God. (Mark 1, 14—15, Mark iv, 17—23.) Self sacrifice is the law of that kingdom, and when Christians unite to seek the establishment of the kingdom of God, as it was preached by the King, then we may look not for the piece-meal reform which staves off the evil day, but for the hearty "good-will amongst men of good-will," which shall inaugurate that "peace upon earth," of which the angels sang when the Prince of Peace was born.

EDITOR OF F. C. C.

[The editor desires to take this opportunity to warmly thank those correspondents, who have so ably contributed to this discussion. That it has not been altogether fruitless is proved by the fact that seventy-five copies of "Merrie England" have been sold in Peterborough.]

THE CLERGYMEN AND LAYMEN UNITE.

In their Praises of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Remedy.

Taking the Bishop of Toronto, Right Rev. A. Sweatmen, D.D., D.C.L., three of the leading members of the Faculty of McMaster Hall, and men like the Rev. W. H. Withrow and others, as representing the Methodist church, all of whom have spoken in high terms of the merits of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and unite with these the warm endorsement of this medicine by the well-known Toronto journalist, Mr. W. L. Smith, as representing the laymen and it must be granted that clergymen and laymen are of one mind touching this truly meritorious medicine. The truth is that everyone who uses the medicine has a good word to say for it.

One short puff of the breath through the blower, supplied with each bottle of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, diffuses this powder over the surface of the nasal passages. Painless and delightful to use. It relieves in 10 minutes and permanently cures catarrh, hay fever, colds, headache, sore throat, tonsilitis and deafness. 60 cents. Sample bottle and blower sent on receipt of two three-cent stamps. S. G. Detchon, 44 Church street, Toronto. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

COUNTY POLICE COURT.

The Turkey Stealing Case Settled in Court on Wednesday Last.

On Wednesday morning last Court was held in Lakefield, before P. M. Edmison and S. Nelson, J. P. David Darling, of Douro, was charged by Thos. Hockaday with stealing 19 turkeys belonging to him, on Sunday, July 21st. Mr. E. B. Stone for the defendant, and Mr. R. E. Wood for the prosecution. Considerable evidence was taken as to the ownership of the fowls, Darling claiming that he took the turkeys on the road believing them to belong to him. Hockaday claimed that the turkeys were taken by Darling when he knew that they did not belong to him. The principal trouble was about nine of the turkeys that were missing shortly after Darling had taken them to his place, and which Hockaday wanted Darling to pay for, which he refused to do, though he admitted that the other ten turkeys belonged to Hockaday and that he could take them away.

On summing up the case the Magistrate decided that Darling had not taken the turkeys with intent to steal, he believing that they belonged to him at the time, and discharged the accused. He also said that it was clear that the turkeys belonged to Hockaday and he should have them. The matter might easily have been settled out of court if the other nine turkeys had turned up.

SUICIDE OF A BROKEN SPORT.

A. P. Walker's Body Found in the Detroit River Near Amherstburg.

Amherstburg, Aug. 15.—The body of a man was found at the mouth of the Detroit River here last night. He is about 5 feet 9 inches in height, smooth face, dressed in very small checked white and black suit, white shirt, with blue spots. A white silk handkerchief is marked "A. P. Walker." A letter dated Guelph, Ont., July 15, signed C. Walker, evidently from his mother, was found in one pocket. Foul play was suspected, as there is a bullet wound in the temple.

Walker's mother and sisters live in Guelph. He left Guelph Monday week and next day he went to the Windsor races, where he laid several bets. On Sunday he was not feeling well, and was visited by Al. Taylor, an intimate friend. Monday, he again went to Windsor. Taylor missed him coming from the track and did not hear of him again until notified of his death this morning. His friends are unable to account for the finding of the body in Lake Erie, unless it is that the unfortunate man killed himself. How he got as far as Amherstburg is a mystery unless he went down on one of the boats. It is known that he carried a revolver and that he had pawned his watch. The deceased was one of the best-known book-makers in this country, and during his day he made immense sums of money.

After his arrest he attempted to commit suicide by swallowing pastiles containing corrosive sublimate. He had 440,000 francs. Bingen had taken passage for America under the name of George Blind.

KURSCHINSKI PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Brother of the Dead Man Views the Prisoner in the Jail—Accused's Counsel Puzzled.

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 15.—There was a large crowd of persons at the Court House this morning awaiting the appearance of Kurschinski, the man arrested on suspicion of having murdered Albert Jaenerette on Aug. 4 last. When Detective Klippert and Turnkey Tracey brought the prisoner from the jail the prisoner was given a seat facing the judge, and the crowd was unable to satisfy its desire for a look at the accused. Many of the spectators and witnesses were from the Breslau neighborhood, and among those present were A. J. Jaenerette of Elmira, the dead man's brother, and Mr. Kurschinski of Bloomingdale, son of the accused.

The prisoner, though agitated, showed great self-control and coolness. A short growth of beard hid the greater portion of his face. He was paler than on the first day of his arrest. The scratches on his forehead and nose have disappeared, leaving a small white scar on the bridge of the nose. He was brought up handcuffed, but the iron bracelets were removed when the court room was reached.

Magistrate Mackie and J. McKay were on the bench. County Crown Attorney Bowlby appeared for the prosecution and Mr. J. Mowat of Guelph for the accused. The Crown was not ready with its evidence and asked for an adjournment of one week. After the complaint had been read by Mr. Mackie and interpreted to the prisoner by Mr. McKay, he pleaded not guilty. The magistrate remanded the prisoner for one week, when the Crown will be ready to proceed with the case.

The prisoner was taken back to his cell, where Mr. Jaenerette, the brother of the murdered man, asked to be allowed to see him, not having been able to see his face while in the court room. Mr. Bowlby permitted him to do so. Accompanied by Mr. Bowlby and the jail officials, he ascended to the cell, and with uncovered head he gazed the prisoner in the eye, without a word being spoken on either side. Kurschinski returned the look steadfastly for a moment or two, when, as if recognizing a relative of the dead man in his stern visitor, he turned sullenly around and refused to be looked at.

Kurschinski sent for the Rev. R. Von Pirch on Tuesday afternoon and that gentleman visited him at the jail and spent an hour or more in conversation with him.

Mr. Mowat, counsel for the accused, says he is puzzled by the prisoner's cool behavior and conversation. The latter recently asked him why he was confined in jail.

CANADIAN SEALERS CLAIMS.

Discussed at the International Parliamentary Peace Conference.

Brussels, Aug. 14.—At the international Parliamentary Peace conference to-day, a proposal looking to the establishment of an international Arbitration Court was discussed. Mr. Snape, a delegate from Liverpool, said he regretted the standpoint in regard to arbitration taken by the United States. The American Congress he said, had refused to vote the sum of money decided upon by the Behring Sea Tribunal of Arbitration as damages for seizures made by American vessels and in settlement of the claims of British subjects in conection with the Behring Sea fisheries, whereas Great Britain had paid to the United States the large indemnity decided by the Arbitration Court in the Alabama case. Mr. William Randal Gremer, an ex-member of the British House of Commons, and Secretary of International Arbitration League, who recently visited the United States in connection with arbitration matters, protested against Mr. Snape's remarks. He declared that the United States had merely deferred payment of the claim and only refused to admit the ungrounded claims of several of those who claimed damages.

She has been taking the new remedy for kidney troubles, Dodd's Kidney Pills, and has already experienced the most beneficial results.

Deadly Cancer Cured By B. B. B.

HERE IS THE PROOF.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co:

SIRS,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement, and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and I am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B.B.B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced saved my life. Gratefully yours,

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

BRITISH SCHOONER FIRED ON.

Outrage on the High Seas By a Venezuelan Gunboat—A Schooner Riddled With Shot.

New York, Aug. 16.—Several breaches of international law have been recently reported by despatches from Barbadoes, and the latest is the firing on a British schooner in British waters by a Venezuelan gunboat. The fact was reported on July 25, that Venezuelan gunboats were cruising in British waters off the Island of Trinidad, and were seriously interrupting the sailing craft employed in the regular trade between that colony and Venezuela.

The Venezuelans seem to have had a free hand for the time being, for, though the facts of several cases where the Venezuelans had stopped vessels trading into Trinidad were reported to the Trinidad Government, no steps were taken either by the Trinidad authorities or by the Imperial Government to put a stop thereto.

The schooner Ellen, which is owned and sailed by Captain Truxillo, a Britisher, and registered at Trinidad, has passed under the muzzle of Venezuelan gunboats, and though the captain sent the English flag to his mizzen masthead, the Venezuelans simply ignored it, continued their firing, rent the sails of the British vessel in several places, and declined to cease firing till the British vessel had "hove to," and allowed the Venezuelan cruiser to come alongside.

Captain Truxillo has just reported as above to the harbor master at Port of Spain. He was asked to make a sworn statement of the facts, which he did. The captain explains that he was on a voyage out from Trinidad to the Venezuelan port of Maturin, and when within two miles of Trinidad a Venezuelan cruiser fired a shot at his vessel.

The British ensign was sent up on the mizzen masthead, but no notice was taken of it. He kept the vessel on its course, believing it would be all right, when the Venezuelans sent a shot through the schooner's sails. There were several passengers on board, and they, as well as the crew, became so frightened that they threw themselves down upon the deck to escape the shot, which was raking the vessel. He was compelled to "heave to" and the Venezuelans came alongside. Captain Truxillo, the passengers and crew were forced to enter a small boat, and were kept there for nearly four hours, when they were released. In the meantime the Venezuelans had searched the ship, but finding nothing to detain her she was allowed to continue the voyage. The Trinidad Government has reported the matter to the Colonial Office, London.

NEWS FROM HAMILTON.

I.O.O.F. Grand Lodge Elect Officers—Fitzgibbons May Secure Ball—Fatality at the Beach

Hamilton, Aug. 15.—The second session of the Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Foresters opened this morning, W. H. Hoyle, Grand Master, presiding.

John Oliver, P.G.M., presented the report of the Committee on Election Returns. Total vote for Grand Master, Thomas Woodyatt, Brantford, 789; for Deputy Grand Master, H. White, Port Hope, 773; Grand Secretary, J. B. King, Toronto, 771; Grand Treasurer, William Badenach, Toronto, 74. The Grand Master declared these officers elected. There was a total of 2166 votes cast for Grand Warden, distributed among the many aspirants, as follows: S. K. Binkley, 69; J. McLurg, 107; J. A. Young, 351; W. Warnock, 170; J. E. Farewell, 176; Robert Meek, 974; J. W. Grote, 159; W. J. Saunders, 54; A. W. Cameron, 90.

The Past Grand Masters in nomination for the office of Sovereign Grand Lodge representative received the following vote: R. W. Bell, Peterboro', 167; Henry Robertson, Collingwood, 779; Rev. T. W. Jolliffe, Campbellford, 603; P. E. Fitzpatrick, Hamilton, 632. These returns showing no election, a ballot in Grand Lodge was necessary. The battle for the honors pertaining to the office of Grand Warden waged furiously for over three hours, making it necessary to extend the hour of adjournment till 1 o'clock. Prior to the last ballot, J. E. Farewell retired from the field, leaving the struggle between Robert Meek (Kingston) and J. A. Young (Thamesford). The result was a victory for J. A. Young.

George Spence, a carpenter living in Liberty-street, fell from the roof of a house upon which he was working on the Beach Road, near Fitch's, this afternoon and was killed. He was shingling the roof, and the cleat upon which he was sitting broke away and he fell to the ground, a distance of 30 feet, lighting on his head, on a brick. Dr. Farewell ordered the man to be removed to the city hospital, but he died in the ambulance. Deceased was about 60 years old and has a grown-up family.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

THE BICYCLE RACES.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I went to the bicycle races Thursday afternoon, and feel somewhat sore over my expenditure there, 25 cents admission was all right, but I found I had to hang by the chin on a 5-foot fence, or look through the slats of the fence if I wished to see the races, as I was not permitted to go into the centre of the field. I betook me to the grand stand and found I could not go there unless I spent another quarter. I was anxious to see the races and from there I could get the best view. Fifty cents thus far. To possess a programme meant an expenditure of ten cents more, and when you had one you had no idea whether it was a half mile or ten mile race that was coming off, as the races were not run off per the card. Sixty cents to see bicycle races. I became thirsty and made my way to the pump across the track, but that officer in blue (McGinty) ordered me away, telling me that at the lemonade stand I could get all the drinks I wanted. I got a drink at the stand, and later, one at the pump, and which was best is hard to say. Together with my street car fare, drink and admission to races, 75 cents is pretty steep on a working man, not to say what it cost for the wife and children.

Now I would advise the Bicycle club that if they hope to have the patronage of the weary public that they fetch their prices down. 25 cents is all right for admission, but don't coop us up like cattle. 15 cents to the grand stand, with a score card thrown in is lots to charge, and 5 cents for a score card would be more than enough for it. May the P. B. C. kindly take the hint and act, and earn the well wishes of

SWINDLED OUT OF $1500

A Galt Man the Victim of an Old Trick.

Galt, Aug. 16.—Angus MacBean was victimized out of $1500 by the substitution trick yesterday. A young man representing himself as the son of a Berlin banker pressed Mr. MacBean to sell his farm, and a deal was made for $20,000. To bind the bargain the stranger was to deposit $5000 and Mr. MacBean $1500. The $5500 was counted out and put in a tin box, which Mr. MacBean was to hold, the purchaser retaining the key. Soon after the money was deposited the stranger found it necessary to leave for Galt, and not returning Mr. MacBean opened the box and found his $1500 gone and only a pile of newspapers left him.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

DEFICIT OF $30,000.

A Montreal Civic Official a Defaulter.

DEATH MAY SAVE PROSECUTION.

An Englishman En Route to Toronto Asphyxiated—Affairs of the Banque du Peuple—Cattle shipments Lived To Be 102 Years Old,

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The arrest of Charles R. Charbonneau the manager of the Canada Trading Co., with which Mr. Bousquet, formerly cashier of the Banque du Peuple is connected, is a good deal talked of and the police court was crowded when Charbonneau appeared before the judge to answer to the curious charge of stealing a case of champagne. The accused was receiving a salary of $5000 a year and claimed to have done business to the amount of $1,500,000 annually.

Mr. Dunnough, for many years accountant in the office of the Montreal Civic Controller, is a defaulter to the amount of $30,000, and although the fact has been known by the heads of the Treasury Department since the first of July, the heavy defalcation only became generally known Saturday afternoon. The reason given for this strange state of affairs is that, although the irregularities were brought home to Mr. Dunnough some time ago, the matter had to be submitted to the finance committee, or in other words, one might carry away the city hall and no steps be taken to punish the guilty or absolve the innocent or suspected, until the city fathers have finished their holidays. Your correspondent waited upon Mr. Robb, the city treasurer, yesterday, and that official admitted that the city was out to the amount above mentioned, and that a proposition from Mr. Dunnough's relatives had been made with a view to a settlement.

Here comes in the sad feature of the case. Mr. Dunnough is at death's door and cannot possibly live more than three weeks. He was one of the most popular officials at the city hall, but he became irregular in his habits and lost a great deal of money in stocks. It appears that the accountant had charge of the city bonds and as far back as 1887, when an issue was made, he, instead of cancelling certain quantities, placed them in the hands of brokers as collateral security in private deals of his own. In April last, Mr. Dufresne, the Controller, began to discover these irregularities, and as he proceeded with the work of inspection it became painfully evident that Mr. Dunnough had been going wrong for years past. As before stated, the health of the defaulter was in a most precarious condition. For days and weeks he would be on sick leave and then at his desk for a while, but for the last month or two little has been seen of him at the city hall. The treasurer, who saw his employe two days ago, states that he cannot live the month out.

A reporter spent some time in ascertaining what proposition his relatives had made to the committee and it now appears that a brother-in-law will put up $10,000 if the treasury will cry quits. This, as a matter of fact, is about all they can do, for the ex-accountant is dying and cannot be brought to terrestrial justice, at least.

The affairs of the Bank du Peuple still occupy a large share of public atention and the interest of course increases as the day of receiving Messrs. Chipman and de Martigny's report comes near. It will be, perhaps, interesting to know the responsibilities of these two gentlemen, as they have never yet been made clear. In the first place they are intended to represent the creditors of the bank, but as the board of directors felt the humiliation keenly enough Messrs. Chipman and de Martigny were appointed joint cashiers, and they will report to the directors, who, in turn, will have to fight it out with the shareholders. As certain errors have crept into the several statements with regard to the relations of the Banque du Peuple with the other banks since the former's suspension, your correspondent is in a position today to give the exact figures. The National and sister banks advanced the sum of $1,170,000, for which the Banque du Peuple gave security to the amount of $1,700,000, and not $3,000,000, as has been erroneously stated. Of this sum 50 per cent., or $585,000, have been paid back. Some French-Canadians, who had always looked upon the Banque du Peuple with the same degree of pride as would English-speaking financiers upon the Bank of Montreal, have stated that it would be almost a national calamity if their leading bank did not re-open its doors and the correspondent learns that a number of the leading depositors have been sounded with a view to have them leave their deposits in the bank for a term of one or two years, or at least until confidence had been restored. It is not known, however, that this suggestion has met with any favorable response, and most people are under the impression that if the bank were again opened the patriotic idea would be lost sight of, or at least until almost the entire deposits were withdrawn. At present there can be little doubt but that the depositors will be paid in full. There is also another point that should be set right.

Although the Banque du Peuple was called a French bank, and although it was well known that it did a large French business, the fact remains that the stock was fast coming into possession of English-speaking Canadians.

The horse, cattle and sheep shipments during the past week from the port of Montreal have been as follows:

	H.	C.	S.
Oronmore, London,		478
Siberian, Glasgow,	109	440
Parkmore, Liverpool,		726	869
Brazilian, London,	127	296	646
Etolia, Bristol,	20	341	323
Warwick, Glasgow,		399	531
Servia, London,	98	328	1545
Mariposa, Liverpool,	20	61	1785
Total,	334	3069	5699

In addition to the regular liners to take live stock this week, three or four tramp steamers will also take cargoes of cattle and sheep, and the shipment for the week will be very large.

A pilgrimage is being organized by the religious authorities here in order to pay for the furnishing of the new Laval University, St. Denis-street.

Mr. Bernardille Chamaillard died yesterday at his residence in Sanguinet-street, at the age of 101 years and 8 months. He was the second of a family of 10 children. The youngest of his sisters was baptised 94 years ago at St. Anne's Church, on the first year of the inauguration of that parish. He still has a brother living in Ottawa. The deceased was twice married, the second time at the age of 65. The wife still lives, as well as five children of the first union. One of these is a grandmother. Deceased was a farmer, and up to six years ago was able to do considerable work. Death was due simply to old age.

Yesterday, three young Englishmen, who had become acquainted on board the Labrador, landed here, and while one took the evening train for Hamilton, the other two, Dudley Sturt and Mr. Ford, put up at the Richelieu House, intending to proceed to Toronto this evening. They retired to different apartments and this morning a strong smell of gas coming from Sturt's room, aroused suspicion, and the door being forced open the occupant of the room was found dead in his bed, the indications being that he had been suffocated. His name and address were found on a card as follows: Dudley Sturt, 41 Park Hill, Croyden, S.E. He appears to have had a brother on a farm near Toronto and was going to 14 Dupont-street, in the same city.

THE MASSACRES IN FLANDERS.

The Chinese Minister's Opinion is That Russian Intrigue Caused the Trouble.

New York, Aug. 18.—The Herald's London correspondent says: Kung Tajen, the Chinese Minister Plenipotentiary to the Courts of London, Brussels, Paris and Rome, in referring to the recent massacres of the missionaries declared they were on this, as on previous occasions, mainly the work of Russians, who had availed themselves of the exceptional circumstances in order to work mischief and loot property in the confusion which ensued.

CANADA IN BRITAIN.

The Thunderer on Canadian Copyright.

ADVISES REJECTION OF THE ACT.

It Will Benefit Only a Few Canadian Firms, Says That Authority—Movement Towards Giving the Colonies Preferential Trade.

New York, Aug. 19.—Isaac N. Ford cables The Tribune: The death of Baron Tauchnitz, who dealt justly and generously with English authors, and won the friendship of Thackeray, Dickens and Disraeli, enables The London Times to approach by easy stages, in a long article, the subject of the Canadian Copyright Act. It refers to the energy of the combination of American authors and publishers in securing the passage of the International Copyright Act, and to the Toronto circulars, offering to send across the border cheap reprints of books by American authors; and virtually advises Mr. Chamberlain to reject the Canadian act. It remarks that it seems hardly worth while to bring to the ground the laboriously constructed edifice of international honesty for the sake of putting money into the pockets of seven or eight Canadian firms.

A point which neither The Times nor the English authors seem to consider is the impracticability of the Colonial office putting a veto upon the Canadian raiding operations against international copyright. England accepted the Berne convention without committing Canada to the copyright principle. Canada adopted the Berne proposals with the explicit understanding that it could withdraw after giving a year's notice. If Mr. Chamberlain throws out the Canadian act, the Dominion may serve notice of its withdrawal from the Berne convention. Canadian printers would then be at liberty to pirate American books, and impair, if not destroy, the value of the contracts of English authors with American publishers. It is a very awkward business to manage, as the Rosebery Government acknowledged when they asked the Dominion Government to send out a special agent to talk over the question. Mr. Chamberlain is known to be studying the controversy in detail, but is not likely to act prematurely.

Mr. Marston, of a well-known publishing firm, writes to The Times today, giving a new version of the Canadian Copyright controversy. He ridicules the idea that Americans have anything to fear from Canadian reprints of English books, if only for the reason that their importation could be stopped by our customs, and declares that the present American outcry against the proposed Dominion law is raised purely to screen our own improper claims upon Canada. He advises the Canadians to abandon their present position and pass instead a strong law, to exclude American reprints of copyright books from Canada. This seems rather muddle-headed, for the Canadian book market is so small as not to be in dispute, but Mr. Marston sets it forth with great vigor. Incidentally he says that he understands the projected Dominion law is not in the least likely to be passed here, and that accords with what others say of Mr. Chamberlain's attitude in the matter.

Mr. F. H. Scott, President of the Century Publishing Co. of New York, who is now in London, in an interview regarding the Canadian copyright law, says the scheme will not be of any benefit to authors or literature of Canada, where the market is small, while it will be a serious menace to the rights of authors in the United States. The Spectator, referring to the matter, says Canada wants something which will bring the whole system of interantional copyright to ruin.

Notice has been given by Mr. Vincent that he will, at an early day, move, in the House of Commons, a resolution that Great Britain give a year's notice to the Governments of Belgium and Germany of the elimination of the clauses in the commercial treaties with those countries of 1862 and 1865 respectively, precluding the treatment of British goods in British colonies upon more advantageous terms than are accorded foreign goods. The Statist advises Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, to give notice of the termination of these treaties, and expresses the belief that should this be done Germany would not take any retaliatory steps.

It is announced that Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, will make a statement in the House of Lords, Monday, in regard to the Commandership-in-Chief of the British army. The report that Field Marshal Lord Wolseley will succeed the Duke of Cambridge as Commander-in-Chief is regarded as true.

The question of the development of mines in British Columbia is at present attracting much attention in financial circles in the city, and it is probable that several mining experts will visit the province in the autumn. If the reports made by them of the results of their investigations shall be favorable, a large influx of British capital may be expected.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men to-day who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a sliver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless.

OUR EXPORT APPLE TRADE.

In the Glasgow Evening Citizen, of the 2nd inst., there is a letter which contains a suggestion concerning the apple trade which ought not to be lost on the Canadian farmer and and fruit-grower. The writer, Mr. John Maclean, is evidently a very clear-headed and experienced business man. His suggestion is that the barrel be discarded as an apple-package, and replaced by three square wicker-baskets or crates, whose joint capacity is equal to that of one barrel. His reasons for this change are weighty, and are drawn from experience. The prime one is that the barrel is altogether too large for family trade. Containing from 120 to 140 pounds, only a limited number of households will buy so large parcels, whereas packages of 40 or 45 pounds would come within the scope of the means and the consumption of the majority of families. The result, Mr. Maclean predicts, would be a great extension of the demand for Canadian apples. Further, he considers the change is called for, not merely for the extension of the trade, but also for the preservation of it. Largeness is not only the fault of the barrel-package. It is the means of conveying a lot of rubbishy fruit on the market as first-class stuff. In such cases as fraud the top and bottom respectively contain a few layers of choice fruit, while the centre is filled in with all sorts. There are other barrels with over-ripe fruit in the centre, which soon damages all the rest. An examination of the contents of a barrel, the writer says, an interminable job, and cannot be made without bruising the fruit. Hence, dealers have to buy with their eyes shut. The losses they have suffered in consequence have become a serious menace to the Canadian apple business in Glasgow. These losses take one of two forms. They are either direct, the dealer having to cull and reject the unsound and inferior fruit and realize only on the remainder, or they are indirect, the customer returning the package or disputing the account. The loss, however, falls on the trader, and tends to prejudice him against Canadian apples. In fact, this dishonest facing of poor fruit is as great a check to the buying of apples by the barrel as is the size of that package. The basket, Mr. McLean represents, can be easily examined by the dealer. In it he can see what he is buying, and knows what he is selling to his customers. It is is not so good a cover to frauds as the barrel. It is the right size for family trade. Apples cannot beat in it as they do in such bulky packages as barrels. The freight would be no greater, the handling would be easier. In short, the crate seems to be what is needed for multiplying the Canadian apple trade many fold, and to save it from decay. The matter is worthy of the attention of our farmers and fruit-growers. In this country we are coming to a due sense of the value of first class quality and strict honesty in our goods and dealings. The first word that shippers or makers were getting lax about the quality of our cheese brought the matter before Parliament. The country is being educated and encouraged to make first-class butter for the British market. Precautions have been taken to keep up the grading of our finest wheat. Strict measures are enforced to keep our cattle healthy. It is on all accounts most important that our apple-growers and shippers should study and carefully conform to the tastes and requirements of the British trade. Above all, they owe it to their country to be scrupulously honest. There are vast possibilities in our export fruit trade, if it is well handled. This idea of a basket or crate seems to be a good one.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

At the regular meeting of the Victoria cheese board Wednesday there were 1078 boxes boarded, but buyers were scarce, Mr. Flavelle being the only one present. After some discussion as to how the market stood Mr. Flavelle said that he felt ashamed to make the board an offer as he could not make a good one, but he offered 7⅞c, and at first the board thought they could not accept it, but at length the members one at a time concluded to sell, and Mr. Flavelle took the whole board with the exception of three factories, North Verulam, Leaskdale and Downeyville. The following factories were boarded:

Mr. Flavelle then asked permission to let the board know how the difference had arisen between the firm of Dundas & Flavelle Bros. and Leaskdale. Mr. Flavelle had bought 120 boxes, subject to inspection, and he says that their inspector, Mr. Gunn, refused to take the cheese, and Mr. Blanchard, the president of the factory, says that Mr. Gunn passed the cheese and ordered it sent down to Lindsay. Mr. Blanchard was talking of taking it to court and things were rather hot for awhile, but after all it is likely to be settled out of court. The president of the board, Mr. Robertson, expressed his regret that a misunderstanding had occurred.

Miss Hattie A. Richardson of Detroit, and Miss Mary Miles of Troy, N. Y., who have been visiting relatives at the lakes, have departed for their respectiye homes.

Miss Lena McRae of Toronto, and John Mein of the Canadian Canoe Company of Peterborough, and Dr. J. C. Moffat and family of Norwood, have taken up their quarters with "Mack" for a few days.

Lewis Kirkpatrick, of Norwood, spent a few days at the lake. He made his headquarters with "Mack" and returned by boat through the beautiful scenery of Stony and Clear Lakes to Lakefield.

H. G. Buck has engaged an engineer for his yacht, "Lilly," and he is going to enjoy the pleasant breezes by cruising over the beautiful waters of the lake. This arrangement will allow Mr. Buck to man the wheel and enjoy his outing much better.

On Wednesday evening while Dr. Moffat and Mr. Mein were returning from "Cedar Lodge" they met with an accident by the capsizing of the canoe and were towed to shore by Mr. Walker of "Water Lee Brae." The Dr. enjoyed the sport immensely and neither gentlemen were any the worse of their involuntary "bath."

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

NO SIGNS OF FROST.

Wheat Cutting Becomes General To-Day in Manitoba.

GRAIN OF EXCEPTIONAL QUALITY

Not a Single Drawback in Many Districts to the Harvesting of the Phenomenal Crop—Northwest Territories in Line With a Big Yield.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 18.—The wheat harvest on Portage Plains is one week behind last year and it is about the same elsewhere in the province, except round Gretna, where 90 per cent is already cut. Only about 10 per cent. of the wheat is cut here now, but by Saturday night, the 24th, over 75 per cent. will be cut if the present fine weather continues. The weather is very favorable for ripening, no strong or hot winds. The proportion of grain lodged is very small and all can be cut with care.

There has been no frost, whatever. The lowest temperature recorded at the observatory last night was 44 degrees; the previous lowest during Aug. was 46 on Thursday; the maximum for August was 86 the same day.

Wheat is almost wholly free from smut, but a small proportion is found in oats, which may reduce the yield about 5 per cent. or less. Barley and oats are a remarkably fine crop, and being dried after cutting show good quality throughout. In about five days farmers will be able to determine definitely the quality of grain as regards hardness; its present appearance causes a suspicion that the percentage of softer northern grade is somewhat larger than in an average year, doubtless caused by the excess of moisture in June and July. The heads and kernels of wheat are large, heavy and plump.

Never were there finer prospects for a big crop on Portage la Prairie plains and in the province than this year. There is not a single drawback of any kind. The grain fields are a magnificent sight, the great height of straw, evenness of the grain, rank and closeness are phenomenal. Quality of the grain, which is improved by the straw ripening from the ground upward, shows more even, yellowish grain than usual. High patches in the fields are dead ripe.

Farmers have cut preliminary swaths around the fields and Monday morning will witness the tremendous start in cutting everywhere over the province. The big rush will last fully 10 days. Many farmers find themselves compelled to try new self-binders, as on trial the old ones will not handle the rank straw properly. Implement dealers here have sold out completely in the last few days and more machinery is wanted.

Three thousand laborers have arrived and are scattered over the province, but in some districts no preparation was made to place them, therefore they were not picked up as quickly as they would have been if notice had been given and registration made of farmers wanting men. There is a danger of rushing in too many men with little or no money, but a generally good class has arrived so far. A greater number of horses have been brought here than ever before from Ontario, also from western ranches. The averages for Portage Plains will be: Wheat, 30 bushels; oats, 50; barley, 40. Many fields run up to barley 60 and oats 70, but slovenly farming is the general cause for the average being down. Field vegetables are all good, except potatoes, which in some localities are reported poor, other localities good. A greatly increased acreage may make them a drug on the market.

Mr. Braithwaite, Grand President of the Patrons, thinks the Government estimate of the wheat crop of the province is a shade too high. He believes 25 bushels per acre will cover the wheat average, 40 for barley, 50 for oats. He says the average is pulled down by the yield in the district west of Brandon, also north along the Assiniboine River Valley; these localities did not get early rains.

Private and public reports indicate considerable smut in wheat in several localities and more so in oats, but the province generally is free from smut in wheat. Bluestoning, which has been more generally adopted, has afforded complete relief. More attention has been paid to noxious weeds this year, by far, because of the threatened invasion of French weed and Russian thistles from Dakota. The latter has not got a foothold in the province yet, owing to the vigilance in weed inspection this season.

Dairy, creamery and cheese interests in the whole province, particularly in the northwest portion, have nearly doubled this season, and the general quality has also been raised. Butter was a drug for a time, but the market is now better. The number of creameries is 19, with a total daily output of 8300 pounds; 46 cheese factories have a daily output of 20,200 pounds.

The average rainfall during June was three and a half inches; in July three and three-quarters over the whole province.

Wheat men, bank managers, and others driving throught the province, confirm the Local Government's correspondent's estimates generally, but some think them a shade high. Canadian Bankers' Association reports place the wheat at 26 bushels per acre, while the Government estimated the average at 25.5; acreage 1,140,276; total yield 29,139,315 bushels.

The Government estimate of oats is 45.3; acreage 462,658; estimated total 21,-367,416.

Barley, per acre, 25.8; total 5,507,-310 bushels. The bankers' estimate placed the average of oats at 48; barley at 26, from old reliable correspondents.

Returns from the whole province on Sunday night show that very little, if any, cutting of grain has been done along the Northwestern Railway, except at Neepawa, where nearly all the barley is cut. The north central district reports the cut of barley at half, oats 20 per cent., wheat 7 per cent.; 90 per cent. of barley is cut in several places. In the south central district 75 per cent. of barley and the same of oats, with 50 per cent. of wheat is already cut. The eastern district reports about 20 per cent. of wheat and 90 of barley now cut. In the south-western section 15 per cent of wheat, 50 per cent of oats and 80 per cent. of barley is cut. In the more southern parts of the district the cut runs still higher. Reports show that many farmers are leaving their oats and barley standing until after wheat harvest. Reports also show the estimate of the Government to be a safe one.

Lumsden, alone, reports 500 acres hailed out.

Calgary reports 10 days to harvest, Regina says just commencing, while Prince Albert has not begun. All the reports are favorable.

MANITOBA'S FLAX CROP.

Deputy Minister Lowe Estimates It at a Million and a Quarter Bushels.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—While in the Northwest, Deputy Minister Lowe of the Agriculture Department made a special investigation of the flax crop, and has returned satisfied that it gives the biggestpromise of anything that the country can grow. "This year's yield in Manitoba," he says, "will be one and a quarter million bushels. Last year the Pembina Mennonites sold to the Baden Mills in Ontario, 100,000 bushels, at $1 per bushel. The price, however, went up much higher during the summer, and many farmers in vain tried to get flax seed for sowing last spring. I think this crop has an importance which is yet hardly fully realized. The fact is, it can be grown with success on first breaking; and sown after all other grains are put in, without the same liability to damage from frost at harvest time as wheat. I saw one piece in the County of Morris of 160 acres, the whole of which last fall was unturned prairie sod. Seed was put in on breaking with a disc shoe drill seeder, and the yield is variously estimated at 20 to 22 bushels per acre; the crop certainly looks very fine and even, it is well grown and well boiled out. I have it on the authority of a Mennonite accustomed to looking at flax fields, that this yield will be 22 bushels per acre. There is a flax mill in Winnipek, another is being established in British Columbia, and the demand from Ontario is at present greater than the supply. With the present price of flax seed over $1 a bushel, it was at times quoted during the present year as high as a dollor and a half, and with the capability of growing so large a crop on the first breaking, the land thereby being made ready for wheat the next year, the importance of the flax crop is not easily estimated."

Hon. John Haggart has returned from St. Lawrence.

Sir C. H. Tupper will spend two weeks among his constituents in Pictou, N.S.

State Senator Mullen of Watertown, N.Y., will be here Monday to confer with the fisheries officials in regard to the establishment of international fishery regulations in Thousand Islands districts of St. Lawrence River.

BUILDING NEW CARS.

The C.P.R. Getting Ready For One of the Biggest Wheat Rushes Ever Known.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—The enormous yield of 58,000,000 bushels, which is expected from the crops in the Northwest, will be the finest for the past six years, and will mean increased prosperity, signs of which are even now visible. "Some additions to the rolling stock of the company are contemplated." These were the words spoken by Sir William Van Horne to a reporter. The C.P.R. authorities have realised for some time past that this year's crop would be something altogether out of the ordinary, and they have been preparing in anticipation. Every available boarding and spare car has been called in by the car service department from all over the system and are now dismantled and ready to assist in transporting the wheat promptly and satisfactorily. Just how many new cars are to be built is not known at present, but in spite of the modest utterance of the president, the number is thought to be considerable. The first "rush" wheat to be shipped will undoubtedly be loaded on boats at Fort William, and by the time the through wheat trains begin to follow one another steadily, all the new cars will be at the disposal of the railway. The only cause for dissatisfaction among the C.P.R. officials is that nearly all the cars will have to be sent west "light," and consequently the margin of profit will be considerably reduced.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

expelling, by means of these organs, disease germs of scrofulous, tubercular, or cancerous humours which float in the blood, poisoning the end urine.

THE NEW MEDICINE

Its most pronounced feature is its remarkable efficacy in eradicating poison and impurities from the blood, and building up the weak and debilitated parts of the system. Thus, in stubborn cases of scrofula and other diseases depending upon impure blood, quick results are obtained from its purifying and tissue-building properties.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Band Concert at Chemong.

Owing to the unfavourable weather Saturday evening, only a small number of the members of the Fire Brigade Band journeyed to Chemong Park. An excellent programme was, however, rendered, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests and cottagers at the park. The boys were treated well by mine host Fobert, and altogether the evening was thoroughly enjoyed.

Like a Swelling Tide.

Is the increasing demand for Osh-k-Osh Tea. This is the best forty cent tea on the Canadian market. This is no idle talk boast. It stays at the head of the head of its class, and is being sold at the low figure of twenty-five cents. Like our thirty-five cent tea, it is a leader; but unlike it in this respect—you can always buy our thirty-five cent tea for thirty-five cents, but shortly you will have to pay forty cents for Osh-k-Osh. Stroud Bros., 370 George street, Peterborough, also at Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston and Toronto. m

One of Our Cheesemakers.

Mr. A. J. Jory, son of Mr. Jas. Jory, of Douro, who a number of a years ago was a successful cheesemaker in this district, has received a number of honours in cheesemaking in Manitoba. In 1891 Mr. Jory went to Manitoba and started farming, but seeing the cheese industry was going ahead in Manitoba, he decided to take a course in the Dairy College, St. Paul, Minn., and start at cheesemaking again. After taking a course at the Dairy College, he secured the management of the Silver Plains, Man., factory. At the Winnipeg Industrial Fair, in July, 1895, he made an exhibit of his cheese and was successful in carrying off the gold medal for coloured cheese and the silver medal for white cheese. Mr. Jory is making a very successful cheesemaker, and is bound to make an article that will rank high in the English markets. He will also exhibit at Regina and other places.

A YOUNG WELSHMAN DROWNED.

His Body Found in the Otonabee Sunday Afternoon.

On Friday last a young Welshman, named Wm. Ashworth, in the employ of Mr. Adam King, Kincaid's Farm, North Monaghan, was sent by Mr. King to cut some corn on his farm. The young man did not return, and search was at once instituted for him.

The neighbours in the vicinity were notified of the boy's sudden disappearance, but as no trace of him could be found, Mr. King came to the conclusion that he had left his service.

But the mystery was solved on Sunday afternoon, when a number of young men, who were paddling by the farm, discovered the body of a young boy floating in the water.

It was immediately brought to the shore, and it was soon learned that it was the boy of the unfortunate young Welshman.

It seems that the the boy had no fear for the water, and would often make trips to the river shore, and enjoy himself, and it is supposed that on Friday he visited the river and there met his untimely end.

The unfortunate boy was only 15 years of age, and belonged to a Home in Toronto.

The body was brought to town last night by Undertaker Belleghem, and word was sent to the Home authorities in Toronto in connection with the affair.

They ordered the body to be interred in town, and the funeral took place this afternoon to the Little Lake Cemetery.

TORONTO'S CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Peterborough is Visited by Queen City Excursionists.

To-day is Toronto's Civic Holiday, and Peterborough was visited by about four hundred excursionists from the Queen City.

The C. P. R. brought in an excursion this morning under the auspices of a division of the Knights of Pythias from the city. About ninety-five took this excursion in.

Court Cosmopolitan, No. 5667, and Circle Cosmopolitan, No. 113, A.O.F., of Toronto, ran their excursion over the Grand Trunk, and it steamed into the Peterborough station shortly after 11 o'clock with about 300 people on board. An efficient committee had the excursion in hand, of which B. L. Riordan was chairman, H. Matthews, treasurer, and H. Chicks, secretary.

Court Stanley, A.O.F., Peterborough, had made arrangements for their reception, and a committee, consisting of A. H. Webb, chairman; Alf. Kingscote, treasurer, and Jas. Craig, secretary, looked after the visitors while in town.

St. John's Choir Excursion.

The annual excursion in connection with the choir of St. John's church, was held this morning on the City of Peterborough, which left her wharf at eight o'clock for Jubilee. The excursion was well patronized, indeed, and under such auspices the day ought to be most pleasantly spent. The male members of the choir will spend a week in camp on one of the islands in Rice Lake before they return.

Fashionable Fans to the Front.

Now bargains in abundance await the coming of seekers after stylish fans. We expect a big run on them during this month and next. The pruning knife of reduction has been unsparingly applied in every department of our store and fans have had to stand a cut. August and September, the two hottest months in the year, ought to clear the stock.—A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Resolution of Condolence.

At the last regular meeting of the St. Peter's Branch, No. 30, of the Catholic Mutual Beneficial Association of Peterborough, it was moved by Bro. Geo. Ball, and seconded by Bro. S. Angalvo:

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to call from this life our late brother and worthy president, Mr. Thomas Delan, and while we, his brother associates, humbly submit to the will of Divine Providence, we nevertheless keenly feel the great loss that we have sustained in the death of so good a member and officer, one who always sought to promote the best interests of our brotherhood, who had ever proved himself to be a good citizen, a kind husband and a loving father, and to the end practicing and maintaining the deepest devotion to faith and fatherland, and our prayer will be for the eternal repose of his soul.

Be it resolved that we tender to the bereaved family our sincere condolence, and pray to our Heavenly Father, in His divine mercy, to console and comfort them in this their time of sore affliction. It is our desire that a copy of this resolution be presented to the family of deceased, and that it be published in the local papers, in the Catholic Register, and Catholic Record, and that it be entered on the minutes of our Association, and our charter be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days.

A PARTY OF "WANDERERS" SPEND A DAY OR SO IN TOWN.

Toronto Bicyclists Given a Good Time Yesterday at Chemong.

On Saturday a dozen of the members of the popular Wanderers Bicycle Club, of Toronto, arrived in town to spend Sunday and Monday. The party was composed of Messrs. J. W. Johnston, Robert Duthie, Victor Lee, C. Thompson, A. Brownlee, H. May, H. H. McNamara, G. Gieve, B. Nicholls, D. C. Ross, Bruce Robinson and John Meharg.

They were accompanied down on the train by Mr. S. B. Ewing, the secretary of the Peterborough bicycle club and were met at the C. P. R. station by a number of the local riders and taken to the Oriental Hotel, where they were registered.

Unfortunately the newly furnished club rooms were not available for the entertainment of the visitors, much to the disgust of the members of the club, who having left everything in the hands of the officers had every reason to suppose that the rooms would be fit for occupancy. But the visitors were not even given an opportunity of

of the rooms, as through some mismanagement the key had been given into the custody of some one who could not be found when the time came to throw the apartments open to receive the guests. It is difficult just at present to see just what particular good has arisen through the reorganization of the club, unless it be that the members will feel more closely bound together through having paid a club fee of five dollars. The reorganization was for the purpose of securing club rooms for the entertainment of visiting wheelmen and for the holding of weekly club runs, yet though visiting wheelmen have been in town twice within the past week they had to be entertained at an hotel, and as yet no club runs have been held. It is in order, the members think, for the executive to rise and explain the why and wherefore of the falling away from the brilliant programme drawn up at the reorganization meetings.

But to return to the

WANDERERS AND THEIR VISIT.

After spending a pleasant evening at the Oriental Hotel in relating wheeling and other experiences, the visitors retired early, in order to be in shape for a long run on Sunday, provided the skies cleared up. In the morning at about nine o'clock some of the Peterboroughs called around at the Oriental, and it was decided to run out to Chemong first, and afterwards cross over to Lakefield, and then wheel back to Young's Point.

The trip to Chemong was a very pleasant one, indeed, though the big hills were a trifle trying on the visitors' wind, and the roads were not exactly as smooth as Toronto asphalt.

Arrived at Chemong, a cordial welcome was extended to the wheelmen, the cottagers being most kind in their attentions. In the morning the bicyclists amused themselves strolling around the Park and frolicing in the waters of the lake, bathing suits being kindly loaned by the cottagers. In the afternoon the party went fishing. They did not remain on the water very long as but returned to amuse themselves in the Park and were so delighted with their treatment that they decided to remain just where they were and go no further. Instead of going to Rice Lake to-day the Wanderers are putting in their time at Chemong, where the young ladies in the cottages are being kept busy contriving entertainment for the wheelmen, but be it said this is no hard task, as a merrier crowd of boys would be hard to run across and a glance at their signatures on the hotel register means much to the initiated, as the party is known far and wide as one of the jolliest which goes out touring from Toronto. All of them were known by name in Peterborough long before introductions took place, as their capers in Waterloo will long live in the annals of wheeldom. If the party can be persuaded to stay over until Tuesday morning a hop will probably be given at Chemong this evening, but it is hardly probable that the boys will be able to be absent from business until then. To the local wheelmen who spent the day with the Wanderers the event was one of the most pleasant of the season and the visit of the jolly party will ever be associated with the most pleasant recollections.

IT WAS VERY ROUGH,

RIVER AND LAKE RIPLETS.

An Eddy of News from the Otonabee—Breezes from Rice Lake.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Jubilee Point, Aug. 14th.

Mr. John Watt, confectioneer, of Peterborough is here, accompanied by his wife, two sons, and Miss Watt, and have spread their tents on the eastern side of Jubilee Point, and are meeting with good success in fishing.

Walking a little further, and we find a conspicuous tent occupied by Mr. Harry Maher and party of five. These young men are all ball tossers, and are practicing the diamond game. They intend to apply for positions on the American League Teams, if the prices offered by the Canadian teams are not sufficient to induce them to play. The above game they only play when the day is bright, but they are very successful so far in angling.

On the south end of the island are two very large tents, which have everything to a nicety to complete their outfit, even to the possession of a professional cook. They also have guides, and are trolling from the tips of seven ounce rods. They make more sport out of the fins than any campers on the lake. The party is composed of W. J. Boyce, F. Foley, J. Coward, and the aforesaid professional cook, all from Onega, N.Y.

A wee bit on and to No. 3 we find a wedge tent, and in it are ball tossers, J. Newton and S. Mead. They are players of the Cavanville club, and it is amusing to hear them singing the coachers yarn of "Now, now; now you go, when I say come back, there, there, take ten yards," etc., but they are fishing and doing well and, so they say, intend to take the cup with them which Commodore Calcutt has given for a match between them and the celebrated Hiawatha team.

Campers and others who have visited Jubilee Point say if Mr. Calcutt still keeps on improving this noted place it will be equal to any summer resort in Canada, and for lunge and bass fishing it has no equal. Mr. Calcutt has kindly allowed campers the privilege of tenting on this beautiful spot.

Your correspondent is advised through Mr. Wedlock, game warden, who resides on the river near Jubilee Point, that camping parties had better leave their guns at home, and it is to be hoped that the campers on the river will heed this notice.

Mr. J. W. Wedlock, who resides about two miles up from the Point, made a fine catch this morning. The catch consisted of six maskinonge and one bass, on the troll. This catch was made in a little over one hour, from the point up.

The Cavanville excursion, under the auspices of the Cavanville baseball club, paid the Point a visit. The excursionists numbered about one hundred and fifty, and were carried to Jubilee by Commodore Calcutt's staunch new steamer the North Star. During their stay a baseball match was played between the Hiawatha team, of Hiawatha, and the Cavanville baseball club, for a silver cup, presented by Mr. H. Calcutt, and was won by the Cavanville club by a score of 20 to 5. The Hiawatha team was greatly disappointed in having to face a team composed of such well known players as Edmunds, Lytle, McGill, Cathcart and Stacey. The above men are stars for the Peterboroughs, but of course they live in and around Cavanville. They defeated the Indians and walked off with the cup. They were well pleased with their outing and the good ball ground. Those who did not care for baseball amused themselves in putting the stone, pitching quoits, singing, etc.

Thursday there was an excursion from points west of Port Hope to Idyl Wyld and Jubilee Point and the Bowmanville baseball club were to play a match with the Hiawatha team. The Bowmanville team failed to put in an appearance and the Hiawathia team won the default.

F. Packingham and E. Wand, of Peterborough, who have been camping here during this week, have left to paddle their weary journey home. Their canoe was well loaded, as they took out of these waters some eight lunge and fifteen bass during the first night's outing.

The duck hunters' delight is to see good rice and at present the lake rice beds around the point are looking fat. It is early, but Miss M. Calcutt, the manageress of the Jubilee Point Hotel, has already let rooms for the first to sportsmen, who have spoken ahead for apartments.

Mr. Wm. Olvens, of Clifton Springs, N. Y., is camped on Tick Island, Rice Lake.

Mr. Geo. Calcutt, of Chicago, is sojourning at Jubilee summer resort, Rice Lake.

You will find a box of Ayer's Pills an excellent travelling companion. For costiveness, indigestion, sick headache, and nausea, they are prompt, safe, and efficacious. Taken in season, they may prevent serious illness and vexatious delay and disappointment.

BASEBALL.

The Classics baseball club, of Toronto, met the local nine on the P. A. A. A. grounds this morning. The game was a first-class exhibition of baseball as far as the local nine was concerned. McCabe's pitching was a revelation to the visitors, who were unable to strike his balls, while Lytle in the box was as cool as an iceberg.

The bases were well protected by "Pete" LePage, King and McGill, who did splendid work, while the field players showed up to good advantage.

Peterborough started out on a whitewashing expedition, and calcimined Toronto for the first two innings, but loose field play spoiled their work and allowed the Classics to score two runs.

However, the visitors were held down pretty well until the end and succeeded in scoring only four runs before the game concluded. Mr. Frank Packenham acted as umpire.

LACROSSE.

The Tecumsehs and II Elms of Toronto, are playing the I and II Athletics on the Driving Park this afternoon. A large number of spectators are taking in the matches.

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star in its report of the recent game at Cobourg says:

The lacrosse match between the Athletics of Peterborough, and the Cobourgs on Friday afternoon last, gave the national game a boom in this town, and everybody is talking lacrosse. The result is satisfactory to Cobourg, for though the home team was assisted by outside players, the victory was so complete that a team composed of purely local players could have downed the visitors. The game was patronised by probably 600 spectators, many of whom were Americans spending the summer here, and with them the game 'caught on' at once. Notwithstanding the drizzling rain, they remained throughout the game, under the friendly shelter of numerous umbrellas, and give vent to their enthusiasm with wild hurrahs. The attendance would have been much larger but for the forboding weather.

A good deal of interest was taken in the game in Port Hope, whose sporting fraternity was well represented on the grounds. They appeared to be down on the Athletics, and nothing was too hard for for them to say against our borean neighbors. However, the visitors were given fair play and treated like gentlemen, as is the invariable custom in this town. Cobourg has no use for the quarrels of others, and our boys are content to play the game and win if they can. . . . The Peterboroughs were White-washed. Cobourg and "suburbs" defeated the Athletics 3 to 1. It is amusing to watch the Port Hope and Peterborough papers chewing soap over this game. The residents of these two suburban towns seem to love each other very dearly.

The Peterborough papers claim the Athletics played the Port Hope and Cobourg teams. It's all one, gentlemen; Port Misery is only a little suburb of Cobourg, and when she wants us to lick anyone for her at lacrosse, she knows where to come. The Peterborough papers say the Athletics did not have their best team. Of course we don't profess to know much about lacrosse in Cobourg—baseball's our game—they had on as strong a team as played against the Port Hopes a fortnight ago. The "weak team" racket won't work. The meanest feature of the whole game is the statement in the Port Hope Guide, that "the Athletics of Peterborough were defeated by the Ontarios, reinforced by Cobourg players." This is the unkindest cut of all; but it is Port Hope all over again. They're no good. They can't beat the Athletics themselves, and when they asked Cobourg to do it for them—and we did it, too—then they are mean enough to claim the victory. They smite the hand that befriended them. Muthrooks pokes in an oar on the lacrosse question, too. We like to speak of others as we find them, and so far as the game here is concerned, the Athletics proved to be a decent lot of young fellows."

THE WHEEL.

It has been claimed, says an exchange, that a wheel is expensive because of constant repairs. That may be true in some cases, but it is only where the wheel has not been given the proper care and attention. Most people who ride wheels seem to forget that they are machines, and many of them of very delicate working parts, too. The work of properly caring for a wheel is not great, and a few simple rules carefully followed out would save many dollars in repair bills.

First, clean your wheel every day it is in use. Wipe the dust carefully from the frame, and especially from the axles, pedals and crank boxes.

Keep the chain clean and well oiled. It should not be too tight or too loose. Once a week the chain should be taken from the wheel, soaked in a little coal oil or gasoline, wiped clean, and then soaked in cycle oil, so that the many joints may be well oiled. This will prevent a broken chain and perhaps a broken limb. If a chain is in need of oil it will become tight on the sprocket wheels, and the wheels will run hard. Whenever that occurs it should be given oil at once, and as soon as possible it should be taken off and thoroughly oiled as described above.

If you wheel runs hard it is an indication that it has not been properly cared for, and if it is given attention at once it may save a large repair bill.

A good wheelman should be machinist enough to take his wheel apart, and once a month, where a wheel is in constant use, it should be taken apart and the bearings thoroughly cleaned and oiled.

The busy clerk can easily find the 15 minutes to attend to his wheel each morning and his expenses need not exceed 50 cents per month. Of course there are accidents to look for, but the careful rider seldom has one. Punctured tires can easily be mended, and most accidents seldom result in more than a broken rim, which, if wood, costs about $1.50 to $3 for new rim and repairs. Avoid scorching unless in the open country where you have a good road and plenty of room, and accidents will be few and far between if you have taken proper care of your wheel.

ONTARIO CROPS GOOD.

Such is the Official Forecast Issued by the Government.

BASED ON REPORTS JUST RECEIVED

Hay Is a Very Light Crop Shortness of Straw in General, But the Grain Will Be Fully Up to the Average in Quantity and Quality—Roots Promise Well.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—The most important bulletin of the year of the Ontario Bureau of Industries is that which forecasts the harvest. For some days the Bureau has been receiving reports from about a thousand correspondents in all parts of Ontario, and these reports have been summarized by the Department as given below. On the whole the reports go to show that the crops in Ontario for this year, as far as can be forecasted to-day, are of a satisfactory character. The chief feature of the report is the compartive lightness of the hay crop and the shortness of straw in all other cereals. The acreage under corn is twice that of the annual average of the previous thirteen years.

THE WEATHER.

The mean temperature of June was 67.4 deg., or 3.4 deg. higher than the average for the previous thirteen years. July, however, was but 65.4 deg., or 1.7 deg. lower than the average for the month. In many sections of the province no rain fell from the 4th to the 20th of June. In July, however, after the first week, light showers were fairly frequent, and the dew was also more copious. There was favorable weather for haying and the fall wheat harvest. The early part of August was cooler than usual, but normal weather is again prevailing. Every indication points to a continuation of the warmer wave, with thunderstorms.

FALL WHEAT.

Reports regarding fall wheat are not unanimous, although on the whole they may be regarded as favorable. The crop was cut earlier than usual, but notwithstanding the rapid ripening the berry is frequently described as plump and of good quality. Owing to the drought the straw is short, except in few favored localities.

The crop was harvested in good condition, and farmers generally find little reason to murmur at the return, as there was but little rust, and only the slightest injury from the Hessian fly or other insect enemies, frost and drought doing the main injury. In York a few fields were plowed up and sown with oats. The yield per acre varied from 4 to 45 bushels per acre, the average being 17.8 bushels.

SPRING WHEAT.

This crop was ripening unevenly as correspondents wrote and only a small portion had been cut. The area is reported as a little smaller than usual, and the yield is 14.8 bushels per acre, the drought and the grasshopper making a strong combination against it. The straw is very short. Little injury has been done by the midge or other such assailants.

BARLEY.

As in the case of spring wheat, the fields of barley have ripened unevenly. While thin on the ground and short in the straw the grain is as a rule plump and well up in weight, although the catchy weather at harvesting has caused much discoloration. The yield is variable, in some sections being but half an average, and at other points going away over the usual return, the average being 32.9 bushels, or about the same as last year. Six-rowed ripened about a week earlier than the two-rowed variety.

OATS.

There has been a wide range in the fields of oats reported, some very poor fields being referred to, while others are mentioned as giving as high as 62 and 70 bushels per acre. The average yield is 31.6 bushels per acre this year, which is about three bushels below the average. Frost, drought and grasshoppers did much injury, and the crop also ripened unevenly. The straw is unusually short; in fact, in some places in the Lake Erie district the reaper has to be dispensed with and the crop cut with the mower. A little rust is reported, and also some smut, but not enough to be serious. The grain is said to be heavy and of good quality generally.

RYE.

This has turned out to be a splendid crop, and more of it was grown than usual.

PEAS.

Correspondents claim that this crop has withstood the dry weather better than any other, excepting perhaps corn. Some report the straw as rather short, while others declare that it is abundant and will be the salvation of live stock as winter fodder. Showers at the time of writing were delaying harvesting and prolonging growth, and some mildew was reported. The bug was also in evidence, but not to so great an extent as last year. Pods were said to be well filled with good-sized peas.

BEANS.

A fair crop is promised, although a good deal of the seed failed to germinate owing to drought at the time of planting. Should favorable weather continue the crop will likely be well above the average, as it is now very promising.

HAY AND CLOVER.

The only thing in favor of the hay crop is the fact that it has splendid weather for harvesting, and was saved in the best possible condition. The yields range from 1-4 to 2 1-2 tons per acre, but the majority of returns are under 1 ton to the acre, and the average for the season is but .73 ton per acre, which means a half crop. Frost, drought and the grasshopper kept the fields light. Old meadows, almost without exception, were complete failures and many are being plowed up. Timothy did not head well, but clover, though short, is as a rule full of seed. It is many a year since the mower ran over such light fields of timothy and clover as were found in some of the counties in Western Ontario. In the counties along the St. Lawrence and Ottawa, however, good reports have been received concerning the hay crop, while in the East Midland district some old meadows were not cut at all.

CORN.

It would seem as if corn is destined to have a very large acreage in the Province of Ontario. The area is steadily increasing, and although this season drought at the time of planting told against the success of the crop the present condition is full of encouragement. From every district favorable reports come regarding corn, although in several localities where planted on sod the grub did injury, and in some cases necessitated a second planting.

POTATOES.

If vigorous stalk and profusion of blossom and leaf count for anything, there ought to be an abundant yield of potatoes. Some correspondents, however, think that there is danger of too much growth above ground. Dry rot is reported by one or two correspondents, but with the exception of the presence of the bug and the grasshopper, no great injury to the crop has so far been reported. A good yield may be looked for should favorable weather continue.

ROOTS.

The root crop had a bad start, owing to the drought. Mangels and carrots promise better than turnips, which did not catch well. Indeed, it was said that some of the seed was only beginning to germinate as the result of the August rains. As correspondents wrote favorable weather for roots was prevailing, and it was hoped that those crops might yet be redeemed. The grasshopper helped to thin the turnip fields.

PASTURES AND LIVE STOCK.

The season has been a most trying one to pastures. The prolonged urouth rendered the fields bare and brown. In some places in the west live stock are said to have bitten the grass to the roots; a few farmers cut down small trees and fed the leaves to the cattle as a treat, and others fed growing oats and peas to the animals. These, however, were exceptional cases. There was a marked decrease in the milk flow, in some instances amounting to 50 per cent. of the June record. In the County of Grey a cheese factory and a creamery were forced to close for want of milk, and in other instances some factories withdrew milk wagons from certain routes. Sheep look well, but horses and horned cattle are thin, though generally in good health. The horn fly was exceedingly troublesome to dairy stock and other animals. August rains were reviving pastures and also the hopes of our correspondents. Corn and pea straw were counted on to assist largely in winter feeding.

FRUIT.

The Bureau has never received more discouraging reports concerning fruit. Apples have been a great failure. The bulk of correspondents report none at all, or a dozen or two on a tree. A number hazard the opinion that half a bushel or possibly a bushel might be the average, while occasional correspondents have a generous yield to report. The best returns come from near the lakes. Plums are a poor crop, and so are peaches. Cherries did not do as well as usual, but the trees are not so badly troubled with black knot as in former years. Grapes, which were almost entirely cut off by the May frosts, put forth a second bud, and about half a crop is expected. Raspberries did well in the Niagara and Hamilton sections, but strawberries suffered from frost and drouth. There was a fair amount of wild fruits in the northern and eastern portions of the province.

LABOR AND WAGES.

There has been a more than sufficient supply of laborers, as the short crops of hay and grain have required less help than usual. Rates of wages during harvesting vary from 50 cents to $1.25 per day, according to the quality of the worker and the necessity of the case; but 75 cents and $1 were the prevailing figures. Only a few are hired, merely for the harvest months, and in such cases the figures run from $22 to $28. The ordinary monthly rate is returned as running from $12 to $20.

BEES AND HONEY.

Leading apiarists among our correspondents report dolefully regarding honey. One in Huron has 110 colonies, had but one swarm, and did not get a single pound of honey up to the time of reporting. Many others complain of lack of swarming, and fear that after feeding back there will be little or no profit. Others hope better things from the fall flow. The best reports come from the St. Lawrence and Ottawa and east Midland groups, but these are not unanimous. No disease has been reported, and more loss is feared from starvation than from any other cause. A Grey correspondent sized up the general situation in the following terse report: "No swarms; no sickness; no honey."

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A MEDICINE

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

This shows a total increase in imports from Canada alone of nearly three-quarters of a million of dollars worth of produce, nearly all of which came from Canadian farms.

Principal items on the agricultural schedule imported from Canada were apples, barley, beans, eggs, flax and tow, hay and straw, hides and skins, horses, lumber, peas, potatoes, seeds, cattle, sheep and lambs, shooks, staves, etc., and wood, the latter alone figuring up $320,000 for the three months, or at the rate of more than $1,000,000 a year.

AN ORILLIA MAN MISSING.

An Extra Coat He Carried Is All That Can Be Found.

Orillia, Ont., Aug. 18.—William Gibney, an insurance agent of this town, formerly a farmer of Mount Albert, hired a livery horse on Thursday, and drove to Smith's Mill, North Orillia, arriving there at 2 p.m. He left the horse there, advising one of Smith's men to feed it at 5 o'clock, as he intended going up on the rocks to pick berries, and might not return until late.

In passing Middleton's, the last house below the rocks, he left a coat hanging on the fence. That evening he was seen by a Mrs. Mackie, and this is the last trace of him. The coat that was found was an extra one that he carried with him.

DISAPPEARED FROM COMBER.

Comber, Aug. 17.—Melvin Campbell, aged 20, employed at Ed. Smith's lumber camp in Rochester township, left there on Monday riding his fine, newly purchased young horse.

On Wednesday the horse was found securely tied to a farmer's fence near Staples, having evidently been there some time.

There is no trace whatever of Campbell, and searching parties have not yet even found his footprints.

He had no money with him, and two months' wages were still due him. He came from Detroit.

Huntsville Mystery Cleared Up.

Huntsville, Aug. 18.—In the inquest on the body of Robert Checkley, a Chaffey farmer, who was supposed to have died from poison, the jury found that deceased died from dropsy and not by any violent means what so ever.

THREW HERT BY A RUNAWAY.

Two Thrown Out of a Rig—A Horse Shot Likely to Die.

Windsor, Aug. 17. — Washington Hurst's horse ran away in Harrow and threw out and badly injured Mr. and Mrs. Hurst. Then it struck a gbaby carriage, threw out the child and injured the nurse girl named Butler, probably fatally. The child was unhurt.

Killed by a Gun Exploding.

Windsor, Aug. 17.—Samuel Day, aged 9, son of Judson Day, a Colchester farmer, was killed by the accidental discharge of a rifle with which he and a friend were shooting birds.

Struck Down in His Barn

Springfield, Ont., Aug. 18.—During a severe thunderstorm Saturday afternoon, John Johnson, son of Humphrey Johnson, farmer on the ninth concession of Malahide, was killed by lightning, while hanging a bridle up in the barn.

Church Spire Fired.

Stratford, Ont., Aug. 18.—On Saturday, the spire of Knox Church was struck by lightning at a height of 200 fet from the ground, setting it on fire. Not much damage was done.

Port Dalhousie Woman Killed.

Blissfield, Mich., Aug. 18.—Mrs. Emily Harkness and son Hubert of Port Dalhousie, Ont., who are visiting here, were thrown from their buggy in a runaway this afternoon, and Mrs. Harkness was immediately killed, her neck being broken.

New Elevators For the Big Crop.

The Winnipeg Tribune states that last year was not a very vigorous year in the matter of elevator building, only some five or six being erected. The total capacity of all warehouses and elevators from Fort William westward was 11,817,100 bushels. This year the companies, both great and small, and private individuals, have been putting up elevators in a way that shows they fear the present supply will not meet the demand of the great crop. The Ogilvie Milling Co. have erected 17, with a total capacity of 630,000 bushels; the Lake of the Woods Co. has erected 10, with accommodation for 400,000 bushels; the Northern Elevator Co. has erected 3 new buildings and increased the storage capacity of their old buildings to accommodate 252,000 bushels. Private individuals and smaleir corporations have put up 17, with a storage capacity of 417,000 bushels, giving a total storage capacity in the new buildings of 1,699,000 bushels.

BRITAIN WANTS OUR GRAIN.

All Her Crops Below the Average—Worst Harvest Since 1879.

New York, Aug. 19.—The Sun's London special says: Last year it was thought that British corn had reached such a point, and that as the farmer could not possibly do worse was bound to do better. This cheerful calculation has been upset. In the coming season England will import a larger proportion of meat and flour even than last year. As matters stand, wheat can only be grown at considerable loss, and though the large farmers may continue to produce it at a loss for the sake of collateral advantages, the smal lones cannot afford to do so, and more arable land is bound to go out of cultivation.

Isaac N. Ford cables The Tribune: All forecasts of the English harvest are most dismal. Every crop runs far below the average and the results of the season's farming in Great Britain and Ireland are less favorable than those of 1893, which was the worst harvest since 1879. Naturally Parliament is already solicited to legislate in the interest of the farmers, and to adopt the program of the National Agricultural Union. Land is steadily going out of cultivation in England, the farmers being unable to face the low prices and foreign competition, and being also harassed by high rents and restrictions upon methods of agriculture. While the farming industries are slowly bleeding to death, manufacturing is temporarily prospering, owing to the improvement of the American trade. This continues to be marked, especially in cottons, woolens and the potteries.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion, have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma" Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. THE NEW WOMAN.

It is Quite Essential That She Know How to Cook.

In these days when the new woman is the popular topic of conversation it frequently happens that some sensible soul with old-fashioned ideas will remark, "Can this bicycle-riding, club-going, would-be voter cook?" And when perhaps the answer comes in the negative, the interrogator shakes his or her head in a dismally prophetic fashion, as though the knowledge of cookery would compensate for failure in any other line, and without it home was doomed to be a place of torment.

We believe in cooks, we admire good housekeepers, but there is ever so much more than the knowledge of how to make bread or manage servants necessary before home becomes actually what its name implies. It is a dangerous experiment, we admit, for a girl without the first idea of culinary laws to start out with a menage of her own but we guarantee that if she possesses the true home-making instinct, the first emergency that throws her on her own resources will bring to the front all those latent powers which she has heretofore had no occasion to exercise.

A home is the dearest spot on earth. Every stick of furniture speaks its individual language of welcome and repose, and this spirit emanates always from the feminine head of the family, who can either make or mar it according to her own manner and way of doing. Haven't you been in some houses where the meals prepared by the skillful hands of the mistress were absolutely perfect, but where they were eaten in such an atmosphere of frigid formality that even the puffiest biscuits lay heavy on your conscience at least, and it was a relief to escape to some less pretentious abode where, perhaps, the chops were underdone and the soup very watery but where a cheery hostess made you forget these imperfections and caused you to go away thinking in all honesty that you had enjoyed a very superior form of cooking indeed.

Good cooking is not the fundamental principle of domestic happiness as much as it may be prated by some people. It is a very pleasing adjunct, and one not to be lightly thrown aside, but the real home-maker must possess other attributes that will last during those many intervals between meals, when even the thought of food has no power to charm.—Philadelphia Times.

What is Style.

What we call style is almost precisely synonymous with what the French call chic. Either word means much or little, anything and everything, is definite to the mind and indefinable to the tongue. No one expects to find what is chic outside of Paris. No New Yorker, at least, expects to find style much beyond the fifty-mile radius with Central Park as a centre. What the Parisienne is to the Old World the Manhattanese is to New York. The latter is rarely born where she makes her home. She comes from every part of the republic, from North, South, East and West, from city, village and hamlet, to the great municipal school of art, fashion, manners and receives there the coveted degree of M. S., Mistress of Style. So, if she reflects lustre upon herself she reflects lustre in a way on the whole country, showing what any American may become under properly plastic agencies and in aiming at her own.

The mistress of style must be, in regard to the multitude, as one in a hundred; but she is a familiar figure in every cultured household, and a creature to be esteemed, to be admired, to be patterned after. She is not only the woman of the present, she is the woman of the future as well, for the future cannot eclipse her.—Harper's Bazar.

DIMENSIONS OF THE UNIVERSE.

It Takes a Thousand Years for the Light of Some Stars to Reach Us.

While, however, it is interesting to know the distance of some of the stars in miles, when stated in that way the numbers are so large that they frequently convey very indistinct conceptions to the mind. For this reason it is customary to estimate star distances in "light years." A light year is the distance that light, moving at the rate of 186,300 miles per second, travels in one year. This amounts in round numbers to 5,880,000,000,000 miles. The distance of Alpha Centauri is 4.35 light years; that of Sirius, the Dog Star, is almost exactly twice as great, or 8.6 light years. In other words light requires 8.6 years to come to us from Sirius. And these are among the very nearest of the stars. Some, whose parallaxes have been rather estimated than measured, appear to be situated at a distance which light could not traverse in less than one or two centuries. The great star Arcturus, for instance, has, according to Dr. Elkin, a parallax of only eighteen one-thousandths of a second. Its distance must in that case, be about 181 light years, or more than a thousand million million miles. And if its distance is so great then, since light varies inversely as the square of the distance from its source, it can be shown that Arcturus must actuaally give forth 5,000 to 6,000 times as much light as the sun yields.

Yet Arcturus is evidently much nearer than the vast majority of the stars are. Not one in a million is known to have a parallax large enough even to be intelligently guessed at. There may be stars whose light requires thousands instead of hundreds of years to cross the space separating them from us.

We thus see that only a few points on the nearer shores of the starry universe lies within reach of our measurements; here and there a jutting headland, while behind stretches the vast expanse over which the hundreds of millions of stars known to exist are scattered.—G. P. Serv ss in the Chautauquan.

Cromwell's Statue.

What needs our Cromwell stone or bronze to say
His was the light that lit on England's way
The sundawn of her time-compelling power,
The noontide of her most imperial day?

His hand won back the sea for England's dower;
His footfall bade the Moor change heart and cower;
His word on Milton's tongue spake law to France
When Piedmont felt the she-wolf Rome devour.

From Cromwell's eye the light of England's glance
Flashed, and bowed down the kings by grace of chance,
The priest annointed princes; one alone
By grace of England held their hosts in trance.

The enthroned republic from her kinglier throne
Spake, and her speech was Cromwell's. Earth has known
No lordlier presence. How should Cromwell stand
By kinglets and by queenlets hewn in stone?

Incarnate England in his warrior hand
Smote, and as fire devours the blackening brand
Made ashes of their strengths who wrought her wrong,
And turned the strongholds of her foes to sand.

His praise is in the sea and Milton's song;
What praise could reach him from the weakling throng
That rules by leave of tongues whose praise is shame—
Him, who made England out of weakness strong?

There needs no clarion's blast of broad-blown fame
To bid the world bear witness whence he came
Who bade fierce Europe fawn at England's heel
And purged the plague of lineal rule with flame.

There needs no witness graven on stone or steel
For one whose work bids fame bow down and kneel;
Our man of men, whose time-commanding name
Speaks England, and proclaims her Commonweal.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

THE MONTREAL DEFALCATION.

Official Statement Made to the Finance Committee—The Canada Trading Company Embroglio.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 19.—The people of Montreal will have to look in vain in their own newspapers for any detailed account of the heavy defalcation that was reported in these columns as having taken place in the City Hall.

A day or two ago Mr. J. S. Bousquet, the retired cashier of the Banque Du Peuple, who was the leading spirit of the Canada Trading and Shipping Co., had the manager of the last-named concern, Mr. Charbonneau, arrested charged with stealing a case of champagne. To-day the defendant turned the tables on Mr. Bousquet and had the latter arrested likewise. The following letter is published: "Montreal, Que., June 15, 1895.—To the General Manager of the Credit Lyonnaise, Paris: Sir,—We wish to recommend you Mr. C. E. Charbonneau, manager of the Canadian Trading & Shipping Co., Limited, who is on his way to Europe, where he is going to complete important business. As he intends to visit several cities in France, in Germany, in Spain and in England you will oblige us by furishing him all information he may desire for the benefit of his company. The capital stock of the Canadian Trading and Shipping Co. is now $250,000, entirely paid. By the high financial position of the seven members of the Committee of Administration, the company must be considered able to fulfil its engagements. Please receive my best thanks, etc. (Signed J. S. Bousquet, cashier.)" Mr. Charbonneau claims that the capital was neither all subscribed nor paid up, and that Bousquet made a false statement.

He, with two brothers, had taken shelter in the barn. They noticed his hair on fire. On going to put it out they found him dead. No other evidence of the stroke was found on his body.

WOLSELEY COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF.

The Duke of Cambridge Will Complete the Autumn Inspection.

London, Alg. 20.—Hon. William St. John Broderick, Under Secretary of State for War, formally announced in the House of Comomns to-day that Field Marshal Lord Wolseley would succeed the Duke of Cambridge as Commander-in-Chief of the British army.

Lord Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, in making a statement in the House of Lords regarding the retirement of the Duke of Cambridge, said that the latter would relinquish command of the army on Nov. 1, instead of Oct. 1, as had been originally arranged. The change, his lordship added, was made in order to comply with the desire of the Duke to complete the autumn inspection of the army.

On the motion of Mr. Balfour, the Government leader, the House, by a vote of 271 to 87, suspended for the remainder of the session the rule which provides for the adjournment of the House at mid-night. The Government will also take the whole time of the House.

After rejecting several amendments to the Address in reply to the Queen's Speech, a Government motion to adopt closure was carried by a vote of 208 to 73. Then, by a vote of 217 to 63 the House agreed to the address.

House Located in Indianapolis Where Howard Pitezel's Body May Be.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 20.—Detective Geyer is on a still hunt for the body of Howard Pitezel in Indianapolis, and claims to have a clue which may result in the finding of the missing boy. The clue is furnished by a woman living in Prospect-street, Indianapolis, who saw the picture of Holmes in the newspapers, and recognized it as that of a man who rented a house from her in October. It is the belief of some that the boy may have been disposed of in this house.

Bought No Ticket For the Boy.

An important discovery made to-day is the fact that the day Holmes and the two Pitezel girls left Indianapolis for Detroit he purchased two half fare tickets only. He told Landlord Acklelow that morning that the boy had preceded him to the train, but Geyer is confident that no ticket was purchased for the lad, because he did not leave the city with Holmes and his two sisters. This is proved by the fact that but two half-fare tickets were sold to Chicago that day and these were used for the two girls.

THE TWO TORY RULERS

Caron and Ouimet Masters of the Cabinet.

SIR CARON THE ACTUAL LEADER.

Proof That Such is the Case Shown in the Votes of Confidence Passed By the House in Some Very Peculiar Instances.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The rulers of the Conservative party, Sir Adolphe Caron, acting Premier, and Hon. J. A. Ouimet, have been for several days the only members of the Cabinet at Ottawa. When, during the last session they threatened to do wonders, Sir Mackenzie Bowell promised another session to the 39 Ontario Conservative members who imagined they were a batch for Sir Adolphe. Messrs. Ouimet and Caron having received a written pledge from the other members of the Government that their demands will be obeyed, are now masters of the situation. Why should not Sir Adolphe feel his strength and be the virtual leader of the party, for confidence has been voted in him time and again. During the session of 1894 the Conservatives voted down the following:

"That all the words after the word 'That' be left out, and the following inserted instead thereof:—'from the public trial and conviction of Thomas McGreevy and N. K. Connolly for conspiracy to defraud, and from evidence and papers already before this House, it appears that large portions of the moneys which were found, upon said trial, to have been criminally received by the said Thomas McGreevy from Government contractors were so received by him for the purpose of being expended in elections in the interest of the Conservative party, and for distribution by Sir Hector Langevin M.P., and Sir Adolphe Caron, M.P., for the election of themselves and of other supporters of the Government at the general elections held in February, 1887.

"That it further appears that large portions of the said moneys, together with other large sums collected by Sir Adolphe Caron from those interested in Governmental railway subsidies, were expended and distributed by Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron, and in lavish and illegal amounts, to assist in the election of themselves and of other supporters of the Government, in the district of Quebec, at the general elections of 1887.

"That the said Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron were then, and are now, members of the House, and on the roll of Her Majesty's Privy Councillors for Canada, and the said Sir Adolphe Caron is a Cabinet Minister and Postmaster-General.

"That, in the opinion of this House, the said Sir Hector Langevin and Sir Adolphe Caron are deserving of the severest censure for their connection with the said transactions, and that it is a public scandal and an injury to the reputation of Canada that Sir Adolphe Caron should continue to hold the position of a Minister of the Crown."

Mr. Ouimet, in another line has given evidence of a leader, as witness his work in connection with Sir John Thompson's funeral. The funeral of the Old Chieftian, Sir John Macdonald, cost $10,000, but Mr. Ouimet was not then an experienced man. Some of the materian used at the funeral of Sir John Thompson was sold recently at Halifax. The car which cost the country $1500 was bought back by the manufacturer for $21. Below is a summary of expenses in connection with the funeral.

FIVE BOYS DROWNED FROM A BOAT.

Fearful Fatality in a Quebec Village—Others Who Yesterday Met Death in the Water.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Des Aulnais says: On Sunday afternoon a party of five young men engaged a row-boat and went out on the river. Three hours later the five bodies were found all together close in shore. The boat was seen drifting some distance off, but how the five victims came to be drowned is a mystery, as no one witnessed the accident. The names of the drowned are: David St. Pierre, Edmund Caron, Joseph Morin, Wilfred Labrecque and A. B. Pelletier. The eldest, Caron, was 20 years of age.

A boy named Alfred Bradshaw, aged 11 years, was drowned at Isle Gros Bois, Saturday, while bathing.

20 ROASTED ALIVE.

A Denver Hotel Wrecked By An Explosion.

VICTIMS DECCED TO BE KILLED

Fire Followed, and of the Seventy-Five Inmates Many Were Caught in the Debris and Roasted to Death in View of Helpless Hundreds.

Denver, Col., Aug. 20.—The Gumery Hotel, in Lawrence-street, between 17th and 18th-streets, was demolished by an explosion which occurred shortly after mid-night. The explosion took place in the rear portion of the building and its course has not yet been ascertained. There was no warning of the sudden disaster, and it is certain that a number of guests and employes of the hotel have lost their lives, the building being a complete wreck. It is a marvel that any escaped. Thus far only 15 persons who are known to have been in the building at the time of the explosion are accounted for. To add to the horror of the situation the ruins of the building took fire, and many of the unfortunates who were not killed outright by the crash were slowly burned to death. Their pleadings that they be killed to save them from torture by fire were piteous in the extreme, but the terror-stricken bystanders were powerless to render them any aid.

Among those known to have perished are the following: Mr. Greiner, Assistant Superintendent of the State Capitol; Mrs. Greiner, wife of the above; Peter Gumery, proprietor of the hotel; Mrs. Peter Gumery, wife of the above. Among the injured are: McClain of Huron, Kas.; Henry Sloan, of Houston, Kas.; Mrs. Henry Sloan.

Twenty-two persons registered yesterday. Mr. McClain thinks there were about 60 guests in the house. This, with the help employed on the premises, would make about 75 persons in the building at the time of the explosion.

Peter Gumery, the proprietor of the hotel, is given up for lost, and his wife is also missing.

Besides Peter Gumery and R. C. Greiner, the proprietors of the hotel, the day clerk and the night clerk are both missing.

It is thought all the employes in the building were killed, for they slept in the portion which fell, and the remaining walls toppled over upon them, burying them from all hope of rescue.

The force of the explosion and the concussion of the falling walls shattered the windows on both sides of Lawrence-street, from 17th to 18th-streets, and back of the hotel in Summer-street the plate glass windows of all the business houses were utterly wrecked, and belated pedestrians were badly injured by the falling of glass and flying debris. The fronts of many buildings in the vicinity were very badly wrecked.

At 12.35 o'clock five injured persons had been taken out. They were all inmates of the upper stories and sank down with the floors, escaping more fortunately than those below. As the chances of escape lessened the cries of the imprisoned people increased, heart-rending shrieks rising from every portion of the great mass of wreckage.

Two injured women had been almost extricated from the ruins when the flames approached so close that the rescuers had to abandon them. The bodies of three women were also seen in the back part of the building, but could not be reached. The firemen worked with great heroism. The heat was intense and the smoke blinding.

Mrs. Greiner, wife of the Assistant Superintendent of the State Capitol, with her husband, are in the ruins, for, according to the firemen, they saw the woman appealing to them from the back of a truss that pinioned her to the floor of the office whence she had tried to escape. At 11 o'clock the fire got away from the department and made rapid headway, with the chances of consuming the entire block. Every engine in the city was summoned. By the explosion, everything in the shape of a record was destroyed and there will be no means of realizing the extent of the fatalities, even after the building has been razed to the ground, for the bones are in the centre of a furnace that will reduce them to a calcined mass and destroy all traces of identity.

The hotel was of the better kind of second-class hotels, catering largely to transient family patronage. Thus many women and children were among the guests. The building was built as the Eden Musee by the widow of Tom Thumb, and was so occupied, later being remodeled for use as a hotel. The Gumery has been destroyed by fire three times.

The list of dead is supposed to be 20. Amid the tons of burning debris are scenes full of horror. The front of the building is standing, but in the back and centre is the scene of the terrible devastation of the explosion. Mingled with bricks and mortar and burning ruins are human bones, human skulls and the embers of burning flesh. The north wall is still standing, but a huge crack gives warning that a fall may be expected. Directly in the path of this wall are buried at least eight bodies.

A midnight report says: Probably 25 men, women and children perished.

Seventeen-year-old Elmer Pierce, who was temporarily placed in charge of the boiler was responsible for the explosion. With the boiler almost at white heat he let cold water into the tubular machinery, causing an immediate explosion. He escaped uninjured and is being hunted by an angry people.

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality.

Children Shrink

from taking medicine. They don't like its taste. But they are eager to take what they like—Scott's Emulsion, for instance. Children almost always like Scott's Emulsion.

And it does them good.

Scott's Emulsion is the easiest, most palatable form of Cod-liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda added to nourish the bones and tone up the nervous system. The way children gain flesh and strength on Scott's Emulsion is surprising even to physicians.

All delicate children need it.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

VALUE OF GOOD ROADS.

A writer in Lippincott's Magazine, John G. Speed, in advocating road improvement gives an illustration in the experience of property owners between Moorestown, N. J., and Philadelphia, who invested $40,000 in putting their wretched highways in the best possible condition. It was found after improvements were made, that two horses were able to do the work for which four had been required. On the old roads two men and four horses, with a wagon weighing 1,900 pounds, could take two and a half tons of produce to market and make one trip a day, bringing back an equal weight of fertilizer. Now one man on the good roads, with two horses and a wagon weighing 2,300 pounds, takes four tons to market, brings back an equal weight and makes two trips a day. More than all else, under the stimulus of the roadways the land that was once a drug is now in steady demand at high prices.

Results as highly satisfactory may not come everywhere. This was near a great city. But undoubtedly near any city, good roads must prove a paying investment for the residents. The farmers should wake up to the fact. The time is past for carelessness in farming as in other things. Often in the rural districts there is a feeling that what was good enough in the old days is good enough for to-day. That feeling is not confined to road making. It extends to general farming as well, too many agriculturists being content to plod in the old ruts, refusing to recognize the changed conditions and the profit to be derived from improved methods. The successful business man of the town and city is the man who is quick to see the necessity for keeping up with the times in his methods, and the successful farmer will be the same kind of man.

SOMEBODY writes to the EXAMINER thus: Why cannot our city streets be sprinkled instead of being flooded with water? In our efforts to overcome dust, is it necessary to substitute mud?

This is rank ingratitude. The man should be satisfied so long as he is not drowned. Some people never see the silver lining in a cloud.

THE way in which the Banque du Peuple is getting out of its difficulties is a splendid example of the excellence of our banking system. Out of the total circulation of $900,000, over $700,000 has already been redeemed. In other words the bank has been able to do in 30 days what in reality the law gave them 60 days to do.

IT is highly gratifying to be told by the Chief Engineer that there is no trouble at the Sault Ste. Marie canal except "boulders." That may be so for the present. As soon as the "boulders" are removed and Parliament meets, it will be found that there is something more. The financial part of of the matter needs some further explanation.

THE importers of Canadian cattle do not seem to share in the fears of the government as to the existence of disease among them. They object to their being killed at the port of landing. Such conflict of opinion ought to be put an end to. It is doing much harm to Canadian trade and the question could be settled one way or other.

THE proposal that all the remaining unsold islands at the Thousand Islands be reserved as an International summer resort will commend itself to the people of Canada and the United States. That such a splendid national park should be permitted to pass altogether into the hands of rich seems unwise. Where nature has been so lavish to rich and poor, the latter should not be excluded through lack of foresight on the part of the government.

AT a meeting at Old Orchard Beach last Sunday a collection for Chinese mission work was taken up. Some of the good people are said to have given all the money brought with them to the seaside, and had to go home next day. Seventy-five thousand dollars was the sum raised. Statistics show that a Chinese convert to Christianity costs on the average $2,000, so that the $75,000 ought to make 37½ converts. Would not $75,000 be better spent in educational and Christian work among our own people than in making thirty-seven Chinamen into nominal Christians?

THE Toronto Globe has ceased to ask the question: "Has the National Policy made you rich?" A general classification of the answers to the question may be made as follows, says the Ottawa Free Press:—

Answer—No.

The mechanic.
The city and town labourer.
The professional man.
The farmer.
The farm labourer.
The independent manufacturer.
The railway employee.
The railway shareholder.
The storekeeper.

Answer—Yes.

The combinester.
The monopoly holder.
The privileged class.
The boodling politician.
The fat office-holder.
The crooked contractor.
The crooked contract broker.
The railway charter manipulator.

THERE is to be an interesting convention in Detroit on the 29th instant for the purpose of organizing a plan of co-operation of the efforts of waif-saving that are being made in nearly every large community in the world, and to afford the men and women actively engaged or deeply interested in the various branches of this work opportunity to meet and exchange views and experiences. Every thinking man and woman must feel the necessity for doing something to rescue from lives of vice and crime those children whose environments in large cities leave little else open to them; every human man and woman must pity the little faces pinched with want, the little bodies blue with cold, the little minds steeped in ignorance, and the work should have the full sympathy of the general public. From the superintendent of the department of the Ontario Government, devoted to neglected and dependent children, we have received a programme, showing some of the aspects of what may be called the waif problem, to be considered at the convention. These are: The actual worth of rescuing waifs from the streets; their education and training in institutions, the handling of vagrant, troublesome or vicious boys by the police authorities; the separation of juvenile from adult prisoners from the moment of arrest; the importance of free public baths in cities, methods of their establishment, etc.; runaway boys, or juvenile tramps.

Miss Emma Scollard, who has been for the past year up in North Bay, has returned home.

Misses A. McPherson and Kelly, of Peterborough, who have spent the past week in visiting with friends here, returned home.

Miss Minnie Weir, Peterborough, is paying an extended visit with friends here.

A large drive of logs belonging to the Gilmour Co., consisting of 40,000 pieces, passed through here last week. This drive has made excellent headway under the able foremanship of Mr. S. Gunter.

The steamers still continue to be largely patronized, more especially on Saturday nights, when large numbers of people avail themselves of the opportunity to spend Sunday at the lakes, returning on Monday morning to Peterborough in time for business.

Our village is becoming quite a summer resort, and pleasure seekers are constantly going and coming, and all express themselves as delighted with the locality and fishing, and express their intention of again returning next year.

Among the guests registered at the Lakeview House last week were:—Messrs. W. Webster, S. Cook, B. Harding, G. Furgison, G. Herr, G. H. Brinker, F. N. Brayer, Geo. Beisheine, Chas. F. Merts, of Rochester, N.Y.; S. E. Champeny, H. W. Turk, of Buffalo; E. F. Turk, N. Musselman and wife, W. Ford, N. Bryan, of Rochester; M. Hall, W. Furgison, J. Carnegie, Miss Carnegie, W. J. GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 68 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

FARMERS RUSHING THE HARVEST

Rain Fell Yesterday in Some Sections, But Generally Good Harvest Weather Prevailed—Reports to the Railroads State That Cutting is General.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 19.—Reports come in to-day from Elm River settlement centering fifteen miles south-east of Portage, immediately across the Assiniboine, and show that district to be four or five days earlier than here. Over one-third of the wheat is already cut, is of the very finest sample and perfectly ripe. It is estimated there are about eight thousand acres of wheat there. The return will be over two hundred thousand bushels. Oats and barley are both good. The crops are well cut.

Some timid farmers are apprehensive of frost. Saturday night was clear, but passed over a dozen degrees above freezing point, or over 17 degrees above damage temperature. It requires about five degrees of frost to injure the grain. It was cool yesterday evening, but climbed up through the night and became quite warm, with slight showers. It is a clear, lovely morning and day with passing clouds. The thermometer has registered a minimum of 49 and a maximum of 65 degrees for the past day and night.

A traveler arrived here this morning from the Brandon region and says it was chilly and clear there. This morning at 5 o'clock it was three or four degrees above frost. In Manitoba these cold dips may always be looked for, but it is only the exceptionally cold ones that do any damage.

Grain men cannot give the opening price very closely. They say the Eastern dealers are very chary about buying at any but a very medium price. The best posted men here think the market will open at from 50c to 52c, but it is plain they are hedging on prices. One of Winnipeg's leading dealers was here last week and spoke of 45c as the opening price, but he is bearing prices and won't be able to get a bushel at the figure. Farmers are hopeful of getting 60c, but it is doubtful if wheat will realize that much.

The first wheat will strike the market in 10 days. It requires two weeks to fit it properly for threshing if weather is dry. Last year the farmers rushed their crops into the elevators and sold right out earlier than ever before. This year there will be more holding for higher prices. Farmers have not been more hopeful for eight years past, nor during that time has there been less pessimism among them.

The laborers from the East are nearly all taken up. This morning some farmers were hiring eight or nine men for a month at a dollar and a quarter per day. All show a determination to rush the harvest faster than ever before.

Some wheat cut west of here was too green and is not drying well, but fortunately the quantity is not large, and the farmers have such a big acreage that they must begin too early to keep anywhere near up with the ripening fields, and so take the risk of shrinkage from some of the fields.

The morning reports to the head office here of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway show that in general the weather yesterday was cool with light southwest winds. Rain fell lightly at Westbourne, at Gladstone heavily for 20 minutes, at Langenburg for an hour and also at Saltcoats.

The wheat harvest begins at Minnedosa to-morrow, is now general at Gladstone, while a few have started cutting at Birtle, Shoal Lake and Binscarth. At Russell, the farthest north station, in a very fine wheat country, some barley was cut on Saturday. No wheat has been cut at Langenburg or Saltcoats.

Live stock shipments over the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway are very heavy, and for the remainder of this month and September two or three heavy trains will leave each week for Montreal and the East.

The view from the top of the elevators here, almost a hundred feet high, is wonderfully beautiful to-day. The expanse of country in the heart of the wheat-raising district of the province spreads over the entire range of vision 12 to 15 miles. An almost continuous golden yellow color sweeps around from the southeastern deep indentations of the wide-spreading Assiniboine River forests to similar indentations of the forests southwestward. This lovely rich waving yellow spreads away east, north and west as far as the edge of the horison, only broken by isolated masses of foliage, showing natural or artificial groves of trees by patches of dark summer fallowing and green fields of vegetables or pasture. The vast plain seems to be all under cultivation and is such a sight as has seldom been seen in ancient or modern times, because of no apparent divisions of fields, the wire fences being blotted among the rank standing grain.

Many fields are dotted with stacks which stand very close together. Self-binders are going everywhere and seem to creep in the distance, but in reality are moving swiftly, for slow-walking horses are not tolerated on binders when all the farmers' issues are at stake. At distances of over two miles even with a powerful glass, the binders are almost invisible when on the opposite side of the fields, only the horses' heads and the revolving arms being in sight. One binder going a distance of four or five miles is entirely invisible to the glass except for the rapid flashes of white sunlight from the newly-painted arms. The top of the grain looks as level as the surface of a great yellow billiard table. A few clouds are in the sky, and it may cloud up to-night, otherwise it will be very cool.

Local reports from over the Northern Pacific Manitoba system show rain at Morris and along the Red River, and that it is cloudy. Elsewhere it is moderately warm with light winds.

A large delegation of the Spring Wheat Millers 'Association of Minneapolis, representing the leading millers and bankers of that city, is visiting this province, extending their trip from Dakota and Minnesota. They were entertained by W. W. Ogilvie, the Canadian Milling King, at Winnipeg, being driven around the city, then banqueted. In their replies to toasts the visitors spoke well of our grain prospects and advancement. Mr. Pillsbury, in a private interview, said the crops were in splendid shape. Mr. Edgar of The Northwestern Miller has increased his estimate since visiting the north. Hon. S. C. Wood is in the province on a visit of inspection from Toronto, to see the grain fields. Mr. A. S. Willison of The Globe party is going around by Melita, up to Brandon and Minnedosa, then eastward.

Mr. Conklin, reeve of Springfield, near Winnipeg, claims to have one field that will yield 60 bushels to the acre. Cutting is general there, some farmers having nearly finished.

New wheat is expected on the market in Brandon inside of three weeks. The opening price there will be a little above 50 cents.

Samples of oats seven feet high come from St. Eustach, on the Northern Pacific Portage branch.

The Minnedosa agent sends to the Manitoba Northwestern Railway head office samples of wheat and oats six feet high.

In Killdonan, near Winnipeg, a crop of oats has been cleared that were so high the grain could easily be tied over a horse's back.

The Manitoba Northwestern Railway expect an increase of 600,000 bushels of wheat this year, or a total of 2,365,000 bushels beside oats and barley on their system.

As usual many farmers will thresh direct from the stock, but a southwestern newspaper reminds them of the loss of four years ago, and recommends them to pay special attention to stacking as there is no other way to save the immense crop this year. This is correct. Our farmers take too much risk of the weather.

A delegation from Austria is touring the province to report for Austrian immigration.

The Salvation Army delegates have gone east. They won't stay in the district which obtained the preference for the Army colony.

Mr. W. Ogilvie, who has just returned from a southwestern tour, is greatly pleased with the outlook, and confirms the report of the Government. About forty per cent. of the crop has been cut here. He estimates twenty-five bushels per acre for the whole of Manitoba and the Northwest. His firm have built 17 elevators this summer, and now have 49 in the West with a capacity of 2,750,000 bushels. He approves most heartily of the action of the Government amending the classification of wheat, prohibiting the mixture of scoured number one hard. He is greatly pleased at the increased fine appearance of the many herds of cattle. Mr. Ogilvie left for Montreal to-day.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Change in the Mail Service.

Considerable complaint has been heard of late from those residing along the Grand Junction, as regards the mail service on that line. A change, however, has been made. The mail car arrived here from Belleville at 8.15 and left again for that city at 8.40. In the future the mail train will arrive at 8.15, the usual time, but the Belleville mail, and mail from intermediate points will not leave until three o'clock in the afternoon, the mail car to be attached to the mixed which leaves at that hour.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING IN THE BAY OF QUINTE.

Walter Brooks, Son of Mr. Thomas Brooks, Rescued From an Upturned Boat Yesterday.

Mrs. Thomas Brooks was hastily summoned to Belleville last evening by a telegram announcing to her the narrow escape of her son, Walter, from drowning.

Walter Brooks has been visiting at the residence of Mr. David Price, Belleville, for some time, and yesterday afternoon he and Mr. Price's fourteen-year-old son Dave went sailing on the Bay of Quinte, much against Mr. Price's wish, who was afraid the boys might meet with an accident. His presentiment proved to be one to which heed should have been given, as during the afternoon the two lads got into the swells of the steamer Ella Ross, and their skiff was upset.

BOTH BOYS CLAMBERED

on the bottom of the upturned boat but the wind getting up caused the waves to run quite high and time and again the lads would be washed from the boat and only clamber back after great difficulty.

After being some two hours in the water young Price was so exhausted that on being washed off the boat for third time he had not sufficient strength to again climb up and slipped back into the bay never to rise again.

Horrified by his young companion's fate Walter it seems clung even closer to the upturned boat and though he slipped off twice, managed each time to once more clamber back to his place.

Just as darkness was setting in the lad was descried from a passing boat and rescued from his perilous position. He had lapsed into unconsciousness before being reached but his stiffened fingers had grasped the boat in such a manner as to miraculously secure his safety when oblivious

TO ALL HIS SURROUNDINGS.

After being taken to land it was hours before consciousness returned to him and he was able to relate the sad fate of his young friend.

Mrs. Brooks was telegraphed for as soon as Walter was rescued and left for Belleville last evening by the 9.05 train. She is still there, as it is understood that Walter has not sufficiently recovered from the awful trial through which he passed to be able to travel.

Mr. David Price is well known in town as one of the most popular hardware travellers on the road, and he will have the sympathies of his many friends in Peterborough with him in his trouble. On leaving home to take a trip yesterday he left word to telegraph to him when the boys arrived home safely from the Bay, but instead he received word of the sorrowful affliction which had overtaken him.

TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Work Said to be Commenced on the Route.

It is said that two or three men commenced work yesterday on the Trent Valley Canal, and that Mr. Geo. Hilliard has been placed in charge of the first gang. It is also said that his force consists of one man 76 years old, one sixty-three, and a boy. It is not known just where they commenced excavating, but the Times says they are cleaning up the route and "grubbing," however, it is understood that pay goes on just the same, and they are sure of their grub while "grubbing." Our morning contemporary also says that gangs of Italians are passing through Peterborough to go to work. It was generally thought that there were a sufficient number of idle men in Peterborough, Lakefield and the surrounding country without importing gangs of Italians from abroad. If this work is to be pushed through and Peterborough is to derive any advantage from the expenditure, then the labourers of Peterborough, town and county, should be employed and foreign labour discouraged. Peterborough should see that all the advantages connected with is work is given to the locality.

How Much is in a Name?

There may be a good name on the label, and a very bad wine in the bottle. Have you not found it so ? And you paid sweetly for the label, too. Are you aware of the fact that splendid wines, sound, wholesome, old, can now be obtained for $3 and $4 per dozen quarts ? Clarets, Burgundies, Sauternes ? Or say, half the price formerly asked. The public will no longer pay these long prices. Good wines are now within the reach of the people. Formerly the classes drank wines. Now the masses will drink the light wines of France, eschewing the more ardent and acid liquors, which are hurtful. Looks like a miracle but it is really very simple,—direct and large importations. CRAIG'S AWKWARD PREDICAMENT.

He is Arrested on a Grave Charge and Will be Tried To-Morrow.

A young lad named Robert Craig is locked up at the Police Station with a very dark-looking charge registered against his name.

Young Craig lives with Mrs. Elliott, whom he assisted with her work in cleaning up the town offices and a number of business houses of the town.

For some time past the firemen who sleep at the Brigade headquarters have been missing sums of money from their pockets in a mysterious manner and never could account for their shortages. Suspicion did not fall upon any one in particular, but a general feeling of mistrust was felt in regard to young Craig.

This morning Mr. Jimmy Gordon wound up the clock in the rooms and noticed fifty-five cents in silver inside it. He mentioned the fact to Mr. Hayes later on, and as Mr. Hayes had recently missed some silver from his pocket he went to the clock, thinking some one had picked the money off the floor and placed it there, but not a cent was to be found in the clock. As the young lad had recently been in the rooms he was soon caught, but on being questioned denied having a cent on his person. On being searched, however, ninety cents was found in his pocket. He accounted for 35 cents of this and said that he had found the other 55 cents on the sideboard in the men's room. This statement, however, was shown to be false as the sideboard had been thoroughly looked over just previously when Mr. Hayes was searching for a bottle of benzine. In the lad's pockets a number of keys were found which fitted the police telephone and also drawers in the police station.

Young Craig will be examined before the magistrate in the morning.

A CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

The Dineen-McDonald Nuptials Celebrated this Morning.

St. Peter's Cathedral was the scene of a very interesting ceremony this morning in the marriage of Miss Lillie Dineen, daughter of Mr. R. Dineen, of the Queen's Hotel, and Mr. J. H. McDonald, contractor, Lake street.

Notwithstanding the early hour (five o'clock) the church was well filled with the relatives and friends of the bride and groom, including a number from Montreal, New York, Port Hope and Havelock.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Scollard. As the bride and groom entered the church the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March pealed forth from the organ, presided over by Miss K. Hurley. The bride looked charming in a costume of ashes of roses shade and carried in her hand a bouquet of roses. Throughout the ceremony she was assisted by Miss Lizzie Flynn, Havelock, who was becomingly attired in seal brown. The groom was assisted by Mr. John Hayes.

After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the Queen's Hotel, where a wedding breakfast was partaken of, and after receiving the congratulations of their many friends, they left on the 7 o'clock G. T.R. express for Rochester, New York and American cities.

The bride was the recipient of a handsome list of presents, among which may be mentioned a cheque for $500 from her uncle, Mr. Wm. Dineen, town, a Heintzman piano from the groom, and some thirty-eight pieces of silver from her many friends.

The happy young couple intend taking up their residence in Peterborough, where their many friends will wish them a happy and joyous wedded life.

THE CLASSICS IN TROUBLE.

Their Baggage is Seized and They are Refused the Guarantee.

The Classics baseball club, of Toronto, is in hard luck. They were not only defeated in their two games yesterday, but they are financially embarassed besides.

The Toronto nine while in town put up at the Huffman House, which was recommended to them by Mr. Martin Connors, the enthusiastic manager of the local nine.

After the games yesterday, the captain of the Classics naturally enough asked the local nine for the guarantee money, which was refused them, as it it is claimed they were promised none.

The Classics felt pretty sore over this treatment and came over to the hotel decidedly in the hole, both from a baseball and financial point of view.

They were unable to pay their board bill, amounting to about $14, and accordingly Mr. Huffman held their baggage.

The Classics have the following agreement written on a post card in their possession :

J. J. Patton, Secretary Classics Baseball Club, 70 Lombard Street :

DEAR SIR.—Yours to hand. In reply would say that we would be willing to play either one or two games on August 19th. We will give you the same terms as we gave the Dauntless, namely ; one half gate receipts for morning game and $12 for afternoon game, or $15 for the afternoon alone. As we only get $20 out of it I think it is a very good offer as your expenses are light.

Answer by first mail or telegraph,

Yours, etc.,
M. CONNORS,
Manager P. B. C.

Peterborough, August 11, 1895.

Mr. Connors stated this morning that he did not write the card or make any arrangements with the Classics whatever. He only directed them to the Huffman House when they arrived, and never promised them a cent.

The question is, who wrote the postal card and who made the arrangements. If any of the local nine sent the postal card an effort should be made to assist the Classics out of the difficulty, and besides free the town ball tossers from blame in the matter.

This afternoon the members of the local nine succeeded in settling the affair, and the proprietor of the Huffman has accordingly allowed them a "home run" with their baggage.

THE TOWN COUNCIL'S SPECIAL MEEETING.

COUNCILLORS BEST AND DAWSON SPAR A LITTLE.

The Latter Accuses Mr. Best of Assuming too Much as Chairman of the Street and Bridge Committee.

On motion of Councillors Dawson and Sproule, the request was granted.

From Geo. Dunsford, stating that the office at No. 392 Water street was now occupied by the Dominion Government and therefore exempt from taxation.

An account of R. Stevenson's of $220 for coal was ordered to be paid, as were those of F. Burnet of $374.96, and the Ontario Sewer Company's of $52.00.

When Councillor Best presented an account from the Ontario Sewer Pipe Co., Councillor Dawson inquired as to what authority Mr. Best had to purchase the tile for which the account was rendered. He stated that no meeting of the Street and Bridge Committee had been called to consider the matter, but that a tile drain had been laid on Lake street on the order of the chairman. He objected to Mr. Best assuming the work of the committee on such an important matter. The first he knew of a drain being even contemplated was when he discovered a gang of men engaged on its construction.

The Mayor called for an explanation from Mr. Best, requesting him to give his authority for the purchase of the tiles.

Councillor Best referred the council to a report of the Street and Bridge Committee

ADOPTED LAST MAY,

in which the committee was authorized to purchase a quantity of scantling and plank, and in which a suggestion was made by the committee that tiles be used instead of plank hereafter for culverts, etc. This suggestion, Mr. Best stated, was his authority for the purchase of the tile, for if the council had not thought the suggestion a wise one, it would have been struck out of the report. In regard to the drain on Lake street, no new work had been undertaken. The old plank drain had become rotten and several delivery horses had broken through into it. He had been warned by the residents along the street that the corporation would be held responsible, and had taken immediate action by relaying the drain to prevent such accident occuring. He thought that his action had been in the public interest, and would have called a committee meeting first, but thought that the relaying of a drain would simply come under the head of and was, therefore, too small a matter to trouble about. If the Council objected to the tile being used, or thought too high a price had been paid, he would foot the bill himself.

Mr. Dawson explained that he did not complain about the price paid at all, or about the tile being used, but did not think the Street and Bridge Committee was being used just right, when they were not consulted when so important a change was made as putting in a tile drain instead of a plank one. He still thought the chairman had overstepped his prerogative in the matter, but in concluding his remarks moved that the account be paid on being certified to by the Street Inspector.

THE LICENSE COMMITTEE

recommended that the request of Wm. McNern to have a butcher's license, which he had purchased, transferred to him be granted, and that of George Rubidge for the refund of a portion of a billiard license fee paid by him be refused.

On motion of the chairman, Councillor Sproule, the report was adopted.

BYLAWS.

Mr. Sproule moved the third reading of a bylaw for the compulsory cleaning of chimneys.

Mr. Mason objected to such a bylaw being passed, as he thought it would be the cause of numbers of the citizens being constantly summoned to the police court. He moved that the bylaw be thrown out.

Mr. Dawson seconded the motion, observing that he was opposed to imposing this mode of taxation on the ratepayers.

Mr. Sproule withdrew his motion for the present, but stated that every city in Canada and the United States had such a bylaw in force, as more fires resulted from uncleaned chimney sthan from any other cause.

On motion of Councillors Best and Denne, the bylaw to make general provision respecting the sewerage of the town was read a third time and passed.

Treasurer McGill, who was present, addressed the council and stated that the Town Trust had about $15,000 coming in next week, and as there were no town debentures to invest in, the commissioners were willing to allow the town to borrow it at 5%, to be used in the current account until some new debentures were issued, when they would be bought in. At present the town, he stated, had overdrawn its account at the bank to the amount of eleven or twelve thousand dollars, and this money could be used instead of that belonging to the bank. The Commissioners he explained, would be thus saved the trouble of looking up an investment for the money until 1897 or 1898, when town debentures would probably be issued.

The councillors expressed themselves as well pleased with the proposition, and the matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

THE BIG SHOW.

The Oldest, Largest and Richest on Earth—Sells Brothers Enormous United Shows.

Of all the shows exhibiting under canvas in America, that of the Sells Brothers is the only one that has not reduced and curtailed its features to meet the loss of business resulting from hard times, but on the contrary has materially augmented them. It is a fact generally known among the members of the circus profession, but studiously concealed from the public, that alleged mammoth tented organizations have without exception cut their shows in two in the middle, and not only that, but have discarded the best and most attractive half.

Quite the opposite is the policy of the Sells Brothers' enormous united shows, which alone has increased its size, has augmented its features, has not cut the salary of a single employee one cent, but maintained triumphant its record. Positively the great out-door field of tented entertainment is now substantially preempted by Sells Brothers' big show of the world. In fact, in the exclusive possession of many rare creatures and noted performers, it holds first place, and its visit to Peterborough on Saturday, August 24th, is surpassingly rich in well-founded promises of elaborate and enjoyable entertainment. Its Three Colossal Circuses, Fifty-Cage Menagerie, Roman Hippodrome Races, Huge Elevated Stages, Australian Aviary, Gladiatorial Combats, Caravan of Trained Animals and Superb Street Parade, contain more than enough strange sights, thrilling races, sensational acts and glowing pageants for a whole carnival week. Nor does mere quantity banish quality from the colossal tents. Such features as Educated Seals and Sea Lions, Rooster Orchestra, Trilby (the Riding Peacock), Giant Kangaroos, the flock of Ostriches and the pair of Giant Hippopotami, are not to be found elsewhere. The race contests are of the most exciting character, the performances phenomenal and the fun epidemic. Make ready for a glorious holiday. Don't miss seeing the grand morning street parade at 10 a.m. on the day of the exhibition. The most brilliant holiday demonstration ever witnessed. Special excursions will be run on all lines of travel.

BASEBALL.

Yesterday afternoon the A.O.F. baseball tournament was concluded on the P. A. A. A. Grounds before a large crowd of spectators. The A.O.F. Juvenile Nine of Peterborough, and the Crawfords, of Toronto, occupied the diamond at 1.30, and a splendid exhibition of baseball was given by the youngsters. The Crawfords could not strictly be called a juvenile nine, when compared with the local club, but they had to fight hard for the victory they gained.

Mr. Frank Pakenham filled the unthankful position of umpire, and he came out of the struggle with all the hair on his head, although there was considerable kicking over his decisions.

The Classics and Peterboroughs next turned out on the green, and Peterborough went in to win. They put up a splendid game in every point on the diamond. The runs were made in quick order, and so fast did the home players run the bases that it was impossible for "Jerry," the umpire, to see them, and he could only give his decisions when the men would slide, and then he could see the smoke rise where they struck fire. The base work of the Peterboroughs was almost faultless, while "Scarlet Runner" Tighe, at short stop, covered himself with glory.

LACROSSE.

A large crowd of spectators assembled at the Driving Park yesterday to witness a match between the Athletics, of town, and the crack Tecumpseth team, of Toronto, but after a very few minutes it became apparent that the visiting team was the weakest which had faced the Athletics this season and inquiry amongst the Torontonians present revealed the fact that it was not the Tecumpseths at all which were facing the Athletics but simply a team raked together at the last moment and sent down to secure the $45 which the Athletics offered for a game with the Tecumpsetha. The home team played rings around the visitors, who had not the faintest conception of combination work. The Athletics took the first two games easily, but not wishing to win four straights at the start and to a game which so many spectators had turned out to see, they allowed the visitors to score one, but although the local defense all scattered out over the field to allow the so-called Tecumpeths to score, it was sometime before they finally got the ball between the flags. The Peterboroughs then went to work and scored the next four goals, winning the match by the score of 6-1.

The teams lined up as follows:

Tecumseths.		Athletics.
Lawson	goal	Wasson
Lewis	point	Turnbull
Toser	cover point	Lynch
Hornibrook	1st defence	J McDonough
Cox	2nd "	Green
Weir	3rd "	McCabe

Hackland	3rd home	Phelan
Dowling	2nd "	Rubidge
Hunter	1st "	Lipsett
Attwell	outside home	Galley
Hewitson	inside "	J McDonough
J W Brent	field capt	P J Doris

Referee—Mr Harry LeBrun.

Dobbin, Borland and Brown, three of the Athletics' strongest men, did not play yesterday, and when the teams lined up the local men thought their absence would greatly weaken the team, but a team of juniors could easily have won from the visitors. The ball was faced at 5.52 o'clock and went down on the Peterborough flags, but Lynch relieved without any trouble, and Phelan made a nice run up the field with the ball. He slipped it to Jack McDonough, who passed to McCabe. A shot was made but was stopped. Phelan again secured the ball and passed to Galley, who scored. Time, two minutes.

Phelan and Galley got in some nice combination work after the ball was again faced, and brought it in on the visitors' flags. Through fast work on the part of Rubidge and McCabe the sphere was worked in past the Tecumpseth defense to Lipsett, who scored. Time, two minutes.

By this time the boys had sized the visitors up, and not wishing to end the game before the crowd arrived, amused themselves by making a show of the Tecumpseths and passing the ball around the field, much to the amusement of the local enthusiasts. Hackland finally scored for the visitors. Time 7 minutes.

Phelan secured the ball almost at the start and through the Tecumpseth defense scored for Peterborough in less than a minute.

The next game was the longest of all as the visitors put their best men on the defense, and in fact clustered their whole team around their flags. Finally a little pretty combination work in front of their goal drew a few of them out and Jack McDonough was able to pass the ball to Lipsett, who scored. Time 12 minutes.

The ball was rushed straight on the Tecumpseth's flags from the face off in the next game and a most laughable incident occured. Galley had the sphere on his stick and was about to pass it across to another player when his foot slipped and he shot another goal for the Athletics. Time one minute.

The Tecumpseth's rallied around their flags after the ball was faced off for the seventh game, in a desperate attempt to prevent the Athletics from scoring four straight games on them. Lawson, in goal, was decidedly the best man the visitors had with them and he stopped some terrific shots in this game, but Tom McDonough finally ran in and put a hot one through thus terminating the match, which resulted in a score of six to one in favour of the Athletics.

NOTES.

Ernie Wasson played a great game between the flags, yesterday.

Lynch showed up well in the game, his long throws down the field and his great coolness being much admired. Lynch should always play with the senior team.

Green made his first appearance on the Senior team and did splendidly.

Lipsett didn't miss a catch yesterday and is playing as fast a game as any man on the team. Rubidge was in splendid form, too, and played his usual fast game.

There were few mistakes indeed made yesterday and all the members of the team played so fast a game that it would be hard indeed to pick out the stars.

Turnbull was very sure on the defense and McCabe, Tom McDonough and Phelan made a great trio in centre field.

The Juniors' Match.

The Juniors were billed to meet the second Elms, of Toronto, but were surprised in a different way from the seniors, as they recognized many of the senior players on the team. The game, however, was a good one and was far more exciting than that played earlier in the afternoon. The teams were composed as follows:

II Athletics.		II Elms.
Wasson	goal	Harvey
Joe McDonough	point	Shoemaker
Lynch	cover point	Soules
Green	1st defense	Creelman
Craig	2nd "	Wardrobe
Thompson	3rd "	Waghorn
Crossley	centre	Lennox
Glover	3rd home	Kylie
Guy	2nd home	White
Galley	1st home	Hallett
L Dobbin	outside home	Smith
J McCabe	inside home	Poole
Flaherty	field captain	J Lee

The game was very fast from the start and the spectators, who had all been sitting down around the field, were soon up on their feet and cheering wildly, as a rapid succession of good plays were made. The visitors made a great effort to score, but McDonough's and Lynch's great work on the defence saved a goal. The ball, however, came back again and a great shot was made on the Peterborough flags. Wasson, however, was there, and made a stop which earned him a cheer. Up and down the field the ball travelled, the Juniors putting up a splendid game at every point. In thirteen minutes Galley scored the first game for Peterborough, after a great run up the field.

Things went the Elms way in the next game, and the ball was kept right on the Peterborough flags. Wardrobe, for the visitors, finally made a shot and bounded out again, but the referee decided that a game had been scored by the Elms.

This made the score even and the contest waxed warm, telling greatly on the juniors, who had replaced the absent seniors in the first match. Finally a shot was made on the Elms' flags, which the local men claimed scored, but the referee was not looking in the right direction at the time and was unable to say whether it had gone between the flags or not. In four minutes more Toronto scored again.

In the next game Galley and his check exchanged some hot words, and while some of the players were paying attention to them instead of to the game, Peterborough scored again, but Mr. LeBrun decided that he could not allow the goal, as there was a disturbance on the field at the time. Another goal was finally scored by the visitors, and they were awarded the match by the score of 3 goals to 1.

The Elms are a fine lot of young fellows, and play a very fast game, but the juniors think that if they had not been playing in the hardest kind of luck they would have come out on top yesterday, and they are very anxious for another game.

Buffalo Dropped Thousands.

Buffalo, Aug. 17.—To-day's trotting races were declared off on account of the heavy track, and the 2500 who were at the gates were told that they might get their money back if they desired to go, or stay and see the Fitzsimmons exhibition. All but about 300 remained. Fitzsimmons boxed four rounds, punched the bag, and made two horseshoes in 15 minutes, with two prominent turf men. He said this was his last exhibition before his fight with Corbett. He will go into training at Surf Haven. Fitzsimmons is in prime condition, looking much better than Corbett did yesterday. The Buffalo Park Association lost $12,000 to $15,000 on this meeting.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion, have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation
originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.
WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. FENWICK, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. WEF[illegible] Olympia St., New Orleans, La.

BEEF TEA STARVATION.

No Truth in the Popular Belief in Its Nourishing Qualities.

"Modern Medicine" for March combats the delusion that beef tea is nourishing, and we herewith reproduce some selections made from their article on the subject:

"The late Dr. Austin Flint remarked on one occasion that thousands of patients have been starved to death while being fed on animal broths, beef tea, etc. No error could be greater than the notion very commonly held by the laity, and still quite too largely entertained by the members of the medical profession, that beef extracts, beef tea, bouillon, animal broths, etc., are peculiarly nourishing in character. We can adduce no better evidence to the contrary than is afforded by the following paragraphs from 'Bunge's Physiological and Pathological Chemistry,' one of our best and most reliable authorities:

"'We must guard against supposing that meat bouillon possesses a strengthening and nourishing influence. In regard to this the most delusive notions are entertained, not only by the general public, but also by medical men.

"'Until quite recently the opinion was held that bouillon contained the most nutritive part of meat. There was a confused idea that a minute quantity of material—a plateful of bouillon can be made from a teaspoonful of meat extract—could yield an effectual source of nourishment, that the extractives of meat were synonymous with concentrated food.

"'Let us inquire what substances could render bouillon nutritious. The only article of food which meat yields to boiling water is gelatin. It is well known that albumen is coagulated in boiling, the gaicogen of meat is rapidly converted into sugar, and this again into lactic acid. The quantity of gelatin is, moreover, very small; for a watery solution which contains only one per cent. of gelatin coagulates on cooling. Such coagulation may occur in very strong soups and gravies, but never in bouillon.

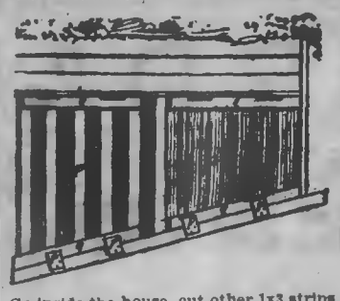
"'Bouillon, therefore, contains much less than one per cent. of gelatin. In preparing extract of meat, the quantity of gelatin is reduced as much as possible, because it is in a high degree liable to putrefactive changes, and therefore likely to interfere with the preservation of the preparation. The other constituents of bouillon are decomposition products of foodstuffs—products of the oxidations and decompositions which take place in the animal organism. They cannot be regarded as nutritious, because they are no longer capable of yielding any kinetic energy, or at most such a small amount that it is of no importance whatever.

"'Nevertheless, until the most recent times, creatin and creatinin, which are among the chief constituents of meat extract, were regarded as the source of energy in muscle. This assertion was shown to be untrue by the researches of Meissner and of Noit, who proved conclusively that creatin and creatinin are excreted in the urine twenty-four hours after their absorption, without loss. A material which is neither oxidised nor decomposed cannot form a source of energy, apart from the fact that the quantity of creatin and creatinin which is absorbed in bouillon is so small that it could not possibly be seriously regarded as the source of muscular energy.'"

A USEFUL HENHOUSE.

It is Made to Do Duty Winter as Well as Summer, and is Cheap and Simple.

Here is a device for converting a summer henhouse into a winter one, and vice versa, which I have in use on my farm, which is simple, cheap and effective. The house is built in the usual way, the walls consisting largely of 1x3 vertical strips 2 inches apart. The device is for closing or opening these 2-inch cracks at pleasure. It is applied to an end wall, for example, as follows:



Go inside the house, cut other 1x3 strips of proper length, set them up against and coinciding with the corresponding strips of the wall, the top end of each being cut to correspond with the slope of roof, and lacking about 1 inch of reaching the rafter to which the wall strips are nailed. Fasten 8 or 10 of these strips securely into a frame or sash (see cut), by nailing the battens bb along their ends at top and bottom. Then nail on the cleats aa at top and bottom to hold the sash in place. The strips of the sash now coinciding with those of the wall, the 2-inch cracks between them are open, but by sliding the sash to the left 2 1-2 inches the cracks are closed. The sash c in cut is slid back or closed, d is open. The cracks may thus be opened or closed, entirely or partially, at pleasure, by sliding the sash back or forth.—American Agriculturist.

Few Survivors.

The recurrence of the anniversary of Waterloo has led to a diligent search in France for French veterans of that great combat. Only three survive, of whom Victor Baillot is the eldest. He was born at Caresey in 1793, and was caught in the last of Napoleon's conscriptions. Baillot was taken prisoner at Waterloo, after receiving a saber slash on the helmet which felled him to the ground, but did not wound him. His chief recollection of the battle is that the growing wheat impeded the progress of the French army and cavalry was sent to trample it down. This, Baillot thinks, was a great pity, for it was wanton destruction.

"The word "God" does not occur in the book of Esther, but there is wisdom, knowledge, holiness and love in every chapter of the entire work.

Don't Neglect the Teeth.

A dentist whose practice has been for many years largely among persons who would commonly be called "of a refined and cultured class," finds the neglect of cleanliness of the mouth among children of such persons most astonishing. "These children are being trained in all the arts and sciences," he says, "yet in one school where there were 700 pupils, 500 of them from 10 to 18 years of age, only fifty cleaned their teeth twice a day, 275 used a brush sometimes, and 175 did not own a toothbrush. In the primary department, where there were 200 children from 6 to 10 years of age, it was found that not more than ten were provided with toothbrushes." Further inquiry and investigation showed that this school was not an exception in the matter. Dr. Ritter of Berlin found that of 637 persons, 400 of whom were under 15 years of age, only forty-one, or a trifle more than 5 per cent. had perfectly sound teeth. How a child will suffer from mortification in after years if the parents have neglected this most important matter!

It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE

The Great Health Restorer of the Century.

Sickness Cannot Cope With It—Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record—Cures at the Nerve Centers, and Thus Cures Permanently—A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility—Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but by scientific methods he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health, only when the nerve centers are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centers. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centers, from which comes these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and then builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centers are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

AN AFTERNOON AT PRETTY IDYL-WYLD.

THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE WHEN SEPTEMBER COMES.

A Dolce Far Niente Domicile and Ideal Summer Resting Place—Beautiful Idyl-Wyld.

DEAR EXAMINER,—Being, for a recuperative reason domiciled in delightfully pretty little Keene for a few days, I was fortunate enough last Saturday to enjoy my most pleasant experience of the unstinted hospitality of the dwellers in this charming little Arcadia, by forming one of a rowing party to Idyl-Wyld.

Our point of embarkation was the quaint bridge that spans the Indian River at the foot of the precipitous street, that forms the chief commercial artery of the village. This bridge is a rural Rialto, and looks like a huge spout without a cover, the usual railing being developed into a solid wooden wall on either side about ten feet high. Passing by a floating wooden aquarium in which a local frog merchant garners his batrachians, we are afloat on the river, which is walled in on both sides by pale green palisades of the wild rice—an unusually abundant crop this year. This stream is as crooked as a bucket shop keeper, its general course resembling the line of a string thrown at random on the ground. About midway to the is "the Devil's Elbow," a sharp curve which our practised oarsman "takes" with the ease of a ward politician.

Passing the bold wooded shores of Sugar Island, we sweep across the lake, southwestward to Idyl Wyld, whose graceful trees from a distance seem to be quivering out of the water. The monotony of the seven-mile pull is agreeably broken by casting the trowling spoon and hauling in a ten-pound lunge, whose muscular protests against capture are speedily subdued by the convenient club, an indispensible article of the rigging of a Rice Lake skiff or canoe.

BEAUTIFUL IDYL WYLD

is an ideal summer resting place. It is both an island and a peninsula. It is a charming shoulder of liberally timbered land sliced off from the bluff mainland of Northumberland. In the freshets of spring it is surrounded by water, but in late summer at its eastern point a little isthmus of sand bar forms a precarious pathway to the main shore, making a broad deep bay on the south eastern side, while the opposite stretch of shore and the south-western front face the point-pierced and island-dotted bosom of Rice Lake. The view from the verandah of the hotel takes in a sweeping semi-circle of quiet, yet enchantingly beautiful

SYLVAN AND AQUATIC SCENERY.

South-west, about two miles distant as the crow flies—but three miles by the steamer channel—lies Harwood, the terminus of the spur of the Grand Trunk from Cobourg. Harwood is the chief base of supplies for the hotel at Idyl-Wyld, and every afternoon the supply steamer "Outlet Queen" runs over to Harwood for the mail and whatever supplies are required. The hotel guests almost invariably accompany the steamer on these trips, for it is kept for their convenience, and they are given the free use of it, not only on these daily trips, but for frequent excursions to different points on the lake and up the river. From the wharf at Harwood stretches northerly the embankment and the line of piers—at least the stone filling, for the timber has been carried away for fuel—of the old Cobourg and Peterborough railway bridge. The line crossed Tick Island, now occupied by Butternut Lodge, a summer residence, and passed over to the Hiawatha shore.

Beyond, and about in line with Harwood, the roofs of Gore's Landing

ENTER THE FIELD OF VISION, and to the right we see Sheep Island and that pretty little sample of ghostly nomenclature, Spook Island. Beyond these we see, but only by the eye of faith and geographical knowledge, that other fine summer resort, Jubilee Point, at the mouth of the Otonabee. Next, the eye rests with peculiar pleasure upon Hiawatha and its beautiful adjacent shores. This is the site of the Indian Reserve, over which Chief Paudash (in local vernacular chemically transformed into "potash") whose father recently passed over to

THE "HAPPY HUNTING GROUNDS"—

gave his name to Paudash Point, the next place of interest that meets the eye. Then comes Gove's or Muskrat Island, Roach's Point, Rainy Point Island, Sugar Island, the largest of the group, the sentinel that guards the entrance to the river and beyond, Foley's precipitous point, where a boiling spring heaves up the sand and the sparkling clear cold water from the heart of the hills, trickles through the shingle to join the water of the lake.

All of these points have a fine background of hills, whose indented crests are crowned with stately timber, the lakeward slopes here and there golden with ripened grain, and over all the mellow pre-autumnal haze hangs like the lingering remnants of dissolving cloud.

IDYL WYLD AS A SUMMER HOME

with all its delightful environments, has a peculiar charm of its own. Rare is the day when the western wind, brisk and bracing, does not blow across the lake and steal beneath the boughs of the thrifty oaks, whose glossy leafage shades the smooth sward which is nearly always available for use. The soil of loamy sand drinks up the rain at once, and an hour after a shower the sweet-smelling freshness is the only evidence that clouds have emptied themselves upon Idyl-Wyld.

The place is essentially

A RESTFUL SUMMER HOME.

The guests come to enjoy themselves, and do enjoy thorough relaxation from the irksome monotony, pent-up stuffiness and wearying bustle of city and town life. Here they find all the elements of change, unbounded expanse of blue sky reflecting the smiles of laughing and limpid waters—airs opulent of ozone, thrusting themselves heavy with the resinous fragrance caught from upon receptive lungs, bathing, boating, lounging in cool shades, dreaming on wind-rocked hammocks over unread books, and basking in the brooding stillness, unbroken except by the distant cry of the loon or the guttural croak of the crane.

And the guests enjoy it all. "Style" and fashion, with their petty tyranny, are held at arm's length. Ladies dress in the simplest manner, affecting cool chambrays, plebeian print, and feather-weight chip hats.

The table d'hote is well supplied with a menu as varied and appetising as that of a town hotel, but above all is the assiduous attention received from the obliging who seems to be studying only the comfort and enjoyment of his guests. He has reduced the faculty of being obliging and unobtrusively attentive to a fine art and that explains why the guest capacity of the hotel has been taxed to its utmost the whole season. To meet the demand for increased accomodation for next season it is proposed this fall to erect several cottages to be occupied by guests who will take their meals at the dining hall of the present hotel building, thus placing the attractions of Idyl Wyld upon even a more home-like basis than at present.

Among the conveniences of this resort is the little steamer before mentioned. After an excellent dinner on Saturday and a pipe in the refreshing shade of the verandah, Mr. Manager Spellman invited our party to take a sail on the "Outlet Queen" on her daily trip to Harwood for mail and supplies. On the return big black banks of clouds in the west, and a spiteful snarl of freshening wind, whereupon Mr. Spellman volunteered to take our party and skiffs to the mouth of the river, an offer which was gladly, and as events proved wisely, accepted; for just as we reached Keene and shelter, the storm broke, and a drenching gale came down in torrents. But for Mr. Spellman's thoughtful kindness our party, composed partially of ladies, would have been exposed to four or five hours of pitiless storm. It is no surprise that guests and residents in the vicinity are loud in their praises of Mr. Spellman's obliging disposition and practical courtesy.

INDICATED A STORM;

With the end of August, and the opening of the schools, the ladies and children generally return home. But Idyl Wyld is not idle. The first of September the juicy wild duck is legitimate prey for the sportsman. The whole of Rice Lake and the river are alive with duck, especially the robust black duck, the blue bill and the whistle wing. As early as last Friday, large flocks of black ducks were soaring about the river and dropping amongst the beds of rice which, as before remarked, was never known to be so plentiful a crop. Among the favourite shooting grounds are the bays on either side of Roach's Point, north-east of Idyl Wyld,—McGuire's and Keene Bays, the river and Foley's point and a score of points. This year the first falls on Sunday and as the Sabbath observance as well as the game laws are as strictly enforced, it is likely that the ducks will be safe from slaughter at the opening of the season. But it is more or less certain that on Sunday night scores, armed with well cleaned fowling pieces and baskets of decoys, will bivouac on some favourite spot, staying awake or sleeping in their canoes ready for the first whirr of a duck's wing at the break of the first day of September.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men to-day who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a silver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

GOOD SHOOTING AT MIMICO BUTTS

The Gilmour, Gibson and the Canada Company Matches Were Shot Off Yesterday—Major Macdonald Captures First Money in Two of the Matches.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 21.—The Ontario Rifle Association opened yesterday at the Rifle Range with a very large attendance of competitors from all over the Province, even British Columbia and Quebec being represented. The weather was fine until about 5 o'clock, saving a rather light wind, when clouds gathered and a very stiff shower kept up until darkness set in. Altogether there were about 230 participants in attendance, all of whom, with the exception of the city corps, camped out. "Tom" Hayhurst, the hero of Bisley, was there and was the centre of a curious crowd.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

New York, Aug. 20.—The first of the appointed trial races to decide whether the Defender or Vigilant shall be selected to defend the America's Cup, which was sailed to-day, resulted in a disappointment all around. The Defender, after outsailing her rival, decisively, over the first round, and continuing to increase her lead for several miles on the second, suddenly withdrew from the race and stood off for a run back to her anchorage. This was due apparently to a disinclination to risk the sloop further in the strong and steadily-increasing breeze which had blown up since the race started. Mr. Iselin and the others on the Defender would not admit that a mishap had occurred, and there were no indications of any. This made the Britishers who were watching the contest with eagerness all the more jubilant, as it looked very much like a backdown, and they believe the Valkyrie can stand nearly any kind of weather. After the Defender's retreat the Vigilant kept sturdily on her course, beating up into a 40-mile wind and pounding through a rolling and tumbling sea, when, after she had split her new Herreshoff jib, she set another in a few minutes, and continued sticking to her work. When she had completed about three-quarters of the second windward beat, she was recalled by the judges, who assured Mr. Willard that the race was ended and the Vigilant was the winner. The unprecedented result was afforded of an important race and a $2000 cup being won in a contest in which neither of the contestants went over the course or finished.

In the first 10-mile beat to windward Defender gained 6 minutes 38 seconds on the Vigilant. She lost 1 minute 33 seconds of this advantage on the run back, but this was due largely to slowness in getting her spinnaker, and left her with a gain of exactly 5 minutes in the 20 miles.

Davidson Wins at Yarmouth

Halifax, Aug. 20.—In the races of the Victoria Cycle Club at Yarmouth to-day, Harley Davidson of Toronto won the mile handicap from scratch in 2.25 1-2. Laidlaw of Halifax (75 yds.) was second. Davidson had a special sanction for taking part in this race. Davidson went a mile with pacemakers in 2.18.

St. George's Union.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 21.—This afternoon the first meeting was held of the sixteenth session of the North American St. George's Union, a central organization of St. George's Societies. Delegates were in attendance from Washington, Philadelphia, Oswego, Auburn Toronto, Hamilton and several other points.

SOO CANAL OPENING.

It is Expected To Take Place By Sept. 1st.

LITTLE NOW REMAINS TO BE DONE

Dr. Dawson to Inspect the Athabasca Oil Fields—The Reports of Cattle Disease in Nova Scotia Proved To Be Unfounded.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 21.—Sheriff Hannon of Rochester, N.Y., was here to-day to consult with the Government in regard to the extradition of one Sculthorp, who is wanted in that city for embezzlement. Sir Adolphe Caron referred the sheriff to the Deputy Minister of Justice, who informed the officer from Rochester that the fugitive, being now a prisoner at Port Hope, it would be necessary to have him there committed for extradition. The sheriff was promised that when Sculthorp had been duly committed the Department would facilitate the further proceedings necessary for his extradition.

Mr. Haggart, seen to-day by your correspondent, emphasized the official contradiction recently given to stories about there being any trouble at the Sault which would likely prevent the opening of the canal this season. The Minister said that so soon as a few boulders in the channel had been removed the canal would be immediately opened for navigation. He added that the contractors for this work, Allan & Fleming, were now at Sault Ste. Marie, and had undertaken to have the obstacles removed without delay. The necessary plant for this work will be engaged from a contractor on the American side. Mr. Haggart fully expects to have the canal open by the 1st of September. Upon the occasion of his recent visit to the Soo he made thorough investigation of the works, and found the gates and valves operated with extreme facility by the electric machinery. As an indication of the adaptability of this mechanism the Minister mentioned that the lock which is 900 feet long, 80 feet wide and 23 feet deep was emptied in the short space of four minutes.

Dr. Dawson, director of the geological survey, left to-day for Athabasca Landing, in the Northwest, to inspect the progress recently made in boring for oil in that district. It appears that the story of discovery of a flowing well was at least premature, inasmuch as oil has not yet been struck in paying quantities. At last reports the indications were, however, of a most hopeful nature. The director on Saturday returned from a trip to the Kingston district, where he installed Mr. Ingall in the work of investigating the iron ore deposits around Calabogie Lake.

In reference to the statements cabled to the Old Country from Canada to the effect that cattle were dying by scores in Nova Scotia, it was learned at the Department of Agriculture yesterday that Prof. McEachren, chief veterinary inspector, has just returned from an official inspection tour in that province, and he emphatically denies that there is any unusual disease among the cattle there. The trouble known as "Pictou cattle disease," which was quite local in character, is almost if not altogether extirpated and the few tuberculosis cases found were not more numerous than in any other country in which cattle are kept.

Mr. Cleveland, M.P., was in the city to-day on departmental business. In reply to an equiry as to what was new politically in the Eastern Townships, Mr. Cleveland replied that they were not bothering about politics down there just now. "We have a grand crop this year," he said, "which makes us all happy."

The Separate School Board met tonight and talked over the Ontario commissioners' sweeping condemnation of the Christian Brothers' teaching methods in the Ottawa schools. The trustees apprehend some trouble in getting rid of the brothers in the French schools, as they have an agreement with the board which has over a year to run. The matter will be talked over with the brothers' superior before anything is done.

Forty-Five Houses Burned.

Salt Lake City, Aug. 21.—At Bingham, 20 miles south of Salt Lake, 45 houses and business places were destroyed by fire. Loss $200,000.

Millions Lost By Bush Fires.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 21.—The forest fires are still raging fiercely in several parts of the State, and if not quenched soon will result in the loss of millions of dollars.

Seven Years For Stealing $33 000.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—Thomas M. Grady, former cashier of the First National Bank of Marietta, Pa., was to-day found guilty in the United States District Court of embezzling the funds of the institution and making false entries in the bank's books. Judge Butter sentenced him to seven years' imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary and imposed a fine of $100 and costs. The embezzlement amounted to over $300,000, but Grady's bondsmen made good a portion of the shortage, and the ex-cashier and family also made restitution as far as was in their power. The net loss to the bank was thus reduced to about $10,000.

International Co Operative Congress.

London, Aug. 21.—The International Co-operative Congress passed a resolution advocating greater activity in the establishment of co-operative workshops. In the course of the debate on the resolutions the Rev. Mr. Lorimer of Boston declared that philanthropy had been overdone, while justice had not been sufficiently done. America, he said, was not as far advanced as England, Belgium and France, but in time co-operation would take even deeper root in the United States than in the Old World.

NOXIOUS WEED.

A bulletin issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the subject of eradicating weeds says, as annual seeds thrive best in soil that has been broken but is not occupied, it is evident that broken land should not be permitted to remain idle. Abundant crops of annual weed seeds are matured every fall on potato and corn land, and in stubble fields, where a profitable crop of crimson clover or winter wheat or rye must have been grown. A little grass seed raked in on bare hillsides will often keep down annual weeds, and will, at the same time, prevent washing. Mowing the roadside two or three times during the summer will subdue the dog fennel and rag weed. Mowing the stubble about two weeks after harvest in grain fields that have been seeded to grass or clover will check the annual weeds, and, at the same time, produce a mulch that is very beneficial to the seeding during the August drought.

Biennials, such as burdock, wild carrot and bull thistle, store up nourishment in thickened roots during the first year of growth, and during the second year they produce seed and die. Many species which are ordinary true biennials will live three years or possibly longer if seed production is prevented by mowing or cutting the stem above the crown of the root. In fact, mowing or cutting off the main stem often induces it to branch out at the base, and send up several stalks in the place of the one. Cutting the roots below the crown usually kills them. If this work is to be done by hand with a hoe, grub hoe or spud, as is often the case with bull thistles on new ground, it can be done most effectively and with least labor in the fall, during the first year of growth. The stools or rosettes of leaves, close to the ground, often give little suggestion of the prominent seed stalk to be grown the following year, but they are sufficient to indicate to the observing eye the presence of weeds. The root at this time is more tender, and hence more easily cut than in the mature plant, and one does not have to strike so deep to be sure of killing it. In sod ground a spud may be used to much better advantage than a hoe for cutting thickened roots below the surface.

Perennial weeds reproduce themselves by seeds, and also propagate by some form of perennial underground stem, as the rootstocks of Canadian thistles and couch grass, the corm or solid bulb of the nut grass and chufa, and the bulb of the wild onion. A few plants, sometimes classed as noxious weeds, have runners above ground as Bermuda grass and cinquefoil. To destroy perennial weeds, seed production must be prevented, and the underground portion must be killed. Seed production may be prevented by mowing when the first flower buds appear, the same as in the case of annuals or biennials.

The Ottawa Free Press says: "The Peterborough Review announces that work is to be commenced upon the Lakefield-Peterborough division of the Trent Valley Canal at once, and that "clearing the line, grubbing, etc." will be initiated. It adds that "just exactly how the work will be followed up will develop as the work proceeds." Of course. It has done this for some time past. The "development" will be slow until the elections render its further progress needless, and then it will stop altogether."

To be fined $3.00 and costs for "throwing a kiss," whatever that may be, is a novelty in law procedure. But it has just been witnessed in Toronto. Actually kissing against a woman's will is, of course, an assault, rarely prosecuted, but the lawyers ought, in this case, to have raised grave doubts as to whether the kiss "hit" the objecting lady; whether a kiss has any real existence apart from actual and personal communication, and witnesses should have been required to testify to the actual passage of this obnoxious kiss. An American lawyer once got his client, charged with shooting a dog, scot free by arguing that though the gun was seen pointed at the dog, and the flash and report and the death of the dog followed, yet no one could swear to having seen the bullet actually enter the body of the unlucky canine. This kiss does not seem to have been fully investigated.

HINTS ON HOG BREEDING AND FEEDING.

The following remarks of Mr. F. E. Barnes, addressed to the farmers of Leinster and Munster, from "The Grocer," London, England, apply with equal force to Canadian hogs, and will be read with interest by our Canadian farmers: "It is necessary to point out the profitable character of breeding and feeding hogs, especially while feeding staffs are low in value, as at present, but more so if the requirements of the London trade are met. Ireland will then not lose the pre-eminence she has held, and which is likely to be wrested from her by Denmark, unless steps are taken to keep her abreast of the times. To show you the immense strides that your opponents have made, statistics state that in 1862 Denmark exported to Great Britain only 4250 bales of bacon, while in 1892 this quantity had increased to 433,760 bales, Danish bacon being now more popular than Irish in many districts of England. Breeding: What Ireland should attend to. The hog that is most valuable for bacon purposes is of the white Yorkshire breed, and farmers for breeding purposes should select sows that are long in the barrel, with small fore-arm or shoulder that are good feeders, and those which grow the largest on the same food. They should not be used for breeding purposes until they are at least six months old, and you should never part with a sow that has proved a good mother, or dispose of a boar that has produced good stock, on account of age, appearance, or form. Remember, those hogs are most appreciated that can be turned into bacon which will give long narrow sides, full of lean, with good thick bellies, small shoulder, and with fat on the back not more than one and a-half inches in thickness at most. Irish sides, as a rule, are too broad, and the shoulder too heavy. Feeding: The best food for hogs is barley, rye, wheat, and peas, as grain food; besides this you should give boiled potatoes, skimmed milk, butter-milk, or whey. Hogs fed on Indian corn or maize, especially if no butter-milk is given, make soft, oily pork. All grain should be ground or soaked over night and mixed with other foods and given to the hogs when on the point of turning sour. Mixed foods always give best results. Turnips, raw, cut small, are excellent if mixed with grain. Hogs will grow much faster if kept perfectly clean. The farmer may ascertain the result of feeding as to profit from the following calculations:—440 lbs. of grain will make 100 lbs. live hog; 1 lb. of grain is equal to 4 lbs. boiled potatoes, 6 lbs. skimmed milk or butter-milk, 8 lbs. turnips (cut small), or 12 lbs. whey. The hog should be marketed when weighing 180 to 220 lbs. live weight, or 140 to 170 lbs. dead weight. It will pay the farmer the best to market when the hog has arrived at this stage. It will suit the trade the best who demand sides weighing from 50 to 62 lbs. each. Therefore, for such hogs the merchant can always pay the highest price. If these points are attended to Irish bacon will be the most popular bacon on the market, and the merchant on that account will be able to give a high price for the pig; and there can be no reason, with a fine dairying country like Ireland, that she should not continue, despite all competition, to hold the pre-eminence in the rearing of hogs and the manufacture of bacon."

Jumped to His Death at Niagara.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 19.—Joseph Booth, barber at the Clifton House deliberately committed suicide by jumping over the falls this afternoon. "I'll show you what it takes nerve to do," he said to a companion, and immediately waded out in the river and jumped.

The Montreal Express Derailed.

Utica, N.Y., Aug. 19.—The Montreal express was derailed about a mile north of Nehasane about 4.30. No one was killed, and no one injured except by receiving slight scratches from broken window glass. The accident occurred where a small stream is spanned by a trestle about 25 feet long. The foundation of the trestle sank under it. The train had a baggage car, three coaches and three sleepers. All left the track except the rear sleeper.

Three Killed, Thirty Injured in a Crush.

London, Aug. 19.—A despatch from Naples says that at a political meeting in that city last night the throng of people that crowded the stairway leading to the hall was so great that the balusters gave way and many persons were pushed from the stairs and fell to the floor below. Three persons were killed outright and fully 30 more were injured.

Skull Broken With a Baseball Bat.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 19.—Johnnie Howson, a 10-year-old son of Manager Howson of the Walkerville Brewery, may die from injuries received by being struck on the head by a baseball bat, Saturday. The Walkerville Baseball Club and the Shamrock Club of Detroit were playing, and John was watching the game, when a player named Henley threw his bat, which struck the boy and broke his skull.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

FROST IN MANITOBA.

But Not Enough to Do the Slightest Damage.

GARDEN PLANTS ARE UNHARMED.

Some Damage By Frost is Reported From Edmonton—Railroads Opening New Stations and Increasing Their Staff—Cutting Now General Along the C.P.R.

Portage la Prairie, Aug. 20.—Slight hoar frost visited some parts of the province last night, but the general impression is that it did no damage whatever, as it was not severe enough Reports from along the Manitoba & Northwestern Railway show two and three degrees of frost at Shoal Lake, Birtle, Binscarth, Langenburg and Rapid City. There is no visible damage, and the temperature was not sufficiently low to damage the grain.

Three degrees of frost is recorded at Brandon.

At Carberry a gentleman put out a pan of water six inches from the ground; at 3 o'clock in the morning there was no sign of frost; at 5 a slight scum of ice had formed. He threw the water on a few boards, where it thickened like frost.

At Sidney a contractor rose at 4 and had to put on a fire. An hour later he found some white hoar frost on boards outside his house.

No black killing frost is reported from any place.

A farmer north of Portage found a scum of ice on a trough in a hollow with a northern exposure, but none on his other troughs. Other farmers, from 15 miles nearer in, to-day rose at 4 and 5 and searched for signs of frost, but found none. Tender plants such as tomatoes were not injured on the farm where the ice scum was found. It is not thought that this first frost would cross the Assiniboine River.

This is the plain truth, and don't let eastern newspapers magnify it: There is absolutely no damage that can be learned of on the closest enquiry. There is no danger of frost to-night. The weather is warmer and inclined to cloudiness with warm southern breezes. The minimum temperature last night at Portage was 35 degrees. Only a killing frost is general here, a slight frost like last night comes in little patches or currents across the country. In former years when damage was actually done one of two fields might escape entirely, even the field visited by frost was likely to have only wavy patches across it as if there were frost-like currents in the air. But partial damage is always a good hold for some grain men to bear prices by.

Reports from along the Manitoba and Northwestern show that the harvest started to-day. At Shoal Lake and Birtle it will be general in three days. Farmers are cutting oats and barley at Rapid City and Russell. No cutting is yet done at Strathclair and Saltcoats, these being more distinctively ranching districts.

Mr. Morton, member for Gladstone, is here and says the crops there are very heavy with an acreage somewhat larger than last year. This is a district which is almost entirely free from frost any year, but was visited two years ago by a hailstorm earlier in the season. The crop this year is pretty safe.

A private report from Dominion City shows harvesting is over a full week ahead of most of the province. The crops there are nearly all safe now and very large.

Mr. Harcourt of the Globe Savings Company, has gone over the Northwestern to-day. He has just come from the west and confirms the report of some lightness of crops west of Brandon, north of Alexander. He found some smut at De. psey Station, east of the Pipestone district, and a farmer there admitted the existence of a small proportion in the wheat. It may be the result of this spring's frost when the crops were just appearing above ground. Mr. Harcourt visited all parts of the Portage plains and finds the district around High Bluff the most advanced where the greatest cutting has been done.

The territory around Deloraine, which is inclined to dryness some years, has plenty of rain this year. Outside of partiality to dryness this is a fine district, sloping up in places to gentle ridges, where the view is so great the traveler imagines he can see 50 miles of country to the south.

Around Melita is a fertile district, which has built up a solid town, largely of stone. Here was a celebrated farm at one time, which was somewhat of an advertising affair, but like other big farms in the Northwest is now all broken up as it didn't pay. There are still several large farms around, and results have been excellent in at least half of the cases. As the Souris River passes Melita its low and wooded banks get higher westward, and the land is drier and is not so fitted for grain toward Estevan, except in the Valley of the Souris, which is very deep and fertile. Northward from Melita the Pipestone country has attracted settlers fast, so that a branch of railway has been constructed west from Souris. The crops here are all above the average. Around Souris is one of the finest wheat districts of the Province.

Professor Fletcher, the Dominion botanist, has found the tumbling mustard weed scattered over the country around Bell farm at Indian Head. This has cost the Experimental Farm there more to fight than all other noxious weeds. The Brassey farm has plowed down one thousand five hundred acres because of it. The Bell farm has taken steps toeradicate it, fifty acres close to the Experimental Farm being badly infested.

Superintendent Whyte of the C.P.R. has returned from the west after making arrangements in the mountains for train crews to handle the wheat crop. The managemenet is not to be caught napping. He thinks the shipments of new wheat will commence about the first of September.

Harvesting is general along the C.P.R.

Mr. Minnick of Rosser district, west of Winnipeg, was threshing barley last Friday.

The C.P.R. reports show light frosts at Napinka and Souris last night.

Manitoba Northwestern Railway is reopening its two stations east of Minnedosa on account of the crop, also increasing its staff all along the line.

Frank Leslie's Weekly. The Northwestern Agriculturist and the Swedish paper of Minneapolis have special representatives writing up Manitoba.

The big new sorting elevator of the Northern Elevator Co. at Winnipeg is being rushed to completion.

At Neepawa are two large farms (Dempsey's) which have 900 acres of crops all showing fine.

A Port Colborne man has a thousand acres of wheat and says he will be able to retire and return to Ontario this fall.

One Gretna farmer asks a Winnipeg dealer for quotations on six thousand bushels of his wheat.

Implement dealers report a big demand for separators and engines.

The Government report estimates the flax crop at twenty-two bushels to the acre.

A reliable gentleman from Edmonton reports some damage by frost there a week ago.

The Free Press advises Manitoba farmers to go in for more diversified farming and points out the example of Minnesota abandoning the oen-crop principle.

THE DANGER POINT PASSED.

Vice-President Shaughnessy of the C.P.R. Speaks of His Western Tour.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Vice-President Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific arrived here to-day from St. Paul, Minn., and other points in the west. "The crops are the chief topic of conversation wherever one goes and whoever we meet," was Mr. Shaughnessy's greeting. Continuing, the vice-president said he had gone over a good deal of territory tributary to the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault St. Marie, the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic and other lines and he had never seen the general outlook so promising. People out there are looking for an enormous grain business this fall and as this tends to a revival of trade generally the result can easily be imagined.

"But what are they saying as to our own crop?" the vice-president was asked.

"As to the Canadian Northwest we have certainly a tremendous crop not only of wheat, but other grains as well."

"Is there any danger from frosts?"

"No, I think not, those with whom I talked and the people best able to judge of the matter are of the opinion that the danger stage has been passed and that this year's crop will suffer little or nothing from frosts."

Advices from North Bay say that 1565 me collected from all parts of Ontario left that place to-day for Manitoba and the Northwest. Mr. C. W. Spencer told the correspondent this evening that all of these would find ready employment and still there would be room for more.

SPEAKER OR PATRON LEADER.

Hon. W. D. Balfour Had His Choice, So Says Patron Leader Haycock in a Speech at Amherstburg.

Amherstburg, Ont., Aug. 21.—The Patrons of Anderdon Township held a very successful picnic yesterday. The principal attractions of a few were the speech of Mr. Haycock, M.L.A., the leader of the Patrons. He explained the vote of the Patrons in the House on the motion of Dr. Willoughby, and offered as an excuse for not always voting together that they were all new members and did not understand the politic tactics of the two parties. He also said he was sorry the Hon. W. D. Balfour was elected to the Speakership, for if he had not been they (Patrons) would have had him for their leader. He paid the hon. gentleman many other compliments. He said many unpleasant things about the two great political parties, abusing the policy of one as much as the other. He charged the Reformers with changing their policy four times in 16 years, and said it was useless for any party to attempt to talk free trade without coupling direct taxation with it. Among the other speakers were Hon. W. D. Balfour; Clapp, the Patron candidate of South Essex for the Dominion; N. A. Coste, Reeve of Malden; M. Cowan, Reform candidate for South Essex, and Wintermute, the defeated Patron candidate in North Essex last election for the Legislature.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

How to Reach the Public.

Printer's Ink, of New York, says:—"On the board fences in the vicinity of nearly every country town may be read in half obliterated letters of paint the names of the business firms of that community, now passed away, who thought they knew a better way to advertise than in the newspapers." The paper to advertise in is a paper that is made bright so that people read it. Advertising is like a bellows; it makes the fire of trade burn with greater vigour.

Obituary.

The death of Mrs. M. J. Neithercut, of Queen street, occurred at an early hour Tuesday morning. The deceased was 58 years of age, and was the relict of the late John Neithercut. She was born in Smith township, but spent the greater portion of her life in Otonabee and Peterborough. Her maiden name was Mary Jane Johnston, being a sister of George Johnston, of Smith, and Robert, of Manitoba. The children who survive the care of a devoted mother are: R. J., of Wawanesa, Manitoba; John, of Smith's Falls; Mrs. R. Stewart, of Fraserville; Mrs. Springer, of Cleveland, and Miss Rea, of the local Post Office Department. The funeral will take lace on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock.

How Much is in a Name?

There may be a good name on the label, and a very bad wine in the bottle. Have you not found it so? And you paid sweetly for the label, too. Are you aware of the fact that splendid wines, sound, wholesome, old, can now be obtained for $3 and $4 per dozen quarts? Clarets, Burgundies, Sauternes? Or say, half the price formerly asked. The public will no longer pay these long prices. Good wines are now within the reach of the people. Formerly the classes drank wines. Now the masses will drink the light wines of France, eschewing the more ardent and acid liquors, which are hurtful. Looks like a miracle but it is really very simple,—direct and large importations. Address, Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

The Condition of George Street.

The big town roller was put on George street to-day in an endeavour to crush the broken stone into some semblance to a decent roadway. It was thought that the recent rain would have sufficiently softened the roadway beneath to allow the stone to be forced down into the earth, but such did not prove to be the case, and the street is but little improved. The only remedy appears to be to strew a coating of fine gravel or sand over the broken stone and so form some kind of a bed in which it may eventually pack. The uneven surface has forced carriages off the street, and the merchants are loud in their condemnation of the Streets and Bridge Committee for allowing such a roadway to be laid down. The sand is being deposited on the stone this afternoon.

The Crop Reports.

The Ontario crop reports, published on Saturday last, upon the whole show a very favorable condition of affairs with respect to the grain crops, but as regards fruit a very different story is told. Indeed, the Bureau reports that it has never received a more discouraging return. Apples have been a great failure. The bulk of correspondents report none at all, or a dozen or two on a tree. A number hazard the opinion that half a bushel or possibly a bushel might be the average, while occasional correspondents have a generous yield to report. The best returns come from near the lakes. Plums are a poor crop, and so are peaches. Cherries did not look as well as usual, but the trees are not so badly troubled with black knot as in former years. Grapes, which were almost entirely cut off by the May frosts, put forth a second bud, and about half a crop is expected. Raspberries did well in the Niagara and Hamilton sections, but strawberries suffered from frost and drouth.

FULLER PARTICULARS OF YOUNG BROOKS' ESCAPE.

He Saved Price's Life Once but was Unable to Reach Him when the Boy was again Washed Off the Boat.

Mrs. Thos. Brooks returned from Belleville last evening with her son Walter, who had such a narrow escape from drowning on the Bay of Quinte on Monday. He states that it had been previously arranged that he, Price and another lad would spend Monday at fishing. The parents of the third boy prevailed upon him not to go out, as the wind was blowing rather hard and the prospects were that it would not go down. The two former, decided to go, and about ten o'clock procured a row boat and proceeded down the bay to Massassaga Park. Here they partook of dinner but they did not fish, as the wind was blowing too hard. Between two and three o'clock they left the point with the intention of rowing up to the city. When about two miles from Massassaga Park, while in the middle of the bay, a sudden squall arose and their frail boat commenced to take in considerable water, but they kept on rowing until the boat contained such a quantity of water as to seriously

IMPEDE THEIR PROGRESS.

As the boat was well filled with water it was suggested by one of them that they turn it over, and endeavour to hang upon the bottom of it until assistance should arrive. They called lustily for help but there appeared to be no one in the immediate vicinity. Whilst seated on the bottom of the boat the steamer Ella Ross passed down the bay, but was some distance north of where the boys were and did not notice that they were in distress. In a few moments after the swells from the boat were upon them and the force of them washed Price off. He rose immediately and Brooks having an oar in his hand held it out to Price, who grasped it and was in this manner assisted back upon the boat.

A second swell, much larger than the first, struck the craft and both of the boys were precipitated into the water. Brooks brought himself to the surface by treading water and again snatching up an oar waited to rescue Price, but his young friend had sunk to rise no more. Realizing this Brooks at once took his bearings so as to be able to locate the spot, if his own life was spared, to inform those who should search for the body. Then seeing his own helpless condition with no one in sight, he kicked off one of the oars which were still in the oarlocks and attempted to paddle. Failing in this he tied his handkerchief to the oar and raised it as a signal of distress, while

CLINGING TO THE BOAT.

In the meantime the boat was drifting down the bay towards the Park with its living freight upon it. When opposite the summer residence of Mr. Wm. Hamilton, west of the Park hotel, Brooks' distress was seen by Mr. R. H. Gordon, who called the attention of others to his perilous position. He, in company with Mr. J. McDonald, secured a row-boat and the two went out and succeeded in rescuing the lad.

He was in a precarious condition, having been over two hours drifting about. He was thoroughly soaked and was cold and benumbed, being scarcely able to speak. He was assisted to Mr. Hamilton's cottage, and Miss Edwards, a trained nurse, was there, who attended to his present necessities.

The news was communicated to Mr. Price's family, and their feelings can only be imagined. Mr. Price was in Madoc at the time, but a telegram was immediately sent to him informing him of the sad affair. He drove home later in the night. This morning a large number of persons went down the bay to the vicinity of where the accident occurred for the purpose of recovering the body if possible.

Up to the hour of going to press the body had not been recovered, although a number of persons were out in the vicinity as located by Brooks. Mr. Price has offered a reward of $50 for the recovery of the remains.

Walter is suffering from exhaustion caused by his long exposure in the water, but his condition is much improved to-day and his entire recovery is fully assured. Both he and Mrs. Brooks desire to publicly express their gratitude for the kindness shown by the Hamilton family, Miss Edwards, Mr. R. H. Gordon, Mr. J. McDonald, and others.

OUR SHARPSHOOTERS.

T. J. Ritchie Wins the Canada Company Match at Long Branch.

The annual matches of the Ontario Rifle Association opened most auspiciously yesterday morning at the Long Branch Rifle Ranges, a very large number of crack riflemen from all parts of the province being present to compete for the prizes. The entries for yesterday's events numbered 367, the largest on record, 41 different regiments being represented. The shooting for the day, taken altogether, was not quite up to the average for the same events last year, but this was no doubt owing to the heavy rain which came on about 4 o'clock.

Private T. J. Ritchie of the 57th, covered himself with glory by winning the Canada Company match, being eight dollars and a silver medal, presented by the Canada Company, London, Eng., restricted to the members of the active militia of Ontario, who have never won a prize in any former year at any Provincial, Dominion or National Rifle Association match, not including consolation matches; ranges 200 and 400 yards; number of rounds at each each range, 5; highest possible score, 50. Private Ritchie scored 45 points.

The Gilmour match, named after the late Lieut.-Col. Allan Gilmour, of Ottawa, ex-President of the Association. Range, 500 yards; number of rounds, 7; highest possible score, 35; open to members only; 500 yards. In this match Sergt. F. Bartlett scored 30 points and Pte. Geo. Fitzgerald 29 out of a possible 35. The former won $5.00 and the latter $4.00.

GOUGH-O'BRIEN NUPTIALS.

An Early Morning Wedding in St. Mary's Church, Lindsay.

One of the most interesting events that has taken place in Lindsay for some time occurred Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church. The event was the marriage of Mr. B. J. Gough, of Messrs. Gough Bros., Lindsay, to Miss Annie O'Brien, one of Lindsay's most estimable young ladies, daughter of Mr. John O'Brien, of the south ward, a well-known and respected citizen. Notwithstanding the early hour of the morning the church was thronged with the many friends of the contracting parties. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Gus. Gough, of Peterborough, and the bride, who being neatly attired in a brown silk dress, was assisted by Miss M. Morrow, of Peterborough. The beautiful marriage ceremony of the Catholic church was performed by Vicar-General Laurent, and a grand high mass was celebrated in honour of the occasion. After the ceremony, the guests were conveyed in carriages to the residence of the bride's father, where the wedding breakfast was partaken of and congratulations were freely indulged in. The happy couple were then conveyed to the 9:30 train for the west, where a goodly assembly of citizens were on hand to wish them all happiness. The train departed amidst showers of rice and old boots, which if there is any luck in such tokens Mr. and Mrs. Gough's life will be brimful of happiness. The following is a partial list of the guests:—Miss Dousley, Toronto; Miss Fitzpatrick, Ops; John Kane, Orillia; Alexander Gough, Peterborough; Mrs. T. J. Day, Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, Stratford; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gough, Belleville; Master Alex. Gough, Miss Madge Day, Miss Josephine Walsh, Mr. Richard Gough, Mr. and Mrs. B. Morrow, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hurley, town. The bride was the recipient of many costly and very handsome presents, as well as several cheques representing a very considerable amount.

The wedding trip will include a visit to Erie, Pa., and down the picturesque Hudson river. THE EXAMINER extends most hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Gough, and trust they may have a long and happy wedded life.

NEW PIANO WAREROOMS AT NO. 372 WATER STREET.

The R. S. Williams Company Open an Agency in Peterborough.

The R. S. Williams Piano Company has opened a branch wareroom of their great establishment at No. 372 Water street, Peterborough, where they have at present on exhibition one beautiful baby Grand, three cabinet Grands, one upright Grand and six other uprights.

All these pianos are finished in a manner with which the greatest critic could find no fault. They are faultless in tone and the action used in their manufacture has no superiors. The Peterborough public has never had an opportunity before of having so magnificent an array of samples to examine and should be quick to take advantage of the occasion to choose from so perfect a selection of instruments.

Messrs. J. J. Callahan and Geo. E. Dies are in charge of the warerooms and are only too pleased to have an opportunity of proving that the tone of these instruments, for which they are the agents, are beyond compare. Anyone desirious of seeing these pianos should not fail to call at No. 372 Water street.

Since opening up the warerooms, some three weeks ago, the agents have been successful in disposing of instruments to some of the acknowledged musical critics of the town and country and by the ready sale with which their pianos are meeting, they have been encouraged to establish themselves permanently in town and will hereafter be found at No. 372 Water street, at all hours during the day.

We would like to call attention to our All Woo Dress Goods which we are letting go at "clear-up" prices. But we particularly want to find buyers for the above 4 specials while there is an ample wearing time ahead. You'll have to be a very poor economist to resist buying now.

THE WHEEL.

The subjoined letter has been received in reference to the big meet at the Driving Park, on Friday, August 30th:—"We shall enter our entire team for your races and will also send them on the Canadian loop. We feel very kindly towards the clubs in Canada and are anxious to do all we can to help you out. In addition to our regular team we will send one or more tandem teams, and if they can be of any use to you in the way of pace-making we shall be only too glad to have you use them without charge. We shall also be glad to have some of our boys go for records at Peterborough if the day is good, as we understand your track is first-class in every way. Yours very truly (signed), Morgan and Wright." Their team is as follows:—Arthur Gardiner, C. R. Coulter, Otto Zeigler, Monte Scott, W. DeCardy, E. E. Anderson, W. Bainbridge, H. NanHerik, J. Lund. The above list comprises some of the most prominent class B riders of the United States. Lovers of cycle racing can depend on Morgan and Wright's guarantee of these riders being present.

FOOTBALL IN NORWOOD.

The Brooklin football team visited Norwood on Wednesday of last week and played an interesting match with the home kickers. As the teams are the champions of their respective districts there was a goodly number of spectators. The play throughout was exciting. The teams were very evenly matched, neither side gaining much advantage over the other. The home players did more shooting on goal than their opponents, but they did not score. Time was called after an hour's play, no goals having been scored. The Norwood boys are anxious for another meeting with the Brooklinites. Following are the teams:

Norwood.		Brooklin.
T Wigmore	goal	C Morrison

"ROSENEATH'S WATERLOO."—Westwood and Roseneath football teams played rather an interesting game of football at Birdsall's Point, Rice Lake, last Saturday afternoon. The score was 2—0 in favour of Westwood. In the first part of the game Westwood had to play against a regular gale of wind, then the rain began to fall slightly at first, but soon in a torrent, however, the game went on till time was called. Westwood is naturally pleased over the victory as Roseneath is a strong team and this is the first defeat this season. This is the way the teams lined up:

Westwood.		Roseneath.

J Breckenridge	backs	B Thacker

CRICKET.

In a match played recently between Gloucestershire and Middlesex, at Clifton, W. G. Grace completed 2,000 runs for this season. As there still remains nearly six weeks to the close of this year's cricket season he will have quite a number of opportunities left to materially increase that figure.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men to-day who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a sliver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless.

SIX DROWNED AT BUFFALO.

A Pleasure Yacht With Sixteen Aboard Upset--Ten Who Could Swim Were Saved

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 20.—The small pleasure steam yacht Rung Brothers, owned by Burley Bros. of this city, with 13 passengers and a crew of three, foundered early this evening between the inner Government lighthouse and the Reading coal trestle, and six of the passengers were drowned. Their names were: Albert Stafford, Frank Cannon, Frank Rugan, Jacob Bauman, Henry Shingler and Charles Fisher. All of the occupants of the boat were employes of the New York Central stockyards at East Buffalo, and had formed part of a picnic party who went down the Niagara River this morning for a day's outing. After passing the best part of the day at various Grand Island resorts, the yacht was headed up the river for home.

Four passengers were landed at the foot of Ferry-street, and the captain made his course for the foot of Genesee-street, the point of starting. In doing so he was compelled to cross the lower end of Lake Erie in a spot not protected by the breakwater. A high wind had been blowing all day, and there was a big sea on. Caught in the trough of the waves, when near the Reading coal trestle, off the foot of Georgia-street, the yacht careened to one side, filled rapidly, and went down almost instantly. Some of the party could swim, and they were picked up by one of the harbor tugs that was passing. Up to a late hour tonight no trace of the bodies of the missing ones could be found.

TWO BROTHERS DROWNED.

Double Fatality the Finale of a "Good Time."

London, Ont., Aug. 20.—Sunday evening three young men named Warwick, living at No. 44 Miles-street, rented a row boat and went down towards the hotel near Springbank, where they had a "good time." Shortly after starting for home John Warwick fell out of the boat, and his brother, Richard, jumped in after him.

"I don't know what became of them," said the third man, "Trusty" Warwick. "We had been having a good time and I immediately fell asleep."

He managed to get back to the city without troubling himself with what had become of his companions, believing they would eventually turn up all right. Search was made along the river all day yesterday. No trace was found until this forenoon, when the body of Richard Warwick was found near Springbank. Search is being continued for the body of his brother, John, who has undoubtedly met with the same fate.

Three Drowned Each Other.

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 20.—A ghastly discovery was made yesterday at Highland Lake. The bodies of Charles Paetriw, William Pilgrim and a man named Phillips were found in the lake. The men went out rowing a day or two ago, and as a number of wounds were upon the faces of each of the bodies, it is thought that the men while engaged in a fight capsized the boat and were drowned.

Mdlle Cheese Between Violent Deaths.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 21.—W. McCreary, superintendent of bridges for the Northern Pacific Railway, reports the death near Couer D'Alene of four carpenters while engaged in extinguishing a fire on a burning bridge. The flames cut off their retreat and eventually all four had to jump into a chasm 135 feet deep and were dashed to pieces.

An Unfortunate Family.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 21.—The death of E. F. McClosky in the Gumery Hotel disaster in Denver, is the latest of a most remarkable series of disasters in one family. A year ago last winter one of the sons of Mr. McClosky was drowned while skating here. The following fourth of July another son was crippled for life by an explosion of fireworks in Kansas City. Later another son was shot and seriously wounded in Cripple Creek. A few weeks ago Mrs. McClosky was burned to death, and a daughter was frightfully wounded.

Six Killed. Ten Injured.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 21.—Furnace H. of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, Carnegie's plant, at Bessemer, near Braddock, Pa., exploded this morning, killing six men, and badly burning 10 others, none of those employed about the furnace escaping. Some of the injured have been brought to this city for treatment, and the dead are at the undertaker's establishment.

WILL BE NO GRAIN BLOCKADE.

The C.P.R. Can Handle All the Wheat Manitoba Has to Ship

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Your correspondent interviewed Mr. George Olds today regarding The Winnipeg Nor-'Wester's article entitled "A Grain Blockade," which insinuated that the Canadian Pacific would not be equal to the task which the present magnificent crop imposes upon the company.

"This alleged grain blockade crops up every year," began the General Traffic Manager of the C.P.R., and he proceeded to read the following from the article in question: "All this should be shipped by the end of May and it will not begin moving in any quantity before Oct. 1." "The premises are altogether false," continued Mr. Olds, "Why should it be stated that all this wheat should be shipped by the end of May when it is a fact that nearly two million bushels of last year's crop are in Manitoba to-day? There is also another fact. The Ogilvie Milling Company have half a million bushels of 1894 wheat in the province and they do not want it brought down until Oct., thus showing that the gentleman who wrote the article in the Nor'Wester knew very little of the subject he felt called upon to treat."

"Then you have little doubt as to the ability of your company to move this year's crop all right?"

"It is only," replied Mr. Olds, "a question of cars and power, and I may say that the company is making what it considers ample provision for the requirements of the traffic."

Continuing, Mr. Olds said: "This time last year we had no less than 3000 box cars scattered over foreign roads with which we are doing business. Yet, this year, the number of cars belonging to the Canadian Pacific on foreign roads will not reach one-third of that number."

"This, of course, will render your position much stronger."

"Yes, and you can repeat that we will be able to land at the lake front all the wheat the people of Manitoba will have to ship."

There was another feature of the case which suggested itself to Mr. Olds' mind. He, in fact, did not think that the farmers of the west would be in too much of a hurry in getting rid of their wheat. Of course, they will sell a quantity at first, but as soon as their immediate wants are provided for the General Traffic Manager was of the opinion that a good deal of the crop would be held for higher prices. Be this as it may, the Canadian Pacific will be equal to the occasion, and there are certainly no grounds to fear a grain blockade in the Prairie Province.

GENERAL MATTHEWS WOUNDED

In a Fight With the Rebellious Tribes Around Mombassa.

London, Aug. 20.—A despatch from Zanzibar to The Times says that the British expedition under the command of Admiral Rawson and General Matthews, which was sent to punish the revolting tribes around Mombassa, stormed the native stronghold, Mivele, near Mombassa, on Saturday last. During the fight General Matthews and six others of the British force were wounded. The expedition numbered 400 men and is composed of British sailors, Soudanese and Askiris. It carries with it a seven-pounder and two Maxim rapid-firing guns.

Co-Operative Congress.

London, Aug. 19.—The International Co-Operative Congress was opened in the hall of the Society of Arts today. Earl Gray presided. Andremont, president of the People's Bank of Belgium, are vice-chairman of the Congress.

AN EXCEPTIONAL SALE.

St. John is much Interested in the Recent Medical Discovery.

St. John. N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion, have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments
Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.
$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation
originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.
It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.
It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.
Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. FENWICK, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. WEP[illegible] Palymnia St., New Orleans, La.

Ayer's Pills cure Sick Headache.

GOOD LAUNDRY HINTS.

In summer time clothes may be washed without any fire by soaking over night in soft, soapy water, rubbing out in the morning, soaping the dirty places and laying them in the hot sunshine. By the time the last are spread out to bleach, the first may be taken up, and washed out and rinsed. This, of course, requires a clean lawn.

Wash gray and brown linens in cold water, with a little black pepper in it, and they will not fade. For washing other goods that fade, use crude or household ammonia instead of soap. Soiled neckties may be made to look like new by taking one-half a teaspoonful of ammonia to a teacup of water. Wash well, and, if very much soiled, put through a second water, with less ammonia. Lay the necktie on a clean, white cloth and gently wipe with another till dry.

To wash colored muslin use warm, not hot, suds, made with soft water and best white soap. Do not soak the muslin, and wash only one thing at a time. Change the suds as soon as it looks dingy, and put the garments at once into fresh suds. Rinse first in clear water, and then in water slightly blued. Squeeze quite dry, but do not wring the goods. Hang in a shady place where the sunshine will not strike it, as that fades all colors.

For lawns and organdies which are delicately colored, boil wheat bran, about two quarts to a dress, in soft water for half an hour, let it cool, strain the liquor and use it instead of soap suds. It removes dirt like soap, keeps the color, and the clothes only need rinsing in one water, and even starching is unnecessary. Suds and rinsing water for colored articles should be used as cold as possible.

Wash silk handkerchiefs by laying them on a smooth board and rubbing with the palm of the hand. Use either borax or white castile soap to make the suds; rinse in clear water, shake till nearly dry, fold evenly, lay between boards, put a weight on them. No ironing is required. Silk ribbons may be treated in the same manner.

To clean black lace wipe off all dust carefully with a cambric handkerchief. Then pin out on a board, inserting a pin in each projecting point of the lace. Sponge it all over with lager beer or cold tea, and do not remove the pins until perfectly dry. It will look quite fresh and new.—Recorder.

Value of "Good Morning."

"Your servants are always so civil," remarked one woman to another. "Have you any especial training methods that engraft such courtesy into their manners?"

"Not especially," was the answer, "but maybe you can find a keynote to their good temper in the fact that I always select as a commencement to each day a cheery 'good morning.'

"Somehow it seems to oil up the wheels of domestic machinery, and the work of the day glides along in a smooth manner that is entirely lacking if by chance I omit this before-breakfast courtesy. From cook in the kitchen to the boy who carries my market basket the 'good morning' tonic is magical in effect.

"In Southern households I know the first greeting of the day comes from the domestics, but when one must cope with the ignorance as well as indifference of foreigners about one's household, it is better to take the initiative in acts of politeness, and let them learn by example."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Apron for the Garden.

Many a dainty demoiselle who has spent the winter weeks in a constant [illegible] of social functions elects to [illegible] one of her leisure summer hours in "grubbing" in the garden. This brings back the roses lost from lack of sleep during the party season, and gives the fair gardener the elexir of health and strength unobtainable from either sugar-coated pills or allopathic messes.

GARDEN APRON.

The pretty apron pictured in the accompanying sketch serves a double purpose in the garden; it protects the wearer from soil and adds a delightfully piquant touch to the gown with which it is worn. Figured cambric, with a draped silk sash and sundry saucy ribbon bows, provides the measure of daintiness required in the personal belongings of the fin de siecle maiden.

Chat About Women.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward received $5,000 for the English rights of "The Story of Bessie Costrell." The Critic figures it out that altogether she will receive $15,000 for the story, or about 60 cents a word. And it is not a great story, either.

Mrs. Scott, the widow of Judge Lucien Scott of Leavenworth, Kan., manages her own ranch in Texas, where she owns 260,000 acres of land all fenced in, over which 6,000 or 7,000 cattle are browsing.

"Lady Lytton, widow of the author of "Lucille," has been appointed Lady in Waiting to Queen Victoria.

Ten Timber Creek (Neb.) farmers visited the farm of a widow named Foutz and plowed 40 acres of corn for her.

Overplayed Himself.

For the fourth time in one evening the third assistant guard of the harem had beaten his royal master at chess.

"I envy your skill," said the potentate.

"I flatter myself there are no flies on me," replied the underling.

"Yes. I envy you. I really wish I had your head."

And the thing was done.—Life.

For Feeding Calves.

A trough fastened into a pen is not desirable for feeding calves, as it cannot be as thoroughly scalded out as it should be. Moreover, pouring milk into any receptacle in a pen in which there is a calf is hazardous business, the operation usually resulting in spilled milk. An arrangement with a feeding pail is shown in the illustration. The back board is hinged to the front of the pen on the side marked a. The pail can thus be set into the holder on the outside of the pen and the holder swung a quarter of the way round and hooked, thus bringing the pail inside the pen. When removed, a button keeps the calf from getting his head out through the opening. Such a contrivance can easily be made by anyone handy with tools, and will be found a considerable saving of time as well as feed.

Alterations.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

PLATFORM OF PRINCIPLES.

The Board of Trustees of the United Society announced the platform of principles of which the following, taken from the Endeavour Herald, is an abbreviation:

First and foremost,—Personal devotion to our divine Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ.

Second,—The convenant obligation embodied in the prayer meeting pledge, without which there can be no true society of Christian Endeavour.

Third,—Constant religious training for all kinds of service involved in all the various committees.

Fourth,—Strenuous loyalty to the local church and denomination with which each society is connected.

Fifth,—We reaffirm our increasing confidence in the interdenominational spiritual fellowship through which we hope, not for organic unity, but to fulfill the Lord's prayer that they all may be one. This fellowship already extends to all evangelical denominations and we should greatly deplore any movement that would interrupt or imperil it.

Sixth,—Christian Endeavour stands always and everywhere for Christian citizenship. It is forever opposed to the saloon, the gambling den, the brothel and every like iniquity. It stands for temperance, for law, for order, for Sabbath keeping, for a pure political atmosphere, in a word for righteousness.

Seventh.—That all moneys gathered by various societies of Christian Endeavour, for the cause of missions be always sent to the missionary boards of the special denomination to which the particular society belongs.

Eighth.—Christian Endeavour has for its ultimate aim a purpose no less wide and lofty than the bringing of the world to Christ. Hence it is an organization intensely evangelical and missionary in its spirit, and desires to do all it may under the direction of the churches and missionary boards for missionary extension the world over.

These objects it seeks to accomplish, while it remembers that it is an influence rather than an institution; that its united societies and its state, provincial and local unions have no legislative functions; that they can levy no taxes and control no local society, which is always and only under the control of its own church. The duties of these unions are limited to matters of information, inspiration and fellowship.

MINNIE WILLIAMS TURNS UP.

One of Holmes' Alleged Victims Denies That She is Murdered.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—W. A. Shoemaker, counsel for Holmes, received a message to-day from "Minnie R. Williams," dated Providence, R.I., which stated that the sender was alive and well. This is one of the women whom Holmes is accused of having murdered in the Chicago "castle." When questioned in relation to the matter, Mr. Shoemaker at first seemed reluctant to discuss it, but finally admitted that he had received such a dispatch. "We have contended all along," said he, "that Minnie Williams was alive. We will have no difficulty in producing her at the proper time."

"Do you think the telegram is genuine?"

"It may or may not be. My opinion, however, is that it was sent by Minnie Williams. Holmes told me this afternoon that he supposed the girl had just arrived from London, and perhaps was induced to send the message by some of his friends."

"It is more than likely that Minnie Williams sent the message from Providence, and then hurriedly left the town. She always had a particular fondness for Boston, and has many friends in that city. She may have been on her way there when she telegraphed me."

The telegram reads: "Providence, R.I., Aug. 19—W. A. Shoemaker, Attorney, Philadelphia: Report that I was murdered absurd. Am alive and well. (Signed) Minnie R. Williams."

When the message was shown to Holmes, he said: I knew my story that I did not kill the girl would be confirmed. I am sorry, however, that she has made herself so public by telegraphing. She might as well have written."

Then Holmes reiterated the statement he has made so often that the last time he saw Minnie Williams was when he left her at Toronto with the Pitezel children. The prisoner thinks that Minnie Williams is the best friend he has, and feels assured that the telegram was sent by her for the purpose of showing loyalty to him.

The genuineness of the telegram was investigated by Mr. Shoemaker.

Assistant District-Attorney Barlow would not say whether he thought the telegram was genuine or false. He admitted, however, he would not be astonished if Minnie Williams should appear on the scene at any time.

Holmes' Castle Was Set on Fire.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—In the Holmes building in Englewood, Marshall Kenyon found a can half-filled with gasoline underneath the secret stairway on the second floor, and he is convinced that the fire was of incendiary origin.

Church Treasurer Embezzles $1700.

Philadelphia, Aug. 21.—After having been for many years treasurer of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Annunciation, George W. Terry was yesterday committed to prison in default of $1000 bail, charged with embezzling the funds of the church. An examination of the books has revealed a shortage aggregating over $1700.

DALY'S ELECTION IN VOID.

$15,000 Spent By Britain in Relieving Distress in Newfoundland.

London, Aug. 21.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. Jos. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, announced that the financial commission had expended £15,000, the amount to be paid under guarantees which depend upon the success of the fishing season.

Hon. George J. Goschen, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced that as regards merchant steamers earning subventions as armed cruisers stationed in the North Pacific and elsewhere, the Government intended to enable those of their crews who were royal naval reserve men to re-enroll and receive retaining fees on board, without reporting themselves in the United Kingdom as heretofore.

The Attorney-General moved that, as John Daly, recently elected to Parliament for Limerick, was a convict, serving a term of imprisonment for felony, his election be cancelled. Mr. Timothy Harington, Parnellite, moved an amendment, referring the case to a committee. The Attorney-General's motion was carried, 251 to 86.

The minority vote on the Attorney-General's motion relative to John Daly was composed almost exclusively of Irish members.

Mr. James W. Lowther, Conservative, has been appointed Deputy Speaker and Chairman of Committee of the House of Commons. Mr. Lowther, by marriage, is a nephew of Lord Salisbury.

Have you seen the latest stylish kind of Photographs Sproule is taking now?

"Yes, I've had some taken, and I think they're just lovely," so natural, with such exquisite tone and finish to them. He calls them the PLATINO process."

"I know—I had several specimens from England, but did not know Mr. Sproule had introduced them here. He seems to keep in touch with the best artists, don't he? My husband and I sit for PLATINOS to-morrow. You shall have one."

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are usetul as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

Webb of Waterford Retires.

London, Aug. 21.—Alfred Webb, the anti-Parnellite who was elected to represent the west division of Waterford in the House of Commons, has accepted the Chiltern Hundreds. The cause of his retirement is that he is not satisfied with the action of the anti-Parnellite party in electing three Healeyites to membership of the sessional committee, and he complains that the committee does not resent sufficiently the baseless attacks that have been made on Edward Blake, John Dillon and Justin McCarthy.

BRITAIN AND NICARAGUA CANAL.

St. James' Gazette Declares That This Waterway May Cause a Crisis.

London, Aug. 22.—The St. James' Gazette, in a leading editorial, asks the question: "How does Great Britain stand with the United States in regard to the Nicaraguan Canal?"

Pursuing the subject, the paper adds: "It would be well for George Curzon, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, to put the question in the House of Commons and obtain a clear answer. As far as can be seen we are heading straight for a crisis, and there will be either a diplomatic deadlock between the two countries or an English surrender of important treaty rights."

Minnie Williams' Telegram a Hoax.

Providence, Aug. 21.—The members of the Providence detective force are inclined to regard the telegram sent from Providence by "Minnie R. Williams" as a joke. They have no knowledge that any such person has ever been in Providence. The original message is in the possession of the W.U. Telegraph Company, and as the company refuses to allow it out of their hands the handwriting cannot be compared with that of the girl.

Brutal Murder By an Indian Up the Gatineau

REPORTED TO HULL AUTHORITIES.

Salvation Army Colonization Delegates Not to Receive Special Favors Mishap to a Lighthouse Supply Boat—Bombshell Out in Montreal En Route to Bremen.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 22.—The Salvation Army delegates who have been in the Northwest selecting lands for colonisation purposes are expected to reach Ottawa on Friday to consult the Acting Deputy Minister of the Interior as to plans of settlement. The delegates visited several available districts in the Territories, but appear more particularly pleased with the Alberta country. The Dominion Government is not offering the Army any special inducements in regard to this scheme. It is not the intention to depart from the established policy of making grants to individual settlers only. The Army people who come out will each get one 160-acre homestead free, the same as other immigrants.

The Department of Marine has received a despatch from Inspector Harty of the lighthouse service, announcing a causalty to the chartered steamer Lake Michigan, employed in supplying the lighthouse stations. The despatch is from Donley Island and dated 17th of August. Inspector Harty reports that the steamer arrived there after having supplied the lighthouses along the river and lake shores all the way from Montreal. On the morning of the 16th, coming out from French River, into Georgian Bay, the steamer grounded on an unknown shoal. A steamer from Collingwood endeavored to tow the Lake Michigan into deep water, but without effect. Finally, the captain jettisoned about 120 tons of the steamer's cargo of coal. This had the desired effect of lightening the vessel, and she was floated off without further trouble; having been 24 hours in peril. The shoal is a dangerous one.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. T. M. Daly were timed to leave Vancouver to-day for the east. The Minister of the Interior will stop over at Banff.

Sir A. P. Caron left this afternoon by the Canada Atlantic for Montreal, and will return to the Capital Friday, when there will be a Cabinet meeting.

Sir C. H. Tupper is giving up his house in Maria-street and will move on the 1st of October. It is understood that he has purchased Hon. Mr. Angers' residence.

Inspector O'Leary of the Dominion Police reported his arrival in Montreal to-day with prisoner Franke, alias Ott, whom he arrested in Winnipeg. Ott is wanted in Germany for embezzlement of 10,000 francs. To-morrow the Inspector will hand over his man to the captain of the steamship Hispania, who will be responsible for his transport to Bremen.

Coroner Graham of Hull has received from the magistrate at Maniwaki village, on the borderland of the Great Northern forests of the Upper Gatineau, the sworn depositions of three witnesses to a murder in the Indian camp, 40 miles from that place. The charge is that an Indian named Francois beat to death his 16-year-old daughter. There will probably be an inquest.

The counterfeiting case against Driver Hugheson of the Buckingham, P.Q., stage was heard by the recorder in Hull to-day. The Dominion Police prosecuting were unable to show that the accused had wilfully uttered the counterfeit, and the prisoner was allowed out on suspended sentence.

VOLNEY ASHFORD'S SENTENCE.

The British Government Asks Hawaii to Cancel It For Cause.

San Francisco, Aug. 21.—Advices from Honolulu to the 14th instant by the steamer Australia, which arrived to-day, state that the British Government has made known its opinion that the late trials that the Military Commission held were lawful, and that the Commission was a valid tribunal and fully within the powers of the Hawaiian Government. The Government has also communicated its opinion that the evidence upon which Col. V. V. Ashford, the Canadian, was convicted by the Military Commission was insufficient, and has asked that the British Government declines to interfere in behalf of Johnstone, the ex-Secret Service man, banished summarily with Cranston.

ENGLISH CROPS.

We have just been hearing highly encouraging reports of Canadian crops in Ontario and Manitoba. And now from across the sea comes news that our surplus is likely to be wanted in the Fatherland. The Times' special reports for July and August show that the condition in England, Wales and Scotland to be decidedly bad. In these reports the number 100 is taken to represent perfect healthfulness and freedom from injury; and numbers above 100 are taken to represent the extent to which the crops are better, with numbers below it to that to which they are worse than might reasonably be expected.

Dealing first with cereal crops, we find that in the July report there was not a single instance in 122 comparisons in which this year's figure stood as high as that of 1894; and in August all cereals continued to stand below 100, with wheat receded 1½ per cent. from the beginning of July, leaving its average in Great Britain at 77½ per cent., against 99½ in August, 1894, against 84 in 1893, and 91 per cent. in 1892. Barley, however, has improved slightly during last month, showing an advance of nearly 3 points, and standing at almost 86 per cent., against 101 last year, and over 78 in 1893. And oats have improved still more, having risen from 76½ per cent. in July to 80 in August, against 101½ in August, 1894, and 79 in August, 1893. As to the acreage of these crops, there would appear to have been a heavy decline in wheat, which is estimated at not over 81 per cent. of that of last year; with barley much as before, and oats increased about 3½ per cent. Field peas have declined slightly during last month, standing in August at about 75 per cent. against almost 79 in July, and against 96½ in August, 1894; with their acreage about 94 per cent. of that in 1894. Potatoes have improved considerably during last month, standing in August at about 95½ per cent., against about 90 in July; with 93½ in 1894 and 90½ in 1893. Beans have shown a decline of 2 per cent. on last month, and of nearly 20 per cent. as compared with last year. Grass crops, that is both hay and pastures, are stated to have improved six points during the month, but still to have reached only 74 per cent., against 110 last year. The improvement, however, has not been uniform, some counties showing a decline on the month; and in no English county does the condition exceed 90 per cent., whilst in some it falls below 50. Root crops have improved over seven points for the month, but stand at only about 75 per cent., against 99 in August, 1894. Hops are a crop in which Canada is usually interested; and they seem to have sustained very serious damage during last month, when they are stated to have shown a fall of 18 points, leaving them now at 74 per cent., against 92 last month; against 96 in August, 1894, and 75 in August, 1893. Last year the situation was reversed, with an improvement of over 13 points recorded in July, 1894.

The situation seems rather unfavourable nearly all over. The Times warns us that its figures are not intended as harvest forecasts; but only as a mere record of facts. But in view of these facts presented, there seems little doubt that it was right last month in telling us even then that:—"The "fate of the corn crops is settled; and "1895 has now to be added to the long list "of unhappy years that have fallen to the "lot of the corn-growing farmer." And remembering that it considers the wheat area as nearly twenty per cent. less than that of last year, there can be little doubt that a large importation of breadstuffs will be required in the coming harvest-year.

SUPERANNUATIONS.

In the matter of superannuations the Government seems to be pleasing no one, says the Ottawa Free Press. They bundle efficient men out of office at a few hours' notice in order to make room for party hacks and make thereby enemies of many, some time, friends. They keep on old and inefficient men who might reasonably be put aside, and they make enemies again. Altogether this superannuation business bids fair to be an important factor in the next elections, so much so that a Conservative correspondent in the Mail and Empire writes to lift up his voice in a loud cry of lamentation over the situation. He, however, is compelled to remark that "it is rather surprising to me that officers who have been still longer in the Customs service, and who have by many years survived their past usefulness, are still retained in the service, and received large salaries for doing nothing." At the same time he highly eulogizes the department of Trade and Commerce for, as he says, endeavouring to accomplish changes, in the best interests of the country, in consequence of the inefficiency of the rules supposed in ordinary course to govern the civil service. He also very modestly "deprecates all outside interference through the press or otherwise" with the doings of the government in relation to the subject. No doubt. His friends in the Cabinet probably have also a holy horror of the "interference" of the press. It is only due to its agency that the wrong doing in this matter of superannuation has been exposed. The writer in question signs himself "Fair Play," and would like a gagged press and a "free rein" in making such changes. So, naturally, would the government, but they will not be allowed to have it. As has already been pointed out they have of late, in an underhand manner, committed some acts of positive injustice, not to use the stronger expression, positive cruelty, in connection with the superannuation of officers. The reason for this is obvious. It may be deemed necessary to make room for those whose party services are to be rewarded during the dying hours of the government. But this is a course which will not meet the approval of the public. It is worse than folly for any one to attempt to defend it, much more to pretend that, only at the eleventh hour of its existence, the Tory government has suddenly discovered that these penal changes are necessary "in the interests of the service," and that the men so suddenly and unceremoniously kicked down stairs are useless officials."

SOUTH DUMMER NEWS.

(From our own Correspondent.)

A very pretty tea splash took place at the home of Mr. Robert Knox. Sociality revelled the hearts content of our esteemed pastor, Rev. Mr. Peake, who, by the way, has it pressed down, but it occasionally runs over as on the present occasion. The beautiful grounds were appropriately lighted by our never-failing reflector, being midway in the heavens, to such an extent as to make the gloaming perfectly satisfactory to those who strolled at their own sweet will through the substitute of fairy land.

After a delightful repast, the company gathered and music, impromptu speeches and recitations were rendered. A duett by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Peake, recitation, Miss Paget; duett, Mr. and Mrs. Knox; chorus by Mr. and Mrs. Huston.

A neat little sum was realized by these zealous Christian Endeavourers of South Dummer church and all went home encouraged and pleased.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my breath. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

THE MANITOBA FROST

Causes the Farmers to Rush the Harvest.

NOT 15 P.C. OF THE CROP DAMAGED

Greatest Damage Done in the Vicinity of Virden—No Ill Effects at Many Other Points—A Winnipeg Weather Sharp is Out With a Prediction of Killing Frost

Portage La Prairie, Man., Aug. 21—The morning reports show that the weather was cool but far above the frost line last night. The morning opened rather cloudy over most of the province. To-day has been hot and sultry, with occasional warm winds from the south. It threatened rain during the afternoon, but broke away towards evening, leaving the chances for a warm night. Now it is light and cloudy and promises to be warmer and the harvesting haze which is now settling over the plains usually indicates clear, warm weather.

Reports coming in show that the light frost which came in patches on Monday night did no damage; it was only a close shave, and the prospects are good for the rest of the week. The shave we had has wakened up the farmers all over and the harvest is humming everywhere, except in half a dozen localities where the grain has been late and has ripened slowly. Such days as to-day will bring in all the wheat in a few days, but there is enough on hand now to keep everyone rushing.

Morning reports from along the line of the Manitoba Northwestern show some rain or frost, but no damage whatever, in general the weather is cloudy and calm, with the wind from the south when it blows.

Westbourne reports everything as very favorable. Gladstone, Arden, Neepawa, report cutting on the increase. At Minnedosa there is no increase.

Strathclair, Shoal Lake and Yorkton report wheat ripening slowly, and, in consequence, not much cutting is being done. Grain is ripening fast, and the cutting is accordingly fast at Birtle, Binscarth, Rapid City and Russel..

At Northern Station wheat cutting commenced yesterday. This will bring the whole teritory of the Northwest into harvesting within a couple of days, as the ones indicated are the laggards of all the districts, depending more on cattle, wheat being only a secondary subject in their estimation.

During the frost years in the eighties, farmers west and northwest of Minnedosa suffered such regular reverses that many left, thinking the country was no good, but that experience was really the salvation of the remainder, for it caused them to largely abandon wheat raising and laid the foundation for the vastly increasing cattle trade of northwest Manitoba.

Many of these ranchers, who grow little wheat also, are in more favorable circumstances than their all-wheat brethren are, as they have far more ready money among them all the year round than circulates in the one-crop districts. If frost-damaged wheat is spoiled for market they calmly feed it to their cattle and thus realize a good price.

From Rapid City one road leads down the valley of the Little Saskatchewan to Minnedosa, 15 miles, and another road crosses the uplands. Neither go through a very well settled country. It is north of Minnedosa, in the Clan William settlement, which produces the finest wheat, reasonably free from frost every year. A large area there is under cultivation, and there are also large stock interests. There are no large farms in the Hungarian settlement, north of Minnedosa, but all farmers are doing reasonably well.

Westward from Minnedosa and northwestward is a great rolling plateau, rather dry for wheat and not very safe from frost, but a fine cattle country, with beautiful groves and ponds of water runs right through to Birtle Valley and continues of the same character beyond.

Eastward from Minnedosa, which has been better setled of late years, there is a good crop, but it is backward.

Beautiful Plains, which begins near Franklin Station is hardly less celebrated for wheat than are the Portage Plains. The northern part is devoted to wheat and cattle.

One-half the crop on Portage Plains is in stock to-night and safe. Local showers fell between Winnipeg and Portage this afternoon. It is very warm to-night with heat lightning in the south.

Mr. Harcourt of the Globe Saving Company advises me from Gladstone: "I have driven north, south and east to-day and find the crop good, nearly all have done some cutting. There is a considerable portion still quite green requiring at least two weeks good weather. The frost of Monday night was severe enough to form ice in places, but I don't think it did any damage to the grain and very little to garden stuff. No frost last night. Will report from other points."

Mr. Riley, manager of the Sanford Manufacturing Company, Winnipeg visited the Stonewall district yesterday and was immensely pleased with it. The farms are clean and thrifty, with splendid crops. No large farms, but well distributed. The yield will be very large this year and cutting is well under way, one-third of the crop being down. There are slight traces of rust on tender garden truck.

A Morden gentleman reports two threshing machines going east of that place the day before yesterday.

Mr. Riley saw samples of the Gretna farmer's 6000 bushels crop, which was sold in Winnipeg to-day, but didn't learn the price. It was a magnificent sample. The Free Press commends this early farmer, and asks why other farmers can not do the same.

Mennonite farmers in Rosenfeld and west have over 70 per cent. of their wheat cut.

Regina farmers estimate of twine required was far too small now, and they can not get a pound in Regina. This will cause a serious delay until Saturday.

Later reliable advices show the damage done at Pilot Mound, Manitou, and Virden Monday night, but not extensive, and a great deal of the grain is cut anyhow. At Virden tender plants were damaged in many cases. A fair estimate made from all returns shows less than 15 per cent. of the wheat crop of Manitoba affected by frost, and that only slightly, so people don't care who knows, if they won't exaggerate it. I got this estimate from Hon. Robert Watson, who drove from Brandon to Minnedosa with Mr. Willison to-day.

Men who were driving over the Plains to-day searching for frost traces in garden stuff, found none. They brought in some fine samples of wheat to test when dried.

Bagot, west of here, reports the earliest cutting done on the 7th of August. Threshing will begin 28th.

Burnside reports a temperature of 24 degrees Monday night, which corroborates the Portage record.

Prof. Macoun of Ottawa says the Western crops are all very promising, but those about Moose Jaw are especially heavy.

In view of Prof. Foster's prediction of the killing frost about the 26th. The Free Press thinks farmers had better cut wheat at once, even if not properly ripe, which would only lose by shrinkage in this event. It commends in a column article the harvest excursion as timely, and a good immigration agency, and asks what steps can be taken to keep a large proportion of these men permanently.

A warm shower fell a few minutes before 10.30 to-night. Minimum temperature last night 44.

The Gladstone district, with its black, rich soil, plenty of water, and free from frost, would have been densely populated because it is an old settlement, but for a disastrous rise of Lake Manitoba and White Mud River driving out the settlers 15 years ago and menacing the district for years after. This district don't count in wheat yet, but if it is ever tapped by the projected Hudson Bay Railway, the samples grown are excellent.

MONTREAL GRAIN MEN EXCITED.

First Reports of the Cold Dip in Manitoba Greatly Exaggerated.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—There was considerable excitement on the Corn Exchange this morning, caused by the reports of damage to the Northwest crops by frost, but as the day wore on an easier feeling prevailed, as the despatch indicated the damage was not so great as at first reported. The advices received at the Molsons Bank indicated that while grain had been injured in several sections the frost was not general, and the damage will not be great.

The C.P.R. officials admitted that there had been frost in many sections, but not a serious one, and Mr. W. W. Ogilvie, who has just returned from the Northwest, where he has opened 11 new elevators and made additions to his mills, refused to speak at all, although he had previously set an hour for an interview.

Mr. Robert Meighen, President of the Lake of the Woods Milling Company, told your correspondent that while his despatches showed that there had been a slight frost, the damage was of a trifling character. It was only at a few points where the thermometer went low enough to do any harm. In Southern Manitoba the greater part of the crop had been harvested. No damage had been done around Portage la Prairie.

Dakota's Crop Overestimated.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21.—The Orange Judd Farmer this week publishes the result of a special investigation covering the wheat crop in 150 counties in Minnesota and the Dakotas, estimating the crop by states, as follows: Minnesota, 54,000,000; North Dakota, 50,000,000; South Dakota, 32,000,000. It is claimed that this is a very liberal showing and that there is no warrant whatever for estimates which have been current crediting these states with 160,000,000 bushels and more.

An Anecdote of Seashore Life.

Some people find it great fun to wallow in the sand after a sea bath and be covered up to the tips of their noses. It seems to me like an excellent method of catching cold, but worse than that happened to a young girl with whom I am acquainted. She had come dripping from the sea, and kind friends hollowed out a trench in the sand, and after she lay down in it she was covered up until only her face was in sight. Then her friends went back to wrestle with old Neptune, and she reclined in a delicious dreamy state. She dozed off for a few minutes and was aroused by a severe slap in the face. She screamed out, and as she did so she was dragged to a sitting position by her hair, and a woman's voice shouted: "I've caught you have I? Oh, you hussey! This is what you call goin' over to Mrs. Mullins' and helpin' her with the baby, is it?" A coarse-faced, vixenish-looking woman was shaking her by the collar, but as the young girl pushed her assailant away the latter dropped her hands and her jaw, while a look of mortification swept over her face, as she exclaimed: "Why, it ain't 'Linda, after all! Well, for the Lord's sake!" Then away she flew down the beach and was out of sight in no time."

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

SCOTT'S SARSAPARILLA

You may relieve a cold in the head by local applications, but all the snuffs, powders, sprays, salves and balms on earth won't cure catarrh. Scott's Sarsaparilla will, because it acts constitutionally with pure blood, reaching every part of the system, searching out the foul old mucous accumulations, removing the cause of their being. The reason it cures catarrh is on account of the newly discovered properties it contains.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

KILLED AT ST. LOUIS.

Wm. McCullough, Formerly of Peterborough, Fatally Injured on a Railroad.

Mr. Jas. McCullough, McDonel street, has received word, through the arrival of a relative in town, of the death of his son, Mr. Wm. McCullough, formerly of Peterborough, aged 30 years.

The unfortunate man had for some time past been working at his trade as a bricklayer in St. Louis, and had left that city last week on his return home.

A short distance outside of the city McCullough endeavoured to pass from one car to the other, and, while so doing, fell between the cars, the wheels passing over his body.

He was taken back to St. Louis and every effort made to save his life, but without success, the unfortunate man lingering on a short time. Mr. McCullough was well known in Peterborough and was said to be a first-class mechanic. His remains were interred in St. Louis, and Mr. Jas. The bride, who was becomingly attired in a travelling costume, was assisted by her sister, Miss Annie Hutchinson. Mr. Stanley Matthews, Ashburnham, performed the same duties for the groom.

A DETECTIVE ACCOMPANIES THE CIRCUS.

The Ontario Government Sends Detective Rogers With Sells Bros.' Circus.

Crooks will have a poor opportunity for plying their vocation in towns visited by Sells Bros.' circus in this province.

During the past two years the circuses visiting this country have been followed up by a gang of safe-blowers, nut shell men and other fakirs, who created havoc wherever they operated.

In order to nip this practice in the bud, the Ontario Government have decided to send Detective Rogers along with the circus. A G.T.R. detective will also accompany it.

To the credit of the circus, it it said that Sells Bros. have an aggregation free from crookedness of every character, and fakirs are not allowed to operate on the circus grounds.

Four crooks were spotted in Barrie the other day during the visit of the circus, and were hustled out of the town in quick order.

How Much is in a Name?

There may be a good name on the label, and a very bad wine in the bottle. Have you not found it so? And you paid sweetly for the label, too. Are you aware of the fact that splendid wines, sound, wholesome, old, can now be obtained for $3 and $4 per dozen quarts? Clarets, Burgundies, Sauternes? Or say, half the price formerly asked. The public will no longer pay these long prices. Good wines are now within the reach of the people. Formerly the classes drank wines. Now the masses will drink the light wines of France, eschewing the more ardent and acid liquors, which are hurtful. Looks like a miracle but it is really very simple,—direct and large importations. TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Our evening contemporary in its issue of last night calls the EXAMINER to account for encouraging a deputation to go to Ottawa to urge on the Government the necessity of completing the Trent Valley Canal system and then publishing an adverse criticism of the work from the Brantford Expositor.

The Review should have made certain of its facts before it sprang into the arena and flung down the gage of battle in this fashion. The EXAMINER never encouraged any deputation to go to Ottawa, but on the contrary laughed at the efforts of certain local Conservatives, who strove hard to make political capital out of John Haggart's promise given on that occasion. The work would never have been re-commenced, but for the fact that just at that particular juncture the House was about to go to the country.

Besides those Conservatives who were politically interested in the scheme, there were others of quite as much, if not more, influence who were desirous of seeing the work go on, as a means of opening up our back country. Having awarded the contract on the northern section and placed its hand to the plough before deciding that another session of Parliament was advisable, the Government could not turn back. Like unto the prisnor on the treadmill, it had to move forward, the penalty of ceasing work at this juncture being certainly the loss to the Government of the vote of every member of the Midland district. "On with the work" was the cry, and the work on the northern section has gone on but how about the Peterborough-Lakefield division? Surveys and re-surveys, changes in the plans and specifications, and in fact every obstacle that cunning could devise has been thrown in the way to delay the work until Jack Frost comes to the relief and gives the government breathing space in which to map out its plans for next year. Even to those wearing spectacles of the most Conservative tint the evasive policy of the government became apparent and angry remonstrances were sent to Ottawa. It became imperative, therefore, to take another step if the allegiance of the Peterboroughs was to be held and word went forth that the contract for this section had been finally awarded. Naturally one would suppose that the contractor would jump right in to get as much of the work accomplished as possible before the cold weather compelled the cessation of work. But nothing of this kind occurs. Even the Review admits that only a small force of men are employed. Yes! a very small force, indeed. It has been unkindly intimated that two old men and a boy comprise the "force" in question.

The Review states that "the work will be pushed forward as long as the weather will permit. Yes, and won't a psean of joy well up from the hearts of John Haggart and his confreres when the first snow flake falls and the work can safely be discontinued for a time. The EXAMINER is not taking any great chances in hazarding that a general election will be sprung on the people before the time comes for the contractors to resume work. That single phrase, "as long as the weather will permit," kills the Review's column of indignation as dead as a door nail, and shows just where the Ethiopian is concealed in the fence this time. The idea of a work of such stupendous magnitude being "pushed along" by two old men and a boy, is indeed the height of absurdity, and goes a long way to show just to what straits the great Conservative party is reduced.

A YOUNG LIFE CLOSED.

Death of Miss Eva Paterson this Morning.

The many friends in town of Miss Eva Paterson, were grieved to learn of her sad death this morning from an attack of meningitis. The deceased young lady, who was in her seventeenth year, was the youngest daughter of the late Walter Paterson.

She had been unwell for about a week, but was not confined to her bed until Monday. Dr. Clarke was the attending physician during her illness. This morning the young lady gradually grew worse, and a consultation was held by Drs. Caldwell, Clarke and Halliday. No hope, however, was held out for her recovery, and she finally passed away about 11 o'clock.

Miss Paterson was a general favourite among her companions. She was an active member of the Junior Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Paul's church, having held all the different offices in succession, and was also a member of the Sunday school.

The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 from the family residence on Hunter street, to the Little Lake Cemetery.

REMEMBERED THE CHILDREN'S AID.

The Secretary of the Society Receives a Cheque From a Summer Resort.

The secretary of the Children's Aid Society received to-day a cheque for five dollars and seventy-five cents, the amount of a collection in aid of the society taken up at a Sunday service in the Peninsular Park hotel of Barrie, held by the Rev. T. W. Paterson, of Dear Park, Toronto. The Society tenders its most grateful acknowledgements.

It appears that a resident of Peterborough, who is quite enthusiastic about the work which the Society has undertaken, is at present summering at the Peninsula Park Hotel and through her enthusiasm succeeded in sufficiently interesting the other guests and Rev. Mr. Patterson as to induce them to offer the proceeds of the collection in aid of the local branch of the society.

The Park, it is understood, has just completed its most successful season. It is delightfully situated on Lake Simcoe at Big Bay Point. The Peterborough party have spent some weeks there as well as at the Summit House, on Lake Joseph, in Manitoba.

Every book required for Public and High School in stock at the Peterborough Bookstore, for school opening.

THE MURPHY COUNTERFEITING CASE.

The Male Portion of the Family Committed—Lillie Discharged—Mr. Stone Says that the Old Man is Responsible.

Yesterday morning at ten o'clock in the Court House, Lindsay the Murphy case was resumed. The first charge was that against Richard Murphy, charged with passing to Wm. Richards in the town of Lindsay, on July 22nd, two ten cent pieces knowing the same to be counterfeit.

William Richards was placed in the witness box, and on being sworn said that he was hostler at Veitch's hotel in Lindsay, that he remembered the accused leaving his horse in the stable at the Veitch house one day about a month ago, and ordering it to be fed hay, which was done. In payment he gave witness a 10 cent piece, which afterwards proved to be a counterfeit. He identified the coin produced in court. The accused came back again and ordered half a gallon of oats and paid 10 cents more, and witness gave accused 5 cents change. He told prisoner at the time that the coins looked bad. When witness went to the bar to make returns for the day the barkeeper said that the pieces were counterfeit, and he laid them away. Detective Shore got the two coin.

To Mr. Stone witness said that he had marked the pieces the day that he gave them to the detective. He swore positively that the barkeeper gave him the same pieces as he had given him nearly a month before.

Mr. Stone then said that the man must be foolish, and not responsible for what he was saying, or he would not give such evidance.

Detective Shore was put on the stand and said that he learned that Richards had some counterfeit coin, and he went to see him, and got the two coins produced in court.

Mr. Stone did not cross-examine this witness, but asked for a dismissal, stating that in his mind they had not made any case at all.

The magistrate, however, committed Richard Murphy to stand his trial at the fall assizes, and bound Detective Shore and Wm. Richards over in the sum of $200 for their appearance at the trial.

Wellington Murphy was then charged with passing a 25c. piece of spurious coin in Millbrook, on July 12th, on John I. Hickson. Hickson was pretty closely cross-examined by Mr. Stone, counsel for the prisoners, and the witness stated he did not know who he got the coin from, as he had received a quarter from another gentleman on that day. This prisoner was remanded for further evidence.

When the court again assembled in the afternoon the six members of the family were all charged with passing counterfeit coin.

Mr. Shore, the detective, was placed in the witness box, and told how he had found that spurious coin had been circulated by the Murphys in Lindsay, Millbrook, Omemee and other places. He further described the search of their premises, and the arrest of the prisoners.

This closed the evidence and Mr. Stone asked for a discharge of all the prisoners except the old man and William, who are responsible for the articles found in the house, and all the others are not responsible and no jury would find them guilty on the evidence produced.

Mr. Devlin—"If they can show and tell the parties who have committed the crime I should ask to have them discharged."

The magistrate then ordered the prisoners to stand up and asked if they had any evidence to give, but they said not, and he then said he would discharge Miss Lillie Murphy, and he committed the other five prisoners to stand trial at the fall assizes to be held in Lindsay.

A WEEK AT STONY LAKE.

By Vernon C. McGill.

One early morning in June found a quartette of wheels sweeping swiftly along the road leading from Peterborough to Lakefield. The morning was warm and bright, the air was refreshing. A small cloud of dust kept rising behind the cyclists as they pushed their machines along the white and dusty road. The way was rather deserted and they met but few travellers. Among these they would meet from time to time groups of girls on wheels, these were always followed with interested eyes. After riding for an hour or more as they dashed around a curve in the road, one of the riders shouted out with a cheer and a tiger, "Here's Stony Lake."

Stony Lake—what scenes and recollections flash across the minds of many at the mention of that name. It recalls a large expanse of water, dotted with island after island of solid rock, here and there perhaps gliding over the surface, a frail canoe. It calls back many pleasant nights, wild and romantic, when you have watched the tall pines

SWAYING AGAINST A WHITE MOON, ETC.

These tired wheelmen were too exhausted or perhaps too practical to think of any of these things; they simply stacked their wheels, lit their pipes and threw themselves down upon the shore to rest and take in the scene.

The view was not as brilliant as the one presented any day during July and August when hundreds of campers and cottagers line the dock daily, but this quartette, fanned by the cool breeze from the water, thought it was magnificent. The "Mary Ellen" and the "Golden City" were resting and chafing against the dock. The natives and loungers were sprinkled here and there along the shore and in the boats. Long booms stretched out over the water to hold back and leave a passageway for the boats between the drives of logs with which the lake was partially covered. The islands covered with foliage rose from the dark green water in little bunches growing smaller and smaller, and at last dying away in the horizon. Behind these rose a large expanse of blue sky completing a scene picturesque indeed.

After overcoming that tired feeling they mounted their wheels and rode into the village (i. e., Lakefield) placed their steeds safely away and had breakfast at the Gibson House.

Not many hours after these four cyclists might have been seen with tent canvas and poles, rigging, boxes, bales and all the fittings for a week's camp. Their wheels were left behind at the village, as it would be utterly impossible to use them on any place they might camp, the ground being too rough.

At last their destination is reached. It is a small rocky island, the sides of which rise perpendicularly from the water. The spot is almost barren, one or two trees only forcing themselves through the crevices in the granite. The canoes are hauled up high and dry. The tents are pitched after much good natured wrangling and scrapping and passing around of the earthen jug.

Now that we have found this jolly quartette in camp, with a large earthen jug—cool and refreshing, which is taken to the village several times per day—let me introduce these wanderers to you.

This is "Bill," this "Jack," this one here "Shorty" and this one on the other side is "the baby," all jolly good fellows, well met.

In the mornings they wander around among the islands in their canoes always having one or two trolling lines in tow, at the end of which from time to time huge and sometimes attached themselves and were drawn to their fate. The morning swim was also an order of the day. In the afternoon they smoked, read, lounged or slept as the fancy seized them. In the evening they had their cruise; they would paddle lazily over the black water, keeping together as a rule, singing melodies which carried softly in the still nights, these would be broken now and again by a stormy college yell as they passed other canoes or little flotillas barely distinguishable in the dusk. After this was over they would light a large camp fire, around this they sat, smoked, passed around the "John" and told witty stories till nearly daybreak. In fact the way their days were spent might be summarized as one the of quartette himself explains it: after breakfast comes dinner, after dinner comes supper, of course with intervals of much fooling.

One evening around the camp-fire it was decided to take a foraging expedition into the surrounding country. Accordingly next day, towards evening, they paddled over to the village for their wheels, and after they had partaken of supper at the Gibson House they rode out of the village four abreast. Each one was armed with a large hunting knife and revolver, which weapons they found occasion to use before they returned.

They rode on silently for an hour or more till it was quite dark, the sun having in the meantime set gloriously behind the islands.

As they were passing along a

DARK PART OF THE ROAD, with clumps of trees on either side, Shorty whispered, "say, Baby, light your lantern, quick."

"What for?" came naturally from the Baby.

"I hear a noise behind the fence, there."

"I hear a noise, too," said Bill. "Hurry up, Baby."

The lantern was quickly lighted and all was silent again, as the four moved noiselessly toward the fence from which the sound had came.

Three pigs of diminutive size were peacefully snuffling around, sticking their noses in the dirt

They all climbered over the fence. When they had reached the other side the small animals set up a loud squealing and began to scamper away. It was not going to be so easy as they thought to carry the three Mr. Piggies away. They quickly seized them, however, but their tempers being ruffled they began to squeal louder and louder. The baby quickly drew his hunting knife and with a sharp slash quickly despatched his victim and made for his wheel. The others were slower evidently for their pigs were squealing louder and louder with a piercing clearness. Just then a light appeared in a window of the farm house, which was about a hundred yards away, and the loud slam of a door could be distinctly heard. Footsteps were heard quickly approaching from the house. As they came closer and closer with a startling clearness, for evidently from the sound it was on a gravel walk, the other three climbed over the fence, Bill and Shorty each having a howling pig under his arm. Just at this moment the settler dashed through the gate, about forty yards from where the wheels were. Baby was already in his saddle, hugging closely with one arm his dead pig, while with the other he was ready to direct his wheel. The others were

MOUNTED IN A SECOND.

As the wanderers moved away the pigs kept up a running fire of music which was a wonderful duet. Before they had moved away ten yards there was a loud report just behind them and a whizz and a buzz just above their heads.

"Steady," said Shorty, "now, altogether."

There was another report more deafening than the first as the four revolver belched out a little flame in unison; 'tis to be hoped they went wide of their mark.

The quartette proceed to put distance between themselves and the settler as fast as they could. The steel and rubber of their machines quivered under the force of their pedaling.

As the squeak, squeak, squeak of the pigs died away gradually, the settler must have thought that demons had decamped with his animals, for the wheels made no noise.

These pigs, it is said, were delicious, though not too skilfully roasted or carved, and after having feasted they retired at daybreak. After a week of fishing, canoeing, smoking reading, etc., they broke camp.

At evening they rode out from the village four abreast, promising to return again. The loungers had gathered en masse to see them safely on their way. As they rounded a turn in the road and were lost to view the breeze now and again carried to them the rather "boosy" cheering of the loungers who had drunk too well the health of the liberal strangers.—The Canadian Wheelmen.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men to-day who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a sliver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless.

You will find a box of Ayer's Pills an excellent travelling companion. For costiveness, indigestion, sick headache, and nausea, they are prompt, safe, and efficacious. Taken in season, they may prevent serious illness and vexatious delay and disappointment.

Buffalo, Aug. 21.—Frank Cudney of St. Catharines, Ont., was arrested in company with D. W. Parker and Mrs. Jennie Barker, all charged with disorderly conduct. Barker had assaulted Cudney, whom he charged with being too intimate with Mrs. Barker. The latter aided Cudney, who was pretty badly used up. This afternoon Cudney, who was construction foreman on the big building being constructed by the Ellicott Square Building Association, was struck by a derrick while superintending work on the fourth story and instantly killed. Coroner Tucker has notified Cudney's friends in St. Catharines of the accident. Cudney was 35 years old and unmarried.

COLLIDED DURING A FOG.

The Channel Steamer Seaford Sunk By a Sister Ship.

London, Aug. 21.—The Seaford, with 450 passengers, including more than 100 Americans, traveling from Paris to London, collided in mid-channel during a dense fog at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with the Lion, of the same line.

The Seaford is one of the finest ships in the New Haven-Dieppe service, which is much patronized by Americans. The Lion was badly damaged forward, but safely landed the passengers at 9 o'clock last night, and they reached London before midnight. They lost all their baggage. The Seaford was a new boat and cost $350,000.

Senator Ozmum, of Minnesota, who was on board the steamer Seaford, confirms the statement of many others in regard to the admirable conduct of the passengers, the gentlemen assisting the ladies and children on board the steamer Lion before seeking safety themselves. There was not even a suggestion of a panic. Every piece of luggage stowed in the hole was lost. A number of American passengers on board the Seaford called at the United States Embassy to-day for the purpose of asking advice and assistance. Several of them were left almost penniless. One lady lost nearly $10,000.

SILENT MEN AND WOMEN.

Deaf Mutes Are Usually Industrious and Fairly Prosperous.

There are between 600 and 1,000 deaf mutes in Chicago, and they are all industrious and fairly prosperous, earning their living honestly and uncomplainingly. They can do anything in which hearing is not absolutely necessary, and one would be surprised to know how many callings this includes. There are deaf-mute printers, painters, cabinet-makers—and some good ones, too—shoemakers, wood carvers, barbers, who never pester the subject in the chair with remarks about the weather or the races, bookkeepers, cigarmakers, molders, machinists and electricians. Four deaf mutes are employed in the postoffice, where they do their work quite as efficiently as their companions. One is a lawyer, and another is a chemist. Among the women there are dressmakers, milliners, printers, bookbinders, paper-boxmakers and seamstresses.

Most of these have homes of their own in which both husband and wife are mutes. In about one case in 25 the mute has a husband or wife who speaks. It is exceedingly rare that the children of such marriages are deaf, and as the father and mother grow old they have ties which connect them always more closely with the speaking world.

Every provision is made in Chicago for the proper education of deaf children. There are four regular day schools conducted by the city board of education, one Catholic boarding school and private school. A child who graduates from any of these schools and wishes to obtain a higher education may go to the college for the deaf at Washington, D. C., which is conducted by the United States Government. If the pupil is poor, but worthy, he is not compelled to pay tuition; otherwise it will cost him about $250 a year. This college is the only one of its kind in the world. Most Chicago deaf mutes receive their education at the State school in Jacksonville, Ill. A great part of the foreign element was educated abroad and usually associates according to nationality.

Career of the Duke of Cambridge.

The Duke of Cambridge, whose retirement from the post of Commander-in-Chief has been announced, has had a longer active military career than any other officer now serving. His first connection with the army was as a brevet-colonel in November, 1837, when in his nineteenth year, and his first employment, when, from about six months at the end of 1838 and beginning of 1839, he was attached to the staff at Gibraltar. In 1842 he became Lieutenant-Colonel of the then Eighth Light Dragoons, ten days later become colonel in the Seventeenth Light Dragoons, and for two years, from April, 1843, was a colonel on the staff in the Ionian Islands. Promoted to Major-General in 1845, he was appointed to the command of Dublin District in the following year, retaining the post till March, 1852, when he became inspector-general of cavalry at headquarters. In 1854 he went as major-general to the Crimea, where he commanded the First Division at Alma, Balaklava, and Inkerman, his horse being shot at the last named battle. He was at the siege of Sebastopol, was mentioned in the despatches, and received the thanks of the House of Commons. Advanced to Lieutenant-General in 1854, he became general on being appointed to the chief command of the army on July 15, 1856, but did not receive the patent of commander-in-chief till November, 1887, on completing fifty-five years of active service. His Royal Highness has been personal aide-de-camp to the Queen since 1852, and is colonel of the Seventeenth Lancers, Royal Artillery, Royal Engineers, Grenadier Guards, King's Royal Rifles, Cambridge Militia and London Rifle Brigade.—London Daily News.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion, have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Drs. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life. I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, Liver, or Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. Fenwick, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. Wer— —lymnia St., New Orleans, La.

VICTORIA AS A CHILD.

Reminiscences of Prof Crouch, Composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen."

Prof. F. Nicholls Crouch, composer of "Kathleen Mavourneen," recalls reminiscences of the younger days of Queen Victoria. He was an attache of the royal family, as a musician, having been a member of the royal household band. Prof. Crouch says he remembers Queen Victoria when she was a little girl of 7 or 8 years old.

"The room in which the rehearsals of the band took place," he said, "was located so that persons from many apartments in the palace could enter it from all sides. Here Victoria and her cousins romped and played, and she was as free as any child on the streets of Baltimore. She looked like a healthy country girl, pretty and innocent. Her mother was the most queenly woman that ever walked. The ladies of the household came frequently into the rehearsal room with the children and listened to the music. Victoria was very fond of music. Mrs. Henderson, a cousin of mine, who married a cousin of George Henderson a page in the royal family, was Victoria's teacher on the piano. Victoria studied faithfully, and was a fine performer on the piano when a girl. She was affable and extremely graceful.

"I continued as 'cellolst in the Queen's band for some years, but the Reform bill, passed in the early 30's, I think, abolished the private household band of the family. I located in Devonshire, but was summoned to London to play the cello at the coronation of Queen Victoria. Sir George Smart, who conducted, was knighted for his musical ability. The most striking scene at the coronation was the entrance at Westminster Abbey of the Duchess of St. Albans. She had formerly been an actress, had married Coutts the banker, and after his death was wedded to the Duke of St. Albans. The press and the people discussed at great length whether she should be admitted to the coronation. She demanded her rights as a Duchess, and consequently could not be debarred. She entered alone, and her magnificent stage effect and self possession as she walked up an avenue of armies in file was one of the grandest sights of the day. The Duke of St. Albans was grand falconer of England, and the Duchess was one of the most ladyylike persons ever born.

"I was summoned to London again, as a singer at the marriage of Queen Victoria to Prince Albert."

The professor came to America in 1849 He says he is 87 years old. His memory is stocked with incidents of his early life in England, and his subsequent life in this country, including his military service during the late war. He is engaged in writing his reminiscences, and frequently writes short poems. Prof. Crouch has composed a number of songs besides the world famous air of "Kathleen Mavourneen." — Baltimore Sun.

Queen of Madagascar.

It is a little more than twelve years since Ranavalona III., the present sovereign, was raised to the throne and immediately afterwards married by Rainilairivony, Prime Minister and Commander-in-Chief, the Warwick and Queen-maker of Madagascar. He has, however, not found her quite so plastic in his hands and subservient to his wishes as the estimable lady who formerly enjoyed the honor. Having become a Christian while under the instruction of the missionaries of the London Society, she zealously follows in the paths of kindness and benevolence which her illustrious predecessor, Ranavalona the Good, so notably trod before her. But, though still very young, she manifests far more independence of character, and rumor has it that the disagreements between herself and the Prime Minister have of late become more marked. She came to the throne in 1883, when the last war had just broken out, and it was her duty on several occasions during its progress to appear before the assembled thousands of her warriors and stimulate them by a few energetic and stirring words to a brave defence of their fatherland. "I am a woman," she said, "but I have the heart of a man, and I myself will stand up and lead you to fight with those who would take away our land. God forbid that we should become slaves of the foreigner." Quite recently there has been another great Kabary, at which the Queen made use of similar patriotic language amid the enthusiastic plaudits of the multitude. As the danger becomes more imminent the spirit of patriotism apparently grows, and it would not be surprising, notwithstanding the rumors of treachery and the signs of terror and disorganization which have begun to appear, if the Hovas are stirred up to a desperate resistance, and force the French to stay their hand until the arrival of more reinforcements from home.—Illustrated London News.

The Eye of the Needle.

Elias Howe almost beggared himself before he discovered where the eye of the needle of a sewing machine should be located. His original idea was to follow the model of the eye at the heel. It never occurred to him that it should be placed near the point, and he might have failed altogether if he had not dreamed he was building a sewing machine for a savage king in a strange country. Just as in his actual waking experience he was rather perplexed about the needle's eye. He thought the king gave him twenty-four hours to complete a machine and make it sew. If not finished in that time death was to be the punishment. Howe worked and worked, and puzzled and puzzled and finally gave it up. Then he thought he was taken out to be executed. He noticed that the warriors carried spears that were pierced near the head. Instantly came the solution of the difficulty, and while the inventor was begging for time he awoke. It was 4 o'clock in the morning. He jumped out of bed, ran to his workshop, and by 9 a needle with an eye at the point had bene rudely modelled. After that it was easy. This is the true story of an important incident in the ivention of the sewing machine.—Philadelphia Times.

The Balfour Family.

Mr. Arthur James Balfour is not the only not worthy member of that family. His oldest brother Frank, who was perhaps the ablest of the family, had made such a reputation at 30 as a biologist that a special professorship was established at Cambridge for him, and after his death, which was caused by a fall in the Alps, a scholarship was founded in his name. There are two brothers now living, one, General Balfour, who has just been made Chief Secretary for Ireland, was for seven years a fellow of Cambridge, where he has so far done nothing remarkable. Both these brothers are members of Parliament and politicians. The oldest sister is the wife of Prof. Sedgwick, the economist, and is President of Newnham College, and one of the best-known women in England. She founded that college and has been its President for three years, teaching mathematics, in which she takes very high rank. Another sister is also a fine mathematician; she is the wife of Lord Rayleigh, the scientist, and discoverer of argon, and helps her husband in his researches and his mathematical investigations. A third sister is the housekeeper, friend and companion of the leader of the commons, and is a woman of fine intellect and scholarship.—Boston Transcript.

The Most Difficult Piece of Music.

A number of the most celebrated of French pianists were recently asked to state the piece which they found it most difficult to execute. The answers are naturally most varied. There is a general agreement that difficulties of style are much less easy to overcome than those of technique. From the standpoint of mechanical difficulty, M. Marmontel thinks Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 3 the most redoubtable piece. M. Diemer and M. Plante accord the palm to Balackreff's L'Islamey, and M. Preiffer finds himself embarrassed between the claims of Liszt's "Rhapsodies and Studies," Tausig's "Transcriptions" and Alkan's "Variations." M. Delabrode discreetly and enigmatically replies that the most difficult piece for him is invariably the piece which he happens to be playing at any moment. To M. de Besiot the modest scale—demanding as it does the most perfect quality throughout—is the supreme difficulty, and one must work at it, he declares, until one's last breath.

THE MISSION FIELD IN FAR ALGOMA.

THE MISSIONARY'S COMPANION.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionary for the International Mission to Algoma and North-West, attributes his escape from severe illness through summer complaints to the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. He writes as follows: "I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been to me a wonderful, soothing, speedy and effectual remedy. It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. A Constantly Growing Force.

Every Day Gives Momentum to the Success of South American Nervine.

Canadian Citizens from Every Quarter Tell of the Extraordinary Results Following the Use of This Wonderful Remedy.

MR. C. G. CHAPIN, OF BURK'S FALLS, ONT.

There is encouragement in the knowledge that even after the skill of eminent physicians has failed, and many medicines have been used, a certain cure for the diseases of life is to be found in South American Nervine. This is a remarkable medicine, especially when the trouble is nervous debility, indigestion, dyspepsia, sick headache, or a general breaking-up of the system. It has made thousands of cures of Canadian citizens all over this beautiful Dominion, and they have not been slow to sing its praises.

The strength of South American Nervine rests in its being something more than a mere tonic. A tonic will give temporary benefit, but if disease is in the system something more is needed to remove it. South American Nervine possesses all the virtues of a tonic, but more than that, it is a disease-healer. It has been discovered that certain nerves have entire control over the stomach, liver, heart, lungs and indeed all internal organs. When disease comes upon the individual, if a careful analysis is made of the trouble, and hazard fashion, it will be shown that the disease has its origin in a derangement of these nerve centers. South American Nervine goes at once to the nerve centers and removes the disease. Then strong, rich, pure blood runs through the veins and gives health and exhilaration to all parts of the system. This is one secret of the power of South American Nervine. But it does not stop here. There is no medicine that is so great a nerve-builder, nor flesh-producer as Nervine. It purifies the system. It imparts to it health and vigor, and builds up the constitution.

Now, this is exactly what was done in the case of Mr. C. G. Chapin, a well-known jeweller, of Burk's Falls, Ont. He says: For years I had been much troubled with nervous debility, and believe I had tried all proprietary medicines, but none seemed to relieve me, until I used South American Nervine. To my surprise the first bottle gave me great relief. I am still taking this great remedy and must say I have not felt so well in years. I highly recommend it to all suffering from nervous disease, for it has made things are not gone about in hap- a great change in me."

SMITH.

Council Meeting.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Municipal Council of the township of Smith met at the town hall, Bridgenorth, on Monday, Aug. 19th. All the members were present, the reeve in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. The council decided to examine the proposed road between lots 22 and 23, in the 15th con. and also the original allowance for road between lots 24 and 25, in the said concession, to consider the advisability of closing the original allowance for road and opening the proposed road in lieu thereof.

A bylaw providing for levying the rates, also a bylaw to levy the rate on the several school sections in the township, were passed.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid :

Dickson Co. for lumber		$ 6 78
Review Pig Co		2 50
W S Northey, work on road		5 40
Thos Robinson,	"	2 00
S H Sanderson,	"	1 50
R Duff,	"	15 00
W Northcott,	"	5 00
Jas Fowler,	"	1 00
Nathan Mollmoyl,	"	1 00
F Bourton,	"	2 00
Jas Fowler,	"	2 50

The clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw to be passed at next meeting of council, to provide that 5 per cent. be added to all taxes unpaid on the 15th of December next. Council then adjourned.

Mellow Soil and Plant Food.

Even the poorest soil contains much plant food, but much of it is not available for absorption by the roots of the plants. Thus Professor Snyder of Minnesota, has shown that in the average wheat-producing soils there is sufficient nitrogen for 125 successive crops of wheat. But much of it is insoluble, chemical action and fermentation in the soil being needed to set the plant food free. By frequent cultivation and keeping the soil mellow and well mixed with air it will not only remain more moist during drouths, but much more plant food will become available. Deep plowing in the fall is most useful, but done in the spring it may leave the under soil too open and bring too much unchanged earth to the top. Thus the weeds do some good by requiring summer cultivation.

A Municipal Gas Plant.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 21.—The Ontario Natural Gas & Oil Company yesterday sold to the Town of Leamington their gas machinery in that place. Shortly after gas was struck in South Essex, the company piped Leamington and supplied the place. The rate was not satisfactory, and a citizens' well was started and struck a vein. Most of the customers were taken away from the Ontario company, and yesterday the latter withdrew. The price paid was $30,000.

We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

Patching Up the Manitoba School Question.

CABINET POSITION HIS REWARD.

J. C. Patterson is to Go on the Bench If Sir Schultz Succeeds in Getting This Troublesome Question Out of Sir Bowell's Way.

Ottawa, Aug. 27 -There is, perhaps, no better criterion of the development of Canada's commercial relations with foreign countries to be adduced than that afforded by a review of the extension of our postal service within the past few years. Since 1894 there has been a wonderful expanse of our parcel post conventions, more than a score of important routes having been added to the system. The Postoffice Department has been obliged to issue an entirely new schedule of parcel routes, to come into operation on the 1st of October. It shows that a tariff has been arranged for the carrying of parcels to almost every part of the world open to foreign commerce. Of course, to some of the more distant parts of the globe the prices of parcel carriage appear to be so high as almost to preclude the transaction of business, but when it is considered that to many of these distant localities it would have been impossible a year ago to have posted a letter by any route the cost of parcel carriage thither does not seem so exorbitant after all. An examination of the table shows that distance does not always dominate the charges. For instance, it costs to send a parcel of one pound weight to the Congo Free States 72 cents and to Chili $1.02, which latter is the same rate charged per pound to Cochin China. Again, while it costs $1.48 to forward a five-pound parcel to Panama, a package of similar weight may be sent to Constantinople for 90 cents. The most expensive rates are those to the Dutch East Indies, Persia, and the German colonies in East Africa, the rates being from $1.10 to $1.18 per one-pound package. For same rate one may send a six-pound parcel to Jerusalem.

A story has been sent out from Ottawa to the effect that negotiations between the Dominion and Provincial Governments are in progress looking to a settlement of the Manitoba school question, and that an official has been despatched to Winnipeg to meet Premier Bowell and post him on the situation. It will be admitted that any negotiations that are going on would certainly be within the knowledge of the Acting Premier, Sir Adolphe Caron. To-night Sir Adolphe returned from Montreal, and for enlightenment upon this report your correspondent called upon him at his residence. The Acting Premier gave a flat denial to the whole story.

"I know nothing of any proposals," he said, "beyond those which were embodied in the Dominion rejoinder, as it has been called, to Manitoba's reply The contents of that I am, of course unable to make public. But I can give you positive assurance that no messenger has been despatched to meet the Premair on any such business, by my direction, and I should certainly know of it if one were sent by any one else in authority."

A prominent Conservative with whom I talked this evening about the report remarked: "If there are negotiations going on, and no doubt there are, you will find they are being conducted right now in Winnipeg and by Sir John Schultz. I believe," he added, "that if he succeeds Sir John will be taken into the Cabinet and Mr. Daly made Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba."

"Then what of Mr. Patterson?" I ventured.

"Oh, he'll not go to Manitoba, anyway. They will probably put him on the bench of the Supreme Court here."

Entries for the Dominion Rifle Association matches are pouring in, giving the secretary and his staff all they can do to keep up with the rush, and giving promise also of one of the largest gatherings of riflemen in the history of the Rideau range. The indications are that the 43rd Battalion of Ottawa will be the corps most largely represented in this year's matches. They will probably have 40 marksmen entered. The 48th Highlanders, Toronto, will also have a large contingent. The Queen's Own will be represented by 18, and the 13th of Hamilton have entered to date 25 men, including Private Hayhurst.

In his statistical researches, George Johnson has happened upon some interesting figures in connection with Canadian newspaperdom. He finds we had last year 819 newspapers and periodicals in the Dominion. Of these 93 were dailies, 35 being morning papers and 57 evening papers. There were 594 weeklies in the country. Nearly half the dailies (44) are printed in Ontario, which has in all 534 papers, considerably more than half the total number in the Dominion. Quebec had 159 newspaper publications, 18 of them being dailies.

As the outcome of the condemnatory character of the Ontario commissioners' report on Ottawa separate schools, the chairman of the French section of the Board goes to Montreal to-morrow with an ultimatum to Brother Flamien, head of the Order. He will request that the Brothers employ three English teachers and introduce the Dominion or Sadlier series of text books. The school term begins on Monday, but unless the Brothers consent to the proposals the school must remain closed until lay teachers can be engaged to replace the Brothers in all French classes, as has already been done in the English separate schools here.

FURTHER OUTRAGES IN CHINA:

An American Mission Near Fuchau Attacked—A Strong Anti-Foreign Feeling.

Hong Kong, Aug. 23.—Information has been received that a mob of infuriated natives armed with weapons of every conceivable kind made an attack a few days ago upon the American missions near Fuchau, and wrecked the chapel and school attached to the mission. Four native scholars attending the school were wounded, but the teacher, an American, made his escape.

The strong anti-foreign feeling which exists in Fuchau is spreading rapidly. The populace parade the streets shouting, "Drive out the foreign devils," and it is not safe for a foreigner to show himself.

The News Confirmed.

London, Aug. 23.—A despatch to The Times from Hong Kong confirms the report of the attack upon the American mission chapel and school near Fuchau, and adds that Captain Newall of the United States cruiser Detroit has gone from Fuchau to Kucheng. The despatch also says that thousands of additional anti-foreign pamphlets and placards have been distributed throughout Canton.

Fuchau or Foo-Chow is the well-known capital of the province of Pokien, on the Min River, about twenty-five miles from its mouth. It is one of the treaty ports, and has a population estimated at about 500 000.

A SITUATION WITHOUT PARALLEL.

Russia and France Have the Whip Hand in China.

New York, Aug. 23.—A despatch from Shanghai says: The situation in Pekin at the present moment is absolutely without parallel, and one cannot see in it a single gleam of hope for any interests but those of Russia and France. Count Kassini is virtually master of the situation, and no move of the slightest importance is made by the Chinese Ministers without first obtaining the sanction of the representatives of the Czar.

As for the American or British Ministers, who were formerly listened to with respect, even if their advice, remonstrances or threats were absolutely fruitless they have been relegated to a position of absolute inconsequence in the realms of Pekin diplomacy.

This is undoubtedly galling to the pride of the two great nations who, up to a few months ago played the most prominent part, and exercised the greatest influence upon the conduct of affairs in China. But it is true.

The Chinese have discovered in Count Kassini a minister who will not be turned off with those soft phrases which are sufficient to befool almost all his colleagues.

Besides, the Russian Minister is supported by his Government, which cannot be said in the case of his American and British colleagues. The position of the British Minister is little short of intolerable. Sir Nicholas O'Connor's instructions under the Tory Government are quite unsatisfactory, nay, as disastrous as under their Liberal predecessors in office.

It was Lord Salisbury's Government which first set the evil example of allowing the massacre of British residents and the destruction of British property in China to pass almost unnoticed in 1891.

British representation in Pekin has sunk almost to the level of a farce and the American is little if any better.

Neither the British nor American Governments commenced to learn how vile treacherous and lying is that jelly-fish organisation, the Chinese Government.

GOOD MOVE TO SAVE HIS NECK.

Murderer Gauthier's Counsel Seek to Commit Him as a Dangerous Lunatic—

Montreal, Aug. 21.—To-morrow morning E. N. St. Jean, Q.C., counsel for Gauthier, the murderer of Miss Consigny, will present a motion in court to have Gauthier committed to a lunatic asylum as a dangerous lunatic Gauthier was discharged from the cigar factory as being a person of unsound mind. An interesting feature is that Rev. Abbe Foucher, vicar of St. Joseph's Church, will be called as a witness to having been called to confess Gauthier a day previous to the murder. He will be asked to testify as to Gauthier's mental condition.

Canned Horse Flesh to Be Inspected.

Washington, Aug. 22.—The Secretary of Agriculture will, in all probability, ask Congress in his annual report to amend the meat inspection laws so as to give the Bureau of Animal Industry the necessary authority to inspect and exercise control over the products of horse meat, similar to that now exercised over that of cattle and swine. The preparation of meat of this sort on the scale recently developed in the Northwest calls the attention of the department to the necessity of an inspection not less rigid than that now placed upon meats of other kinds. As the law now stands the department has no authority.

INJUSTICE TO CANADA.

The Pleuro Investigation at Deptford a Secret.

NO VETERINARY TO VISIT CANADA.

The President of the Board of Agriculture Refuses to Make the Report Public —Scotch Protests of no Avail —Proceedings in the House.

London, Aug. 23.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Walter H. Long, President of the Board of Agriculture refused the demand of Mr. White, member for Forfarshire, that the brief official report of the inquiry into two cases of pleura-pneumonia alleged to have been recently found in Canadian cattle at Deptford, be laid upon the table of the House. Mr. Long, however, offered to supply Mr. White personally with a copy of the report.

Mr. White asked if, in view of the conflict of opinions of Canadian and British experts and also in view of the assertion of the Dominion Government that contagious pleuro-pneumonia had never been known in any part of the Dominion, Mr. Long would accept the Dominion's invitation to send a veterinary expert to Canada to elucidate the facts.

Mr. Long said he did not see that that would be of any assistance. His own view was based upon the actual detection of cases of the disease in England. He saw no need of making any special experiments with the last cases discovered, as the Board of Agriculture was perfectly satisfied with the opinions of their advisers.

Sir John Leng, member for Dundee asked Mr. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury, whether in consonance with the views he had repeatedly expressed he would advise that the Government invite the assembling of an international conference, in order to obtain an agreement in regard to the currency.

Mr. Balfour said he had always been strongly in favor of an international agreement upon the currency question, but that he had no right to pledge his colleagues to such an opinion, nor had he any reason for thinking that such an agreement would result at the present moment from any international conference. A second abortive conference, he thought, would be very undesirable.

Mr. George M. Curson, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, stated that, under instructions Vice-Consul Hampson had visited the district of Assoun, in Armenia, with the object of having the foreign missionaries act in concert in the distribution of food and other supplies for the support of the inhabitants of the villages in their vicinity during the coming winter.

In regard to Christian prisoners arrested by the Turkish authorities, he said, since the decree of amnesty issued on July 23, the prisoners confined in Constantinople had been released, but there was reason to suppose that a number of prisoners were still detained in Angora, Bitlis, Diarbekir and elsewhere, and the attention of the Porte had been called to this action of the provincial governors.

T. P. O'Connor, anti-Parnellite member for the Scotland Division of Liverpool, asked the Government to reconsider the sentence of imprisonment for life on Mrs. Florence Maybrick, who was convicted some years ago of poisoning her husband, who was a well-known merchant of Liverpool. Mr. O'Connor said he did not know of a case that excited more abiding interest and stronger conviction of innocence.

Sir Matthew White Ridley, Secretary of State for the Home Department, promised to give his best attention to the case.

Dr. Tanner, who represents the Middle Division of County Cork, who was suspended for a week for disorderly conduct in the House, reappeared in the chamber to-day, the time of his suspension having expired.

Dublin, Aug. 23.—The Earl of Cadogan, the new Viceroy of Ireland, made his formal state entry into the city yesterday. In reply to the address the new Lord Lieutenant said that he would spare no efforts to promote the material interests of Ireland and expressed the hope that the administration of his Viceroyalty would conduce to the peace and happiness of the country.

Upon his arrival in Dublin he was presented with an address of welcome by the Dublin Chamber of Commerce, but he was not similarly received by the corporation authorities. The streets were lined with military and crowded with sightseers. Taken altogether His Lordship's reception was very cordial.

Dublin, Aug. 22.—Mr. J. P. Farrell, Healyite, was elected to the Parliamentary seat for the west division of Cavan in place of Mr. E. F. Y. St George's Union Elects Officers.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 22.—St. George's Union of North America, in session here, has fixed the place of meeting in 1897 at Utica, N.Y., and elected these officers: President, Edward Trevett, Utica; first vice-president, Percival Ridout, Toronto; second vice-president, Hon. M. P. Neal, Oswego, N.Y.; treasurer, C. Smith, Kingston; secretary, Y. Yeates, Washington; executive committee, John Dunn, Oswego; R. H. Drayton, Toronto. O. A. Howland, Toronto, introduced a resolution looking to the extension of the St. George's Societies. It recommended that local societies increase their usefulness in this direction in their localities and aid in the formation of new St. George's Societies. The resolution was adopted.

THE "THISTLE" MILKER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—When the Hon. Thomas Ballantyne, of Stratford, was in Scotland last spring, he had an opportunity to examine carefully what is known as the Thistle Milking Machine. He was pleased with the work which he saw the machine doing and, being anxious that Canada should be abreast of the times in everything pertaining to the dairy industry, he suggested to the makers that they should send a machine to the Agricultural College, Guelph, to be tested and reported upon.

The machine came, was set up, and run for seven or eight days; and, in the absence of our Professor of Dairying, I beg to submit for the information of readers, a brief report of the results of the test which closed on Friday, the 9th inst.

The Thistle Milking Machine was invented about four years ago by Alexander Shields, M. B. C. M., B. Sc., of Glasgow, Scotland, and is now manufactured in the same city 25 Gateside street, by the Thistle Mechanical Milking Machine Co. The machine has been tested by a number of competent judges in different places, and is now being used by some of the most prominent Scotch dairymen, including Thomas Kerr, Kirkcudbright, who has a herd of 80 cows, Robert Wallace, Mauchline, 40 cows, and Mr. McBride, Garroch Tree, Stranraer, 100 cows. One was put up a short time ago for D. H. Burrel & Co., Little Falls, N.Y., and I believe the only one in Canada is that which has lately been at work in our dairy stable.

The company makes a hand machine to milk four cows at once, and a three horse power machine to milk ten. I have not seen the hand machine, but we have tested the power machine, and I have no hesitation in saying that it does its work very satisfactorily.

The machine is a large air pump of special and peculiar construction of good quality, strong, substantial and well made. It is set on a concrete foundation, made of gravel, cobblestones and Portland cement, 3 feet 3 inches by 4 feet, and 2 feet deep, outside of our dairy stable close to the wall of the building and a short distance from a row of 15 cows, opposite which there is another row of the same number of cows, with a feed passage between. A copper suction pipe passes from the pump through the wall into the stable and overhead to the passage between the two rows of cows. From this main tube, two smaller copper tubes are carried along on top of the stall divisions, one above the necks of each row of cows, and in each stall, at the side of each cow, there is an opening in this cross tube, from which a short piece of smaller copper tube points downwards, slanting towards the passage behind the cows. This smaller piece of tube in each stall is controlled by a stopcock, and to it a rubber tube is attached when milking begins. This moveable rubber tube extends down to a heavy, broad-bottomed tin pail on the floor, and another rubber tube connects the pail with the teat cups which are attached to the udder.

For milking ten cows, ten pails and ten sets of teat cups are used—five for each row of cows, so as to keep the two suction tubes in front of the two rows of cows working at the same time. It, of course, takes less time to milk some cows than others; so, when a cow is milked, the man in charge shuts the stop-cock, detaches the rubber tube, empties the pail into a large milk can standing close by, removes the apparatus (the rubber tube, pail and teat-cups) to another stall, and places them in position to milk another cow. In this way he keeps on moving the pails from stall to stall, one at a time, till all the cows in his row are milked. Another man or boy does the same thing in the opposite row. It is not necessary, however, to milk both rows of cows at once. The ten pails might all be used on one side, in which case one man or a man and boy, could attend to them and keep his eye on the working of the pump.

As stated above, the milk pail is heavy, broad, and low, so that it is difficult to upset. The cover is soldered on and the milk enters through a short and strong glass bottle which is inserted like a cork into the lid at one side, resembling a bottomless quart fruit jar, but only about half the length. By observing the glass bottle, one can see how the milk is flowing from the udder and know when to stop milking.

Owing to the action of a reducing valve which is used for the admission of air at regular intervals, the suction acts in a series of successive pulsations, resembling the action of the mouth of the calf in sucking or the hand in milking, and varying in the proportion of 15 to 5. As the suction increases, the teat-cup contracts first at the top and then gradually downwards to the bottom, forcing the milk out of the teat, and when it reaches the maximum of 15, air is admitted which reduces it to 5, thereby partially releasing the teat and allowing it to fill with milk again. In this way the milking is done naturally, quickly, thoroughly and without any annoyance to the cow. The machine operates more regularly than the hand, hence it is likely to produce better results, and it makes it next to impossible for any kind of dust or dirt to get into the milk during the process of milking.

We used our portable farm engine in making the test, and we found that a man and a boy could milk 26 cows in from 20 to 25 minutes. I think it might be arranged so that one man could milk nearly as many in the same time.

We weighed and tested the milk from each cow as usual and found about the same quantity as was obtained by hand, but a marked fall in the percentage of fat, due, we have no doubt, to the excitement caused by the noise of the machine and the presence of a large number of people in the stable. As the cows became accustomed to the noise, the percentage of fat increased.

I have had no communication with any member of the firm and have no interest to serve in recommending the machine, but I must say that, in my judgment, the inventor deserves great credit for what he has done to remove one of the chief obstacles to successful dairying on a large scale. The only thing to prevent this machine from being extensively used is the cost of the machine and the power necessary to run it.

Yours truly,
JAMES MILLS.

FEATHERED AND FUR GAME.

There has been sport for the fisherman beside the brooks and on the river, but the pleasure has been no greater than that which those will enjoy who will soon visit the marshes and tramp the thickets in quest of duck, partridge and other fowl. The hunting season is fast approaching, and the fowling pieces will come into use again in about ten days.

The close season for duck shooting terminates on the first of September. It will then be lawful for any person to kill four hundred, if he is fortunate in running across them.

The killing of hares is forbidden until the 15th of September, the open season covering a period of three months.

Snipe and plover are protected from the 15th of December to the 15th of September of the following year.

Only two weeks is now allowed for deer hunting, between the 1st and 15th of November.

COLLECTION OF COINS STOLEN.

Mysterious Theft—Two Prisoners Escape But Are Re-Captured—Mixing Scoured Wheat With Other Grades.

Montreal, Aug. 22.—The late Mr. W. L. Bastien's collection of rare coins valued at several thousand dollars was mysteriously stolen from his late residence, 89 Park-avenue, on Saturday night. The collection was Mr. Bastien's life work, and was left by the executors locked up in his late residence since his death about two years ago. Some of these coins were very rare, being the only specimens of their kind.

Two prisoners, who were working on the house being erected for Jailer Vallee procured a ladder to-day, scaled the wall and got away. The guards knew nothing of it until notified by citizens. The men were recaptured about two hours later.

The committee of management of the local Corn Exchange held a meeting this morning to consider the action of the Government in prohibiting the mixing of scoured wheat with No. 1 hard. The order was thought to be good as far as it went, but it was decided to urge the authorities to take a further step in the same direction and absolutely forbid the mixing of scoured wheat with any other grades whatever.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope Is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for Dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to buy the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. THE BIG WHEAT CROP.

Exaggerated Reports of Damage By Frost.

HARVEST DELAYED BY SHOWERS.

Smudge Fires as a Frost Preventive—Reports From All Districts as to the Weather and Progress of the Cutting.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 22.—The morning reports to the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway show that rain fell last night lightly for half an hour at Gladstone, Arden and Neepawa; for a quarter of an hour at Newdale and Strathclair, and for one hour at Birtle and Binscarth. Though light in all cases it will delay harvest operations from half to a day in the districts named. The day broke cloudy and cooler over the whole northwestern and central area.

The harvest is in full swing at all stations except Newdale, Shoal Lake, Langbury, Saltcoats and Yorkton. It is just beginning at Russell. Harvesting is general around Rapid City. No damage by frost could be ascertained by the company's agents.

Private reports to the head office of the Patrons here, show that frosts did damage at Elkhorn, Holland, Balder, Brandon, Rapid City and Emerson. Wheat cutting was well over at the latter place and was well on in Elkhorn. At Miami there is scarcely any damage. It is feared damage will be found at Cypress River and Boissevain, which are both close to a territory which is subject to frosts in certain years.

The slight damage by frost in the province this year had led to a good deal of discussion already as to methods of prevention. Mr. Braithwaite, Patron Grand President, and Mr. Graham, Grand Secretary, are both strong believers in smudging for frost years. They believe that by concerted action among the municipalities on nights when frost threatens (which are at the worst but few in number), to have smudge fires started on each farm, would cover the whole plain in a couple of hours. This has been tried individually here and elsewhere by those who believe in it, and proved successful where given a fair trial. Rev. Mr. Willwood, formerly of Minnedosa, told me he saw ten miles of orange groves in a valley in California saved three nights in succession by smudge fires alone. There was no mistake about it as in the rest of the valley, not so treated, the orange crop was nearly ruined. He said they had plenty of frost there some years, but kept it very quiet.

If frost comes in Manitoba it is heralded over the whole continent and immensely magnified. The trouble is not so much always in the actual damage done, but in the opportunity it gives to grade the whole crop down and it gives a chance to the buyer who finds a dozen grains of frosted wheat in a bushel to grade it one or two grades lower, which makes a big difference in price to the farmers. This is where the shoe pinches the farmer more than the actual damage done. This is the plain truth of the matter. A little frost-damage to our wheat gives big corporations a chance to bear our whole crop unfairly. Another thing is the time when frost comes, if it catches the wheat with bloom on it and chaff loosened, it is very disastrous if at all severe. As an instance, several years ago some portions of the province were caught with a very fine crop in bloom; the heads remained full-looking, but when threshed, yielded only five to ten bushels an acre. Two-thirds of the spill in the lower parts of the head died right out, leaving only the chaff on the head. If the crop is caught ten days before it is ready to cut, if not very severe, it may recover almost entirely. The crop on southern exposed hills, when frosted, if the sun rises clear, will suffer badly. On northern exposures on the same hill the crop may recover, because thawed very gradually. This has been observed by practical men. These remarks on frost are called up by the slight damage done this year; but make no mistake, Manitoba is not on the frost list this year so far, except in name. Practical men think, with increased areas under plow and the country better drained, even the dreaded frost will, in a few years, be reduced to a minimum.

Private reports from Morden show that the crop there may be saved wholly from any suspicion of frost. This is a very important part of the wheat district, and that it is one of the most favored parts of the province is shown by Mennonites selecting their territory there, when they came to the province among the first arrivals in the early seventies. They grow large areas of flax, a good deal of rice and large quantities of wheat.

Northern Pacific reports—Morris to Brandon, mostly clear; partly cloudy to cloudy at rBandon.

Morris—Lowest temperatures last night 53. Heavy rain at Morris alone. Light rain at Miami and elmBont; southerly or westerly winds.

C.P.R. Morning reports—Macleod and Edmonton, cloudy; calm; lowest, 45.
Regina—cloudy; raining; 53.
Prince Albert—cloudy; calm; 45.
Broadview—cloudy; 47.
Brandon—Clear; calm; 53.
Souris—cloudy; calm; 53.
Napinka—Cloudy; calm; 50.
Gretna—Clear; north wind; 57; minimum here last night 54; maximum today 76, yesterday 75; warm day; clouded up this evening.

Walvybank, north of Stonewall, reports some fields of heavy wheat lodged, but that they can be cut. Hay dried up well there. Plenty of hay now.

Five trains, containing over 2000 farm laborers from Ontario will arrive during the night.

Notes.

The Grain Exchange at Winnipeg has asked the Inland Revenue Department to make an order calling the Standard's meeting for some open date betweeen the 15tht of September and 15th of October, subject to the call of the chairman, who will know the best rate on which to assemble.

Mr. Collins, editor of the Northwestern Agriculturist, Minneapolis, admits that next to Minnesota, Manitoba is the greatest wheat country.

White Frost at Picton.

Picton, Ont., Aug. 22.—This locality was visited with white frost last night, but fortunately little damage was done. A few degrees more would have been calamitous, as it would have cut down the hundreds of acres of corn and tomatoes being grown for the canning factories.

Heavy Frost in New York

Ithaca, N.Y., Aug. 23.—Farmers bring reports of a heavy frost last night throughout Tompkins County.

Watertown, N.Y., Aug. 22.—Frosts are reported to have occurred in the northern part of Jefferson County and in St. Lawrence County last night.

RECORD ON THE RAIL.

Mile a Minute is Made By a British Train On a Long Run—Speed in the United States.

London, Aug. 22.—The performance of the new fast train of the London & Northwestern aRilway, which made a new record between London and Aberdeen, inspired the London & Great Northern Company to enter into rivalry with the Northwestern, and accordingly a train was started for Aberdeen over the Great Northern route yesterday for the purpose f smashing the record made the day before. The Great Northern line runs over a different route, and is 18 miles shorter than the Northwestern. The Great Northern train left King's Cross station at 8 o'clock last evening, and arrived at Aberdeen, a distance of 527 miles, at 4.40 o'clock this morning. The Northwestern train started at the same time, and reached Aberdeen, 540 miles, at 4.55 o'clock.

The States' Record.

New York, Aug. 22.—The Empire State Express, which is the fastest regular long distance train in the world, has traveled once at the rate of 112 miles an hour for five miles, and several times at the rate of 100 miles an hour for the same distance. The Empire State Express reels off mile after mile in from 45 to 55 seconds. On the Jersey Central trains are run frequently at the rate of 87 and 90 miles an hour.

There is no stretch of 540 miles in this country like the run from Euston station to Aberdeen, therefore it is hard to make comparisons. The longest runs in the world are between this city and San Francisco, a distance of 3346 miles. The fastest time on this route was the Jarrett-Palmer special. In June, 1886, it made the remarkable time of 3 days 7 hours 39 minutes and 16 seconds. This is at the rate of 43 and a fraction miles an hour for the entire distance, and it included stops, which in the aggregate amounted to several hours. The actual running rate was nearly 50 miles an hour.

This is the most remarkable run ever made in the world. No other train has approached it within five hours. Other remarkable runs over the same route are John W. Mackay and party, 4 days 12 hours and 53 minutes; James L. Flood and party, 4 days 13 hours and 37 minutes; Herman Oelrichs and party, 4 days 16 hours and 30 minutes; and Baron Von Schroeder and party, 4 days 16 hours and 13 minutes. The New York and Chicago limited has traveled the 440 miles between Buffalo and New York in 8 hours and 34 minutes.

The fastest short runs in this country are made between New York, Baltimore and Washington, on the Royal Blue Line. The 11.30 train has on several occasions made the 226 miles in 260 to 265 minutes, including stops. The Pennsylvania Railroad has run a train from Jacksonville to Washington, a distance of 739 miles, in 15 hours 30 minutes, including 24 stops. This is at the rate of 53.29 miles an hour, and between New York and Washington in 4 hours and 11 minutes, or at the rate of 56 3-4 miles an hour.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men to-day who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a sliver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

How Much is in a Name?

There may be a good name on the label, and a very bad wine in the bottle. Have you not found it so? And you paid sweetly for the label, too. Are you aware of the fact that splendid wines, sound, wholesome, old, can now be obtained for $3 and $4 per dozen quarts? Clarets, Burgundies, Sauternes? Or say, half the price formerly asked. The public will no longer pay these long prices. Good wines are now within the reach of the people. Formerly the classes drank wines. Now the masses will drink the light wines of France, eschewing the more ardent and acid liquors, which are hurtful. Looks like a miracle but it is really very simple,—direct and large importations. Address, Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

Last Night's Blaze.

South Ward School.

The extension to the South Ward School has now been raised to one story in height. The new wing will greatly improve the exterior of the school, as well as increase its usefulness through the additional rooms provided for proper grading. Contractor Rutherford is making a splendid job of the work, which is being pushed along rapidly.

Some Beautiful Flowers.

Mr. Head has a fine bed of hydrangeas at the Nicholls Hospital, which is indeed well worth inspection. The blossoms are very large and the appearance presented by the cluster of bushes is a sight not often witnessed. The asters in the grounds are also most beautiful to look at, being almost as feathery and as perfectly formed as a chrysanthemum. Mr. Head will doubtless make a great showing in the prize lists this fall as the result of his attention to the flowers.

Doors and windows should be securely fastened and no encouragement whatever given to glib-tongued strangers. A little precaution taken to-morrow, will have good results.

Don't Be Hoodwinked.

The circus will attract some thousands of people to town to-morrow, and no doubt there will be a few fools in the crowd who didn't know enough to leave their money at home, or in the bank. It would not be wise to recommend assaults as a general thing, but if a glib-tongued stranger tries to induce you to part with a roll of bills for a "consideration," or wants you to sign an "agreement," knock him down and jump on him with both feet. It will cost you far less to go through the police court, and you will have a great deal more satisfaction, than if you yield to his persistent entreaties, and part with your hard-earned money. Then see what fun you would have practising on him, a la Corbett. Don't go within forty rods of a fakir, and don't speak to a man who asks you to do him a favour. If you have money to spare present a cheque to the Public Library or Children's Aid Society.

PRESENTATION TO MR. H. NESBITT BY THE C. O. F.

An Address Accompanied by a Gold Watch and Chain Suitably Engraved.

A meeting of the Courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters of the District was called last evening for the purpose of electing a District Deputy High Chief Ranger for the ensuing year.

The chair was taken by Mr. H. Nesbitt, D.D.H.C.R., but before the business of the evening was entered upon, Mr. F. J. Jamieson stepped forward and stating that as it was understood Mr. Nesbitt declined to again stand for the office, which he had so acceptably filled for the past six years, that the Courts of the District could not allow him to retire without taking advantage of the occasion to let him know that his services had been fully appreciated. On behalf of the Subordinate Courts, Mr. Jameson then read the following address, which was signed by the High Chief Rangers of the different Courts:

Henderson Nesbitt, Esq., Deputy High Chief Ranger, Canadian Order of Foresters, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER.—The Canadian Foresters of the town and county of Peterborough, deem the present an opportune time to express their appreciation of the valuable services you have rendered the Order in this district during the six years that you have held the honourable position of D. D. H. C. R. Not only do they appreciate the services you have rendered to the Order generally, but they recognize the interest you have always taken in Canadian Forestry since its inception in this locality, being among the first to take advantage of its benefits. You have at all times advocated its claims as a Canadian Beneficial Association and have stood shoulder to shoulder with those who were identified with the Order in its early history when it was struggling for a place in public favour.

When you accepted the position you now hold we believe there were but four Courts in this county and immediate vicinity with a total membership of about 300: now there are some fourteen courts with a membership of over 800. This increase is largely due to the energy with which you entered upon the work, gaining not only for yourself a local name, but being on more than one occasion, complimented by High Court for the splendid work that you did for the Order in this section. We know that this work was not undertaken for the pecuniary benefits to be derived from it, but was done out of the love you had for the Order and for the advancement of the principles which have placed our Order among the foremost beneficial Societies of Canada to-day.

Knowing full well that you have spared neither your time, personal convenience nor means in advancing the interests of the Order, we feel that we would be void of gratitude for such noble work did we not express in some tangible manner our appreciation of those services. We have therefore, on behalf of the several Courts within the town and county of Peterborough, much pleasure in presenting you with this address and asking you to accept the accompanying watch, chain and locket as a slight testimony of the appreciation of the services you have rendered our Order in the past and trust that you may be long spared to wear it and that its ticks may ever remind you of the warm place you hold in the hearts of your brethen in the Canadian Order of Foresters in this locality and throughout the Dominion where your good work in behalf of the Order has made your name known among the membership from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Mr. W. Long, Chief Ranger of Juvenile Court Young Peterborough, then stepped forward and presented Mr. Nesbitt with a most handsomely engraved gold watch, with chain and locket attached. Mr. Nesbitt was completely taken by surprise, but made a suitable reply expressive of his appreciation of so substantial a mark of esteem.

Representatives were present from all the lodges of the town and county and made brief addresses relative to the good work which Mr. Nesbitt had done in his capacity as D.D.H.C.R., and to the pleasure they were afforded in being present.

Mr. R. Q. Dench, of Lakefield, received the unanimous nomination for the office of D. D. H. C. R. and was declared duly elected for the ensuing year. The question of forming a District Court was then taken up and discussed and a committee was appointed to meet and formulate a scheme to meet the end desired and to draw up the necessary rules and regulations together with some suggestions regarding the compensation of the D. D. H. C. R., who hitherto has performed his duties without remuneration.

At the close of the business, those present adjourned to the dining hall and partook of the generous hospitality of Court Peterborough.

The watch, locket and chain were all purchased from Mr. W. A. Sanderson.

The watch was inscribed as follows:

BY THE CANADIAN FORESTERS, OF THE TOWN AND COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH,

HE SOLD PASTE AND SOAP

And had a Bad Tongue in his Head Besides.

This morning P. C. Stewart arrested a peddler named John H. Williams, hailing from Montreal, on the charge of having no visible means of support and of insulting a lady.

Williams, it seems, arrived in town a few days ago and offers for sale a soap and paste for removing stains from clothing.

He visited the residence of Mr. T. Guerin, near the packing house this morning and endeavoured to sell his goods. Mrs. Guerin, who is only able to move about on crutches, told him she did not wish to purchase. He then asked for his breakfast, and being refused this, it is alleged that he began using abusive language towards the woman.

The police were notified and P. C. Stewart soon located the man near Mr. G. B. S[illegible]rule's residence.

He appeared before Mr. R. S. Davidson, J. P., at 11.30 to-day and was remanded for a week.

He denied the charge and amidst tears asked to be allowed to go, as he had a widowed mother to support.

WHILE THE WEDDING BELLS WERE RINGING.

Yesterday a Young Man Weds the Girl he Wronged in the Police Station.

Last evening, at the Police Court, a rather interesting scene was enacted, which was viewed by only a few citizens.

Early in the afternoon a young man was waltzed into police headquarters, with the charge of seduction hanging over his head.

The unfortunate young girl in the case resides near Lakefield, while the young man is a resident of the town.

While in the cells he felt pretty keenly the position in which he was placed, and expressed his willingness to do anything to repair the wrong done the young girl, but her mother, it is said, was anxious to push the case.

The affair, however, had a happier termination for the young man. About five o'clock the wronged girl, in company with her sister, arrived at the police station, and a ceremony was performed in which two hearts was made one, and the girl's shame cloaked from public criticism.

Mr. R. S. Davidson, J.P., occupied the magistrate's chair, and Rev. Mr. Cragg, in the presence of a limited number of spectators, united the young couple in marriage.

There was no tears shed during the ceremony, each realising their position, and after the knot had been tied both retired from the court room man and wife.

The hair when not properly cared for, loses its lustre, becomes crisp, harsh and dry, and falls out freely with every combing. To prevent this, the best dressing in the market is Ayer's Hair Vigor. It imparts that silky gloss so essential to perfect beauty.

MORE ABOUT YOUNG PRICE'S SAD DROWNING.

The Boys Were Not Warned of the Danger into Which They Were Running.

The Belleville Intelligencer in its issue of Wednesday evening comments on the drowning accident in the Bay of Quinte as follows:

In one particular we were misinformed yesterday. We stated that the boys were cautioned at Massassaga Point against going on the bay, as it was too rough. This Brooks denies. It is due to Walter Brooks to say that he is a boy of more than ordinary intelligence, and showed remarkable coolness throughout the fearful ordeal through which he passed. As an illustration of this, when they found their boat gradually sinking, each wave adding to the quantity of water in the boat, he presumed that the boat would sink altogether, and as neither of them could swim he saw nothing for them but drowning. It was then there came to him the recollection of having read that if a boat was upset, the air under it would keep it afloat. He told this to David Price and suggested they should try it, as it seemed their only hope. They then both got into the water, turned the boat over and climbed onto it. Just then a stronger squall than any that preceded the many that struck them, raised the waves, increased their power and swept them off the boat. Again, finding that the boat was fast drifting away from the place where his companion had gone down he thought "If I am saved," (which he then very much doubted) "they will want to know where the accident occurred," and he took his bearings—taking Broad's barn, which he was then opposite, on the Prince Edward side and a large tree on the Hastings shore as the line. So well had he observed this that when he was being brought up to the city yesterday at noon he was able to indicate the place.

THE BODY RECOVERED.

Mr. Thos. Brooks received a message from Mr. David Price, of Belleville, this morning stating that the latter's son, who was drowned on Monday last while sailing had been recovered, and that the remains would be interred to-day.

FOR LOVERS OF MUSIC.

We are promised a great musical treat in the month of October. Mr. Bradburn has succeeded in securing the services of the great European violincellist, Charles LeSimple, who will give a concert in the opera house in Peterborough, 17th of October next, assisted by other distinguished artists who names will be shortly announced.

Monsieur LeSimple landed at Montreal in June last and was immediately secured for the St. Patrick's concert, at which his playing excited the greatest enthusiasm. The Montreal Daily Star of June 15th says:—"The feature of the evening was of course the playing of the well-known violincellist, Monsieur LeSimple. He has an European reputation, is a perfect artist, and his masterly manipulation of what to the uninitiated is an unwieldly instrument, was something wonderful. His playing is characterised by all the possible nuances of light and shade, tenderness and fire, and dainty tripping passages. Each number was a separate treat, and was received with tumultuous applause.

In Europe Le Simple is always received with an enthusiastic welcome at every concert at which he appears, and he has frequently had the honour of playing before many royal personages, including Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, who complimented him personally on the manner of his performance.

All lovers of music in Peterborough and the neighbourhood will, doubtless, seize this opportunity of hearing an exceptionally good performance. We congratulate Mr. Bradburn on his public spirit in inviting Monsieur Le Simple to this town, and trust that he will be warmly supported in his enterprise.

ANOTHER DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

But this Time only Four Dollars is Taken.

Yesterday afternoon a tramp entered the house of Mr. Christopher Clemens, Bonacord Street, and coolly marched off with $4 in cash which he had found in a convenient place.

It appears Mrs. Clemens was in another apartment at the time the theft was committed, and was ignorant of the tramp's entrance until informed by a neighbour. She then learned that the money was missing.

The police have been notified of the affair.

The club is bringing several tandem teams from the States expressly to pace the races, and expect to break a number of records from one mile up.

Mr. H. R. Morris, an American class A rider, has entered in all the class A events, except those where the time is not faster in a mile than 2.29 and 1.08 in a half mile. At the circuit races at Owassa, Mich., on Aug. 8 and 9 he took first place in the half mile, one mile and one mile handicap. Mr. W. Pitt of Brampton, Ont., will race in several class A events. The well known Cleveland racing team, F. B. Rigby and V. P. Bernhart, will contest all the class B events.

BRITAIN AND ARMENIA.

Conservative Members Denounce Agitation as Injurious and Unjustifiable.

London, Aug. 22.—In the course of the discussion of the Foreign Office estimates in the House of Commons to-day, James Bryce, President of the Board of Trade in the Rosebery Ministry, said that the reforms which the Government asked to have instituted in Armenia were the last that could be accepted. The position of Christians throughout the East, he declared, was extremely perilous.

Mr. T. G. Bowles, Conservative, denied the existence of any obligation on the part of Great Britain to introduce reforms in Armenia. He complained at length of the extraordinary change which the policy of the Tory party had undergone, declaring that it amounted to a reversal of the best traditions of English policy.

Sir Ellis A. Bartlett, Conservative, expressed regret that the late Government had not taken action to save Japan from coercion at the hands of France and Russia. Referring to the Armenian agitation, he described it as injurious and unjustifiable. The Turkish people, he said, were moderate, temperate and courageous.

Mr. T. M. Healy, criticising the speeches of Messrs. Bartlett and Bowles, sarcastically expressed regret at seeing division already in the ranks of the Conservatives.

Sir John Leng, a Liberal member of Parliament, has given notice that he will ask Mr. Balfour on Thursday next whether the latter, in consonance with the views recently expressed by him would advise the Government to invite an international conference in order to obtain an agreement on the currency question

TRENT CANAL.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—A party of Scandinavins arrived by the Maple Leaf on Wednesday evening, and drove on Thursday to the Balsam lake section of the canal. Messrs. Brown and Aylmer, contractors for the Lakefield section of the canal, have commenced work, and have a gang of men employed under Mr. Geo. Hilliard. Mr. Scrieber, Ottawa, is to be on the ground to-day, Friday, and a number of Italians will immediately commence operations.

[From the above it will be seen that the residents, taxpayers and workingmen of Peterborough are going to be shut out of the great proportion of the work and wages to be earned in connection with this public work. It should not make any difference what colour or nationality a man may be, but most certainly should the workingmen in the locality where the work is being performed be at least given the preference of employment. The Dominion Government and the Conservative party is allowing foreigners to secure employment at the expense of resident Canadian labour are protecting the workingmen with a vengeance. The time for the workingmen to strike will be with their ballots at the coming election, as they will do no doubt.

DISCOVERY OF A NEW SHRUB.

It has a Huge Wedge-Shaped Trunk and Leaves as Strong as Leather.

A wonderful shrub has recently been discovered in the sandy deserts of the South African western coast by the botanist Welwitch. It is called the Welwitchia mirabilis, and belongs to the order of Gnetaceae, or joint firs. The trunk is of tough and very hard wood, but a few inches high, and then spreads out into a flat surface, the circumference measuring from 9 to 15 feet. From the edge of the flat table-like top a great number of band-shaped leaves spread out in all directions. These leaves are strong as leather, and sometimes 6 and more feet in length; they will split lengthwise with age. The blossoms are of a brilliant crimson hue, and are clustered around the base of the leaves, where they form a full wreath around the top. Another peculiarity is that the trunk is wedge-shaped the smaller end being firmly imbedded in the soil.

A Skirtless Female Bather.

In the seclusion that the natatorium grants a woman usually learns to swim in a skirtless bathing suit. Indeed, it would be doubtful if she ever succeeded in mastering the art with the cumbrous, clinging drapery to impede every motion. But when she goes to the seashore and must don the conventional skirt she finds the difference. She has been told that because of its buoyancy it will be much easier to swim in salt water than fresh. When hampered by her skirt she doesn't find it so, however. All her hard-learned knowledge of swimming seems to have vanished. She feels as though she had pounds about her waist. Instead of bravely "striking out" and kicking in the approved froglike fashion, she finds herself making straight for the bottom with all the accuracy of a plummet. After a time she learns to make some sort of headway, in spite of her skirt, but it's almost like learning all over again, and she can never hope to swim very far or fast while so impeded. Every woman who swims longs for a revolution in the swimming costume. There was a clever woman at Manhattan Beach the other day who cleft the natatory Gordian knot in this wise: With her husband she entered the ocean properly skirted. When they reached waist-deep water, the woman calmly unfastened her skirt, took it off and handed it to her husband, who waded back to the beach and left it in the safe keeping of an attendant. Then he waded out again, and the two departed for deeper waters, where the woman proved herself to be quite as skilful a swimmer as her companion. When they were ready to come out the husband again came to the beach, reclaimed the skirt, and took it out to its owner. She refastened it about her waist and waded forth with all the security born of an enjoyable, unimpeded swim and the knowledge that she had not shocked the proprieties.—New York Sun.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

The Last Parade.

I.

They were days to be remembered
When, at sound of trumpet call,
Young recruits we left the village,
Bent on glory one and all.
And the music round us flashing
Made us feel that evermore
Our lives were worth the living
As they never were before.
I remember the day
When we rode all away,
To the dreams that the music made,
And our hopes, one and all,
When the old trumpet call
Rang out clear for our first parade.

II.

It was glorious while it lasted,
But the years went by too soon—
Youth should stay a little longer
When a lad's a bold dragoon.
Then, like shadows from us drifting,
Comrades fell in foreign land,
Home again! the roll-call found us,
But a broken little band.
As we rode down the street
To the old measured beat
It was tears that the music made,
And it seemed like a prayer
For the lads who would ne'er
Stand again by our side on parade!

II.

But the marching days are over,
Veterans! now at ease we stand,
Till the order comes for marching
To the last and restful land.
Only when the troops are passing,
Our ninety years we all forget,
And the old familiar music
Makes us feel we're soldiers yet.
And we're young once again
As we hark to the strain,
Till the sounds in the distance fade.
So we wait one and all
For the last trumpet call
That shall sound for the last parade.
—J. L. Molloy, in Temple Bar.

Tom Reed and His Gloves.

Tom Reed never wears a silk hat. He bought one six years ago and braved public sentiment beneath it for nearly a fortnight, but he couldn't bear the pressure any longer than that. It made him uncomfortable. It didn't fit the bumps on his head, and altogether he didn't think it harmonized with the contour of his face or of his body. Hats have always been a source of trouble and annoyance to him. When he first came to Congress he wore a little saucer-like arrangement with a narrow brim, that made his face look twice its natural size, and gave him generally, a schoolboy air. His friends warned him of that, but they have never been able to induce him to give any particular attention to dress.

It is only lately that Mr. Reed has taken to wearing gloves, except in the coldest weather. The day the print of the tariff bill, with its innumerable committee amendments appeared, Reed walked into the house, hung up his hat, in the cloak room, and began t wander abut the floor, conspicuously holding the bill before him in his gloved hand.

Baker, of New Hampshire, caught on to the queer combination and whispered hurriedly to the Boutelle, "For Heaven's sake speak to Reed! He'll be wandering about here absent-mindedly all day with his gloves on if you don't."

Boutelle sidled up to his big colleague and began to pull his coat sleeve. "Get back into the cloak-room, Tom," he whispered, "and pull off your gloves. You'll have the whole house laughing at you."

Reed turned solemnly upon the Bangor man and held up the bill he was carying. "Charles," he said, "why do you speak with so little consideration? Can't you see that I can't trust myself yet to handle this thing without gloves?"—Chicago Tribune.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 12.—The many cases of marvellous restoration to health from various forms of kidney trouble which have been constantly appearing in the daily press of the Dominion, have for sometime awakened the liveliest interest here, and the remedy by which the cures were effected, namely Dodd's Kidney Pills, are obtaining great celebrity throughout the province. The appearance of the testimonials of Dr. Rose and McCormick stating the benefits which they had personally derived from their use was considered a sufficient sign of the merits of the remedy, and the other interesting and wonderful cases which have since been chronicled has caused the specific to have an exceptional sale.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. Fenwick, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. Wer[illegible] Olympia St., New Orleans, La.

A FENCE GARBAGE-BOX.

If Properly Made It May Fill a Long-Felt Want in Domestic Economy.

The device shown in the accompanying illustrations is used to some extent in Chicago for the disposition of garbage. The writer of this notice has seen at least one similar arrangement in Philadelphia.

The cuts explain themselves. The garbage is put into the box by the servants, and the collector takes it out on the alley side, a hinged device permitting the box to be tilted outwards.

The only objection to the arrangement seems to be the liability to spilling or scattering the contents of the box, but that might be obviated by having the box tilt far enough to allow the garbage to be poured out, as it is out of the ordinary cans.

Of course the box is metal-lined and water-tight, with a cover that fits nicely, so as to prevent the escape of offensive odors in very warm weather.

"Filled Cheese."

The Dairy World tells how this miserable cheat is made, and the morality of it, as follows:

Filled cheese is an imitation cheese made from skim milk, whereto at the curd forming period certain oleaginous matter is added and mechanically taken up in the cells of the curd. In their makeup there is no chemical affinity whatever, no change of constituent elements. The skim milk curds simply holds the added fatty matter, whatever it may be, mechanically. The curd is the capsule, the fat its contents. If heat dissolve, or incision disrupt the covering then the fat exudes. Take a sample of filled cheese and rub it in your hands and you rub out all the fat and separate the curd and its contents. Your hands will then be covered with grease, and the curd which held it will be separate and distinct. A pile of boxes of them in a hot summer's day will drip grease and make a pool of refuse upon the store floor about them as they stand. Practically, the neutral oil and the curd might just as well be served at a table in separate dishes, as to have the oil conveyed to the consumer in the capsule of the cheese curd.

That such a clumsy provision of grease should be supposed to impose upon the "human" is a sorry comment upon the ability of the race to take care of itself. A public that cannot protect itself against such folly is not as competent in the selection and use of food as an intelligent horse, which, if cheese were his diet, could never be fooled by such compounds as these imitations. One thing is certain, the manufacturers of this stuff have always been and always will be severely punished by heavy losses. "Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord, I will repay," has never been more fully demonstrated than in the history of this foolishness, very truly remarks an exchange.

Wonders of California.

California is indeed a wonderful State. Next to Texas it is the largest, not only of the trans-Mississippian region, but of all those represented on Uncle Sam's flag in the galaxy. It is as far from the northern boundary of California to the southern as it is from Madrid to Brussels, and the coast line of the State, without any considerable indentations, is 850 miles long, almost equal to the combined coast line of Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Jersey and Connecticut.

In the north California's climate is temperate; in the south it is almost tropical, and there are regions, particularly the famous "Death Valley," where the heat is constantly as intense probably as anywhere on the globe. The wonderful range of temperature, combined with a truly marvelous fertility of soil, and an abundance of water for irrigation where the rainfall is slight, enables California to grow all the products of the temperate and semi-tropic climates.

Every one knows California as the "Golden State," but her production of cerials is one of the most important elements in her prosperity, and this will be better understood when it is stated that California's annual output of wheat is more than 36,500,000 bushels, of barley more than 17,500,000, of corn more than 5,500,000, of oats almost 2,500,000 and of rye nearly 2,500,000. Besides, California ranks third in the production of hops, the crop of 1890 being more than 6,500,000 pounds.

California is famous as a fruit growing State, and yet few people understand how large is the area devoted to oranges, apricots, lemons, olives and other semi-tropic fruits and nuts, the total being more than 78,500,000 acres. Although her wines are famous, her vineyards do not cover nearly so large an area, the total being about 200,000 acres.

THE GREATEST SPARKLER.

The Excelsior Diamond Traveled Under a Military Escort.

When a diamond is found weighing more than a hundred carats the news is usually heralded with much ado. It is not to be wondered at, therefore, if the finding of the "Excelsior" created considerable excitement. It weighed in the rought 971 carats, and was found near Jagers fountain, in the Orange Free State. When examined it was found to be a white stone of the first water, but had a small flaw in the center. The inspector of the mine, a Swede named Jorgenson, was the lucky finded. The preprietors of the mine, Breitmayer & Bernheimer, had the stone tested and valued by experts, who agreed that the value was $5,000,000. It is a fact that two offers of $3,000,000 and $4,250,000 respectively, have been refused by the proprietors. Upon its transfer to the coast great precautions were taken for its protection. A squadron of cavalry escorted it to the railway station. In Capetown it was placed aboard the British gunboat H. M. S. Antelope, which brought the precious gem to London, where it now rests in the fire and burglar proof vaults of the Bank of England.

The next largest diamond in the world is the one owned by the Rajah of Matan, on the island of Borneo; this one weighs 367 carats. The handsomest of all the large diamonds known is, however, the one in the French collection of crown jewels, known as the "Regent," which weighs 136 3-4 carats. Louis XV. paid 3,000,000 francs for it, but now it is valued at 10,000,000 francs, or $2,000,000.

How much the "Excelsior" will lose in cutting can only be decided by most eminent experts. As a rule, the larger diamonds lose fully one-half of their weight in this operation. Naturally the cutting, which is done with a view to having as few large pieces as possible outside of the main gem, must be carried on with the greatest care. This business is carried on mainly in Amsterdam and Antwerp. In Amsterdam there are at present five large concerns of diamond cutters, with 872 diamond mills or cutting wheels and 3,000 hands, besides a large number of less important concerns.—Philadelphia Record.

That Tired Feeling

Is a common complaint and it is a dangerous symptom. It means that the system is debilitated because of impure blood, and in this condition it is especially liable to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this condition, and also for that weakness which prevails at the change of season, climate or life.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and efficiently on the bowels and liver. 25c.

THE MISSION FIELD In FAR ALGOMA.

THE MISSIONARY'S COMPANION.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionary for the International Mission to Algoma and North-West, attributes his escape from severe illness through summer complaints to the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. He writes as follows: "I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been to me a wonderful, soothing, speady and effectual remedy. It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need.—GEORGE BUSKIN, Missionary.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Oscar Wilde a Bankrupt.

London, Aug. 23.—A statement of the condition of Oscar Wilde's finances shows his liabilities to be £3591, with no available assets. His insolvency is ascribed by him to the failure of his action for libel against the Marquis of Queensberry, who is now a petitioning creditor seeking the payment of the costs of his defence, which the court ordered Wilde to pay. Wilde's income has averaged £2000 a year, chiefly derived from his literary and dramatic work. He has been insolvent two years his expenditures having greatly exceeded his income.

THE BRESLAU MURDER CASE.

Kurschinski, the Accused, Sent Up For Trial By the Magistrates.

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 22.—The trial of Kurschinski for the murder of Jaenerette, near Breslau, before Messrs. Mackie, Aherns and McKay, J.P.'s, took place yesterday.

Apparently the most unconcerned man was Kurschinski himself, who wore a constant smile and a ready eye to look the curious in the face. The only apparent trace of nervousness about him was the picking of his finger nails whilst evidently absorbed in the testimony which was being delivered by the Crown witnesses. There were in all about 15 of such to give evidence.

The evidence adduced was chiefly the threatening language used by the prisoner when Jaenerette forbade his family entering the berry patch. Witnesses swore that Kurschinski declared that if he was not allowed to pick berries in the patch, Jaenerette would pick none. Witnesses swore that Kurschinski said the scratches on [illegible] face, which were visible at the time of his arrest, were caused by a limb of a tree, whereas others were put on the stand who made repeated efforts to test this assertion by endeavoring to produce marks of scratches on their own faces without any result.

The medical testimony described various wounds as found on the deceased, none of which were sufficient, in their opinion, to cause death, except the gash across the throat, which severed the wind-pipe. They expressed the opinion that this was done by an instrument other than a razor, quite probably by a jackknife, owing to the jagged condition of the wound.

This closed the evidence of the Crown, and the prisoner was committed for trial.

Final Day at The Ranges.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—The O.R.A.'s competitions were brought to a close yesterday. The shooting was superior to that of the preceding days. The skirmishing competition was won by the 13th Battalion of Hamilton, with a score of 177, which, however, is below last year's score. Toronto's crack shooters fared badly yesterday, the rural marksmen carrying off every event. There were a few visitors present. The leaders in each event are given below:

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

Manitoba Farmers Must Save Their Crops.

SOME BARLEY ALREADY THRESHED

Some Farmers Have All Their Crops Cut and Safe—Machine Shops Busy on Threshing Outfits—One or Two Points at Which No Cutting Has Been Done.

Portage la Prairie, Aug. 23.—The morning reports from along the line of the Manitoba Northwestern Railway show a warm night over the whole area, with a gentle west wind. It was clear from Neepawa westward, but cloudy eastward. Russell and the west report a fine day yesterday and crops coming in faster than ever, with cutting becoming more general.

No cutting was done at Langenburg or Yorkton, but at Saltcoats, between them, cutting is general. The harvest is fully on elsewhere, except at Minnedosa, where it will be general by Monday.

No frost to-day. The day opened cloudy, but cleared up beautifully and became hot. A passing cloud in the morning trailed a shower of big drops over the plains. It was hot this afternoon. The minimum last night was 48.

The Norwester of Tuesday says: "With fields ripe and ready for the binder, it is to be hoped that farmers will not scruple to push the good work of garnering on Sundays as well as Mondays. No harm will be done in giving the churches a rest for a day or two, and ministers might do worse than turn in and give a hand in the fields. Providence has been good in blessing us with a bountiful harvest, and there is no more practical way in showing our gratitude than by doing our utmost to save it." The probability is that farmers will follow this advice, and that Sunday will be as busy a day as any other. Whether the ministers will turn in is not so certain, but in rural districts their churches will be deserted.

Strathclair Agriculture Society is offering a prize for the cleanest and best farm in the district, which is a most commendable idea. A leading gentleman of the province, of wide experience, scores farmers along the whole drive from Brandon to Killarney on account of the weediness of their farms. In Morden district also, he says the weeds on the farms in many cases were a positive disgrace to both the farmers and municipalities. Plenty of tumbling mustard in that district. It is evident that the weed inspection, although vastly better this year, is far from perfect. The Government will have to make more stringent provisions to check weeds, which flourish readily in the rich soil of Manitoba. Poplar Point District, 20 miles east of Portage, which is farmed largely by half-breeds, has long been an eye-sore and thorn in the side of Portage Plains.

Messrs. Patton and McCaffrey, Winnipeg bankers, and Mr. Galt, a wholesale merchant, have made an inspection of the country between Neepawa and Carberry. They never saw finer crops and were surprised at the great number of kernels in the wheat heads. This district is not as far advanced as some others, but the crop is much heavier.

Hon. S. C. Wood of Toronto and Mr. Russell of Winnipeg drove through from Portage to Brandon, and are well pleased with the crops.

The Carberry Express calls attention to the great number of threshing outfits burnt last year, along with a certain number of stacks of grain in each case. It advises farmers and threshers to take more precautions. It certainly seems as if there was a great amount of carelessness, proven by losses all over the province.

Better stacking is also recommended this year. There have been heavy losses of grain and hay in Manitoba through bad stacking done in a hasty manner.

Rumors are going around about smut in some localities. Small quantities have been found along the C.P.R. territory, but nothing of any importance.

An experimental threshing of barley at Carberry last Friday showed the yield to average 45 bushels per acre, and a splendid sample.

One farmer of Oak Lake has finished harvesting his 500 acres of crop. He had 175 acres cut by Monday night.

Many farmers on Carberry Plains started smudge fires on Sunday night, but there was no frost.

Mr. Rattray of Pipestone several days ago had 500 acres of wheat in stock and the remainder ready to cut.

Martin & Co. are going to rush up a 40,000 bushel elevator at Pipestone. Oats and potato crops in that district are also fine.

Mr. Bayne, of Virden, threshed oats last Monday.

A big rush is on at the machine shops in every town, outfitting the steam threshers.

The sight of 25 or 30 self-binders at work in one field is, in Manitoba, a thing of the past, since the big Sanderson farm at Brandon went to pieces. The scene was revived on the Brassey farms at Qu'Appelle and westward, where blocks ten miles square are operated as one farm and furrows ten miles long were plowed there as a boast. Some of these farms were in a dry territory and the manager had big sprinkling carts made to sprinkle the crops, but in spite of every effort the Brassey farms were a failure and are seldom heard of now. There is a decided tendency to reduce large holdings of wheat land.

The largest field on Portage Plains is 640 acres, or a mile square, bounded on every side by wide roads. The best spectacle that can be seen is nine or ten binders working in one of these mile-square fields. Work begins when the dew is off the grain, usually between 6 and 7. The binders are pulled usually by three heavy horses or four lighter horses abreast. If the clearing swath has not been already cut the first binder drives along close to the wire fence taking a straggling edge of grain, weeds and grass. When fully started the second binder takes the next cut, keeping at a short interval behind the first. The binders come on in succession until the long string of whirring machines is moving like a succession of cavalry squadrons in echelon to the attack. All the horses move at a steady walk, occasionally encouraged by the voice or a touch of the long whip. The whip stands like a flag-staff on top of the binder. The complicated mechanism gives out a dull, rattling hum, sprocket and cogged wheel chains and canvas fly, urged by the one big broad wheel underneath which treads down stubble like a roller. The graceful arms of the reel revolve gently, swaying the tall yellow wheat stalks inwards towards the keen serrated knife which is flying like a shuttle of fate, only this cuts the thread of life. The stalks tremble a moment, then fall in ranks on the whirling canvas, which sweeps them up an incline, over which they fall in cataracts into the hands of the packing machine, working like a pugilist. When a sheaf is full size, the packers give a convulsive hug, the cord needle drives its long beak down into the knotting machine and draws the cord taut, the knotter makes one twisting revolution, cuts the cord and the sheaf falls into the carrier, where it, and others, accumulate until the end of the stook row is reached when they are deposited in one heap by a movement of the driver's foot. This does away with all carrying by men.

At intervals the line halts, the drivers leap down and oil the machine, jerk out troublesome wisps of straw, the horses breathe a few minutes, for the strain is constant, then the line moves on again.

If a breakage occurs the binder wheels out of line, each binder in the rear veers a little to the right and takes up the unfinished cut of its predecessor, then "forward, eyes centre," and the squadrons move on as before.

The passage of 10 binders cuts tracts 60 feet wide, leaving regular winnows of sheafs at right angles to the line of cutting. Stookers move slowly around the field, about three men to two machines, who pick the sheaves, stand them on end in a rough circle like a little Kaffir hut, then put cap sheaves on top, but not always that.

If the grain is lodged in one direction the cutting will have to be all done from that direction, losing a great deal of time. The same thing occurs on windy days, but the field must be badly lodged indeed when the intelligent driver and a good clean-cutting machine won't pick it up. It is remarkable how few straws are left behind. If wheat is very ripe it will shell out badly, and quantities will collect in every nook on the machine and shower on to the ground underneath.

It takes two and a half, sometimes 3 lbs. of cord to bind one acre of wheat. The average cut for a binder with one relay of horses is from 12 to 15 acres per day, but one relay will cut up to 18 acres per day for three or four days, but it wears the horses out. A man who takes proper hours will come out just about as far ahead at the end of the harvest as the rushers. Farmers who have plenty of horses and harness bring spare relays out into the field, tie them up to the wagon where they are fed and watered. Every three hours the horses are changed, and the machines are oiled while the change is made, and no serious stop occurs all day. If the machine runs like that from 5 in the morning till 10 at night, as is frequently done here by some farmers, it will cut over 25 acres per day. Drivers eat their lunch on the machine. Cutting is much heavier in the morning and late in the evening on account of the dew. Some farmers cut right on through the rain. The average farmer begins work between 6 and 8 and quits at 7 in the evening, takes an hour and a half at noon, and averages 12 to 15 acres a day.

Adam McKenzie, east of Carberry, farms 1600 acres, runs 8 binders, having plenty of horses to cut 20 acres a day by each machine. His two brothers on the plains here are big farmers, and run things in the same way. They have plenty of horses and never let up.

John Brydon North Portage, cut 25 acres to-day to-day with two binders and single sets of horses. Drivers and horses do not suffer very much in the clear, dry heat of Manitoba during the long summer days. Sunstrokes are very uncommon, even in the hottest days when the temperature is 90 and 100 in the shade.

Outside reports are all favorable to-day. It is clear to-night and moderately cool with a north breeze.

The hair when not properly cared for, loses its lustre, becomes crisp, harsh and dry, and falls out freely with every combing. To prevent this, the best dressing in the market is Ayer's Hair Vigor. It imparts that silky gloss so essential to perfect beauty.

SCHOOLS IN QUEBEC.

Ninety Per Cent. of the Teachers are Incompetent.

INSPECTORS MAKE REVELATIONS.

Members of the Board of Examiners Unable to Read or Write, Yet These Men Grant Certificates—$300 Per Year the Average Teacher's Salary.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 24.—During the last two days a congress of school inspectors has been going on at St. Hyacinthe, under the presidency of Hon. Boucher De La Bruefe, superintendent of education, and the revelations that have been made regarding the comomn schools of this province should not only kill the agitation in Quebec for separate schools for all time to come in Manitoba, but should also fill the heart of every patriotic son of French Canada with grief and humiliation.

The inspectors are, in fact, an able and educated body of men, and one after another felt obliged to get up in open convention and declare that 90 per cent. of the Roman Catholic common schools of Quebec Province were in the hands of unskilled, incompetent and uneducated teachers. Although the official program plainly stated that none but those holding diplomas can teach in the public schools, yet this is violated day by day, and some of the inspectors said that if it were otherwise hundreds of the schools would be closed the year round.

Mr. Lippens, who is a very zealous educationist, and is inspector for the rich counties of Vercheres, Richelieu and Chambly, told how many teachers had been driven out of the profession by women with low licenses, or none at all, and where districts paid their teachers $400 some years ago they were now getting the work done for $160 by incompetent lady teachers.

Inspectors Murot, Demers and others reported that the average salaries paid in their districts were $60 per annum, and it also came out that the parish of St. Antoine, on the Richelieu, the home of Cartier, and one of the richest in the province, paid exactly $100 to each of their lady teachers per year to educate their children.

This, however, is not the worst feature of the case. Instead of having a central board of examiners, as was universally demanded at the congress, the province is divided up into local boards, where diplomas can be had for the asking. The thing seems so absurd that it can scarcely be believed, but it is stated upon the authority of several inspectors that there are men belonging to their boards of examiners who can scarcely read and write, and that the whole system is nothing more nor less than a screaming farce.

No attention whatever is paid to the uniformity of books used when the congress wanted to make a recommendation on this point, Judge Vallee made a scare speech declaring that this was a point in which the social and religious rights of the people were involved, and the paragraph was consequently dropped from the findings of the convention. However, the inspectors have done good work and as they state themselves the deplorable condition of affairs had to be known some time, and the sooner the cat jumped out of the bag the better for all concerned.

Quebec Province, with a population of nearly two millions, rates $160,000 for her public schools, while Nova Scotia, with a population of less than half a million, provides $200,000 for the same purpose. Most people will think that the real question, if common school education should be fought out, is here on the St. Lawrence and not in Manitoba.

KILLED BY HIS HORSES.

Fatal Runaway at Ridgeway—Three People Injured.

Ridgeway, Aug. 24.—Yesterday afternoon a trunk falling on the heels of the Crystal Beach bus horses frightened them. Charles Buck, the driver, was knocked down and the wagon went over his head, causing injuries which proved fatal. The horses then ran away with the load of passengers, mostly women. All except one passenger jumped and were more or less injured.

Two Fatalities in Buffalo

Buffalo, Aug. 24.—William Cotter, a car checker, lost his balance and fell off the coal trestle, a distance of 75 feet. He landed head foremost, crushing his skull in a horrible manner.

Michael Dwyer, a Western Union lineman, making repairs on top of a 40-foot pole, came in contact with a live electric wire and fell, breaking his neck.

Two Trolley Victims in Brooklyn.

Brooklyn, Aug. 24.—Two more persons were killed in this city this morning by trolley cars.

Said He Would Hang and Did.

Brampton, Aug. 23.—William Varson, a bachelor, 80 years of age, remarked to a neighbor that he thought he would hang himself. Next morning he was found suspended from the ceiling.

Shot Himself.

Alexandria, Va., Aug. 23.—F. A. Reed, a commission merchant, committed suicide to-day by shooting.

A Floater in the St. Lawrence

Montreal, Aug. 23.—The body of a storeman, named O'Dillon Galerneau, was found floating in the river this evening. Suicide is suspected.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber has come and gone. In his capacity of Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer of the department of Railways and Canals, he has made periodically frequent visits to the route of the Trent Valley Canal. It is a pleasant outting at the expense of the ratepayers who pay their taxes with wheat at 50 cents a bushel. The scenery is delightful and the bodily refreshments, liquid and otherwise, are such as would not be disdained by the pampered palate of a well paid government official. But, notwithstanding the numerous inspections that have been made, and, notwithstanding the promising newspaper paragraphs that have paraded the immediate beginning of operations on the Peterborough-Lakefield section, we have it from the best authority that the only work—if that be done this year—will be the "grubbing" and underbrushing, which will give employment to only a small fraction of Mr. Stevenson's "thousand stalwart workmen." We still believe, in spite of the glowing promises of our evening contemporary, that not a pick will be swung this year in the actual and bona fide work of construction. Great is humbug and Haggart is its prophet.

ENGLAND AND THE CHINESE MASSACRE.

It was not to be expected that Great Britain would submit to the refusal of China to allow the British Consul at Foo-Choo to be presents at the investigation into the recent massacre. There is reason to believe that officials were implicated in the murder of the missionaries, as it is known that the ruling classes partake of the hatred of foreigners which led to that act. England protects the lives and liberties of her subjects in every quarter of the world, provided they do nothing to forfeit their rights; and the Chinese must be taught that they will be held to strict account for barbarities practiced upon unoffending strangers.

These outrages are not only an offence against civilization and a breach of international comity, but they are contrary to the principle which the British Government imposed upon China by the treaty of Tien-Tsin, October 24th, 1860, as regards the treatment of foreigners by that nation. No power should be less obnoxious to the Chinese than England. Her relations with the Celestial Empire, since the conclusion of the war of thirty-five years ago, have been friendly and cordial; and her trade with China is by far the most important branch of the latter's commerce.

It is true that Chinese immigrants are not welcomed with friendly eyes in the British colonies, and that they are subject to a poll tax in Canada, Queensland and New Zealand. But it must be remembered that China herself is exclusive, and that Britain has the right of entry to only twenty-four treaty ports even now.

THE New York law protecting telephone messages might with advantage be adopted in this country. It provides a penalty of a fine of $1,000, or six months imprisonment, for any person who wrongfully obtains or attemps to obtain the contents of any telephone message by connivance with any telephone employee, or for any telephone employee who wilfully divulges a message.

THE marriages in England this year have fallen to a level below anything previously recorded in the Registrar General's office. Is this due to the recent trade depression or to the methods of the "new woman." If the latter the sooner she becomes "old" again the better for her chances. By the way it may be noted, as bearing to some extent upon the issue, that ladies will have to make the best use possible of the approaching Leap Year of 1896. There will not be another for eight years in consequence of the rule which excludes every hundredth year in order to preserve the equilibrium of the calendar.

THE sale of oleomargarine as a substitute for butter is increasing so rapidly in the United States that the dairymen are becoming seriously alarmed. It is difficult to estimate the amount sold and used in the country, but the figures of the amount exported show that there is good cause for the dairymen's alarm. The export of oleomargarine rose during the past fiscal year in the States from 4,000,000 pounds to over 10,000,000, while during the same period the export of dairy butter fell off from nearly 12,000,000 to less than 6,000,000. There is no doubt that the greater part of this substitute was sold as American butter abroad.

KIER HARDIE, the English Labour representative, who was defeated at the recent general election, is on his way to America. Herold Frederic, the well known American correspondent, is anxious lest people on this side should pay serious attention to Mr. Hardie. Mr. Frederic denounces him as an empty fraud who won notice in the Commons only by wearing dirty old clothes and a coster's cap, instead of a hat of parliamentary tradition. This would have been forgiven as a part of his general scheme of securing an audience if there had been anything genuine behind his affectations, and people tolerantly waited to see if there was, but in vain. He is a blatherskite, pure and simple.

THE Christian Endeavorers in the United States are going in for politics and the betterment of the government of the country. For this they are blamed, but it must be confessed that, to zealous workers for good, politics across the line, and as a matter of fact on this side also, offer a tempting subject for attack. But the goal the Endeavorers have in view would be sooner reached, so far as they and their methods are concerned by moulding the mind and conscience of the individual American, and training him to do right and avoid the iniquities which make politics disreputable, and endanger the stability of the commonwealth. Another good way for the male members of the associations to do a great work in the purification of the Mephitic political atmosphere would be to take a leaf out of their adversary's book and "pack" those pernicious institutions known as the "primaries." Control those and the downward fall of the ward heeler and wire puller is proclaimed. And with them originates all the political mischief the Endeavorers are essaying to remedy.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men to-day who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a sliver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. IN DEEP DESPAIR.

A MONTREALER RELATES HIS WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE.

He had Tried Foreign and Local Physicians and was Operated Upon Without Success—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured When all Other Medicines Failed.

From the Montreal Herald.

Instances of marvellous cures by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are numerous, but the one related below is of special interest, owing to the peculiarity of the illness, and also to the fact that in the present instances the gentleman is well known in Montreal. Mr. Charles Frank, inspector of the mechanical department of the Bell Telephone Co., at 371 Aqueduct street, and who resides at 54 Argyle avenue, in an interview with a Herald reporter, related the following wonderful cure by the use of Pink Pills. Mr. Frank, who is 25 years of age, is a Russian by birth, exceedingly intelligent, speaks several languages fluently, and is now apparently in good health. "My illness came about in a peculiar way, said Mr. Frank. "Up to three years ago I was in the best of health. About that time while in Glasgow, Scotland, where I was employed as a clerk in a hotel, and while sculling on the Clyde, a storm came up, and I had a pretty rough time of it for a while. I evidently must have injured myself internally, although I felt nothing wrong at the time. On my way home, however, I fell helpless on the street and had to be conveyed home in a cab, as my legs were utterly unable to hold me up. I was confined to bed for several days in the same helpless condition when I rallied, but found that my urine was of a strange reddish hue. I called in a physician who prescribed, but did me no good. I then called on Sir George McLeod, M.D., who also prescribed and advised me to go to the hospital. I was adverse to doing this, and he advised me then to try a change of climate, telling me that my bladder was affected. I acted on his suggestion as to change and came to Montreal. I did not do anything for about a year, as I wished to get cured. All this time my urine was tainted with blood, although I was suffering no pain, but this abnormal condition was a source of continual anxiety. I finally went to the General Hospital, where the physician in charge advised me to stay, which I did. After remaining there for five weeks with no benefit, a consultation of physicians was held and operation suggested, to which I this time agreed. After the operation was performed I was no better, my condition remaining absolutely unchanged. From this out I was continually trying medicines and physicians, but derived no benefit from anything or anyone. I was in despair, as the physicians who had operated on me could not decide as to my trouble. I visited the hospital once more, and they said they would operate again, but I did not care to undergo a second and perhaps equally unsuccessful operation. Some physicians thought my trouble was consumption of the bladder, others that it was Bright's disease, but could not cure that strange bloody condition of my urine.

"Finally I went to work for the Bell Telephone Co., some two years ago, where I worked myself up to my present position. But I was in a state of constant anxiety, as I felt myself getting weaker all the time, and was listless and sleepy and very weak in the legs. I was also pale and looking, no doubt, owing to loss of blood. From a naturally cheerful man I became morose, and gave up all hopes of ultimate recovery. One Saturday, some months ago, while walking along Bleury street, having seen the advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the Montreal Herald, I stopped at John T. Lyons' drug store, and bought a box. I had tried so many medicines that I said to myself, 'If they don't cure me I can't be any worse off than before.' After taking the first box I felt stronger and more cheerful, although there was no change in the bloody condition of my urine. But I felt encouraged and got three more boxes, determined to make a thorough trial of Pink Pills. When I had finished the second box I found my urine was getting clearer, so I continued the use of the pills, taking two after each meal. When I had finished the third box my urine was quite clear, for the first time in three years. I was delighted, and continued taking the pills until I had finished six boxes. I am strong now and have had no recurrence of the trouble, and as you can see, the flush of health shows itself in my face. To think I was cured by the use of $2.00 worth of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills after trying a number of physicians and undergoing an operation in vain is a puzzle to me, and I am sorry that I didn't know about this grand medicine before. I would have willingly given $200 or $300 to have been guaranteed a cure by any one."

"I am willing," said Mr. Frank, in conclusion, "to see anyone who wishes to verify this interview, as I consider it my duty to my fellow-men and a matter of gratitude to the marvellous cure their medicine has effected. I have come to the conclusion that Pink Pills are the best blood builders in existence, and I think everyone should try them."

UNVEILING CHENIER'S MONUMENT.

The Statue to Be Unveiled in Montreal To-Day—Steamer Terrebonne Again Afloat.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 24.—The monument which had been erected in Vigor Square, St. Denis-street, to perpetuate the memory of Dr. Chenier, who fell at St. Eustache while fighting Sir John Colborne's troops, will be unveiled Saturday. The monument is not a very imposing affair, and although the cost will not exceed $4000 it has been laborious work collecting the money and there are a good many patriots, so-called, when they are called upon to contribute to a monument find this changes the aspect of things altogether, and, in fact, if Hon. N. Clarke Wallace had not remitted the $400, which had been paid in duty, the bronze statue to poor Chenier would not yet be ready for unveiling.

The Laval University authorities will take possession of their fine new building in a few days, but the formal opening will be postponed to the 1st of October.

The steamer Terrebonne, which grounded coming down the Cascade rapids last evening, has been got off, and will be sent to Sorel for repairs. The passengers arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning and left for Quebec to-night.

PARCEL POST SERVICE.

Britain's Determination to Establish Such With the United States

London, Aug. 24.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Robert W. Hanbury, Financial Secretary to the Postoffice Department, stated, in reply to a question by Mr. J. Henniker Heaton, that it was the intention of the Government to follow up the efforts of their predecessors towards the establishment of a parcel post service between the United States and Great Britain.

Sir John Leng, member for Dundee, asked whether the Board of Trade could not control the speed of railway trains which were now racing daily between London and Aberdeen. The extraordinary speed attained by these trains, he declared, was certain to result in a terrible accident.

Mr. Charles T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, replied that the Board had no power to interfere in the matter. The public, he said, must rely upon the common sense of the railway companies.

Sir John Leng, Liberal member for Dundee, said he did not believe there was any true or solid ground for excluding Canadian cattle from Great Britain.

The Right Hon. Walter H. Long, President of the Board of Agriculture, defended the prohibition of the importation of live cattle from Canada. He remarked that the numbers of home cattle reared in Perthshire, Forfarshire and Aberdeenshire, where the exclusion of Canadian cattle was condemned, were very small compared with those raised in the remainder of the country, where the exclusion was supported.

MURDERED BY BURNING.

A Woman Accused of Killing Her Sister For $7000 Life Insurance.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 24.—Miss Lora Perkins has been arrested on a charge of killing her sister, Mrs. Lota Hawkins, by setting her on fire, Aug. 9, for the sake of $7000 life insurance. The warrant was sworn out by Dr. Todd, medical inspector of one of the insurance companies. It had been supposed that Mrs. Hawkins met her death by accidentally overturning a lamp.

Small Blaze in Amherstburg

Amherstburg, Ont., Aug. 23.—Fire in a barn owned by J. G. Mullen adjoining the coal docks looked serious for a time to-day. The fire spread to Dr. Parks' barn, which, with contents, was consumed. O. W. Shipman's coal sheds also caught, but the fire was kept away from the coal piles on the docks.

Fifty Buildings Burned By Lightning.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Just now, nothing seems impossible in the line of economy. But the TRUTH about low values is hard to comprehend. Anything less than ALL the facts concerning OUR goods and their values would be unjust to the public.

You cannot always buy so many kinds of goods at and below cost as we offer you now. Your best economy is to invest your money in wisely selected goods at present prices at this store. Listen:—

Frightened at the Elephant.

This morning while the circus parade was passing the market square a team of horses became frightened at the approach of an elephant. One of the horses in its effort to escape ran into Mr. Geo. Woods, of South Monaghan knocking him down and tramping on him. Fortunately no bones were broken.

A New Windmill.

Some Comfort After All.

"Well," said the camel in the circus parade this morning, "there is some comfort to me after all."

"What do you mean?" asked the elephant.

Just then the steam organ piped "Sweet Marie," and the elephant dropped a tear.

Experienced Safe Blowers.

A couple of Englishmen who, it is said, are working in the track of the Sells circus are supposed to be the men who have been operating on safes in Grayenhurst, Newbury, Blair and other villages in the province. Detective Rogers of Toronto has been endeavouring to locate them but returned to Toronto on Saturday without having been able to find them. The authorities say the men are desperate and experienced safe blowers.

A CRUEL AND UNTIMELY JOKE.

Firemen Called Out in the Rain for Nothing.

Shortly before twelve o'clock, last night, the fire bell pealed forth its shrill and the members of the brigade were called out in the descending rain for a long run up Charlotte street to Park from which point the alarm was sent in.

No fire could be observed in the vicinity nor was there anyone around to indicate just where the presence of the destroying element was to be located. An examination of the box showed that it had been forced open and the firemen realized that they were the victims of a cruel and illtimed hoax. The box was at once disconnected and hereafter no alarms can be sent in from this section of the town. There is no other step to be taken, but to follow out this course of action in regard to all boxes which are forced in this manner.

Peterborough should have a proper fire alarm system, provided with iron boxes which cannot be forced, and until those are secured several sections of the town will have to remain practically unprotected from fire, as all the boxes which have been forced in this manner have been disconnected, and probably the best way to settle the difficulty would be for the residents in these sections to petition the Council to provide iron alarm boxes.

LAST NIGHT'S BAND CONCERT.

An Excellent Programme Furnished by Bandmaster Miller.

The programme given at Inverlea Park last evening by the Fire Brigade Band was indeed enjoyed by those who spent the evening at the park.

The progamme opened with Sousa's "Beau Ideal," which, of course, was well received, but the treat of the evening was the rendition of Clement's polka "Little John," as a cornet solo by Mr. John Miller. His execution of this number was faultless, the clear, mellow notes produced by the artist being greatly admired.

The two waltz numbers on the programme were also executed with skill and taste by the members of the band.

Wise Old Fellow.

A good tea at any price suited him. He always shut his eyes to the price. He was wiser than some people who imagine if they do not pay a big figure they cannot get good goods. There are exceptions to all rules. The exception at the present time is a regular forty cent tea for the low price of twenty-five cents. Ooh-k-ooh is the name. Big sales and steady sales tell it is a good tea. Remember we are selling this 40c. tea for twenty-five cents. 370 George street, Peterborough. Stroud Bros., direct importers. A Good Parrot Yarn.

A man whose niece had coaxed him to buy her a parrot succeeded in getting a bird that was warranted a good talker. He brought it home, and, after putting it in a cage, stood before it and said: "Say uncle, Polly!" The bird did not respond, and after repeating the sentence a dozen times or more with no better success, the uncle put his hand into the cage and, grabbing the bird by the neck, shook him until his head wobbled around, all the time yelling to him: "Say uncle, darn you, say uncle!" The bird looked limp and lifeless, and disgusted with his purchase, the old fellow took the parrot out into the yard where he had a coop of thirty chickens. Thrusting the half-dead bird in with the chickens, he exclaimed: "There by gosh! You'll say uncle before you get out!" Next morning the uncle went out to see how the parrot was getting on. Looking into the coop he counted twenty-nine dead chickens, and in the centre of the coop stood the parrot on one foot holding the thirtieth chicken by the neck and shaking it till its head wobbled, and screaming: "Say uncle, darn you, say uncle!"

Literary Note.

The important position held by the Supreme Court of the United States in the recent income tax decision and the well written and timely article by Paul Egremont, in the September Nickell Magazine should be read by everyone who wishes to understand the American system of government. In connection with this article, there are fine portraits of the present Justices, and of Justice Jackson who recently died, with short biographical sketches; one cannot but be impressed by the intellectuality, strength of mind, and judicativeability possessed by the Justices, as shown by these pictures. There is also in this number an interesting description of the Natural Bridge of Virginia, which, though second only to Niagara Falls as a marvel of nature in America, is rarely visited and but little known. Six superb reproductions of modern paintings are also given and an interesting article by Mildred Aldrich, of "Striking Novelties in the Play-house" for the coming season, in which portraits of Julia Arthur, Sarah Bernhardt, Duse, Ellen Terry and others are given. Besides these leaders there are several good short stories and poems and some remarkably good editorials on timely topics. All these good things for 5 cents make the September Nickell a veritable marvel.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY EXHIBITION.

Remember its Date is August 29th.

Thursday, August 29th, is the date of the annual exhibitaon of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society, which will be held in the Market Building. It is to be hoped that the public will bear in mind this occasion. The Society is deserving of the most liberal encouragement, apart from the merits of the exhibition, which invariably presents important attractions. To the efforts of the Society, and the example of individual members, is largely due the increased taste in arboriculture and floriculture, whose practical manifestation has made Peterborough one of the best wooded towns in Ontario, with the finest lawns and parterres. Other minor cities and towns may have a few fine streets, but all the streets of Peterborough are well fringed with shade trees. It is no doubt due to the spirit fostered by the Horticultural Society that this condition exists. The Court House Park, one of the most delightful of its kind in the Province, owes its beauty very largely to the Horticultural Society which has had it in charge for several years. These considerations should influence our citizens to extend a liberal patronage to the annual exhibition of the society Thursday afternoon and evening, August 29th.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD.

The Separate School Board held a special meeting on Thursday evening to consider the applications for the vacant position of principal of the boys' school, Murray street. There were eleven applicants for the position, some of them being among the best known and most successful Separate School teachers in the province, Mr. Lucius R. Keogh was selected for, and has accepted, the position. Mr. Keogh though a comparatively young man, is a teacher of experience; he is an undergraduate of Toronto University, and at matriculation he took honours in English, Mathematics, Science, History and Geography. He is a graduate of the Ontario School of Pedagogy and holds a High School Assistant-Master's certificate, as well as a certificate of qualification as a first-class Public School teacher. Together with this the Board has received the most flattering testimonials as to his ability, integrity and success in his profession.

A LAKEFIELD LOCHINVAR.

He Steals a Peterborough Girl, and Marries Her—His Honeymoon Cut Short by the Arrival of a Town Baseballist, Who Claims Her as His Own.

Cupid is a curious old customer, after all, and often brings about strange transactions in the matrimonial line.

Last Monday a young girl, well known about town, was married, it is said, at Lakefield, while on her finger she wore an engagement ring presented to her by a local baseball enthusiast who loved her dearly, and whose purpose it was to marry her.

The young man was dumbfounded on learning of the marriage of his sweetheart to another rival in Lakefield, and swore vengeance on the man who threatened to blight his future.

Accordingly he left for Lakefield on Tuesday, with blood in his optic, and determined to rescue his loved one.

On arrival at the village he started on the search for the disturber of his love dreams, and was not long in locating him, together with his sweetheart.

Though it is said the Lakefield Lochinvar forced the girl to marry him with a shooting iron, and was a regular fire-eater, that did not prevent the chivalrous baseballist from facing the man with the gun. Thoughts of blood-curdling baseball contests on the diamond, with which he was connected during his past life, came into his mind, and with teeth firmly set and clenched fist, he stood between the two and assuming a dramatic attitude, asked the girl which of the two she preferred. It did not take long for her to decide. Straightway she made for the auburn-haired baseballist, who clasped her to his manly bosom and bore her away from the man who attempted to rob him of his enamoured one.

The young girl was brought to town by her rescuer, and, it is understood, was placed in a local institution until such time as she recovers from the nervous shock she received through this strange matrimonal venture. The young man says the girl was hynotised by his almond-eyed rival.

The affair was witnessed by a number of Lakefield citizens, and is said to have afforded considerable amusement. This, however, is not the young girl's first experience in this line.

The Peterborough young man says the marriage does not hold good and intends to take the necessary steps to have the ceremony cancelled.

You will find a box of Ayer's Pills an excellent travelling companion. For costiveness, indigestion, sick headache, and nausea, they are prompt, safe, and efficacious. Taken in season, they may prevent serious illness and vexatious delay and disappointment.

"Bessie Costrell,"—A Recent Addition to the Public Library.

The recent addition, to which reference is made above, is a small and insignificant little volume, whose contents could be easily perused in any evening's reading, nor is there anything very attractive or startling in the title, "The Story of Bessie Costrell." But "things are not always what they seem," and value is not always in proportion to either appearances or size, and when we read on the title page that Mrs. Humphrey Ward is the author, we are, without going further, assured that we shall be both interested and instructed. For Mrs. Ward's work is on a higher plane than that of any other living novelist. When she was first compared to George Eliot, an earnest protest was made by those who could not be expected to experience again the surprised delight with which they first devoured

AND THEN LINGERED OVER,

"Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," and "Silas Marner." But it is becoming clearer that George Eliot is the only author with whom Mrs. Ward can be compared.

Mrs. Ward's forte consists in the delineation of character, as it is shaped and formed under the pressure of the circumstances of the present. It is a commonplace with the preacher that there are silent tragedies, crises, defeats and victories within the human soul, no less real than in the realm of outward history. It is with these that Mrs. Ward deals, and it is a signal tribute to her genius, that although during the past few years the tide has been steadily swelling in favour of romance, rather than of the novel of inward experience, that Mrs. Ward has achieved a series of unbroken success that have placed her in the foremost of living writers.

IN "BESSIE COSTRELL"

we are not confronted with the problems of faith or society. We are not shown how a sensitive, truth-loving, highly intellectual, but somewhat weak and impatient soul will act under the stress of the first assault of the artillery of Strauss and Renan against the outworks and citadel of Christian faith, as in "Robert Elsmere; nor with the heroic and finally successful attempts of one who has never had a creed to establish for himself a faith whereby he may live "to the spirit, and not to the flesh,' as in "David Grieve"; nor with the strivings of a beautifully receptive soul to probe to the bottom of the social questions which agitate society, to know the rights and wrongs of squire and poacher, as well as capitalist and workman, as in "Marcella"; but we have a very commonplace story painted in

VERY COMMON-PLACE COLOURS.

Bessie Costrell is very commonplace woman. Not because she is born in a low station of life, for commonplace women and men too, are to be found in every station, but because she has never in any way fought out the problems of her own circumstances, nor shaped her bark's course to meet the varying winds of life's influences. She has, as a great many people do, (and seem to think it rather clever) "taken things as they come." She was a pretty girl, and attracted the attentions of a very uncongenial man, but "taking things as they come," she took him. They are not exactly unhappy, but they are as entire strangers to each other's inner life as though they had never met. Isaac Costrell is a good man, a man of character, profoundly religious, with, unfortunately, the gloomy type of religion, but a man of

GODLY, RIGHTEOUS AND SOBER LIFE.

Bessie Costrell is easy-going, superficial, adopting easily the manners of her society, and the faith of her husband, without digesting them and transferring them into the fibre and muscle of her soul.

All goes well so long as life itself is commonplace, and no strain of temptation is placed upon the frail structure of her character. Some people, but probably not many, go through life without encountering any thorough testing of the stuff they are made of. The commonplace character wears very well in commonplace trials, in some respects even better than the extraordinary. It is the crisis! "the fire that tries every man's work," that reveals the real man. Bessie Costrell's trial is to dishonesty. Opportunity is placed in her way, and she irretrievably falls. Had she really known her husband, or had her husband really known her, the last sad act of the tragedy might have been averted. Isaac Costrell was a good man, but Bessie was when she wrote in her last letter, "Isaac, yer a cruel husband to me, 'an there's no way fer me but the way I'm goin'; I can't bear the way as you speaks to me an' looks at me, an' I'll never go to prison."

NOT altogether wrong

The moral of the story is clear. We must not build our character only for fair weather, but for foul. We must dig foundations and put in good stuff against the storms that will surely come. The moral is an old one, and stamped with the seal of Divine approval: "Everyone, therefore, that heareth these sayings of mine and doeth them shall be likened unto a wise man that built his house upon a rock, and the rain descended and the floods came, and beat upon that house, and it fell not; for it was FOUNDED UPON THE ROCK."

There is a voice of sadness in this as in Mrs. Ward's large books. But this is true of all the greatest writers, at least in their greatest works. It is in "Hamlet" and "The Tempest," in "Sartor Resartus," and "Past and Present." It is in "The Ode to Immortality" and "In Memoriam." It has been traced even in the sermons of the always hopeful Phillips Brooks. Nay, it is in St. Paul and the greater than Paul, "the man of sorrows and acquainted with grief." But none of these were pessimists, because they all had faith. "All things work together for good to those who love God."

"O yet we trust that somehow good shall be the final goal of ill."

"My own hope as a sun shall pierce
The darkest cloud earth ever stretched."

These are the words of men who have not evaded the shadows, but like Christian have gone into the Valley of Humiliation, and looked Apollyon, the Destroyer, in the face and through the Valley of the Shadow of Death; and with Christian have found "the pathway so dark that oftentimes when he lifted up his foot to step forward, he knew not where or upon what he should set it next." Coming to a place where he thought he heard a company of fiends coming forward to meet him, he stopped and began to muse what he had best to do. Sometimes he had half a thought to go back, then again he thought he might be half way through the valley. Now, he

RESOLVED TO GO ON.

Yet the fiends seemed to come nearer and nearer; but when they were come even almost at him, he cried out with a most vehement voice, 'I will walk in the strength of the Lord God,' so they gave back and came no further."

"No human life," concludes Mrs. Ward, "would be possible if there were not forces in and around man perpetually tending to heal the wounds and bruises that he himself makes. Misery provokes pity; despair throws itself on a Divine tenderness; and for those who have the grace of faith in the broken and imperfect action of these healing powers upon this various world, in the love of the merciful for the unhappy, in the tremulous but undying hope that pierces even sin and remorse with the vision of some ultimate salvation from the self that breeds them; in these powers there speaks the only voice which can make us patient under the tragedies of human fate, whether these tragedies be "the falls of princes," or such meaner, narrower pains as brought poor Bessie Costrell to her end.—ED. SELLS BROS. CIRCUS HERE.

Their Menagerie is a Great one, and the Proprietors Tell the Truth.

Say, shorty, did you see the baby hippopotomus?' This question was asked by the small boy on all sides this morning.

Sells Bros. great circus began to arrive in town shortly after midnight, and by five o'clock this morning the last train load of circus effects steamed into town.

The circus is indeed a great one and Sells Bros. are following up the claims they advertise of having the largest menagerie that ever visited the town.

Their collection of animals is a wonderful one, and embraces every species. This is their first visit to Peterborough, although they have been on the road for the past twenty years.

Yesterday they showed in Lindsay and the Post describes the circus as the biggest, the cleanest, the purest and most respectable show ever seen in the town.

The town to-day is crowded with people from the surrounding district, and the parade this morning, which was indeed a brilliant one, was viewed by thousands. Sells Bros. will give two performances today on the Driving Park, one this afternoon and one this evening.

How Much is in a Name?

There may be a good name on the label, and a very bad wine in the bottle. Have you not found it so? And you paid sweetly for the label, too. Are you aware of the fact that splendid wines, sound, wholesome, old, can now be obtained for $3 and $4 per dozen quarts? Clarets, Burgundies, Sauternes? Or say, half the price formerly asked. The public will no longer pay these long prices. Good wines are now within the reach of the people. Formerly the classes drank wines. Now the masses will drink the light wines of France, eschewing the more ardent and acid liquors, which are hurtful. Looks like a miracle but it is really very simple,—direct and large importations. Address, Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

CANADA MAY PROTEST

OFFICIAL INDIGNATION AT OTTAWA

The Alleged Pleuro Cases at Deptford Based on False Diagnosis The Report of Mr. Angers Not Answered By the Home Authorities

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 24.—The announcement in the British House of Commons, by Walter Long, the new President of the Board of Agriculture, that the examination of the lungs of Canadian cattle showed unmistakable traces of pleuro-pneumonia, thus precluding all hope of raising the embargo against Canadian cattle in England, is a source of serious dissatisfaction to the Agricultural Department here. "It is a conclusion," said a prominent officer yesterday, "which Prof. McEachren believes has been reached upon an altogether insufficient diagnosis. The appearance described by the Board of Agriculture in the case of the lungs of these two animals, does not at all establish the presence of pleuro-pneumonia. There is even less ground to believe these cases to be pleuro-pneumonia than there was in those so successfully contested by the report of Hon. Mr. Angers last year, a report which, by the way, has not been answered to this day or even laid before the British House of Commons. It is believed that the case referred to in the Commons yesterday (that Deptford case) will utterly break down under a touch of professional criticism.

CHINESE ENQUIRY A FARCE.

A Commissioner Appointed Who is Accused By the Missionaries of Inciting the Looting and Murder.

London, Aug. 24.—A despatch from Shanghai to The Pall Mall Gazette says the Chinese Government has made a most extraordinary appointment in connection with the outrages upon the English missionaries. The formerly degraded Liu, who is generally regarded as the actual originator of the Chang-tu riots, has been definitely appointed Imperial High Commissioner to investigate the circumstances which led to the outbreak and the facts connected with the outrages themselves. The appointment has caused the utmost dissatisfaction and indignation among the foreign residents.

A despatch to The Times from Shanghai confirms the report that Liu-Ping-Chang, formerly Viceroy of Szu-Chuan, has been appointed Imperial High Commissioner to investigate the recent outrages.

London, Aug. 23.—The Globe, in an article on the recent attack upon foreign missionaries in China, says: "If outrages such as have occurred near Foo-Chow, as reported yesterday, can take place with impunity near a treaty port where foreign consuls are stationed, what may happen in the outlying stations throughout the country? The refusal of the Chinese to permit European consuls to assist in the enquiries into these outrages must have convinced Lord Salisbury that it is useless to expect satisfactory proposals from the Yaung-Li-Yamen. The court which tries the perpetrators of the outrages must be composed of the English and American consuls, with European co-adjutors, and attended by an effective escort of British and American sailors; not only to protect the tribunal from violence, but, if necessary, to carry its decision into effect."

Commissioner Li Hung Chang's Bad Record.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The news from Shanghai that Li Hung Chang, the degraded Viceroy of Szu-Chuan, had been appointed Imperial High Commissioner to investigate the outrages on the English missionaries, has not been confirmed officially through any despatch received at the State Department, but when such confirmation does come the resentment of this Government is likely to be made known in such a manner that China will realise how much in earnest the United States is in bringing the Kuchang massacre to a conclusion satisfactory to this country.

Mr. Jernigan, the United States Consul-General at Shanghai, reports in regard to the looting at Cheng-Tu and other mission stations that the Viceroy would give no protection to the missionaries because "As he had been disgraced and was soon to be recalled, he was bent on giving a parting hit both to the foreigners whom he hated, and the Government." When the flames burst out in the Roman Catholic Bishop's house at Chen-Tu, scarcely a stone's throw from the Viceroy's yamen, the Viceroy is said to have remarked that this was a matter for his successor to attend to. According to Lenir, it was only after everything had been quite destroyed the Viceroy made an effort to restore order. In the meantime, having sent out telegrams that a mutilated child had been found with the result that nearly all the natives believed the story, when the Cheng-Tu riots took place it was claimed that they were instigated by the Viceroy, who was alleged to have spread stories that the missionaries were killing children.

A LADY OF WATERFORD COMPLETELY CURED.

Suffered for Two Years from Indigestion and General Debility.

Unable at Times to Attend to Her Household Duties.

Treated by Nearly All the Doctors in the Town Without Relief

"Six Bottles of South American Nervine Cured Me," Says Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., Over Her Own Signature.

MRS. D. A. GRAY, OF WATERFORD, ONT.

Certain dates are epoch making. They mark transitions in the individual life that are never forgotten. Their impress may be pleasant or sad, or both. As Mrs. D. A. Gray, of Waterford, Ont., an estimable and highly respected resident of that community, goes back in memory to the year 1893, her recollections are not of the most roseate character. Can there be anything rosy to one who is a victim of indigestion? All is sombre and sadness. But there was a silver lining to the cloud, as we shall see. Previous to 1893 Mrs. Gray tells us she had been troubled very much with indigestion and general debility for a period of nearly two years. Hers was no ordinary case. At times she was prevented altogether from attending to her household duties. Waterford has a number of skilled physicians in its midst and their services were called in, but in her own language, "I cannot say that they relieved me in any way." An era of joy was ushered in when her mother read the story of a cure by South American Nervine in a case where the symptoms, as Mrs. Gray says, "seemed to be exactly like her own. I bought a bottle and found much relief. After taking six bottles I was cured." The date was an epoch making date in this lady's life.

What the symptoms of Indigestion are too many know. What the trouble is in its worst forms thousands know. People lament the spread of insanity in the present day. How far removed from loss of reason is a case of aggravated indigestion? The world is every such victim is blue enough, black enough, so uninviting and depressing that no wonder they are beside themselves. And yet the remedy is within the reach of all. That great discovery, Nervine, will cure the most desperate case of indigestion, debility or nervousness. You ask for evidence. A cloud of witnesses in the Dominion of Canada are ready to testify, and anon, to the testimony of Mrs. Gray. Why suffer, fellow-citizens, friends and brethren?

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. Fenwick, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. Wer[illegible] Olympia St., New Orleans, La.

ELECTRICAL GIANT.

NINETY-TON LOCOMOTIVE READY TO DRAW PASSENGERS AND FREIGHT.

Lightning Versus Steam—An Engine Which Pulled a Steam Iron Horse Up and Down the Track at Will—Its Dimensions and Power.

In these days of electrical inventions nothing new is surprising, especially in the matter of transportation. It is scarcely seven years since the first successful demonstration of the adaptability of the electric motor to city transit and yet to-day there is at Baltimore an electric locomotive vying in size, power and speed with the heaviest steam locomotive in existence. This ponderous machine, for it weighs ninety-six tons, is the first one completed of two being built by the General Electric Company for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. It is to be used in the new tunnel at Baltimore to draw both passenger and freight trains. The electrical service will not be put in complete operation until the second machine arrives.

The test of the first completed truck, representing one-half of the locomotive was recently made on the racks at the Schenectady shops of the General Electric Company. In order to obtain the necessary load a heavy six-wheel engine was made use of and the electric locomotive truck coupled to it. The machines were then sent in opposite directions tugging at the connecting coupling as in a tug of war. The electric locomotive had a slight advantage over the steam engine in weight on the driving wheels, and pulled it up and down the track with apparent ease.

PULLS MORE THAN STEAM.

For the same weight upon the drivers it was shown that the electric locomotive starts a greater load than the steam locomotive. The pull being constant throughout the entire evolution of the wheel, the difficulty of variation of pull with the angle crank, as in the steam locomotive, is eliminated. The test also proved that not only are the motors sufficiently powerful, but that the driving mechanism and armature couplings are amply strong to transmit the torque of the armature to the axle. Each motor is rated at 360 horse power, and takes a normal current of 900 amperes.

95 TON ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVE.

The eight driving wheels are of cast steel, pressed and keyed to the axle, and have tires three inches thick at the centres of tread shrunk on to the wheel centres. The driving axles are of special open hearth steel. In design the good features of the steam locomotive—the driving box and passenger car box—are embodied.

STRUCTURE OF THE LOCOMOTIVE.

The gearless motors are four in number, two to each truck, supported on carriers bolted to the field magnets and resting in adjustable hangers carried on half elliptical springs placed on top of the frame and bumpers. They are of pyramidal shape, the largest railway motors in the world, and yet not so bulky as might be expected from the heavy work they have to perform. The entire motor is practically fire-proof. The cab is of steel sheet, and so that an unobstructed view may be had in all directions four drop windows are provided on the sides and two on each end. The doors slide laterally on large rollers. The cab's interior is illuminated by clusters of incandescent lights.

The current is brought to the locomotive by means of cables connected to the sliding, shuttle-like shoe of brass and fastened to the trolley support. The conductor, which is a reversed iron conduit or trough erected overhead on trusses in the open, and in the tunnel attached to the crown of the arch is directly over the centre of the track.

The locomotive is equipped with a 1,200 to 3,500 automatic circuit breaker, one 2,000 ampere magnetic cut-out, a 5,000 ampere illuminated dial, Weston ammeter and one illuminated Weston volt meter. The compressed air for the whistle and brakes is supplied by an oscillating cylinder electric air pump The air tanks are placed at each end of the locomotive.

Electric locomotives of such weight and power have never before been conceived, but it has always been a rule in American electric railway practice to push ahead where improvements were possible, and make the results realize the expectations. The ninety-six ton locomotive is a success.—New York Herald.

Support for Sweet Peas.

The ordinary method of using bushes for this purpose is unsightly, while the sharp sticks wound the hands when gathering the blossoms. Light posts can be used for the support figured,

1 1-2 inch square being about enough, while light wires only are needed to string it. With such a support the plants will do their best, as they will be held up from the ground, where they can have air and sunlight.

Appetising.

Customer (in cheap restaurant)—Give me a beefsteak with mushrooms.

Waiter (loudly to cook)—Slaughter in de pan wid fumygated toadstools!

The Prettiest Garter.

The prettiest garter we know of, says the New York Recorder, is made as a part of a dainty pair of drawers, called the Pantalon Chiquita. The sketch will show you just how the garment is made. If the garter is of ribbon have the embroidered band of open work and run the ribbon through it. If elastic is used, baste it inside the band, so that it can be removed when the article is sent to the laundry, and sew the ribbon on the ends.

Everybody Has to Have It.

We may be sure that the bicycle is a necessity and not a luxury when we are assured that fat persons use it to make them thin and thin ones to make them fat.—San Francisco Call.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

THE MISSION FIELD IN FAR ALGOMA.

THE MISSIONARY'S COMPANION.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionary for the International Mission to Algoma and North-West, attributes his escape from severe illness through summer complaints to the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. He writes as follows: "I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been to me a wonderful, soothing, speedy and effectual remedy. It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. Some Jewel Don'ts.

Don't let children and young girls wear ornaments—they will become a vanity if worn before they become an art.

Don't keep old things you have outgrown. Your growth must be alert to get rid of rubbish, changing, resetting, adding to, until all your possessions represent you.

Don't match jewels, work for variety of tone.

Don't call one frivolous who wears jewels—you may be hard and narrow.

Don't, if your lips are thin and your soul poise a mental one, wear faceted, hard-gleaming gems.

Don't think you are too poor to wear jewels—wear a good, practical jewel, a clasp or a button.

Don't wear flashing gems if you are a poor conversationalist.

Don't wear flashing gems if your husband has a worn-out, hunted look.

Don't think that the art of jewels begins at the pocketbook; an occasional two hours a day on the knees before a Japanese inro or tsuba might be suggested as a salutary penance.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

AN IDYL WYLD LETTER.

Idyl Wyld Summer Resort, August 19.—What a cabin'd, cribbed and confined mortal a dweller of the city is! How his bit of skyland is close bounded by dull bricks and unpoetic chimney-pots. It is It is only when eye and ear and soul have a chance to expand that one realizes the penalty of city life. If you will stroll with me down the grassy plateau at Idyl Wyld landing, we will come to a bay which forms a horse shore with a back-ground of rich shrubbery, to the north, south-east and west of which there is a vision of Rice Lake, a great stretch of water, sky, atmosphere and scenery—that satisfies! And the satisfaction deepens as draughts of the bracing air fills the lungs with its life. Such a delectable spot is to be found on Idyl Wyld.

August weather is very lovely here. After the stiff work and routine of the daily duties of a twelvemonth, no wonder that a is aroused and helpsone to become fortified for the bright side of further duties of life yet to be fulfilled. As a pleasant place to recuperate, to "loaf around," to smoke your pipe, or, if you feel sentimental, to watch and meditate upon the ever changing moods of the mysterious and wandering waste of waters which throbs against the shores, not a corner on our inland waters is, in my opinion, more satisfying. No wonder that the people having once come here, and having tasted the great delights of a summer sojourn on the island—felt the rest, the bracing air, and enjoyed restful calm, the lovely scenery—should be willing to return to it year after year.

As Bob Landerville, the jolly porter, lugged our baggage up the steep incline to the hotel, failing to get a willing hand to help him with his load, we caught up to him in time to him in time to hear him ejaculate:—"Too many good-for-nothin' dudes 'round here, don't you see? Guess Spellman wants a man to make a mule of hisself, see! If Bunton would only 'cumucate (communicate) with the island and let a fellow know when these big crowds are a comin', for our lives. But he don't, see!"

MIGHT HAVE A CHANCE

"Has there been many people here this season?" we meekly asked.

"People! Should think there was. The house has been full up to overflowing a dozen times already. But we get there just the same. See!

"Any room for us?"

"Ya-as. You've hit it lucky to strike the island when you did, see? Couple rooms waiting for you, see? Guess Terry must have given you the tip, see?

And sure enough there was Terry Spellman, the genial manager, at the door, ready to hand us into our rooms, and make us as happy and comfortable as kings and queens of Idyl-Wyld.

The Spellmans have had considerable difficulty in finding rooms for all their Idyl-Wyld guests. This is their first season as lessees of the island, and their pushing and energetic management and judicious advertising is bringing them in good returns. The necessity for a larger hotel is already apparent, and ways and means are being discussed for enlarging the building or erecting a new hotel. Doubtless another season will find increased accommodation provided in one way or another.

"Most of our guests have come from Kingston, Toronto, Rochester, Cobourg and Port Hope," said Mr. Terry Spellman, in answer to our enquiries. "We haven't had many from Peterborough. Your boats don't run regularly to this point, and I suppose that accounts for it."

"Well, I'm surprised to hear that. Idyl-Wyld is well known in Peterborough, and for it as a summer resort."

"Yes, we know that, and we hope to work up a good trade yet from your town. We advertise in all the Peterborough papers; and we know lots of you good people would come down here if they were sure of steamboat connection regularly. You might let them know that we have a steam yacht of our own, and if they can get to Harwood or any other front on the lake, we can arrange to call for them any day and take them to Idyl Wyld without extra charge.

The steam yacht referred to is the "Outlet Queen," and is a staunch, trim steam launch, specially fitted up for excursion passengers, and plys all round the lake for the benefit of the guests at the hotel. It is quite an attraction at the Island and is carefully managed by a competent engineer and captain.

Idyl Wyld is much improved since last I saw it. The island is clean and well looked after. Little or no underbrush is now to be seen, and the healthy maple, birch and pine trees provide lovely cool shelter as well as ornamentation to the grounds. Twenty or thirty board tables are erected in different parts of the island for the benefit of the numerous excursion parties which are attracted to the spot every week and ample ground for sports and games, dancing pavillion, band stand, boats, etc., are provided free to all. Pretty coves and inlets on every side, delightful scenery, sheltered nooks, the crows nest built high up among the trees, shady walks, hammocks, swings, ornamental rookeries, wild flowers, water lillies, etc., are among the attractions in which the island abounds. Fishing grounds surround the island on almost every side, and the game is more plentiful here than ever before.—W.M.

KILLED BY HIS NEPHEW.

Fatal Quarrel Between Swedes at Severn Bridge.

Gravenhurst, Aug. 23.—On Tuesday a fatal quarrel took place near Severn Bridge resulting in the death of John Wilson, jr., a Swede.

The assailant was his nephew, Peter Paulsen, a slightly-built young man with a knowledge of boxing.

The two men were in a barn of Mr. Wilson, sr. (grandfather of deceased and father of the assailant), and were having high words about a girl.

Richard Draper witnessed part of the quarrel, and advised Wilson, who was a big fellow, to give Paulsen a licking. Wilson tried to act on the advice, and went forward to attack Paulsen, but was met with a blow in the forehead from which he never recovered.

It happened at 2.30 p.m. on Tuesday, and Wilson died next day at 10.30 a.m., being attended by Drs. Ardagh and Harvie of Orillia, who could do nothing to abate the series of convulsive fits which followed the blow.

Dr. Campbell, coroner, sent Chief Constable Sloan to investigate yesterday. He obtained a statement from Draper, who strongly affirmed that Paulsen struck in self-defence. Under the circumstances it has, strangely enough, been decided to hold no inquest, the friends of deceased concurring in this, as well as all the parties concerned.

Constable Sloan made no arrest, but it is likely something more will be heard of the affair.

Hamilton News.

Hamilton, Aug. 24.—The Police Department, under the new management, is coming in for severe criticism from all quarters for its endeavor to suppress information from reporters of all creed and class. Depredations are occurring here almost every night. During the past week houses in all parts of the city have been broken into, but it is a long time since a burglar has appeared in the Police Court. While the astute heads of the Police Department are congratulating themselves on their success at suppressing the information of the robberies, the burglars are smiling to themselves and metaphorically giving the officials the glad hand and patting them on the back. Chief Smith and Detective Inspector McMahon work on the principle that to give publicity to a crime of any nature means the defeat of the ends of justice, and in cases where women are held up on the street in broad daylight and robbed of anything valuable they may have about them these officials don't tell the newspaper reporters, but conceal the fact in their own bosoms, and look upon it as a sad and deplorable calamity if the reporters manage to ferret out the news themselves. Over a week ago Mrs. Robertson, Wentworth-street south, was held up at 4 o'clock in the afternoon by two thieves on Main-street. Her card receiver was taken from her, and if she had not put up a plucky fight they would have securred her shopping bag, containing several valuable articles. The fact was concealed, and the robbers are at large.

Last night the residence of Alex. McFarlane, 89 Wellington-street south, was broken into and a number of valuables were stolen. Among them was a diamond pin. The number of robberies is increasing every night.

While Mrs. J. H. Moore, Hess-street south, was at the band concert last night some one entered her house and stole therefrom a large quantity of silverware and jewelry.

On the night of the Hayhurst reception the residence of Fred. B. Tobias, Wellington-street south, was broken into and a large number of valuable articles of jewelry were stolen, among which was a diamond ring.

A. R. Kerr's horse and wagon were stolen from the stable at 17 Main-street on Wednesday.

A stranger worked the flim flam game on Miss Beatty on Tuesday morning.

Strange to say, none of the criminals are captured.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

RADICALS WILL RULE

They Propose to Re-Cast the Liberal Platform.

AN IMPORTANT POLITICAL MOVE

A Convention Called at Which the Irish May Be Shelved Altogether—Labouchere Desirious of Deposing Rosebery From the Leadership.

London, Aug. 26.—As both the Executive Committees of the National Liberal Federation and the Central Liberal Association, which mainly holds the party purse, have hesitated to convene a general National Conference, the Political Committee of the National Liberal Club has taken upon itself the responsibility of summoning a congress for October 29. This action marks a new party departure of the greatest moment and will more than ever centralize the control of the London and Provincial organizations within the National Liberal Club, the strongest element in which is Radical. It will cause a root and branch reform in the National Liberal Federation and lead to the constitution of a permanent caucus, which will give orders to, instead of receiving them from, the party whips, who have hitherto nominated and ruled the committees of the federation.

The initial impetus of this movement arose from a series of Radical committee meetings, at which the collapse of the Liberal party was discussed in all its bearing. The committee suggested that the federation be reconstituted by the free election of all the committees and officials, so as to make the body the living representative of democratic force. The existing official whips and other hole and corner nominees do not approve of the holding of a conference; nevertheless they must bow before its decisions.

Every Liberal association has promised to send delegates. All Liberal members and candidates absenting themselves will be marked men. Among great organizations that will be represented are the National Reform Union, the Midland Liberal Association and the London, Scottish and Welsh Associations. The wire-pullers and bosses will alone make a poor show at the conference. Apart from the main question of re-organization, an attempt will be made to re-cast the platform, of which by far the most delicate plank is temperance legislation, the future relations of the Liberals with the Irish Parliamentary party coming next in importance.

There is some doubt as to whether the Irish Alliance will be retained. The Irish organs, Parnellite and anti-Parnellite alike, have adopted an expectant attitude towards the Government. Whatever reforms, says the Freeman's Journal, the Government undertakes will have the strenuous assistance of the Nationalists as aids to Home Rule. The Dublin Independent says that much good is likely to be done during the time that the Earl of Cadogan holds the Viceroyship of Ireland. It adds: "Let the dead past bury its dead in the general interests of civilization and progress." Obviously the Parnellites and anti-Parnellites are ready to throw aside their Liberal allies.

Mr. Henry Labouchere, the well-known Radical leader, came from Marienbad to London to attend the meetings of the Radical Committee. He persists in his contention that the first essential is to depose Lord Rosebery from his position as leader of the Liberal party, and it is likely that the coming conference will assent to the deposition of the ex-Prime Minister. Mr. Labouchere and Sir William Vernon Harcourt, ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer, are about to start for Lake Como.

It has transpired that at a secret meeting of the Radical members of the House of Commons over which Mr. Henry Labouchere presided, a memorial was drafted inviting Sir William Vernon Harcourt to assume the leadership of the Liberal party. Only seventeen members signed the memorial and it was therefore dropped.

The committee of the English Church Union recently startled church circles by declaring that civil marriages were an offence against church discipline. Parties who had incurred censure by entering into such marriages ought, according to the committee, to obtain absolution before being admitted to communion. The further ceremonies of the ring and the joining of hands ought to occur and the benediction be given. The report even staggered the council of the Union, as throwing doubt on the validity of the civil contract. The matter was again referred to the committee, who now report that they did not mean to suggest the necessity for a religious renewal of the marriage contract, but only a solemn acknowledgment in face of the church of the parties who had contracted civil marriages. The council now proposes to seek a deliverance from the Church Convocation. The question arouses the keenest feeling among church adherents.

According to The Speaker, the weekly organ of the Liberals, the attitude of that party on the Chinese mission outrages is distinctly in favor of active intervention. Lord Salisbury, the paper declares, should obtain an Anglo-American entente, under which the first work should be further opening up of China. The Government at Pekin would be wise to accept foreign aid to restore order, if only to save itself. A family council of the nations could, without difficulty, sentence China to the tutelage of a native gendarmerie officered by Europeans. This is not yet probable, although it would be certain to benefit the central Government, but it will come soon unless the Pekin Government responds to the just demands of the powers.

The Board of Agriculture threatens to withdraw the privilege given to American inspectors to verify at the ports of landing alleged cases pleuro-pneumonia in cattle. Two Canadian cattle suffering pleuro-pneumonia were recently landed in Deptford, and the Canadian authorities were refused permission to examine them. A clamor to obtain for Canadians the same privileges the American inspectors enjoy is now being raised. The Righ Hon. Walter H. Long, President of the Board of Agriculture, contends that there is no provision in the Act of Parliament permitting foreign inspectors here. The Washington Government may, therefore, be prepared to learn that the privilege accorded the American inspectors has been rescinded.

The races between trains on the railways between London and Aberdeen have evoked discussion as to the dangers to passengers and the nervous strain on the drivers. The best opinion published comes from a man who for 11 years was the engineer of an express train on the New York Central Railroad. He says he never met a driver who preferred a slow to a fast train. It is utter rubbish, he declared, to say that a fast train entails a greater strain on the nerves. The knowledge that precautions are taken to keep the line clear for flyers takes a deal of anxiety from the driver's mind. As a class, they are notably healthy and long-lived. This American driver says he knows a number of drivers who retired when they were 70 years old, and they were then enjoying robust health. One of the most daring drivers in the United States is 63 years old and is the picture of health. Accidents to trains when running at high speed have been exceedingly rare. With good roads and rolling stock acidents ought not to occur. He contends that it is perfectly safe to run eighty miles an hour.

The Board of Trade denies it is the intention to send a delegate to Washington to arrange a joint scheme to destroy derelicts, more especially those floating in the North Atlantic, which action has been urged upon the committee of Lloyd's. The Board of Trade holds that the question is a diplomatic one, and that it is within the functions of the Foreign Office.

The author of the "Speech of Monkeys," Mr. R. L. Garner, who after a Gaboon, Africa, intends to stay in Africa but a few months to secure several young apes that have been captured for him, which he will take directly to New York in continuance of his investigation of their language. He will avoid Europe and make the voyage home with his apes by way of the Azores, the British climate having proved too vigorous for unacclimated apes, Mr. Garner's last collection of them having succumbed to pneumonia in London. Mr. Garner expects to educate his next batch of young monkeys in the rudiments of English, not with any view of personal profit, as he is a man of independent means and has undertaken his experiment solely for his own pleasure, he says. His fad has excited only ridicule in England, but in France his efforts are considerately watched, and he claims to be not wholly without honor at home.

Several American army officers have witnessed the August manoeuvres in England and are going home enthusiastic for similar mobilizations annually in the United States. They were much impressed to find at Aldershot, just outside of London, a force outnumbering entire standing army of the United States. In this force were 10,000 volunteers, who are similar in all respects to the American National Guard. These volunteers were included in ninety corps gathered from all parts of te United Kingdom and, in the opinion of American officers, the uniform discipline and the contact with volunteers from various sections of the country, as well as their association with regulars, could not be otherwise than extremely beneficial.

CHAMBERLAIN'S FOREIGN POLICY.

He Would Use Imperial Funds to Build Railways and Promote Colonial Development.

New York, Aug. 26.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London to The Tribune: Only one speech in Parliament this week will be remembered after the session ends. It was made by Mr. Chamberlain, when the financial vote for the Colonial Office was reached after mid-night, Thursday. It was a short speech, delivered quietly and without flourish of trumpets, but it contained evidence that the leader who formulated 20 years ago in Birmingham great municipal policies grounded upon new ideas of the functions of local government is preparing to revolutionise colonial relations.

Mr. Chamberlain has in mind large plans of colonial policy, based on new principles. What was most significant in this speech was the declaration that many of the British colonies were in the condition of undeveloped estates, which could not be developed without Imperial assistance. There were some colonies, he added, for which British rule had done absolutely nothing; and England could not trade with them so long as they were undeveloped. He would be prepared to consider carefully any case in which by a judicious investment of Imperial money, these colonies could be developed. These vague generalities would have meant less if any other leader had uttered them. Mr. Chamberlain is known in Birmingham by his works. Follies which he introduced in municipal government there have been highly successful. Municipal ownership of water, gas and tramways and the transformation of the slums into splendid business thoroughfares by investments of corporation funds, which will ultimately enrich the town, are now accepted throughout England as enlightened measures of progressive local government. When a leader with a record of having changed the whole order of municipal government in England advocates judicous investment of Imperial money for promoting the development of the neglected estates of the Empire, the echoes of his speech will be heard around the world wherever the British flag flutters in the breeze.

Mr. Chamberlain spoke confidently, almost impetuously, of many colonial problms, and discussed them with breadth of view. If railways were needed in tropical Africa, they should be built under colonial or Imperial Administrations, rather than be handed over to private speculators. If there was to be trade with the colonies exposed to native disturbances, then punitive expeditions were necessary, and those who protest against them were against the only system that would lead to the civilization of Africa. Bechuanaland had been annexed because the Cape Parliament had declared for it, and the Home Government were bound to respect the wishes of the colonies. But federation was as necessary in Africa as in Australia.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech showed that he had been thinking deeply on matters of colonial policy and had some creative policies to propose and carry out. His views were reiterated yesterday strongly in his reply to the West African railways delegation.

CABLE TO HAWAII.

The States Asked For a $360,000 Twenty Years' Subsidy.

San. Francisco, Aug. 26.—Col. Z. S. Spalding, who has obtained exclusive concession from the Hawaiian Government for a telegraph cable from the United States to Honolulu, had a conference with the trustees of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. He explained his project in full, and the trustees pledged themselves to give it all the aid in their power. Col. Spalding desires to obtain from the U. S. Government a subsidy of $260,000 a year for 20 years, which, with that already secured, will aggregate $300,000 a year. He estimates that the cable requires $4,000,000 capital.

Husband and Wife Take Chloral.

Boston, Aug. 21.—Louis Hammond, aged 35 years, and his wife Katherine, aged about 30, were found dead in their room at the American House, having committed suicide by taking chloral.

THE COMMISSIONERS PRISONERS.

An Armed Force May Proceed to Foo Chee to Protect Them.

London, Aug. 26.—A despatch from Shanghai to a news agency says that Commander Newell, of the United States cruiser Detroit, has gone to Kucheng for the purpose of consulting with J. C. Hixson, United States consul at Foo-Chow in regard to the landing of an armed force for the protection of Hixson and the European members of the commission investigating into the recent massacres. The members of the commission are now practically prisoners.

BRITAIN WILL LAND MARINES.

China Must Accede to England's Demand For an Investigation.

London, Aug. 26.—The Sun says that it is rumored the Marquis of Salisbury, the British Prime Minister, has determined upon decisive action in regard to China, and that a British fleet will occupy one or two Chinese ports, and perhaps land marines in order to enforce Great Britain's demands in connection with the investigation of the recent massacres.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Sheepshead Bay, Aug. 24.—The Futurity race to-day was run at 5.18 and was won by Requital, the second favorite in the betting, with Crescendo, a 30 to 1 shot, second and Silver II., a 20 to 1 shot, third. Handspring, the favorite, at 2 to 1, was not in the running after the quarter, where he led, closely pressed by Requital. At the half Applegath, a 10 to 1 shot, who, until a day or two ago was regarded as one of the most likely colts in the race, led Requital by a head, and they came up the stretch in the same order. Then Applegath got tired. The lightning clips which he had displayed in the early stage left him and he was passed in turn by Requital, Crescendo and Silver II., who finished in that order. The winner was ridden by Graham, the premier jockey of the country, and the time was 1.11 2-5.

Hard of Avon s Nottinghamshire.

The race was won by Mr. A. Taylor's Bard of Avon; Sir R. Jardine's Lanthony was second and Mr. Ross' Athol was third.

SPASMODIC CROUP.

The Trent Valley Canal enterprise in the hands of the present Government and its press, presents all the symptoms of spasmodic croup. This venerable undertaking lies in a state of coma for several months, when, presto! a Government official pays a visit to town, puts up at the best hotel, sets up the best brands for a favoured few of the faithful, whose sleeves quiver with secret laughter, and cock-a-whoop! the local Government organs set up a terrific crowing over the magnificent way in which the Government is redeeming its forty-ply promises of completing the canal to the everlasting confusion of the unspeakable and skeptical Grits who throw cold water over the enterprise—by the way the only water that is likely to moisten the canal route under this regime. Spasmodic croup is characterized by the crowing inspiration of the victim, who very frequently succumbs. We have had our periodical crow over the Trent Valley Canal and we shall have another lull, unbroken save by a dull thud of the grubber's grub. When an election approaches, if not before, we may expect another bad spasm. The combined clarion notes of the congregated chanticleers at a poultry show will be as the silence of the grave, to the crowings which the organs and organizers will set up. The purchase of a new grub handle should be good for half a column.

SIR CHARLES RIVERS-WILSON, the new president of the Grand Trunk Railway, is "wid us," and will no doubt be making a tour of the system. It is reported that he and Mr. Van Horne have been hob-a-nobbing, no doubt a purely fraternal exchange of courtesies, in no wise connected with an agreement as to rates. Sir Charles will, no doubt, be visiting Peterborough, and it would be a good idea if the authorities interview him with regard to the providing of gates for the level crossings on his line, and it would be all the better if we could get Mr. Van Horne to join the conference. These level crossings are a perpetual menace to the lives and limbs of our citizens, and that fatal accidents have not taken place, is due more to good luck than to the absence of danger inherent in level crossings. To argue that, therefore, gates are not needed is as logical as for a man to claim absolution from making his will because he has never yet died.

PLOTTING AGAINST THE HOWRY FIRM.

A Mill Hand Seeks Revenge for Alleged Wrong Done.

"About 10:30 last Saturday night," the Fenelon Falls Gazette says, "as Mr. J. H. Howry's family carriage, which had been to Lindsay, was descending Jordan's hill, less than a mile from the Falls, one of the pole-straps broke and the pole, of course, fell to the ground. The coachman, Mr. Geo. Hardy, hung on to the lines, and would probably have been able to stop his team if both of them had been of the same quiet disposition; but while one of them, Gypsy, did her best to hold back, the other, Frank, kept springing forward, though he considerately refrained from kicking. The result was that the carriage, after continuing to descend the hill for a few seconds in a wildly erratic fashion, was thrown over on to side, and the horses were, fortunately, at the same instant liberated by the breaking of the bolt that holds the double-tree to the pole; but for which latter circumstance we should probably have had a much more serious accident to narrate.

The occupants of the carriage were (besides the coachman) Mrs. J. W. Howry, her sister, Mrs. Clark and her son, Mrs. J. H. Howry, and we are glad to be able to say that none of the party received any worse injuries than one or two slight bruises.

The carriage was badly damaged, but the horses were unhurt, and after running a few rods, stopped of their own accord, and waited at the roadside until they were led away. As the harness was practically new and made of first-class leather, the breaking of the pole strap could not be accounted for until an examination revealed the startling fact that it had been cut through on both edges until the cuts nearly met in the middle.

In any mill or factory in which a great many men are employed there are almost sure to be two or three with a grievance, and such men not infrequently seek to punish the party, whether boss or foreman, who has incurred their ill-will; but to endeavor to do so by a trick that may result in injury to or even the death of innocent persons, is as dastardly an offence as can well be imagined, and it is to be hoped that in this, as in every other similar case, the perpetrator may be discovered and get his deserts.

[Whatever may be the grievances of employees, an act such as that reported above should be regarded with the severest reprobation and if detection is possible, with the severest punishment permissible by law. To the awful crime of involving innocent parties in their scheme of revenge for some trifling grievances is added the cowardice which seeks to gratify malice at a minimum of personal danger. A man who openly and boldly assails an enemy has the comparative merit of not refusing to share the danger of the encounter, but no community is safe that contains persons capable of the dastardly crime recorded by the Gazette.]

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

The Cheese Sold Wednesday Morning at 8 cents.

The meeting of the Lindsay cheese board was held in the Council Chamber at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Thos. Robertson, the president, presided. The president stated that the dispute between Mr. Flavelle and Leaskdale factory had, he was pleased to state, been settled in a very quiet way.

The buyers present were Messrs. J. D. Flavelle and Spence. The following are the factories and the number of boxes boarded:

	Boxes.
Star	124
Lorneville	50
Cameron	68
Dunsford	78
Valentia	00
Gamebridge	75
Mariposa	65
Derryville	50
Cambray	60
Janetville	35
Manilla	00
Fenelon Falls	94
North Verulam	92
Minden	39
Leaskdale	00
North Ops	25
Downeyville	42
Reaboro	70
Total	867

Mr. Spence started the bidding at 7¼c for selections and Mr. Flavelle raised it to 7⅜c. Mr. Spence again put it up to 7 11-16 and Mr. Flavelle made it 7⅞, when Mr. Spence said 7¾, and Mr. Flavelle raised it to 7 15-16. Mr. Spence put it to even 8c and there it stopped, and he was asked to name his factories, and did so as follows:—Star, Mariposa, Cambray, Fenelon Falls, North Verulam, North Ops.

Mr. Flavelle then bid 7¾c for second selections, and Mr. Spence raised it to 7 15-16, whereupon Mr. Flavelle bid 8c and took Lorneville, Cameron, Dunsford, Derryville, Janetville and Reaboro.

There were three factories which were not sold, Gamebridge, Minden and Downeyville, and on motion they were allowed to sell off the board.

The board adjourned for three weeks.

FLORENCE AGAIN SCORCHED.

Six Buildings Go Up in Smoke—The Loss $10,000

Florence, Ont., Aug. 26.—Fire started Sunday morning in William Milton's tailor shop. Joining that was S. Crouche's barber shop, and soon both buildings were a sething mass of flames, which soon spread to William Thompson's tailor shop, adjoining that of the others. Soon the flames reached Webster & Gordon's general store, one of the oldest firms in the village. These buildings all being frame were soon demolished, not before, however, Dr. Northwood's office and the I.O.O.F lodge rooms were consumed. Here, for want of material, the fire was checked. This is by far the largest fire seen in our village for many years. By dint of hard work and plenty of water supplied by the bucket brigade, the buildings opposite were saved. The loss cannot be estimated correctly yet, but is about $10,000 or $12,000, as some of the parties were insured and some were not.

WESTMORELAND ELECTION.

Powell, Conservative, Returned By a Majority of 730

Moncton, N.B., Aug. 25.—The Westmoreland bye-election has resulted in the return of Powell, Government candidate, defeating Killam, with a majority of 730. The contest was short but very bitter, each side charging the other with extensive bribery, and one prominent citizen of this city named Givan, a Conservative, was arrested during the day charged with bribery. The English settlements generally show gains for the Opposition, compared with previous elections, while in only one French settlement is there a gain for the Government side. Mr. Wood's majority in 1891 was about 2200.

From the Capital

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—There are 410 competitors for the Dominion Rifle matches which open here Monday, which is something more than the number of last year's entries. All have arrived and most were out at Rideau ranges to-day. The men agree that sensational scoring may be looked for with a continuation of fine weather, which ushered in the week. Satisfaction is expressed with the rules in regard to arrangements made for the comfort and accommodation of competitors.

None of the Separate schools taught by the Christian Brothers will reopen Monday in consequence of a refusal of the brothers to reform their teaching methods, conformally to the report of the provincial commission. The board has decided to dispense with their services and lay teachers are being engaged.

Dr. Montague has returned to Ottawa. He will speak in Hamilton on Labor day and also at the opening of the Toronto Industrial Fair.

Mr. Craig, Dominion Horticulturist, has gone to the Niagara district to arrange for a trial shipment of fruits by cold storage. It is expected the first cargo of peaches, pears, plums and grapes will be forwarded in about two weeks.

DAIRYING AND THE N.P.

The Industry Vitally Restricted By Protection.

THE LIBERAL TARIFF POLICY.

Canada's Most Important Industry Seriously Hampered By Excessive Duties Because It is Not a Pap-Fed Industry—U.S. Cheese No Competitor of the Home Article.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier has held a series of meetings in his native province and expects during the month of October to address a number of gatherings in the Province of Ontario. At these demonstrations the fiscal policy of the Government will no doubt receive a large measure of attention, for there is no question but that the National Policy has been carried far beyond what those who brought it into effect in 1878 expected. It was to be a temporary measure. The United States would not give us reciprocity of trade so we would give them reciprocity of tariffs. It was argued a protective system would in itself confer some benefit upon the country, but so uncertain was the faith of its framers in its essential principle that they placed much of their reliance in the promise that it would be reciprocity of tariffs for a short time only, and then reciprocity of trade. As for the industries which were to grow up under the National Policy a few years' fostering would be sufficient, and they were to have obtained a sufficient establishment by the time that the United States, having ben brought to their senses, should give us a trading arrangement. Temporariness was thus the essence of the promises under which the people of the country were cajoled into accepting the policy of 1878.

In 1891 so discredited had protection become that the Government confessed it publicly by changing the battle ground while still, however, placing their reliance upon the cotton lords, sugar barons, and other nobility of our new feudalism. At last the country had had enough of a war of tariffs, and no noe can doubt that the Government would have been utterly routed but for their deception about negotiations with the Washington authorities. Since then there has been the pretended revision of the tariff. Nothing is lacking to the complete discrediting of the N. P. None of its promises have been fulfilled. The exodus was to be stopped, it has doubled in annual volume. Home competition was to keep prices of manufactured articles as low in Canada as anywhere in the world; the necessity which called forth the futile combines act is the Government's reply to its own promise. The farmers were to get higher prices in a home market; they export more than ever and prices were never so low. The Northwest was to be filled up as a part of the National Policy scheme; it is notorious that there are in that country not a quarter of the number of people promised. The "balance of trade" was against us, we were told; it was a terrible state of things from which the National Policy would rescue us. But the balance has continued against us and is likely still to be. There were to be no such things as deficits, yet this year and last will run up a deficit greater than the sum of all the much-talked-of deficits of the Mackenzie period. Hard times were never to trouble us when we should have "diversified occupations," but not even "diversified occupations" and the expenditure of hundreds of millions of borrowed money in railways and other public works have saved us from the present depression.

The National Policy has been and is a hindrance to farmers and others. It is literally true that protection never made a pound of cheese in this country. It never made a market for a pound of our cheese abroad; and never kept the cheese of other countries out of our market. So far as the protective fiscal policies of this country and the United States affect our dairy interests they are injurious, that is, protection adds to the taxation of dairymen and restricts the market for Canadians. A great deal of the machinery used by Canadian dairymen is made in the United States and will continue to be made there, while the bandages—a very large item—and some other materials which enter into the production of cheese and butter, are also imported. They pay duty and these duties are a tax on the dairy business.

Moreover the fact is that while Canadian cheese sells higher in the British market than American, at least as a general thing, the Americans have recently been getting from one to two cents a pound more for their cheese in their own country than Canadians get in Britain. In other words the people of the United States are paying a higher price for their inferior cheese than Canadians get for a greatly superior article. It is absolutely true that if we had reciprocity with the United States to-day the finest of Canadian cheese would be selling in the great cities over there at two or three cents a pound more than we are now getting for it. That is the burden which the dairy industry of this country is paying for restriction. And the benefit of reciprocity would probably be still greater in the case of butter. And, moreover, if all restrictions were removed American cheese would not sell in Canada. Why should it? It is inferior to ours; and the home demand for cheese among Canadians is so trifling that it has not the slightest effect on prices. Canadians are not likely to eat poor American cheese when they fail to eat the superior article manufactured by themselves. As to United States cheese passing through Canada, that is a mere matter of trade regulation which could be provided for.

A consideration of the cheese industry and its possibilities is the strongest argument which we know of to-day in favor of reciprocity with the United States. Every dairyman, no matter what his politics, thoroughly realizes this. But we will not allow Conservative journals to make capital out of the success of an industry which was created in the first place by the inventive genius of our people, and carried to its present enormous proportions solely through intelligence, enterprise and patienty industry, without any reliance on legislation. We advise protectionist journals to leave the dairy industry alone when they are seeking political capital. And at the same time it might be good advice to suggest that the pap-fed manufacturers of the country imitate the self-reliance and enterprise of Canadian dairymen.

We know of nothing which equals the absurdity of the contention that the dairy industry has been created or assisted by protection, unless it be the arguments which the paternalists are now using in favor of an export bounty on butter. The reasoning in either case will not bear a moment's investigation.

The policy of the Liberal party on the tariff is stated in the first resolution adopted at the national convention as follows:

"That the customs tariff of the Dominion should be based, not as it is now, upon the protective principle, but upon the requirements of the public service;

"That the existing tariff, founded upon an unsound principle, and used, as it has been by the Government, as a corrupting agency wherewith to keep themselves in office, has developed monopolies, trusts and combinations;

"It has decreased the value of farm and other landed property;

"It has oppressed the masses to the enrichment of a few;

"It has checked immigration;

"It has caused great loss of population;

"It has impeded commerce;

"It has discriminated against Great Britain.

"In these and in many other ways it has occasioned great public and private injury, all of which evils must continue to grow in intensity as long as the present tariff system remains in force.

"That the highest interests of Canada demand a removal of this obstacle to our country's progress, by the adoption of a sound fiscal policy, which, while not doing injustice to any class, will promote domestic and foreign trade, and hasten the return of prosperity to our people;

"That to that end, tariff should be reduced to the need of honest, economical and efficient government..

"That it should be so adjusted as to make free, or to bear as lightly as possible upon, the necessaries of life, and should be so arranged as to promote freer trade with the whole world, more particularly with Great Britain and the United States.

"We believe that the results of the protective system have grievously disappointed thousands of persons who honestly supported it, and that the country, in the light of experience, is now prepared to declare for a sound fiscal policy.

"The issue between the two political parties on this question is now clearly defined.

"The Government themselves admit the failure of thir fiscal policy, and now profess their willingness to make some changes; but they say that such changes must be based only on the principle of protection.

"We denounce the principle of protection as radically unsound, and unjust to the masses of the people, and we declare our conviction that any tariff changes based on that principle must fail to afford any substantial relief for the burdens unred which the country labors.

"This issue we unhesitatingly accept, and upon it we await with the fullest confidence the verdict of the electors of Canada."

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

The following conversation was overheard by a press representative at Sells Bros'. circus Saturday :—

An Illuminated Horse Shoe.

Messrs. Greer and Bradburn, electricians, have put in operation around the large horse shoe in front of Messrs. H. Saturday evening the sign presented a very pretty and catchy appearance, the horse shoe being one blaze of coloured light, which was viewed and admired by many.

Injun Heap Sick.

Among the visitors to town on Saturday to see the circus was a Rama Indian, said to be a son of the chief of the Rama reserve. During the day he partook of too much fire water, and the result was that he was unable to navigate. Constable Archie Moore spotted the red man, and the pale faced minion of the law ran him to a place of safety. This morning at 10 o'clock he appeared before County Police Magistrate Edmison. He gave his name as Josh Nanguishkung, and on pleading guilty to the charge of drunkenness, was fined $1 and costs.

Nature's Voices.

To the discerning ear Nature has many voices. She has a message in the sweet tones of the brook as it rushes down the hillside in ocean's moody voices, now rippling with gentlest cadence upon the golden sands, anon in deep boisterous voice as she lashes the beach with foam. Then the voice of trees which the laughing winds bear to our ears, of sunshine and shade, of hill and valley, of birds and flowers. But she comes in pain, too, the voice of the aching, stinging corn speaks impressively, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the worst corn in twenty-four hours, painlessly and without leaving sore spots.

The body will arrive to-night on the 11:42 C.P.R. express, and the funeral will take place from the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. David Johnston, lot 11, con. 10, North Monaghan, to-morrow, at 2:30, to Little Lake Cemetery. Mr. Lee was well known in town, having resided here until about six months ago.

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Heavy Docket at This Morning's Session

There was quite a docket at the Police Court this morning.

In the absence of Police Magistrate Dumble, Mr. R. S. Davidson, J.P., presided.

William Curry, of St. Catharines, was charged with stealing a hat at Fairweather's on Saturday. He expressed surprise when asked if he was guilty. He was remanded until Thursday.

Patrick Jones, who was drunk on circus day, was next fined $3 and costs.

Wm. Wood pleaded guilty to the same charge, but as the offence was committed on Sunday he was fined $5.00.

John H. Williams, the paste and soap vendor, who was remanded on Friday on a charge of being a vag and with using insulting language, was further remanded until Thursday. He asked the Chief to make the time shorter, but he was told he would be lucky if he got out then.

Michael Horan was charged with assaulting a young man named Shannon. It appears Horan was treating in a town hotel on Saturday and refused to pay for the drinks. Shannon was forced to pay for them and upon asking for an explanation of his conduct, was answered with a rock on the side of the head. Horan was fined $5 and costs.

Three urchins, Jos. Long, Bert Hill and Chas. King, were up on a charge of stealing whips from St. Paul's church sheds. The youngsters were remanded until Thursday. Mr. Hampden Burnham appeared on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.

HE WAS A PICKPOCKET.

But he Failed to Work his Little Game on a Street Car Passenger.

He was a pickpocket and came to town to operate.

Saturday afternoon he boarded a street car heavily laden with human freight bound for the circus grounds, his object being to work some of the passengers.

Everything went swimmingly for the nimble-fingered gent, and he was confident of reaping a harvest that day.

He espied a sober-looking passenger quite close to him and immediately set to work to relieve him of his money.

He deftly manœuvred his hand around the man's coat pocket and smiled to himself as he thought of the haul he was making.

But there were others on the cars besides the crook and his victim. The next instant something like a landslide struck the sharper, and he fell like a log from the car.

It seems a passenger was watching his actions, and when a favourable opportunity presented itself, landed a right-hander on the "financier's" neck.

He sneaked away like a kicked cur, and was seen no more. The affair was noticed only by a few on the car, and it is a pity a policeman was not at hand to collar the man.

SEVEN BAPTISMS.

Immersions in the Otonabee at Inverlea Park Yesterday.

The results of the series of meetings held in the Gospel tent, on Central Park, under the auspices of the Christian Alliance are already becoming apparent, as large numbers have professed faith. On Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock, seven converts (six women and a man) were baptised in the Otonabee at Inverlea Park in the presence of hundreds of spectators.

The ceremony was performed by Pastor Zimmerman, assisted by Mr. J. C. Turnbull.

Baptisims will hereafter be conducted at the Park as the river bottom at that point is much more suitable for the observance of the rite than at Burnham's Grove, where the baptisimal services have heretofore been held.

A MODEL CIRCUS DAY.

The Police Report a Very Quiet Day With no Complaints.

The Chief of Police and his force had a very quiet day of it Saturday, not a single complaint reaching police headquarters during the day.

There was an entire absence of fakirs in town during the day, and only one did business at the grounds—operating a pin and ball racket, which was considered legitimate sport by the authorities.

Of course there was the usual number of drunks, who generally strike town on a circus day for a good time, but there was an entire absence of what might be termed disorderly conduct. The fakirs and crooks evidently gave Peterborough a wide berth on Saturday.

Who Stole the Shoes?

The police found a pair of shoes in the rear of the police station this morning. The thief had evidently stolen them in a hurry as they were odd ones. P. O. BURGLARS AT WORK IN ASHBURNHAM.

DAVIDSON AND MUNRO'S FLOUR MILL ENTERED.

Three Holes Bored in the Safe in an Unsuccessful Effort Made to Crack It—Nothing Missing from the Mill—Evidently had no Fuse with which to Complete the Job.

That a gang of crooks is following up the circus is an undoubted fact despite the fact that a swarm of detectives is accompanying the great aggregation.

Simultaneous with the appearance of the circus in Brockville and other eastern towns burglaries were committed, and last night Davidson & Munro's flour mill in Ashburnham was the scene of the operations of the gang.

A couple of chisels, a brace and several bits were taken from Mr. John Craig's blacksmith shop, which was broken into, and with these tools an entrance was easily obtained. The cleats the window of the mill office, and the sash when found this morning was hoisted to its full extent. Mr. Roger Davidson and Mr. Lindsay, head miller, were the first ones to discover that anything was amiss. They both entered the office at 7 o'clock and the open window told a tale. Naturally they turned to the safe and it as well as the windows told its own tale. Three tiny holes in the top spoke louder than words, indicating plainly that an attempt to crack the iron box had been made.

WERE PRIED OFF

On opening the safe door the books inside were found to well sprinkled with powder, probably half a pound, in all, of the explosive having been poured into the interior.

Just what occurred to induce the burglars to desist at the moment at which they ceased operations is hard to conjecture. The lack of a sufficient length of fuse with which to ignite the powder may have had something to do with it, as of the three holes bored in the top of the safe, one was so great in depth as to pass through the of wood and into this one the powder was evidently poured, as it had all found its way down amongst the books. The other two holes were just bored deep enough to touch the wooden interior and if the powder had been poured into either of these holes it is probable that the safe door would have been off its hinges when discovered this morning. The explosive was evidently carried beyond the reach of the would-be safe-crackers, when it filtered down amongst the books.

Even if the door had been blown off its hinges the booty secured would have been small, as only a couple of dollars in change had been left in the till.

The circumstances connected with the burglary are known to the police, and an effort to capture the perpetrators will be made.

A house in the north end of the town was also entered, but as nothing was taken the occupants are unwilling to have their names mentioned in connection with the matter.

SELLS TOLD THE TRUTH.

Their Circus is a Great One and the Rain Couldn't Hurt it.

A prolonged rain during the performance is to a circus what a fire is to a newspaper office, and Sells Brothers may rest assured that in putting before the people of Peterborough the show which they did on Saturday the shower baths and mud were forgotten in the admiration for the manner in which the big circus was handled, and for the undoubtedly superior performances which were given on the Driving Park grounds.

It was Sells Bros. first visit to Peterborough, and though two large audiences assembled and sat until the very last hippodrome was run, it is safe to say that had it not been so showery in the morning thousands would have been turned away.

But it is not of what might have been that must be written—it is of what was. In a word, Sells Brothers' circus, as a whole, not only compares favourably with all others, but may be set down as the best that this town has yet seen. True, there may have been more pretentious aggregations, but this one is the acme of perfection in all it undertakes. Acts are seen in one of the end rings which would in themselves hold the attention of the crowd, yet they cannot be lost sight of in the hundred and one turns that it is the privilege of the visitors to witness. No one can name a more perfect presentation of the art of animal training than that of the performing seals and sea lions; no better or prettier bicycle act has been put upon the boards, no finer posing as statuary has yet been presented, no more daring aerial acts have been attempted and done successfully, and funnier clowns have yet to be born. Little Dannie Ryan is himself a whole circus, for when he is not making fun he is doing thrilling trapeze work. His remarkable double somersault in mid air and still more remarkable catch of the hands of his swinging mate make him at once a performer of special recognition.

After ninety minutes of first-class ring, stage and aerial acts, comes a really capital hippodrome, and to the credit of the riders it may be said that they did their duty nobly.

The menagerie is on a par with the rest of the show. A flock of ostriches are a unique feature, and the pair of hippotami were simply wonderful in their ugliness and rareness, for such beasts are not found in the circus aggregations of to-day. Lions, tigers, wolves, panthers, bears, a splendid herd of elephants, camels, dromedaries, monkeys by the score, in fact a menagerie in the true sense of the word, is that which Sells Bros. have collected.

It was only the truth when the reporter remarked to Mr. Joseph as the Queen of Sheba said to Solomon : "The half has not been told." Mr. Joseph is Messrs. Sells' right hand man, and what he said of the show was fulfilled to the letter.

A HANDSOME DRUG STORE.

The New Apartments of Mr. George A. Schofield—A Model Store.

Mr. Geo. A. Schofield can lay claim to having one of the neatest drug establishments in the Midland district.

For some weeks past workmen have been engaged in repairing and renovating the store lately vacated by Mercer & Co., which is now occupied by Mr. Schofield.

A new floor of hardwood—maple and ash—has been laid the length of the store, which is 60 x 17 feet. Two of the largest plate glass windows in town are in front, while an entrance to the store may be had from either George or Hunter streets.

The store fixings or worthy of especial mention. Two large ash tables occupy the whole length of the store proper. These will be covered by handsome plate glass square showcases in oak. The store counter is five feet long, finished in oak, with fixtures of black ash. The Peterborough Canoe Company put in the fixtures under the supervision of Mr. Will Crowe. They also built the tables and put in the showcases. The work is a credit to the Company, as well as to the workmen in charge.

The walls have been finished in blue ingrain paper, with a handsome border to match, the paper being supplied by the Peterborough Book Store. The ceiling is also becomingly decorated to match the wall. The decorating was done by Mr. H. W. Watson and staff.

In the rear of the store is situated the dispensary, lavatory and office. The store is lighted by three-light combination chandeliers of antique finish and reflectors for the show windows. A three-light chandelier will also be placed in the rear of the store. Messrs. Greer & Bradburn had charge of these fixings.

The show windows are tastily carpeted, and are in keeping with the appearance of the whole establishment.

The store will be heated by a furnace; and the second flat will be occupied by Mr. W. H. Manning, dentist.

Mr. Schofield is justly proud of his new apartments, which are a credit to the proprietor, as well as an evidence of the growth of his business.

LACROSSE.

The secretary of the Athletics received word to-day that Uxbridge would be unable to play here on Thursday.

The Athletics are endeavouring to arrange a game on Labour Day with either Orillia, Newmarket, Markham or Cobourg.

The secretary of the Athletics has received a communication from the Stirling fall fair directors asking them to play at the exhibition in that town against Madoc for a trophy.

Efforts are being made to arrange a game with Orillia, to be played here on Friday, Aug. 30th. This game would draw a good gate.

The Guide says :—An aggregation from Port Hope, composed of seven juniors from the Beavers, and five of the Ontarios, were defeated after two hours hard play at Cobourg on Thursday afternoon. It just took three quarters of an hour for Cobourg to score. All the juniors played well but were used very roughly by the Cobourgs, who remarked that they would sooner play against the Ontarios than that gang of "kids." Cobourg expected the Ontarios down but only four or five were able to go. Snell of Toronto, and Sullivan, formerly of the Ontarios, played with Cobourg, but it took them all their time to beat the kids. The Cobourgs play here next Wednesday with the Ontarios, and it is expected that they will bring a strong team, so a close game may be expected.

THE WHEEL.

Prof. J. F. Davis, 102 Wilton avenue, Toronto, has written a humorous bicycle song which is admirably described by the name its composer has given it—"A Corker." Both words and music are by the professor, and are dedicated to the wheelmen of America. On the front page is a bright cut of Angus McLeod mounted on his wheel. The chorus is a rolling production in waltz time.

A SOUTH AMERICAN MISSIONARY

Rev. A. de Barritt is Spending a Few Weeks in Town.

Rev. A. de Barritt, of the South American Evangelical Mission, preached in the Murray Street Baptist Church, yesterday morning in the interests of his mission and spoke from the pulpit of St. Andrew's in the evening.

In the course of his sermons Mr. de Barritt gave a number of interesting statistics concerning the progress of the great work in the country of his adoption. It appears that only the fringe of this continent—more than sixty times as large as the United Kingdom—has been touched by the message of Free Salvation. On the frozen rocks of Fuegs, 50 years ago, Allan Gardiner and his immortal band of companions, to the undying honour of the South American Missionary Society that sent them forth, kindled a spiritual beacon light that to-day shines right around the world. Four thousand miles away, in the deadly tropics of Guiana, the heroic Moravian brethren died and died till deathless blessing for multitudes sprang from their tombs—both extremes of the continent proving the lowest of earth's races capable of becoming new creatures in Jesus Christ. Between these two extremities thirteen different missionary agencies have undertaken labour in this great harvest field. Have they been commensurate with the needs of the sphere? By those efforts judge whether o no South America merits the title Neglected Continent.

Omitting the group of christian churches in the Guianas on the N.-E. coast, and the scattered centres on the Atlantic borders of Brazil, one may say that the continent is almost untouched by aggressive Protestant missionary effort.

Venesuela, more than nine times as large as England and Wales, two-and-a-half times larger than Germany (area 566,059 square miles), with a population of 2,234 385 men and women, has only one missionary.

Colombia, larger than the total area of Great Britain, Ireland, Italy, Greece, Roumania, the Orange Free State, Bulgaria, Servia, Switzerland and Belgium, (area 504,773 square miles), more than three times as large as all Japan, has over 4,000,000 people, and only three missionary stations of the American Presbyterian Church.

Equador, called after the Equator, on which it lies, has no missionary and never has had. Quito, its capital, the highest city in the world, with 30,000 souls; Guayaquil, its principal commercial centre, and all its 1,220,000 inhabitants scattered over an area of 248.730 square miles (twice as large as Great Britain and Ireland), are wholly unevangelised as yet—unless ceremonial can save, and the wafer-god be Divine.

Peru, with its 3,000,000 people, its 650 schools, its magnificent railways, well-equipped army and navy, and world-famed products of bark, silver and guano, has but twelve Missionaries within its borders. India has one Missionary to every 165,000 souls; Peru, twelve Missionaries to 3,000,000. For three million people, twelve.

Bolivia, an enormous inland State (area 842,729 square miles), modelled, like all the South American Republics, on the constitution of the U. S. A., with its President—elected every four years—its congress, universal suffrage, and 2,200,000 souls, has received one or two passing visits from itinerant colporteurs of the noble American Bible Society, but has no resident missionary and never has had.

Brazil, which alone is larger than the whole United States (area 3,000.000 sqare miles), 290,000 more than U. S. A., and more than three times exceeds all British India, has 14 000,000 people, of whom not more than 2,000,000 can possibly hear the Gospel preached from Protestant Missionaries there working, leaving 12,000,000 in Brazil only, wholly unevangelised.

Rev. Mr. De Barritt conducts the Christian Endeavour meeting in the Murray street church this evening and speaks on Wednesday night in the Charlotte street church. On Sunday next he preaches from the pulpit of St. Paul's. During the week the distinguished missionary will be the guest of Rev. Dr. Torrance.

You cannot say you have tried everything for rheumatism, until you have taken Ayer's Pills. Hundreds have been cured of this complaint by the use of these Pills alone. They were admitted on exhibition at the World's Fair as a standard cathartic.

THE RE-OPENING OF OUR SCHOOLS.

UNPRECEDENTEDLY LARGE ATTENDANCES.

The Board of Education Expects Great Results From so Favourable a Beginning.

The stationery stores are doing a great business in school books this afternoon, as to-day signalised the beginning of the fall scholastic term—and the scholars are busy laying in a stock of books in preparation for their winter of study.

Without exception the schools were all well attended this morning, the scholars realizing that their season for holidaying had come to an end and apparently entering with renewed zest into the pursuit of their studies. Large numbers of the pupils only returned on Friday or Saturday from their holiday trips and renewed acquaintances with their companions in study of last year with pleasure.

As nothing was done at the schools with the exception of

and the new gradings, there was plenty of time for chats over the holidays, and an incessant hum from the different classrooms betokened how busy tongues were in relating pleasant summer experiences.

Scores of the scholars had just returned from the back lakes, and their pleasat outing there formed the chief topic of conversation, much to the edification and delight of their less fortunate hearers, who spent their holidays in spots not quite so pleasant.

The Collegiate Institute opened with the largest attendance ever present at the beginning of a session. Two hundred and three scholars were in their seats and were properly graded for the work of the coming year. Many more scholars have signified their intention of attending the Collegiate Institute, also. The local Collegiate is opening a week earlier than the majority of schools, but the scholars are all eager to be back at their studies, and, consequently, when other schools are just reopening the Peterborough Institute will be in full swing and well settled down to work.

The opening day in the Public Schools brought out a large number of pupils, though not as many, of course, in proportion as attended as study has not yet assumed the same importance in the eyes of the younger pupils as it has in their elders. In the primary departments the little ones will not turn out in force until the warm weather has somewhat abated in its vigorous heat.

In the South Ward there were about 300 pupils in attendance, besides 45 who registered in the Kindergarten Department. These 45 are all new pupils, as those who were in attendance last term do not return to school until September 2nd. The usual complement of the class is about 70, but it will be far larger this year. In the West Ward School there were 197 registrations, and in fact in all the schools the attendance was exceptionally high. The new Inspector, Mr. Wherry, was at his post, and made the acquaintance of the various teachers and principals during the course of the morning. Miss Spence, the new lady teacher at the Collegiate was also present and met her co-workers for the first time.

On the whole the outlook for the ensuing scholastic term is a bright one, indeed, and the Board of Education expects great results from so favourable a begining.

Principal Fessenden has not as yet received the marks obtained by the candidates at the Departmental Examinations, but telegraphed this morning, stating that reorganization was delayed in consequence of the non-remission of the marks.

Mr. W. J. Spence, who was so successful in his recent scholarship examinations, actually took $495.00 in prizes. He was, however, only permitted to hold one scholarship, which nets him $180.00.

THE SEPARATE SCHOOLS.

At the Separate School, Murray street, the pupils turned out in good numbers. The teaching staff this year will be:—Mr. Keough, Principal, and Misses Ryan, O'Connell and Dennaird. After receiving the lessons for to-morrow the pupils were dismissed for the day.

At the Convent and Lake street schools the attendance this morning was large, each form being well represented. The Sisters of St. Joseph will have charge of Lake street school, as formerly.

ASHBURNHAM PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The were 185 pupils on the roll at the Ashburnham school this morning. Mr. J. Coyle Brown, P.S.I., was present and gave a short talk to the pupils. The junior class was dismissed for the day.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Brampton Excelsiors are Badly Beaten in the Senior C.L.A. Championship Contest,

Seaforth, Aug. 23.—About 350 admirers of the Excelsior Lacrosse Club accompanied the firemen on their excursion to witness the lacrosse match.

First game—Seaforth got the ball on face and carried it down on Brampton's flags, but missed a good chance. After 17 minutes' play Seaforth scored, John Jackson making the shot. In this game Bell slipped, and, failing heavily, could not continue play, which necessitated him retiring, also Hodgson of the Excelsiors to even up.

Second game—Seaforth got the sphere on the draw. The ball travelled up and down the field for 18 1-2 minutes, when Blackford of Seaforth put the rubber through.

Third game—Brampton got the advantage on the draw, and carried the ball down on Seaforth's flags, but it was quickly returned to the other end. After four minutes' fast play J. Jackson made a neat shot, which placed No. 3 to Seaforth's credit.

Fourth game—Seaforth secured the draw, and after 8 minutes' quick play and some hard checking, scored, ending the match by 4 to 0.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. Fenwick, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. Wer[illegible] Olympia St., New Orleans, La.

WEARING BLOOMERS

WOMEN BICYCLISTS DESCRIBE THAT TRYING ORDEAL.

The Emancipation From Skirts the Result of a Process of Evolution—First the Gradual Shortening of the Skirt, Then the Divided Skirt, Then the Bloomers.

The bicycle mania continues to spread in every direction among women. It is affecting all alike, without regard to age, station or profession, and, instead of the number of devotees decreasing as the dog days advance, it is rapidly increasing. While those who have become experts discuss improvements in tires, chains and other parts of their wheels, the beginners are busy settling the question of costume.

"My skirts are in my way, even if they are short, and yet I cannot make up my mind to wear bloomers," remarked a young married woman, as she dismounted after her fourth lesson in one of the academies yesterday. All of the women, except one, who heard the remark wore skirts, as they were also beginners.

"Oh, I can never wear bloomers." "Nor I," "Nor I," exclaimed half a dozen.

The lone girl in bloomers looked at them with great, sympathetic eyes, and then said: "I used to think that, too, but you see I'm wearing them."

"How does it feel?" asked a stout woman, who has taken nine lessons and is still afraid of the fence.

"It feels very comfortable; but I must admit that I was astonished at myself the first few times I went out in them. First of all, I thought I could never wear a short skirt, but when I came to take my mounting lesson I found that it would take me days to learn in a long one, so I had it cut off. I told the dressmaker to let it come to the top of the boot, but she made a mistake, and it came very little below the knee. I actually cried when I tried it on, and vowed that I could never go out in it. Every night for a week I put that skirt on and walked around in my room, and by-and-bye I got used to it, and finally wore it to the school, though I wore a long skirt over it through the street. I'll never forget my feelings when I went into the circle for the first time in that rig. Why, I felt as if every person in the academy was not only looking but laughing at me. For two weeks I continued always to wear the long skirt over the short in going to and from my lessons, but at the end of that time I felt that it was nonsense to punish myself by wearing two heavy skirts, so I dropped the long one. I felt very conspicuous when I boarded a Broadway car, and two women and a man giggled so that I almost wished the car would get into a collision. Three days later some people in a car laughed at my costume, which was a swell one, and I felt sorry for them, because I knew how narrow-minded they must be. Still, I felt that I could never wear bloomers, and really and truly become one of the 'straddling sisterhood,' for I had never numbered myself among the strong-minded women, as I fancied all who wore bloomers were.

"Just as I was beginning to feel thoroughly at home everywhere in my short skirt, a friend of mine returned from Europe. She came at once to see me, and, throwing a parcel at me, said: 'Old girl, I've brought you the latest thing out in Paris in the way of a bicycle suit.' I almost cried with joy, and couldn't get the package open fast enough. When I shook the suit out it was these," and the speaker pointed to the perfectly-fitting garment that she wore, made of very fine lady's cloth of a rich mahogany color.

"Well, they are just lovely, but I wouldn't wear them," [illegible] with a bloomer figure.

"Yes, you could," insisted the bloomerite, "if you would only let common sense prevail over the conventional ideas regarding dress that you've been brought up to believe in. But to go on about how it feels to wear bloomers. When I beheld these my eyes almost popped out of my head, and my jaw dropped. 'Where's the skirt?' I asked, in a trembling voice. 'Skirt!' my friend said, with a shriek of laughter; 'surely you didn't expect a Parisian cycling costume to have a skirt! Why, I didn't see a skirt on a wheel the whole time I was there, and I saw old, dried-up looking women, who must have been on the shady side of 60, out by the score. The women there not only ride in rationals, as I call them, but walk about the streets and shops in the most showy bloomers and knickers that I ever beheld. I'll venture to say that half of them don't own wheels, but they are simply mad over this free-and-easy costume, and what sensible person can blame them when one remembers that for years woman has been in the bondage of puffed sleeves and heavy trailing skirts?'

"After her little sermon on dress reform, I thought perhaps I could go out in the suit after dark, and really the dainty white linen waist, the well-cut coat, the heavy silk stockings and patent-leather low shoes looked very tempting; but oh, those bloomers! My friend suggested that we go out that afternoon, but I pleaded a headache. 'Well, to-morrow morning,' she persisted, and I told a deliberate story, saying that I had an engagement. She saw through it then, and went off into peals of laughter. This made me angry, and I said I will go this afternoon, and so I did. My friend wore knickerbockers, and that was a little consolation to me, because I felt that she would attract the most attention. At first I felt six feet tall, and my feet looked immense as I went to mount. Naturally I made a movement to adjust my skirt, and when there was none there to adjust I actually felt sick to think that I was in the streets of New York without a skirt. We took to Central Park, and my companion reassured me, and soon I forgot all about my knicks. My only sensation was one of lightness and freedom, and when we came down the Boulevard on our return and I had to dismount like lightning to keep from being run into by a cable car I owned up that I would never ride in anything else again, and I never shall. You will all come to it, and I advise you to jump right into rationals. It is like plunging into the surf when the water is cold. The shock is trying at first, but you jump up and down, and throw your limbs around, and very soon you forget all about it.'

"How perfectly true that is," remarked another bloomerite, who had joined the party. "I attended an experience meeting held by a dozen girls who have recently adopted bloomers, and each one felt very much as you did when appearing in them for the first time. That's one of the greatest reforms that bicycling has wrought—this matter of dress."

"And a much-needed one," added a woman doctor who rides 20 miles every day.—New York Sun.

A Sleep-Producing Grass.

In some parts of Mexico there grows a grass which produces a somniferous effect on the animals that graze upon it. Horses, after eating the grass, in nearly all cases, sleep standing, while cows and sheep almost invariably lie down. It has occasionally happened that riders have stopped to allow the horses to feed in places where the grass grows pretty thickly and the animals have had time to eat a considerable quantity before its effect manifested itself. In such cases horses have gone to sleep on the road and it is hard to arouse them. The effect of the grass passes off in an hour or two and no bad results have been noticed on account of it.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

BIG WHEAT CROP SAFE

The Bulk of the Wheat is Now Cut.

A DAY OR TWO WILL FINISH IT

In a Majority of the Districts There is Absolutely No Frosted Wheat—New Wheat Marketed at Brandon at Fifty Cents Per Bushel.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 25.—Saturday morning's reports along the Manitoba Northwestern road show that the weather was partly cloudy, cool and calm with no rain. Harvesting is general and all reports are favorable as far as Minnedosa. At Upland and in the Newdale district the crop is coming on slowly.

It has been a grand harvest week, and there must be fully 75 per cent. of the wheat cut to-night. Many of the smaller farmers are all through; the others will finish Monday or Tuesday.

Mr. Condy, west of this town, finished cutting wheat on 640 acres to-night. Mr. Springsteen finished to-night cutting over 1100 acres of wheat out of 1200. He has eight binders, works long hours and will finish on Monday. He has 400 acres of oats and barley partly cut and will finish up after wheat. Mr. Cuthbert, 10 miles north, will finish cutting 600 acres of wheat on Monday. He keeps two binders with double relays of horses going steady early and late. Mr. Connor, two miles west, finished most of his 400 acre field to-day. He has six to seven binders going ordinary time.

Melita district claims no damage, with an immense harvest.

Manitou district claims an average yield of wheat 30, oats 60 and barley 35 bushels to the acre.

Deloraine had barley and oats threshed on August 15. Both are a good sample and yielded 80 and 50 bushels per acre, respectively.

Pilot Mound Sentinel estimates that two million bushels of wheat are being cut each day and that sixty thousand men are at work in the fields. The crops never looked better in this district.

Reports from Dunbar settlement, north of Estevan, show excellent crops this year. Estevan district is usually too dry.

Adam McKenzie, a big farmer of East Carberry, bought 5000 lbs. of cord for his crop.

The first wheat marketed in Morden weighed sixty-four pounds to the bushel and sold for fifty-five cents.

Threshing is going on in many fields and there will be not a day's delay in starting threshing on account of immense crop. Threshers find it difficult enough to handle an ordinary crop, but this one will tax their resources to the utmost for three or four months.

There is a difference of opinion regarding the harvest excursions. One section claims it swamps local labor, lowers wages, effects no permanent good to the province, and thinks the railway is only doing it for the fares. This opinion is vastly in the minority, and Ontario help is welcomed in all districts. The wages paid vary in different districts: from $20 to $25 in Portage up to $30 to $35 in Qu'Appelle district.

The Qu'Appelle paper of the 23rd congratulates the district on complete immunity from frost and sympathizes with districts in Manitoba affected. It will not have to expend much sympathy.

The Reporter of Rapid City says the temperature on Monday fell from four to six degrees in the valley, and did some damage to gardens.

The Brandon Times says they had two degrees of frost, but it did no damage.

The Elkhorn Advocate gives four degrees of frost Monday night, and is favorable to cutting wheat while green if there is danger from frost. This item, originating from the Experimental Farm, has been copied by nearly all the papers without comment in nearly all cases. If they are waiting for the opinion of farmers, the latter are too busy now to give an opinion.

The Gazette of Glenboro reports a field of oats six feet four inches high. Wages paid harvest laborers there run from $30 to $40 a month. Frost there on Tuesday morning; two degrees, five at Stockton, four at Treherne. Tender plants were injured in many gardens. It thinks there will be some frost in the grain.

Brandon estimates that for threshing the wages to be paid pitchers will be $35 per month, band cutters $26, others about $30, harvest hands $25 to $35; all wages include board.

The Carman Standard estimates the wheat to be marketed at Carman at 700,000 bushels this year.

The Brandon Sun has been making diligent enquiries about frost and finds the visitation came in streaks, was very light on uplands, but heavier in the valley of the Assiniboine. The thermometer at the experimental farm showed two degrees frost, and tender plants were affected. Enquiries among the farmers lead to the conclusion that not much, if any, damage was done to wheat. The Sun deplores the chance this will give to speculators to bear the market. That is the worst feature and it will also increase the number of grades.

The Deloraine Times has a congratulatory article on the fine crop and progress of cutting, which began over two weeks ago on the plain along the mountain east and west much later. Threshing machines are taking a preliminary canter. At McArthur's farm, a week ago Thursday they threshed five acres, sown from four sacks, with a yield of 500 bushels, making an average of 100 bushels, so says The Deloraine Times. Farmers around there are experimenting with flax, but don't like it. They claim it has introduced yellow and black mustard, tumbling mustard, or favored their spread when already introduced. They will thresh flax where it is and turn the ground over.

The Neepawa Register says that section had an uncomfortable shave on Monday night, with the thermometer at freezing point. In the flats it was below freezing. It says the average there is three pounds of cord per acre.

The Canadian Bankers' Association has received the balance of its crop estimates from correspondents, 123 in all. The exact average is: Wheat, 27.09; oats, 49.70; barley, 37.43 bushels to the acre. The wheat yield is put at 30,890,000 bushels; oats, 23,988,000; barley, 5,758,000. Total of the crop, 66,636,402 bushels.

Threshing is in at Oak Lake, West Brandon Territories. At Indian Head 30 per cent. of the entire crop is cut.

The general harvest will be nearly over by Tuesday night and not less than 75 per cent. of wheat is now cut on the plains.

As the harvest is so well advanced, the crop being saved, the farmers, men and horses, enjoyed a well-earned rest to-day.

BOUND FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

The South Africa Fever Seems to Have Struck Peterborough.

Ho, for Africa! Ho, for the land of the silent sphinx, the land of mystery and wonder, and more wonderful than all, the land where diamonds of fabulous value glisten in the streams, and where the gold that glitters is embebbed in the rocks, waiting for the north men to come and enrich themselves beyond the dreams of avarice.

Such at least may be the walking dreams of those who are preparing to leave the shores of this free country for the land of Kaffirs and Cecil Rhodes.

Whether their dreams of future wealth will be realized, or whether they are destined to a rude disillusionizing, remains one of those secrets which perhaps the aforesaid sphinx may have locked up in its stony breast.

As a matter of fact, it nevertheless is true that a movement is afoot which may or may not portend much to the future of our country.

On September 2 a party of young men, numbering at the present time 35, and which may be swelled to greater proportions, will leave Toronto for Cape Town, Africa.

This emigration movement has set in as the result of the distribution of certain literature, setting forth the bright prospects and glorious opportunites for young men of enterprise and pluck, who are prepared to be among the pioneers of what is said to be the great colonizing centre of the future.

A gentleman who had been visiting Peterborough friends recently, and who had spent some time in South Africa, was interviewed while in town by a large number of Peterborough citizens, among them several medical gentlemen, in regard to the wealth, resources and climate of South Africa.

Several of them were so favourably impressed with the description of the country that it is said a number of them will leave for that place in the spring to seek their fortunes.

KEENE.

Two Excursions and a Football Match—Keene Wins.

Keene was in an unwonted state of excitement on Friday last. The steamers Beaver and North Star brought in two excursion parties—from Bewdley and Plainville. With the former came the football team, and in the afternoon a match was played upon the school grounds. The game was hotly contested in a double sense—the afternoon was hot and the play was hot. The Keene team had generally the best of the play, though the individual members of the Keene team were on the average smaller than their opponents.

In the first half Keene scored a game in fine style, of course they were favoured with the down hill kick and the wind, but these advantages were not used by Bewdley in the second half when the goals were reversed and though strong efforts were made to force the pigskin between the Keene goals, time was called before they could score. Keene thus won the tournament. There was a little rough playing and considerable difference of opinion as to the referee's interpretation of the rules.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept. but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

RAIN IN MANITOBA

Delays the Wheat Harvest Somewhat.

FIFTY-TWO CENTS THIS PRICE

Out Grain is All Well Stacked—A Wheat Blockade Talked of Simply to Boom the Hudson Bay Railway—Reports From All Sections of the Wheat Field.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 26.—It rained here for a short time about 6 o'clock this morning, cleared up some by noon, but was heavy, cloudy and warm during the afternoon. The rain evidently came down the valley of the Assiniboine and only extended a few miles out on the plains. Within the rain belt cutting was delayed until noon.

Morning reports on the Manitoba Northwestern road show that it was generally cloudy and calm; no rain during 48 hours except a shower of 15 minutes here, of half an hour at Binscarth, and a quarter of an hour at Russell.

Harvesting is general to-day from Portage to Minnedosa and Rapid City. No cutting of oats or wheat at Newdale. At Strathclair cutting is increasing. At Birtle and Binscarth it is general, and is increasing at Russell. There is a cord famine at Langenburg.

Twenty-five cars of stock left Russell this morning for the eastern markets.

Mr. Riley, manager of the Sanford Company, has returned from driving through Portage Plains to Westbourne and says that several farmers required four or five pounds of cord per acre. The crop is as much as the ground will carry, and no crops are lodged anywhere. Senator Sanford, who has 800 acres of wheat at Westbourne, is cutting 50 acres a day with four binders, and the yield has been from 30 to 50 bushels per acre, according to the year, but was never below 25 for the farm is in a very rich section. Mr. Riley complimented the people of Stonewall district on the fine macadamized roads, probably the only ones in Manitoba, being made with a first layer of stone chips on clay, then a layer of smaller stone, and lastly seven or eight inches of gravel. They have stood the test splendidly, even right through the swamps, and he recommends the idea for Winnipeg streets.

Mr. Smith of Gretna has a big crop, which has yielded 35 bushels per acre.

Some farmers on Portage Plains started threshing on Saturday.

Robert Kerr, freight agent of the C.P.R., says there will be a reduction in rates on wheat this year. He has just returned from Minneapolis and says the prices in Dakota are 50 and 52 cents.

All grain in Red River Valley, Manitoba, is well stacked.

Reports from along the Northern Pacific this morning show heavy rain at Morris; during the night it rained some at Brandon, Wawanesa, Belmont, Miami and Winnipeg. The lowest temperature was at Brandon, 58; 60 at other places.

Calgary, cloudy, minimum 40.
McLeod, cloudy, 40.
Edmonton, clear, 38.
Regina, cloudy, 50.
Prince Albert, cloudy, 45.
Broadview, cloudy, rain, 50.
Estevan, 49.
Souris, raining, 52.
Gretna, raining, 58.
Napinka, raining, 55.

It is not likely that the rain reported from nearly all over the province to-day will amount to much. It is clear and cool and nearly calm here to-night. The Minimum last night was 51; maximum to-day 73.

The Winnipeg Nor-'Wester and the Morden paper are trying to get up a wheat blockade to boom the building of the Hudson's Bay Railway. A good deal of heavy figuring is being placed on paper, but these papers assume that every farmer will want to sell his whole crop at once, which will not be the case this fall. Farmers did that last fall, but won't repeat the experiment.

The elevator capacity of the Northwest, along the Canadian Pacific, is 9,621,000; Northern Pacific 707,500; Manitoba Northwestern 732,500; Great Northwest Central, 250,000; Canadian Pacific warehouses, 536,700, a total of 11,877,700 bushels. This will likely be increased to 12,000,000 bushels before the season closes, because a large number of small elevators and warehouses are being rushed up all over the Northwest in preparation for the great harvest.

Early harvesting returns show the crop is turning out as heavy or heavier than looked for. A Virden grain buyer was shown a sample of wheat a few days ago and immediately pronounced it frosted, but was rather taken aback when told it had been cut green a week before the frost threatened and had been exposed in a window to ripen. This shows the tendency of some grain men, through ignorance, or worse, in years when there is the faintest suspicion of frost to give them a clue.

International Grain Market Open.

Vienna, Aug. 27.—The annual international grain market opened to-day. The official estimates of the crops given in percentages are as yet rather incomplete. The most striking changes are found in Great Britain, whose wheat estimates are 37 per cent., barley 20 per cent. and oats 25 per cent. worse than they were in 1894. France shows a decrease of 22 per cent. in wheat and 20 per cent. in rye and oats. Austria-Hungary is reported rather better in respect of wheat, but decidedly lower in rye.

In Hungary barley is lower, but oats throughout the Empire are better than in 1894. Bavaria shows a decrease of 35 per cent. in wheat, 40 per cent. in rye, 50 per cent. in barley and 45 per cent. in oats. In India the wheat crop is 6,278,000 tons, against 6,923,000 tons in 1894. The United States shows 390,000,000 bushels of wheat, 21,500,000 bushels of rye and 2,427,000,000 bushels of corn. Canada shows 62,000,000 bushels of wheat, against 53,000,000 bushels in 1894.

WHAT CAUSED HIS DEATH?

The Body of James Barrett to Be Exhumed.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 27.—On Aug. 15, James Barrett, a farmer residing 13 miles from Novea, was out rowing on Buck's Lake with a number of companions. For some reason Barrett attempted to swim to shore 100 yards distant, and was drowned. His body was not recovered until the following Sunday afternoon. It was brought to this city by a brother of the deceased, John Barrett, 16 Ulster street, and interred in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery on Aug. 20.

The neighbors began to talk of the somewhat contradictory stories told by the men who were with him. It was also thought strange that a strong swimmer like Barrett should have had any difficulty in swimming so short a distance. Suspicion that all was not right was roused in the minds of the dead man's wife and of John Barrett, his brother.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Attorney-General's Department.

Drs. A. J. Johnson and J. Caven will visit Mt. Pleasant Cemetery today, exhume the body and hold a post-mortem examination whether or not Barrett was struck by an oar or suffered violence in any other way before being drowned.

Barrett had lived in that district for 2 years. He owned a farm of 300 acres, and was in comfortable circumstances.

Good Shooting at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 27.—The annual prize meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association opened yesterday at the Rideau ranges. All the indications at present point towards the meet being the most successful in every respect in the history of the association. The entries, over 400, are more numerous than ever before and the shooting superior. That of last year is far below in comparison. Then the weather is excellent and the ammunition, that of 1893, all that could be desired. Three matches were shot yesterday, the Nursery, 5 shots at 500 yards, possible 35; the Hamilton Powder Co., 7 shots at 500 yards, possible 35; and the MacDougall Challenge Cup match, 5 rounds at 400 and 600 yards, possible 50.

The Nursery, open to members who had not won a prize of $5 at any previous meeting of the D.R.A., was won last year with 23 and seven 15's drew money. Yesterday there were three possibles and three 20's counted out.

The Hamilton Powder Company match last year was won by a possible, but it was the only one, and the seventeenth 30 drew the 89th and last prize out of 382 entries. Yesterday there were three possibles and 33 31's were counted out, or 127 men made 31 and over out of 389 who competed.

The MacDougall last year was won with 46, and 16 40's drew $4 each. Yesterday, despite the fact that the wind was tricky at the second range, there were two 49's, while 17 24's were counted out.

London, Aug. 27.—The steamer Lyonnesse, previously reported as standing by the steamer Ohio, from New York for Hull, which signalled off Scilly on Saturday that she was disabled, has returned to Penzance. The Lyonnesse left the Ohio drifting, the latter's captain having refused the offer of the Lyonnesse to tow his ship from Scilly into port for £40.

MUST PAY ITS DEBTS.

Newfoundland Cannot Secure Assistance.

BRITAIN DECLINES TO HELP HER

No Relief For the Island Colony on That Score From the Home Government —A Scare Report From China Denied in the Commons.

London, Aug. 27.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. William Johnston, Conservative member for South Belfast, asked for information as to the position of the negotiations which had been pursued between Newfoundland and Canada, to the end that the former should be merged into the Dominion. He also asked whether the Home Government would assist in settling the financial difficulties of Newfoundland.

Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, said that the negotiations were in abeyance, owing, he believed, to the disinclination of the Dominion to assume the debt of Newfoundland. If the second part of Mr. Johnston's question meant the imposition upon the taxpayers of Great Britain of any liability for the debt of the colony of Newfoundland, Mr. Chamberlain said, he must answer in the negative.

Mr. George N. Curzon, Under Foreign Secretary, stated that the report that the troops sent to escort the British Consul to Kucheng had plundered the Christian mission at that place was not confirmed by the Consul himself. The Foreign Office, he said, had heard nothing in regard to any misconduct on the part of the escort. The Government, however, upon learning that the Chinese authorities at Kucheng objected to the presence of the British Consul at the inquiry into the outrages, had sent a protest to the Pekin Government, which had immediately telegraphed orders that the Consul should be shown every possible facility to enable him to watch the examinations.

British Naval Estimates

London, Aug. 27.—The navy estimates which were prepared by the late Liberal Government and adopted by the present Ministry have just been issued. They have been subjected to slight alterations, but in the main the details are the same as originally formulated. The number of men provided for is 88,850, which is an increase of 5450 over the estimate of last year. Besides the expenditures under the provisions of the Naval Defence Act it is proposed to lay out £5,393,642 on the construction of ships and £730,000 on armaments.

NOW WHITEWAY RETRENCHES

Schools are Being Closed and the Poor Relief is Cut in Two.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 27.—The prosecuting attorney in the preliminary investigation in the matter of the Union Bank directors has rested his case, considering that sufficient evidence has been produced to warrant the defendants' committal for trial. The whole community is shocked at the revelations of the rotten condition of the bank.

The Government is preparing to put the retrenchment scheme into operation. The closing of the schools begins next month owing to the reduction in the education grant. Many of the teachers refuse to continue work at the reduced salaries. The expenditure in behalf of the poor is being reduced to one-half of the former amount. Half of the paupers are being stricken from the list. No doctors nor medicine will be provided unless in case of absolute necessity. The result of this will be to cause a further period of distress next winter.

Dr. Grenfell, superintendent of the Deep Sea Mission, writes announcing the extreme destitution among the residents of Northern Labrador owing to the failure of the salmon fisheries. He says that many persons will perish next winter unless prompt assistance is rendered.

A VICTIM OF THE CHARIBDIS.

Body of Alex. T. Douglas Recovered in Lake Nipissing After Two Years.

North Bay, Aug. 27.—The body of Alex. T. Douglas, storekeeper for Davidson & Hay, Toronto, who was one of the 21 who lost their lives by the burning of that firm's steamer, The Fraser, on Lake Nipissing, Sept. 7, 1893, was found by John Cousckin, an Indian, on Saturday on the north shore of the lake 5 1-2 miles west of here. It was nude, but well preserved. That the body had been lying in sixty feet of water, and possibly a muddy bottom, seems the only way of accounting for its preservation for so long a time, and the recent thunderstorms are thought to be the cause of its coming to the surface. The bodies of 15 of the 21 victims had previously been found, nearly all within a year after the occurrence.

Five Drowned at Skegness

PA WASN'T AMUSED.

And He Has Sued the Clerk Who Issued the Marriage License.

Vernon, Ia., Aug. 27.—The District Court, which convened here on the 19th inst., has a damage suit on the docket which is attracting very general attention throughout the parish. The suit is against the clerk of the court for issuing a marriage license to a young man named Lewis to wed a Miss Tinsley. Mr. Lewis' father objected to the marriage of his son, who was only 18 years old, and he has instituted this suit against the clerk for damages amounting to $3,000. The question involved has never been passed upon by the Supreme Court of this State, and the lawyers are looking forward with much interest to the decision of this question.

A SUMMERTIME CONTRAST.

The contrast between the American and Canadian idea of summering is instructive, with the advantages all in favour of the Canadian system. At the fashionable Yankee seaside places and resorts, life is entirely made up of dressing and undressing, eating and drinking, much dancing and little sleeping. Far from being a rest, social festivities are indulged in with such persistency that the young man or the young woman return from their summer sojourn exhausted rather than refreshed, enervated rather than reinvigored. Their life has too much resemblance to that which they lead in the city during the other eight months of the year. They do much the same things, only under different surroundings. On the other hand, the Canadian, forced generally by the meagreness of his wallet, seeks the inland lakes of Muskoka or a charming summer home on the shores of the back lakes of our county. He may rough it considerably. He may lack the conveniences of the city, but he obtains complete rest and refreshment and change of air. He and she eschew the perpetual dancing and frivolity that one sees across the border at the fashionable resorts of the vacation. In this connection Life has a clever skit on Bar Harbour, which applies likewise to numerous other American summer places, and serves to point the moral of what we have said :—

Bar Harbour is the capital of Mt. Desert, which is an island several miles in diameter and several feet high. It is entirely surrounded by water and inhabited by millionaires, who derive a scanty subsistance from its sterile soil by yachting, driving and golfing.

The island abounds in rocks, drives, salt water and girls.

The principal products are morning calls afternoon teas and dinner dances. When not attending to the cultivation of these staples the inhabitants are occupied in driving up and down to see that none of the scenery—to which they are much attached—has got away during the night.

Mt. Desert was discovered several years ago—before the Christian Science era—by Frenchmen, who looked over the menu, and finding nothing there within their means gave their names to several dishes, and left the island to be rediscovered by the hardy race of millionaires who came after them, and who still subsist there.

The dwellings of this curious and interesting people are called cottages, and are constructed of bricks, mortar and bric-a-brac.

The people are gregarious and migratory in habit, nesting and raising their young, and giving dinner parties in their cottages in the summer, while during the winter they migrate to large cities, where they fight and devour other millionaires; the victorious ones returning to Bar Harbour the next season, while the unsuccessful retire to the less favoured resorts such as Newport, Long Branch or Nantasket.

The millionaire is exceedingly industrious during the summer season, attending most assiduously to the arduous social duties or functions by which he supports existence, and from which he rarely allows himself to be diverted by any considerations of enjoyment or recreation.

The female of the species is deciduous, shedding it plumage frequently—sometimes as often as five or six times in a single day—the feathers generally becoming more and more brilliant as the day advances.

Scientists have been undecided as to whether the brilliant plumage of the female millionaire is protective, or imitative, or for the purpose of attracting the male, though I believe that the best modern thought inclines to the latter opinion.

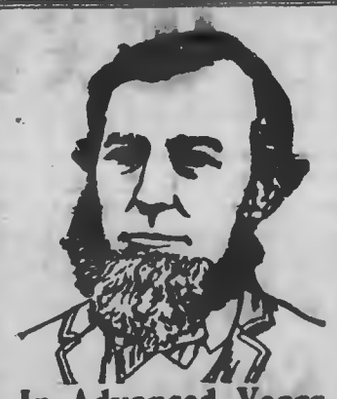
Valkyrie Preparing For the Race.

New York, Aug. 26.—The water was let into the dry-dock at Erie basin, Brooklyn, at 7.30 o'clock this morning. At 9 o'clock the English yacht, Valkyrie III., was afloat. Her crew began getting ready for a sail outside, but owing to the tide it was 12.30 before the Valkyrie could be taken through the gate of the dry-dock. The British papers are complaining because the America Cup Committee have fixed Sept. 7 for the first yacht race. Mr. Ratsey said just before they started for a trial sail at five that the mainsail would not be finished in time to try the boat until to-morrow.

The 40 men seemed to have all they wanted to do to get the throat and peak of the gaff well up. The sail set well, except at the foot. There was considerable fulness from the mast two-thirds of the way to the end of the boom. The sail seemed to be about six feet longer at the foot and four or five feet taller than the mainsail of either Vigilant or Defender. Sailmaker Ratsey examined it closely and made notes for some slight alterations.



In Advanced Years

The strength and pure blood necessary to resist the effects of cold seasons are given by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I have for the last 25 years of my life been complaining of a weakness of the lungs and colds in the head, especially in the winter. Last fall I was again attacked. Reading of Hood's Sarsaparilla I was led to try it. I am now taking the fifth bottle with good results. I can positively say that I have not spent a winter as free from coughs or pains and difficult breathing spells for the last 25 years as was last winter. I can lie down and sleep all night without any annoyance from cough or pain in the lungs or asthmatic difficulty." E. M. CHAMBERS, J. P., Cornhill, N. B.

British Farmers Seeking Information Re Canada.

IMMIGRATION PROSPECTS GOOD

Agent Downs at Bristol Reports an Active Enquiry Concerning the Dominion—Cheese and Butter Consignments Sell Well—Government Contracts Awarded.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—John W. Down, Government agent at Bristol, England, in his report for the month of July to the Minister of Interior, says that there has been a considerable increase in the number of people calling at his office for information concerning Canada, and that there has been an increase, too, in the number of immigrants leaving for the Dominion. "The scarcity of money alone prevents thousands of good farmers from going to Canada," writes the agent. "Many have left for New York via Southampton, the low rates of passage and the convenience of that port for the south and west of England making the route a very popular one."

Agt Down states, in regard to trade, that two steamships recently arrived from Montreal with their cargoes of cattle and sheep in good condition. They also brought a goodly quantity of butter, two consignments, which gave every satisfaction. Cheese was also brought in large quantities, the quality thereof being fully up to the mark. Mr. Down adds: "Undoubtedly there is a good market at Bristol for grapes, if sound, hard-bodied fruit, carefully selected and properly packed were sent."

The Salvation Army delegates, who were to have called at Ottawa on their way from the Northwest, eventually decided not to break their journey, and accordingly passed through to Montreal, as they were somewhat pressed for time. It is understood that upon their return to England they will report at the Army Headquarters as to the suitability of the sections which they visited in the Northwest for settlement under the auspices of the Army. While, of course, every facility will be afforded to the promoters of the scheme by the Government, the department has decided not to make any special concessions in their behalf. Any immigrants they may send will be given free homesteads conformably to the land regulations, but they will be afforded no assistance to help them to come out to this country.

At the Department of Railways and Canals to-day tenders were being opened for the construction of two stone buildings at the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, one of them intended for offices and the other for the canal workshop. The contract for the mason work for the Burlington bridge at Hamilton has been awarded to George F. Webb of that city. The plans show a very substantial and comely structure, which, from appearances, may cost between $30,000 and $40,000.

Sir Adolphe and Lady Caron entertained the new President of the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, K.C.M.G., last evening. Sir Charles and party left Montreal for Ottawa by special train yesterday at 12.30 p.m., arriving in the city at 4.05 p.m. They returned to Montreal by special at 11.30 last evening, as they were obliged to return at once. A number of ladies and gentlemen were invited to meet Sir Charles at dinner, including Sir Henry Strong, Deputy Governor of Canada, and Lady Strong; Chapleau, Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, and Mrs. Chapleau; Cabinet Ministers; T. G. Shaughnessy, Wainwright, E. J. Chamberlin, Mr. J. J. Foote, Mr. J. R. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Graham (Montreal), Andrew Allan (Montreal) and others.

Parliament is to be called together not later than the 2nd of January next, and the question which has already been raised is how long may it legally sit. The answer to this does not, in the opinion of those who have been questioned here, admit of much doubt. Under the constitution, Parliament is elected for five years, beginning from the date of the return of the writs of the previous election. It may, if the Government so determine, be dissolved sooner, but its life is fixed at five years and "no longer." The date fixed at the last election for the return of the bulk of the writs was April 25th, 1891. So that it would appear that the limit of the life of the present Parliament is April the 25th, 1896. The Liberals in Ontario have contended that the Provincial Legislature does not expire until four years from the date of the return of the last writ. As the return from Algoma is always considerably later than those from the more accessible districts, this straining of the constitution has, on one occasion at least, been turned to profitable account by the Local Government. Thus the third Legislature of Ontario was continued from Dec. 23rd, 1878, to April 25th, 1879, three or four months beyond what appeared to be the legal limit. If this line of argument were adopted and nothing is more unlikely, the seventh Parliament of Canada might claim legal existence until June 3rd, 1896, since that was the date of the return of the last writ, the writ for Algoma. Bu laying aside that as out of the question, it would appear that a session beginning on the 2nd of January would have nearly four months in which to transact its business, a period which, in the absence of obstruction, should be ample. Concerning the election which must follow, the only direction given by the constitution is that a session of Parliament must be held within one year of the close of preceding session, so that the people might be consulted in the fall of 1896, or the spring of 1897, provided it is done at such time that the new Parliament may meet within the year of the propagation of the preceding session.

In response to a request from the captain of steamer Dracona, wrecked on Sunday on Fame Point in the St. Lawrence, the Department of Marine and Fisheries has ordered an investigation to be held into the stranding of the vessel. The inquiry will be conducted by Captain Smith of Halifax, who has been instructed to proceed to Quebec for that purpose.

A Cabinet Council was held this afternoon, at which four Ministers, exactly a quorum, were present, Sir Adolphe Caron, as Acting Premier, presiding. Other Ministers were Hon. John Haggart, Hon. J. C. Patterson and Hon. Dr. Montague. Departmental business only was transacted.

Lieut.-Col. Gibson, President of the D.R.A., and Mrs. Gibson are expected to arrive in the city on Wednesday.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

THE MISSIONARY'S COMPANION.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionary for the International Mission to Algoma and North-West, attributes his escape from severe illness through summer complaints to the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. The Reason . .

Good health cannot be enjoyed when the nerves are in a deranged condition as in common other organs of the body do not receive their natural supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centre is situated near the base of the brain, and when nerve fluid is cut off the isolated part loses its functional power.

A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

For the Use of the Sick.

Mr. A. Clegg recently presented the Nicholls Hospital with a handsome writing desk for the use of patients confined to their beds. A Lightning Artist.

Mr. Will R. Clark, the lightning artist, has been busily engaged for the past few days in town with the brush. Condition of George Street.

The stones are working up through the layer of sand recently placed on George street and the roadway is again becoming rough. The roller ought to be again run over that portion of the street so effected in order that the loose stones could be crushed back into the road bed. This ought to be done immediately, as a large number of visiting wheelmen will be in town on Friday for the races and a poor street would create a very bad impression.

What a Difference in the Morning.

The Chief arrested Jas. Wallace, a one-armed man, yesterday afternoon for being drunk and for begging. When he arrived at police headquarters with the man he threatened to annihilate the whole police force, and swore vengeance on the Chief whenever he was liberated. This morning, however, he was a changed man, and the Chief, in his opinion, was all right. The court discharged him.

From the Garden to the Tea Pot

Is the secret of our success. Do you ever think how many profits are made out of an article before you use it? None more so than tea, especially imported packet tea. We handle no teas but our own. A Severe Cut.

Mr. Will Redmond, son of Mr. Jos. Redmond, is confined in St. Joseph's Hospital, suffering from a severe cut in one of his limbs. Some time ago he was engaged in cutting twine, when the knife he was using accidentally slipped, inflicting an ugly gash in his limb above the knee. Nothing was thought of the accident until Mr. Redmond lost the use of the limb, which became considerably swollen. He is now in the hospital, under the care of Dr. King, but it will be some weeks before he is able to be around.

Mrs. Youmans Honoured.

The numerous friends of Mrs. Letitia Youmans (the well-known temperance lecturer) throughout the Dominion will be interested in knowing that, though she is laid aside through illness, she is not forgotten by her co-workers, as is shown by the following resolution, which was passed at the great meeting of the World's W. C. T. U. lately held in London, Eng.:—"Resolved, that we send our sisterly sympathy and tender greeting to that brave, great-hearted pioneer in Canada, Mrs. Letitia Youmans, deeply regretting that we have lacked the inspiration of her presence and eloquent voice at this greatest camp fire that our cause has ever known."

After Seven Years.

For the past seven years Mrs. Green, wife of Mr. R. H. Green, market clerk, has been assiduously nursing a palm plant of the Yucca variety. Now she is rewarded. The plant, after growing to a height of about four feet and taking seven years to make up its mind, has burst into beautiful bloom. From the top of the sword-like cluster of leaves a magnificent spike of creamy bloom, consisting of bell shaped flowers hanging down like a reversed tulip flower, shoots up to a height of about sixteen inches, with a diameter of about eight inches. It is an imposing pyramid of bloom and is in itself a reward for the years of patient culture the plant has had. It is observed and admired by scores who see it as they pass Mr. Green's lawn in front of his residence, 357 Reid street.

A Bulletin on Grasses.

A valuable bulletin has recently been issued by the Provincial Agricultural Department, dealing with the grasses in Ontario. It is the product of Messrs. F. C. Harrison, B.S.A. and G. E. Day, B.S.A., who deserve credit for the lucid manner in which they have submitted a great deal of instructive and interesting information. The bulletin is illustrated with nearly thirty plates, illustrating different grasses which are really perfect in their clearness and artistic merit. Opposite each is a description of the grasses shown, with a number of tersely-stated facts as to its qualities, its botanical characteristics, the soil best adapted to it, and pointers as to growing and cutting it. There is a brief description of the parts of grasses, which is valuable to the farmer. A short introduction by Mr. Jas. Mills, President of the Guelph Agricultural College, conveys the information that all the cuts, except one, which was borrowed from Mr. Jas. Fletcher, entomologist of the Dominion Experimental farms, are electrotypes made by permission from plates in the possession of the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., whose courtesy is duly acknowledged. The bulletin will be widely distributed among the farmers of the province.

A PETERBOROUGH MAN IN TROUBLE.

Arrested on a Charge of Obtaining a Coat Under False Pretences.

Chief Rossel received a communication to-day noon from Chief Constable Bell, of Lindsay, stating that he held a warrant for the arrest of one Oscar L. Patrick, a pedlar of small wares, for obtaining a gentleman's coat under false pretences. The offence was committed at Fenelon Falls, and the man left there for Peterborough Saturday. Chief Bell sent a description of the man, which he received from the magistrate, and Chief Rossel was not long in locating the man at his residence on Charlotte street. The coat was found in his possession and he was brought to police headquarters.

Mr. Patrick stated that he borrowed the coat Saturday morning to go to the station in order to see if some wares had arrived for him. As the goods had not arrived and as a train was about to pull out for Lindsay he boarded it for that town, sending a postal card when he arrived in Lindsay to the owner of the coat in Fenelon Falls, stating that he had not run away, but would be back in a day or two.

Chief Rossel wired Chief Bell of the arrest and he received word in reply that he would be in town on the first train.

ON RIDEAU RANGES.

Dominion Rifle Association Annual Matches.

The annual matches of the Dominion Rifle Association which form the Canadian Bisley, began yesterday morning at Ottawa and will last all week. The precise number of entries proved to be 410, an increase over last year. The large marquee and tents of various kinds, with the refreshment booth, barber shop, post office, telegraph offices, press quarters and other accessories of the big meeting, transformed the Rideau ranges into a busy little city, through the middle of which ran an electric street railway.

Many corps laid out flower beds in front of their tents, and many of the marquee are handsomely furnished with drawing room furniture. The officers vie with each other in good-fellowship and hospitality, and nowhere can a jollier or more friendly crowd be imagined than the competitors at the D. R. A. meeting.

The Peterborough Rangers are represented by Staff-Sergt. Bartlett, Pte. Fitzgerald, Pte. C. Curtis, Pte. J. Campbell, Pte. A. Blade, Pte. D. Cameron, Pte. T. J. Ritchie and Pte. J. B. Pentland.

Pte. Pentland won $10 yesterday in the Macdougall Cup match, scoring 47 points out of a possible 50, and coming within two points of tieing the winner of the cup. He stood fifth on the list.

Nature's Voices.

To the discerning ear Nature has many voices. She has a message in the sweet tones of the brook as it rushes down the hillside in ocean's moody voices, now rippling with gentlest cadence upon the golden sands, anon in deep boisterous voice as she lashes the beach with foam. Then the voice of trees which the laughing winds bear to our ears, of sunshine and shade, of hill and valley, of birds and flowers. But she comes in pain, too, the voice of the aching, stinging corn speaks impressively, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the worst corn in twenty-four hours, painlessly and without leaving sore spots.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. ELECTRIC COMPANY AND THE TOWN.

THAT $5,000 BONUS UNDER DISCUSSION LAST NIGHT.

General Manager Nicholls Asks the Council to Carry Out their Part of the Agreement—The Matter Discussed by the Council—To be Further Considered—The Sewer Question—A Half-Holiday on Friday.

A meeting of the town council was held last evening. There were present Mayor Kendry, and Messrs. Phelan, Mason, Best, Cahill, Denne, Sawers, Mills, Clinkscale and Dawson.

The clerk read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were approved.

The following

COMMUNICATIONS

were received:

From a number of business men asking that Thursday afternoon be appointed a half holiday to allow an opportunity of witnessing the bicycle races.

On motion of Messrs. Best and Sawers the request was granted.

From the Peterborough Navigation Co., inviting council to a trip down the river on Thursday afternoon.

Received.

From the Peterborough Town Trust, stating that owing to further debentures being issued, they require $559.35 in addition to the amount specified in the statement furnished on 30th July.

Referred to the Finance Committee.

THE $5000 ELECTRIC CO. GRANT.

Mr. Nicholls, General Manager of the Canadian General Electric Company, appeared before the council. He asked the council to carry out the agreement made with the council of 1893 in reference to the removal of the lamp and Ball works to town. The council, he said, agreed to a bonus of $5,000 for the removal of the above works to town, and he asked the town to carry out the agreement. The Company had done their part, and intended further to erect car works, but unless the council carried out their part of the agreement, the company would not put in the car works. He was not there, he stated, asking for a bonus, but asking that the town do their duty and carry out their part of the agreement entered into.

NOT A NEW CASE.

The Mayor stated that he thought it better that this matter should be brought before the council, and had asked Mr. Nicholls to be present. It was not a new case to the council.

MR. DAWSON'S CONTENTION.

Mr. Dawson said that Mr. Nicholls found fault with the council of '93 for not carrying out the agreement, which was not agreed upon by a majority of the council. He for one did not agree to it, and the company did not carry out the agreement. At that time Mr. Nicholls said he would bring the lamp works to this town; also the Ball works. Besides he would employ a large number of hands, which would necessitate the erection of the same kind of buildings as they now have. When the matter came before the council he had asked Mr. Nicholls to sign an agreement (1) that he would employ a certain number of hands; (2) that in the introduction of new electric appliances he would not ask a bonus; (3) that he would put up a building if he brought lamp works here. He refused to sign the agreement, his reply to the last demand being that he had room enough. Mr. Dawson vigorously condemned such proceedings.

WOULD IGNORE THE GRANT.

Mr. Sawers—We might as well settle this; I move that we ignore the grant.

SHOULD BE MET FAIRLY.

The Mayor said he asked Mr. Nicholls to be present to state his case. The company was now building cars which were a credit to the works. They should be treated fairly and should be encouraged. It would be well to consider matters and not drive the company somewhere else. So far as the first of the agreement was concerned, he was not present when it was entered into, but the latter part he believed to be correct.

MR. SAWERS' OPINION.

Mr. Sawers—If the council passed this bylaw, why did they not get the $5,000? The Edison Company ought to be pretty well satisfied.

The Mayor—They don't ask anything new. They moved the lamp works here and also the Ball works.

Mr. Dawson—It is not fair for the Company to come to the council and ask for a bonus for every new thing that they introduce. I am not going to tax my property any further.

THE DISCUSSION DEEPENS.

Mr. Denne suggested that the clerk read the resolution entered into by the council and company.

The clerk then read the resolution.

Mr. Dawson stated the resolution said the company would provide a sufficient guarantee, which he held Mr. Nicholls had not given.

Mr. Nicholls said it was in the power of the council to decide. He just asked them to carry out the agreement. He explained the position of the company in this matter and said Mr. Dawson was belittling the industry. He did not come with new propositions, but was anxious to know where the council stood. When he knew that they could do as they pleased, and he would bow to it.

INQUIRIES AND ANSWERS.

Mr. Best inquired of Mr. Nicholls if the Electric Company owned the lamp works when they consented to come to Peterborough, and furthermore did they not agree to move all their works here? They should have been removed here under the original contract.

Mr. Nicholls said the present company did not own the works.

The clerk at this juncture read the bylaw of 1893.

Mr. Best said the bylaw was but a repetition of the first declaration. He supposed all these works were owned by the company.

AN ILLEGAL TRANSACTION.

Mr. Dawson said that the $5000 grant was an illegal transaction, without asking the ratepayers to vote on it.

Mr. Sawers—I understand the Clerk would not sign it. Why did you not Mr. Hall, get the money when you were in the council?

Mr. E. H. D. Hall (solicitor for Electric Co.)—I did not want anything to do with it. I did not know that Mr. Cobb refused to sign.

THE COMMISSIONERS AND THE MONEY.

Mr. Mills inquired if the Commissioners of the Town Trust made an agreement in writing to give over the $5,000.

The Mayor stated he was not present at the time, but that Mr. Cahill would inform him.

Mr. Cahill said they agreed to give the railway money to the council to deal with as they thought fit. It was looked upon as a doubtful transaction. Mr. Dawson and himself, he stated, were the only members present of the council of '93. The Commissioners were then willing to give the money, but he could not say if they were willing now. He was of the opinion that it would be better to refer the matter to a committee of the whole council, as the majority of the present council were unacquainted with the matter.

REFERRED TO THE WHOLE COUNCIL.

After considerable further discussion by the Mayor, Messrs. Dawson, Phelan, Nicholls, Denne and Sawers, the latter gentleman being called to order for his criticism of the Electric Company, Mr. Cahill moved that the matter be referred to a committee of the whole council, and that the town solicitor be present.

Carried

THE OUTFALL SEWER.

Mr. Dawson said he wished to refer to the treatment town labourers received in the construction of the sewer. Toronto men, he claimed received the preference in nearly everything.

Mr. Best said he got the chief to get a list of men employed at the sewer, and they both looked over assessment roll to see how many were ratepayers. Out of 36 employed on the sewer, 18 did not belong to the town. Some of them, however, were living here for about two weeks.

After some discussion the chairman of the Sewerage Committee was notified to give a list of the men to contractor who were not ratepayers.

TO CONTINUE THE SEWER.

Mr. Best presented the following motion which was seconded by Mr. Cahill: "That that portion of the outfall sewer from Lake to Townsend street be put under contract as soon as possible, and also decide whether we build of brick, the same as under construction, from Lake to Rink streets, and from Rink to Sherbrooke streets, with 20 inch pipe, and that Sewerage Committee be authorized to advertise for tenders for above mentioned work and report to council before the contract is let.—Carried."

An account of Thos. Williams for gravel was ordered to be paid and the council adjourned.

LACROSSE.

Mr. Tom McDonough, secretary of the Athletics, received a telegram this afternoon from Markham, stating that the lacrosse club of that town would play here on Labour day, Monday, Sept. 2nd.

The Vancouver lacrosse team will visit Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Quebec next month, and their tour promises to be one of the greatest interest. Mr. Alf. Suckling, writing to Mr. Fred Suckling, says:—"It will be a stronger team than the one that went east two years ago and is a purely Vancouver combination. The players were then mostly young, and have had two years of good, hard experience since. All have learned the game here except three, and it will be interesting to see how they compare with eastern teams. In my opinion and that of eastern people who have seen us play, we show faster and neater lacrosse than the eastern clubs. Our field is very fast. Two men can do 10½ seconds for 100 yards, and two under that, and they will compete in the Canadian championship games at Rosedale October 5. Our home is light but fast, and depends on a combination, playing with centre fielder and two wings, forming a wedge backward to the inside home." Every effort should be put forth to try and induce the westerners to give the Athletics a game in Peterborough.

The Port Hope Guide of yesterday says: The Ontarios would challenge the Athletics of Peterborough, to play a game of lacrosse on the athletic grounds, Port Hope, on Monday, September, 2nd (Labor Day.)

The Tecumseh Junior Lacrosse Club, Toronto, lately touring through Eastern Ontario, report the trip a huge success, one of the most enjoyable events in the club's history.

Although the tourists lost both the Madoc and Peterborough games, they had a good time, and for real, genuine sportsmanship, with a whole-souled, free-hearted liberality of entertaining, the Madoc people easily stand unsurpassed. Both Peterborough and Madoc have good teams although the former twelve put up a far faster and cleaner game than the players from the Otonabee town.

The Madoc Athletics have won 26 straight games this season, a remarkable record for the season's work.

THE WHEEL.

A meeting of the members of the Bicycle club will be held in their new rooms at the skating rink to-night. It is hoped that a large attendance of those interested will be present, as business of importance will come up for discussion. A number of committees will in all probability be appointed. The need of Reception and Entertainment committees, as well as a Rooms committee, was felt on the occasion of the recent visit of the Wanderers to Peterborough, and it is to be hoped that provision will be made at once for the showing of some courtesies to visiting wheelmen. Arrangements should also be made for holding of weekly club runs and the laxity of those responsible in not having already announced a schedule cannot be too strongly condemned. If the club is to be a success something will have to be done to draw the members together and if the officers do not feel equal to making such an effort, the results to the new organization will be disastrous as there is already disaffection in the ranks. One thing which ought to give the club a boom, if carried out properly, is the proposition to hold a grand promenade concert in the skating rink on Friday evening at the conclusion of the bicycle races. Such an affair would serve a triple purpose, viz., the entertainment of the visitors, the presentation of the prizes and the formal opening of the new club rooms. It would also tend to raise a stronger feeling of interest amongst the citizens regarding the welfare of the club.

The committee appointed to conduct the road race to Lakefield and return seems to have gone to sleep, and it would be in order for some member to ask for a report regarding the race this evening.

Mr. Herb. Walker is in receipt of a communication from Port Hope, in which the writer, after setting forth that Port Hope, as well as Peterborough, is entering a team for the big Toronto road race, proposes that as a test of speed a relay race take place between representatives of the two towns. Each rider would be expected to ride five miles out and five miles back, and the team from each town would be composed of six riders. A message would be sent to Port Hope and returned. This would be carried by Peterborough riders and at the same time a message would be carried from Port Hope to Peterborough and return by Port Hope riders and the time compared at the close of the race. The ride would be a splendid practice for the wheelmen and at the same time be a good test of the relative speed of the riders of the two towns.

SPRINTING.

The Globe says: Charles Crew of the Kingston Road, defeated George Mayhew, of Trenton by a foot in a 150 yard race at Trenton Saturday for $100 a side. The time was given out as 14½ seconds, which would be a better performance than any professional has ever done in America or England. Harry Hutchen did 14⅕ in Australia, and four amateurs have marks of 14 4-5 for the distance. George Forbes ran in 15 seconds at Providence, R. I., about 16 years ago.

Aboriculture.

The Northwestern Lumberman notes that Baron Michling, a cultured and wealthy gentleman of Germany, was in Chicago the past spring, and when asked by a reporter what he did not like about the United States, replied: "The destruction of your forests. In every other way the keenest, most far-sighted nation the world has ever seen, the people of the United States seem to have been blind to the consequences of the wholesale destruction of their timber lands. The matter does not interest the public as it should. In some States now the original forests have already been exterminated, and practically nothing is being done in the way of planting. The people of America will find themselves obliged before many years to pass forestry laws, such as Germany has had for years. Already you have practically exterminated several varieties of the most valuable woods. Let me tell you this: Within 20 years you will be bringing American woods from Germany. For years we have been systematically planting American walnut, maple, cherry and other trees. When your supply is exhausted we can supply you. I now have growing on my estate in Hesse-Thuringen thousands of American trees, which I secured mainly through the kindness of my friend, Mr. Fernow, who is the head of your forestry division of the agricultural department. Pardon me for saying that the people of the United States have been ungrateful. God gave to them the grandest trees on the face of the earth—the giant sequoia of the Yosemite Valley. I now have quite a number of them growing in Germany which I sent from California. They are about four feet high, and I am very proud of them. You have not learned to love the trees for themselves, as we do. To the average American, the first question about a nice tree is, How many feet of lumber can I get out of it?" It is often the case that others see us more clearly than we see ourselves. We may not fully appreciate the truth of Baron Michling's remarks, but our children will experience it, and wonder why their progenitors were so wasteful of material which is so slowly produced.

Advantages of Silage.

Practical experience, coupled with careful experimental study, has now abundantly proved that, for a dairyman, there is no way of harvesting, storing and feeding corn to cows with so little labor and so small a loss as that afforded by the silo. It is not to be understood, however, that the silo is designed to supplant the haymow, for some dry fodder should be used with silage in winter rations; but the silo has come to stay, and as its merits come to be better known and its construction better understood, it must come into general use. A properly constructed and filled silo makes it possible for a dairyman not to lose more than 8 to 12 per cent. of the dry matter put into the silo, whereas corn cured and fed dry under the very best possible conditions, must sustain a loss of dry matter amounting to from 20 to 50 per cent. of the whole product. And Prof. Cook has proved through two years' work that even in the arid climate of Colorado the necessary losses of dry matter in feeding corn as dry corn fodder are just as large as he had found them to be in Vermont.—American Agriculturist.

Love of Country Life.

There comes in the life of every man who cannot afford it a time of burning unrest, when he is overpowered by an uncontrollable desire to live in the country. A railroad man who doesn't know for the life of him which end of the plow you hitch the horse to is always longing to go on a farm. A successful merchant, who vaguely knows that you dig potatoes, although by that he rather understnads that you mine them as you do coal, bankers, after a certain time of life, for a cheap little place, not too far out of town, where he can sink an artesian milk well and raise his own bananas, of which he is very fond. We cannot help it. Out of the dust we came; back to the soil we are drawn. We are children of the earth, and we do love to creep back into the mother arms and get our faces down close to the sweet old mother heart when the shadows begin to grow long, when the days of the second childhood come upon us and the time draws near when she will take us into her arms for the last time and hush us to sleep on her cool, restful bosom.

THE MYSTERIOUS VIOLET.

Where is Napoleon, His Wife and His Mother?

Here is a copy of a picture published in an almanac of 1807, in which may be found three historic heads of the beginning of the century. The head of the famous Corsican can be easily traced by the characteristic hat. There are, besides, two familiar heads hidden in the design, representing his second wife Maria Louisa of Austria, and his mother, Letitia.

Buttermilk for Freckles.

Do the early summer freckles prove stubborn? There is usually a clamor for "freckle cures" about this time of the year, and the very best thing that proves reliable year after year is simply common buttermilk. Secure it as fresh as possible; it will be found that nothing can equal this fresh buttermilk for removing tan, freckles, sunburn, or moth spots. It has the great advantage that it does not injure the skin, but makes it soft and white. Take a soft sponge and bathe the face, neck and arms before retiring for the night then wipe off the drops lightly. In the morning wash it off thoroughly and wipe dry with a crash towel. Two or three such bath each week during the summer months will take off and keep off the tan and freckles and keep the skin soft and smooth.—Philadelphia Times.

A PARALLEL CASE.

People in Detroit are Interested in a Great Resemblance in Two Cases.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

AYER'S Hair VIGOR

Restores natural color to the hair, and also prevents it falling out. Mrs. H. W. Fenwick, of Digby, N. S., says:

"A little more than two years ago my hair began to turn gray and fall out. After the use of one bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor my hair was restored to its original color and ceased falling out. An occasional application has since kept the hair in good condition."—Mrs. H. F. Fenwick, Digby, N. S.

Growth of Hair.

"Eight years ago, I had the varioloid, and lost my hair, which previously was quite abundant. I tried a variety of preparations, but without beneficial result, till I began to fear I should be permanently bald. About six months ago, my husband brought home a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began at once to use it. In a short time, new hair began to appear, and there is now every prospect of as thick a growth of hair as before my illness."—Mrs. A. Wer[illegible] Olympia St., New Orleans, La.

A WOMAN TRAVELER IN INDIA.

Curious Experience of the Wife of an English Officer.

Mrs. Alan Gardner, the authoress of a volume of travel and sports "Rifle and Spear with the Rajpoots," is a good shot and a bright and sometimes witty writer—a modern woman, but not a new woman, and a modest one to boot, not so much because she did not like riding astride when she tried it as because of her reticence about her own achievements. Her narrative of a winter in Northern India is the better reading, because it is by no means confined to sport, but deals generally with places, people and their characteristics, and is written in a simple, breezy and unaffected style. Some of Mrs. Gardner's experiences in the matter of food were not amusing. Commenting on the fact that in India chickens form the staple food of the English sahib, she explains that they cost only from threepence to fourpence each.

It is true that for some unexplained reason they are about the size of a pigeon or else nearly as big as a turkey. There's nothing between. In the latter case they are as tough as an ostrich. Even after continued stewing, and with a good pair of teeth, it is difficult to make any impression on them.

Recognizing this idiosyncrasy, she gave the cook orders to keep the fowls three or four days before cooking them. The result was no improvement; investigation proved that he had kept them, it is true—but alive, "and they traveled each stage tied by one leg to the top of a load on a coolie's back."

Earlier in the books there is an instructive little story told, which, though not new, will bear repetition, of an

MRS ALLAN GARDNER.

Englishwoman who tried to convince a high caste Purdah lady that it was absurd to cover her face in public. "Memsahib," said the Ranee, "it is our dustoor (custom), but it is not our custom to hide our feet. We think it no shame to go about barefooted. You do. How would you like to walk down the big street in Calcutta with your legs bare to the knee? Well, we should feel just the same if we showed our faces." An excellent answer. And in this matter India might very well be left untutored, but what does strike one is that the Indian washerman's method of getting up fine linen leaves much to be desired, in spite of its simplicity.

He lays the garment on a big stone in the water and beats it with another nearly as big until the buttons begin to come off—then he knows it is done. The garment.... is then handed to the Thurst to be repaired. By the time it left his hands it is generally dirty enough to return to the washerman's.

That Pale Face.

For Nervous Prostration and Anæmia there is no medicine that will so promptly and infallibly restore vigor and strength as Scott's Emulsion.

THE BABY GIRL ELEPHANT.

She is Only a Few Days Old, but Tips the Scales at 68 Pounds.

A baby girl has just arrived in the little town of Southwest City, Mo., who will be the biggest woman on earth if she lives.

The very day she made her appearance in the world the mammoth youngster tipped the scales at 63 pounds. She is now, says the New York Recorder, more than 68 pounds in weight and measures 30 inches aroung the waist. Her arms and her hands and feet are as large as a man's.

THE BIGGEST BABY.

This champion fat baby is the daughter of T. J. Matthews, a farmer, who lives in the Cherokee Nation. He is a small man; so is the little girl's mother. If the fat girl keeps on growing as rapidly as she has since her birth she will soon weigh more than the combined weight of her papa and mamma. Just the same, she is as happy as she is big.

FOR AND ABOUT THE FAIR.

Balzac's Knowledge of Feminine Nature—Personal Bits.

A very charming woman once complimented Balzac upon his knowledge of feminine human nature. "Yes," he answered, "I know women, and by just looking at them can tell the story of their lives from the day they were born. Shall I tell yours, madame?" "Oh, not out loud, pray," said the lady in a vast hurry, and then wondered why every one laughed.

Taste in Dress.

Any woman who has not some love of dress, some delight in the combination of colors, is deficient in a sense of the beautiful. Anne Boleyn never wore the same dress two days in succession, and in doing so only exercised the natural right and instinct of every woman to "make the best of herself." A taste for dress need not exclude all other tastes. As Addison says, it is only a coquette's heart that is "stuffed with a flame-colored hood."

Seventy-Five Years Young.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe is the oldest living poetess. She is 75 years old, but scarcely looks 50, and has written verses for 60 years. On her 70th birthday Oliver Wendell Holmes said of her, "She is 70 years young to-day."

Gay Eulalia.

The Infanta Eulalia is in Paris at present, and is, as usual, having a gay time. At a dinner given in her honor by M. de Hitroff the decorations were red and yellow roses, the Spanish colors.

Cleverness Shown in Clothes.

Mrs. Earnest Leverson, who writes so often and so amusingly in Punch, the Yellow Book and other papers and magazines, is a very pretty woman, quite young and always beautifully dressed. She does not consider that you must be dowdy because you are brilliant, and believes that you can show your cleverness in your clothes as well as in your epigrams.

Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome that tired feeling and give you renewed vigor and vitality.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

POINTS THE WAY TO PERFECT HEALTH.

SOUTH AMERICAN NERVINE

The Great Health Restorer of the Century.

Sickness Cannot Cope With It—Has Cured the Worst Cases on Record—Cures at the Nerve Centers, and Thus Cures Permanently—A Wonderful Specific in All Cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Nervousness and General Debility—Has No Equal as a Spring Medicine.

There is a great deal of uncertainty in the methods adopted to remove disease. Doctors are not free from this kind of thing themselves. The poor patient has to put up with a good deal of experimenting. The discoverer of South American Nervine takes too serious a view of life to play pranks of this kind. He does not think that these human bodies of ours should be fooled with. He has recognized that they are subject to disease, but by scientific methods he has learned that just as the watch is to be put in perfect repair only when the main spring is kept in running order, so with the individual, he remains in perfect health, only when the nerve centers are kept healthful and strong.

What disease is more distressing than indigestion or dyspepsia? Some simple remedy may be given to cause relief for the moment. Nervine is an indisputably successful remedy for the worst cases of indigestion, because it reaches the source of all stomach troubles—the nerve centers. Indigestion exists because the vital forces have become diseased and are weakened. Nervine builds up the nerve centers, from which comes these forces, removes the causes of indigestion, and then builds up the health completely.

How many systems are run down through nervousness. A stimulant may give ease, but it will not cure nervous troubles. Nervine has cured more desperate cases of nervousness than any other medicine anywhere. And it does so for the same reason that it cures indigestion. The nerve centers are deranged, or there would be no victims of nervousness. Nervine rebuilds and strengthens the nerve tissues, and hence its marvellous powers in diseases of this kind.

In the spring of the year the strongest suffer from general debility. The blood, through neglect, has become impoverished and the whole system gets out of order. We speak of it as a spring medicine. Nervine restores the exhausted vital forces that have led to this tired, don't-care, played-out, miserable condition. No one can take a bottle of Nervine at this season of the year without disease quickly giving way to abounding health.

The moral is plain, simple and readily understood. If you would not trifle with disease, then you will take South American Nervine, which will not trifle with you.

BAREFACED BLACKMAIL.

An Effort Being Made to Bleed Hotel-Keepers.

The following, from the Hamilton Spectator, is given for the benefit of all concerned, as a similar dodge may be tried here:—"A prominent hotelkeeper had an experience with a couple of blackmailers yesterday that may serve as a warning to others. A swarthy man who looked a little like an Indian came into the bar and bought a drink of whisky. As he was going out a second individual stepped up to the bar and asked the man what he had to drink. He said whisky. The second individual then asked the hotelkeeper if he didn't know that he was breaking the law in selling liquor to an Indian and that the fine was $300 for the offence. He produced a greasy paper purporting to contain the law on the point, and mentioned significantly that half the fine went to the informer. He mentioned regretfully that he was compelled to do his duty, as it was a matter of dollars and cents with him, but broadly hinted that he was open to be squared. The hotelman paid no attention to his suggestion for some time, and he finally plumply asked what it would be worth to settle the case without taking it into court.

The hotelman refused to settle, told him he was laying himself open to a very ugly charge, and that if he didn't want to get into trouble he had better cause a vacuum in the atmosphere. He took the hint and departed.

CENTRAL SMITH.

Successful Lawn Social.

On Thursday evening, Aug. 22nd, a very successful lawn social was held at the residence of Mr. Richard Waram. Everything passed off in a satisfactory manner, and considering the unfavourable condition of the weather, the attendance was large. Great credit is due to Mr. and Mrs. Waram for their efforts to make the affair a success. The programme rendered was a splendid one. The North Smith band was present and furnished excellent music, and numbers were given by the Misses Chasty, Mr. and Mrs. Blewitt, Miss and Mr. Lewis and Mr. Roseborough. The proceeds amounted to about $20, and will be devoted to the Zion church fund.

GAVE $45,000 IN CHARITY.

Mr. Warden King of Montreal By His Will Bequeaths Munificent Sums.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—For some weeks past the heads of the different Montreal charities have been on the alert awaiting the filing of the last will and testament of the late Warden King, whose death was announced some time ago. Mr. King's estate will foot up to about half a million dollars, the heirs being a son and two daughters, the former receiving the larger share. Deceased was always a generous giver while he lived and the following list will show that the wealthy merchant gave large donations to a number of very deserving charities in the city where the money had been accumulated: The Manitoba Presbyterian Theological College of Winnipeg, of which the Rev. Dr. J. M. King is the principal, receives $5000; the Young Men's Christian Association of Montreal receives a like amount of $5000. Mr. King was for a long time superintendent of the Chalmer's Presbyterian Church Sunday school, resigning the charge but two years ago, and he has bequeathed that institution $1000. The following boards and funds in connection with the Presbyterian Church in Canada likewise receive handsome amounts by this exceedingly generous will: The Board of French Evangelization, $2000, the Board of Home Missions, $2000; and the Board of Foreign Missions, $2000. Mr. King has also remembered the Widows and Orphans fund of the Presbyterian Church to the extent of $1000, while the Aged and Infirm Ministers Fund gets $3000. Although the rich Montrealer who has just passed to his reward made little difference as to race and creed, when charity had to be dispensed, yet he was a fervent Presbyterian, and there is a clause in the will which gives no less than $10,000 to the Presbyterian church extension and building fund. The Protestant Hospital for the Insane at Verdun, a particularly needy institution, is likewise down on Mr. King's will for $4000, the Western Hospital, Dorchester-street, for $2000, the Young Women's Christian Association of Montreal, $3000, the Coligny College at Ottawa, $2000, and the Montreal Boys' Home, $1000. The smaller bequests are as follows: The Hervey Institute, Montreal, $500; the Ladies' Benevolent Institute, Montreal, $500; the Protestant Infants' Home, $500; the Montreal Religious Tract Society, $300; the Canada Sunday School Union, $300. It will be seen from the above that Mr. Warden King's will provided for the distribution of no less than $45,000 amongst charitable and religious institutions.

ROTHSCHILD'S INFERNAL MACHINE.

Thirty Reds Arrested, But All Released Because No Clue.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Thirty Anarchists, who were arrested on suspicion in connection with the infernal machine by the explosion of which M. Jacobsky, the confidential clerk of Baron Alphons de Rothschild was badly injured on Saturday, were released this morning for want of evidence. There is, as yet, no clue to the origin of the machine, but it is believed to be the work of an individual Anarchist, rather than that of an organized band.

London Searched Without Result.

London, Aug. 26.—In pursuance of advices from Paris the Scotland Yard detectives have made a search of several foreign clubs known to be haunts of Anarchists in the Soho district of this city in the endeavor to find some clue to the sender of the infernal machine to Baron de Rothschild, Saturday afternoon. No arrests were made. A despatch from Paris to a news agency says that a man was arrested at Vac Sur Cere, near the town of Cantal, in the province of that name today, the local postmistress having alleged that she posted at her office a letter addressed in handwriting similar to the superscription on the parcel containing the explosive which wounded Baron de Rothschild's secretary.

MEXICAN DUELLIST CONVICTED.

Sentenced to a Fine, Imprisonment and to Pay the Widow Annuity.

New York, Aug. 27.—The Herald's City of Mexico special says: The sensational trial of Col. Francisco Romero, who killed Col. Verastegui, who was at the head of the stamp department, in a duel on August 9, of last year, was concluded Sunday morning, after an all-night session. The trial lasted six days, and stirred society, owing to the high standing of the principals and seconds.

Romero was convicted on every count by a vote ranging from five to nine. The seconds were acquitted. The judge sentenced Romero to three years and four months imprisonment, with a fine of $1800 or 100 days additional imprisonment, if preferred.

Romero must also pay $4500 annually to the widow of Verastegui in monthly instalments for 18 years, nad the costs of the funeral of Verastegui, amounting to $460. The costs of the trial he is also liable for.

Romero was remanded to the military commandant, since he is an army officer, to be confined in the military prison of the city. It is believed Gen. Diaz will eventually release Romero from imprisonment, but not from the pecuniary penalty.

The notary's son, however, denies that there is anything wrong, and adds that his father is away on his holidays.

TURNBULL'S.

The builders are now busy making extensive alterations in our premises making 3 stores into 1. All the interior is being changed, both in plan and fixtures from cellar to garret and will be when completed one of the most handsome and convenient shops to do business in, in the Dominion. We will have room for seventeen different departments on the ground floor and any lady will be able to purchase anything she wishes without having to ascend a stair.

The Counters for the Millinery and Small Wares Departments in the centre of the store are now being made at the Dominion Art Woodwork Coy's, Toronto, they have oak frames, plate glass tops and double diamond glass fronts and glass shelf in centre. They are very handsomely gotten up and are useful as well as ornamental, showing everything in a department without being asked for. They will be the first of the kind in use in Canada and similar to those being put in one of our city stores lately destroyed by fire.

We do not expect to be through our alterations until 1st Sept, but in the meantime business will go on as usual when we will clear out the balance of our summer stock at prices that will be a benefit to those who visit our noisy and dusty store. Our fall purchases are now coming forward direct from the different manufacturers in Europe where ever desirable and will be opened in due season.

COST OF OUR SCHOOLS

What Each Province Pays to Educate Young Canada.

MANITOBA TAKES THE LEAD.

Interesting Statistics From the Coming Year Book—Hon. Mr Patterson Preparing to Leave For Winnipeg—Shooting at the Dominion Rifle Matches.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 27.—The Dominion Statistician has been investigating the cost of education in the several provinces of the Dominion, and has prepared under the head of "Special Statistics" an interesting chapter for his Year Book.

Data collected for the years 1888 and 1895 show that Manitoba expends proportionately more upon education, that is, for Public schools, than any other province in the Dominion. Quebec spends least of all.

In Ontario the expenditure upon Public schools has remained stationary at $1.87 per head of population.

In Quebec it has increased from 81 cents to 87 cents.

In Nova Scotia it has fallen from $1.81 to $1.45.

In New Brunswick the expenditu in 1888 was $1.26 per head and in 1895 it had increased to $1.31.

In Prince Edward Island it rose from $1.36 to $1.40.

Manitoba increased from $1.57 to $2.02, while British Columbia in the period rose from $1.40 to $1.87.

Taking the average of all the provinces, it shows that the people of the Dominion are now paying at the rate of $1.56 per head of population for the purpose of Public schools, an increase of 6 cents in per capita expenditure since 1888.

It appears also that Ontario spends 7 per cent. of the total provincial revenue in Government grants to schools, Quebec 4 per cent., Nova Scotia 23 per cent., New Brunswick 23 per cent., Manitoba 17 per cent.; while in Prince Edward Island the grant to education is 54 per cent., or more than half of the total yearly revenue of the province.

The Statistician has also made computation of the proportion of educational expenditure which the Government and the people provide respectively. Thus, in the Province of Ontario 93 per cent. of the total expenditure on public education is paid directly by the people, 7 per cent. only being contributed by grants from the provincial exchequer.

In Quebec the proportion is 87 per cent. by the people to 13 per cent. by the province; in Nova Scotia people pay 76 per cent.; in New Brunswick 60 per cent. The people of Manitba pay directly in taxes 21 per cent. only of the cost of Public schools, the Government contributing the remaining 79 per cent. In Prince Edward Island the proportion is very much the same, viz.: 23 per cent. by the people and 77 per cent. by provincial grant.

Prof. Saunders, director of the Experimental Farm, has sent the following telegram to the Department of Agriculture. His positive testimony that no damage has been done by the frost at the point of Indian Head is valuable: "Indian Head, N.W.T., Aug. 26.—Have spent several days here. Crops are very heavy; wheat is about half cut now. Fine harvest weather. No injury from frost in this district."

The opinion is expressed by Mr. Gibb Government inspector, that a large portion of the crop will not grade "No. 1 hard," but "No. 1 Northern." The difference between the grading of this year's and last year's wheat yield is accounted for by the fact that during the present season an abundance of moisture prevailed, while last year there was more heat and less rain. This will affct the price, however the value of the two grades being about the same.

It is believed from hints dropped at the Inland Revenue Department yesterday that there will be no change this yer in the regulations regarding the inspection of grain, that is, in the matter of mixing and grading. The practice of mixing grades prevails they say, with regard to all grades of the "No. 1" quality, shipped from Duluth, the rival shipping point of Port Arthur and any stringent rules would only operate to the prejudice of Port Arthur and lessen the value of the Manitoba wheat crop.

The late Customs Commissioner Thomas Watters, wants the press to deny that, because he once entertainronto that because he once entertained George Gould lavishly, the millionaire New Yorker has offered him the management of his Quebec mining properties at $6000 a year. "Please say," said Mr. Watters to-night, "that I never met Mr. Gould in my life and that I believe the story to have been circulated with malicious intent."

All rumors to the contrary notwithstanding, Hon. Mr. Patterson is certainly preparing to take up his abode in Winnipeg within the next few weeks. Arrangements have been made whereby Sir C. H. Tupper will take the house occupied by the prospective Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, whether by purchase or upon rental has not transpired. But the Pattersons are certainly preparing for an early departure, and Sir Charles Hibbert's present house is to let.

The customary quiet of the Indian Departmental offices was disturbed today by the patter of little feet all over the place. The cause of the invasion was the arrival of a number of Government wards, nine Indian children, from the St. Regis reservation, on their way to Indian school at Wikwemikong on Manitoulin Island. The party consisted of four girls and five boys, between the ages of seven and twelve years. The stopover in Ottawa was evidently a welcome relief to the youngsters. They were allowed to wander over Langevin block, and in the afternoon went down to Rockliffe and were treated to a whirl on the merry-go-round. The school at Manitoulin is in charge of the Jesuit fathers, the Government being bound to assist in the education of Indian children in this province in the schools of the religion to which their parents belong.

Good Shooting at the Rideau.

Fine weather was again vouchsafed marksmen to-day and the good shooting of the day before was continued. Two matches were decided, the Dominion of Canada and the Minister of Militia. In the former match the first individual prize included the Patterson Cup, and first and only team prize, a cup given by Davis & Sons, to corps or battalion having highest six men. The Patterson Cup was won by Sergt.-Major C. Armstrong, Guelph Field Battery, with 97; Lieut. W. C. King, 45th, also made 97; 86's drew prizes, while 10 87's were counted out to-day. The 43rd Battalion won the team prize, with 544. It was the second time they won it since it was given for competition in 1893. The Third Vics., Montreal, won it last year, with 551.

In the Minister of Militia match, in which Hon. Mr. Dickey gives the first three individual prizes, and the cup given by Sir Adolphe Caron goes with the first team prize, Pte. T. E. Burns of the 63rd and the Toronto Rifle Association were the winners, respectively. Pte. Burns' score was 67 and that of the Toronto Rifle Association 306. The top individual score last year was 66 and the top team score 300. Last year 58's got in the prize list, but this year 59's were counted out.

Mexico's First Hanging.

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—A special from Jiminez, Mexico, says that Estanislaus Tamares, a noted bandit chief, who for the past 10 years has committed robberies and murders in the mountains west of there, and who was recently captured by Government troops, was hanged at Parrael yesterday. This is the first execution by hanging that has occurred in Mexico, the usual manner of death being by shooting.

Train Wrecked by a Broken Axle.

Kingston, N.Y., Aug. 28.—By the breaking of an axle on the locomotive of passenger train No. 4, on the West Shore Railroad, a bad break occurred just south of this city. The tender of the engine was thrown from the track, the baggage car turned over on its side and the express car was badly wrecked. The track was torn up for a distance of several hundred feet. No one was injured.

Washington, Aug. 28.—The Treasury Department has decided that materials actually used in the construction of the new Suspension Bridge at Niagara Falls, N.Y., up to the United States shore, may be imported from Canada free of duty.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The inquiries made by the police into the origin of the explosive sent to Baron de Rothschild's office Saturday afternoon have not thus far led to any result except to show that the parcel was posted in Paris.

THE FROST CAME LATE

Sections of Manitoba Visited By Heavy Frost.

POTATO VINES CUT TO THE GROUND

Districts Visited Not Wheat Growing Centres, and If the Grain is Damaged It Will Be Used For Feed—Threshing General in Many Sections.

Portage la Prairie, Man., Aug. 27.—The morning reports from along the Manitoba Northwestern Railway show that it was clear and fine all along the line. It rained for an hour at Gladstone, Neepawa, Strathclair, Shoal Lake, Birtle and Binscarth, and half an hour, lightly, at Newdale, Arden, Rapid City and Langenburg.

Light frost is reported from Newdale, Birtle, Binscarth, Langenburg, Saltcoats, Yorkton, and heavier at Rapid City, where potato vines were destroyed a good deal. The impression is that in other places very little damage was done, except at Newdale. The crops are out to a considerable extent, and as this is all a stock raising country, it is not fortunately dependent on the highest grade of wheat. If any grain is very much damaged it will be fed to the stock, but a great deal of the grain which is still uncut is beyond any great damage by frost.

Harvesting is going on all along the line and threshing is pretty general at Gladstone. No frost on Portage Plains. The lowest temperature was at last night and it was clear and calm.

Speaking of frost, many farmers believe that it comes in cycles of years. The secretary of the Portage Agricultural Society in 1882 received a circular from the Department of Agriculture, in Winnipeg, and among the questions was: "Have you summer frosts, that is, before harvest?" At a big meeting of farmers they were asked to answer the question, but not one in the crowd, although nearly all were old-timers, could tell of frost damage, except one, who said he had heard of the wheat being damaged some 14 years before. Until 1883 no one ever dreamed of damage to wheat here by frost, but that year we got about the worst frost we have had. The following year the crop suffered very much from rain during harvest, the only time such a thing ever occurred. These two severe checks, one after the other, are what made people somewhat timid over harvest. We have had severe frosts in several years since, but they are becoming less likely all the time.

This has not been a nice season. The spring opened beautiful and warm; in the middle of March the snow went quick and the season was weeks ahead of the average. The weather was almost uniformly fine and warm until about May 10, when it turned colder and we had frosts a night. It hailed on the 16th, and we nearly had snow next day. A killing frost came on the 20th, which cut down the green grain six inches above the ground. The wather improved somewhat until June, when we got the worst month of rains for 20 years, mixed up with very little clear weather. July was an improvement in the early part, being clear and hot; then came heavy rains for more than a week. The month finished clear and warm. July had a big rainfall, but was not as hot a month as on the average.

The whole summer has been much cooler than is usual. August has been clear and warm, but not as hot as customary. On the other hand we have had a grand summer, judged by the crops.

Weather reports from along the C.P.R. show that it was clear and calm at Calgary, MacLeod, Regina, Broadview, Brandon, Winnipeg, Estevan, Souris, Napinka; cloudy at Edmonton, Prince Albert and Gretna; lowest temperature 34 at Broadview, 40 at Calgary, Estevan and Souris; 38 at MacLeod, 54 at Edmonton, 38 at Regina, 52 at Winnipeg, 44 at Brandon, 49 at Gretna and 53 at Napinka.

Northern Pacific wires show it was cloudy at Morris and Wawanesa; clear at Miami, Somerset and Belmont; lowest temperature was 50 at Somerset.

To-night is clear, but it looks like being cloudy and warm.

POPULATION OF IRELAND.

Decrease in Births and an Increase in Deaths.

London, Aug. 27.—The annual report of the statistics of Ireland for 1894 was issued by the RegistrarGeneral this morning. The report shows the number of marriages to have been 21,602, which is slightly above the annual average for the last decade. The number of births was 105,354, a slight decline from the average. The number of deaths was 82,523, showing a slight increase.

The stimated population in the middle of the year was 4,600,599, and the percentage of legitimate births for the year 97.3.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE QUESTION.

While all Christendom is crying out against the hideous massacre of the missionaries in China, and very properly calling upon the various governments to mete out punishment, sharp and speedy, does it not occur to you gentle reader that a precedent for the seemingly unjustifiable attack may be found on our own continent? What dark tales of horror could California and some of the Western States tell of dozens of Celestials cut down in cold blood or shot to satiatiate a brutal desire for slaughter. No government was ever called upon to answer for the long list of missing Chinamen, who never returned to the Celestial Empire, but were wiped out of existence without the fact causing more than a purely local sensation for a day or so. The EXAMINER does not attempt to justify the massacre of the Christian Missionaries. Far from it. But whilst the Chinese Government is being so harshly criticised for its tardiness in bringing the perpetrators of the crime to justice, is it not well to take into consideration the fact that whilst scores of Chinese emigrants have been murdered and are still being "put out of the way" in the south-western States, where they are regarded with detestation, there are comparatively few efforts made to bring the crimes home to the guilty party. Reflection on the treatment accorded the Chinese in America should lead us to temper our judgment of China with a trifle more consideration for the slights to which she, herself, has been subjected, through insult to her people.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

OUR POSITION.

The editor of this paper has kindly given the use of this column to the County Union of Christian Endeavour for the purpose of publishing items of interest to Endeavourers, and especially news items from all the societies in the county. Many of the societies have not been heard from. Whose fault is it? If you have an editor on your executive so much the better, but if not, let us hear from you through your Corresponding Secretary. If that officer will not take any interest in our work, let some earnest worker take up a pen and send us TWO copies, written on one side of the paper, giving account of work done or contemplated, officers elected, or helpful sentences given by members at your meetings. In other words, anything for the good of the cause. Be brief, condense, boil down, give us the kernel only.

EVANGELISTIC.

The noon-day evangelistic services in Bee on during the convention were blessed in a high degree. The good seed sown and the harvests gathered among the work people of Boston cannot be reckoned until we come into the full light of another world.

A word as to the scope of these meetings. They were held on wharves, in factories of different kinds, in missions, in the jail, in the Chinese quarter, in at least one large store, and in the open air.

The obstacles overcome in preparing for these meetings were enormous. The entire scheme was practically new and untried. The places of meeting were generally far remote from the Convention halls. It was often impracticable to get delegations together in season, and then the largest part of the work people were Roman Catholics.

But regardless of this about one hundred and fifty services were conducted by delegates. More than ten thousand persons heard the gospel story, and upwards of two hundred requested the prayers of the Endeavourers in their behalf. The eagerness of the people to hear the story of the cross was affecting to the last degree. Everywhere the earnest invitation was given the Endeavourers to come again. Bodies of Endeavourers were stopped on the street and asked to enter manufactories and conduct services. In the city jail the exercises stirred every heart.

This all demonstrates the hold the work took upon the young people, the fact that three thousand Endeavourers attended these gospel meetings and that one thousand of them took part, aside from singing, is filled with import to the Christian Endeavour growth of the year.

The influence of the evangelistic movement at the Boston convention, direct, reflex and incidental, will endure as long as eternity to the glory of God.

FROM THE INFORMATION COMMITTEE.

Riverside, Cal.—The Endeavourers of Arlington Presbyterian church at Riverside came to the conclusion that they had not enough method in prayer one for another. The following prayer union pledge was distributed and signed by the members:

PRAYER UNION PLEDGE.

We, the undersigned, do promise to remember one another at the throne of mercy every day, and that we will be ready, not only to pray most earnestly for those in whom the others signing this pledge are interested (whenever requested to do so), as often as may be decided upon, but that we will use our influence, and even go out of our way or deny ourselves, to win such to Christ.

Buda Pesth, Hungary.—"The First C.E. Society in Hungary was organized a short time ago by a pastor in Nagy Rikonda. It contains seven members of both sexes. May God speed it for His service."

LOCAL NEWS.

The Local Executive will meet next Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. parlour. A full attendance is requested.

GEORGE STREET SOCIETY.

There will be a public meeting in George street lecture room next Monday evening, when Mr. De Barritt will give an address on Missionary work in South America. This is an unknown Continent to many Christians, who could speak intelligently upon any other mission field. Owing to this meeting George street society will not have their regular meeting. St. Andrew's will hold their's on Sunday evening and St. Paul's will hold their meeting some night during the week, to be announced from the pulpit next Sunday. The members of these societies will thus be able to hear Mr. De Barritt.

SALEM—OTONABEE.

The E. L. of C. E. of this place is in a very progressive state. For some time past during the summer holidays especially, we have not been able to send our reports but in future our items will be forwarded. Our meeting was of a very highly elevating character. The topic was taken by Miss E. Howson and was conducted in an able manner, and was along the line of a song service. The meetings are well attended. Notwithstanding the very warm weather we have had during the summer, as well as it being harvest time, our meetings are lively and interesting; the topic being taken up by one of our members every evening. We meet on Wednesday of every week. Formerly we held our meetings on Monday evening, but being most convenient for all concerned, we made the change to Wednesday evening. We are going to hold an excursion to Sturgeon Point on September 3rd, and expect to have a large number of the people of this neighborhood, as well as from the surrounding neighborhoods, join us in this trip. We have secured the beautiful steamer Columbian for the occasion, and extend an invitation to all the friends of Christian Endeavour work to come along with us. Above all we expect the presence of the Great Master of all to be with us to guide and comfort us on our way. We think if members from other societies would visit a little more, there would be more harmony existing amongst us than there is at present.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Held their regular meeting on Monday evening. The attendance was fair. After the opening exercises, the topic was taken in an able manner by Miss White, after which the meeting was open and a number took part, which made the gathering very interesting.

On account of the holiday next Monday, the society will hold their meeting on Sunday night after the church service.

KEENEN'S INVESTIGATION.

American is Fully Represented in the Chinese Riot Enquiry.

Washington, Aug. 28.—A cablegram was received from Minister Denby by Acting Secretary Adee to-day, in which he states that, in response to the request made by him to the Tsung-Li-Yamen, the Taotai, Hua-Hs-Ing-I has been sent to co-operate with Consul Hixon in investigating the Kucheng riots. The rank of commissioner, who is an intendent of circuit, is by treaty equal to that of the consul. It is supposed at the department that the name of the officer may have been altered in transmission over the cable, and it is possible that the name should be Hsu-Yung-I, a well-known metropolitan officer, who for many years was vice-president of the Board of Works, and has also been of late years a Minister of the Tsung-Li-Yamen.

It is stated at the department that, whether or not this is a mistaken idea, the person appointed appears from his name to unquestionably belong to the family of this well-known Minister. The wording of Minister Denby's cablegram leads the department to believe that this commissioner has been sent from Pekin, and the inference is given out at the department that Minister Denby has given ample instructions to Consul Hixon, and that he is enjoying all facilities necessary to carry out his instructions at Kucheng.

Belgium and the Congo Country.

Brussels, Aug. 28.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day Deputy Colf questioned the Government in regard to the state of affairs in the Congo country, and asked particularly if it were true that Belgian stations in that region had been captured and burned by the Mahdists. The Minister of Foreign Affairs reported that Belgium was not responsible for any fighting that may have taken place in the Congo country. No disaster had occurred, he said, and if any trouble had arisen in the Aruloimi region it was of no importance.

JAP-CANADIAN CABLE.

Millionaire Mackay Interested in Its Construction.

HE HAS VISITED VANCOUVER, B.C.

He Estimates the Cost of the Line at Four Millions—A Subsidized Steamship Company Discriminating Against Shippers to Canada.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 28.—An important matter has just been brought to the attention of Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner in London, and a gentleman in this city will shortly interview the Canadian Minister of Marine on the same subject.

The following, which is an extract from a letter to Sir Charles from Mr. Charles Johnston, the head of a well-known London shipping firm: "Having reference to the interview," begins the writer, "which you kindly granted me, I only reiterate the statements I then made to you to the effect that the owners or brokers of the Furness line of steamers from London to Halifax and St. John, N.B., impose on all Canadian importing houses who use my firm's services as shippers, say two shillings and sixpence per ton measurement over what their neighbors pay as freight, who use the services of my competitors. You will thus see the unfair position my clients are placed in, and as the Furness line of steamers are drawing $5000 per annum subsidy from the Canadian Government, they ought, in common justice, to place every Canadian importer on equal terms. It may be argued that my supporters could get equal terms by giving their business to the firm who are protected by the Furness line, but there are many reasons why neighbors and competitors in business do not desire to use the same agents on this side, and I would desire to call your attention to the fact that, owing to the action of the Furness line, I have been compelled to seek out other routes to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, such as Boston, for Canadian shipments, which is certainly not in accordance with Canadian interests."

Charles R. Hosmer of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph Company arrived to-day from the Coast, whither he had gone with Mr. Mackay. Mr. Hosmer says that while at Vancouver the Bonanza King became much interested in the Japan cable scheme, and this is good news, when it is remembered that Mr. Mackay is the largest single holder of cable and telegraph stock in the world. He calculates that from 70 to 80 millions have been invested in Atlantic cables and only $4,000,000 would be required to connect Vancouver and Japan. The millionaire was simply amazed with what he saw at the Canadian Pacific terminus and is convinced that the best interests of the western provinces are linked with the cable scheme, first to Japan and then to Australia.

A family trouble, which appears to have originated in Woonsocket, R.I., is being ventilated in the Police Court here. A husband came to Montreal about two weeks ago, and had his wife, who accompanied him, arrested on a charge of being a habitual drunkard. She was taken to jail, where she is still confined. At the time of the arrest of the woman, none of her friends were aware of the proceedings which were taking place in Montreal, but on learning the facts they engaged Mr. H. C. St. Pierre to look after her interests, and the result is that there is a warrant out for the arrest of the husband for perjury, it being alleged that in his deposition that worthy said he was a saloonkeeper in Montreal, when he was not.

Following upon the news that the Canadian Pacific Railway is building new cars to meet the great wheat rush comes the rumor that within the next few days the officials whose salaries were reduced 10 and 20 per cent. will be placed on the rolls at the old rate of wages. To a reporter who called at the president's office Sir William Van Horne admitted that in a few cases where the reduction was actually a hardship the old salaries had already been restored.

The late Premier Mercier's friends have got the monument fever, and a meeting has been called for the 4th of next month to devise ways and means for the erection of a statue to the deceased leader.

An unknown man was killed this morning at the corner of Peel and St. Catharine streets by being run over by a dray of bricks.

It looks as if there would soon be a crisis in financial affairs at the City Hall, as there is absolutely no money in the treasury, and a special tax on a new loan seems inevitable.

News from the Caribou mines, British Columbia, to-day states that the ditch was completed on the 16th inst., and they are now washing with 2000 miners' inches of water, which will be about 2300 cubic feet per 24 hours.

Mr. D. McNicoll, general passenger agent of the Canadian Pacific, left this evening for the coast via Toronto.

A BULLET IN HIS BREAST.

Miss Buck Shot the Man Who Jilted Her.

Toronto, Aug. 28.—Detective Davies was at the Union Station at 7.15 last evening when the G.T.R. express from the east pulled in. His attention was attracted to a passenger who was evidently suffering from a wound on the breast.

The man was Fred D. Groves of Fond Du Lac, Wisconsin, and he was en route home as fast as the train could carry him, in order to avoid appearing as a witness against a young woman who shot him near Freeport, Maine, on Sunday night last.

Groves, who is the owner of the yacht Youdan, has been spending his holidays on Casco Bay, Maine, and was keeping company with a young woman named Carrie Buck. Of late he has been in the habit of taking another young woman out in his yacht and Miss Buck became jealous.

When Groves called upon Miss Buck on Sunday night last she upbraided him for his conduct, and finally drew a revolver and discharged one shot at him. The bullet entered the left breast just above the heart and emerged at the shoulder.

The girl was promptly arrested on a charge of attempting murder. Groves boarded the first train after his injuries had been attended to in order to avoid prosecuting her. He was suffering greatly from his injuries on the train, but expected to reach Fond Du Lac all right.

FORCE OF HABIT.

London People Have Become Used to the Great Specific Remedy.

London, Aug. 19.—The despatch from Detroit with reference to the cure from Bright's disease and blood poisoning of Mr. Langley, of this city, by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills, has recalled the wonderful facts of the case to the citizens, among whom Langley is well known. It has reminded them that Mrs. Langley among others also made an equally wonderful recovery. The use of the pills, however, has become so universal here, and there have been so many instances in which they have been used with beneficial results that a similar case would hardly excite as much interest now as it did when the medicine was less known.

THE MISSION FIELD IN FAR ALGOMA.

THE MISSIONARY'S COMPANION.

Mr. Geo. Buskin, missionary for the International Mission to Algoma and North-West, attributes his escape from severe illness through summer complaints to the timely use of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. He writes as follows: "I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been to me a wonderful, soothing, speedy and effectual remedy. It has been my companion for several years during the labours and exposures of my missionary work in Algoma. Well it is for old and young to have it in store against the time of need. A Marvellous Result.

Mr. A. R. took out ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy No. 6332 in Canada Life Co. for Five Thousand Dollars in the year 1868. He was then 25 years of age.

The Premium paid was $181 a year for 10 years.....$1,810

Notice the Result.

The total profits added to the Policy to end of 1894 and for which he holds a certificate amounts to the enormous sum of.....$3,281

The holder therefore has been credited not only with every cent paid for premiums, but also Fourteen Hundred and Seventy One Dollars in addition, besides receiving a fully paid up policy for the original Five Thousand Dollars, which still participates in profits.

Now This is What we Want to Know!

This is a Peterborough Policy! Is there any citizen of Peterborough with an ordinary 10 Pay Life Policy either in Canadian, British or American Co, which shows anything like as large profits as this one?

If there is, we should esteem it a great favour if we are allowed to see it, as we have been looking for such a one for years and so far have not been able to find it.

Edward Tighe was charged by Jas. Tighe with assault, but the case was settled this morning in the Police Court, the costs, amounting to $3.10, being fixed on the complainant, but Edward Tighe very generously consented to pay the amount. The Chief immediately laid an information against Edward Tighe for using insulting language. The case will come up to-morrow morning.

Thrown on the Street.

A rather peculiar incident occurred last evening in connection with Mr. George Weber's horse, which he had tied in front of Mr. E. F. Mason's store on George street. In kicking to disturb a fly which was troubling it, the horse's foot caught in the tie rein, which, slipping in between the hoof and the shoe, became so tightly fastened in a moment as to throw the animal down. The rein snapped as the horse fell, but beyond this no damage whatever was done.

Obituary.

The death of Mr. Richard Andrews, aged 18, son of Mr. Edwin Andrews, Patterson street, occured this morning at the Nicholls' Hospital, from which place the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. The deceased has been ill for about eight weeks, suffering from an attack of typhoid with lung trouble complications. The latter phase of the disease was responsible for his death.

A Silent Miracle Worker.

For while you may be thinking of a pleasant beverage merely, which it undoubtedly is, Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine is making its silent way through your system, and giving you new blood. All may drink it with enjoyment for it is a fine rich wine, but it is especially intended for invalids, for it is to them an invaluable help in restoring lost strength, stimulating flagging energies, and making them feel strong, and young and hopeful. This makes it unique. A rare old wine and an incomparable tonic, and not a drop of medicine in it. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4, or 75cts. per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

A RUNAWAY HORSE ON GEORGE STREET LAST NIGHT.

It Dashes up the Centre of the Thoroughfare, But Does no Damage Except to Itself and the Cart.

Those having occasion to be on George street last evening, between six and seven o'clock, were startled by hearing a most unusual clatter emanating from the opera house arcade. Crash succeeded crash and it sounded as though some of the upper flooring had given away or if the opera house stage was taking a short cut to terra firma. The cause of the disturbance was suddenly revealed when a gray horse dashed out of the opening kicking violently at a pair of shafts which hung suspended from its harness.

The animal belonged to Messrs. Howden & Morris, butchers, and had been hitched so close to the delivery cart that in starting out from the yard, in the rear of the store on Hunter street, its legs struck the crossbar between the shafts. Irritated by the unusual sensation, the horse immediately kicked and started to run. Michael Heffernan, a boy who was driving, vainly attempted to stop the animal, and when the cart swerved as the horse turned from Water street unto the market square he was thrown from his seat but escaped without injury. The horse ran straight for the arcade, and took the cart between the huge pillars guarding the entrance, safely. It caught on the stairs, however, and at this point the horse and vehicle parted company. The animal ran on through to George street, and turning, ran up to Hunter, where it slackened its speed in front of Morris & Howden's store, and was caught. The legs were badly cut by the shafts which dangled at its heels during the entire run. Fortunately, although there were quite a number of vehicles on the street the runaway avoided them all.

TO INTRODUCE THE LASH.

The Chief Ordered to Procure a Whip for the Police Court.

A youth who was allowed to go some time ago on suspended sentence for the larceny of a pair of boots, was in court this morning charged with stealing a quantity of honey.

The owner of the hives, Mr. Russell, stated that he was bothered by boys stealing the honey for some time, and wished to have this boy punished as an example to others. The hives are situated near the Monaghan school house.

The urchin, it seems, is an incorrigible youth and will not attend school, and the magistrate after giving him a severe lecture allowed him to go. The chief was told to see that he attended school in the future. The magistrate remarked to the chief that it would be wise for him to procure a raw hide for use on culprits of the stamp of this boy, and it would have a salutary effect.

You cannot say you have tried everything for rheumatism, until you have taken Ayer's Pills. Hundreds have been cured of this complaint by the use of these Pills alone. They were admitted on exhibition at the World's Fair as a standard cathartic.

Graduates From the Central.

The Chief of Police has received from Warden Massie of the Central Prison, the names of some forty prisoners to be liberated from that institution during the month of September. Among them is noticed the name of David Welsh, who was sentenced by Police Magistrate Dumble to a year in Central Prison for throwing stones at a Grand Trunk train. Welsh is said to be one of the worst prisoners ever incarcerated in that institution, and has given no end of trouble. His term expires on Sept. 21st.

Fire in a Cellar.

About 8.30 this morning smoke was seen issuing from the cellar window of the vacant store adjoining the Peterborough Music Company on George street. The alarm was given and the fire brigade soon had a stream playing in the cellar. The fire, the origin of which is a mystery, had started in the rear portion of the cellar, the floor of which is covered with paper and sawdust. Mr. Edj. Hartley is the owner of the building and the damage done was slight.

THE PETER HAMILTON EXHIBIT AT THE INDUSTRIAL.

The Company Will Compete With the World at the Toronto Exhibition—A Large and Exceedingly Creditable Exhibit.

In the manufacturing department of the Toronto Industrial, Peterborough will be represented by the splendid exhibit of the Peter Hamilton Agricultural Company. It is appropriate that one of the best towns in Ontario should be thus represented by one of the best manufactures of harvesting machinery and agricultural implements. Their output distinguished by the latest improvements of the age, is further distinguished by an honesty of construction which has won an enviable name for the establishment. For years this firm's work has been fully established in this district, and of late years it has found its way by the sheer force of merit, and without special advertising, to distant points of the Province and Dominion. In view of this fact the company in order to bring their machinery in personal contact so to speak, with thousands of farmers, have decided to make an exhibit at Toronto next month, and a view of their exhibit, as it rested on the floor of the warerooms, shows that it will be one, creditable alike to the firm, the town, and the agricultural implement manufacturing. A prominent position, that formerly used by the Sylvester Bros., Lindsay, has been secured. The exhibit, which was shipped this afternoon, consists of a Hamilton Light Steel Binder, a "Crown" front-cut mower, a "Rival" rear-cut mower, the "Improved Tiger" hay rake, "Elastic" spring tooth cultivator, "Spring Tooth" harrow, "Comet" scuffler, "Star" gang plough and five walking ploughs, "Elastic Spring Tooth" seeder, the "Ideal" seeder, combined foot pulper and slicer, No. 3 and No. 4 straw cutter, ensilage cutter, turnip sower, combined root pulper and slicer, reducing jack and ensilage cutter. All this machinery is beautifully finished and artistically painted by Mr. Stephen Roadhouse, and will doubtless secure not only the admiration of all, but also the practical approval of the thousands of farmers who will visit Toronto's great show.

AT THE RANGES.

At the Rideau ranges high scores were again the order on Tuesday, though they were not so surprisingly high as those of the first day of the D.R.A. matches. From sunrise to sunset a clear sky gave the sharp shooters much more light and heat, particularly the latter, than they desired. The sun's rays were tempered by a varying wind, blowing from the east in the morning and from the west in the afternoon. The bright weather brought out the ladies, who were escorted by the gaily-dressed officers to the various regimental headquarters, many of which have floral decorations or display trophies won in previous matches. In the Dominion of Canada Match, in uniform, Pte. Curtis won $5 and Pte. Ritchie $4, scoring respectively 89 and 87 points. In the Davis Cup Match, Ptes. Cameron and Blade each won $5, scoring 93 points.

Nature's Voices.

To the discerning ear Nature has many voices. She has a message in the sweet tones of the brook as it rushes down the hillside in ocean's moody voices, now rippling with gentlest cadence upon the golden sands, anon in deep boisterous voice as she lashes the beach with foam. Then the voice of trees which the laughing winds bear to our ears, of sunshine and shade, of hill and valley, of birds and flowers. But she comes in pain, too, the voice of the aching, stinging corn speaks impressively, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes the worst corn in twenty-four hours, painlessly and without leaving sore spots.

STILL ANOTHER SUMMER RESORT.

CHARMING KEENE PRESENTS ITS CLAIM.

A Cursory Description of the Village and Environs—Charming Scenery and Delightful Retreats—An Ideal Home for the Invalid.

In this age of pleasure-seeking and holiday making the multiform tastes and requirements of the pleasure-seeker and the holidayer, the discovery of a new place, with the qualifications to meet another of the varied conditions required in a summer resort, is an event of importance. And such a place, within easy distance of Peterborough, is to be regarded as a decided acquisition.

Nowadays we must all have holidays. Years ago only the favoured few, with the wealth and the leisure that wealth permits, thought of or enjoyed holidays. Now everyone needs them, or at least takes them. And with reason. We live in an age of rush, bustle, worry and hurry, and this high pressure life, with its wear and tear of tissue and nerve, demands relaxation. Whereas, years ago, the sober, sedate, leisurely, tortoise-pace style of life permitted the vital forces to repair by night the worry of brain and the wear of muscle of the preceding day.

We must have holidays, and for the mass of the people of a town like Peterborough, we must have readily accessible places at which to enjoy them. And in this respect we are abundantly blessed. For one class of tastes and one set of requirements, we have the peculiar attractions of island-planted Stony Lake. For another, and perhaps quieter, clientale we have Chemong Park with the attractions that distinguish it.

ANOTHER SET OF TASTES and requirements find the realization of their aspirations at Jubilee Point, Idyl Wyld, and the other attractive features of the Rice Lake region.

All these resorts invite the gayer, more vigorous and more robust element of summer outing enthusiasts. But for the sedate, and those whose sun of life has passed the meridian; for those whose tastes are quiet; for those who seek absolute rest from the worry, and release from the din, of daily life in town; for the convalescent struggling back from the crumbling brink of the grave, no more restful and reposeful spot, with more salubrious surroundings and more healthy social conditions can be found than the beautiful little village of Keene.

Keene is the centre of, perhaps, the best farming community in Ontario. On every side we see evidences of thrift and cultivation. As a rule in this district of Otonabee, farm mortgages and Canada thistles possess the qualities ascribed to angels' visits—practical evidences of good, and, consequently, successful farming.

The village itself nestles in a hollow of the hills, which rise on the north and south, and are climbed by the highway that in the valley forms the neat and quiet residence street of Keene.

At right angles to the residence street runs the sole business street of the village, which contains three or four stores and the post office. Industrial establishments are represented by three blacksmith shops and a carriage shop, where excellent and stylish work is turned out. The volume of business transacted in Keene is not very great at present, but about thirty years ago when a great trade was done, and near the river great gaunt storehouses and vacant hotel buildings bear witness to the departed commercial glories of Keene. It was at one time a centre of the grain trade; and a port hole in the high wall-like railing of the bridge is proudly pointed to as the avenue through which thousands of bushels of grain were poured from farmers' wagons, stationed on the bridge, into the holds of the vessels that used to ply on the river. Now only an occasional excursion steamer invades the harbour.

Though Keene's commercial glory has departed, it has glories that will never depart as long as water flows, trees spread their branches, and the everlasting hills remain. The beautiful and romantic Indian River—Quagh-ne-bo-sebah (the spelling is phonetic)—"the place of lilies," the poetical Indian title—flows along the eastern flank of the village. Keene as a summer resort is fully entitled to rank as a sort of blood relation to Stony Lake, for it takes it rise at Gilchrist's bay, through a canal cut through the rock to supply water for milling purposes. It then flows into White Lake, a body of water nearly the size of Clear Lake, and thence through the intervening country to Warsaw, and on to Rice Lake, supplying water power to Payne's mills, the mills at Warsaw, Allandale, and finally at Keene. Northward from Keene, nature has hollowed out one of the most beautiful valleys she could contrive. Standing upon a shoulder of the hill above the venerable saw mill, that has small spasms of occasional activity, one looks northward up an emerald valley, through which sparkles the waters of the river flowing sinuously, now gleaming brightly in the open, and now hidden by the dense growth of thrifty young timber that studs the bottom and merges into the beautiful woods that scarp of the rampart of hills that enclose the valley. No more beautiful or reposeful scene could delight the eyes; and when the blaze of the setting sun touches with its ruddy fire the rich green leafage of the wooded slopes, the valley sleeping in the deepest shadow, while here and there the pellucid patches of the river show among the openings in the trees like dusky emeralds, the sight is indescribably beautiful, and one that would invite, while it would defy, the brush of the skillfullest painter. And in autumn when the frosts lay their fingers on the foliage and rouse the maples and ashes and oaks into a riotous blaze of colour—crimson, orange, purple and gold, relieved by the unchanging emeral of the evergreens, no description or depiction can give the faintest suggestion of the reality.

While the coup d'oeil of the valley is so charming, an exploration in detail affords its peculiar delight. To paddle up the winding stream, bordered by the wild rice, its purple tasselled bloom trembling to the ripple, with, at times, the waterway arched over by interlacing boughs, and again the trees hanging over the edge of the water, and standing like "the swans on still St. Mary's Lake, double tree and shadow," the white of the water lilies, shining like stars of snow among the dark sedge, is a dream of delight. Wending onward our winding way we come suddenly upon a beautiful deltoid fissure of the stream into three or four channels, popularly named "The Forks." Further progress by canoe is soon barred by the rapids, but one can alight and stroll through the bottom, dusky with the shade of thick foliage at noon day, and admire the beautiful wild flowers of August, among which the

make the bravest show. Pushing on a little, a boulder-sown glade of about thirty acres, encircled with stately elms, marks the scene of the first settlement in the vicinity—Stewart's clearing. Westward of this the course of the river is stayed by a dam, built years ago by Dr. John Gilchrist. From the western end of this dam a canal passes down to Keene, and supplies power for driving a saw mill and a stone grist mill, both now of venerable age. The dam, faced on its lower aspect with dry stone work, is in a somewhat tumbledown condition, and more water passes the waste weir and the freshest rents in the eastern end, than by the canal. These rents form two streams, which brawl down their stony beds, between overarching trees, slipping past the mossy cheeks of huge boulders, dropped in the way of the stream, by the melting of some pre-historic iceberg, till they are lost to the eye in the deepening shade of the umbrageous masses of foliage of the trees that spring from the fat alluvium of the valley. The eastern bank of the canal helps to form one of the most charming strolls imaginable, which, if within surburban distance of Peterborough, would be thronged o' summer evenings by pleasure-seekers and—pleasure-finders, for no more delightful course could be devised for the development of or the peripatetic meditations of the philosophic mind. From ten to twenty feet in width, the canal follows the line of the base of the hills that form the western wall of the valley; its swiftly gliding stream flowing between banks that wind like the margin of a natural stream, from which only actual knowledge can distinguish it, for the artificial embankment has been so moulded by the hand of time and nature, the smooth close sward covering it, that the work of the hand of man cannot be noticed. On the right hand side ascending the valley lies clothed with dense growth of trees, maples, oaks, elms and black birches, which grow close to the edge of the stream, and at points almost touch like trees that fringe the opposite bank. It is a charming promenade and better deserves the title of "Lovers' Walk" than the prosaic pine-paved lane of that ilk skirting the base of Parliament Hill, Ottawa. Few outside of Keene and not many in the village have any personal knowledge of the romantic beauties of this exquisite little vale of rest.

Below the bridge the valley loses largely its romantic aspect, through the conversion of the forest slopes into smiling farms, though there are some beautiful groves left standing. The valley widens as it approaches Rice Lake. From the winding, wind, swept highway leading from Keene to Roach's Point, a fine view of the valley with the river, slipping in sinuous curves between the rice beds, is had. Roach's Point has an interest for the antiquarian. Several large mounds mark the burial place of the slain in an Indian battle. These tumuli have been mined for relics and thousands of bones of departed braves have been carried away.

So much for the scenic attractions of Keene. As especially, and persons of quiet tastes, it presents unusual attractions. The dwellings are all of a good class, neat cottages, bright with fresh paint, for within the past year or two the village in this respect has enjoyed an architectural renaissance. The citizens are quiet and reserved but, withal, the soul of hospitality to "the stranger that is within their gates." Even the children are subdued and serious in their play. A brooding stillness fills the summer air day after day. The restful silence brings repose to the wearied frame of the individual, and the bracing air brings vigour to his enervated limbs. The quiet walks in stream-washed groves with their quiet but charming and changing pictures of still life, are a perpetual source of delight. Keene is a healthy hamlet. It knows no touch of malaria, as would be feared from the marshy margins of the river banks. The wild rice in its growth absorbs and neutralizes all malarial elements. The two local physicians, Dr. Harrison and Dr. Shaw, would fare far from sumptuously every day if they depended upon their village practice alone—they glean their chief harvest from a wide area of surrounding country. They say that in a practice of twenty and fourteen years, respectively, they have not been called upon to treat more than half a dozen cases of disease due to malarial influences. The village cemetery also bears silent witness. It is only an acre or so in area, and its narrow and noiseless streets are very thinly peopled, though records the death of Richard Short, "who died Sept. 8th, MDCCCXXXII."

THE OLDEST TOMBSTONE

Many of the residents are prepared to entertain quiet summer boarders on reasonable terms, and one who has enjoyed the kindest hospitality and the recuperative benefits of a brief summer residence in peaceful little Keene, can honestly recommend it as the most desirable summer resort for the convalescent invalid or the seeker after the most perfect conditions of semi-rural rest this district affords. The citizens are, as remarked, exceedingly hospitable, without the curious inquisitiveness that marks most rural communities. They are remarkably well-behaved—a residence of two weeks recently failed to disclose an unseemly action or brawling word.

Though quiet in its disposition, Keene is by no means slow. It is in communication with town by three daily trains; young men and maidens glide through its streets on the "silent steed," the sound of the violin or pianoforte, fairly well played, and of, in some cases, cultured singing in many a home, form the accompaniment of an evening stroll—an informal musical census one evening revealed the existence in the village of fifteen violins, eighteen pianofortes, besides organs and auto-harps ad libitum. Keene is not without to wealth. Local gossip boasts—in subdued tones, of course,—of a semi-millionaire, and several other citizens with worldly possessions, represented on the credit side of their bank accounts by five figures.

When the advantages of Keene for the purposes mentioned above are more widely known one may expect to see every season an increasing number of summer visitors. It is well worthy of being enrolled with the other delightful summer resorts with which Peterborough is encircled.

INCENDIARISM EPIDEMIC.

Long Sentences Have No Deterrent Effect on New York Firebugs.

New York, Aug. 28.—The recent exposure of organized gangs of firebugs, with the prompt convictions and long sentences of some, and certainty of imprisonment of others, seems to have had little effect among that class of people.

Both New York and Brooklyn have within the past few weeks had another epidemic of fires, some imperiling human lives, where terrible calamities have only been averted by accident. They are all mysterious.

THE WHEEL.

The big race meet here on Friday promises to be a great success indeed. Already the secretary has received more entries than were taken at the Toronto Wanderers meet. Every prize given consists of an uncut diamond, and consequently riders are attracted to Peterborough from all parts of the United States and Canada. So many entries have been received that the different events will have to be run off in heats, and the spectators therefore will see about 25 races. In order to conclude the races at an hour not too late the first event will be run off promptly at two o'clock. The programme is composed as follows:

CLASS A.	CLASS B.
1. One mile novice.	2. One mile open.
3. Quarter mile open.	4. Half mile handicap.
5. One mile handicap.	6. One mile tandem.
7. One mile open.	8. One mile handicap.
	9. Two mile open.

About 25 members of the Ramblers Bicycle Club, of Belleville, will be present at the races here on Friday, in uniform, and will invite the American racing men to attend the Belleville meet on Labour Day. These are visitors whom the local club should meet at the station and entertain at the club rooms and look after whilst they are here.

Mr. Geo. J. Horkins, Captain of the Peterboroughs, will be one of the timers at the Belleville meet, at which several of the local men may compete.

At a meeting of the bicycle club held last evening it was decided on the recommendation of the Racing Board not to hold the road race to Lakefield until after Sept. 15th. It was also decided that if satisfactory arrangements could be made that a relay race between Peterborough and Port would be a most desirable and pleasing event in wheeling circles. Correspondence in the matter will be invited from Port Hope. It has been decided to hold a grand promenade concert in the skating rink Friday evening at eight eight o'clock, when the distribution of prizes won at the races will take place. Mayor Kendry will preside and will award the diamonds to the lucky winners. The Fire Brigade band will be in attendance, and the occasion will also signalize the formal opening of the new club rooms at the rink, as they will be thrown open for inspection. All the American and Canadian visiting wheelmen, of whom several hundred will be in town, will be present and a most enjoyable evening will be spent. A nominal admission fee will be charged, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the citizens to attend.

LACROSSE.

The Markham lacrosse club will visit Peterborough on Labour Day and cross sticks with the Athletics on the Driving Park in the afternoon. Markham possesses a good fast lacrosse team and the game on Labour Day will be worth witnessing.

BASEBALL.

The Park Nine are endeavouring to arrangements with the Danglers, of Toronto, for a match here on Labour Day.

A Ceaseless Procession

Of little Men and Women—the school boys and girls—flanked with bigger youths of both sexes, have kept tramping in and out of the Peterborough Bookstore all week, loading up with School Books and other School Supplies. What a great time we've had! The satisfying of such eager crowds of anxious faces, as they swarmed around our counters and tables demanding their school amunition was no light task. But our system was perfect, and we were strongly fortified for the occasion. Our stock, though at times nearly run out, was never exhausted, because we kept constantly replenishing, and to-day it is complete and convenient in every line.

Better late than never. If any of the scholars have not yet been served, we are waiting for them—ready to fill their school bags and straps with any thing they require at the lowest possible prices. Our prices tell.

Purses, et cetera.

This store is bigger than people think and each season shows substantial progress in store and services. Magnitude means mastery, if other conditions are right—and they are right here. No lag. No stop. Bigger and better all the time.

Leather Goods are a leading specialty. We are always very strong in Purses, and all allied goods for shopping, travelling and marketing. All sorts and sizes, plain or mounted, in cute combinations, stylish furnishings, all sorts of fashionable leathers, cheap and expensive. An immense variety of worthy goods to choose from, and just now selling at clearing prices.

SKIRTS OF AUTUMN

THREE DESIGNS PARTICULARLY FAVORED BY MODISTES.

Cuts of the New Patterns—The French Box-Plaited With Narrow Front Gore, the Paquin Box-Plaited With Wide Gore and the Circular.

In planning the skirt of your fall costume bear in mind that there is nothing, as Goetde says, more terrible than energetic ignorance, and don't push your scissors into your cloth until you have authentic, up-to-date information as to the proper "cut" and "hang." Don't allow the ignorant dressmaker—and her species is rampant—mislead you by glibly calling off a mile of names, and then cut you a bell skirt when you really want one you have seen and which is properly called circular; don't rely upon her making you a plaited skirt with a wide gore in front, for in nine cases out of ten, she will turn out for you either a narrow-gore front or a circular design. Study up the subject of skirts for yourself, and then no one can get the better of you. There are so many really good but uninformed dressmakers—by these I mean women who can make anything they see and fashion it well, but who really are not acquainted with the proper names of the various patterns. By visiting our first-class establishments, observing well and asking the forelady or attendant the name of the design you see, and then turning to some good, standard fashion book, you will soon become familiar with the different designs and their numerous varieties. There are at present three designs in skirts particularly favored by fashionable modistes for the early fall costume, and these it would be well to study before getting to work upon your autumn outfit. One of the prettiest is the French box-plaited pattern with narrow front gore. This is particularly effective in the new crepon materials, which promise to become the leading skirt fabrics during the autumn and winter. In making a faille or bengaline gown (both these silks are to be extensively patronized) it would be best to choose the new circular skirt. This is very wide, and falls beautifully when properly made. For the separate serge or mohair skirt, have the Paquin box-plaited pattern with a very wide gore in front. None of these skirts requires interlining, although light-weight French haircloth put in the bottom to a depth of 12 inches gives a desirable flare. These three skirts are developed in several varieties, but in all the essential features are the same as portrayed in the accompanying illustrations.

French Box-Plaited Skirt with Narrow Front Gore.

Mrs. Grundy Says.

That notoriety gets as many out of as into fashionable society.

That vacation days spent in "riotous living" are never beneficial.

That sometimes a man bitten by a dog is madder than the animal.

That four times engaged seems to give a young man success at the last.

That none are more quickly forgotten than our represented socially great.

That people continue to believe that folly always deserves its misfortunes.

That prejudice is strongest among country people who have never left home.

That there are those who say athletics are being overdone in this country.

That geese are intelligent compared with women who try to cheat nature.

That fashions of the present season are a more than ever interesting study.

That golf offers better facilities for flirtations than any out-door recreation.

That modest women prefer home bath tub to the promiscious seaside bathing.

That those draw social lines closest who ought not be within them themselves.

That "living pictures" at the seaside now take the place of those at music halls.—New York Mail and Express.

CARE OF CHICKENS.

They Should Especially be Sheltered From Exposure to Cold and Dampness.

A correspondent of Farm, Stock and Home urges that the growing poultry should be pushed to maturity. Unless the pullets are well matured before cold weather they will not lay before spring.

If you are raising turkeys and ducks for the fall market remember it is the large fowls that bring the most money and they should be forced in growth as much as possible. The faster they grow the better the meat, and the larger they grow the more money they will bring. Do not feed corn, the object now is growth, not fat. Bran is an excellent food for growing fowls, but it should be well scalded or it will cause fowl trouble. Do not induce the hen to wean chicks early. The chicks that remain with the hen until they are well feather will grow faster and thrive better in every way than when the hen leaves them early. As a rule, old hens will not wean their chicks until they are pretty well grown and for this reason old hens make better mothers than do pullets. Be sure to keep the growing pullets free from lice, as that pest in itself is the cause of more deaths among growing poultry than anything else. If growth has been checked by the presence of lice, the young fowls will always be less vigorous than they would have been if they had not been infected with them. Thick sweet cream is better to grease the heads of young fowls afflicted with lice than melted lard; it will kill the lice and not injure the fowl, as lard is apt to do.

A very critical time for growing poultry is the time they shed their downy covering and before they are fully feathered. At this time they should be well fed and kept well sheltered at night and during damp weather. They are more liable to roup at this time, and exposure to cold and dampness is apt to result in this fatal disease. Lime water and sweet milk will assist in feathering. A diet that will greatly assist in feathering is prepared as follows: To a pint of boiling sweet milk add two well-beaten eggs, let boil until the consistency of jelly, add a dash of red peper. When given to the fowls place in a cool place in the shade to prevent its becoming sour. Grit of some kind is as essential for young poultry as for adults. It is one of the requirements of nature. Place grit where they can get at it and see how eagerly they will devour it, and you will be convinced that it is a necessary part of their bill of fare. The lack of grit will cause indigestion and bowel trouble. A constant supply of it within reach all the time will cause them to consume more food and thereby make a more rapid growth and reach maturity earlier. It is important for growing fowls to have shade, where they can retreat out of the hot sun. The extreme heat of the sun is debilitating to growing fowls and will retard growth. Ducklings are very sensitive to the heat of the sun.

GAINED A POUND EVERY DAY

Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach Cured by B. B. B. After Hope is Nearly Gone.

GENTLEMEN,—For over three months I was very ill from what I believe was a malignant type of Dyspepsia. I at once consulted a physician who treated me for Dyspepsia without success. I then went to a specialist who diagnosed the case as Catarrh of the Stomach, his treatment also failed and I was getting worse every day. I could not rest at night and had to walk the floor to get my ease. I failed from 195 pounds down to 135 pounds and about gave up in despair when I heard of Burdock Blood Bitters as a remedy for dyspepsia. The first bottle made a change for the better, and I bought six more being delighted to find myself getting better. Under the use of B. B. B. I gained a pound a day. I took 18 bottles in all and am now nearly back to my old weight. I recommend dyspeptics to try the old reliable B. B. B. that always cures. WM. CAMPBELL, 115 Maple St., London, Ont.

BIG PROFITS —ON— Small Investments

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plain are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOF, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. IN AN EGYPTIAN HAREM.

A WOMAN'S DESCRIPTION OF WHAT SHE SAW AND HEARD.

No One But the Husband May See the Wife's Hair—The Dancing Girls and Their Performances—The Children and Their Pretty Ways.

When I went out to Egypt a little more than eighteen months ago, it was with the determination to try and understand the harem lady. This I thought possible by making "calls" on certain pashas' wives whom I knew in and around Cairo, but I soon discovered, if I really was to know and understand the harem woman as she veritably is, I must live with her, as she herself lived in the harem. Having come to this conclusion, I discussed the ways and means with a Turkish pasha of my acquaintance, who got me the necessary introduction, and in less than a month I obtained the post of governess to four little children in the harem of one of the best-natured Egyptians in the interior of Egypt.

The word "harem," which has, to English ears, such an ominous sound, simply means in Arabic, "females," or "women." I believe the original meaning was "forbidden." For an easterner to speak of women, as women, is considered highly improper. He must call them harema. The harem of a man is, therefore, the apartments set apart for the sole use of the women and their children. These are usually the whole of the first floor of the palace. No man may enter but the husband, and sometimes certain of the male relatives; but I have known a case where the head of the harem would admit none of his male relatives to the harem. The harem usually consists of the wives to the number of four; female slaves (these I speak of were black), and female free women, who were natives of Lower Egypt. The slaves are the husband's property, and he may use them as concubines or not, as he desires.

It is considered indelicate for a lady to allow anyone but her husband to see her hair, and unclean for any to grow upon her face or body. Indoors, therefore, if she respect herself, she wears a head dress which hides the hair, and is by no means unbecoming. When out in the carriage she allows only the eyes to be seen.

The harem lady is bound to be, from her bringing up, of a low type. Her only education is the idea to be the plaything of some rich man—that rich man, of course, being her legal husband. From babyhood she is taught certain exercises of her body, which, to any pure-minded European, are disgusting. She has no life outside of her bath, her body, the visits of her husband, and, in a very mild way, her children. For recreation, a eunuch will take her for a drive, to call on another harem in the harem closed carriage, and for amusement a dancing girl will be brought into the harem, or, if the house is in mourning, a sheikh will chant the Koran in the men's quarters, when the women gather on the harem terrace to listen. The room in which the dancing took place was a large entrance room in the harem, about seventy feet by sixty. Off this room were all the bedrooms. Each bedroom opened into this room, and there was no communication to the bedrooms except through this room. It was furnished in the usual oriental style—heavy silk carpets and curtains, divans all round the walls, floor cushions on the floors, and a marble table in the centre. The Ghawazee, or dancing girls would be sent for, and, with much clatter of shoes, would saddle into this room, removing their outdoor clothing. Coffee, cigarettes and cognac would be handed them—the latter, as they say, to remove the veil of modesty from before their eyes! We would all then recline on the divans, with cigarettes and coffee to hand, and the slaves would fan us. An ex-dancing woman, who had grown too old to dance, would begin to beat the darabukeh, or drum, another would produce a most monotonous discord, in excellent time on the kemengeh, a the kemengeh, a stringed instrument, while a third would blow through a sort of flute. The great point to each of them, so it seemed to me, was the time, which the performer on the darabukeh seemed to have at her own disposal. When they had fairly warmed to their work, a Ghawazee would get up, and, with a cigarette in her mouth, begin to dance. What this dance is like it would be difficult for me to describe. A series of wriggles of the body to the time of the music, which begins slowly, gradually getting faster and faster, till one is fairly dazed, when the dancer suddenly throws herself on her back on a floor cushion, all the while wriggling to the music, which gets slower and slower till it stops. The dance usually lasts about half an hour, but I have seen one Ghawazee who kept it up for an hour and a half, only stopping to wipe the perspiration from her face. One of these exhibitions is quite enough to disgust any European woman, no matter how broad minded, but, whenever the dancing girls come to the harem, it is one of the duties of the governess to be present with her pupils, that the little girls may learn to imitate the movements.

Should one of the ladies be indisposed, she remains in her room. A slave places her ship-ship, the satin slippers worn in the house, outside her door. Then we would all go into her room, sit upon divans or floor cushions, drink the tiny cups of black coffee and smoke unlimited cigarettes, and discuss the good qualities of the patient in low tones. If she were suffering pain one of the ladies would say, "God, who sent it you, help you to bear it!" when we would all respond, "By the prophet, your talk is good." Then another silence would be broken by some one remarking, "Suffering was made by God, all praise to His name! but it was meant for giants. But God also made death. Death is the finer work of the two." This latter saying was a very common one, and my pupils often made use of it to me if I had a toothache or headache. It was always quoted as though it were quite original. The calm way they would leave the sick room, after assuring the occupant that "if she died the world would be a perfect blank to them," and then stolidly walk into the next room and abuse her roundly, and with a fierceness which was horrible, rather astonished me, and showed me how little real sympathy they had with one another. Their jealousy of one another was fiendish in its intensity, and I sympathized with the pasha when he said to me how happy Englishmen must be with no wives to quarrel over them.

The great saving clause to the life in the harem for a European is the children. They are the most perfectly charming and straightforward little beings imaginable. How can I tell you of all their little tendernesses and politenesses? There was no acting or coquetry with them—they simply did not understand it. From the youngest to the eldest, too, their sense of logic was acute. Request one of these little darlings to do anything out of the ordinary routine and he will at once ask the logic for it. If you can give him a logical reason you may rest assured that that particular request will be obeyed always without further comment.

What strikes me is, what could we not make of these little men and women if we had them from babyhood? How can we expect great things of a nation of men who are brought up and pass the most impressionable time of their lives with these harem women and their interests? It is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle. Let me finish by telling you a little incident of harem child life which happened to me.

I was sitting in my room one evening weeping, when one of my pupils, a lad of about nine years, came in, and looking at me intently, said, "Why weepest thou?"

I replied, "For no reason."

He continued to look at me for a second or two in a puzzled manner, and then a look of comprehension came into his wonderful black eyes, and, mounting on a chair, he began carefully to remove the portraits of a dead relative of mine, placing them out of sight in my writing desk. When he had finished, he came to me, and, embracing me warmly, said, "Madam, come into my room and see me dance."—The Sketch.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26—Much interest has been manifested here over the recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of Ottawa, from Bright's disease by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which is now in universal use, and many people have a clear recollection of the similar case which occured in London, Ontario, not long ago, namely, that of Mr. Wm. Langley, who for some time was an inmate of Harper's Hospital here and was operated upon without effect by several Detroit physicians. It was owing to this connection with Detroit and the long accounts published in the press that so much interest was taken in the case, and led to such enormously increased sale of the medicine.

THEODORE LUDGATE IS THE MANAGER.

IMPROVEMENTS CONTEMPLATED UNDER HIS DIRECTION.

More Than $125,000 Paid Out Thus Far This Season—Fifty Vessel-loads of Lumber Shipped to Chicago—Thirty More Cargoes in the Yard and Many More to be Cut—Some Interesting Information.

The Traverse Bay Eagle, of Traverse City, Mich., in a recent issue publishes the following article concerning the mills of which Mr. Theodore Ludgate, formerly of the Crown Lands Department, Peterborough, is the manager.

Since the opening of the navigation over fifty vessel loads of lumber have been shipped to the Chicago markets by the Traverse City Lumber Co. and there is now enough in the yards for thirty more cargoes, besides what will be sawed. One hundred and twenty-five men have been employed steadily since the mill began cutting, the first of last March, and for more than three months the mill was kept running night and day.

The mill is now sawing hemlock at the rate of 1,000 logs each day, aggregating between 125 and 140 thousand feet. Up to this time more than 13,000,000 feet have been cut at the city mill, and over $125,000 have been paid out for labour and material. The mill at East Jordan will aggregate a cut of 6,000,000 feet this season and when the cut is finished in about two months the two mills will have sawed about 25,000,000 feet.

THE TOTAL OUTPUT

at the two mills will be greater this year than any previous year, yet the mills have a capacity for fully 25,000,000 feet yearly.

Since Manager Ludgate assumed charge of the plant, many extensive improvements have been inaugurated. Mr. Ludgate succeeded J. A. MacKenzie, who represented the American Exchange National Bank of Chicago, and who assumed the financial management of the business when the company recovered from its financial embarrassment more than a year ago. The energy and ability of C. A. Barker, president of the company, has placed the business upon a prosperous basis again, and the concern is now a very considerable factor among the industries of the Grand Traverse region.

While Mr. Ludgate looks after the financial end of the business, Robert Usher, who has held a responsible position with the company for several years, has the supervision and management of the mill and yards.

There has for several months been a growing idea that the great pine tracts in the vicinity of Georgian Bay might furnish an almost unlimited supply of timber for this mill as well as for those at Bay City and Saginaw.

CAREFUL INQUIRY

has shown that the distance from Georgian Bay to Traverse City is about 150 miles nearer than to Bay City; that the route is more open and direct; therefore, logs can be rafted to this city at a much less expense than to the two cities mentioned. In view of these facts there is a probability, and that not a remote one, that another year will see millions of feet of Georgian Bay pine rafted to this city and worked up by the Traverse City Lumber Co.

Manager Ludgate is a man of ability and possessed of a marked degree of enterprise, and he will be the first to discern when the interest of the mills here will be benefitted; and if the products of Georgian Bay can be brought here to advantage, it is altogether likely that next year, beginning as soon as the first snow fall will permit the getting out of logs, the mills of this company will run nearly the entire year and to their fullest capacity.

The company is now devoting a good deal of attention to rafting and towing to the mill the shore logs around Grand Traverse bay. About 700,000 feet are brought here in this way each week. The logs are drawn from the bay at the yard and transferred across to the river on a car drawn by a horse, a distance of about 500 feet, from there they enter the mill and are soon reduced to finished lumber and piled upon the docks ready for shipment.

ONE OF THE IMPROVEMENTS

which Mr. Ludgate has planned is an endless chain by which to propel the cars of logs from the bay to the river, thereby doing away with a horse and making it possible to transport many times as many logs in a day as is being done now.

Another improvement which property owners in the main business portion of the city will thoroughly appreciate, is a balloon screen for the smokestack, in place of the imperfect one now in use. The new screen will obviate all danger of fire to adjoining property, making the escape of dangerous sparks impossible.

While the rafting of hemlock logs is in progress there is a vast accumulation of bark which is torn off in handling and by reason of the clashing of the logs together. This is largely the source of the accumulation on the shore, lately complained of. Now Mr. Ludgate has adopted measures to prevent this refuge from escaping, though it is impossible to do so altogether. He has also had the yards cleared up so that there is no longer danger of cuttings and scraps from there being thrown the bay, and nearly everything of that sort is fed to the refuse burner. There are, however, large quantities of cuttings suitable for kitchen wood, which anyone can have for the asking, and poor families might find an application to Mr. Ludgate profitable.

Everyone of the force employed in and around the mill is insured against accident at the expense of the company, the amount being paid out for this purpose aggregating more than $900 annually.

The company carries fire insurance to the amount of about $75,000 a year, the premiums of which amount to from 2½ to 5 per cent.

HOWARD PITEZEL'S BODY FOUND.

The Charred Bones of Holmes' Boy Victim Found Near Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Aug. 27.—In the chimney of a little frame cottage standing at some distance from the other residences of Irvington, a small suburb of this city, detectives this morning found the charred bones of little Howard Pitezel, one of Holmes' victims. The find was the reward of a long and persistent search by Detective Geyer of Philadelphia, who came here six weeks ago, and has been working ever since on the theory that young Pitezel had been killed here. To-day he and Inspector Gary found the empty cottage at Irvington which had been occupied by a man answering Holmes' description and a little boy early last October. They began a search and soon found a large stove and the black trunk in which it had been supposed that the body had been shipped. Further search was rewarded by the finding of a number of charred bones in the chimney, together with the buttons from the boy's overcoat. Evidently the child had been murdered in the house and his body cremated there. The supposed murderer and his victim came to the house together, and were seen about the place for a week, when both disappeared, and nothing had since been heard of them.

Albert Kempthorn, the murdered man, came from Dufferin's Creek, 40 miles east of Toronto. He was formerly a railway man, and has a brother, George, at Toledo, Ohio, an official in a railway yard. From what Mrs. Keller said, and the gossip of neighbors, it is believed that Kempthorn has been a frequent visitor at her home. Kempthorn was unmarried, and a butcher by occupation.
